'75 Football Contest Heads For Possible 'Photo Finish'

THE PLIGHT OF New York City, which is on the brink of default due to bad financial condition, has been much in the news lately. The City's leaders put up a hue and cry for federal assistance. So far, the nation's leaders have balked at giving federal aid to New York City, and have reached the Thanksgiving break in congress without passing any such legislation. President Ford has said that he is against the federal government "bailing out" New York City. Our representative, Congressman George Mahon, has echoed the president's sentiments. A recent survey taken by the National Observer, a well-circulated conservative publication, came up with a resounding opposition from the rank and file voters to federal assistance in saving New York City from bankruptcy. The survey results were 82 per cent against the government taking a hand in the problem. According to most of what we read, the consensus of most folks who live west of the Hudson River is that New York must be punished for its "sins," and the city must pull itself up, by its "own bootstraps" as we say in this part of the country, and emerge a stronger municipality because of the purging process. Otherwise, our nation will take another step toward the "welfare state" that it threatens to become. New York City has come to stand for all of the things that are wrong with our country, such as excessive welfare payments, bad financial management, inflated public payrolls, overgrown government, etc. etc.

The 1975 Bovina Businesses Cotton Bowl Football Contest promises to end this week on the same exciting note as the past 15 years since the event began in 1960. With not one but two grand prizes at stake in this year's contest, 10, and possibly more, of the top contestants head into the final week of the '75 contest with an excellent chance of snaring either a trip to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas or the Sun Bowl in El Paso. Only six points separate the top 10 contestants and the usual 14 games, including the Texas A&M-University of Texas battle Friday afternoon, will be on the slate of games this week. Contestants are reminded that for the final week of the contest, the deadline for turning in entry blanks is 1 p.m. Friday. The earlier deadline has been set to allow the A&M-Texas game to be placed on the contest. In last week's contest, at least two upsets and the two overtime games in the professional tilts combined to create the exciting finish of the '75 contest this week. A.M. Wilson, who has led in total points for the past nine weeks, came up with only five correct predictions. However, Wilson still clings to the lead by a narrow one-point margin. Mrs. Wilson (Mary Jane) had seven correct predictions to pull into a tie with her husband. Wilson DiCuffa came up with nine correct to pull back to within one point of the lead. Emmett Tabor, the only repeat champion in the 15-year history of the contest, had 10 correct predictions to pull to within two points of the Wilsons. Hattie Burnett, with 10 correct last week, pulled to within three points; Tommy DeLeon with seven and Tom Bonds with eight, are four points back; Dorothy Harris and Johnny Miller, with eight each last week, are five points behind; and Mike Grissom, with nine last week, is six points behind the leaders. In the past 15 years of the contest, the winner has been determined three times by the total tiebreaker predictions for the 13-week contest. A one-point spread has determined the champion six times and a two-point spread three times. Three point and four point spreads between first and second have occurred one time each and the largest point spread ever has been five points.

Until this year the contest featured 10 games each week. + + + Tabor and Mrs. Carla Harris, along with four other contestants, had 10 correct predictions last week, to tie for first and second, splitting the $12.50 prize money. Mike London came in third with his tiebreaker prediction. Tabor missed the Olton win over Floydada, the Kansas win over (Continued on Page 2)

NEXT WEEK

Junior Class Sets Three-Act Comedy

"Grandma's Best Years," a three-act comedy written by Earl L. Russell, will be presented by the Junior Class of Bovina High School at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 4, in the Bovina Schools auditorium. Directors of the play are Mrs. Janie Sudderth and Joel Nelson, class sponsors. Advance tickets may be purchased for 75 cents and $1.25 from any member of the Junior Class. Tickets at the door will be $1 for children and students and $1.50 for adults. A pie supper in the cafeteria will follow the final act of the play. The play revolves around the Abbott family and a weekend party at their home. Grandma Simms, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Abbott, on the farm discovers a situation not to her liking. Mrs. Abbott, since the death of her husband, has become a social climber and the three Abbott children and Sadie, the maid, are miserable. The day Grandma Simms arrives, her daughter is bringing several "upper-crust" guests home for the weekend, including a rich, snobbish bachelor and an unlikeable spinster who runs an exclusive girls' school. Mrs. Simms embarks upon a scheme to disgrace her social climbing daughter by inviting the "black sheep" of the Abbott family to the party. She has never seen this relative and mistakes a criminal for the cousin, setting off a chain of incidents over the weekend. The cast of characters is as follows: Mrs. Abbott, Kim Ware;

