Senator Johnson Gives Warning To Soviet Union

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (UP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, D., Tex., bluntly warned Soviet Russia today that its next aggression may mean a full-scale war with this country.

He said that "unless those who plot the destruction of our civilization change their ways, it will come and the time may not be too far distant."

This nation cannot go on forever draining away its lifeblood battling the satellites of the Soviet star, the tall Texas Senator said.

The action, he said, may be a solemn proclamation to "the masters behind the walls of the Kremlin that the next aggression will be the last. We will recognize that you, and not your puppets, are the real aggressor."

"And we will strike back with all the dread might that is within our control, and it will be a crushing blow," Johnson warned.

Other possible actions he brought out would be a warning to Communist leaders of North Korea to make peace or "we will hit you with everything we have; or a declaration to the Communists of the world that we are ready to move at the next sign of aggression."

"I can foresee a time when we will call a halt to this slow march to the ultimate destruction of our liberties," he said.

Johnson addressed a luncheon meeting in his honor here today sponsored by civic clubs and other organizations of Dallas.

He said our action in Korea "is a strange and untried path."

"Our course there is a course of fighting a war, but called a police action. It is a course of slaughtering a fore, but only within certain boundaries; a course of battling a slave, but letting the master go scot free.

"This course has served a purpose, but its cost is high and may soon become prohibitive," he said.

"Korea is only the beginning. We know that our true enemies are not the ragged peasants of North Korea or the bewildered Myriads of China, but the leaders of the Soviet Union," Johnson told the group.

"Wherever we fight, or whoever we fight, we know there can be no victory in this current pattern of putting out fires," he said.

All this will come, he continued, unless the Communist leaders decide to walk the paths of peace and cooperation instead of the road of war and subversion.

Miss Amelia Anthony

Girlstown Founder To Be Here For Stylorama And Food Fair

Miss Amelia Anthony, who founded Girlstown, U.S.A., March 13, 1949, and who now is the director of the home for neglected girls at Whiteface, will be honored in Eastland Friday night at a reception following the Beta Sigma Phi sponsored Stylorama and Food Fair.

The public is cordially invited to attend, admission free, the stylorama show and fair Friday night at 8 o'clock in the High School Auditorium and to meet Miss Anthony personally at the reception afterwards in the school cafeteria.

Nature's colors in clothing, often inspired by fruits and vegetables, will be the theme of this year's show. Mrs. Art Johnson will be commentator.

Fashions for the Stylorama will be from Altman's Style Shop, the D. L. Houle Shop, and The Men's Store.

Entries for the Food Fair, which is being sponsored by the Eastland County Home Demonstration agent, at her office in the courthouse.

The food and other items contributed by members and other interested women will be displayed Friday night. All entries will be presented to Miss Anthony, on behalf of Girlstown, as gifts from the women to the home.

Other gifts to the home on display will be armoires, a small table and baby chair made by Casey's Iron and Metal Craft and contributed by Casey Missell of Desdemona.

Girlstown is the realization of a dream Miss Anthony had many years ago to establish a home for homeless girls "where the basic principles of life might be learned in a kindly environment, and where Christian fundamentals might be installed in young lives through example and teaching."

$450,000 Assault Case May Not Be Tried Very Soon

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 11 (UP)—The assault trial of William Stone Stewart, 21-year-old son of a Memphis, Tenn., airline president, will probably not be heard for at least six months, Payne County's Court Clerk said today.

The clerk said the case was filed too late for the spring docket of the court.

Stewart, six-foot eight-inch son of the president of Chicago and Southern Airlines, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon in connection with the brutal pistol beating of 18-year-old Eula Mae Leach.

Young Stewart has been sent to the Central State Mental hospital at Norman, Okla., for 60 days' observation. His father described him as being "mentally ill."

Miss Leach told police a "tall and terrible looking" stranger broke into her room and beat her with a pistol. A roommate heard Miss Leach's screams and found the young secretary unconscious in her bedroom.

In addition to the assault charges, damages of $450,000 are being sought by Miss Leach from Stewart and his father.

The elder Stewart said in Memphis yesterday that Miss Leach "gave a greatly exaggerated account" of the beating.

FLOOR FOR NEW HOSPITAL WILL SOON BE POURED

While there were only a few workers at the hospital last evening, it was explained that only a few are needed at this time. However, a large number are expected tonight, despite the fact it had been announced previously that no work would be done.

