County farmers are busy this week planting cotton and peanuts according to J. M. Cooper, county agent.

Cooper said that they will be very busy for the next three weeks or so with the planting process and that no rain is needed in the county for some three weeks or more.

The cotton crop in this area is expected to be larger this year than in a number of years. With restrictions off on cotton planting, and tighter cuts on peanut planters, the cotton industry is expected to boom here this year. At least a lot of it probably will be planted.

Castor beans as a cash crop are expected to make their debut in the county this year, also. Interest has not been too great in the crop, but several farmers are planning to make a try at it.

Following is a part of a letter from J. McDonough, once a member of the British forces in Korea, but who has been returned to England because of wounds, to a friend in the American Army, Jack Tyrone of Olden, who is in Korea. McDonough expresses the English view of the war and defends the stand which his country takes in the affairs of the world today.

"Remember when we were in Pusan, Jack, and we were talking about war. You or Jill Rosat said the people in your country didn't know what war is like when it is fought over your own country? Well, just in case you should know anyone who is agitating for war, I've sent you a little newspaper clipping. Show them it and ask them if they would like it to happen on their country.

"We British are very much misunderstood, Jack. You Americans may think we're a lot of pacifists. We're not, old chap, nothing like it. We've been fighting war after war in succession; we've had a lot of blood spilled and now it's got to the point where this country has been bled white.

"We are just getting on our feet from a terrible riding we had in the last war, and what happens—we're getting ready for another war.

"After what we've been through during the war, and after the war, (remember we're on rations that just keep us alive now, six years after the war.) We've gone through this with a grin on our face for we knew our country was getting back on its feet.

"Now do you realize why we are not wanting to jump at anyone's throat? But don't think that we will be stepped on though. The British law has still got teeth, even though they may be seldom wh nowdays."

The newspaper clipping referred to in the letter is as follows:

"In all Plymouth's (England) eventful history, the year 1940 to 1941 will stand out dark and terrible. Battered, bleeding, but unbent, this port from which the Mayflower sailed withstood the might of the Luftwaffe. More than 50,000 houses and buildings were destroyed or damaged."

New Relations Change Ideas

WASHINGTON, May 29 (UP)—Federal Judge Walter M. Bastian today dismissed two motions which would have barred the execution of seven Nazi war criminals because the German Constitution outlaws capital punishment.

Bastian stayed the executions of the Nazis at Landsberg, Germany, last week and yesterday extended the stay until June 5.

Warren Magee, counsel for the condemned war criminals, asked Bastian to void the death sentences because the new German constitution forbids capital punishment. He argued that the men cannot be executed because there has been a change in U. S.-German diplomatic relations.

Bastian dismissed Magee's motions for cancellation of the executions, but said he believed the court of appeals should be permitted to review his decisions. Magee said he would appeal. The supreme court twice has rejected appeals by the doomed men.

Three Convicts Escape Prison

HUNTSVILLE, May 29 (UP)—Three convicts escaped from the Wynne Prison Farm near here today, but one of them was recaptured later by a city policeman in Huntsville.

J. C. Roberts, prison record clerk, said the men escaped "sometime" between midnight and 4 a. m. by sawing their way through bars over a window in a lockup. They were identified as Billy Gene Burden, 23, serving a five- and one-half year sentence from Potter County for burglary; Robert Spencer Strother, 30, of Williamson County, serving a life sentence for murder and robbery, and John Wesley Zetsche, 41, under a seven-year sentence for burglary from Dallas County.

Roberts said Zetsche was arrested by Huntsville police officer Lee Sandel while he was standing along highway 75 on the outskirts of Huntsville trying to hitchhike a ride. He offered no resistance. Prison authorities said the men cut their way to freedom and fled without the night guard being aware they were gone.

They said the convicts apparently had planned the escape. It had not been determined where they obtained the saws.

A widespread search was launched for the two still at large and bloodhounds were brought in to aid in the hunt.

