

Around The Square

By Mack

Well, Christmas is just around the corner and we have been doing a little thinking. Of course we are still young enough to believe in Santa Claus, and that's what is worrying us. We've been trying to dodge him for almost half a century, but he is worse than the Retail Merchant's association or the F. B. I. when it comes to finding a fellow's address. Already some of the small fry have made open suggestions in our presence, some of them going so strong they mention size, color and price. To be sure they are not asking to be remembered Christmas, but if they are not remembered they'll never live long enough to get over it. If they are remembered we will never live long to get out of debt. In order to settle with a compromise we have volunteered to write old Santa a few letters.

But these modern day kids seem to know very little about finance. Or maybe they just don't care. They are as free with their spending as a drunken Fair Dealer. They can't understand why papa can't live a Champagne life on a Beer salary. Everybody else does, they say, and you can't dispute such a statement when mostly they are right. That's the reason that most everybody from Happy Harry to Happy Hooligan is broke. That is why we have all been bankrupt, collectively and individually, for many years. These kids don't know the meaning of the words "income tax." We once thought we did, but we have been convinced recent months that we don't know anything and are not supposed to. All we do is work and pay off. All the thinking and knowing comes out of Washington. If they need any help up there they will just raise our taxes again, and everything will be fine until the next raise.

But back to Santa Claus. We are going to make an appeal to him, and if he is kind enough to listen we are sure we will be able to get him to go back to the old style Christmas. Back when we were a kid Christmas meant something. Everybody was happy but a few booze-huffers who hung around the livery-stable trying to see if they couldn't drink it all up before New Year's Day, which they couldn't.

We looked forward to Christmas, and we knew a lot more about Santa Claus than we were given credit for. Why be so smart if you know it will cost you. Be dumb and collect. In those days kids didn't expect much and they were seldom disappointed. We remember our first watch. Saw it two months before Christmas and nearly wore it out winding it before it finally reached us on Christmas day. Two-bits worth of peppermint stick candy would bring more joy in those days than a ton of bon-bons would bring now. A ten cent cap pistol then compares favorably with a 16-cylinder convertible today. The only difference was the cap pistol brought joy and the convertible brings crashes, cops and cussedness.

So when we drop a letter to Santa Claus we are going to ask him to have a heart. We will stand anything that can be paid for before Christmas of next year. This will mean of course we will have to adopt the grand old plan of "Dollar down and the balance like we want it."

C-82 Wreckage Found; All 36 Aboard Are Reported As Dead

LYON, France, Nov. 15 (UP)—Rescue teams found the twisted and burned-out wreckage of a U. S. Air Force Flying Boxcar half-buried in the snow on the slopes of Mount Dore today and reported all 36 servicemen aboard were dead.

The twin-engine C-82, which crashed two days ago on a routine flight from Frankfurt, Germany, to Bordeaux, France, crashed into the mountainside only 150 feet from the crest of the jagged peak. The charred bodies of 34 of the 36 passengers and six crewmen were found in the fire-blackened wreckage of the plane.

The body of another crew member, apparently thrown clear by the impact, was 45 feet from the plane.

The 36th occupant, an enlisted man, apparently had survived the crash and crawled out of the plane, only to die in the snow of his injuries. His body was found 10 feet from the burned hull. A French reconnaissance plane was the first to spot the wreckage this morning two miles north-east of Pay De Sancy, four miles southwest of Lake Chambon, famed summer resort.

An American plane confirmed the report soon afterward and radioed that there was no sign of life around the wreckage in the bleak area.

French firemen and veteran guides hastened to the scene, followed closely by a seven-man U. S. paratroop "survival squad" with medical equipment and other supplies.

The ill-fated plane apparently had become lost in bad weather. It carried 29 Air Force men and one soldier as passengers.

French rescue workers who returned to Clermont-Ferrand, some 24 miles from the scene of the wreck, said bodies inside the charred fuselage were jammed together "like a bunch of grapes."

One searcher said the rescue party thought for a moment the enlisted man who had crawled clear of the plane was alive. He was lying on his back, but was dead.

An investigation team of U. S. officers and enlisted men was sent by car to examine the wreckage. It was being guarded by French security police.

