A. Z. Myrick should be about the busiest man in Eastland county, if jobs, titles etc., are to be considered. Even his initials cover the alphabet — everything from A to Z.

Among other duties Mr. Myrick serves with the FHA (Farm, Home Administration), the PMA commission, is president of Eastland Farm Bureau Association, president of the county extension, director of the county Livestock Association; leader of the Conservation Survey; director of Central Producers Association. After he handles all this routine stuff he is at liberty to spend what ever time is left in earning a living for himself.

If the Mavericks would play ball as well as the Pep Squad yells, they would have Notre Dame players trembling in their boots. We attended the pep rally at the high school Friday and we heard more noise than we have heard in a long time. Not only can those red-shirted leaders yell and jump—they can lead others into the pandemonium display. They are really good and as pretty as peaches. Fact is we saw a lot of girls out there, and so far as we are concerned they are all pretty.

Homer Hutto, an old friend of many years standing, paid us a visit Saturday. When Homer and yours truly worked together he was just an ordinary newspaperman, but he now boasts the title of professor of Journalism at HSU. Just goes to show what a good boy can do. He is a professor while we are still grinding out "bull" for a paper, and in all probability will continue to do so until the final horn is blown. After that we don't know just what we will do as we understand there are no newspapers in heaven.

Since attending the livestock auction sale last week we have had a great desire to become a cattle raiser. Prior to this time we thought cattle raisers had to own a cow or so, and to become a member of the Cattle Raisers' Association a fellow should probably own two or three. As we don't figure even own a calf we never figured we would be identified with splendid association. However, we learned a few nights ago that cattle ownership is not essential to membership. Just wave two Jew flags, and there are fifty men in Eastland who will deliver you a Certificate of Membership. As soon as we can borrow two dollars we are going to join. Would buy a pair of boots and some spurs, but our wife insists we are too short and "lanky" to wear boots, so that's out for the duration. We can still eat barbecue and red beans, which seems to be one essential qualification. So if we come out sporting a pair of horn cuff links or the clasp you may know that we have joined and are a member in good standing.

