Dies Hasn't Made Up Mind

FORT WORTH, May 7 (UP)—Former Congressman Martin Dies said yesterday he has not made up his mind definitely about running for any public office.

The Lufkin Attorney and Former Chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee recently in Houston that he probably would seek office in next year's elections.

But he said in Fort Worth that election time was "too far off for me to know definitely at this time."

Dies spoke before the District 2 E Lions International Convention and criticized the administration that he said for many years followed a pro-Soviet Policy, he said, it "will be because of our free enterprise program."

Shirley Temple Has Operation

TULSA, Okla., May 7 (UP)—Screen actress Shirley Temple underwent an appendectomy here last night after she was stricken while driving through town with her husband, Charles A. Black.

Hospital attendants today said the 23-year-old Hollywood star's condition is "excellent" following the emergency surgery.

Her husband, who is a Los Angeles TV program salesman, said his wife became ill as they passed through the city. Black declined to state where the couple was heading and hospital attendants have refused to admit visitors.

Black and Miss Temple were married Dec. 16, 1950, about a year after the movie star won a divorce from her first husband, actor John Agar.

AMERICANS GO TO ICELAND

WASHINGTON, May 7 (UP)—A "small" detachment of American Security troops have landed in Iceland at that country's request, it was disclosed today.

The State Department said the contingent will help defend the island as part of arrangements under the North Atlantic Treaty. Defense officials said the contingent is a small one and is under the command of Brig. Gen. Edward J. McGaw.

Iceland, an independent island nation, just below the Arctic circle and the North Atlantic shipping lanes, has no armed forces of its own—its police do not even carry pistols.

The State Department made public the text of an agreement signed by the United States and Iceland Saturday. It provided that Iceland make available facilities for the U. S. forces.

Under the agreement, the Iceland government retained the right to limit the size of U. S. troops in the country.

The United States also returned to Icelandic control the big Keflavik airport, near Reykjavik. The airport has been operated by the United States since American troops built it during the war.

Suit Delayed Until The Fall

LAREDO, May 7 (UP)—A suit for $55,000 damages against the estate of George Ochoa, fugitive Laredo importer, by relatives of one of his two alleged murder victims has been delayed until fall.

The delay, granted by district Judge E. D. Salinas of 111 District court, was at the request of the plaintiff, Mrs. Frank Tighe of Fort Worth. The case was originally due to begin today.

Mrs. Tighe is the mother of the late Sgt. James Lindsay, one of two men slain in a Laredo Hotel on July 31, 1949. Ochoa, charged with the murder, fled into Mexico. Extradition proceedings are still pending.

Judge Salinas said the delay was granted because one of the attorneys for Mrs. Tighe was in Europe. No definite future date was set for the hearing, but Judge Salinas said it probably would be mid-September.

No. 1 McFadden Southeast Of City Is Brought In

Oil operators today said that the Bob Snyder, Ed Smart, Abe Sussman No. 1 McFadden, about five miles southeast of Eastland, appears to be good for 250 barrels per day.

The well was completed Saturday after much delay because of trouble in perforating. A test run is expected this week.

The well was completed at 1555 feet in a 70 foot section of Strawn sand according to E. M. Shirley of Shirley and Stapper who drilled the well.

A new type of mud acid was used in bringing the well in, Shirley said. Only two feet of the section was treated, 1555 to 1556 he added.

The well is an offset to the Stapper No. 1 Adams, which was among the first producers to be brought in in that section of the county in recent years. It is one-half mile south of the Adams well.

Shirley said that equipment has been moved to the Canet No. 1 and drilling is to get underway soon. The Canet No. 1 is now in the completion stage in the same general area as the McFadden and Adams wells, southeast of the city.

Operations just north of the city are continuing on the No. 1 C. L. Garrett and the No. 1 Courtney, being drilled by Frank Day, Bob Steele and Fairfield. Gilchrist drilling company took the contract on the wells which are only a short distance from the city limit.

