Reds Accused Of Slamming Door On Talks

We Must Stay Strong To Kill Communistic Threat, Rivers Says

"Our solution to the threat of the Communistic movements to remain strong," Major Richard T. W. Rivers, commanding officer of the Abilene Main Station Army and Air Forces Recruiting and Induction, told a large crowd preceding the crowning of the Queens of Eastland's Horned Toad Derby, Friday night.

"By remaining strong," he continued, "we make the effort of communists to gain world control too great."

"We of the military realize much more than other citizens what a war really means," Rivers added. "In a shoot-war, nobody wins. Contrary to much talk which is heard, it is not the desire of our military chiefs to wage a war. It is our desire to remain strong enough, long enough, to defeat Communism in the world."

"How long will that be, you ask," he said. "Will it be for eons? We believe not. At this moment there is a vast revolutionary movement existing in Russia. Millions of people under the Communistic domain realize the real significance of that type of government."

"And when the time comes, these people will declare their defiance of Communism, and demand freedom even to the point of using their bodies to close the mouths of the cannons," Rivers declared. "Until that time we must remain strong."

"Until this happens the future of this country lies in the hands of the people of Eastland and of other communities throughout the country," he stated. "It is your duty to impress upon the youth of our country the importance of serving it."

"It is the greatest honor your country can bestow upon you to wear the uniform of the Armed Forces," he said. "The decision is yours."

"As a native Texan, I am sure that if our pioneer forefathers, who suffered from time to time, could advise the people today, they would tell us to fight for the right to live as free people, and worship their Almighty God in the religion of their preference," Rivers concluded.

Rivers, a combat veteran of the South Pacific and Guadalcanal, spoke following the swearing in of a WAF recruit.

He explained that the necessity of inducting women into the Armed Forces is great because of the vast amount of manpower the Communist Forces have.

Arkansas Fliers Adopt Galveston

GALVESTON, Aug. 11 (UP)—Members of the Arkansas Private Fliers Association proceeded to take over Galveston today, having already claimed the island city in the name of the rab-ack state.

The fliers, some 120 strong, landed their 35 private planes here late yesterday for a week-end stop-over, concluding their annual tour.

Headed by comely Charlotte Simmen of Little Rock, Miss Arkansas of 1951 and honor guest on the tour, the group played the razorback flag on Galveston's main beach last night and encamped for a waterfront party. Deep sea boat trips were docked today.

The tour will end Sunday, with stops planned at Nacogdoches or Longview en route back to Arkansas.

Mrs. Seabourn Dies Here Friday

Mrs. J. L. Seabourn, long time resident of Eastland and Eastland county, died at her home here Friday at 5 p.m.

She had been ill for some time. Funeral services will be held at the Corinth Baptist Church at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Gunman Eats Melon While Waiting Cops

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 11 (UP)—A wild-firing gunman who killed one man and wounded another in a crowded grocery store apparently was settling a long grudge with the slain man, police said today.

The 27-year-old gunman argued with Laurencio M. Guerrero, 38, late yesterday in the Heb (Caps) Grocery, then opened fire, police dispatcher Bill Teter said.

Two shots from a 38-caliber revolver killed Guerrero. A third slightly wounded Jessie Lopez, 19.

The burst of firing created near panic in the crowded grocery and scores of persons ran for safety. The gunman calmly left the store, crossed the street and ordered a slice of watermelon. He was eating it when police arrived and he offered no resistance.

Teter said detectives questioned the Latin-American and found that he had long been an enemy of Guerrero.

Family With 6 Polio Victims Recovering

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11 (UP)—Five polio stricken children of the Donald F. De Mars family were reported in "good condition" at General Hospital today and the sixth returned home.

Patricia, 11, the last of the six to contract the dread disease, was released yesterday from the hospital.

"Six different times I had to watch my children leave for the hospital," Mrs. Hila De Mars said. "I hope we don't have to go through them coming out of the hospital at six different times. I pray the rest will all leave at once."

The family troubles began July 31 when Richard, 3, was rushed to the hospital after his parents recognized the symptoms of the disease. Within a week five more were stricken.

Charges Filed Against Ellzey

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 11 (UP)—William Talmage Ellzey, 23-year-old Brownsville power lineman charged with kidnaping and rape of a seven-year-old girl, was jailed here today in lieu of $15,000 bond.

Justice of the peace G. A. Parza set bond of $7,500 on each charge after Ellzey waived examining trial yesterday and was bound over to a grand jury.

He is accused of kidnaping and raping the child after enticing her into his automobile Thursday night.

Condition Improved

Fred Redus, West Texas Utility Lineman, who was injured three weeks ago in a fall from a platform, was reported to be in improved condition following brain surgery at an Abilene Hospital, Sunday.

Redus is formerly of Eastland.

Groom Charged Pre-Martial Rape Of Bride

McALESTER, Okla., Aug. 11 (UP)—A 24-year-old bridegroom must stand trial on charges of raping his pretty young bride before they were married, Pittsburg County authorities said today.

Justice of the Peace Ernest Thomas ruled that Warren Hardy must be tried for second-degree rape, and for representing his bride as 20 instead of her real age.

