In what might be called a "storybook" finish, the toad by that name, entered by Frank Day and Bob Steele, won Eastland's third and largest annual Old Rip Horned Derby, Saturday night over a field of 454 toads, to take first place money of $300.

The total of 454 entries eclipsed by 19 last year's entry mark of 435.

"Phillebaum," entered by Howell and Dalton of Stephenville ran second behind "Storybook" to take the $200 second money and "Carpoco" II, entered by Graham Ford Salvage, won their money of $100.

1951 Derby Is Hailed As Best Of Three Held

Eastland's 1951 Old Rip Horned Derby was being hailed Monday as the best yet in all respects.

The program was a success from the starting concert of the First Armored Division Band Friday night. A colorful coronation program Friday saw two derby queens, Mrs. Jean Lee, Cisco, and Miss Emma Lee Wilson, Flatwoods crowned.

A shower Saturday afternoon failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the celebration and the largest entry list ever, 454, was turned in for the running of the Derby Saturday night.

Following the running of the Derby, a square dance was held in the street with Bewley's Chuck Wagon Gang furnishing the music. Concessions reported a heavy business both Friday and Saturday nights.

Stiffer Law For Narcotics Called For

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (UP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., has called for "immediate" Senate approval of a bill requiring stiffer penalties for narcotics violations.

Dirksen, speaking on the Texas Quality Radio network last night, said that courts are giving narcotics peddlers lighter sentences now than they did 15 years ago before narcotics traffic became "a highly organized, syndicated racket."

Mother-Nurse Are Seriously Burned Hunting Twins

HOUSTON, Aug. 13 (UP)—A 31-year-old mother and her children's nurse were seriously burned early today trying to rescue 10-year-old twin girls they believed were trapped in a back room of their flaming home.

The children, Mary Lou and Marjorie Sue Graham, had unknowingly hopped out a window to safety.

Mrs. Evelyn Graham and the twin's nurse, Mrs. Dorothy Jordan, 42, who lives at the Graham home, refused to leave the flaming structure until they were forcibly rescued by a roofer.

Houston Doctor Zionist Delegate

HOUSTON, Aug. 13 (UP)—Dr. Marcus Levinson, Houston dentist, is among 475 delegates to the World Zionist Congress, beginning tomorrow at Jerusalem.

TIME FOR A CHANGE?—Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate to the cease-fire talks in Kaesong, checks his wrist watch before entering another of the stalemated negotiating sessions. Looking on is North Korean Gen. Lee Sung Cho. (NEA Telephoto).

KOREAN RED DELEGATES ARE ONLY FRONTS FOR REAL BOSS

One of the big mysteries of the Korean cease-fire conference is the identity of the real boss of the Communist delegation.

Who is the man who makes the day-to-day decisions on which the Reds stand firm and when they shall yield? Who will decide when to give the final word that may mean peace or war?

United Nations negotiators don't know. But they are convinced that he is not Gen. Nam Il, the senior Communist delegate and the only one who addresses the UN team during the conference sessions.

"Nam Il is very definitely coming into focus as a spokesman rather than a policy maker," an official UN spokesman in Korea said the other day.

Walters AFB "Permanent"

DALLAS, Aug. 13 (UP)—Walters Air Force Base at Mineral Wells is now officially a "permanent" installation.

Col. Edgar E. Glenn, Walters commander, set in an interview over radio station WFAA yesterday that the "temporary" label had been removed. He said the permanent designation applies to the base only and not necessarily the headquarters of Air Force Engineers, currently established there.

Rodeo Producers Invite Mayor

Mayor Jack Muirhead of Eastland has been invited by Everett Colborn and Gene Autry, producers and owners of the Dublin Rodeo, to attend the Pre-Madison Square Garden Rodeo at Dublin as their guests.

This year the rodeo will be on Aug. 29 - 30 - 31 and September 1. Top cowboy performers from all over the United States will attend the Dublin Rodeo and then board a special train for New York for the Madison Square Garden Rodeo, produced by Colborn.

Bricklayers Get Raise

HOUSTON, Aug. 13 (UP)—Houston bricklayers, on strike in a wage dispute for three weeks, went back to work today after accepting a government-approved raise formula that boosted their hourly pay to $3.025 per hour.

In other words, the North Korean General is just a front man who parrots what is told him, who reads what is written for him, who follows the time schedule laid down for him.

Nam Il has an impressive title and he cuts quite a figure at the Kaesong meetings. He is listed as Chief of Staff of the North Korean Supreme Headquarters and is about 38 years old.

