Bring your troubles to us. We are not busy and if there is anything we like to do, it is helping the other fellow attend to his business. That is the reason we don't have any of our own, the wife says.

As a matter of fact we don't have very much to show for it. But that's alright — we would take care of your case first even if we had a little business of our own to take care of.

We struck a fellow this morning who seemed to be suffering from an acute attack of "truckitis." That's the medical term for "jitters," and we use it merely to prove that our education has not been neglected along these lines. Truckitis is a very "catching" disease, and once you are exposed no use seeing a doctor—just go on home and get in the bed. As a rule the disease is not fatal, but in the early stages people have been known to swallow cigars, jump bridges and even "ceus."

First symptoms will be noted when you take the family car out for a little airing, and you meet two or three big trucks that are making sixty or seventy miles an hour. Your blood count goes up a little and you automatically take one hand off the steering wheel and rub your chin. This is done to prove you have everything under control. You clear your throat and look up in the mirror. You see four big trucks behind you, and your blood count hits the ceiling. If you keep your present speed, and the trucks hold their, the meeting will take place in one spot, and you will be in the middle. If you speed up a little a motor cop will dive out of the bar pit and give you a ticket for speeding. If you reduce your speed the trucks following you will knock you to kingdom come, and if you stop still it will be the last stop you will ever make. After the trucks pass over you, you will be flatter than a pancake and your car will be buried in the concrete. If you manage to escape with your life you will never look like anything again, but you will have "truckitis."

J. M. Cooper has just returned from Memphis, Tenn., and he says we don't know what traffic is out here in West Texas. He got into a heavy traffic line near Vinita, Okla., the point where three big highways empty into one. Up there they have some really big trucks and transports, so large that they make an ordinary oil field truck look like a baby buggy. He got caught in the jam and couldn't get out until he hit the Red River. There he jumped the bridge railings, swam to the Texas side and followed a farm-to-market road into Eastland. We think he is taking truckitis, for he is afraid to walk across the courthouse lobby unless somebody is holding his hand, and not then unless there are at least two traffic cops present.

300 Attend Quarter Century Club Dinner Of TESCO; 2 Eastland Men Awarded Watches; Rand Is Speaker

More than 300 Texas Electric Service Company officers, employees and their guests, enjoyed their annual Quarter Century Dinner at the High School gymnasium Monday evening at 6:30.

The new members to the club were added last evening and were presented with watches by J. B. Thomas, president of the company, and resident of Fort Worth. Those receiving watches were Frank T. Hightower and Howard McDonald of Eastland.

To say that the dinner and program were complete in every way would be stating a fact very mildly. The dinner began at 6:30 p. m. though the crowd began arriving quite a while before that time. The dinner proved to be one of the best ever held. As advertised it consisted of barbecued ham and beef, green vegetables, strips, pinto beans ranch style, assorted relish, French bread, ice cream, coffee, milk and soft drinks. And there was an abundance of every item mentioned.

Eastland area has quite a number of Quarter Century Club members, many of them residing in this area. Other than the two new members who were awarded watches last evening, Eastland area members are: J. F. Collins, O. L. Hooper, A. Fauth, H. M. Hart, W. B. Pickens, Marjorie Van Hoose, Earl Woody, and Roy Young of Eastland; W. W. Laney, A. R. Lowmire, Gay Quinn and A. M. White, Leon Plant; H. R. Shackelford, and R. E. Lee, Breckenridge; L. D. Stewart, DeLeon and A. N. Larson of Ranger.

District Manager W. B. Pickens served as master of ceremonies. After introducing guests the program began. Invocation was delivered by S. B. Harbison. President Thomas made a short talk and delivered the watches. After which the meeting was turned over to the guest speaker, Clayton Rand.

Mr. Rand who resides in Gulfport, Miss., is one of America's outstanding entertainers, and columnists, and he kept his hearers uproariously happy from beginning to end. There wasn't a dull moment.

Mr. Rand has ideas all his own. He is more or less opposed to the New Deal, Fair Deal and Raw Deal. He thinks pretty well of Texans, and wants the world to know that Mississippi helped Texas become an independent nation.

Eastland County Gets Wildcat

John V. Tuttle, et al. Ranger, has staked no. 1 Houston Branch on an Eastland County wildcat seven miles east of Eastland. Projected to 1,990 feet with cable tools, it will be located 2,450 feet from the south and 1,515 feet from the east lines of William Van Norman Survey.

WTCC Delegates Will Hear Dr. Humphrey Lee At Convention

AMARILLO, Nov. 6—Dr. Humphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist University, who is author of a book entitled "The Bible and Business," will address delegates to the 34th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here Thursday evening, Nov. 15, at Fair Park Pavilion.