At an examining trial Thursday, Hardy's 16-year-old wife Caroline testified that she slept in the same hotel bed with Hardy for three nights before they were married.

She swore, however, that "nothing happened" and that the only reason they stayed in the same room was "because two rooms were too expensive."

Mrs. Hardy's testimony puzzled Thomas for a time, but he ruled yesterday that Hardy must face trial.

Mrs. William T. Reid of Oklahoma City, mother of the bride, signed the second-degree rape complaint, charging violation of the age-of-consent law. She said she told Hardy her daughter was a juvenile and warned him to stay away from her.

Mrs. Reid said Hardy brought her daughter to McAlester and married her while she was away from home.

Hardy, held in lieu of $3,000 bond, faces a maximum penalty of 15 years imprisonment if convicted. He also must stand trial on a charge of falsely swearing that his betrothed was 20 when he obtained their marriage license.

Hardy has a long police record, dating back to when he was 14 and stole a car. He once was accused of bigamy but was not tried on the charge.

Police Leave Wreckage After Gambling Raid

HOUSTON, Aug. 11 (UP)—Utter chaos reigned for a few minutes at a one-room windowless shack behind a night club early today.

Inside the shack were 25 dice shooters and poker players, vainly trying to get out. Outside trying to get in were Sheriff's Capt. J. D. Walters, Lt. Edd White and Deputies C. A. Dickey and R. G. Moorhead.

Finally, the shack's walls bulged and both its doors collapsed. When the tumult died away, three dice shooters had escaped, the other 22 were arrested.

The railway official said "a complete investigation of the cause of the wreck will be made jointly by the KCS and the Interstate Commerce Commission."

It could not be determined at what speed the two trains were traveling as they hurtled into each other. "The maximum allowable speed on the line is 55 miles an hour," said Sutter, "and I doubt that they were running any slower than that."

Sutter said seven crewmen, one Marine and one passenger were killed. The passenger was J. J. Cunningham, of Paris, Tex.

Communist Youth Cause Concern Over Desertion

BERLIN, Aug. 11 (UP)—Communist youth festival officials barricaded train stations and streets leading to West Berlin today in a desperate attempt to keep delegates from passing through the Iron Curtain.

But Communist boys and girls still got through.

Thirty elevated and subway stations leading to West Berlin were closed. East Berlin police also barricaded 165 streets leading to the West—a move comparable to cutting off traffic in New York from the Battery to Times Square.

The Reds were trying to keep Communist youths together for a giant "peace" parade tomorrow. They hope to get 1,000,000 youths from 70 nations to march along Unter Den Linden in a feature of the 15-day festival.

New Type Of Washer Now At Hollifields

Four years ago a half dozen major washing machine manufacturers told a Cleveland inventor his new type washer couldn't be built. Today, Bendix Home Appliances produced the 500,000th washer of that type.

Cecil Hollifield, Bendix dealer in Eastland, said the 500,000th Economat, a fully automatic washer, featuring a flexible tub, under-tub agitation and vacuum drying, rolled off the Bendix Home Appliances' assembly line at Clyde, Okla.

"In just two years of production, Bendix achieved that record," Hollifield added. "Bendix spent two years improving and developing the Economat after buying it from James Rand and before they put it into production. The Economat undoubtedly is just as revolutionary as was the first automatic washer when Bendix introduced it in 1937."

Although fully automatic, the Economat needs neither weight nor bolting to hold it steady during its drying cycle, because it employs a completely new principle of vacuum drying in a flexible tub. As the water is siphoned off at the top and bottom, the flexible tub is drawn inward and holds itself against the clothing around the agitator.

"This drying action is so thorough a single silk handkerchief, washed by itself in the tub, can be dried as fully as a full eight pound load, Hollifield said. "Yet it is so gentle an electric light bulb can be kept in the tub through the entire vacuum squeeze cycle without being damaged."

A demonstration of the new washer will be made at Hollifield's store, Monday.

Meter Payment Total Rising

Advance payments on the special water meter assessment climbed above the $2600 mark Friday, I. C. Heck, city manager, said.

Making payments Friday were Mrs. Winnie Sue, $12; T. O. Wood, $12; H. P. Pentecost, $12; S. H. Peel, $6; Dr. J. C. Whittington, $36, bringing the total to $2654.

Nazarene Regular Services Sunday

Regular services will be held at the Church of the Nazarene, Sunday, with visiting preachers speaking at both services.

UN AIR AND NAVAL FORCES HIT RED BUILD-UP AREAS

By Earnest Hoberecht
United Press Staff Correspondent

UN ADVANCE BASE BELOW KAESONG, Korea, Sunday, August 12 (UP)—Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief of the United Nations truce team, accused the Communists to their faces yesterday of "slamming the doors on every attempt to make progress."

A crisis atmosphere deepened as the UN and Communist negotiators prepared for their 22nd armistice meeting at Kaesong at 11 a.m. today (9 p.m. Saturday EDT). The situation was admittedly grave.

United Nations ground, air and naval forces lashed at the Reds Saturday to break up a build-up of men and materials for a possible Communist offensive when and if the armistice negotiations fail.