Wynne Prison Farm is located some three miles east of the main State Prison at Huntsville.

FHA Specialists Demonstrate New Locker Methods

Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, Home Management Specialist of the Farmers Home Administration, Dallas, gave two food preservation demonstrations last week to borrowers of the Farmers Home Administration.

Mrs. Hoffman demonstrated the newest and best methods to can and freeze vegetable and fruits and the proper preparation of meats and cooked foods for freezer lockers.

The meetings were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scitern, Rt. 2, Gorman, and Mr. and Mrs. Rocky B. Erwin, Rt. 1, Rising Star.

The meeting at the Erwin farm also included members of the F. H. A. Peanut and Cotton Production Committee and Pasture Improvement and Soil Building Committee.

A. M. Gross and W. T. Garner of the Soil Conservation Service at Rising Star talked to the group on improved pastures and soil conservation practices.

George I. Lane, F. H. A. County Supervisor, spoke on methods and practices for the securing of increased peanut production.

Herbert W. Lubke, Assistant Supervisor, led the discussion on cotton insect control, showing 35 m color slides on different cotton insects with a short talk on each.

REJECTED TAX BILL

It is difficult to reconcile the House rejection of the compromise tax bill with the concept of serving the best interests of the state and its people. It looks as if the House was pressurized or mesmerized by a group whose zeal for special aims outweighed its concern for the general good.

That group seeks to put on a big rural road building program, all out of proportion to the development of state highways, and to saddle the burden of the expense largely upon one industry.

Gov. Shivers charged Tuesday, and he doubtless had ample grounds for the assertion, that county judges and commissioners are behind this movement, seeking to gain control of rural road building and the funds therefore, so that, as the governor expressed it, we would have 254 different road building programs. Surely this movement does not represent the wishes of the people of Texas, or any substantial fraction thereof. We believe the governor was eminently correct when he said:

I don't think the people of Texas want the county commissioners to build their roads in preference to the Highway Department.

Nor do we believe the people sanction the attempt to sock that one industry—natural gas—for the cost of the rural road scheme, with a 200 per cent tax increase. For one thing, it is inequitable, and the vast majority of the American people believe in fair play. For another, the tax would be passed on to the consumers, added to their gas bill.

Those who want to mulct natural gas for the cost of this abnormal rural road activity because there is no considerable natural gas business in their rural districts take a short-sighted view. The industrial centers of the state contribute a large share of the cost of schools, highways and other state services throughout the state. Indeed, but for the gas industry, the oil, sulphur and other major industries, the state would not be enjoying the general prosperity it does, and the rural sections would be impoverished.

The compromise tax bill, rejected by the House, fell short of the equality and uniformity prescribed by the Constitution. It imposed a 10 per cent tax on natural gas—a higher rate than any other industry pays—and it overlooked some untaxed industries. But it was about as equitable a bill as could be hoped for. By turning it down the House has marred an otherwise fairly good legislative record for the session. It should either reconsider its action or adopt a substantially similar measure.

Sully Montgomery Out-Maneuvers Mr Claiborne In Legal Skirmish

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 29 (UP)—Gambler Bert Wakefield was en route to Fort Worth today to face gambling charges because Texas Sheriff Sully Montgomery out-manuevered his attorney in a legal skirmish.

Montgomery arrested Wakefield, under indictment in Fort Worth, here yesterday and hustled him off to Texas while the gambler's attorney, Harry Claiborne, was arguing for a writ of habeas corpus on the gambler.

Montgomery and Tarrant County District Attorney Stewart Hellman were waiting for him with a warrant yesterday at the Las Vegas courthouse. Claiborne filed the writ of habeas corpus a few minutes before Wakefield arrived at the courthouse, but County District Judge A. S. Henderson refused to sign the order until the gambler was in custody.

Wakefield appeared while Claiborne argued with the judge. Montgomery seized him by one arm and Claiborne held the other, but the sheriff emerged victorious from the brief tug-of-war and shoved the gambler into a car.