Marshall Tries To Give Answer

WASHINGTON, May 7 (UP)—Defense Secretary George C. Marshall brought to the Senate today his "basic differences" with Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Korean War strategy which snowballed into MacArthur's dismissal.

With MacArthur's blueprint of victory before them, senators awaited precise answers from the 70-year-old soldier-statesman on how the administration proposes to win or end the fighting.

His big job was to counter MacArthur's claims that this nation and the free world are headed toward "destruction" unless the United States unleashes its air power against Red China and throws some Sunday punches in the Korean fighting.

POLICE ACTION

WASHINGTON, May 7 (UP)—The Defense Department today identified 361 more casualties in the Korean war.

The 296th casualty list included 49 dead, 282 wounded, 17 injured and 12 missing.

Old Engine Holds Up NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (UP)—A 32-year-old piece of fire apparatus is still in service here. Engine One, a Seagrave pumper, is so old that when it breaks down and a new part is needed, it often has to be specially tool.

Russia Talks Self Into A War-Scare

"I believe that the Soviet has so often repeated the incorrect statement that we are planning to attack him that he has finally begun to believe it himself."

—Gen. Douglas MacArthur in testimony before Senate Committee stated.

Everything that comes out of Moscow these days indicates the General has something there. Certainly the great mass of the Russian people, cut off from all objective news accounts, believe it. Whether that belief actually is held by the dozen men who run Russia can never be anything more than an "educated guess."

A good guess is that most members of the Russian Politburo half believe it now and that the time may come when they will accept it as a complete truth.

VFW Members Asked To Help

All members of the V.F.W. who can participate in the funeral services of the late J. O. Hirst, to be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Baptist Church in Gorman were asked by Karl White to report to the VFW home at 8 p.m. tonight to make plans for the military funeral.

A team of about 20 men will be needed Mr. White said.

Man Calls Girl Before Suicide

HOUSTON, May 7 (UP)—Curtis S. McNeely, Jr., 30-year-old unemployed pipefitter, called a girl with whom he had had a half dozen dates with late last night and said: "I just want you to know I love you."

At 3:30 a.m. today, he was found dead by his landlady. A bottle of deadly "cyanogas" ant killer was on his dresser and a glass bearing traces of the poison was beside it.

The girl friend, Edwina Forrest, 37, told police that she had received a call from McNeely, but said: "we were just friends. He told me he loved me. I was surprised. He'd never said that before."

Police Stage Investigation

HOUSTON, May 7 (UP)—Police authorities continued their investigation today into the death of an unidentified man who was found floating face down in Buffalo Bayou yesterday.

Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan said an autopsy showed death was due to drowning, but indicated there was some mystery surrounding the death.

Although fully clothed, there were no identification marks with the exception of two faded laundry marks. Both heels from the shoes of the body were missing and all the pockets in the clothes were empty.

REDS RETREAT ALONG LINE BUT FIGHT IN WEST AND EAST

TOKYO, May 7 (UP)—United Nations forces attacked at both ends of the 100-mile Korean front today and sent a tank patrol rumbling unopposed into strategic Chunchon at the center.

The Communists stood and fought only at the Western and Eastern ends of the front. They still were retreating elsewhere, presumably to regroup for the second round of their Spring offensive.

However, intelligence reports from the Western Front above Seoul quoted captured North Korean Officers as saying there would be no further Communist offensive.

"The war is about over," they were quoted as saying. Eighth Army Headquarters sources were skeptical. They said more enemy vehicles than ever before were spotted last night as Communists moved reinforcements and supplies to the front.

The 8th Army seized the initiative all across Korea in a series of limited attacks and aggressive patrols.

South Korean Infantry on the Western Front drove Northwest of Seoul behind a tank spearhead against the last remaining Communist force menacing the city. U. S. artillery and fighter planes supported the attack.

SEARCH CENTERED IN HOUSTON FOR TWO ESCAPED BURGLARS

HOUSTON, May 7 (UP)—A search for two prison-hardened burglars who crashed out of the small Mason County jail before dawn yesterday was centered here today after police found an abandoned automobile, believed to be the one stolen by the two to make their escape.