"Another UN command effort to establish areas for productive discussion was brusquely rebuffed," a brief and pessimistic UN command communique said of yesterday's meeting.

"You did not come to stop the fighting," Admiral Joy told the Red negotiators at the meeting. "You did not come here to negotiate an armistice."

"You came only to make demands, not to negotiate a solution."

A UN communique said the Communists had "brusquely rejected" Allied efforts to find a compromise cease-fire line at today's meeting.

The Reds again insisted that any armistice buffer zone be along the 38th Parallel, pre-war frontier between North and South Korea. This would entail an Allied retreat of 30 miles or more in some sections.

In the strongest language he has yet used at the conference table, Joy told the Communists that their "inflexible viewpoint" had "slammed the door" on every UN attempt to make progress in the armistice negotiations.

The only agreement reached at the session was to meet again at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. today EDT). Joy suggested the 22nd meeting and the Reds agreed.

Today's meeting was the 11th in which the Reds have refused to budge from their demand that any cease-fire buffer zone extend six miles on either side of the 38th Parallel.

If the Communists persist in that demand, the armistice talks almost certainly will collapse. U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson has said that the UN never will consent to a cease-fire along the parallel because it is militarily indefensible.

Brig. Gen. William Buckets, the chief UN spokesman at the advance base camp, refused to hazard a guess as to the chance of finding a way out of the stalemate.

Joy told the Communists that the UN delegation "could not be responsible" to their continued demands for the 38th Parallel as a demarcation line.

Nuckols said Joy tried unsuccessfully to draw out North Korean Gen. Nam Il on why the chief Communist delegate thought the 38th parallel would be a mutually defensible line.

Nam Il reported only that the parallel offered a "fair and reasonable" line with military as well as political significance.

Joy said recent violations by the Communists of Kaesong's agreed neutrality was another example of why the UN wanted a settlement based on a strong defense line and not the parallel.

The UN delegation has proposed a cease-fire line generally along the present battlefield, but has expressed willingness to discuss a compromise.

Joy pointed out to the Reds that an armistice would deliver them from attacks by UN air and naval forces and give them a chance to build up their strength.

Nuckols said he got the impression that Nam Il had run out of things to say. His speeches were mostly studded with cliches such as "your malicious policies" and "the freedom-loving peoples of the world."

Joy renewed his efforts to find a compromise at the opening of the 21st session at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Friday EDT). He invited the chief Communist delegate, Gen. Nam Il, to indicate on a map his concept of a buffer zone "based on the present battle line and the over-all military situation," the UN communique said.

The communique said the North Korean General, "brusquely rejected" the invitation.

"The remainder of today's session was devoted largely to another reiteration by Gen. Nam Il of his single and inflexible proposal for solutions to item No. 2 (the buffer zone) of the agenda," the communique said.

"There was no progress made today toward the conclusion of a mutually acceptable military armistice."

Nam Il stamped out the conference building in apparent anger at the adjournment of the conference.

KILLER'S PACE

BY JULIUS LONG

Copyright 1951 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: (Jim Marshall) am trying to establish the innocence of Rose Bidault on a murder charge. Rose was murdered after her acquittal, but my boss was accused of tampering with the evidence. In investigating the case I was forced to shoot a man in self-defense and now I face arrest by Police Inspector Merica.

XXII
INSPECTOR MERICA'S eyes flashed as he said: "Marshall, if you've got anything on the Frankie Martin case, you'd better give it to me!"

"Here, here," said Star. "This isn't behind the Iron Curtain." "He can't withhold criminal evidence!" Merica snapped.

"Who said anything about evidence?" I asked Merica. "I may have a lead. That only means special knowledge. If I had a chance to use it I might run down some evidence."

From Merica's expression, I knew I had been right. He figured Al Nanabarro for the job and he wanted to nail Nanabarro. "How much time do you figure you'll need?"

"Oh, say two weeks." "I'll say 24 hours, and if you don't turn up hot stuff by then, I'll throw you so far back into the pokey you'll have to mail a letter to the turnkey."

I said: "That doesn't give me much time, but it's a deal." From the wall came the sputter of an almost forgotten man: "Do you mean you're going to turn him loose?"

Merica turned. "Do you want police protection, Mr. Prater?" Mr. Prater decided that he didn't and looked sorry he had spoken at all.

Later in Star's office, I related everything that had happened since I had last seen him. At last he said: "You were a fool to buy 24 hours of freedom for a promise you can't fulfill. All you've got on the Frankie Martin thing is a hunch. Merica has one too, but he can't do anything about it."

"Maybe I can. What do you think of Sonya Sarceta now? Or maybe you don't think she tried to kill me?"

Star shrugged. "She missed you, didn't she?"

It was too much. I got up to leave. A slinky dame could come along, double-cross him and try to kill me and then rate solid in his book. I was getting off.

"Come back here!" called Star. I went back.

"Did I ever let you down?" "Not until now."

"Don't be a fool."

THIS time Star didn't try to stop me. I went out, retrieved my car and drove home. I felt the wear and tear, and I didn't feel like battling my brains out all night for a guy who wanted to be a sucker. I wished I could get my fingers around Sonya Sarceta's neck. If I did, I'd keep them there.