There were more Mississippians killed in the Alamo than there were Texans.

He did not neglect women hearers. In fact he paid high tribute to the weaker sex, but could not skip the story of a woman who, after wearing the new off of her husband, sat down for reflections. After studying for a while she admitted to herself that if she had used a little more patience she might have done better.

In the wild rush for gain and pleasure he said the average American didn't have sense enough to be happy.

High prices were decried. And after Mr. Thomas brought to his attention that electricity was cheap, he added, yes electricity and soda pop are about the only items we can purchase at old time prices.

Washington, D. C. was described as the District of Confusion. Republican, he said, know how they are going to hell, but Democrats don't know where in the hell they are going.

We are living in an area of artificial prosperity, he said, and American women are not really themselves, but products of advertising. The country's future is operating on the degree system. British socialism is just a degree of Communism, and present day "fair dealism" is just another degree of both.

Services Held At X-Ray For Augustus Cramer

Services were held yesterday for Augustus C. Cramer, who died in a Ranger hospital November 4. He was born in Cass County, Texas, January 15, 1877, and had been a resident of Stephens and Erath County for the past 67 years.

The deceased was married to Cora Davis in 1899 and she survives him at Caddo, Texas. Services were held at the X-Ray church at 2:30 yesterday evening with Rev. Rucker of Straw and Rev. Grace of Caddo officiating. Singing was by Bill Bullock of Ranger. Interment was in the X-Ray Cemetery.

The deceased is also survived by three sons: O. M. Cramer of Caddo; T. O. Cramer of Huckabay; L. O. of Fort Worth; and four daughters, Mrs. Bill Keener of Gordon; Mrs. Odell Booth of Ranger; and Mrs. Willie Smith and Mrs. W. T. Kennedy of Fort Worth.

Sisters surviving Mr. Cramer are Mrs. E. A. Davis of X-Ray, and Mrs. L. B. Venable of Bovina, Texas. One brother survives; Mr. T. M. Fuller of Gordon.

Fifteen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also survive. The grandchildren served as pallbearers at the services.

TEXANS REMINDED OF SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW PASSED

Public Safety Director Homer Garrison, Jr., reminded Texas motorists tonight that their licenses to own or operate an automobile will be suspended if they are involved in a traffic accident and fail to meet damage claims up to $15,000 when the state's new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law becomes effective on January 1.

Declaring it "will greatly affect the personal safety and economic security of every man, woman, and child in the state," Director Garrison gave the public its first official analysis of the new law since its adoption by the last session of the legislature. He spoke from Austin over a state-wide radio network and announced that during the next two months the Texas Department of Public Safety will fully acquaint the people with the purpose and requirements of the law through the press and radio and by means of an official leaflet that may be obtained at any service station.

Director Garrison pointed to the rapidly increasing number of traffic accidents and public indignation over the failure of motor vehicle owners and operators to pay for the damage they cause through negligence as the reasons that prompted the legislature to enact the law, which closely follows safety responsibility statutes in 34 other states. He declared the law's primary objectives were to deny all motoring privileges to owners or operators who do not meet just damage claims resulting from accidents and to put chronic accident causers off of the highways permanently.

In a carefully summarized explanation of the law's principal features, Director Garrison explained its operation as follows: The operator of every motor vehicle that is involved in an accident resulting in death or injury to a person, or property damage to any one person exceeding $100, must file with the Texas Department of Public Safety a new report in addition to the regular accident report that is now required by the state's Uniform Traffic Law. The regular accident report must be filed within 24 hours, but motorists have up to 10 days to file the new report form. Both reports are mandatory regardless of who caused the accident.

The law does not apply, except with respect to filing the new report form, to insured owners or operators, provided the insurance covers possible damage claims resulting from a traffic accident, up to $15,000. Uninsured motorists will receive a notice from the Texas Department of Public Safety that they must deposit sufficient security to cover the damage they caused, as determined by the Department. This may range anywhere from $101 to $15,000, and the collateral may be in the form of cash or negotiable securities. The deposit must be made with the Department within a maximum of 60 days after the accident report was filed.

An uninsured motorist will not be required to deposit security, however, if he files satisfactory evidence, within the 60-day period, that he has been released from liability, been finally adjudicated not to be liable, executed a duly acknowledged written agreement to pay damage claims up to $15,000, or that his motor vehicle was legally parked or was being operated without his permission at the time of the accident.