Sadie, Kelly Klimek; Joyce Abbott, Tamra Rogers; Marlon Abbott, Dianna Naegle; Dottie Morgan, Lezli Williams; Willie Abbott, Haden Walling; Shorty... Lary Sides; Jim Meyerson, Rocky Bartlett; Grandma Simms, Betty Whitecotton; Patch, George Isaac; Mabel, Tammy Christian; Bubbles, Pam McCormick; Mrs. Carlson, Susan Heflin; Miss Quelch, Deborah Gilbreath; Edwin Carlson, Kenny Estes; and Cousin Oscar, Stephen Klimek. Eugene Terry and Jay Be Barret are stage managers. Miroslava Ramon is in charge of ticket sales and the pie supper. Everyone in the community is invited to attend the play.

TIES FOR FIRST...Mrs. Carla Harris and Emmett Tabor tied for first and second places in last week's Bovina Businesses Cotton Bowl Football Contest. Each predicted the outcome of 10 of the 14 games and picked the Dallas Cowboys to defeat the Philadelphia Eagles, 27-14, three points off the 27-17 score. The two split the combined first and second place prizes of $7.50 and $5. Taking third place, also with 10 winners, was Mike London, who was nine points off on the tiebreaker. Other contestants with 10 correct predictions were Hattie Burnett, Monty Malcom of Tulla and Johnny Curtis of Farwell.

First Winter Spell Brings Snow, Rain

After an unusually mild fall season in this area of Texas, the first wintry blast of the season hit Bovina and Parmer County Tuesday night and Wednesday morning of last week. Rainfall, accompanied by high winds and blowing dust, blew in late Tuesday night and turned into a brief snowfall Wednesday morning. The temperature, which fell into the low teens, proved to be chilly enough to keep the snowfall on the ground for most of Wednesday morning. Although that proved to be all the moisture behind the cold front, the temperatures have remained in the low 30s and 40s during the day and low 20s and teens since that time. The combined rain and snow deposited approximately seven-tenths of moisture over most of Parmer County. That report was received from the Rhea Community to the Oklahoma Lane Community and was the first moisture received here in several months.

REMINDER
The Football Contest Entries Must Be Turned In By 1 P.M. Friday Or Postmarked Friday A.M.!

Farmers are reminded of the Monday deadline for returning ASC committee election ballots to the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office at Farwell. Voters will elect three Committeemen and two Alternate Committeemen for each community in the county. Those elected will serve during calendar year 1976.

PLAY CAST...Members of the Junior Class pause for The Blade photographer this week during a rehearsal of "Grandma's Best Years," a three-act comedy the class will present at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 4, in the Bovina

Haden Walling, Lary Sides, Lezli Williams, Stephen Klimek, Dianna Naegle, George Isaac, Rocky Bartlett, Kim Ware, Betty Whitecotton and Kenny Estes. The play will be directed by Mrs. Janie Sudderth and Joel Nelson, class sponsors.

Congressman Mahon said the other day that New York should be able to take care of its own problems. "New York is a very rich city, and there is a lot of wealth in New York state. There is no reason why the situation cannot be overcome," Mahon said, hinting that the tax increases sought by the special legislation in New York would be a good solution. Closer to home, we noticed that the city manager at Hereford made a speech recently, in which he was bitterly opposed to any federal assistance to New York City. His point was that even if the large metropolis should have to default, it would have little effect upon the rest of the nation, particularly this part of the country. However, if federal aid were to be allowed, then each and every resident of the nation would be affected, right where they are already hurting the most—in the pocketbook. + + + FINANCIAL EXPERTS disagree as to what has put New York City in its precarious condition. For one thing, apparently the deterioration of the city's tax base and the growth of city-supplied services have proceeded faster in New York than in most other cities. Also, the recession has cut into New York's tax revenues and boosted payouts for welfare more than in comparable cities. Most other large cities have already raised their taxes in order to pay for new services, unlike New York, which relied on borrowing and budget "gimmicks" to finance growing expenditures. These differences in the way other cities watch over their own financial situations have been cited by financial experts as good reasons why the potential default of New York City would not necessarily create a "domino" situation for other cities across our country. We're not implying that there would be no "tremors" felt at all. There would have to be some impact, what with New York being such a financial center, and the fact that many, many banks have a good portion of their assets invested in New York City bonds. New York's problem is a big one, and an important one. However, we believe that the citizens and leaders of that city are the ones to shoulder the responsibility and take care of their situation. We have enough federal control now, without opening the door to even more.