His immaculate-pressed uniform and shiny black boots contrast sharply with the comparatively dowdy outfits of the Chinese members of the delegation.

Yet the Allies are convinced that it is the Chinese who are calling the tune for the Reds at Kaesong. The Chinese have too much at stake for it to be otherwise. Without Chinese help, the North Korean army long ago would have been driven by the United Nations into or across the Yalu River, the Korean-Manchurian frontier.

However, the Chinese still pretend that their forces in Korea are only "volunteers." In an attempt to preserve that fiction, they apparently thought it best that a North Korean head the Communist delegation.

Whether the Chinese giving the orders is one of the two Chinese delegates to the talks or some shadowy figure who remains behind the scenes is not known.

The two Chinese delegates are Maj. Gen. Teng Hua, a former corps commander regarded as a rising politico-military figure, and Gen. Hsieh Fang, otherwise unknown.

Fang's position is particularly intriguing. Nam Il has been seen on numerous occasions to glance at him as if for a nod of approval. Fang sends him frequent notes, and even gives the final word before Nam Il agrees to recesses for lunch.

Nam Il moreover seldom speaks extemporaneously. Or if he does, he merely repeats what he has said before—the strict line laid down for him in advance. All his long speeches are prepared for him in advance.

He often has been seen to glance at his watch before reading a statement, as though to check his time schedule. He undoubtedly was following instructions when he sat in complete silence for two hours and 11 minutes last Friday.

Cease-Fire Talks Still Deadlocked

Two Car Crash Kills 2, And Injures Four

FORT WORTH, Aug. 13 (UP)—A two-car crash on the Jacksboro highway four miles northwest of the Lake Worth bridge killed two persons and injured four others to hike the Tarrant county traffic toll to 40 today.

The accident occurred early yesterday, killing Mrs. Peggy Lou Sanders, 17, of Fort Worth, and Doris Mae Timmerman, 23, New Braunfels.

Paul Moody Carroll, 25, Fort Worth, was driver of the car in which Mrs. Sanders was a passenger. He suffered possible internal injuries.

Miss Mary Louise Schmidt, 18, San Antonio, also was hospitalized with a broken right hip. Jim Ed Marr, 25, and Walter E. Steimel, 23, both of Jacksboro, were treated for minor injuries.

Miss Timmerman was a secretary at San Antonio Television Station KEYL. She and Steimel were engaged to be married.

Professor Gets Last Laugh On Soviet Blasts

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (UP)—A Columbia University philologist had the last smykh or radere today on the Iron Curtain. (The strange words mean "laugh" in Russian and Romanian.)

A Russian philological journal loosed a hot attack on Dr. Mario A. Pei, noted writer on language and associate professor of romance philology. They tied him up with Winston Churchill as a "bourgeois scientist" and "Hitlerite" who wants all the world enslaved to speak English.

The attack came to Dr. Pei's attention in a Romanian publication, "Cum Verbum," which noted it was "translated from the Russian."

"In his opinion, the Indo-European languages, and the people who speak these languages are the best in the world, and English is a fair representative of them all," said the article indignantly. "Here we have an openly racialistic point of view which unites the Anglo-American racialists with their German confederates."

Indo-European languages, he reminded Russians, are spoken by most of the world's peoples—including Russians, Romanians and nearly every other nationality behind the Iron Curtain.

As for an international language, Dr. Pei is in favor of one—Esperanto.

He wrapped up that opinion and the list of white, black, red and brown peoples who speak Indo-European tongues and sent it off to the Romanian journal with a request for publication and a foot-note:

"In all my works I have consistently advocated world peace, true democracy, racial equality, and the brotherhood of man. I see no reason to change this attitude merely because Soviet linguists now claim to have a monopoly on it."

Collision Kills 2, Injures 4, Near Sanger

SANGER, Aug. 13 (UP)—A head-on collision of two automobiles killed two persons and injured four others at Clear Creek Bridge near here yesterday.

The dead were M-Sgt. Travis J. King, 35, of Fort Sill, Okla., and his wife, 27.

Injured were King's mother, Mrs. M. C. Coffman of Madill, Okla., his sister, Mrs. Cecil G. Bosley of Gainesville, Tex., and her four-year-old son, Archie.

Driver of the second car, Pfc. Gussie Stein, Jr., 25, of Ft. Riley, Kansas, was injured only slightly.