Should an uninsured motorist fail to meet any of these requirements within 60 days after filing his accident report, both his operator's license and registration of ownership will be suspended until he does or until a year has elapsed without court action for damages being filed. Suspension of registration will apply to all cars owned by the defaulting motorist.

Rotary Members Visit Ceramic Plant Monday

We've seen everything now! Solomon was wrong for there is "something new under the sun." A "speechless luncheon" proves it.

Rotarians met Monday for their weekly luncheon, with good attendance and several visitors. A splendid luncheon was enjoyed by the group, after which the business session was held.

Several of the visitors have been contacted since that time and they report an educational visit. So it has been proven a speechless luncheon is not impossible.

The true life story of one of the Home boys who overcame physical handicaps to realize a lifelong ambition to be a pilot will also be told. He now flies a jet plane as a Marine Corps captain. A medley of patriotic songs will be offered by the Methodist Home choir.

Stations who are cooperating with the Home in presenting the weekly radio feature are KPRC, Houston; WOAI, San Antonio; WFAA, Dallas; KVAL, Brownsville; KRIS, Corpus Christi; KFDM, Beaumont; KRGV, Weslaco; KGNC, Amarillo; KRDD, El Paso; KFYO, Lubbock; KGGM, Albuquerque; KPRO, Longview; KERB, Kermit; KTBC, Austin; and KEST, Big Spring.

"Ike" Still Silent About Future Plans

Water Rationing In Eastland Ends For Time Being

The Eastland City Commission has withdrawn the restrictions for washing cars and the penalty rates on residential water meters for the month of November, 1951. Conditions at the end of November, 1951, as to the amount of rainfall, amount of water used in November, and the water level in the lake, will determine whether the restrictions will have to be put back in effect.

With very few exceptions the citizens have cooperated wholeheartedly in the use of water during the month of October, when the restrictions were in effect, and we ask for your continued help in conserving water, until we can get more water in Eastland Lake. Before our two recent rains the water in the lake was 96" below the spillway. The water level is now 73 1/2 inches below the spillway. We caught 22 1/2" of water in the lake from the last two rains.

During the month of August, 1951 we used almost a million gallons of water per day. In November we used four hundred thousand gallons of water per day, which is a reduction of sixty percent.

We greatly appreciate this wonderful cooperation, during a time when a serious situation existed. This is another example of the wonderful spirit of cooperation shown by the citizens of Eastland.

We want to thank you for your confidence in approving the water improvement bonds on last Saturday, and this work will be pushed to completion at the earliest date possible. The raising of the spillways should enlarge our lake sufficiently so that we will not run into a serious water shortage, in the future.

We would like to call your attention to the fact, in a great many cases of large water bills, the water has not been actually used, but is wasted. Leaks are an important item in the conservation of water. You should watch very closely for leaks or waste, and any leaks should be repaired promptly. About ninety percent of all leaks are caused from water going into the overflow pipe in the commode tank. If the valve in the tank is not seating correctly the water will continue to run over into the overflow pipe. Please watch this very closely. The smallest leak a person can have in a water pipe will waste 6500 gallons of water in one month. Repair hydrants which are dripping. We still have a serious water shortage.

If the city of Eastland can be of service at any time to help in detecting leaks, please feel free to call on us.

TB Tests To Be Made Wed.; X-Ray Pictures

The State Health Department is moving X-Ray equipment to Eastland today and on Wednesday and Thursday of this week free X-Ray pictures and examinations will be made. Primarily this is a service used to combat TB. Not only will lives be saved, but the state figures it a good investment.

So if you are in doubt of your physical condition plan to take the examination. Offices at the King Motor company have been procured, and volunteer workers from various city clubs will act as hostesses.

Remember its all free. Just go to King Motor Co., Eastland, and tell a hostess what you want. Two days only—Wednesday and Thursday.

GENERAL MAKING ROUND OF CONFERENCES BEFORE RETURN

By Dayton Moore
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his political thoughts as great a mystery as ever, scheduled two more top-level military conferences before returning to Atlantic Pact Army headquarters in Paris today.

Eisenhower, who says he hasn't talked politics with anyone—not even President Truman—since he arrived here Sunday night, met in the Pentagon (at 9 a. m. EST) with top-officers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) stationed in Washington.

The General was scheduled to confer with the joint chiefs of staff an hour later, and then drive to National Airport for a news conference (at 10:40 a. m.). He hoped to take off about noon.

Eisenhower's meeting with newsmen today gave him one last opportunity before returning to Paris to cast a little light on the political mystery. But no one expected him to do so.

The details of Eisenhower's talks with Mr. Truman and top Defense and State Department officials yesterday were as scarce as information on his political plans—if any.