Work preparatory to pouring the floor has been completed, it is said. Water for this work was brought in from a rural tank in a truck furnished by Mr. Hoffman.

It seems certain people are worrying about parking space when the hospital is completed. This, however, is not necessary as the hospital will have ample parking grounds on its property.

Auction Sale Attracts Many Cattle Raisers; Buyers From Several States Attend Sale

Eastland county livestock raisers are richer by $165,000 than they were before the auction sale yesterday. Thirteen hundred head of cattle were sold to buyers from all over the Southwest and from Arizona and California. More than 200 head of hogs and about one hundred head of sheep and goats were also moved.

The market this week was fully steady for better classes, and strong on all classes, and better than the last week market.

Choice fat calves, went from $31 to $36.50; Bulls, $28 and cows topped $25. L. E. Lemley of the Staff community sold one load of fat calves for $36.50.

Buyers and packers were well represented.

Among some of the larger buyers were: Fred Kennedy, buyer for a large California packer; J. Fowler of Phoenix, Ariz., bought two cars of stockers and feeders; Ray Thompson of Altun, Okla., bought a load of stockers. Fort Worth buyers representing Armour and the City Packing companies were on hand and bought quite a few head. Berry Packing Co., San Antonio had representatives here, and Don Estes representing an Arizona feeder, and a California packer also made purchases.

The sale is becoming more and more popular all the time, and everything is being done to care for the wants and needs of both buyers and sellers, said Sig Faircloth, Jr.

Sales are held on Tuesday of each week.

Danley Well Estimated At 35 Barrels

In a test run on the Number One Danley, about three miles northwest of Ranger, this morning, the well made 7 barrels of oil on pump in four hours.

Estimations on the production of the well indicate that it will probably average about thirty-five barrels per day after the pump is installed.

The well was drilled to 3606 feet by the Robinson Drilling Company of Abilene for the lease holders.

There are only two places in this country where the service will be rendered, so those who are interested, should make arrangements for this free service at the designated time.

Rural Residents Donate Funds To Local Hospital

You do not have to live in the city limits to be hospital-minded. Two donations were made Saturday by rural contributors. W. J. (Joe) Matthews made a cash donation of $58.00, and Mrs. Monroe gave $7.50. Instances like this prove that the hospital is a reality, and that everybody in the community is aiding, it is said

Marines Move Entire Battalion By 'Copter'

King Will Part With Gloria; Marry Dancer

CAIRO, EGYPT, Oct. 11 (UP)—Red-haired Sheppard W. King III of Houston on a shimmy dancer Samia Gamil hit the Cairo champagne circuit early today to celebrate the wealthy Texan's conversion to the Moslem faith.

The 26-year-old former Marine became Abdullah (slave of Allah) King yesterday in his first step toward becoming a Moselem marrying the sloop-eyed, Auburn haired dancing favorite of King Farouk of Egypt.

King, who became engaged to Samia last month after they met in a Paris nightclub, had a busy day yesterday.

He announced he would divorce dark-haired Gloria King, whom he married twice, when he returns to the U. S. next week.

He signed a document testifying he already had converted himself to the Islamic religion and substituted for his christian name of Sheppard the Moslem name of Abdullah.

He emphasized the date for his marriage in Cairo with the dancer, known for her version of the "Virgin of the Nile" dance, still was December.

King and Samia spent an hour with her lawyer, Anis Atta, preparing papers to be submitted to the Cairo Personal Status Court—the Shari—requesting acknowledgment of his new faith and name.

King hesitated some time before choosing his Moslem name. Atta read off numerous common Moslem names. King picked "Abdullah," and Samia agreed.

The Texan, whose wealthy mother, Mrs. Bonner King, said she would disown him if he married Samia, inferred he had accepted the Moslem creed:

"There is no God but Allah, and Mohammed is his prophet."

The papers, drawn up yesterday in Arabic and signed in English by King were to be presented to the personal status court today. The young Texan may be called to take the Islamic oath again before the court.

Wagon Travel Tough Today

MALTA, Mont., Oct. 11 (UP)—Crossing the plains in a covered wagon today is just as dangerous as it was in 1849, according to Mrs. Jessie Lacinak, Montana's 1951 "Covered Wagon Woman."

The 59-year-old "pioneer," on the final lap of a round trip from Big Sandy, Mont., to Lakeville, Minn., has only 100 more miles to do. She may be home for Thanksgiving—but not if perils of the trip continue to plague her.