Plane And Crew Of 12 Reported Lost In Alaska

KODIAK, Alaska, Aug. 13 (UP)—A Navy Frigate with 12 men aboard was reported missing today on a flight from Kodiak to Adak Island, bringing to four the number of planes lost in the northwest in the past three weeks.

Lt. Frank Brink, public information officer at the Naval operating base here, said the four-engine plane was last heard from yesterday at 9:34 a.m. Alaska time (3:34 p.m. EDT).

The plane reported its position at that time as 285 miles due west of Kodiak and said it had enough fuel to last until 4 a.m. (EDT) today.

Search planes covered the over-water flight route of the missing plane yesterday, but they were hampered by poor weather. Planes of the 10th Air Rescue Squadron at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, stood by to take off as soon as possible.

The plane was a PB4Y-2. It carried nine enlisted men and three officers, Brink said. Their names were withheld.

Since July 21, three other planes have vanished in the northwest and today's report brought to 60 the number of persons aboard the four missing craft.

A Korean-Airlift Canadian Pacific Airliner disappeared July 21 with 38 persons aboard.

Ridgway Blasts Reds Insincerity

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (UP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today that the Communists so far have "produced no concrete evidence of honest, peaceful intentions."

Ridgway, commander of the United Nations forces in Korea, said he "will now judge communist intentions not by words, but by performance."

He made the statement in a copyrighted radio-telegraph interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report.

"The ceaseless flow of falsehoods, perversion and slanted statements which continue to emanate from Communist-controlled public information media, together with the long record of Communist duplicity, deceit and faithlessness in contractual obligations," Ridgway said, "have dissolved all doubts in the minds of members of this command as to Communist objectives."

Ridgway said he faced a "unique" problem in asking troops to fight during cease-fire talks, but "our forces know why they fight and their spirits were never high."

He said the UN has "an unbeatable battle team" in Korea.

COMMUNISTS INTENSIFY PROBE ATTACKS ON UN DEFENSE LINES

8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS Korea, Aug. 13 (UP)—Communist probing attacks spread like brush fires through the Korean hills today. Reports from the front indicated Red losses were heavy.

At least 12 enemy attacks, in strength from 50 to 500 men, were reported.

Eleven of the attacks were repulsed by nightfall without gain to the Communists.

In the sharpest fight, two Red companies slammed into Allied hill positions north of Inje on the eastern front. The battle was reported still in progress Monday night. There was no indication whether the Reds had made gains.

In the same sector, the Allied forces beat off an attack by a full battalion of Communists.

"At least" seven attacks by the Communists were repulsed west and northwest of Kumhwa in the old "Iron Triangle" area of the central front, reports said.

UN forces skirmished with Red troops south of the cease-fire conference city of Kaesong Monday.

NORTH KOREAN RADIO SAID NO PROGRESS IS EXPECTED

By Earnest Hobericht
United Press Staff Correspondent
UN ADVANCE BASE BELOW KAESONG, Korea, Aug. 13 (UP)—Cease-fire negotiations headed for another deadlock tonight when the North Korean radio said no progress could be expected unless the United Nations delegates changed their attitude.

Allied and Communist negotiators met for 78 minutes at Kaesong. A UN communique called the meeting "unproductive." The Reds clung to their insistence on a cease-fire line based on the 38th Parallel between South and North Korea.

The North Korean Pyongyang Radio said tonight that Gen. Nam Il, the tough REC Chief Negotiator, told the Allied negotiators that unless they changed their own stand—for a cease-fire line based on the present battle front—no progress could be expected.

Nam Il told Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, Chief UN Negotiator, that the conference would lose both its significance and its purpose unless they changed their position, Pyongyang said in a broadcast.

Nam bitterly criticized the Allied position.

Since July 21, three other planes have vanished in the northwest and today's report brought to 60 the number of persons aboard the four missing craft.

A Korean-Airlift Canadian Pacific Airliner disappeared July 21 with 38 persons aboard.

Swimming Pool To Close Due To Water Low

Eastland's Crest View Swimming pool will be closed on and after August 21 because of the shortage of water in the Eastland Lake, I. C. Hawk, city manager, announced Monday.

Heck said that the water level in the lake is 67 inches below the spillway.

"The City Commission regrets the necessity of closing the pool," Heck added, "but it is necessary for us to protect our lake water for drinking and domestic purposes. If we do not get some good rains soon, it will be necessary to set up further restrictions on the use of water."

Recently the commission reduced the minimum water rate in order to conserve water.

The swimming pool will be open through Sunday, August 19.

