U.N. TANKS ENTER KUMSONG; RETURN WITHOUT CASUALTIES

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 20 (UP)—United Nations tanks smashed into Communist-held Kumsong today and shot up the vital road junction city for one hour before withdrawing without a casualty.

Two companies of M-46 Patton tanks rumbled into Kumsong's outskirts at 4 p.m. (2 a.m. EST), thrusting ahead of the main Allied lines which were less than two miles from the burning fortress town.

After raking enemy positions despite heavy Communist anti-tank and artillery fire, the tanks pulled back without losing a man. Just outside the city the tanks halted and grouped to support infantrymen still fighting for hills held by the Chinese Communists south of Kumsong.

The tanks had not given a full report of their raid at 9 p.m. (7 a.m. EST) but United Nations briefing officers said Kumsong apparently was occupied by few—if any—Communist troops.

"They have known we were on the way, so they have probably taken out their troops and as many supply stores as they could," one officer said.

The tanks drove into Kumsong, 29 miles north of the 38th Parallel, after sweeping ahead of the advancing infantrymen in the valley leading to the city. When their "exploration" mission proved successful, they went all the way into the city.

Another mile to the south, Allied infantry fought last-ditch Chinese defenders in a whipping wind and rainstorm for control of the last major ridge line south of Kumsong.

An 8th Army communique reported UN infantrymen only 2,500 yards south of the city, with enemy resistance weakening. Gains of from 800 to 1,500 yards were recorded along the assault front during the morning, the communique said.

Fog shrouded the tops of Allied peaks along the road of the Allied

Other Allied troops inched northward southwest of Kumsong, taking a hill in their advance. Still others were less than four miles southeast of the town.

All together three Allied divisions—the U. S. 24th and South Korean 2nd and 6th—were converging on Kumsong, which has been the enemy's main troop concentration and supply center since the fall of the "Iron Triangle" to the west.

Kumsong was already in flames. It had been bombed for days by Allied planes and long-range guns.

San Antonians Aid Old Couple Ousted By City

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 16 (UP)—George Thayer and his wife, two aged and unhappy victims of a city's progress, camped today beside the San Antonio River and waited for the blow of an auctioneer's hammer to leave them homeless.

Protesting crowds gathered last night at the ramshackle house from which the Thayers were forcibly evicted by police with the aid of tear gas. But the Thayers apparently have little chance of recovering their home.

The city has claimed their land by right of eminent domain in order to construct a new bridge over the winding stream. Their frame home will be sold at auction Monday, and must be moved within 10 days.

More than 200 well-wishers milled around the river-bank home last night. No formal protest was organized against the eviction. An unidentified Air Force Colonel loaned the Thayers with two foam-rubber mattresses to ease their nightly vigil.

"I've spent some time in all parts of the world, fighting such things as this," the beribboned officer said.

A local funeral home loaned a small panel truck for the couple to use as sleeping quarters.

Mrs. J. J. Shaffer, wife of the chief aircraft inspector at Kelly Air Force Base here, said the movement to help the old couple was "leadiness."

"A group of people just got together and tried to do something," she explained.

In Atlanta, Ga., diaper service trucks are forbidden to have musical hours playing "Rock-a-Bye-Baby," according to The American Magazine.

CAIRO PLACED UNDER STATE OF EMERGENCY DURING CRISIS

By Walter Collins
United Press Staff Correspondent
CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 20 (UP)—A British military truck was ambushed on a lonely Egyptian desert road west of the Suez Canal today and the driver wounded by a fusillade of shots.

It was the first bloodshed in the Anglo-Egyptian dispute since Wednesday. The attackers were not identified.

British Army sources said the truck was one used by the NAAFI

—The British Post Exchange Service—and was manned by two Egyptian employees. When the driver fell wounded, his companion took over the wheel and raced the truck back to its base.

The ambush came in the midst of these other developments in the Anglo-Egyptian crisis:

1. All Cairo was put under a state of emergency.

2. Egyptian director of education in the Sudan left by plane for the Sudanese capital in defiance of a British ban on his return.

3. Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohamed Salah El Din Bey threatened to take the Anglo-Egyptian dispute to the United Nations.

4. Britain further increased its strength in the canal zone against a possible showdown with Egypt over the right of British troops to guard the canal. Reinforcements totalling at least 6,000 troops and seven warships have arrived in the trouble zone since the first of the week.