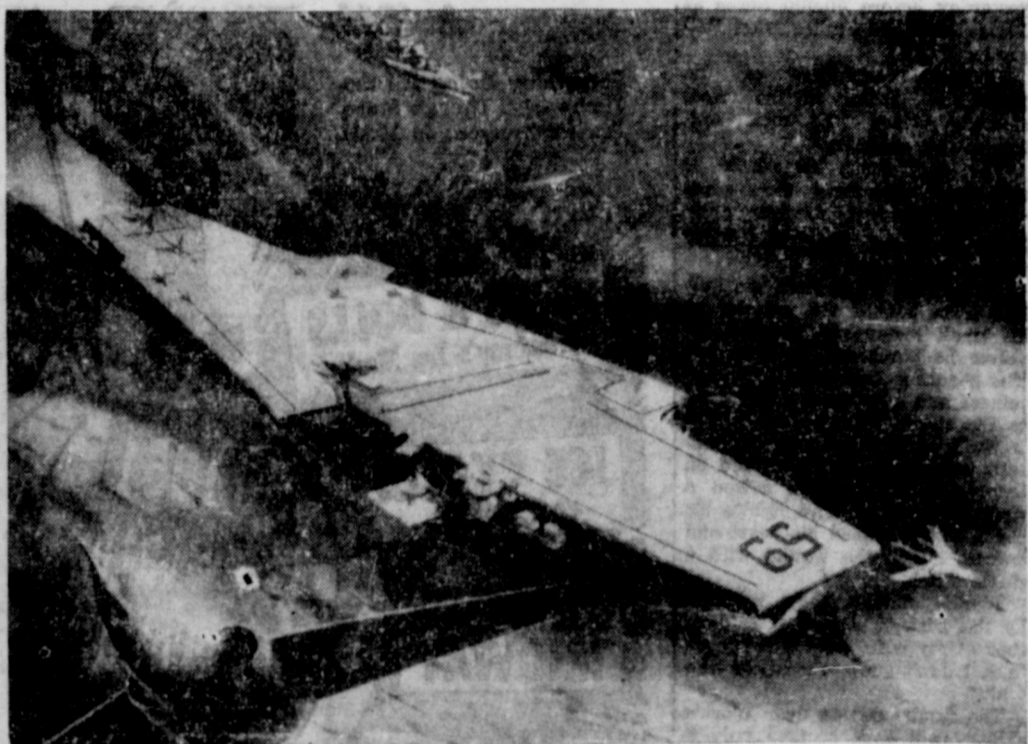

We may be editor of the Telegram, but we are not head of any house, and that is bad. We rented out our shack in Fort Worth. It is furnished. We have the renters money, but do not have a place to lay our head. We are not mind this so much, but is agin' our wife and making a bolshevik of the daughter. We are not begging as yet, but if you know where a fellow can find a four or five room furnished house that is partially free of cockroaches, etc., see the owner of this column at the Daily Telegram office. Thanks, and don't all come at once.

Arthur Horn, Former Resident, Visits City

Arthur Horn of El Paso and Cloud Croft, N. M., was in the Telegram office Saturday, displaying one of the largest turpins the paper has ever seen. It was the purple top variety and weighed approximately 10 pounds. However, he had disposed of a larger one, a 16-pound turpin, before his visit here.

Mr. Horn, a former Eastland resident, was here looking over oil and gas leases owned by him.

Fire Prevention Week To Be Observed Here Oct. 7-13

Citizens of Eastland have been called upon by Mayor Jack Muirhead to take an active part in the nation's observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13.

The mayor drew attention to President Truman's proclamation setting aside the week for annual observance.

"President Truman," said the mayor, "has appealed to the nation to safeguard its resources against destructive fires. He stressed the present emergency requirement that we conserve material resources, facilities and material resources; urging all of us to do our part to make the United States strong, by accepting individual responsibility in a year-round campaign against preventable fires."

"According to statistics provided by national fire prevention and protection authorities, each year 10,000 Americans die needlessly in fires, and more than twice that number are severely burned or disfigured for life. Every day there are 28 deaths by fire, 700 home fires, 139 store fires, 80 factory fires, 9 church fires, 8 school fires and 3 hospital fires. On farms, fires take an estimated 3,500 lives annually and destroy about $100,000,000 worth of property."

"Therefore, as Mayor of Eastland, I earnestly request every citizen and every organization to help the President's appeal and to do their part in the fire department campaign of commerce and other agencies in inspecting all properties and premises, so that fire hazards may be promptly detected and eliminated. Furthermore, I call upon our people to acquaint themselves with all circumstances and situations that are likely to cause the outbreak of fire and with the steps that should be taken when fire occurs."

At the same time John Osborne announced that the Chamber, with the collaboration of the fire department, had formulated an extensive program of activities for Fire Prevention Week which will enlist the efforts of all citizens in Eastland and surrounding rural areas.

The fire prevention program has been prepared by the Chamber's Fire Prevention Committee of which E. E. Freyschlag is chairman. The program has been developed in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and its affiliated

National Fire Waste Council

"We have the assurance," said Osborne, "that every organization in Eastland is anxious to do its full part in making this essential community program a great success. Such organizations include the principal fields of business and industry, civic groups, clubs, churches, the press, theatres, schools, Boy Scout Girl Scouts, and 4-H Clubs."

"Fire," continued President Osborne, "must not be allowed to destroy much needed housing and business properties. Here cite the destruction of fire in your local community for 1950. Many of the properties and materials destroyed cannot be replaced for many months."

"Of course, fire cannot be completely eliminated in a single week, but Fire Prevention Week gives us the occasion to acquaint ourselves to effective action in preventing and protecting against fire, and to initiate fire safety programs that can continue throughout the year."

RJC Rangers Beat Navarro By Score 14-0

By taking advantage of a blocked punt and clearing the way for a sixty-four yard gallop by Kenneth Burton, the Ranger Junior College Rangers defeated Navarro Junior College at Corsicana Saturday night.

Dale Hatley recovered the blocked punt for the Rangers to set up the score, then Jim Smith plunged the ball over from the Navarro 1 yard line to give Ranger their first score. The second tally came when Kenneth Burton romped 64 yards from his own 36 for the score.