The latest mishap occurred last week near Malta when one of her two-horse team, frightened by a switch engine, ran away, and damaged her wagon in the process.

In Miller, S. D., several weeks ago, her kerosene stove flared up, painfully burning her hands and forearms.

The former Big Sandy homesteader had planned to spend the remainder of her days with her sister, Mrs. Mary July. But the sister died shortly after Christmas, so Mrs. Lacinak loaded up the wagon that first brought her to Montana about 40 years ago, hitched up the team and headed west again.

Location Neutral Zone Holding Up Peace Talks

UN ADVANCE BASE, Munsan, Korea, Oct. 11 (UP)—Efforts to reopen the Korean armistice talks snagged for the second straight day today on the question of a conference neutral zone.

Liaison officers argued the point at Pan Mun Jom for nearly 3 and one-half hours and finally decided to adjourn until 10 a.m. tomorrow (8 p.m. today EST).

Sounds of what might have been a dogfight were heard overhead during the session. Ground observers said they saw vapor trails in the sky and heard several bursts of machine-gun and rocket fire. Planes, if any, were too high to be discerned, however.

The 5th Air Force said it had no reports of any air fights today and expressed doubt that Communist fighters would penetrate so far south. A spokesman suggested that the sounds probably were echoes from a close-support air mission a few miles to the northeast.

Only the question of who should fix the neutral zone for the cease-fire talks and how large it should be seemed to be holding up resumption of the conference aimed at ending the Korean war.

The liaison officers were understood already to have decided that the armistice talks should be held in the vicinity of Jan Mun Jom and to have arranged technical details for the renewal of the conference.

However, the UN liaison team was believed to be insisting that the conference neutral zone be delineated before the armistice conference is resumed while the Reds want to leave the question to the truce delegates themselves.

Most of the information on the liaison meetings was coming from the Communists. The UN command spokesman would confirm only that another meeting has been scheduled for Friday.

Communist newsmen in Pan Mun Jom told UN reporters that a Red briefing officer had informed them that the neutral zone question was responsible for the delay in the resumption of the armistice conference.

The Communist reports also said that "some progress" was made during Thursday's session.

Both the UN and Communist liaison officers were smiling when they emerged from the meeting.

Gunman Forces Truck Driver On Wild Truck Ride

DURANT, Okla., Oct. 11 (UP)—A Dallas truck driver had a wild 65-mile-an-hour ride in a Bryan County early today as a 30-year-old Fort Smith, Ark., man prodded him with a .44 caliber pistol.

A highway patrol radio operator at Durant and three Durant policemen got into the act before the gunman was put behind bars in the Bryan County jail.

Truck driver Jay C. Waller said the man approached his truck at a safe on U. S. 69 near Cadde 10 miles north of here and asked for a ride. Waller said when he refused, the man pulled a pistol and ordered him to start driving.

Another truck driver became suspicious and gave chase. Meanwhile, the gunman told Waller to drive faster and faster, and the truck careened down the highway at a 60 to 65-mile-an-hour clip.

The gunman directed Waller to the Durant Highway Patrol headquarters and boldly marched him at gunpoint into the office. He then turned the gun on patrol radio operator Paul Oliver.

However, the quick thinking Oliver had flashed out a coded signal for help on the patrol radio as the gunman came through the door.

The signal, picked up at Durant police headquarters, said: "Unwanted visitors at patrol headquarters."

The gunman, meanwhile, was starting to sway from inebriation. Waller pounced on him, jerking the gun from his hand just as three Durant policemen pulled up to the patrol station.

The man was booked at the Bryan County jail for drunkenness and investigation. Waller and Oliver, still sweating, examined the gun.

It wasn't loaded.

Mavericks Now Ready For Fort Worth Tussle

Tonight the Mavericks will make their last non-conference bid against Diamond Hill at Farrington Field in Fort Worth. The Mavericks are still crippled by injuries but they will be out there trying with all they have. Some of the Mavericks injured players have already recovered, and will be ready for Comanche, next week.

The Mavericks have worked hard all week to try to get on the winning side again. Monday night they stomped Gorman in a practice scrimmage, that showed a definite improvement in their game.

TANK OFFENSIVES GAIN; UN INFANTRY STOPPED BY REDS

By Jack James
United Press Staff Correspondent
8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 11 (UP)—Helicopters flew an entire battalion of U. S. Marines into battle on the eastern front today and a powerful tank force simultaneously struck deep into Red positions to the west.