The White House said merely that the round of conferences dealt with "allocation, production, NATO and SHAPE (Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe)."

Eisenhower and his wife entertained a small group of friends at dinner in the General's hotel suite last night.

The guests included Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson and White House intimate George Allen, who said it was "just a bridge game."

Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) a leader of the Republican Eisenhower-for-President bloc, had not seen the General, although he said last week that he would contact Eisenhower while he was in town. Eisenhower said he would be glad to see Duff as an old friend.

The only apparent break in the fog surrounding Eisenhower's political thoughts occurred when newsmen asked him if he would let anyone talk politics on this trip. The 61-year-old general replied: "No, not just now."

But whether this meant that Eisenhower would accept a nomination for president next year was anybody's guess.

He told reporters that he had given no one authority to undertake any political activity in his behalf. Some of Eisenhower's GOP supporters apparently fear that if the General does not give at least a private nod of such authority, it might be impossible to overtake the running start of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the only announced candidate for the Republican nomination.

Starting at 9 a. m. yesterday, Eisenhower went from one conference to another until after 5:30 p. m. He took an hour out to go to the Army's Walter Reed hospital to get his teeth cleaned and checked, but even then he took along Gen. Walter B. Smith, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, for a chat during the drive.

Eisenhower conferred with Mr. Truman at a private luncheon, and also met with Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett, Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr., Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff.

Other Defense and State Department officials joined them for a full dress conference at the White House in the afternoon.

Informed sources said Eisenhower urged that shipments of American military aid be stepped up greatly so that 43 ground divisions could be fully equipped and made ready in Western Europe in the near future to meet a possible Russian attack.

The following men have been forwarded to Abilene Main Recruiting and Induction station for final processing prior to entrance in the U. S. Air Force:

Edward G. Henderson, Jerry Max Lasater and Robert C. Atchison, all employed by the Lone Star Gas company. Henderson and Lasater reside in Eastland and Atchison in Gorman. John M. Monk and Charles D. Warren of Cisco and Bill B. Shelton, Ranger.

Henderson, Lasater and Atchison were recently reclassified from 3A to 1A.

He worked his way through Harvard college, and admitted that he made more money than the college president. He borrowed $35 to go to college, and entered the peanut business, and after the peanut business began to grow, he was not only able to pay back the money, but helped his family at home.

He says he doesn't look for war with Russia, but if Stalin happened to say Margaret Truman could not sing, Harry would be on him in 24 hours.

For almost an hour he continued these cracks to the delight of all his hearers, and the meeting was considered one of the company's best.

Mr. Thomas in his address gave a few figures concerning the Texas Electric set up. The company has 1,824 employees and each of them represents a company investment of $60,000. He likes to feel that it is just one big family. During the past year there have been 91 babies born, seven deaths and 50 marriages in the organization. Eighteen have retired, and during vacation time 11,230 days were consumed by employees. It means that if one man could have gotten all this vacation alone he would have been on the pay roll for 53 years before he did a day's work.

Mr. Thomas told of the company's expansion program, and insisted that things may not be too bad after all. He sounded very optimistic note. Selah!

XXII I COULD not follow Slatemeyer. For neither of my hands had survived the pressures of his strength with enough force left to grip the blade properly. I could not risk losing the knife by striking at him, even though his left arm dangled uselessly.

Then as I watched him approaching I saw something. A little thing, the kind upon which battles turn. Just before he began to move in, the fingers on his left hand, the "useless" one, flexed, unflexed, then flexed again.

My mind jumped. Either that dangling arm had been a ruse all along or he had just gotten back use of it. At any rate he was playing it as a ruse now, not knowing I was on to the game.

When we were six feet apart Slatemeyer erupted into motion. I saw his jaw muscles twitch a hair of an instant before he leaped and I released my whole power toward my one objective, his "useless" left arm.