Mason Sheriff L. E. Campbell identified the two men as Raymond F. Carden, gray-haired graduate of San Quentin, a 32-year-old friend, E. J. Ryland, who had done time for manslaughter, armed robbery and other charges.

Sheriff Campbell said the two broke jail in Mason, 100 miles west of Austin, with a clothes hanger fashioned into a "key." He said the two had fashioned one end of the hanger into a hook, pushed it through the cell bars to a lever which locks and unlocks the cell doors.

After opening their door on the second floor of the jail, the two men pried a bar off a window and slid down a drain pipe to the ground. Their escape was learned at 8 a.m. yesterday.

The sheriff said an automobile owned by a Kansas City man, was stolen from the main street of Mason about four hours earlier. The car was found abandoned here early today and Campbell said he believed the men used it to flee Mason.

The sheriff said Carden and Ryland were arrested about three weeks ago in Brady, a nearby town. Ryland was hitch-hiking through the town with a bag containing burglary tools. Carden was picked up the next day. Both the sheriff said, had admitted two Mason burglaries and were scheduled to go on trial today.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, May 7 (UP)—Defense Secretary George C. Marshall said today that General Douglas MacArthur's proposed policies would risk "an all-out war with the Soviet Union" and a smash-up of the coalition of free nations against Communism.

THE WEATHER

Texas was generally cloudy and cool today following a turbulent weekend assault of thunderstorms and sudden rain showers.

Heaviest blow reported was at San Antonio where a seven-hour storm last night flooded streets, stalled autos, caused water damage to property, and injured a four-year-old child with a lightning bolt.

The rain was measured at only .82 inch at San Antonio weather station, but one gauge in town showed 4.71 inches and another in the south section, registered 3.15.

Fireman Adolph Muchl said a lightning bolt flashing through a bedroom window narrowly missed Mary Lee Coleman. The child suffered minor burns on her left arm and side.

Water flooded the city's underpass, with as many as 150 autos stalled and abandoned at one time during the high water, police estimated. Three-fourths of the police patrol cars were out of operation due to high water. One car slipped into Alazon creek, riding the water nine blocks before it stopped.

The thunderstorm struck about 7 p.m. and traffic was jammed by stalled automobiles within a short time. Many motorists in the lower sections abandoned their cars for high ground as the streets filled.

Additional thundershowers were expected in the South portion of East Texas this afternoon and tonight, but weathermen said the rain elsewhere "apparently is over, at least for the time being."

Both tax measures were passed by the House and were awaiting Senate consideration, so the major clash was expected to occur in Senate debate.

Taft Speech Clarifies Stand On Far Eastern Policy

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The great debate between Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Sen. Robert A. Taft before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce convention in Washington never came off. They were separated by a band concert and another speech by the Chamber's retiring president, Otto A. Seyferth. Shucks. They were never even in the hall at the same time.

Secretary Acheson spoke first and his speech fell flatter than a crepes Suzette pancake. Before a picked audience of 1000 Chamber of Commerce officials from all over the country, he passed up the opportunity to answer criticisms that have been raised against the President's and his foreign policy. And he muffed the chance to answer the policy of General MacArthur, point by point. All he did was read a dull, prepared text while the polite audience sat on its hands.

On the other hand, Senator Taft wowed 'em. He spoke from notes, freely and with good emphasis. He drew laughter and frequent applause. If any of his audience had any previous doubts about what may now be known as the MacArthur-Taft line, they're gone now.

In perhaps the clearest exposition of his views he has made to date, Senator Taft put forward the idea that the thing bothering him most was the cost and America's ability to meet that cost.

A second major point that seems to be bothering Senator Taft is the possibility that the President and State Department will negotiate a cease-fire agreement with the Chinese Communists. This goes back to last January when the United Nations Good Offices team proposed a five-point armistice. It would have provided for withdrawal of all non-Korean troops, UN administration of Korea during the truce, and a four-power conference of U. S., Britain, Russia and Red China to settle Far Eastern issues.