The British truck was ambushed on a lonely stretch of road across the desert between Quassassin and Tel-El-Kebr, about 30 miles west of the Suez Canal.

The last previous bloodshed occurred early Wednesday, when British troops guarding the only bridge across the Canal killed two to five Egyptian soldiers after the Egyptians opened fire on them.

A British truck convoy also was fired upon between Ismailia and Tel-El-Kebr, not far from the latest ambush, on Thursday, but no one was killed or wounded on that occasion.

Mohamed Abdel Hadi Bey, Egyptian Director of Education in the Sudan and one of two Egyptian officials banned from the territory by its British-nominated governor yesterday, left Cairo by plane for the Sudanese capital, Khartoum, in open defiance of the British.

The pro-government newspaper Al Misri said Maj. Gen. Abel Fattah El Bashari Bey, chief of staff of Egyptian troops in the Sudan, also has been ordered to return to the Sudan as soon as he recovers from his present illness.

The newspaper said Robert G. Howe, British-nominated governor of the Sudan, no longer has any authority in the Sudan because it was annexed by Egypt earlier this week.

The whole dispute stems from Egypt's cancellation of its 1936 treaty with Britain. The treaty provided for joint Anglo-Egyptian administration of the Sudan and permitted Britain to station troops in the Suez Canal Zone for the protection of the Canal.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Rev. and Mrs. F. A. R. Morgan left Friday for Corsicana, where they will visit until Monday, when they leave for Houston to attend the Baptist General Convention. Following the sessions of the convention they plan to visit a number of missions in the South, in which they are vitally interested. They will be gone for a month or more.

The deer is an innocent looking animal, but farmers residing in the east end of Eastland county, say he can wreck havoc when he attacks a feed crop. And right now he is busy. Three young men killed a deer down there a few days ago, but they stayed within the law. The deer was killed because of his depredations, and the meat was sent to the Phythian Home in Weatherford.

A number of local Baptist are to leave over the week end for Houston, where they will attend the Baptist General convention.

Obituary Of W. H. (Harry) Taylor

By Rev. William V. Albert, pastor of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

A little after 9:30 p.m. Thursday night, October 18th, the soul of William Harry Taylor, distinguished, cultured, and much beloved citizen of Eastland, passed on to a larger life. For him the "busy world is hushed, and the fever of life is over, and his work is done." May the Good Lord grant him a holy rest and peace. All who knew Mr. Taylor admired him. His dignified bearing and serious, kindly face attracted the attention even of strangers. Behind all this was a manly, yet tender, soul of faith, hope, and love.

Harry Taylor was born on March 22, 1881, at Sarahsville, Ohio, of Columbia Glidden and Melville Evans Taylor. He was educated in the public schools of Columbus, Ohio and was graduated from Ohio State University in 1902.

Shortly after he was graduated from Ohio State, he married Mary Elizabeth Chase of Columbus. Of this union there were three children, Betty, Harriet, and Peggy.

The Taylors made their home in Clarksburg, West Virginia, where he engaged in the practice of law until coming to Eastland.

NEWS BRIEFS

By United Press

BOGOTA, Columbia—Government censors forced the newspaper El Siglo to shut down for 24 hours today because it violated an order not to print dispatches about Colombian troops going into action in Korea.

El Siglo, one of the nation's largest newspapers, reported on its front page Wednesday that a Colombian battalion with United Nations forces had begun combat. All newspapers had been warned the previous night not to publish such news.

No reason was given for the government's censorship order.

UN ADVANCE BASE, Munsan, Korea.—United Nations and Communist liaison officers cleared the next-to-the-last obstacle to resumption of the Korean cease-fire talks today.

There was speculation here that the armistice conference will be reopened in a circus tent at Panmunjom next Monday or Tuesday.

WASHINGTON—The United States has accused Russia of carrying aggression "to the threshold of world war III" through "one of the most blatantly aggressive policies in modern history."

The State Department, in a sharply worded 37-page booklet entitled "The Kremlin Speaks," accused the Soviets of using their United Nations membership to "obstruct and subvert the purposes" of the world organization.

Mavericks Defeated By Indians 35-6; Some Rulings Questioned

Again the Mavericks have been defeated. Comanche Indians managed to make five touchdowns and five extra points, while the Mavericks were held to six points. The Mavericks made more net gains than the Indians, but the scores fell on the Indians side. The Mavericks can be proud of their conduct and as long as they play this way, we are for them. Naturally they feel that the game was taken from them.