A Fort Worth Grand Jury has charged Wakefield with operating a gambling game there. Claiborne contended during a 15-minute extradition hearing last Wednesday that the indictment contained no proof that Wakefield was in Fort Worth when the alleged crime occurred Jan. 20.

Memorial Day To Be Cool

Most of the nation looks forward to a cool Memorial Day today and the National Safety Council predicted auto accidents might take more than 110 lives.

The weather bureau said only the East Coast and the Pacific northwest could be sure of a fair, warm holiday.

In most of the rest of the country it was going to be cool, with thundershowers in New England, the Middle West and Texas.

On the Pacific Coast the prediction was for partly cloudy weather and cooler temperatures away from the ocean.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council said "immediate traffic deaths over this Memorial Day holiday may reach 110 or more."

"We are hoping that the toll may be held to 85 traffic fatalities," he said. "That would be the lowest toll for any holiday since World War II."

Dearborn said the 82 maximum could be achieved if motorists took advance of the one-day holiday by "using extra care, common sense and courtesy."

Living Presents A Challenge In The Atomic Age

FORT WORTH, May 29 (UP)—Living in the Atomic Age presents a "desirable and a challenging combination of circumstances," Gov. Allan Shivers told graduating students at Texas Christian University last night.

The desirable circumstances described as "no limit now known to mortal man that you may not exceed in your lifetime."

But he cautioned the 458 students receiving degrees that they also "may achieve a highly undesirable record—that of being blown higher and farther than any man ever was before."

Turning to a more philosophical note, the governor said the government should be designed to make its people happy "even if it means going to the extreme of letting them alone."

Above all, he said, people are entitled to competence in the handling of "our affairs, domestic and foreign, and frugality in the handling of the people's money."

Fire Destroys Baptist Church

HOUSTON, May 29 (UP)—A fire destroyed the Bellaire Baptist Church last night. The fire was televised for 10 minutes by KPRC-TV.

Two firemen were burned slightly while fighting the blaze. The Rev. H. O. Wynne, pastor of the church, at the risk of his life saved church records by running into the flaming building and carrying them out.

He estimated the loss at some $50,000.

The fire started from an undetermined cause.

NEGROES TRY ERASING THE COLOR LINES

AUSTIN, May 29 (UP)—The State Board of Pardons and Paroles today rejected a plea to commute the death sentence of Emma (Straight Eight) Oliver, 40-year-old San Antonio Negro.

If her sentence for murder is carried out as scheduled next Wednesday, she will be the first woman executed in the history of the state.

Court sources said no woman has ever been executed in Texas. A death sentence conviction was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals several years ago, but the woman died of natural causes prior to the scheduled execution.

The Pardon and Paroles Board heard a plea for leniency by three persons.

They were Bexar County sheriff Owen Kilday, Criminal District Judge W. W. McCrory, who tried the case and P. S. Wilkinson, a Negro clergyman.

The woman was convicted of fatally knifing a Negro man following an argument over money on Feb. 24 of last year. Her police record showed that she had been involved in the deaths of two other persons.

Judge McCrory told the board he was "very much surprised when the jury gave this Negro the death penalty."

"The case," he said, "was very badly handled—it was not a death penalty case."

Concessions At Derby Planned

Representatives from 14 organizations were present at a meeting concerning the Old Rip Horned Toad Derby concessions at the chamber of commerce office, Monday night.

All organizations represented signified their intention of operating various types of concessions at this year's Old Rip Derby, August 10-11.

H. J. Tanner, manager of the chamber, said that a number of organizations not represented at the meeting had indicated that they will have concessions at the derby.

He reported that those present were enthusiastic about the proposed setup this year and especially liked having the event downtown.

A. D. Clemens, et al. of Eastland are operators for the No. 1 Charles Allmon which will begin drilling this week on the northwest outskirts of Olden.