Mineral Wells Bond Balloting Due Today

MINERAL WELLS, Aug. 13 (UP)—Mineral Wells voted today on a proposal to issue $400,000 in bonds, of which $300,000 would be spent for water and sewer improvements and $100,000 for a municipal swimming pool.

have clashed in minor but fierce fights below the five-mile neutrality zone around Kaesong.

Near the east coast, Allied units stormed a hill west southwest of Kaesong, 27 miles north of the 38th Parallel. Two Communist companies drove the Allies from the height Sunday, but counter-attacking Allied troops had pushed back within 300 yards of the crest by nightfall.

Elsewhere along the front, the Allies beat off repeated Communist imbedded in the hills south and southwest of Pyongyang on the central front. All the charges broke against the barbed wire, minefields and interlocking gun positions forming the UN line.

There was no staying power in the Chinese and North Korean attacks. It seemed evident that the Communists were feeling the effects of the day and night air attacks on their communications and supply lines.

Improving weather enabled the Far Eastern Air Forces to step up their attacks. B-29 Superfortresses hit the railway centers of Hamhung and Sariwon.

At Sunday's cease-fire meeting the Communists had seemed to give a hint they were ready to compromise.

But the "unproductive" meeting Monday, and the Pyongyang broadcast reporting Nam Il's statement, indicated another deadlock. Allied command leaders believed the setback, like past ones, would be overcome, and they still expected the conference to end eventually in a cease-fire agreement. There was no indication at Monday's meeting that agreement was near.

The UN briefing spokesman was not optimistic in his remarks to newsmen after the meeting. But neither did he appear pessimistic. The tension of a few days ago was absent.

At Pusan, South Korean Foreign Minister Yung Tai Pyun predicted a cease-fire "will be patched up somehow, (but) with no aggressor punished and with Korea still divided."

A 24th conference session was called for 11 a. m. tomorrow (9 p. m. today EDT).

The first suggestion of a Communist willingness to compromise over the question of an armistice buffer zone came during Sunday's session.

The Communist delegation presented a map then showing the relationship between UN and Communist proposals to the present battle line and a UN communique said:

"Although no tangible progress was made... today's (Sunday's) meeting may have uncovered a mutually acceptable area in which further exploratory discussion might be held."

However, the Communists failed to follow through at Monday's 78-minute meeting.

Nam Il attacked the Allied position as "arrogant, absurd and self-contradictory." He said the Communist demand for a cease-fire along the 38th Parallel was "just and reasonable."

Sister Kenney Incurably Ill

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 13 (UP)—Sister Elizabeth Kenney, who has devoted her life to fighting infantile paralysis, said today that she is incurably ill and "has little time left in this world."

She did not specify the nature of her illness.

Sister Kenney said she planned to leave Thursday for an International Polio Conference at Copenhagen. She said she intends to visit the United States on her way to the conference and on her way back to her native Australia.

Eleventh Victim Dies Of Injuries

NEW ROADS, La., Aug. 13 (UP)—An inquest will be held today in the death of railroad engineer L. L. Rainey, 11th victim of Friday's disastrous streamliner-train crash near here.

Rainey's body was recovered yesterday when workmen excavated a place they had been working over for two days. Coroner J. C. Roberts said the body of the "Southern Belle" engineer was almost consumed by the heat of burning diesel fuel which sprayed over the wreck.

He was identified by personal effects found nearby.

Coast Guard Rescues Stuck Passengers

BOSTON, Aug. 13 (UP)—A sea-going shuttle service rescued 827 persons when the excursion steamer Nantasket ran aground on Peddock's Island in Boston Harbor during thick fog.

Coast Guardsmen, police and civilian sailors crowded around the 150-foot steamer and made more than 100 trips to shore with the passengers who were stranded on the vessel yesterday.

The steamer, carrying a Sunday crowd for an outing at Nantasket Beach, grounded on its second attempt to make the trip through Boston Harbor. The ship had been sent back because of the fog, but word was received later that the harbor had cleared.

The fog closed in again however, and the Nantasket grounded in mud less than 100 yards from the spot where she became mired two years ago with 693 passengers on board.

Saturday's high was a warm 98, bringing the reading below 100 for the first time in several days. Sunday's high was 101, still cooler than the average day during the past week.

Total rainfall measurement Saturday was one-tenth of an inch.