The bodies will be taken down on stretchers to the main road less than two miles away once the investigators give their approval. Overhead circled U. S. and French planes. They dropped parachute balloon markers to guide hundreds who flocked to the scene.

Collie Dog Leads Searchers To Two Year Old Boy

HUGO, Okla., Nov. 15 (UP)—A mute, two-year-old boy, who was lost for 20 hours in a mountainous area, was in good condition after he was rescued because of a "noisy little part-Collie dog."

Boyd Covington, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Covington, was found asleep under a bush yesterday three miles from his home in the Kiamichi foothills after he had strayed in to the brush.

More than 200 searchers had joined in the hunt before Boyd was found by his grandfather, Ben Bowden.

"If it hadn't been for that noisy little part-Collie," Dowden said, "I might not have found the boy. The dog scared my horse and attracted by attention."

Parents, Friends Invited To Attend Presentation Ceremony Friday Eve.

Fifty seniors of the 1951-52 graduating class of Eastland High School will receive their senior rings in a colorful presentation ceremony at the American Legion Hall Friday evening, November 16, at eight o'clock. Parents and friends are invited to view the ceremony, which the seniors hope to establish as a tradition. Under the capable direction of sponsor J. E. A glow from the jewel in the mounting of the big ring will shine down upon the seniors as they come forward to receive their rings from Rodney Stephen, president, and Gay Poe, secretary. Each boy and girl will walk through the big replica. After being presented with their individual rings, the seniors will form a line in front of the stage, where the audience may see them as a happy group, and the photographer will take pictures. Legion To Help Reclassified Men With Their Problems; Meeting To Be Held In Eastland, Nov. 15th

We have been informed that you have been recently reclassified by the local office of the Selective Service. Here at the American Legion this is important news because we know that your future plans are going to be affected. To this end we are sending out letters to the men so involved and are holding a special meeting at the American Legion Hall in Eastland on the night of November 15th at 8 p. m. to clarify in your minds the best possible course of action.

We have invited for this occasion Mrs. Jewell Reeves clerk of the Selective Service Board No. 36, to answer questions relating to her phase of the manpower program. Also present will be Capt. Robert J. Brown of the Armed Forces Examining Station in Abilene who will explain the testing, processing and assignment of men to the various branches of the nations armed forces.

This letter is not being sent to you as a means of evading the draft. That is farthest from our thoughts. It is, however, being sent to you to suggest that perhaps there are avenues of opportunity open at this particular moment that you are not aware of and should know about before you receive your pre-induction papers. Both the Armed Forces and Selective Service are working hand in hand to make this meeting vital to you. All manpower of the nation is being mobilized and there is little chance that any will escape this basic duty to their country. And may we add that we don't believe any American would want to escape this duty. But it is also wise and intelligent that the manpower of the nation

UN Will Probe Mass Killing Of UN Prisoners

TOKYO, Nov. 15 (UP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters opened an investigation today into the 8th Army's unexpected release of a statement charging the Chinese Reds with murdering 9,643 Allied war prisoners.

The U. S. Defense Department in Washington also was reported to have made inquiries into the circumstances surrounding release of the statement.

Ridgway neither authorized nor planned publication of any such statement for propaganda purposes at this critical moment in the armistice talks, an informed source said.

The statement was released by Col. James Hanley, Judge Advocate of the 8th Army, at a press conference in Pusan, provisional capital of South Korea, Wednesday.

It charged the Chinese Reds with murdering 2,643 United Nations war prisoners, all but 130 of them Americans, and about 7,000 South Korean prisoners since China intervened in the Korean war more than a year ago.

North Korean troops murdered an additional 147 American prisoners during the same period, Hanley said. Unofficial estimates of the number of American war prisoners killed by the North Koreans before China's intervention ranged up to 3,000.

Altogether, it was believed, the Communists have murdered some 12,790 Allied war prisoners since the start of the Korean war. Hanley said it had been estimated that the Reds have put to death "upward of a quarter of a million" South Korean civilians.

No. 1 Suspect Turns Out To Be A Victim

RICHMOND, Nov. 15 (UP)—Police began an investigation into a murder here "all over again" today after discovering that their chief suspect was the slayer's second victim.