The knife came sliding from his good right into his bad left hand a light-flash before my teeth buried themselves in the bones of his left wrist. The heavy bowie knife thudded into the dust beneath us. The guess had paid off. He had tried the Sioux hand-shift. Had I not seen the fingers of that left hand flex themselves before his leap, the broad blade would have been resting in my vitals, not dust. We went rolling over and over, he snarling and grunting as he sought crazily for my knife-arm. Surging upward I managed to bridge my body enough to free my left arm. Flinging this upward I loud enough to carry above the crackling flames, she replied, "And receive you, my offering." With the words she raised the sacred buffalo-hide doll high above her head and flung it after the heart of the whiskey runner into the fire. The little doll burned brightly for a moment and was gone. There was a long gasp from the watching Sioux then silence. Star stood defiantly her eyes sweeping the ranks of her tribespeople. A shadow fell between her and me. Crazy Horse stood before us. Here was another of those unpredictable Indian instants I had brought the heart of her violator to their holy woman and this was right. But she in turn had cast from her the symbol of her nobleness, renouncing in the passion of the act, her holy status. This might prove very much wrong. Judging from the shocked mutterings among the medicine men, this latter seemed very likely. "I respect them," called out Crazy Horse unexpectedly. "It is our way of doing things." An angry, sullen growl sprang up among the medicine men. THE war chief continued, facing them challengingly. "That which was holy within her she has flung after the heart of him who destroyed it in her. She has already told me this on the sun of her capture. Now that which is woman, remaining in her, she would bestow upon him who avenged her. I say this is right. Let them walk in peace." The scowls and bitter denunciations of the medicine men were lost in the thundering shout which went up from the warriors. "Hun-hun-let! Let them walk in peace." I leaped over the fire to Star's side and she rose to meet me, casting from her shoulders as she did, the white elk robe of the Wiyaw Wakan. I swept her into my arms and together we made our way to my tipi through the milling, howling mass of warriors already beginning the celebration dance of our nuptials. (To Be Continued)

Miss "X" Given Temporary Name

DALLAS, Nov. 6 (UP)—Seventeen-year-old Miss "X" had a name today, at least temporarily. She was believed to be Miss Viola Endsley, a former employee of the Postoffice Cafe in Fort Worth.

Miss "X" Given Temporary Name

Another Fort Worth resident, Harvey Uselton, also identified the amnesia victim as Miss Endsley, his cousin. Officers said today Mrs. James planned to return here with "proof" of the identification. Miss X, as she was called by attendants at Parkland Hospital where she was taken, wandered into a Dallas filling station Sunday and announced she didn't know who she was. She carried only a tube of lipstick and no identification.

THIS IS ONE BUS—This was the aftermath of a spectacular crash of a Washington-bound Trailways bus at Gainesville, Va. Five persons were killed and two dozen more injured when the big bus skidded on wet pavement and folded itself completely around a tree. Police believe the driver was blinded by lights of an approaching car.

Fanatic Reds Take 3 Hills From UN Forces

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 6 (UP)—Waves of screaming Chinese Reds supported by tanks smashed through United Nations lines on the western front today and captured a hill, the third they have taken and held in three days of heavy attacks.

An 8th Army communique said Communist self-propelled guns, artillery and motors also supported the thrust northwest of Yonchon with a "heavy concentration of fire."

A smaller-scale Communist attack west of Yonchon drove other UN units from advance positions, but the Allies regrouped and recaptured the lost ground against light enemy resistance.

Farther east, two Communist battalions drove the allies off two more hills north of Chorwon shortly after midnight (10 a.m. Monday EST). But there, too, the Allies recaptured the lost ground without resistance later in the morning.

A UN tank-infantry task force struck back on the central front with a raid deep into the area east of Kumsong. They damaged 32 enemy bunkers and 12 buildings before returning to base.

The increasing enemy attacks added hundreds more to the growing Communist casualty lists. The 8th Army announced that Allied soldiers killed, wounded or captured more than 74,000 Communist troops last month.

The toll comprised 48,181 killed, 23,366 wounded and 3,211 captured.

The Reds directed their main effort against the Allied lines west and northwest of Yonchon, where UN forces threaten to outflank Kaesong, site of the headquarters of the Communist army.

Lubbock Takes Top Spot in State Football

DALLAS, Nov. 6 (UP)—Lubbock displaced Houston Lamar as the state's No. 1 Class 4-A schoolboy football power in the Dallas Morning News' weekly poll today as only one newcomer made the top 10.

The Westerners' 33-7 contest of hitherto unbeaten Pampa boosted the Westerners up one notch and dropped Lamar from the lead by a single point.

Fort Worth Arlington Heights replaced Abilene in the top 10, taking over ninth place.

Corpus Christi Ray and Baytown each moved up a notch from a week ago, Ray to third and Baytown to fourth. Pampa was in fifth, Odessa sixth, Port Arthur seventh, Texarkana eight and Amarillo tenth.

None of the top 10 meet each other this week.

A UN tank-infantry task force delegation, 20 to 25 miles to the southwest.

The 8th Army communique said the Chinese hurled at least two battalions of their infantry—up to 1,600 men—in waves against UN positions northwest of Yonchon in their latest attack.

Drake Star Back Career Is Ended

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 6 (UP)—Johnny Bright, greatest ground gainer in collegiate football history, has been forced to end his college career because of a broken jaw suffered in what his school calls "vicious and intentional attacks."