The helicopter airlift—the largest in military history—was completed in six hours and 15 minutes within mortar range of Communist defenses. However, the Reds made no attempt to interfere.

The 160-flight "Operation Bumblebee" was designed to reinforce the Marine lines in the eastern mountains for a renewed attempt to break North Korean resistance on the approaches to the east coast port of Wonsan.

The Marines first used helicopters to move men to the front three weeks ago, but only about 260 men were shuttled north on that occasion.

On the east-central front, an American tank battalion blasted its way north to a point 28 miles above the 38th Parallel in a fresh effort to weaken Red resistance on bloody "Heartbreak Ridge."

The 72nd Tank Battalion rolled through ineffectual Communist resistance up the Mundung Valley several miles north of "Heartbreak," where remnants of a North Korean battalion beat back the second American attempt in 12 hours to take the northernmost peak.

Part of the tank-infantry task force cut west up the Naedang Valley to support other 2nd Division troops on "Kim II" Sung Ridge." The yanks on this ridge were more successful, taking a key hill from fresh Chinese troops.

Another armored spearhead rolled up the Satae Valley east of "Heartbreak Ridge" and blasted enemy bunkers from that side.

The task force returned to the main Allied lines at dark.

The U. S. 23rd Infantry Regiment's latest attack on the northernmost peak of "Heartbreak Ridge" was launched after a 10-minute barrage by 76-millimeter cannon of massed U. S. Sherman tanks on the enemy bunkers.

However, the Reds stopped the Yanks dead in their tracks with a rain of hand grenades and intense mortar fire after an advance of only 40 yards.

A third regiment of a Chinese Division which relieved the North Koreans was identified as being in the line on the east-central front when a prisoner was taken by South Korean troops northwest of Yangju.

In the air, B-29 Superfortresses blasted the strategically located Communist airfield at Sunan, 20 miles north of Pyongyang, the Red capital, with 65 tons of bombs.

They aimed their 100-pound bombs at two 6,500-foot paved and dirt airstrips. The Communists have been working frantically to repair the strips since the last UN raid Sept. 8.

The bomber command reported a "noticeable increase" in the number of anti-aircraft guns spotted around the field and said at least 36 protective revetments were found.

UNION OFFICERS ARGUED the point at Pan Mun Jom for nearly 3 and one-half hours and finally decided to adjourn until 10 a.m. tomorrow (8 p.m. today EST).

Sounds of what might have been a dogfight were heard overhead during the session. Ground observers said they saw vapor trails in the sky and heard several bursts of machine-gun and rocket fire. Planes, if any, were too high to be discerned, however.

Student Riots Still Going On In Cairo, Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 11 (UP)—Approximately 2,500 students, shouting "Down with Britain" surged today through the streets of mid-town Cairo but police watched their movements carefully.

The students, who have staged anti-British demonstrations in connection with the announcement Monday that Egypt will abrogate its 1936 treaty with Britain, moved through main streets. They shouted the praises of Prime Minister Mustaf El-Nahas Pasha. It was he who announced the treaty would be ended and British troops forced to withdraw from the vital Suez Canal Zone.

King Farouk was to receive Prime Minister Nahas Pasha to great importance to the meeting, day. Political quarters attached since it will be their first since the premier's announcement of the abrogation of the treaty.

Egypt also has demanded the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, bordering Egypt in the south, as a part of King Farouk's nations.

Meanwhile, the newspaper Al Misi, which has close ties to the government Wafdist Party, said it had learned the Egyptian Chamber of Deputies in a secret session yesterday discussed a non-aggression treaty with Russia.

The disclosure the government was considering a Soviet non-aggression pact was said to have been made by foreign minister Mohammed Salah El Din Bey.

The Old Ship (Unitarian) Church at Hingham, Mass., was built in 1681 by ship's carpenters and is believed to be the only 17th century church still standing in that state.

New Educational Methods Needed

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 11 (UP)—A whole new development in the field of professional preparation of college teachers is needed in this country, a leading educator said here today.

George William Frasier, president emeritus of Colorado State College of Education, said most teachers today "are the result of the ordinary academic routine up through the A. B., A. M., and Ph. D."

He addressed the Association of Governing Board of State Universities and allied institutions, holding its annual convention at Texas A&M.