Lattimore Will Have Chance To Refute McCarthy Charges

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A show-down on the alleged Communist connections of Prof. Owen Lattimore is now in the making. Prof. Lattimore will get a chance to testify in his own defense in open hearings before Nevada Senator Pat McCarran's Judiciary subcommittee. He has already testified in closed session.

In March, 1950, Wisconsin Senator Joseph R. McCarthy called Lattimore "the top Soviet espionage agent in America." At that time Prof. Lattimore was in Afghanistan for the United Nations. He cabled back his denials of the charge. His Washington attorneys threatened to sue McCarthy for libel.

When Lattimore returned in April, he testified before the Tydings Foreign Relations subcommittee that McCarthy was "a base and contemptible liar" and dared McCarthy to testify off the Senate floor that he was a Communist or a Soviet spy.

Senator McCarthy is a daily attendant at the new hearings, however, so he and Prof. Lattimore may again come face to face for further fireworks. Senator McCarthy is not a member of the McCarran committee, but a most interested observer. Some of the testimony that McCarthy wanted brought out before last year's Tydings committee investigation is now being presented before the McCarran group.

REAL purpose of the McCarran subcommittee is to investigate the Institute of Pacific Relations, following seizure of the IPR files. The business at hand is an attempt to show that the Institute of Pacific Relations was in a position to exercise an undue amount of influence in shaping U. S. State Department policy on the Far East. That IPR actually exercised this influence has yet to be proved.

But the direction which the hearing has taken is towards building up a case that IPR was not just a Communist front organization, but a full-fledged Communist apparatus, designed for the specific job of directing American foreign policy along desired Russian lines. While a number of the backers of IPR were admittedly perfectly loyal American citizens, it is inferred that they were the innocent dupes of Communist conspirators.

This is where Owen Lattimore comes into the case. Toward the end of 1933, Lattimore became editor of IPR's magazine, "Pacific Affairs," and held that job till 1941.

In 1941-42 he was President Roosevelt's adviser to Chiang Kai-shek. For two years he was director of overseas operations for Office of War Information. He returned to China with Henry Wallace in 1944, and after the war was on the U. S. Reparations Mission to Manchuria.

HE addressed State Department employees once in 1946 and hasn't been on the State Department payroll since. He has been director of the Walter Hines Page school of international relations at Johns Hopkins University since 1938 and this is his present job. Incidentally, he has written a dozen books on the Far East.

The still unanswered question is how this made him "the architect of American foreign policy," as Senator McCarthy charged. Evidence before the McCarran committee has thus far been pretty thin.

Alexander Barmine—ex-Russian general now head of the U. S. State Department's Russian desk for Voice of America—says another Russian general, Walter Krivitsky (later found dead in a Washington hotel) told him in Paris in 1933 that Lattimore was "one of our men." But Barmine did not know Lattimore personally.

Mrs. Hede Massing, former wife of Gerhard Eisler, recruited State Department employee Lawrence Duggan (now dead) and Noel Field (now missing, presumably behind the Iron Curtain) into her Communist apparatus. She says she met Lattimore only once.

Final judgment on all such matters, however, has to be held up till Prof. Lattimore himself has testified, and all the evidence has been presented to the committee.

Mother-Daughter Striptease Act Broken Up

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 13 (UP)—The 15-year-old half of a mother-daughter striptease act went back to live with grandmother today to await disposition on her case in juvenile court.

Authorities released the girl yesterday to the custody of Mrs. Carlotta Tassin after she spent the week end inside the walls of the Convent of the Good Shepherd.

Mrs. Tassin was indignant when officers broke in on the program at the Sugar Bowl Night Club Friday and hauled off her daughter, Dorothy Faye Frampton, 36, and granddaughter.

"She wasn't doing a strip-tease," the grandmother protested. "She was doing a semi-strip. She wears a Bikini bathing suit and she dances. She doesn't walk." Juvenile officer Fred Nicolay disagreed. He said the girl, who is married but not living with her husband, "was taking off all her clothes except a G-string and a small gauze thing around her breasts."

Nicolay booked the mother, a stripper in the same club, and the

THE STORY: To save Rose from the electric chair, she, Williams, her lawyer and my (Tom Marshall's) boss, did some sleight of hand, which he learned from Sonya Saracina, the lady magician. Exposure of this alleged tampering with the evidence brings charges that may doom Star. It becomes necessary to prove Rose innocent and establish that Star's trick was a last resort to save Rose. Then Rose is murdered. In investigating the crime, I am forced to shoot two men in self-defense. Both are members of a gang headed by Al Nanabarro. Sonya does her magic act. I visit the club and Sonya fires a shot at me—the shot was supposed to be a blank, but it wasn't and it missed. Then when I return to my apartment later on I find Sonya there.