A head found in a clump of honeysuckle near Norfolk, Va., was "positively" identified by Virginia's chief medical examiner as that of Walter E. Barr, 34, of Washington, N. C. Princess Anne County authorities had been seeking Barr for questioning in the murder of a 57-year-old Norfolk widow, Mrs. Mamie Smith-widow, whose body was found in a lake near Norfolk, Oct. 6. She had been beaten and strangled.

Mrs. Ferguson's Mother Dies

Mrs. J. L. Durham, 89, died at 9:00 p.m., Wednesday, November 14, at her home in Commerce. She is the mother of Mrs. R. C. Ferguson of Eastland.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m., Friday, at Sheely Funeral Home in Commerce.

Horace Walker Not Guilty Says Stephens Jury

It took a Stephens county jury just 45 minutes to return a verdict of not guilty, in the Horace Walker embezzlement case, tried in that court yesterday. The verdict was returned at 6:40 p.m.

Walker is a special Eastland County delinquent tax collector. The case was called for trial early this week, and almost two days was spent in the taking of testimony.

Key issue in the trial was whether Walker embezzled $970 of a $1,200 delinquent tax payment made in 1949 by I. J. Allen of Corpus Christi.

He faces four additional embezzlement indictments, a $101,299 civil collection suit and a federal mail fraud indictment, all stemming from Eastland county during his five year stay there.

The case was tried in Breckenridge on a change of venue from Eastland county. Another case has been set for trial on December 3rd.

4 Amendments Fail; Approve Reallocation

Only one of the five proposed Constitutional amendments met with the approval of Eastland County voters. Amendment No. 4, the Veteran's Land Fund amendment carried by a vote of 747 to 603.

In the special county election voters approved the Commissioners proposal to reallocate county tax funds. The vote was 756 for and 556 against. This means that county commissioners may transfer to certain money from one fund to another. In the past they have not been able to do this, and at times it has worked a hardship.

The county votes for constitutional amendments follows:

Amendments	For	Agst.
County pensions	398	908
University fund	486	790
Fire prevention	406	921
Vets. Land fund	747	603
State Welfare	671	717

The vote was very light all over the county, and the figures above represent about 95 per cent of the vote. Two small boxes have not, as yet sent in their returns, but the votes from these boxes are not large enough to change the results.

THREAT COMES AS LEVER TO GET IMMEDIATE CEASE-FIRE

By ARNOLD DIBBLE
United Press Staff Correspondent
PANMUNJOM, KOREA, Nov. 15 (UP)—The Communists made a thinly-veiled threat today to unleash a new all-out offensive in Korea unless the United Nations agree at once to a cease-fire line.

The United Nations retorted that the quickest way to stop the shooting in Korea is to clean up the full armistice agenda—including arrangements for the release of thousands of UN war prisoners in Communist hands.

A UN communique said the joint armistice subcommittee meeting "failed to bring the two sides any closer to agreement." The subcommittee will meet again at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. today EST).

The indirect threat to lose a new full-scale Red offensive against the allied line first was made in the subcommittee Wednesday, but was disclosed publicly by the Communists only today. Communist newsmen prepared gandists distributed copies of the statement made by North Korean Gen. Lee Sang Cho. A UN spokesman said the quotation given was substantially correct.

The statement was:

"If your side fails to take due account of our strength and dreams of using so-called military pressure to change the military demarcation line which has been fixed, I must point out that the changes in the actual line of contact can have two directions. The result of the changes may not be what you desire."

The UN reported that the Reds backed down at Thursday's subcommittee session on their demand of the previous day for a complete Korean cease-fire in the air and at sea as well as on the ground.

The Communist representatives said this time they had no objection to continuing the fighting until an armistice agreement is ready for signature, but stuck to their demand for immediate designation of the cease-fire line.

Lt. Col. Howard S. Letie of New York City, acting UN briefing officer, said the apparent Communist concession left the basic situation unchanged.

Any designation of a definite cease-fire line at this time would result in a de-facto cease-fire, he said, because it would relieve the Communists of allied military pressure.

Then the Reds well might stall indefinitely on settlement of the remaining items of the armistice agenda, he said. These include the fate of thousands of allied war prisoners in Communist hands.

The prisoner of war question was lent new emphasis by an 8th Army officer's official statement Wednesday that the Chinese Reds already have executed 2,643 UN war prisoners, all but 130 of them Americans, and about 7,000 South Korean prisoners.