Leading ground gainers for the night were Burton, Hamrick and Talbot. Burton made 94 yards on 17 carries, Hamrick picked up 68 on 17 trips, and Rusty Talbot gained 37 on 4 carries.

Statistically the Rangers did well. The first downs made by both teams numbered 23 with Ranger getting only eight; the Rangers evened the score by gaining 225 yards rushing, compared with 187 for the Navarro squad; Navarro completed 7 of 19 passes for 98 yards, Ranger failed to complete any of their eight for no yards gained; Ranger was penalized seven times for 60 yards, and Navarro was given three for 35 yards.

Cpt. Billy M. Jones with his wife and two children, Betty and Billy embarked Saturday on a ship enroute to the states having been in Yokoto, Japan for the past two years.

Captain Jones, son of Mrs. Ora B. Jones and the late Tom Jones was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, on August 4th 1950, for having led a flight in an attack against Communist shipping in Incheon Harbor.

Jones is a graduate of Eastland High School and Texas Christian University of Fort Worth. He arrived in Japan September 23, 1948. His wife and children joined him in the spring of '49.

He will be stationed at Mathey Field, Calif., following his leave.

Group Leaders For Hospital Workers Chosen

Group leaders for workers at the hospital were chosen Saturday, and it is thought the new plan of registering in will simplify matters considerably. In the past workers, while usually plentiful, just appeared on the job. If they were needed they remained and if not they returned home.

Now workers are divided into four groups and one may join any one or more of them. Men who work pretty regular should register for the days they desire.

Group No. 1 is headed by Bill Collins, W. G. Womack, and will work each Monday night. Tuesday's group will be headed by Jim Whittington, Horace Horton and Bob King.

Group No. 3, Wednesday night workers, is headed by Willie Smith, Everett Plowman and Doc Alford. Thursday night workers will be headed by Johnson Smith, Howard Upchurch and Thomas Oliphant (col).

Ordinarily there is no work done on Friday and Saturday, so find out the nights you can be available and register with the group leaders.

C. Rathiel Is Chosen Pastor Baptist Church

Rev. Melvin C. Rathiel of Spur, was chosen pastor for the First Baptist church, Eastland, Sunday. It will be remembered that Rev. Rathiel preached on Wednesday night of last week to a fairly representative congregation at the local church. He was given a good hearing and the entire body expressed themselves as believing he would fill the post to the entire satisfaction of all interested parties.

Following the morning worship hour conference was called for the purpose of calling a pastor. A. J. Blevins, Jr., chairman of the pulpit committee made the report. The church membership, after motion and second, voted that it was ready to make a call.

Rev. Rathiel's name was put before the church, and he was chosen on first ballot by a secret vote of 165 to 4 to become pastor. Unanimous call followed.

Rev. Rathiel was contacted by telephone later in the day, and while he did not give final answer, he promised to do so within a day or so, and it is the consensus of opinion that his answer will be in the affirmative. As pastor of First church in Spur, he has made a wonderful record, and local Baptists are eagerly looking forward to the hour he may be pastor at Eastland.

Man Bites Dog

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8 (UP)—Foundry worker E. B. Brown has made news the proverbial way. He bit a dog.

Brown was attempting to capture a four-pound Chihuahua, Choppo, after the pooch escaped from the city animal shelter.

When he grabbed the dog, Choppo bit his fingers and refused to let go.

Brown was the master of the situation. He clamped his teeth on Choppo's nose until the Chihuahua gave up. The foundry worker was treated for dog-bite at a hospital, and Choppo was treated for man-bite at the animal shelter.

LIAISON OFFICERS WILL MEET TO WORK ON NEUTRAL ZONE

By Earnest Hobericht
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Oct. 8 (UP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today accepted a Communist proposal to resume the suspended Korean truce talks at Pan Mun Jom, five miles southeast of Kaesong.

The supreme United Nations commander notified the Communists that he is instructing his liaison officers to meet Red representatives at 10 a.m. Wednesday (8 p.m. Tuesday EST) to make the necessary arrangements.