XXIII
I TOOK a quick look through my apartment. Thanks to its smallness I could keep an eye on Sonya even when I peeked into the bath beyond my bedroom. When I came back into my living room she grinned.

"Why don't you look in the lining of my handbag. Maybe you'll find Nanabarro. I'm a magician, you know."

I put away the $80. It made me feel silly holding a gun on an unarmed woman even if she was a magician.

"You're going to tell me what Nanabarro's angle in the Baidout case is, or I'm going to slap that pretty face of yours clear around sideways. Now, start talking."

She shook her head ever so slightly. Her eyes were intent upon me. There was no defiance, merely resignation. I hit her a backhand blow across her mouth.

"Oh!" she said. I went over to my portable bar and kept trying to remember the whine of the bullet over my head. I poured two stiff drinks, not bothering about a chaser.

Suddenly I realized that I no longer felt the weight of her little pearl-handled automatic in my pocket. Sonya held it pointed in my direction.

"I won't let you hit me any more."

"When did you lift that gun?"

"When you struck me. I told you I was a magician."

She smiled and laid the gun on the stand beside the chair.

"How about that drink? I need it."

My mouth hung open. I walked to her and gave her the drink. She sipped it and smiled.

"I feel terrible. I never hit a woman before," I said.

"I'm sure you should have."

It burned me up. "All right, I'm a heel. But you're a heel, too. A beautiful heel. You sold out the best guy in the world. For a rat, Nanabarro."

"I believe you're jealous over Star. You needn't be. Appearances are deceiving. We spent a night together, but only working out the trick. So you really have no cause to be jealous."

It really burned me to a crisp.

"You can have him, you double-crossing tramp! I don't need a pal that can let himself be thrown by a dame like you!"

Her eyes blazed. "I almost wish," she said evenly, "that I hadn't tried to miss you!" I laughed. Then my speaking tube whistled. I had company downstairs.

It was Smiley Wetlauffer, and with him was Miss Clara Mayhew. I pressed the button to unlock the outside door and turned to Sonya.

"His old man runs the town's de luxe embalming parlor. The girl is Clara Mayhew. She's a receptionist at the Prater company that makes burial vaults."

"Whew! I hope you can break out a bottle of bonded embalming fluid so they'll feel at home! What are you going to tell them about me?"

"Nothing, except that you're Madam Sonya Saracina, the world's premiere lady magician, direct from La Jolla Club."

"Isn't this a rather odd hour for friends to be calling?"

I checked my watch. It was nearly three. I hoped the superintendent wouldn't hear Smiley and his companion come in. I could hear them before they made the second floor. I opened my door and motioned for quiet.

"Hiya, Jim, old pal! I told Clara you'd be up and ready to buy us a drink! Brother, do we need one?"

It was a rhetorical question, of course.

"You know, Clara," said Smiley, "we busted in on something!"

He was staring at Sonya. I got the introductions over and poured a round of drinks, breaking out a soda bottle for the newcomers.

"So you work at La Jolla Club!" said Smiley interestedly. "I know the boss. Al Nanabarro. He gave us some business a while back. An interesting case. His girl friend busted through a bridge and was drowned."

"That's very interesting," I told Smiley. "So you got the Frankie Martin case for burial?"

"S a fact. Only that wasn't her real name, the one on the death certificate. I forgot the name—some funny name. Foreign. Ah, she was a lovely girl. Even laid out on the table she was lovely!"

"Stop it!" said Sonya. "How can you talk like that?"

Smiley eyed her with some astonishment. "Why shouldn't I talk like that? I tell you this girl was lovely. Looked just like she was sleeping. Beautiful blonde hair. Not a mark on her."

SONYA got up suddenly and made for my bedroom. She didn't stop until she reached the bath, and the door slammed behind her.

Smiley looked blank. "Did I say something wrong?"

Smiley giggled. "I used to be that way myself before I went out with so many undertakers. You get used to it, hearing them talk that way all the time." She got up to join Sonya.

Shaw's Condition Deemed Critical

AKRON, O., Aug. 13 (UP)—Wilbur Shaw, three time winner of the Indianapolis Memorial Day Speedway Classic, was in "serious" condition today with a heart ailment.

Shaw, 48, collapsed yesterday while preparing to serve as "official starter" for the 14th annual All-American Soap Box Derby, won by 15-year-old Darwin Cooper of Danville, Pa.