The North Koreans are believed to have killed some 3,000 U.S. prisoners since the outbreak of the war.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chief UN representative on the subcommittee, told the Communists that "the quickest way to end military action in Korea" is to clean up the full armistice agenda.

FARM NEWS

By MAC CROW
Ranger Junior College

Hog producers are warned to be on the alert for swine flu. The weather during this season of the year—warm days and cold nights—is favorable for flu development, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, Extension veterinarian of Texas A & M College.

Hogs should be protected from the elements. A well-bedded shed that is clean and properly ventilated is the best shelter for hogs at this season of the year. Better check to see that the hogs use the shelter you provide, because they will probably prefer to stay outside.

Swine flu says the veterinarian is seldom fatal, but the loss of flesh is mighty important. In addition to the losses on fat hogs, gilts that are being kept when the brood sows may also be affected. Small, weak litters often result when the gilts have had a bad case of flu.

Whenever there is doubt about the diagnosis of sick hogs, call a veterinarian, for there is a chance the hogs might have a disease that would prove fatal. Hogs that have flu should be provided with a comfortable house that is free from drafts and should be fed on a light, slightly laxative diet.

Paterson says its a good idea to check all hogs daily, especially those running in the field. Prompt and proper attention for the sick animals is a must for all farm animals if they are to produce maximum returns for their owners.

Every year thousands of shade trees are damaged in Texas by freezing rain. We lose more trees here in the south by this cause, than in the northern states where the winters are more severe.

As soon as the shade trees go into the dormant stage, it will be all right to start trimming off those branches that could easily be broken by an ice storm. In trimming a branch off, you should try to keep the tree symmetry in shape; also, the cut should be flush with main limb so as to increase the speed in healing of the wound.

There are several good mixtures that can be used in painting over the wound. A combination of cresosote and coal tar has long been used as a dressing for tree wounds. The reason for this treatment is to kill the fungi that cause a tree to rot. When a tree starts decaying, you can expect that part of the plant to die completely without proper treatment.

The U.S.D.A. puts out a bulletin on Care of Damaged Shade Trees and it can be secured by writing a postcard to United States Department of Agriculture, Texas A&M College Station, Texas and asking for Farmers Bulletin No. 1896.

If you have a nice shade tree around the place remember that a tree takes several years to grow. A ice storm that last only a few days can cause enough damage to kill the tree completely.

In treating a tree wound it is always best to follow a prevention method rather than the curing methods.

Egypt Warns That It Will Continue Ouster Campaign

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 15 (UP)—Egypt defiantly warned Britain today it will proceed "without hesitation or delay" in its campaign to oust British forces from the Suez Canal zone and the Sudan.

At the same time, it announced missions will be sent abroad to purchase arms and line up foreign experts to build up Egypt's production of land and air weapons of war.

Premier Mustapha El Nahas Pasha unfolded his government's course of action to the opening of the new session of parliament. He spoke from the throne in the name of King Farouk.

"It would have been better for Britain if she had accepted the facts and decided for peace," he declared. "... but Britain preferred violence and brute force."

Nahas added that his government was hastening to carry out the last parliament's decision to junk the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty permitting Britain in the Canal Zone and the Sudan. The program, he said, is proceeding along its charted course without hesitation or delay.

"My government is doing its utmost," he added, "to spread Egyptian and Arab culture all over the world. It has established an institute for Arabic studies in Algiers this year after having set up the Farouk El Awal Institute in Madrid last year."

Backing up the Premier's warning to Britain, the government for the first time began organizing "underground" liberation battalions to drive the British from the Canal Zone.

Turkey Calling Contest To Be This Weekend

YELLEVILLE, Ark. Nov. 15 (UP)—Wild turkey hunters from 30 states will crowd Yelleville this weekend to enter the 1951 world's championship turkey calling contest.

More than 10,000 visitors are expected by the town's American Legion Post, which will sponsor the sixth annual celebration.

A turkey shoot and a huge "turkey trot" victory dance will feature this year's festival, which is dedicated to the conservation and restoration of wild turkey flocks in the United States.