The Red commanders yesterday had reluctantly suggested Pan Mun Jom for the conference after Ridgway refused to send his truce team back to the incident-ridden former site, Kaesong.

Ridgway indicated, however, that he would seek a smaller conference neutral zone than that envisioned by the Communist commanders.

He suggested "a small neutral zone around the conference site, with Kaesong, Munsan and the roads to Pan Mun Jom from Kaesong and Munsan free from attack."

Kaesong, five miles north of Pan Mun Jom, is a town of the Communist position as well as site of talks until the Reds' offer Aug. 23.

Munsan, some 10 miles east of Pan Mun Jom, is headquarters of the United Nations command. It is headed by Vice Commander General James H. Doolittle, commander of the UN forces in the area. Gen. Kirtland F. Bullis, UN premier and chief, and Gen. Charles M. Willoughby, Chinese Communist proposed to rid the present neutral zone of five miles from Munsan to Pan Mun Jom.

The Communists suggested that the truce delegates at the first of their resumed meetings set up a joint committee to establish "concrete and strict" conditions for the neutrality and security of the conference site.

They accepted Ridgway's demands that both sides share in the responsibility for the protection of the neutral zone.

The Communist selection of Pan Mun Jom for renewal of the cease-fire conference represented a UN victory. Ridgway had insisted that the talks be shifted from Kaesong, deep behind the Communist lines and patrolled exclusively by Red troops, to a point midway between the opposing lines.

Pan Mun Jom is a dusty, insignificant village of a half-dozen mud-walled houses on the main Munsan-Kaesong road. It is just inside the present Communist lines, but mainly because it lies on the southern edge of the Communist-patrolled Kaesong neutral zone.

It was believed that the liaison officers at their meeting Wednesday will discuss mainly physical facilities for the resumption of the armistice conference. A tent city may be established, but it was believed the UN delegation would return nightly to Munsan and the Reds to Kaesong.

In his message of acceptance to the Communists, Ridgway said merely "In the belief that a truce in the immediate vicinity of Pan Mun Jom will meet the fundamental conditions of equality of movement and control, and that you will share my views regarding its neutrality, I am instructing my liaison officers to meet with yours at 1000 hour on 10 October for the purpose of discussing matters concerning the resumption of negotiations by our respective delegations."

Aggie Defense Planning Gets Credit On Upset Of Sooners

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 8 (UP)—Defense planning which used up 40 hours of Texas A&M coaching staff time and the determined execution of those plans emerged today as the behind-the-scenes story of A&M's brilliant upset of the "unbeatable" Oklahoma Sooners.

Coach Ray George disclosed that the stout defense which snuffed out Oklahoma's great three season record was plotted in conference lasting until the midnight hours. It paid off as expected in the Aggie's 14-7 conquest Saturday night.

Curiously, it was a previous Aggie game—with Texas Tech—which handed George the clues. Tech threw a split-T at A&M, and it showed up glaring weaknesses in the Aggie's more-or-less standard defensive patterns. Particularly, the split-T embarrassed Aggie tackles.

"We view and re-viewed the Tech pictures," George said, "as just to study the split-T. Finally we decided on the seven-diamond defense and use of a 'defensive quarterback'."

George explained that the split-T offense which gave Oklahoma the greatest record in modern-day collegiate football operates with the quarterback running laterally behind the line, looking and deciding as the play develops.

"We decided to use our offensive center, William Meyer, as sort of a shadow for OU's quarterback, Ed Crowder," George said.

Myers assignment was to drift with the OU quarterback wherever he went, diving into the play when the last keep-give-or-pass option was exhausted.

"I thought Meyer did a tremendous job," George said. "He followed the ball."

Also bolstering the A&M defense were several offensive players—"we picked the best material we had and they had to play, regardless of how tired they got. Which was the way the boys wanted it. They were determined to win."

The strategy worked so well that Oklahoma moved into A&M territory only twice—once on Billy Vessels' 74-yard scoring run and once on a drive which fizzled at the Aggie 38.

George conceded the defense was "excellent." It gave A&M the ball for 82 plays, while the Sooners had possession for only 41 tries. But the new Aggie tutor won't say he has solved the devastating power of the split-T.