The group heard another speech this morning by Dr. E. R. Cuthrie, University of Washington official, in which he said there is no successful teaching "without active participation by students."

Scared To Death By Suicide Plans

YORK, Pa., Oct. 11 (UP)—Officials disclosed today that Guy E. Watson, 79, of nearby Fawn Grove, Pa., died of a heart attack apparently induced by excitement over the prospect of committing suicide.

Coroner Lester J. Sell said Watson was found dead sitting in a chair in his home with a gun pressed against his body with one hand and a knife clamped in the other hand. There was no mark of violence on the body.

HOT CHECK ARTIST HELD ON SWINDLING COUNT IN EASTLAND

Jack Gibbs of Wichita Falls, was lodged in the Eastland County jail yesterday following his arrest in Fort Worth Tuesday night by members of the city detective force in that city.

Gibbs is facing at least two counts on hot checking. The first check was given to owners of Ranger's livestock auction sale, in the amount of more than $5,100. From Ranger he moved on to Mineral Wells, where he attended another auction sale, it is said, and there another check was given for more than $8,400. It is reliably reported that he is wanted in another Texas county, where he is wanted on similar charges.

There are only two places in this country where the service will be rendered, so those who are interested, should make arrangements for this free service at the designated time.

Tobin Calls On Catholics For Freedom Fight

RAPID CITY, S. D., Oct. 11 (UP)—Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin has called on Roman Catholics to fight "a campaign of terror against free thought in the United States."

Tobin, a prominent Catholic layman, told a Knights of Columbus audience yesterday "we must not erect an iron curtain along the frontiers of human thought."

"These men are not going to succeed," he said. "They are not going to exploit the Communist issue to destroy our heritage of freedom."

Hornfly Reaching The Danger Point

COLLEGE STATION, October —The hornfly population of the state has reached the danger point. That's the word from James A. Deer, associate Extension entomologist of Texas A&M College. He reports the weather of the past few weeks—repeated showers with warm temperatures and above average humidity—has been responsible for the hornfly population increase.

Deer says cattle owners should immediately take the necessary steps to rid their herds of these pests. Here's why; a heavy infestation will cause cattle to go into winter in a weakened condition and if they become heavily infested with lice during the winter, there'll be more trouble. Hornflies and lice are both blood suckers and the result will be anemic cattle.

The Automobile Manufacturers Association says that tests show that the average car is driven 12,260 miles its first year but that the figure decreases each year. The average number of miles driven in 1950 by 1937 models was only 5,890.

"Wiggling Tooth Party" Latest New Kid Fad

By Harman W. Nichols
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (UP)—A small fry fad—"wiggling tooth parties"—is in the making. And it may spread around the country.

This is the business of cheating the dentist by getting rid of baby teeth without pliers, or whatever the man in the white coat uses to extract a tooth.

It all started when an epidemic of loose teeth broke out among third-grade students at Lynbrook school in nearby Bethesda, Md. Kids sat around the classroom wiggling their loose teeth instead of concentrating on addition and subtraction, the A's to Z's and crayoning drawings of Mickey Mouse and the lovely Petunia.

One of the students, eight-year-old Jan Waring Tupper, decided to take steps. Jan's mama, Mrs. Richard Tupper, said she would go along.

So they planned what probably was the first "wiggling tooth" party.

It was a different kind of kid party. Nothing like the usual thing. No kid was invited who didn't have a tooth that was aching to come out.

There was no ice cream or cake. Instead the babes gnawed on apples, lollypops, taffy and other gooey and sticky things calculated to coax a loose tooth from its moorings.

Guests at Jan Tupper's first "wiggling tooth" party were her pals, Caroline Bryant, 7, and Penn Robinson, 8.

They wiggled and they twisted. It was a success in a way. In another way, there was tear-dripping tragedy.

Caroline and Penn managed to push-pull and wiggle on their loose molars and incisors enough to report success a few hours later.

But poor little Jan, the hostess overdid it.

Before the Acme cameraman arrived, she snuck into the kitchen for a practice session. She worked her little jaws on some taffy her mammy had stirred up. She ate an apple. She got into the ice box and found the left-over end of a tough and very expensive steak.

She was sobbing rather noisily eat of dried grasses which I ordered brought to him. Surely he would have died but for North Star, who approached him without fear and with her magic made him eat of the grasses."

I tried to reduce this to logic, getting no better surmise than that the horse had scented my odor upon her hands, thus allowing Star to touch and feed him.