Home to me was a two-room apartment in a four-story apartment house in a so-so part of the east side. There's a garage in back. I unlocked my door, on the west side of the corridor. I stepped in and smelled the perfume. My hand, almost started for the light switch, reversed its direction and went into my shoulder-holster. By the time I had the .380 out a bridge lamp went on.

The lamp was beside my favorite chair. In the chair was Madam Sonya Sarceta, the lady magician who sometimes used real bullets.

SHE was wearing the same evening gown she had worn into the La Jolla Club, and her jacket was hung carelessly over the chair arm. She smiled wearily.

"I thought you'd never come home. I've waited ages."

"There was a handbag on the chair beside her. I went over to it, keeping the .380 aimed at her nose. I dumped the contents of the handbag. There was the little automatic she had carried when I had first seen her. I dropped it into my pocket.

"All right, what's the pitch? I thought you had another show to do at the club."

"I sent Larry Stone my excuses. I didn't bother to excuse myself to Nanabarro. After my shot missed you he was furious. I told him you had ducked too quickly but he didn't believe it. He knew I had double-crossed him. So I left via the kitchen entrance."

"You admit trying to kill me?" "I admit nothing of the sort. My shot missed you because I meant it to." She smiled calmly and smugly. "If I had really wanted to kill you, I shouldn't have missed."

"That's a good one!" Sonya shrugged. "I was in a trick-shooting act before I worked up the magic act. I used to shoot cigarettes out of my partner's mouth."

"But you didn't kill me, so now you're here to con me. Nanabarro never gives up. Louise failed; now he's sent you."

She sighed. "You'll be very foolish if you don't believe me." "Right. You're pretty good. You took Star; you're the first woman who ever managed that."

She laughed softly. "You flatter me!"

"That yarn of Star's about just happening in to La Jolla Club and getting his brainstorm watching you is strictly for the juvenile trade."

She seemed amused. "All right. I phoned Star and told him I had a gag that would free the Bidault woman. Guess why I did it?"

"I've already told you. Nanabarro."

She laughed almost as if she pitied me for being so dumb.

"There's no point in telling you. You wouldn't believe it."

"That's one truthful statement. Star Williams has a thousand times the brains I have, but you're one baby that never had me fooled. Just hold still a minute."

Fishing License Sale Set For Last Of Month

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (UP)—Fishing and hunting licenses for the fiscal year beginning September 1 will be in the hands of Texas agents the last week in August, according to the Chief Clerk of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission. He said 1650 persons in practically every community in Texas will help distribute the licenses. Approximately 315,000 individual resident sport fishing licenses and roughly 340,000 individual resident hunting licenses will have been issued to Texans for the current fiscal year ending August 31.

The Chief Clerk visions a small increase in the sale of both hunting and fishing licenses for the next year.

All of the 36 licenses issued by the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission must be renewed for the new fiscal year, advised the Chief Clerk.

The fees range from 50 cents for a duplicate individual fishing license, replacing the original, to $200 for a wholesale fish and oyster dealer permit.

One important change to sportsmen is the new combined $2.15 resident hunting license which is good for both big game and small game, barring antelope which requires a special $5 permit. All persons over 17 years of age hunting beyond their home county must have a hunting license.

The resident licenses for sports fishing in fresh water cost $1.65. It must be used by all persons over 12 years of age who fish beyond their home counties or adjoining counties. Licenses must be possessed even then if artificial bait is used in the home county or artificial bait or live bait are used in adjoining counties.

Dawkins made prejudicial statements before the grand jury that returned the indictment last March.

The motion will now be heard by Federal Judge Allan J. Hannay at Houston.

Fireman Rescue 26 On Stalled Ferris Wheel

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 11 (UP)—Firemen who used a 100-foot ladder to rescue 26 persons from a jammed ferris wheel said today the delicate operation was "like taking ants off a balanced watch spring."

The firemen had to move their ladder from one side to the other, removing one person at a time to keep the wheel balanced. Most of those rescued were children under 12 years old.

The operation took an hour and 40 minutes. During that time, those on the wheel sat quietly waiting their turn. There was no panic and no one was injured.

Lone Star Loses Advertising Head

DALLAS, Aug. 11 (UP)—James M. Floyd, 50, widely known attorney and advertising executive, died yesterday at his home.

Floyd, former assistant city attorney at Fort Worth, was an official of the Lone Star Gas Company at the time of his death. He joined Lone Star in 1940 as an attorney and became advertising director of the utility in 1947.

Funeral services will be held Monday at the First Methodist Church, Fort Worth.

Floyd complained of abdominal pains Thursday night and a sedative was administered by a physician. He could not be roused yesterday and was pronounced dead upon arrival at a hospital.

The tall, husky native of Boyd, Wise County, was rated one of the state's outstanding trial lawyers. He was a 1926 graduate of the University of Texas Law School.

He joined the Fort Worth City Attorney's Office immediately after graduation and represented the city for the next decade.

Fall Offers Two Silhouettes

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Almost every college girl wants to achieve, this autumn, a casual yet well-groomed look. She'll find help in the new clothes designed for campus wear. In them, there are two distinct silhouettes: the one full-skirted, the other built around the over-blouse top and the straight skirt.