A pass from Stevens to Hanson, that proved to be a 69 yard gain, was the Maverick's only score. Haines stood out for the defense, but he was closely followed by Watson, Crisman, Jessop, Black, Muirhead and in fact most all the players put in everything they had during most of the game.

The game was rather fast from the beginning, but was marked with slugging and punching, which continued throughout the game. Also several decisions were very questionable. Later in the game when a Comanche boy was run out of bounds on the 30 yard line, he came back onto the field of play and was stopped on the 45 yard line at which the whistle blew, but he was allowed to continue on

House Committee Wants Look At Justice Files

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, accused of hindering prosecution of tax scandals, stood firm today against congressional demands that he unlock Justice Department files.

McGrath and a special House Ways and Means Subcommittee headed by Rep. Cecil R. King (D-Cal.) came to loggerheads on the question during a three-hour closed session yesterday.

McGrath offered to consider subcommittee requests for files only on "a case by case basis." And he admonished the group for prodding into some of the tax scandals that have popped up recently across the nation.

McGrath told reporters that he had given the subcommittee "some good counsel" in the case of former Boston tax collector Denis W. Delaney, who has been indicted on charges of taking money to influence his official decisions.

King revealed that McGrath "admitted" the subcommittee for going into the Boston case because it might "prejudice" the government's case against Delaney.

He said McGrath gave the subcommittee "a very plausible explanation" of charges that the Justice Department had stymied prosecution of former St. Louis tax collector James P. Finnegan, who has been indicted on charges of taking bribes.

McGrath told newsmen that Federal Judge George H. Moore of St. Louis had called him for help in presenting tax cases which were not even in the hands of the department. McGrath flatly denied that Moore had requested help in breaking a roadblock against prosecution of Finnegan.

King revealed that he has talked to Moore about the controversy call, and that there may be no conflict in the stories of the two men. He said Moore is willing to appear before the subcommittee "if necessary."

Meanwhile, Rep. Claude L. Baskerville (R-Mo.) introduced a resolution calling upon President Truman to fire McGrath because he "is a disgrace to the high office which he presently holds."

Congress Hurries To Pass Bills To End Long Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—Congress scrambled toward long delayed adjournment today with some $13,000,000,000 in spending bills awaiting final action.

Barring last-minute hitches, Congressional leaders expected to finish with the remaining appropriations bills and an assortment of minor bills and to adjourn some time this afternoon or tonight. Whatever the hour, the 1951 session was sure to be one of the longest continuous sessions in history.

Nearly all the money provided in the three remaining appropriations bills was earmarked for foreign aid or national defense and related activities. These bills included:

1. A $7,328,900,956 appropriation bill carrying funds for military and economic aid to non-Communist countries.

2. A supplemental appropriation providing about $1,600,000,000 for various government agencies, including those handling defense production, wage, price and rent controls and civil defense.

3. A second supplemental bill, totaling more than $4,000,000,000 most of it for military installations in the United States and abroad.

THE STORY: Captured by Sioux after the Fortemman massacre, John Clayton, a former scout, falls in love with an Indian girl, woman. But since he is prevented from marrying her by taboo, Clayton turns to a private war on whiskey runners. Clayton and some brave destroy some horses owned by an old enemy named Slatemeyer, and they take some scalps and one prisoner.

THREE months of slow-burning, winter sun and acrid lodge-smoke had apparently brought me to the point where a fellow white man could not discern my true color.

"Yellow Bird!" "Aye, Cetan Mani?" "Is my tongue straight?" This in English, of which Yellow Bird understood considerable and spoke a little.

"Aye," nodding soberly. "If I tell this dog I shall spare his life, will it be so?" "Aye."

"If I tell you to put his head in the shirt with that of the bald one, will you do it?" "Aye!" Lips lifted swiftly over gleaming teeth.

"Now then my friend," I snapped, "you heard, didn't you? You can talk or have your hair lifted off at the neck. I don't much care which, but it's going to be one

Bird east of forward, slitting a foot-long/skinnig knife out of its sheath as he came. "Where's Slatemeyer?"

The man talked. "Slatemeyer's gone north." The words tumbled all over each other now. "Left four days ago."

"What was the whiskey runner figuring that needed 30 Indians of a tribe that, not even excepting the Sioux, was as tough as any that roamed the prairies?"