Bright, sensational Drake University halfback, announced yesterday that he would follow a doctor's suggestion that he sit out Drake's remaining game of the season Saturday against Wichita.

Bright was injured Oct. 20 in a collision with tackle Wilbanks Smith of Oklahoma A&M. Drake protested to the Missouri Valley Conference that Smith smacked Bright three times with his forearm in "intentional and vicious attacks." Both teams are members of the conference.

The Aggies are studying the protest and no action has yet been taken by the conference.

The Negro back early this year broke the all-time ground gaining record of Charlie (Choo-Choo) Justice of North Carolina. Bright gained 5,903 yards in three years and averaged 256.1 yards a game in 25 games.

Each time he carried the ball Bright averaged 6.1 yards for a rushing total of 3,134 yards. He completed 167 out of 813 passes for another 2,769 yards and an average of 17.7 yards.

Double Birthday Party Honors Rogers' Children

A birthday party honoring Cathy and Randall was given Friday, November 2, in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton L. Rogers, of 502 South Pecan Street in Ranger.

A number of games were played, after which Cathy, four and Randall, 2, opened their gifts.

The group gathered around the dining table which was centered with the birthday cakes, beautifully decorated in pink and white. The children sang Happy Birthday as the two honorees made their birthday wishes and blew out the candles.

Those present were Sharon and Dewaine Brown of Alameda, Laduan and Lynette Dorsey of Eastland, Paul Arterburn, Billy Robinson and the honorees.

Mrs. Rogers was assisted in entertaining the children by Mrs. Dorsey.

Y. W. A. Entertains At Supper Saturday

Members of the Young Women's Association of the First Baptist church had a covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the fellowship room of the church.

The table was laid in white linen and decorated with autumn leaves and bowls of colorful candy.

Present were Mae Edna Ward, Gay Poe, Jana Weaver, Edith Allison and their guests, Eldress Gattis, Gay Poe, Don Kincaid and Derrell Black.

Hand Grenade Kills Father

BON WEIR, Nov. 6 (UP)—An Army munitions expert was due here today to investigate a hand grenade explosion which killed a father and wounded his three children.

James Dick's three children ran into his bedroom here yesterday to wake him and brought with them a "toy" they found under the Sabine River Bridge. Dick pulled a pin on the "toy"—a hand grenade—and it exploded, killing him instantly and seriously wounding six-year-old Bonnie Sue Dick. Two other children, Willie, 12, and J. W., 4, suffered minor injuries.

Bonnie Sue was being treated today at nearby Newton County Memorial hospital at Newton, Tex., for 12 shrapnel wounds in her abdomen.

Sheriff Curtis Humphreys said he had no idea how the grenade found its way to the sandbar where the children found it. He said a powder-expert from Fort Sam Houston, would make a full investigation of the incident.

Watch a Mercury show its stuff when the light goes green. No doubt about it, you're the boss when you drive a Mercury. For here's a performer that never wilts when the going gets tough. You just can't beat its prize-winning combination of performance, value, and economy. Little wonder that Mercury is such a fast-growing star in popularity. Stop around for a road test and find out the facts firsthand!

2. Budget Test a Mercury for proof of value!

Does it have a down-to-earth first price? Mercury's price tag you can easily understand—a really big dollar's worth for every dollar invested.

Will trade-in value stay high? Mercurys continue to keep their value; used car market reports consistently prove it.

Will upkeep stay low? You save money year after year. Mercury's famous stamina keeps repair bills at a rock-bottom low.

Is it famous for long life? It is indeed! 92% of all Mercurys ever built for use in this country are still on the road, according to latest annual official registration figures.

McMurry Meets Howard Payne In Conference Tilt

McMurry College gridmen will be playing their final Texas Conference game of the season Saturday night before an expected homecoming crowd of approximately 4,000 when the Indians meet the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets in Abilene.

If the Indians, now standing in fourth place in the TC race, could defeat the Yellow Jackets, who are currently leading the conference, it would put the Abileneans in a possible tie for third place, depending on other wins and losses of the remaining conference games.

The game should prove to be a high-scoring affair with the leading passers and pass-receivers of the conference in the game. Sonny Davenport, HPC's ace passer, who holds the top place in passing, will be viewing for honors of the night against the Indian's Carl Jowell, who's trailing Davenport by a slight margin.

Another Howard Payne conference leader, Gene McCavies, end, who holds first place in the receiving department will be out to hold his position against Indian contender, now in second place, Halfback Stephen Brock.