Missouri, the Baltimore victory over Miami and the Oakland win over Washington. Mrs. Harris missed the New Deal win over Hart (District 3-A representative), the SMU win over Baylor, the Groom win over Sudan and the Oakland-Washington game. Both contestants predicted the same tiebreaker score—Dallas Cowboys 24, Philadelphia Eagles 17—three points off the actual 27-17 Cowboy win.

London missed the Oklahoma-Nebraska, California-Stamford, Kansas-Missouri and Baltimore-Miami games and predicted a 21-14 Dallas win, nine points off the score. Other contestants with 10 correct predictions were Mrs. Burnett, Monty Malcom of Tulla and Johnny Curtis of Farwell.

Mrs. Burnett missed the SMU, Baltimore and Oakland wins, the Penn St. win over Pittsburgh and predicted a 31-23 Dallas win, 10 points off the score. Malcom missed the Kansas, SMU and Baltimore games, the Kansas City win over Detroit and predicted a 34-24 Dallas win, 14 points off the score. Curtis missed the New Deal, Oklahoma and Kansas wins, the Pecos win over Perryton and predicted a 32-28 Dallas win, 16 points off the score. Only 94 entry blanks, including one unsigned with five correct games, were turned in for the 12th week of the contest. Fifteen contestants had nine correct predictions, 21 had eight, 15 had seven, 18 had six, 14 had five, three had four and two had three correct predictions.

"I'd rather explain higher gas bills than why you don't have gas."

Your natural gas bill is higher. And, you have every right to know why.

One reason is lower temperatures brought on by winter.

The main reason, however, is simply that you are paying more for natural gas. Because we are paying more. This chart shows how much:

This increase hurts both you and Pioneer. It adds to your bill and to our cost... a cost for which Pioneer is not entirely compensated. It is passed through without mark-up or additional charges.

Why does gas cost more? Competition... particularly from petrochemical and other industries. The competition for gas has never been so fierce.

We will have to pay more for gas than in the past. But by working together, and without outside interference, you'll have the gas you need today and in the future.

by Lou Nuttall

As we've noted on the front page this week, the 1975 football contest is turning into a real cliff-hanger in the final week with at least 10 contestants having a good shot at first or second place.

By the time we had finished grading the contest Sunday night, all sorts of possibilities had popped into our mind! With 14 games on the slate this year, there is a possibility, maybe even a probability, of a bunch of ties for one or both top prizes. Say with four or five ties, then there could sure be a tie in the tiebreaker scores. Don't know that this has occurred before. What do we do then? Flip a coin, or have a run-off contest? We are mulling over the solution!

If the Wilsons win first and second, so far as we know, it would be the first time for a husband and wife team to accomplish such a feat. And, if Emmett Tabor wins, so far as we know, it would be the first time for anyone to win three grand prizes in a football contest. All sorts of possibilities!

Some people have been giving us a hard time concerning our recent remarks about Howard Cosell. "The Mouth" may be "telling it like it is," but to us he is just a lawyer spouting off about football. Regardless of the various opinions as to why he strives to be so controversial, he is getting all the mileage anyone could want out of the whole deal.

Anyway, if he purposely set out to gain all this publicity by being so controversial, why did he get in such a "snit" at the Cowboy-Kansas City Monday night game.

According to Frank Gilleber of KRLD in Dallas, Cosell refused to appear on his radio show that week. And, Cosell reportedly got so upset by the camera shots of the anti-Mouth posters that he called down to the van and told the director if they put one more shot of such a poster on the air he would walk out of the booth. He also got a mite perturbed because Frank Gifford and Alex Karras were getting such an obvious kick out of the whole thing. Oh, poor Howle!

Wes Izzard says that a lease is a written contract in which the big type giveth and the small type taketh away.

Hairy Story: Kiddled about his baldness, one fellow had this comment. "God put everyone together, some with round heads, some with square heads, some with flat heads and some with holes in their heads. When He had finished, He looked them over, and those He was ashamed of, He covered up." There you go, fellas.

A THANKSGIVING THOUGHT

In Psalms 23, the psalmist says, that "Jehovah Himself is my Shepherd and I shall not want." The happy inference, "I lack nothing," is the key to the whole psalm. Let us look at what we have as a child of God.