Cooper won a $5,000 scholarship by steering his sleek, homemade, low-slung black racer down a 975.4-foot "race track" to finish half a length ahead of Ray Marconi, 15, of Hobart, Ind.

About 80,000 spectators saw Cooper drive his motorless racer across the finish line at the bottom of the steep incline in 29.17 seconds. The record for the course is 27.12 seconds.

YANKEES SUFFER "BAD LUCK", START LOSING NEEDED GAMES

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (UP)—Could the Yankees, victims at last of some miserable bad luck, fold up as the White Sox did before them because of losing a game they almost certainly had won?

That was what was worrying Casey Stengel, the boss man today, even more than the fact that the sudden combination of circumstances put the roaring Cleveland Indians a game-and-a-half in front when they were in a first place deadlock with the Yankees before yesterday.

The Yankees looked like anything but champions in the 9 to 5 and 7 to 4 defeats they suffered against seventh place Philadelphia, even though they put over five runs — enough to win — which were wiped off the books in the second game because of the Pennsylvania state curfew law.

Cleveland, meanwhile, looked as if manager Al Lopez might be about ready to announce his world series pitching plans, as it swept to its 10th straight victory, 7 to 1, over those deflated White Sox.

Mike (Big Bear) Garcia won his 16th game, a tight four-hitter. That the Yankees merely were getting a kick from the same American League rule that forbade the White Sox a victory at New York on July 27 was of small consolation to them. In that game, rain wiped out the final inning before the Yankees could bat and the three runs which would have given Chicago the victory went for naught. It was significant that the White Sox, then only 3 1-2 games out of the lead, collapsed and now are almost hopelessly 10 games behind.

Garcia was nobly supported by Larry Doby, Ray Boone, and Bob Avila who belted home runs as the Indians made it 37 victories in the last 45 games. Garcia now has won 10 out of his last 11 games.

SABOTAGE OF ALLIED BASES ADVOCATED AT YOUTH RALLY

BERLIN, Aug. 13 (UP)—Allied military authorities were expected to order tough anti-sabotage measures throughout Western Germany today following the most open threat the German Communists have made since the start of the "cold war."

West Berlin police were alerted for possible violence following last night's speech by deputy-president Walter Ulbricht, Moscow's mouthpiece in East Germany, who called for sabotage to prevent the rearming of Western Germany.

U. S. military authorities were expected to tighten security measures at all U. S. bases and installations after Ulbricht whipped the passion of thousands of young Communist delegates at an East German "peace" rally.

In Bonn a spokesman said the West German government is studying the advisability of banning the Communist party in the western zones.

Chunky, Lenin-bearded, Ulbricht speaking in the huge Marx-Engels Square—formerly the Lustgarten where Adolf Hitler addressed his hordes said:

"The entire population of Western Germany, especially the youth, must fight the transformation of Western Germany into a war base of the United States.

"You must make ineffective military preparations on important strategic points in Western Germany such as bridges, buildings and so forth," the deputy-president told many of the youths who had just staged an eight hour "peace" parade through East Berlin.

Communist officials claimed 1,000,000 youths paraded, but U. S. military observers said the figure was nearer 350,000.

The 15-day world youth festival has six more days to go and in West Berlin technicians prepared tonight for a big color television display to lure more of the Communist youth to the West to see the contrast of life.

More than 50 percent of the 500,000 delegates from what Communist claim to be 101 foreign nations have defied the Red ban to visit the West.

Blue Sox Add Another Game To Lead

The Abilene Blue Sox inched another game out in front of the West Texas-New Mexico League pack today.

The league-leaders gave Jim Melton a five-run cushion on which to relax in the first inning, then went on to beat the Amarillo Gold Sox 8-6 despite the fact Melton was mauled for 13 hits.

The victory, coupled with Lubbock's 6-2 drubbing by cellar-dwelling Clovis, widened the Sox' lead over third-place Albuquerque 11-5 behind Ted Wybernac's eight hit pitching and aided by the Dukes' five errors, while Pampa battered Borger 9-2 in other league contests.

Tonight Albuquerque moves into Abilene, Clovis to Pampa, Borger to Lubbock and Amarillo to Lamesa.

Misses Ann and Kay Speer of Port Neches are the guests here of their aunt, Mrs. G. A. Plummer and their paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alice Speer.