I burst out: "Yellow Bird, the knife." He almost had our guest decapitated before the words were well out of my mouth. I was barely in time to knock his arm up.

"Now talk fast," I snarled, raising the runner clear of the ground. My fists knotted in his greasy buckskin shirt. "Who else was with him?"

"Another Injun, that's all. A little skinny Sioux." The chill of the words ran into me like the bite of a saber-blade. "What was he called?"

MY eyes must have been blazing like an animal's, for the fellow recoiled, gasping. "I think I heard Slatemeyer say so."

Tonkalla, the Mouse. So this was our traitor. Tonkalla, the sniveling, unpopular Sans Arc chief.

"Tonkalla was present in the council of the Fox Lodge at the camp of Tashunka Witko?" I shot at Yellow Bird, thinking I remembered him there.

POTPOURRI OR WORSE

By Major Hoople McCorkle, Telegram Philosopher

According to the 1951 model edition of the Texas Almanac this state has been growing a lot during the past few years. In area it will always lead the field. Why Texas is so big that if half a dozen states were joined together to make a big state to compete with Texas, it would still look like one of our big counties. If Texas grows in population to be anything like some of the compact states in the East, all the people in the United States and half of Canada would be living here. Then we would have plenty room left for rodeos, football and Democratic conventions.

Yep, Texas is a whooper, and we admit it. We have states in the East that are so small in area that they would not be considered as being big enough for a good Texas barbecue where son-of-a-gun with all the trimmings are served. If we can't do things in a big way, we just skip the whole thing. This is the home of million acre ranches and 10-section wheat farms. One chicken ranch in Texas is 9 miles long, and the owner has raised enough chickens to re-populate China, and they grow 'em thick over there.

We have a hotel in Texas that is so large and swanky that most Europeans are afraid to register in. Afraid they might get lost in the building, we suppose, or it might be they are afraid their manners would not stand the acid test of Texas Society Belles who gather there. It is really something—good enough for a native son of Texas to compliment. Nothing like it since the days when Solomon's Temple flourished. That was a pretty swanky building itself.

But why all this useless talk, when everybody who knows anything knows that if you can't find in Texas it isn't worth having.

A day or so ago we received a letter from Cal Farley, an old acquaintance of many years standing. It seems Cal gets his mail in Amarillo, but he operates at Old Tascosa, 40 miles northwest of that city.

Many years ago Cal discovered that he was interested in boys—underprivileged boys, and he did something about it. That's why he now serves as head-wrangler at Boy's Ranch. Cal sold out his business in Amarillo and began rounding up a group of boys who needed a friend. Some were good boys—possibly some not so good, but Cal took them in. Since that time a home has been provided for them. They get the kind of care and training any boy needs. They are future citizens and Cal asked them to be Good Citizens.

The ranch population began to grow, and today the ranch has its own school and church, and most everything else needed by a group of boys. They come from all over America. Recently Cal went to New York for a boy who had become a problem to authorities there. He asked that he be given custody of the boy, explaining that he though he could do something for him. Naturally the authorities thought it might

There is quite an expense connected with operating the ranch, so during recent year Mr. Farley has been sending out letters just before the holidays, inviting those who are able, and are in accord with his work, to contribute. LEGAL NOTICE

ORDER AND NOTICE OF ELECTION FOR THE RE-ALLOCATION OF CERTAIN COUNTY TAXES
THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF EASTLAND

On this the 11th day of October, 1951, the Commissioners Court of Eastland County, Texas, convened in regular session at a regular term of said Court at the courthouse in Eastland, Texas, the County Seat of said County, with the following members present, viz:

John S. Hart, County Judge; T. E. Castleberry, Commissioner Precinct No. 1; A. M. Thurman, Commissioner Precinct No. 2; Henry M. Carter, Commissioner Precinct No. 3; W. V. Love, County Clerk, with Arch Blunt, Commissioner Precinct No. 4 absent; and passed the following order:

It appears that at the general election held in and throughout the State of Texas on the 7th day of November, 1944, the qualified electors of the State, voting on the proposition, approved the amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of Texas by changing said Section 9 so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any County may re-allocate the County tax levies authorized in said Section by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said section (except the 15c voted road maintenance tax) by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed Eighty Cents (80c) on the One Hundred Dollars valuation for any one year (exclusive of the 15c voted road maintenance tax), but that before such Commissioners may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax-paying voters of such County at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters, voting at such election, and in event such re-allocation and changes in such County tax levies are approved by the qualified property tax-paying voters of any such County, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six years from the date of the election, at which same shall have been approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of such County, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose;