The sweater look is here again, this time in shaped-and-trimmed casual types, many with a turtle neck. The twin sweater plan is back in the form of styled cardigans as well as poodle-cloth novelties, are part of campus life.

Stoles, bigger than ever this autumn, go to college. An ensemble made up of skirt, sweater and stole has brown-and-rust checked skirt and a stole in rayon-and-wool. Sweater is heather tan, short-sleeved and slip-on. This Lampi-designed trio is budget-priced.

There are many simple, uncluttered wool dresses for the college girl and Lampi does one in black and sparks it with Kelly. Sleeves are short; skirt is straight. There are four tiny rhinestone buttons to twinkle at the V-neckline.

A gun-club check acetate-and-rayon suit, again budget-priced, is given a bloused and belted jacket by this same designer. The jacket buttons from a small wing collar to the hemline; skirt lines are straight for contrast.

Texans Like Jersey Cattle Survey Shows

COLLEGE STATION Aug.—If there's any doubt how Texans feel about Jersey cattle, the figures released by the American Jersey Cattle Club for the year ending on March 1, 1951 should clear up the picture.

According to A&M Meekma, associate extension dairy husbandman of Texas A&M College, Texas Jersey breeders ranked at the top or very near there in at least eight different categories. They led the nation in total registrations with a total of 6,440 head or almost 10 percent of the nation's total of 70,110 head. Jim Wells county ranked second in the nation in the number of registrations with 869 and Hopkins county seventh with 423 head registered last year.

Texas ranked first in the total number of transfers by states and also in the total number of new buyers of registered Jersey cattle. Johnson county ranked third in the nation in the number of new buyers with a total of 59.

In the matter of herd and individual animal classifications, Texas topped the nation with 1,212 cows classified and ranked fifth in the number of herds classified with 58.

In the section dealing with the Club's Herd Improvement Registry, Texas ranked third in the number of cows on test and fifth in the number of herds on HIR test.

One Texas cow, Volunteer Winsome Victory, owned by J. Chester Eliff, Victory Jersey Farm, Tulia, was one of seven in the nation to become a member of the Club Register of Merit Thousand Pound Club during the year.

As she is known to her bovine friends, at five years and one month of age produced 18,362 pounds of milk and 1,174 of butterfat in 365 days on a twice-a-day milking schedule. She holds the type classification of Excellent, the highest of the breed; also the distinction of being the highest living butterfat producer of the breed among cows with the Excellent classification. Meekma adds that only three other states provided new members for the Thousand Pound Club during the year.

Upholstery By Mail Now

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (UP)—Seems odd that a housewife in California and a man in the Belgian Congo are both interested in learning how to upholster furniture in their spare time.

There's also a fellow in Puerto Rico who wrote for information on a correspondence course in upholstering and chair building because "it really is something to have a field that makes the life easy."

Irwin Wexner and George Edelman opened their field school of upholstery here three years ago, figuring a lot of veterans might be interested in learning the skilled work of furniture construction. The home extension course is only six months old. And all in all, it seems there is no danger of the fine art of furniture handicraft dying out in this mechanized age for want of young people willing to go into the field.

"Now that G. I. bill benefits have ended for many veterans, we have been surprised to discover the variety of men as well as women who sign up for the course," said Wexner, who holds a master's degree in vocational education from Columbia University.

The sound of hammering came through the glass-walled partition separating his office from the classroom workshop as he talked.

"I didn't think an extension course was possible until I saw an ad for diesel engine and meat cutting courses by mail," Wexner said. "I figured if they could teach that we could teach upholstering. Now we show how to build and upholster a footstool, a boudoir chair and a Larson chair by mail. The second and third pupils we signed up were women. They're just finishing their footstools now."

The mail students send photographs of their handiwork every so often for instructors to check as well as filling out regular questionnaires. The took kit and materials for the three pieces of furniture go along with the course.

So far, Wexner is just a little puzzled over how to handle the requests from places as far as the Belgian Congo, Alaska and Brazil. Duty on the materials necessary for the course would increase the cost too much, he said, but he and his associates are hoping to work out another course for the pupils who supply their own furniture for the course.

A new insect known as the sweetclover root borer was discovered last year by research workers at the Denton Agricultural Experiment Station. It attacks the commonly grown biennial varieties of sweetclovers. Efforts are now being made to develop control measures. However, none are known at this time.

Betty Lane, J. Pumphrey Jr. Exchange Vows In Formal Candelighted Church Ceremony

White Chrysanthemums and Gladoluses in baskets, tall candelabra holding white tapers and joined by garlands of greenery with clusters of white flowers tied with white satin ribbons, formed the setting for the 8 o'clock service and the exchange of vows, uniting in marriage, Miss Elizabeth Jean Lane and J. B. Pumphrey Jr. of Old Glory, Friday August 10, 1951 in the First Methodist Church.

Miss Lane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George I. Lane, 806 West Moss Street, Mr. Pumphrey's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pumphrey of 10X Ranch, Old Glory.

Dr. C. H. Sisserson, Methodist District Superintendent and uncle of the bride, from Cleburne, officiated.