This was admittedly a screwy proposal as the U. S. would have been outvoted three to one on some issues like recognition of Red China. U. S. Ambassador Warren Austin opposed the offer and considered it futile. He was instructed to go along with the proposal, however, as an act of good faith with the rest of the United Nations. He believed it would be turned down by Red China and it was. He then began the moves which ended in having Red China branded as an aggressor.

BUT what Senator Taft now says he is fearful of is that this old cease-fire proposal may be revived. He fears that Congress may wake up some morning to find such an offer accepted, unless the Congress now takes action to prevent any such appeasement.

With respect to General MacArthur's policy on Korea, Senator Taft would himself appear to be something less than consistent.

As early as last June 28, three days after the Korean war began, Senator Taft declared, "If a joint resolution were introduced asking for approval of the use of our armed forces in Korea I would vote in favor of it."

On Jan. 5 Senator Taft declared, "It is far better to fall back to a defensible position in Japan and Formosa than to maintain a Korean position which would surely be indefensible in any third world war." Two days later the Senator took an even stronger position on this point by suggesting that the U. S. should pull out of Korea and set up a new defense line based on Formosa and Japan.

Now, however, Senator Taft seems to be taking still a third position—the MacArthur position—in favor of bombing Red Chinese communications and supply lines in Manchuria. On General MacArthur's proposed blockade of the China coast, Senator Taft told the Chamber that he had his doubts as to its effectiveness.

Anyway, Senator Taft now declares that the bombing of Manchurian bases and the use of Chinese Nationalist troops will not bring Soviet Russia into the war. This is a chance we will have to take.

One Sad Aspect of the MacArthur Affair

Racing World Flabbergasted Over Kentucky Derby Victory

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7 (UP)—The racing world was left in a state of confusion today by Count Turf's flabbergasting victory in the Kentucky Derby, and the chief casualty seemed to be the preakness stakes.

The preakness, second "jewel" in racing's triple crown, normally draws the cream of the Derby crop for another battle at a slightly shorter distance.

But this year, Count Turf won't run in the preakness. And neither will any of the three horses which gave the surprise Derby champion his closest race—Royal Mustang, Ruhe, and Phil D.

They aren't going to run in the big race at Pimlico, May 19, because they aren't eligible. And they aren't eligible because their owners weren't willing to gamble $2,500 to enter them before the deadline was reached on April 16.

Add this to Count Turf's victory at odds of 14.60 to 1, and you get a picture of the confusion that reigns in the turf world.

First of all, all the experts were caught "looking out the windows" when they made their Derby selections. They ignored the fact that Count Turf's daddy, Count Fleet, won the Derby in 1943 and that his grand-daddy, Reigh Count, won it in 1928. And they ignored the fact that Count Turf had been "closing fast" in his recent races.

For how could you pick a horse which had won only four of 20 previous starts to win the Derby?