And it further appears that it will be to the best interest and general welfare of the County to re-allocate the County taxes authorized to be levied annually by Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution, by changing the rates in respect of certain County taxes as herein provided, and that it is accordingly the judgment of the Court that the proposition should be submitted to the qualified property tax-paying voters of said County at a special election;

THEREFORE, BE IT ORDERED BY THE COMMISSIONERS COURT OF EASTLAND COUNTY, TEXAS:

That a special election be held in said County on the 13th day of November, 1951, which is not less than thirty days from the date of the adoption of this Order, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted to the qualified tax-paying voters, who own taxable property in said County and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, for their action thereupon;

Not exceeding Thirty-five (35c) cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation of taxable property, in any one year, for County purposes;

Not exceeding Twenty-five (25c) cents on the One Hundred Dollar valuation of taxable property, in any one year, for roads and bridges;

Not exceeding Five (5c) cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation of taxable property in any one year, to supplement the jury fund of the County; and

Not exceeding Fifteen (15c) cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation of taxable property, in any one year, for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, waterworks and other permanent improvements.

Nothing herein shall be construed as rescinding or in any manner affecting the power and authority of the Commissioners Court of said County to continue the annual levy of the tax not exceeding Fifteen (15c) cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation of taxable property for the further maintenance of the public roads of said County pursuant to authority heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the Commissioners Court by a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the County voting at an election heretofore held for that purpose.

Said election shall be held under the provisions of the constitution and laws of the State of Texas, particularly amended Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution and Section 3-a of Article 6 of the Constitution, and all persons who are legal voters of Eastland County and who are resident property taxpayers of said County, and who have duly rendered their property for taxation, shall be entitled to vote at said election.

All voters who desire to support the proposition shall have written or printed on their ballots the words:

AND those opposed thereto shall have written or printed on their ballots the words:

Grow Christmas Flowers From Bulbs in Water

Growing flowers for Christmas in the modern home is not easy, but it can be done if Paper White Narcissus bulbs are started Nov. 1, and grown in carefully regulated temperatures. Without such care the flowers are likely to be inferior, and the stems weak, because the bulbs have not matured to the degree most favorable for "forcing."

"Forcing" is the florist's word for making a plant flower out of season; and the formula for accomplishing this is much the same with all bulbs. Bulbs develop, even in storage; and take time to reach the stage where they are ready to grow. If planted then, they first must produce roots, since top growth without good roots is weak, and seldom flowers.

Paper White narcissi, planted in bowls filled with gravel or pebbles, should be kept in a temperature below 60 degrees for four weeks; preferably in dim light. When root growth is sufficient, top growth will begin, and then they should have all the light possible. Best flowers will result when the temperature never exceeds 70 degrees; keep them away from radiators and steam pipes, and out of overheated living rooms.

Instead of gravel, bowls may be filled with bulb fibre, or peat soil. Containers should be deep enough to allow two inches of gravel, fibre or soil below them. Set the bulbs close together but do not let them touch; and only the necks should emerge from the soil.

Yellow Paper Whites (soliel d'or) and Narcissus Early Perfection can also be grown by these methods; but they take longer to make flowers. The best time to start all these is Dec. 1, for mid-January flowers.

Large bulbs of hyacinths can be grown in water in special glasses; and both bulbs and glasses are available this year for the first time since the war began. The glasses support the bulbs just above the water, into which their roots drop. It takes 10 to 12 weeks for the roots to develop, in a dark place, in cool temperature. When roots fill the glass and top growth begins, accustom the plant gradually to light, and grow slowly in a temperature below 65 degrees. The water should not be changed, but merely replenished.

When top growth begins, these bulbs must have all the light you can give them. They should be kept near windows, in a sunparlor or room where ventilation can be given and temperatures kept down. By arranging shelves in front of a window on which the plants can stand, an attractive display is made.

Lily of the Valley pipe can be flowered in bowls of moss and water.

Racing Scandal Revealed At Eastern Tracks

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 20 (UP)—A Rhode Island horse race "fixing" scandal which has resulted in the indictment of six men, including three jockeys, threatened today to spread to tracks throughout the East.