Slush pits were dug Tuesday morning and a rig was to be moved in during the afternoon. Bob Gilchrist is the contractor.

The beginning of operations at Olden indicates the increasing of activities east and southeast of Eastland where the revived oil interest in the county seems to be swinging.

Stapper & Shirley have staked location for their No. 2 Robert E. Adams, four and one half miles southeast of Eastland. Location will be 1,493 feet from the north and 990 feet from the east lines of Section 53, League 3-4, McLennan CSL Survey.

It Took Years But Here He Is

EDINBURG, May 29 (UP)—An alien from Mexico was on trial for murder today for killing a man in a dance-hall fight 16 years ago.

Soon after Ramon Betancourt was killed at Val Verde, near Donna, Santiago Nino of Corpus Christi disappeared. He was forgotten until an immigration official was questioning him about his citizenship.

The official learned that Nino had been wanted in connection with the Betancourt slaying and turned him over to Hidalgo county district attorney Joe Alamia.

Apparently, the driver of the car lost control of the car in which the group was riding and it struck the concrete wall of a railroad underpass six miles west of Merkel, wrecking the machine and jamming the passengers in the car against the side of the underpass, according to reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Kernell are reported to be suffering from fractured ribs and chest injuries. Injuries to Mr. and Mrs. James are reported to be not serious.

BIG FIGHT ON TOMORROW

CHICAGO, May 29 (UP)—Ezzard Charles and Joey Maxim were ready today for their heavy-weight title fight at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night, but the customers were not.

The advance of cash and reserved orders for tickets totalled only $55,000 on the eve of the 15-pound "battle of champions." Because of the disappointing advance, Promoter Jim Norris and his International Boxing Club Associates will be fortunate if 8,000 fans enter the world's largest indoor arena and provide a gross gate of $80,000 more than 20,000 spectators could be accommodated.

Despite television, a gate of about $125,000 had been expected since the fourth meeting of heavy-weight Champion Charles and Light Heavyweight Champion Maxim shapes up as an excellent fight.

Two conditions were blamed for the surprisingly light advance. Firstly, television requirements of versal, Mexico City's largest Daily Newspaper, commented that "after all, radio stations have no business in politics anyway and if they keep quiet it won't affect them."

"We are, in a sense, controlled, too," the newspaper said. "By the government paper distributing agency. Theoretically they can cut our paper supply if we don't cooperate."

Truman's Court Rules For Negro

WASHINGTON, May 29 (UP)—The Supreme Court yesterday ruled in effect that railroads cannot require Negro and White passengers to travel in separate coaches.

The ruling was in line with previous Supreme Court actions which had outlawed segregation in pullman and dining cars.

Today's action was in the form of a rejection of an appeal from a decision of the fourth U. S. Circuit Court of appeals.

On June 25, 1948, William C. Chance, 64, Negro school teacher was on his way from Philadelphia to Rocky Mount, N. C., aboard the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. The conductor asked him to change to the Negro Coach. He refused.

When the train reached Empira, Va., Chance was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. Later the railroad withdrew the charge.

Chance sued for damages on ground he was wrongfully rejected from the coach because of his race. A Federal District Court upheld the railroad's policy of segregating Negroes from Whites. But the court of appeals reversed the highest-bidding sponsor necessitated the bout's being staged on a Wednesday night that happened to fall on a holiday.

Second, sports fans of the Chicago area seemed to have forgotten the fight, in their mounting enthusiasm for the surprising progress of the Cubs and White Sox.

MEXICO CITY, May 29 (UP)—Radio executives accepted complete censorship of their broadcasts today without objection.

The government decreed that scripts written for all Mexican Stations would be examined to "prevent immorality" and "preclude offensive material; religious or political."

Major advertising agencies had protested against subtle criticism of sponsored programs by commentators in unsponsored broadcasts, and the government acted Saturday by issuing the censorship decree.

Legal Battle Continues On

WASHINGTON, May 29 (UP)—The tangled legal battle over ownership of the American President Lines took a new turn today with the proposal of Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer that the company's stock be put up for public sale.