Though the favored Yellow Jackets stay true to their nickname and do most of their traveling through the air, the Indians might get fired up enough to clip some wings. Despite a 61-12 defeat last week-end by the "professional" Carswell Bombers, the Indians looked good, especially on pass defense.

27 COLLEGE TEAMS RETAIN PERFECT RECORDS FOR YEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (UP)—Just 27 college football teams were left with unbeaten records today in the latest breakdown of the weekly shakedown.

Eight were major powers led by Tennessee, the nation's top-ranked outfit in the weekly ratings of the United Press board of coaches. The Cincinnati bears led in victories among the major teams with eight straight this year while Stanford and San Francisco had seven apiece and Princeton, Maryland, Tennessee, Michigan State, and Illinois had six each.

The only big-wig team which dropped out over the weekend was Georgia Tech and it hardly was disgraced, suffering the mild humiliation of a 14-14 tie with Duke.

Princeton which rolled to its 19th straight victory over an extended period to tie the school's all-time winning streak, had the best long-time victory record of the major schools, but there were followers of valiant Vaiparaiso's Crusaders from Indiana who thought their 19-game winning streak in little giant competition was just as impressive.

Also of significance among the so-called little schools on the list, the team proudest of its perfect record was the Trenton, N. J. Teachers, who have won five in a row. That isn't particularly spectacular except that those same Trenton Teachers from 1938 until the last game in 1949 went through 45 games without a victory. They tied four times during that stretch but also set the longest all-time college losing streak of 28 games so they're feeling pretty chipper about their perfect record.

The teams dropped off the list in clashes involving perfect record teams. Beaten, untied Coast Guard of Connecticut and Northeastern of Boston knocked each other out with a 13-13 tie while Morris Brown's Brown Bombers, a Negro powerhouse from Georgia, kayoed South Carolina A&M 54 to 6. Morris Brown came up with the best offensive record on the list, 341 points in seven victories, for an average of 48.7 points per game.

The New Haven, Conn. Teachers who have had only one touchdown scored against them in four straight victories, were the best defensive team, but they also were a bunch of softies. They decided not to play Montclair, N. J. Teachers Saturday in the snow and cold weather that hit their area, and the game will be run off on Tuesday instead.

The other teams which were bumped from the ranks were the Pittsburg, Kan., Teachers which had won seven straight and had also yielded only one touchdown; Western Illinois State which battled to a tie with Eastern Illinois, and St. Vincent's which dropped a Sunday encounter to St. Francis. The midwest had 11 perfect record teams, the east had eight, the south five, the Pacific Coast two, and the Rockies one.

"THE HAIRSTYLE FOR YOU"

If you were going outdoors to spend the day shopping in town, you would never dream of wearing a decollete evening gown. By the same token, you would not appear at a formal dinner party in a housedress. Or, let us consider the figure: the tall, angular type would not choose the vertical line pattern or high-waisted jackets—both fashions accentuate her height. The short and over weight figure would not wear large patterned prints, or form fitting styles—these would accentuate her weight. If you remember that there are definite facial types which determine the correct choice of the hairstyle, the result would be flattering always. Consider the shape of your face therefore, and see your hairdresser for a coiffure which will enhance you. This is an especially good time to do this because November 4-11 is National Beauty Salon Week, dedicated to more beautiful women. Here are some tips from the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, America's foremost hair fashion authority, to guide you.

OVAL FACE
The most perfect shape of the face is the oval type. It should be framed in the simplest of lines. Its classical beauty form demands that no fussiness detract from it; that the hairstyle be smooth and simple in arrangement.

SQUARE FACE
A wave which dips slightly, but still gives height, and sides that are waved upward are desirable lines for the square type of face. . . . for always . . . the illusion of the oval type is desired. Perfect balance in the hairstyle is to be avoided by the square face for it will only accent the squareness of the facial contour.

TRIANGLE FACE
The sharp lines of this type of face must be ovalized. Interesting and unusual hair styles are attractive, and the very smartest of short cuts with smooth lines are excellent for this type of face.

OBLONG FACE
A side part is most always the most flattering for the oblong type, since the objective is to soften the temple and forehead line and ovalize the jaw line. Curled fullness over the ears and smoothness over the top are basic coiffure lines that adapt readily to the oblong type.

ROUND FACE
The feeling of roundness can be broken with upward lines at the side of the head. Waved height across the top of the head is also desirable. Softly curled ends to ride high on the sides, and halo the face is the most becoming wave style for the round type.