Attorney-General William E. Powers asked for the co-operation of jockeys in New Hampshire, New York, and Maryland and said that "no set of circumstances would induce me to prosecute those jockeys who voluntarily implicated themselves in order to reveal the identity of others." Powers predicted prosecutions in New Hampshire—site of Rockingham Park—and said actions also would be taken in "other states where this racket has been practiced."

Yesterday's indictments—charging 12 "fixes" or attempted "fixes" at Lincoln Downs and Narragansett Park—were returned against jockeys Carroll Haire, Richard Lawless and Richard Williams; and Paul Kanall, Bob

Crocker and a man known only as "Al."

The indicted jockeys were accused of accepting money from the other three men to "pull" several mounts during last fall's race meetings at the Rhode Island tracks.

The man named "Al" was described by Moore as a race track hangeron who had enough $100 bills "to paper the walls of the room."

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

Some-where a Road is Call-ing

If the purr of a great-powered engine is music to your ears—

If command of two tons and more of nimble-footed and beautifully balanced automobile can step up your pulse beat—

You are just the man for whom a ROADMASTER was engineered.

Whatever it takes to give you a sense of complete and carefree freedom behind its wheel, you'll find in this proud master of the highways.

Added to the breadth and length that any fine car can give you are four soft-action coil springs to cushion the wheels, and a torque-tube to banish rear-wheel wander.

Added to its high-compression, valve-in-head engine are eight exclusive Fireball combustion chambers that get extra power from each whirling charge of fuel.

Added to the convenience of clutch-free driving is the torque-converter principle of Dynaflo Drive—that feeds a steady flow of power without lag or falter ever.

Added to the light responsiveness of its steering wheel is a Buick-engineered "front-end geometry" that gives this phenomenal performer a sense of direction straight and true.

But no roll call of engineering accomplishments can tell you the feel of a ROADMASTER out on the road.

That's something that only firsthand acquaintance can bring. Not just a trip around the block—but enough time and enough miles to let you discover what a joyous companion this great car can be.

That's something that is easily arranged. If you're truly interested, a phone call will bring a ROADMASTER to your door.

Equipment, accessories, trim and model are subject to change without notice.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE
The character of daily worship and living that sets the individual at-one with the divine nature is the only acceptable atonement, declares the Lesson-Sermon titled "Doctrine of Atonement" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 21.
The Golden Text makes the point clear. It reads, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold all things are become new" (II Corinthians 5:17).

Faith In God And Self Key To Happiness, Opinion Of Kaiser

Industrialist Henry J. Kaiser, delivering a national Laymen's Sunday sermon, declared that faith is the key both to the individual making his life really successful and satisfying, and to the free peoples of the world winning their present struggle to "keep alive the priceless values of the human spirit."

"The fully rounded faith," Mr. Kaiser said, "has three interwoven parts:

"1. Faith in yourself and your highest aspirations, which releases your creative inner powers and gives your daily life direction, adventure and meaning.

"2. Faith in your fellowmen, whom you love and serve.

"3. Faith in God that answers the questions and longings of your soul—gives you help from the Higher Source—and sees the workings of the Creator in everything."

The National Council of Churches of Christ arranged that Mr. Kaiser's message on "Faith," delivered in San Francisco, would be heard in every part of the country over the Columbia Broadcasting System's "Church of the Air."

"These are times demanding tremendous faith," Mr. Kaiser asserted, "when civilization has invented the means of its own utter destruction. Totalitarian systems are trying to crush out the faith in God and substitute the state and a dictator as master over all thoughts, all aspirations and the lives of people.

"The faiths that men and nations can live by are at stake—faith in God and worship, faith in achieving lasting peace, faith in freedom and the sanctity of the individual.

"It is my conviction that faith is stronger than disbelief; faith can overcome fear and hopelessness. Surely mankind needs a re-birth of faith during the present war for men's minds," he said.

Poor Season On Doves Shown By Return Of Bands

AUSTIN, Oct. — The poor mourning dove season in the north zone has been reflected in the low number of branded birds reported to the Game and Fish Commission.

The Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Commission said only 34 bands were returned by October 15 for the season which ended October 19. All but nine of these doves had been banded this year and the others in 1950.

He added that interest in dove banding now shifts to the south zone season opening November 15, explaining that the banding reports will help judge whether more birds are available for this year's shoot, which was postponed by popular demand.

Some interesting tales were concealed behind the simple metal bands retrieved from the dove legs and forwarded to the Commission where banding data and harvesting data are compared.