Sawyer made the suggestion in a letter to R. Stanley Dollar, who has been trying for six years to regain control of the company, formerly The Dollar Lines. Under the Sawyer proposal, proceeds of the public sale would be held in trust until the courts finally decide who is legal owner on the line. (Dollar had no immediate comment.) An attorney for Dollar said Sawyer's letter had not yet been received.

Sawyer indicated he was not backing down, however, from his position that the United States is entitled to the stock. But he offered the idea as a solution to the legal battle, which at one point threatened to result in his jailing for contempt.

The question of ownership dates back to 1938 when the Dollar Lines posted $7,500,000 in stock in return for a federal loan. The government contends the company relinquished control of the stock. Dollar contends the stock was put up only as security for the loan and should now be returned to him with repayment of the loan.

Yankee Hood Goes To Jail

HACKENSACK, N. J., May 29 (UP)—Joe Adonis was sentenced to two to five years in prison on a gambling and conspiracy charge—his first jail sentence in a 25-year career as an underworld big shot.

He was fined $15,000 in addition. He pleaded "no contempt" a week ago to the conspiracy and three gambling charges.

Judge J. Wallace Leyden handed the dapper, 49-year-old millionaire-gangster a two to three year sentence on the conspiracy charge and sentences of two to five years each on the gambling charges, all sentences to run concurrently.

The sentence was stiffer than had been expected after Adonis and four confederates entered their "non vult" plea after hours of courthouse negotiation last Monday. Courthouse sources had predicted Adonis would get off with only 18 months of the possible 18-year maximum sentence on the four charges. Leyden suspended sentence on the third gambling charge.

Wanted Overalls

DETROIT, Mich., May 29 (UP)—Some 32,000 workers at eight Chrysler plants were idle today because 60 men believed smocks were too stiff to wear on the job.

The dispute reached a head yesterday when three union stewards at Dodge were fired as a result of a walkout Friday by workers who revolted against wearing company-issued smocks. The workers had asked for manly overalls instead.

Chicago White Sox Come Home May Be 1951 Pennant Winners

CHICAGO, May 29 (UP)—Manager Paul Richards brought his amazing Chicago White Sox home today from the most successful road trip in club history and said he planned to keep right on winning ball games.

A crowd of dyed-in-the-wool fans and teenagers carrying banners shrieked a welcome to the team and to individual players as they stepped from a train at La Salle Street station, all grinning broadly.

Richards, the waxahachie, Tex., product, who has piloted the club to 11 straight victories and brings it home to series against the Browns and Athletics, got the biggest cheer of all.

Police made an effort to keep the crowd in check, but it did little good. School children ducked around the cops' arms and past their lines to swarm over the tracks and around the train. They cheered Sox Shortstop Chico Carrasquel, newcomer Opestes Minoza. They jostled each other to shake hands with Richards.

"It felt fine," grinned Richards. "The boys feel good. They're ticked pink at the reception.

"They're a hustling ball club," he said fondly. "They're going to keep right on hustling. They're not thinking about the win streak. They just want to win ball games."

Someone ventured a cautious question as to whether the Sox saw a pennant in the offering.

"It's been done before," said Richards.

Charles Comiskey, II, vice-president, was at the station too, standing near a banner which said "Welcome home you pennant winners."

He said it was the best Sox team since the pennant winners of 1929, and that the Sox were already sold out for the New York Yankees' series June 8-9-10. "Win or lose, they're a great ball club," he said. From the station, the Sox went to the city hall to wind up their road trip by getting the key to the city from Mayor Martin Kennell.

A poem, "Jack and Shirley's First Breakfast," written by Billie Farr, was read by Miss Guyrene Robinson. Each guest then wrote a favorite breakfast recipe into Miss Hightower's bride book.

A sterling silver salt and pepper set and an electric clock were presented Miss Hightower by the hostesses.