George pointed out, in A&M's game with Texas, another unbeaten exponent of the formation.

"Texas plays a different variation, and the defense that stopped Oklahoma might not work against them," he said.

Cafe Operator Kills Wife On Shooting Spree

LUBBOCK, Oct. 8 (UP)—A husky Lubbock cafe operator told authorities today he killed his wife and shot his stepdaughter, a customer, and his landlord in a downtown rampage following a family argument Sunday about his cooking.

William Franklin Work, 38, also tried to kill himself with a paring knife as terrified patrons fled the cafe where the gunplay occurred.

Work made a statement to police and District Attorney Travis D. Shelton.

"I don't know why I did it—I just went off the beam," he said.

Witnesses said Work, a 200-pounder, began blasting away with a .38 pistol after a "family fuss" over his cooking ability.

The greying cafe man was jailed on a charge of murder and denied bond by Justice of Peace D. W. Robertson.

His wife, Mrs. Ruby Work, 46, died of a bullet in the back. Her 12-year-old daughter, Earlene Turner, 12, was shot through the stomach. A customer drinking coffee in the cafe, Pasquel Valdez, 73, was shot in the head. A fourth bullet bounced off the door facing and struck T. C. Ellis, 63, owner of the cafe building, in the hip.

The stepdaughter and Valdez were in critical condition at Lub-

Tito Blasts The Western Powers

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA, Oct. 8 (UP)—Marshall Tito, in the strongest anti-west speech he has made for many months, has warned his people Yugoslavia has enemies in the western world as well as in the east.

Tito's speech was reported in today's newspapers. It was made yesterday before 50,000 Serbs at Rankovicevo, 125 miles from Belgrade.

He said "controllers of the press and radio" in the west strongly attack "the social system of our country."

The only times Yugoslavia is mentioned favorably by the press book Memorial Hospital. Ellis' wound was minor.

Police said Work fired the bullets from behind the counter in his small restaurant, using a revolver he purchased on Saturday.

The shooting sent three men customers and a waitress dashing into the street.

Work turned the gun on himself, police said, but it clicked on empty shells. He then seized a paring knife and drove it into his chest, but it missed his heart and doctors closed the wound with a single stitch.

Work's statement, as released by the District Attorney, said "I shot at my wife, then three more times, I don't know who at, or who I hit."

The family debate over Work's ability as a cook seemed only a "minor family fuss" until the shooting began, witnesses told police.

and raido of the west, he said, is when "we quarrel with Russia or when we answer her." "It would be a mistake to believe that in the United States, Britain, France and the other western countries, who have helped us so much, there are no enemies of our country," Tito said.

Kidnap Party Given For Sorority Group

The Exemplar chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Estes and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collings last week when they entertained with a kidnap party.

The hosts picked up the guests at their home, blindfolded them in the alley back of the Collings' home. They were then marched chain-gang style through the back door into the Collings' kitchen.

The blindfold was then removed and guests were seated at game tables and served chili, cheese, pickles, beans and fritos, cherry pie and coffee.

Bridge and Canasta games followed the meal. M. H. Perry was awarded high prize for bridge and Jim Golden high for Canasta. Attending were Mrs. and Mmes. Bill Walters, Jr., Art Johnson, Marshall Fox, Pat Miller, Mmes. Mattie Doyle and Juanita Hickman, Mrs. Jim Golden and Lee Sander, and the hosts and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Estes and Mr. and Mrs. Collings.

Yvonne Green Honored On 8th Birthday

Mrs. Howard B. Green honored her daughter, Yvonne, Saturday when she entertained at her home, 902 West Plummer, with a 6:30 desert birthday party.

Ben Green, older brother of the honoree showed home movies to entertain the group. Many lovely gifts were opened and displayed.

Present were Kay Culbertson, Patsy and Bill Atwood, Nelda Emberton, Barbara Sue Robbins, Roger Taylor, Mike Anderson, Rosemary Jones, Sandra Pogue, and Alice Frazer.

Jerry Fox, who was unable to attend sent a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Bascomb Roberson and wife and Beulah Steeler have returned from Waco, where they have been visiting in the home of his brother and wife and Sally Bowlin.