Mrs. J. P. Kilgore, organist, presented the pre-nuptial music, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied, Mrs. Virgil Seaberry Jr., soloist, who sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of frothy white imported eyellet embroidered organza. It was designed with a deep square neckline, defined with a pleated tulle and organza ruffle. The fitted bodice had long sleeves that tapered to petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was accented with a side treatment of organza and pleated tulle ruffles that cascaded to the ankle length hem-line.

Her tiered veil of French illusion was finger tip length and was held in place by a small hat, fashioned of eyellet embroidery. She carried a modified Colonial cascade bouquet of white Phalaenopsis Moss orchids, interspersed with white bouvardia, and edged with tufts of white French tulle and brocaded satin ribbon, and short shower.

Miss Neva Frances Harrell of San Antonio was maid of honor.

Her gown was of blue Springanza applied with white velvety roses and was finished with a scalloped ankle length hem-line. Her Colonial bouquet was of Better Times roses outlined with tulle.

Mrs. Dorothy Marie Carter, Miss Betty Jeanne Watson both of Dallas and Mrs. Clarice Astin of Stamford were bride's maids. Their dresses were green, pink and aqua. Their bouquets were Colonial style of pale pink roses with french tulle to match the color of their costumes. All wore a matching arrangement of colorful marguerite daisies in their hair.

Carol Carter of Dallas, was the flower girl. Her costume was fashioned like that of the older girls with the exception that it was of white organza over aqua blue taffeta. She scattered rose petals in the pathway of the bride, from a dainty white basket.

Master Mike Harris of Dallas carried the ring upon a white satin pillow.

Jow W. Astin of Stamford was best man and Andrew Pumphrey, John David Pumphrey, both of Fort Worth and cousins of the groom, and Cullen Rogers of Marlin were the ushers and groomsmen.

A Miss Zena Grisson and George I. Lane, Jr., brother of the bride, lighted the candles. A reception followed the wedding and was held at the Woman's Club. Guests were received by the parents of the couple and presented to the wedding party.

W. B. Harris and Frank Crowell alternated in registering the guests. The bride's table resplendent in its long white Maderia cutwork linen, held the bride's three tiered white cake, which was decorated with pastel pink roses and green leaves. Bouquets of white flowers formed the background. A side table covered in a tiered organza cloth that hung to the floor held the crystal punch bowl, which was served by Miss Violet Parsons. Miss Dona Thomas served the cake.

Others in the house party were Mmes. Bill White, Don Parker, R. D. Estes, W. P. Leslie, Ita Parrish, M. B. Griffin, B. O. Harrell and W. L. Van Geem all of Eastland and Misses Maifair MacCauley, Sarah McDonald and Mrs. Felix Harris all of Dallas.

Mrs. Lane, mother of the bride, wore a gown of grey crepe and a gardenia corsage.

The groom's mother wore a pearl grey dress lace and crepe combination, and pink gardenia corsage.

When Mr. and Mrs. Pumphrey left for New Mexico and Colorado on their wedding trip, Mrs. Pumphrey was becomingly attired in a navy faille suit, with small white hat and black accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The bride is a graduate of John Tarleton College, Stephenville and of Texas State College for Women at Denton. She was employed in Dallas for several years where she was a member of the Beta Sigma Phi, international sorority and served as president of the Dallas Epsilon Alpha Chapter. She was the home making department head in the Avoca School last year.

Mr. Pumphrey is a graduate of A&M College and a veteran of World War II, and spent two years of service overseas. He is an active worker and now a director of Texas Hereford Association. He is associated in ranching with his father at 10X Ranch Old Glory. The couple plan to make their home in Stamford.

Out of town guests included. Mr. and Mrs. Felix Harris, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Harris, W. L. Carter and Lee Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Harris all of Dallas, Mrs. Sarah McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Astin of Stamford, Mr. and Mrs. Eck Gillespie and Rev. and Mrs. Joel Grimes of Avoca, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Murphree, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Floyd of Midland, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Pumphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Adrain Henderson, Mrs. Margaret B. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Floyd all of Fort Worth Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Yakey of Aqua Dulce, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Pumphrey of Mercury, and Mmes. Stella Henderson and Ella Bunnell of Taylor.

Airport Near Truman Home Causes Trouble

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (UP) —A House Republican drive to block a new Air Force Base near President Truman's Missouri home stalled action today on an urgent $5,768,720,000 military construction bill.

However, supporters of the measure predicted that the GOP move would be beaten. They forecast easy passage when the bill comes to a vote in the House Tuesday.

The bill had been set for passage yesterday, but action was delayed when Rep. H. R. Gross, R., Ia., demanded a roll call vote on his motion to recommit the measure to the Armed Services Committee with instructions to knock out the $19,019,000 project for Grandview, Mo.

Democratic leader John W. McCormack, Mass., pointed out that the House had agreed to take no controversial roll calls yesterday. He moved that the issue be put over until next week.

Gross labeled the Grandview project a "glorified WPA project." He said $22,462,000 is to be spent by the Air Force at Sedalia, Mo., Air Force Base, 50 airline miles away, and that the Grandview project would be a needless duplication.