One dove banded in Cooke county last year was bagged this season in Medina county, more than 200 miles to the south.

One dove killed this year in Ford county was banded ten miles away last year. A similar case was reported from Tom Green county.

Most of the doves had moved westward after being banded. One drastic exception was the dove banded four miles north of Laredo this year and killed three months later near LaSalle. It had moved straight northward. This area, although in the south zone was to mourning dove hunting during whitewing season.

Scientists use the banding data to determine feeding and migration habits as a means of setting seasons and bag limits.

The world's first streamlined ferryboat, the Kalakala, built in 1935 at the Lake Washington shipyards in Seattle, was put in operation between Seattle and Bremerton.

EASTLAND'S MANUFACTURING PLANTS

Hollywood Corset Company Has Big Pay Roll; 70 Women Are Employed At Garment Factory

Along with other Eastland Manufacturing plants, we would mention the Hollywood Corset Co., an established manufacturing plant of no small proportions. The only thing that has puzzled us is the name of the firm—Hollywood Corset Co. There has never been a corset manufacturer in the Eastland plant. The only product is brassieres.

The plant here was established in November 1946 and has been in operation since that time, according to Mrs. Stella Grigsby, manager.

Approximately 70 women are employed here. Most of these women live in Eastland though there are few who reside in Cisco, Carbon, Queen and Morton Valley.

Approximately 60 machines are operated almost continuously and many hundreds of thousands of garments are turned out each year. Most of the women work on the piece work plan and some of the more proficient and skilled workers draw weekly checks that would make the average man sit up and take notice. Checks for all groups will average about $40.00 per week though some workers have passed the $60.00 mark.

The plant enjoys a very low labor turn-over. Most employees are settled, married women, who reside in the city and are satisfied. Some have been with the company since the plant was first opened.

Those wishing to work are given a 3-months training period, though some women who are already expert machine operators finish their training in a week or so. They are then put in the production line with a guarantee of $30.00 a week as a minimum. As was stated above very few remain in the $30. class, but continue until their weekly checks run up to $50. a week and even more.

Inspectors and floor girls, of course, work on a flat salary. Forty hours is considered a week, but during recent months considerable overtime has been made. This time and a half pay goes to piece workers as well as those on regular salary.

Garments, when completed here, are shipped to Kansas City for general distribution.

The weekly pay roll runs around $2,500, which means that in the course of a year workers in Eastland will collect approximately $120,000.00. This represents new money—money from other points in America coming in to pay for Eastland labor. Very likely most of this money is spent with local merchants, and in this manner it helps all.

What Eastland needs is more pay roads!

Fort Okanogan was the first American structure built in the present state of Washington.

Economists estimate it takes from $25,000 to $30,000 to start a farm project big enough to support a family in most of the country's regions.

Artificial Breeding Has Been Success, Say County Dairymen

The quality of dairy animals over the county are expected to improve annually through artificial breeding to outstanding bulls believes A. Z. Myrick, Cisco, president of the County Dairy Association which sponsors the breeding program.

"Very likely the annual butterfat production of the average milk cow in early 1949 when we got the artificial breeding program going would not go over 130 to 140 pounds per cow," Myrick commented.

When the second generation of heifers from artificial insemination comes into milk both the butterfat and production is expected to materially increase, was his opinion and the opinion of a number of dairymen in the group who breed their cows artificially.

Some of the best dairy bulls in the United States are on the North Texas Artificial Breeding Farms near Dallas who are cooperating in the local breeding program. These bulls are available to anyone who has a dairy cow within thirty miles of Cisco for a reasonable fee by Clyde Hickson, Cisco, breeding technician. Hickson has been on the job performing this service for the past 11 months.

Those wishing their animals bred are asked to call 605 W at Cisco before 10 a.m. on the day they wish the service and leave their name and directions for getting to the place and making sure that the cow is kept up and if possible away from other animals.

HOLDING WATER WHERE IT FALLS

Contouring is basic to conservation farming. Coupled with good rotations and soil management practices, contouring is fundamental to the preservation of our soil and water resources.

Contour furrows slow down water movement and help prevent topsoil loss. Too, they trap rainfall so that it soaks into the earth for later use by crops in arid periods when the soil would otherwise be dry.

The value of contouring has been proven year after year in better crops and greater yields on thousands of farms in every section of the country.

The County Agent and Soil Conservation Service Technician will help you in plans for contouring your land.