Bascomb Roberson has just returned from Waco, where he has been transacting business.

The new baby has an older brother, Mickey, nine years old.

Tough Opponents Face Southwest Conference

Southwest conference teams go on another inter-sectional bingé this week with the Texas-Oklahoma and Southern Methodist-Notre Dame collisions promising the most shock waves.

Texas A&M's defeat of the heretofore almost invincible Sooners last week took a little of the national lustre off the Texas-Oklahoma hassle at Dallas, but it didn't lessen the interest for the 75,000 fans who'll jampack the Cotton Bowl.

The Aggie 14-7 triumph heightened Texas fans' hopes for a victory after three consecutive defeats by the Sooners, but it also left them apprehensive that Oklahoma on the rebound will be double-tough.

Texas beat North Carolina 45-20 to improve its claim for national honors.

Rice tackles Navy at Houston in another inter-sectional feature with some hopes of breaking into the win column after losses to Clemson and Louisiana State.

Baylor opens its title bid against an Arkansas team that bowed to Texas Christian last week, the Aggies take a breather against Trinity at San Antonio and TCU meets Texas Tech at Lubbock to round out the week's card.

SMU's 34-0 rout of Missouri gave hope to Mustang fans their lads can avenge a 27-20 heart-breaking loss to Notre Dame in Dallas two years ago. The Mustangs uncorked a surprising ground game to match Fred Benner's passing, as Irish coach Frank Leahy took it all in from the press box.

Baylor, 27-14 victor over Tulane, will have a special incentive to get off to a winning start against Arkansas, for it was the Porkers who upset the Bears 27-6 last year to interrupt a victory streak.

TCU's 17-7 win over Arkansas put it out in front temporarily in the conference chase, but that doesn't mean the Frogs are in for an easy time against Tech in the latter's back yard. Tech gave A&M a run for its money two weeks ago and is fully capable of upsetting the Frogs.

Only the Aggies seem to have a certain let-up in their schedule.

Trinity has dropped consecutive games to Hardin-Simmons and Southwest Texas and doesn't appear capable of furnishing the bruised Croets any more than a light workout.

Here's why Fordomatic puts them all in the past!
For the past year, automotive writers, engineers and owners have been raving about a new kind of automatic driving... and here's why you get it only in Ford Cars:
All the power you need when you need it is yours with Fordomatic. You'll find it the most thrilling experience you ever had. You'll discover the advantages of having... the smooth going that automatic drives employing torque converters can give you... plus the zip, control, and savings that cars with automatic gears can give you. For Fordomatic combines the finer features of all other automatic drives!
IT GIVES YOU INSTANT "GO!"
Because Fordomatic gives you a combination of the best features of all other automatic drives, it delivers instant "go" for exceptionally easy, exceptionally smooth starting, passing, and hill climbing. Its extra Intermediate Gear gives you a push of extra power any time you want it... extra braking power, too, that's outstandingly smooth.
IT PRACTICALLY DRIVES ITSELF!
Fordomatic drives your car for you better than you could ever drive it yourself. It brings you a completely new thrill in no-shift-lever, no-clutch-pedal driving, because its development began where all other automatic drives left off!
But Fordomatic has both
Yes, Fordomatic has a torque converter plus automatic gears. It brings you only the advantages of both drives and eliminates the disadvantages.
Unlike cars with only a torque converter (which start and cruise all in one drive gear), Fordomatic starts fast and smooth in Intermediate Gear then shifts itself into Drive Gear.
Some automatics have this
The automatic drive some cars offer you is a torque converter which multiplies torque without the use of gears. Its advantage is a smooth flow of power. Its disadvantage is a smaller range of torque multiplication which requires more power from the engine and an uneconomical axle ratio which increases costs.
Some automatics have this
Other cars offer an automatic drive that uses automatic gears (as illustrated in simplified form at right) instead of a torque converter. The advantage here is more "go," more control and greater economy. The disadvantage is that this system is not as smooth, nor as jerk-free as a torque converter.
See our selection of USED CARS A-1

Fordomatic Drive optional on V-8 models at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.