Regardless, horse and man both owed their lives to her, and it was a debt I meant to see repaid, and with interest.

In the tipi of Many Kills, we were made welcome, his women busily to prepare us food.

After the meal, Many Kills brought out his pipe, lighting it with a coal from the fire, passing it around the circle until it had been smoked out.

After a suitable interval of compliment exchanging, during which I flatteringly learned my undeserved reputation as a warrior had preceded me, I asked Many Kills if I were free to come and go as I wished. He was local head of the Fox Lodge, the law-and-order society of the Sioux Nation, the police force, if you will, of the Indian social system.

"Cetan Mani may go," The chief's words were easy, without hint of restraint.

"I would see the realm of Star of the North," was all I said, rising to go and departing, without a backward glance. I was learning to talk Indian fashion; short and to the point.

Outside, I found Crazy Horse had followed me. He gestured toward the climbing sun, then the ground upon which we stood. "I understood I was to return to this spot," When the sun was in the middle." I nodded, swung up on Hussein and started off.

He called after me. "You will not see the Wiyan Wakyan yet. She is now in prayer for the morning and will see no, one, while the sun is above."

"This must be true," I called back. "Surely such a star is best seen in darkness." He looked at me, not answering, leaving me with the uncomfortable feeling I had not said the right thing.

drained. Fix salads at the last possible moment, the specialist advises, and toss lightly. Do not over-mix. Select the serving dish for the salad with care. It should be large enough and of the right shape to "set off" the salad, Miss Reasonover adds.

Average weekly earnings of production workers in the auto industry was $73.25 in 1950 for an average work week of 41.2 hours, according to the Automobile Manufacturers Association. This compares with an average of $65.97 for 38.9 hours in 1949

Miss Reasonover points-out that the food used should be cut into pieces large enough that the food can be identified and small enough to handle with ease.

Other things to remember include keeping fruits fresh and bright in color and see that all foods used in a salad are well

NO SURVIVORS

BY WILL HENRY
DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: John Clayton, former civilian scout from Fort Kearney, is wounded and captured by Crazy Horse's Sioux warriors at the scene of the Fetterman massacre. Clayton already has won a reputation as a "brave warrior" in Indian eyes and he is nursed back to health by Wiyan Wakyan, an Indian "holy woman." Clayton persuades Crazy Horse to take him to her after his recovery.

X SHE had been captured, as a girl of five or six, by the Oglala, in a raid on a Crow Village far to the west and north. She was not a Crow, that tribe in turn having captured her, but where she was taken or what her origins had been, Crazy Horse's people had never been able to determine.

There had been a sort of half-story related by an old Crow medicine woman, which said the child had been brought up from Mexico by the Apaches and sold into slavery among the Comanches, from whom the Crows stole her. But Tashunka Witko did not vouch for this.

She was, even then, a child of startling beauty, her peculiar green eyes at once commanding the imaginations of the Oglala, for in their legends the Sioux had all sprung from a common origin, the Earth Mother. The stories handed down by uncounted generations of old village tellers of tales, had dimmed somewhat the details of the Earth Mother's appearance, but on one particular all descriptions agreed: her eyes had been green as lake-ice.

They built her a great lodge in the heart of their magnificent homeland, the mysterious He Sapa, the Black Hills. Throughout the year she divide her time, visiting various of the Seven Sioux Council Fires, living now with this tribe, now with that, carrying always and everywhere her magic power, to heal.

HEALTH TALKS

If the theory is right that human beings are born only with "wants," then the process of "feeling out" how far those wants can go before they bump into someone else's wants might be considered the setting up of habits, the building of responses, or the development of intellect. And the importance of training of a child is certainly easy to ascertain when you realize that restrictions and limitations must be set when the child starts reaching out to get what he wants.

The idea is that the child will expand his desires when he gets disapproval for his action. In mental health circles, that is known as reward and punishment. He grows intellectually with reward and stops growing with punishment. So reward for proper behavior is as essential as punishment for unfavorable behavior. If there is no approval of good behavior, theoretically, there will not be normal mental growth.

To apply such theories to the "wheel," which might be called the will that hub, the self-centered core, is going to be there no matter what reaction the child gets from expressing his wants. His wants radiate from the hub to form the spokes of the wheel and his limitations from the rim of the wheel. That rim, mentally speaking, is an elastic thing which can be ever-widening as new experiences lead to extension of those "spokes," human desires.