He pictured the Grandview Airport, which is used by Mr. Truman's plane, the Independence, when the president goes home to nearby Independence, Mo., as not much more than a cow pasture.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D., Ga., of the Armed Services Committee, which drafted the bill, defended the Grandview project as a military necessity. He said the Air Force would station one interceptor wing there and also set up headquarters of the Continental Air Command, now located at Mitchell Field, L.I., N.Y.

Gross was defeated, 56 to 16, on a move to bar the Grandview project by amendment. Later he moved to recommit the bill, forcing a delay in its passage.

Miss Genell Tiffany of Pampa, employee of the Telephone Co. in Pampa, is the week end guest in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sablin.

Cowbirds, cuckoos, and a few other species lay their eggs in other birds' nest and let the foster parent hatch the eggs and rear the young.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Not physical force but spiritual understanding gives man power and strength, points out the Lesson-Sermon titled "Spirit" which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 12. At the outset the Golden Text states, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts" (Zechariah 4:6).

Further elucidating the theme is this Bible verse from Psalms: "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power be lengthened unto God." A more detailed explanation is found in this citation to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Moral and spiritual might belong to Spirit, who holds the 'wind in His fists,' and this teaching accords with Science and harmony. In Science, you can have no power opposed to God, and the physical senses must give up their false testimony."

Farmers should save, for planting purposes, all oat and wheat seed of the recommended varieties for their section of the state. The short crop has materially the supply of planting seed.

Here is the hope of America... young life with all its promise of usefulness and of idealism. Typical of millions of young Americans is this young fisherman. He matches the country with its marvelous resources scarcely discovered. He is healthy, energetic and creative. His tattered hat, rugged body and keen sense of humor declares him capable of his share of tomorrow's responsibility. God planted rich values in the land and in human persons. He will sustain this young fisherman as he makes himself useful to humanity.

This young American has a keen sense of morality, the goodness and the omnipotence of God... he goes to church. His virtues are many and he lives by the Golden Rule. He observes the habits of all of us every day. He is a dreamer. May we help him to dream dreams of worth and usefulness and to plan worthy ends he is to seek. He is your boy and mine. May we as good people assist in planning his program, his life. He is ours to mold and inspire. Let us take him to church regularly and stamp him or bend him for all the tomorrows.

Grid Season Near as College Tub-Thumpers Start Booming

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Sports editors are now hearing about—well, let's take the Alabama junior, Bobby Marlow, "the best running back the south has produced."

The college tub-thumpers are busy again, you see, which means that the autumn bawling business isn't far away.

The colleges haven't been hit nearly as hard as they expected to be when all save the Ivy League and the Southwest Conference waived the freshman rule, however, for a good share of the pouncing line-men and swivel-hipped backs are enrolled in Army and Navy ROTC programs. Unless things become real tough, the gladiators will remain in their classes to do or die for dear old Backwash.

At Army, Red Blaik has replaced the guards that were shoved around by Navy with Capt. Hal Lohlein, former defensive end, and Jack Chamblin, a B-squad man. Otherwise, the Black Knights will be as swift and hard-hitting as ever.

Navy now has the idea, and Bob Zastrow, Capt. Frank Hauff and some more.

Frank Leahy has a typical Notre Dame quarterback in 200-pound Johnny Mazur and 10 frosh and 36 sophs on a squad of 84 itching to strike back.

PRINCETON lost 10 of 11 offensive regulars, six of 11 defenders, but the Tiger retains Kazmaier and has a resourceful coach named Charlie Caldwell.

Pennsylvania graduated 22 lettermen, but had an unbeaten freshman team. Cornell picks up where it left off. Dartmouth is rebuilding. Michigan is due to be dethroned in the Big Ten, with Illinois the last fall, should take a lot of licking.

In the Southern, North Carolina, a bust last time out, and Maryland, twice upset, are loaded to the guard rail, with Duke, Clemson and Wake Forest pressing. It's Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama and not a soft spot in the Southeastern. Miami is a stickout among the independents.

George, a new coach from Southern California, has the talent at Texas A. and M., but Texas and Baylor will be tough. The four California teams—California, Southern California, Stanford and UCLA—and Washington fight it out in a balanced battle in the Pacific Coast Conference.

"LET THEM DRINK CITRUS JUICE," says Raymond Smith, czar of the Rio Grande Valley's dwindling water supply. Luscious Nancy Lou Shindler obliges, and invites her fellow Texans to "drink up." State-wide sales are expected to boom during sultry August.

Strong Controls Needed To Help Curb Inflation

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Another round of wage increases is in store if Congress passes a weak anti-inflation bill. This prospect arises principally from three factors:

1. If Congress does not put effective controls on prices, organized union labor leaders will demand additional wage increases to make up for increases in the cost of living. Many unions—principally in the automotive industry—will get these increases automatically through escalator clauses in their contracts. Others will demand them through new collective bargaining agreements.

2. If there is no effective price control, organized labor leaders will stage another walkout and refuse to cooperate with the government's stabilization program. The group of union leaders who met in Washington in a futile effort to persuade Congress to continue a tough price-control law, made this a definite threat.