1. He makes me lie down in green pastures--so I lack not for rest.
2. He leads me beside the still waters--so I lack not for peace.
3. He restoreth my soul--so I lack not for forgiveness.
4. He guides me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake--so I lack not for divine providence.
5. Though I walk through the valley of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me--so I lack not for companionship.
6. Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me--so I lack not for divine aid.
7. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my enemies--so I lack not for sustenance.
8. Thou anointest my head with oil--so I lack not for honor.
9. My cup runneth over--so I lack not for joy and blessing.
10. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life--so I shall not lack for anything on earth.
11. And I will dwell in the house of Jehovah forever--so I shall not lack for anything in heaven.

The little girl who innocently misquoted the first verse of this psalm really got close to the truth when she said, "The Lord is my Shepherd; I've got all I want!" As a child of God we can rejoice and be thankful in the fact that there is no real need that is not supplied by our Shepherd.

With inflation continuing to out-pace Social Security benefits, it seems nearly everyone would have to be included in a private pension plan. How extensive is this involvement?
An estimated 30 million persons, nearly one-half of the private nonagricultural labor force in the U.S. were enrolled in about 300,000 private pension plans having total assets of approximately $150 billion as of 1972. With the rate of increase continuing, by 1980, the figures will be: 42 million people, 500,000 plans and $225 billion in assets. The HR-10 and IRA plans are particularly applicable to self-employed individuals, with or without employees. Prime examples being: professional men, service-oriented businessmen and farmers and ranchers.

Salt water ponds made of plastic may be the answer to solar energy supplies for farm buildings. Such a pond would be designed as a solar heat trap. Research on such a contraption is now underway at Ohio State University where they are using a 150-thousand gallon model with a depth of nine feet. Solar ponds are special in that they utilize a black plastic lining and are filled with salt water. The lining attracts and absorbs more heat... salt water keeps the heat from rising to the surface. Fresh, cool water is then pumped through plastic tubes at the bottom of the pond... that water is heated then pumped back through the floor of a building to provide natural heat. Scientists warn of one problem in trying to utilize the pond as a swimming pool... temperatures at the bottom have been measured as high as 194 degrees.

HOW'S The Electric Company DOING?

Let's ask J. T. Burk, stores superintendent...

"Crossarms are such a common sight that you probably don't even notice them. But we have thousands of crossarms in our system... and they're necessary to bring electricity to you. Ten years ago, one of these crossarms cost $3.43, but today an identical crossarm is $11.46."

That's a whopping 234% increase... a reason electricity may be costing you more these days. Even so, electricity is still a big bargain... because it's always there when you need it.

Cheryl Gohlke, Mimms Receive 4-H Awards

Approximately 100 people attended the Parmer County 4-H Achievement banquet in Friona Saturday night, November 8. This event was attended by 4-H members and parents from throughout Parmer County. As in years past this banquet was sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative and Bailey County Electric Cooperative.

The banquet activities were conducted by 4-H members from each club in the county. The master of ceremonies was Gary Don Schueler of Rhea. Giving the invocation was Jimmy Rhodes of Bovina. Jacquelyn Langford of Farwell led the pledge of allegiance and Lezli Williams of Bovina led the 4-H motto and pledge.

The introduction of guests was given by Susan Anderson of Rhea. Evelyn Hart of Friona and Michael Mimms of Lazbuddie spoke on the highlights of the 4-H year. Kathy Williams of Bovina gave recognition to the banquet sponsors and Cheryl Gohlke of Farwell recognized the adult leaders. Johanna Mesman of Farwell gave the benediction. The entertainment for the evening was given by Nell Fulks of Friona, the 1975 Maize Days Queen.

CORNER CATCHER

The only center pivot in the world that hits the corners.

In a typical quarter section where a regular center pivot is irrigating 132 acres, you can now do about 150 acres. But the new Valley Corner System isn't limited to squares. Irrigate both ends of a rectangle. Irrigate odd shaped pieces of land too. It's the answer to getting valuable productive land that's been wasted, back under center pivot irrigation.

For flood irrigators, it's also the answer to automatic water and labor saving center pivot, without wasting valuable acres. No monitoring, no labor problems, no night work. But you have all the advantages of precise irrigation and fertilizer application through the system, that produces higher yields than ever before. It's a simple concept, precise in operation and engineered with quality of all Valley-built Center Pivots.