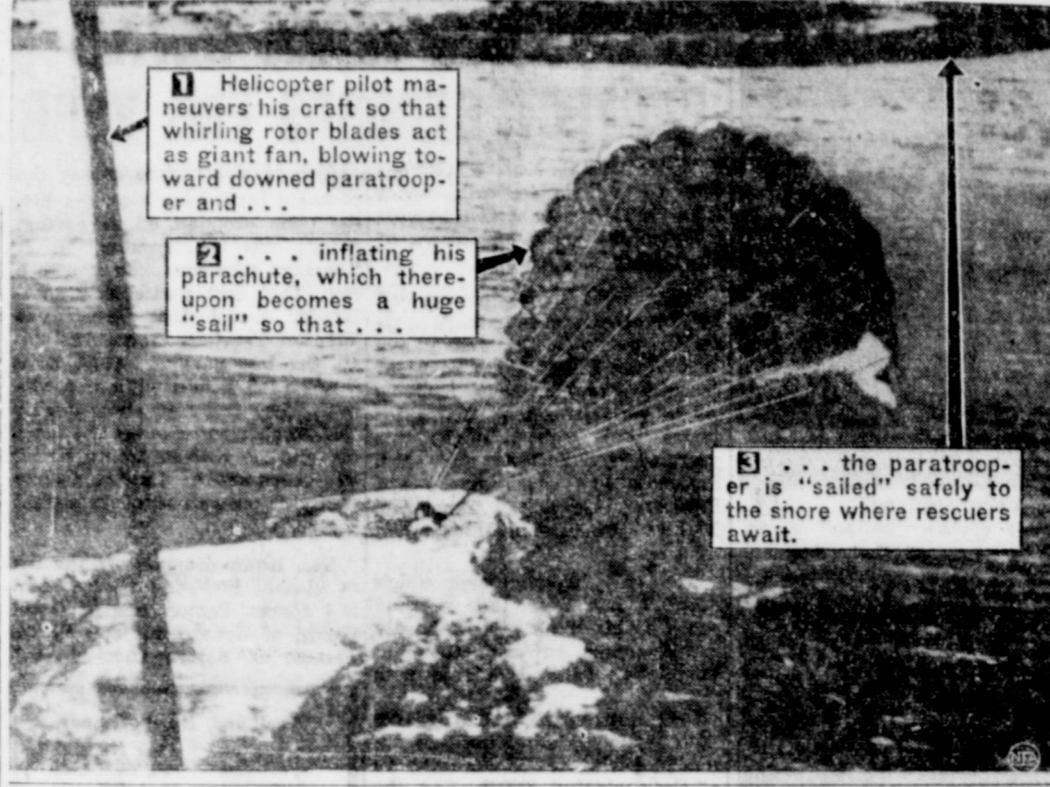

DIAMOND FACE
The main characteristic of this type of face is width at the cheek bones. To give an oval effect, the forehead and jaw line should be accentuated. Deep upward waves at the sides, which come down over the tip of the ear are indicated. The bang is worn most effectively by this type of face.

1 Helicopter pilot maneuvers his craft so that whirling rotor blades act as giant fan, blowing toward downed paratrooper and . . .

2 . . . inflating his parachute, which thereupon becomes a huge "sail" so that . . .

3 . . . the paratrooper is "sailed" safely to the shore where rescuers await.

Red Smuggler Brought Back

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 6 (UP)—"Grieka the Russ'an," long-sought smuggler, informer and shake-down artist, faced federal charges of smuggling and illegal entry today after being shanghaied out of Cuba and turned over to U. S. Immigration officers here. Gregorio Simonovich was picked up at little-used Prospect Airfield near here yesterday after the U. S. Border Patrol received an anonymous tip. The Russian said his abductors brought him here in a light plane from Cuba, where he had lived safely out of reach of U. S. authorities since 1947. Simonovich was accused by a U. S. Senate committee last year of "masterminding Communist activity" in the western hemisphere.

Eva Peron Better
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 6 (UP)—Eva Peron, Argenti-

tina's first lady, awaiting an operation of an undisclosed nature in President Peron hospital, was reported today in "good" condition.

The undersecretary of information said last night Mrs. Peron was continuing her pre-operative treatment.

Your Scrap Dealer...
A VITAL LINK IN NATIONAL PRODUCTION
The scrap metal he gathers is as necessary for producing tanks and autos, nails and bridges, as iron ore from mines. He needs your broken machinery, old batteries, in fact anything discarded or useless made of iron and steel or other metals to send on to the mills. Most steel is made from 1/2 scrap and 1/2 pig iron. Other metals, too—zinc, lead, aluminum, copper, etc.—are re-used in production. Scrap is critically short.