3. Texas Rep. Wingate Lucas' proposed amendment to the Defense Mobilization Act, reorganizing the Wage Stabilization Board, would probably break that organization and its already badly bent efforts to hold the line on the wage front. The Lucas amendment would change membership of WSB from equal representation of six public, union labor and management representatives to a predominantly public board with only advisory status.

NOT only would the union representatives walk out from such a body, but management representatives have indicated they'd bow out too. Finding any capable citizen of good reputation to head up a public wage advisory committee would be difficult.

Dr. George W. Taylor, present chairman of WSB, is leaving the organization in September. Getting a successor for him is already a tough problem for stabilization officials.

This combination of circumstances is what makes another round of wage increases on the giddy inflationary spiral seem almost inevitable. Kick-off for this increase might well come with the CIO Steelworkers.

Their current contract expires Dec. 31, 1951. It may be reopened for discussion 60 days before expiration, or about Nov. 1. Rubber, packinghouse and textile workers' unions also have new negotiations coming up. Coal runs to March 19, 1952.

Total labor income, including wages and salaries, is now running at the rate of about 165 billion dollars a year. Another 10 per cent wage increase applied across the board for a full year would add 16 billion dollars to the inflationary pressures.

ANOTHER round of wage increases, if it comes, would be roughly the sixth since the end of the war. There are no sharp cut-off dates on which it can be said one round left off and another began. By major industries, the increases have been roughly as follows:

STEEL: 18½ cents an hour increase in 1946; an average of 15 cents in 1947, an average of 13 cents in 1948. There was no wage increase in 1949, but pensions and insurance benefits were granted in lieu of a fourth round. The fifth round averaged 16 cents, beginning in 1950. AUTO: 18½ cents in 1946, 11½ cents in 1947, from 13 to 14 cents in 1948. The fourth round in the auto industry took the form of the long-term contract with automatic cost of living escalator clause and other benefits which in 1950 amounted to an average of 10 to 11 cents an hour. In 1951 this contract has given wage increases of 8 cents an hour plus 4 cents incentive raise.

which rates solidly as a conservation measure is gaining popularity. "Rodeos" aimed at destroying garfish are being conducted. The result is to bring the gar population into better balance.

With the near-extinction of alligators and other factors which nature provided to hold the gar in his proper population, action to control the spike-nosed destroyers is badly needed.

Such action is needed in Texas' many man-made lakes as sorely as in any section of the country. The warm waters of Texas with their heavy fish stocks have an amazing gar population. Lake Texoma, especially could be used as a "gar rodeo" of long duration.

For the fisherman, the gar should have real sporting appeal. The gar pits up a terrific, tackle-busting fight matching the best offered by much larger salt water game fish.

Jail Inmates Eating Deer

LYNDONVILLE, N.Y., Aug. 11 (UP)—Inmates at the Orleans County jail had deer on their menu today thanks to a jittery 8-point buck and a low flying crop duster.

John Denton, 30, a pilot for the O'Neil Flying Service, couldn't say exactly how low he was flying over tomato fields here yesterday but he struck and killed a 150-pound deer.

The Orleans County Sheriff's office said the deer was basking in the sun when he was startled by the low flying plane and bounded to his feet. The buck died of internal injuries probably inflicted by the plane's undercarriage. Denton said the plane wasn't damaged but the collision caused the wheels to strike the ground before it regained altitude.

Forest and mountain areas yield more than 90 per cent of California's water supply.

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

This year's duck season could be a whopper, a summary of early reports indicates, and the wise hunter will get ready by taking care of a couple of chores now.

Ducks unlimited offers a detailed report in which qualified observers unanimously agree that more ducks are breeding in nearly all districts than in several recent years.

More birds returned to the Canadian breeding grounds and there is little danger of drought upsetting the prospects.

Despite usual natural setbacks, ducks have made good and there should be more than the ordinary number moving south this fall.

The two preparatory steps every hunter should make soon concern looking after the old blunderbuss, and obtaining the new duck stamp.

Most able gunsmiths are overrun with work and if your shotgun needs attention, it's not too soon to put it into the shop.

As for stamps—every year there is a last-minute rush which inconveniences the hunter, and inevitably some of the late comers are left out because there simply are no more stamps available.

The post office has the new stamp for sale now, and they may be available at your sporting goods store. You can duck a headache, and guarantee your shooting privileges, by making an early buy.

Fishing, like almost every other outdoor sport, has taken a beating from the heat wave. Few anglers have braced the day time heat, but night fishing has shown an increase.

The catches reported have been few and scattered, and many of these show bass taken from depths of forty or fifty feet. Minnows seem to have been the best hot-weather bait. But few favorable fishing reports with any bait may be expected until we have a change in weather.

Army Drafts
Cannonball

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill., Aug. 11 (UP)—A new-type projectile has arrived here. The Army issued it a uniform.

The new "weapon" is Donald F. Nothdorft, 22, a circus performer who has been shot from a cannon

2,800 times in his powderburned career.

Nothdorft was sworn into the service as an inductee.

The human cannonball said he had taken a good deal of ribbing since his arrival yesterday.

"They keep pulling old ones like 'going off half-cocked' and me being 'cannon fodder,'" he said.

"I don't think I want to be with the artillery," he said.