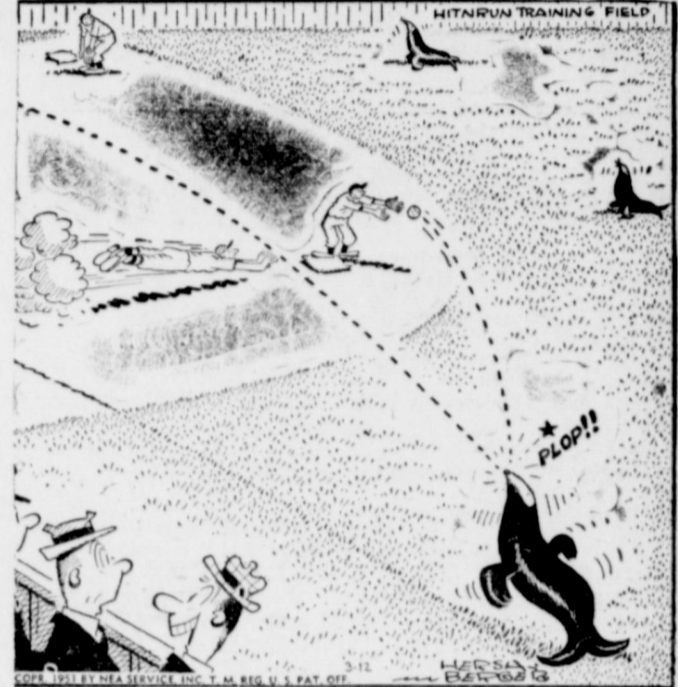

Only Jockey Conn McCreary, desperate for anything to ride in his comeback attempt to prove he's not "washed up," was high on Count Turf's chances. He said he "thought" his horse would win, but admitted he didn't make even a $2 bet on him.

As for the losers, like 5 to 2 favorite Battle Morn, there were no real excuses offered. Typical was the reaction of Battle Morn's rider, famed Eddie Arcaro, who said his mount "stumbled a little, but not enough to matter."

There were wide differences of opinion on just how good Count Turf is. Most horsemen point to his poor overall record and say he merely proved the best of a mediocre field.

THE SCOREBOARD Sectional Selection Would Be Silly in Walker Cup Tourney

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Henry Timberman writes the United States Golf Association that Texas is disgusted because young Dale Morey was not named a member of the Walker Cup team.

"Spec Goldman won the Western Amateur and went to the final of the U. S. Amateur one year and didn't make the squad," he recalls. "Rufus King went to the final in 1949 without earning a letter."

"What's the executive committee got against the Lone Star State?" he wants to know.

This year's nine didn't get the trip to Birkdale, near Southport, England, that easily.

It would be difficult to fault Capt. Willie Turnesa, Sam Urzetta, Frank Stranahan, Jimmy McHale, Dick Chapman, Billy Campbell, Bobby Knowles, Harold Paddock and Charley Coe, who defend the trophy on the British west coast seaside links, May 11-12.

Naturally, the committee feels obliged to select those most highly qualified.

There are 13 members of the board spread around the country. "If strictly sectional representation were slavishly observed," explains Executive Secretary Joseph C. Dey, Jr., "it is probable that some inferior representative would have to be selected."

An unfairness would thereby be worked on a superior player who would have to be passed up simply because his section's quota was used up.

In 1949, two Los Angeles clubmates were chosen—Johnny Dawson and Bruce McCormick.

It would have been improper to have omitted either. "It is true that the 1951 team is preponderantly eastern. But eastern players have unusually good records."

As an example, in the five Amateur Championships held since the war, five of the 10 finalists were easterners, three of them from New York State. Four of the five postwar champions were easterners.

"General over-all record is considered, not just performance in the Championship."

"Two members this year have never been in the Amateur semifinals, but they have fine general records."

"On the other hand, one 1949 Championship finalist was not selected."

All of the Walker Cuppers will compete in the British Amateur at the Royal Porthcawl Golf Club, Porthcawl, Wales, May 21-26, when Muscles Stranahan defends.

JUNIORS—These youngsters could be from anywhere in the United States—Maine, Georgia, Texas, California or Washington. Certainly, their facial expressions are universal. Typifying America's young golfers, they are participants in the Flint, Mich., Junior Golf Association Tournament. (NEA)

FOOTSTEPS TO FAME—Basketball or baseball, it's just a game to Princeton's sophomore sensation, Dave Sisler, son of the immortal George and brother of the Phillies' Dick. A key man on the court, Dave is expected to anchor the Tigers' main staff this year. As a freshman, he gave up two earned runs in 49 innings, tossed a no-hit, no-run game, compiled a 6-0 record. (NEA)

Communist Send Jets Into Fray

TOKYO, May 7, (UP)—The Communists threw new twin-engine jet fighters against American bombers early today for the second straight day.

Bomber crews could not positively identify the enemy jets, but their descriptions indicated the planes may be Russian-built LA-7 all weather night fighters.