Formal Double Ring Ceremony Unites Shirley Frazer And Ralph D. Thompson

Miss Shirley Jeanine Frazer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Frazer, 811 West Valley Street, became the bride of Ralph Dale Thompson in a formal candle-light ceremony at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, August 11, 1951, in the First Methodist Church here.

Mr. Thompson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Thompson, 2738 Avenue I, Ft. Worth.

The Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor, officiated before an altar banked with greenery and decorated with tall white baskets of Gladiolus. Tall branched candelabra held the cathedral tapers.

Mrs. J. P. Kilgore, organist, presented the pre-nuptial music, the traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Miss Gladiene Womack, soloist, who sang, "Thine Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a bridal gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with the fitted bodice extending into a scalloped peplum, which formed a point in the back. It was worn over a net gimp, made with long sleeves that formed petal points over the hands and was finished at the neckline with a tiny Peter Pan collar. The full gathered skirt was of the net and extended in the back into a chapel-length train.

Her veil of French illusion was applied in white and was attached to a cap of Chantilly lace, decorated with seed pearls, caught together with orange blossoms. Her round bouquet was of Stephanotis centered with a white orchid, hand made lace leaves and Stephanotis shower.

Mrs. Lonnie Park of Houston was matron of honor, Mrs. Jack Messer of Ft. Worth, Miss Ellen Flower of Canadian, Miss La-

Verne Cornelius were the bride's maids. Miss Ann Simmons of Midland was junior bride's maid and Alice Frazer, flower girl, dressed in white organdy, with a turquoise taffeta sash, scattered rose petals in the path of her sister, from a dainty white basket tied with turquoise ribbon.

Jack Messer of Fort Worth was best man and Bill Drake, Bryan Merrell, and Joe Bill Roberts of Fort Worth were ushers and groomsmen.

Miss Linda Hassell of San Antonio and Mrs. Bill Eddleman of Arlington lighted the candles, preceding the ceremony.

The Matron of Honor wore a turquoise net dress, ballerina length, with matching hat and shoes. Her bouquet was of rose pink asters tied with light pink satin streamers.

The bride's maids were dressed identical to the Matron of Honor, with the exception of the junior maid, whose white organdy dress was worn over, turquoise taffeta, with matching shoes and hat. Their bouquets were of baby pink asters tied with bows and streamers of deep pink.

Mrs. Frazer wore an Emma Domb model, rose lace tiered dress and Mrs. Thompson, mother of the groom, chose a banana shade tissue taffeta, a ceil Chapman model.

A reception followed the wedding and was held at the Woman's Club, where the parents of the newly married couple joined the wedding party in receiving the guests. Mrs. W. L. Simmons of Midland, aunt of the bride, presided at the register.

The bride's table, laid with a Maderia cut work linen, lace trimmed, cloth was centered with the turquoise and white wedding cake, with an arrangement of white Gladiolus forming a background. Mrs. Leon Sandifer of Franklin, aunt of the bride, served the cake, assisted by Mrs. Roy A. Guess of Beaumont. Mrs. Thomas T. Dowell of Houston ladeled the punch.

Mrs. H. L. Hassell and Mrs. Harold Durham were at the exit door for the farewells. Others in the house party were Mmes. E. E. Layton, H. H. Hardeman, Ross Rucker, Marvin Hood, B. W. Edleman, and Misses Pat Rushing, Betty Pickens and Linda Hassell.

When Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on their wedding trip, which will include visits to Lake Charles and New Orleans, La., Mrs. Thompson was wearing a cocoa brown Shantung suit, brown velvet shoes and bag. Her smart velvet hat combined two shades of brown, and was matched with the coffee colored and brown velvet gloves. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Thompson is a graduate of Eastland High School and is a senior student at North Texas State College in Denton, where she is a member of the Kappa, Kappa Sorority.

Mr. Thompson is a graduate of Polytechnic High School in Fort Worth, attended S.M.U. at Dallas and North Texas State College at Denton, where he is a member of the Trojan fraternity.

The couple plan to make their home in Fort Worth.

Out of town guests included: Mrs. Dora Duncan, grandmother of the bride from Houston, Mrs. Thomas T. Dowell, Mrs. J. T. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Park, Mrs. D. G. Duncan, Mrs. Billy M. Duncan all of Houston, Mrs. Leon Sandifer and Sara, Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Simmons of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Landers, Mrs. Margaret Evans, Mrs. Tommy Verner, Miss Greta Brock, of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Guess, Beaumont, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Etheridge, Ennis, Miss Ann Halbert, Dallas, Mrs. Jerald C.