If punishment for wrong behavior is not offset by reward for good behavior, those spokes won't extend and you have a child living in a small world, without incentive to expand.

Creative Ability Can Be Expressed Right At Home

COLLEGE STATION, October —Homemakers who have an urge to try out their creative ability can do it right in their own kitchen. Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says to "just let the artist in you go to work" when it's time to make a salad.

The first rule in making an attractive salad, the specialist says, is to keep it simple. Second, fit it to the rest of the meal.

Foods used in the rest of the menu should not be used in a salad. Colors and flavors should be in harmony and the salad as a whole should provide foods that are needed in the meal.

A third rule is to keep foods for cold salads cold, and those for hot salads hot. Fourth, select a dressing that suits the salad. Fifth, make the salad attractive.

Miss Reasonover points-out that the food used should be cut into pieces large enough that the food can be identified and small enough to handle with ease.

Other things to remember include keeping fruits fresh and bright in color and see that all foods used in a salad are well

Tone, Barbara Together Again

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11 (UP)—Franchot Tone, his profile still bearing marks of Tom Neal's fist, and his bride, shapely Barbara Payton, were together again today following a six-day interruption of their honeymoon.

"I thought today would never come," murmured Miss Payton, who arrived for personal appearances here on her tour to promote her newest picture ("Drums in the Deep South.")

They greeted each other at Moisant International Airport yesterday with a long and passionate kiss. Tone had arrived an hour earlier from Los Angeles and waited at the airport for her arrival via Atlanta.

"Let me wipe off the lipstick," Tone said after their kiss. "Oh, baby," said Barbara, "I don't want to work today." But she had to go on stage almost immediately after that.

Eastland MAVERICKS ROUND-UP

This week the juniors and seniors have been discussing citizenship in the school and in the community. Here are some opinions expressed in essays written for English classes.

From My Point of View
Yvonne Tankersley: If the teachers are to teach the pupils to be good citizens they must first of all be good citizens themselves.

Joe Brown: A good school citizen has good habits and he has a considerate attitude toward others.

Charlene Black: Most students have open minds and readily accept changes in the school program and routine but a few gripe at every suggestion that is made.

Frances Van Geem: When we think of a good citizen we think of one who uses his time and talents for the good of his community or school and his fellow man.

Bob Frost: The students here respect not only their teachers, but also their school traditions and the rights of others.

Betty Seabourne: High school students should be encouraged to take part in many of the town's activities. By such participation they would learn to do their part before reaching the age where the responsibility really becomes theirs.

Herbert Weaver: If a student establishes good habits in school, co-operates in the various phases of school life, and observes what is happening around him, he will emerge with civic intelligence.

Helen Turner: A good citizen

DE-E-E-TOUR-R-R!—Watch out for that new spur in Hopkins, Minn., the Milwaukee Railroad dispatcher said to the engineer. The telephone pole smack in the middle of the tracks caused plenty of comment. But the railroad explained the tracks were laid thus to speed the job, with the pole slated for removal before the first train runs on the new tracks.

is one who knows his duty and performs it. His sense of responsibility does not falter if the task grows difficult.

Edwin Aaron: I think our school would be much better if we had the voice of everyone instead of just a few.

J. C. Tankersley: A good citizen should be friendly and co-operate in doing any job where he is needed.

Eddie Haines: A good school citizen is characterized by enthusiasm, courtesy, co-operation, friendliness, and dependability.

Marilyn Morgan: A person should do his part in giving something to make his town better as well as taking what it has to offer him.

Jimmie Mitchell: A good school citizen should enter into all school activities and always take an active part in everything his class does.

Derrel Black: The town people will think a lot more of the school if they know that everybody is striving to become a better school citizen.

Dick Evatt: A good citizen takes part in all school discussions, gives his point of view, and does not argue unless he knows what he is talking about.

Rodney Stephen: If you are to criticize someone, make your criticism helpful. Criticism is worthless unless it will do some good.

Ken Gosage: By conducting their own school government, students can learn how civics government is carried on.

Babe Sherrill: Good citizenship is the act of doing unto others as you would have them do unto you.

Ann Day: The best thing we can do is aim for the bull's eye. We don't always hit it, but at least we can try "It's better to say 'I tried' than 'I know I can't even hit the target.'"

Guy Warden: To be a good citizen is not very hard. All you have to do is be honest, trustworthy, religious and a gentleman.