Two of the speedy twin jets jumped a B-26 night bomber early this morning south of Pyongyang, the Communist capital. The enemy planes made four firing passes in an air battle that ranged from 2,000 to 100 feet, but both sides failed to score a hit.

Three twin-jets had attacked a single B-26 in the same area early Sunday, also without damaging the American plane.

The appearance of the new type planes far below the usual enemy aerial hunting grounds raised the possibility that the Communists at last may be planning to challenge UN air superiority near the battlefield.

The Communists previously have used only Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighters, and kept them within 50 to 60 miles of the Manchurian frontier. Pyongyang is more than 100 miles from the frontier and 100 miles north of the fighting front.

Louisiana and Arkansas combined, the report showed.

The average factory worker in Texas worked 41.1 hours per week during March, at average pay of $14.4 an hour. His weekly check averaged $60.91. Both the pay and work time figures showed a slight increase over the previous month, and a substantial increase over March, 1950.

Communist Send Jets Into Fray

TOKYO, May 7, (UP)—The Communists threw new twin-engine jet fighters against American bombers early today for the second straight day.

Bomber crews could not positively identify the enemy jets, but their descriptions indicated the planes may be Russian-built LA-7 all weather night fighters.

Two of the speedy twin jets jumped a B-26 night bomber early this morning south of Pyongyang, the Communist capital. The enemy planes made four firing passes in an air battle that ranged from 2,000 to 100 feet, but both sides failed to score a hit.

Three twin-jets had attacked a single B-26 in the same area early Sunday, also without damaging the American plane.

The appearance of the new type planes far below the usual enemy aerial hunting grounds raised the possibility that the Communists at last may be planning to challenge UN air superiority near the battlefield.

The Communists previously have used only Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighters, and kept them within 50 to 60 miles of the Manchurian frontier. Pyongyang is more than 100 miles from the frontier and 100 miles north of the fighting front.

LITTLE ONES ON THE FARM—Judy Englert, 3, holds a calf that weighed only 18 pounds—compared to a normal weight of 65 to 80 pounds—when it was born on her father's farm at Chillicothe, Mo. Mr. Englert holds a two-week-old lamb, which is only slightly smaller than the calf. An interested observer is two-year-old Rickey Englert.

Fort Worth Artist Presents Musical Program For Thursday Afternoon Club And Guests

Mrs. Robert Moreton of Fort Worth, was the guest artist for the Music Week program Thursday afternoon for members of the Thursday Afternoon Club and their guests at the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Moreton is the former Miss Alma Williamson, daughter of Mrs. Dixie Williamson, and is a graduate of Julliard School of Music, New York City, and a former pupil of the late Wilda Drago.

She played solos on the violin and on the piano by Mrs. Elizabeth Gorton of Fort Worth.

Her well rounded program of varied compositions was presented in three groups on the violin and the piano from the masters.

Handel, H. Wieniawski, Tschai Rousky and Faure.

The third group included ultra modern compositions and a Spanish dance by Kreisler.

It was an outstanding program, expertly presented and the artist who was ably assisted by the accompanist, performed with a smooth technique and beautiful tone. "We were very fortunate in having an artist who could play the violin, seldom heard in solo work in Eastland," a spokesman said.

A panel discussion was conducted on B.S.U. work in the Young People's department of the Training Union at 7 o'clock led by Joe Haynes, Geneva Anderson, Earl Glenn Rose, and Charlotte Davis. The inspirational devotional was brought by Miss Frances Knight to the adult assembly.

Rev. Bill Cook, senior student at Hardin-Simmons and one of the five ministerial students to serve in Alaska during the summer, brought the evening message. At the close of the service, baptismal service was had.

A fellowship hour was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Shockey and was attended by about forty-six young people.

Tuesday morning at 11:30 the students of Ranger Junior College will organize a B.S.U. on the campus. Mr. Earl Rose, immediate past president of Texas B.S.U., will preside at the meeting. At that time, officers will be elected for the fall semester. All students are urged to attend.