Science Tells Homemakers to Throw Cold Water on Coffee Complaints

No more zero hours at breakfast! The latest development to solve one of the family's weightier problems is a new cold water coffee extractor that makes completely bitter-free coffee, uniformly good, cup after cup. It speeds things up, too, for you extract a full pound of coffee at any convenient time, then in the meal-time rush you can prepare any amount of coffee in a moment.

It is all very simply done with this Filtron, a new three-piece glass appliance which takes just moments to set-up and use. You fill the top bowl with cold water, place a pound of your favorite coffee in the center bowl, and that's all there is to it! About nine hours later the bottom bowl is filled with approximately 48 ounces of pure coffee extract which stays fresh under normal refrigeration for months. For a cup of full flavored coffee just pour hot water over an ounce of the extract.

The cold water coffee extractor was created after scientific tests proved that the bitter elements in the coffee bean are far less soluble in cold water. Hence, making coffee with cold water brings out only the good, aromatic coffee flavor.

Filtrizing is a great help to budgets, too, for you use only as much coffee as you need when you need it. There are no partly-filled pots of stale coffee to throw away. No messy grounds to deal with every time you make coffee, either, for you only have to contend with grounds once for each pound of coffee.

Nice idea for a Christmas gift for harried wife, bachelor or career girl.

Nation Colleges Favor Cutting Sports Emphasis

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 (UP)—The nation's colleges overwhelmingly favor drastic limitations on athletic practices to cut down emphasis on intercollegiate spectacles.

A United Press survey of district reports to the national collegiate athletic association's policy-making council showed wide agreement on all but two points of a 12-point program proposed last August to eliminate "intensifying emphasis upon athletics."

The two points on which there was disagreement called for abolition or limitation of off-season practices (football spring practice), and reconsideration of football's substitution rule, which makes possible the platoon system.

Even on spring football there was agreement that something must be done either to eliminate or restrict the practices.

On the free substitution rule more schools favored reconsideration, which should result only in modification of the platoon system, than opposed it.

The council it was announced today will meet here Monday and Tuesday to discuss the district reports and agree upon a program to be presented to the N.C.A.A. convention in Cincinnati Jan. 9-12.

Other points in the program, on which there was nearly unanimous agreement, would limit the number of games, re-examine post-season games, possibly with the idea of banning bowl contests, insist on normal academic program for athletes, limit financial aid to athletes, deny eligibility to a student not admitted on regular entrance requirements, reduce recruiting, eliminate excessive entertainment of athletes, supervise the curriculum of athletes, demand adherence to the spirit of the rules, and make ineligible an athlete who enters into collusion to receive subsidies.

H-SU Game Will Pit Top Passer, No. 2 Runner

Don Klosterman vs. Dunny Goode. In other words, the nation's No. 1 man in forward passing vs. the nation's No. 2 man in rushing.

That is the setup for the Hardin Simmons and Loyola football game which is scheduled Saturday night in the Rose Bowl.

Klosterman of Loyola is leading the nation's pack in forward passing with a tremendous 1432 yards to his credit by aerial attempts. Goode of H-SU is possessor of 1045 yards gained by rushing. The battle may determine in a large measure the final success of these two players in their bid for the season's national records.

Two chartered planes of Cowboys are scheduled to leave Abilene early Thursday morning. Coach Warren B. Woodson announced that his lads were planning to work out twice in California—on Thursday and Friday.

Indications are that both teams have offensive power that may duplicate the close scores, 39-35 and 21-20 that the two teams have recorded in their last two meetings. Last week Kansas stopped Loyola 34 to 26, but Klosterman managed to put on a spectacular passing show, completing 19 in 28 efforts for 180 yards, including a pair to halfback Bobby Burton for touchdowns. Just before the final gun, Klosterman hit for seven straight passes which carried the Lions 72 yards to a touchdown.

While the Lions were making yards against Kansas, even though losing, the Cowboys ran wild to pile up 574 yards against Texas Western, including 137 through the air on passes thrown by Bob Hart.

The Cowboys had their hard workouts of the week Tuesday and Wednesday night on the Parramore stadium field. Woodson reports that he expects his squad to be in good physical condition, as there were no major injuries in the Texas Western game.

It is possible that Klosterman may receive one of his biggest tests of the season. Hardin-Simmons ranks fifth in forward pass defense and has allowed an average of only 76.5 yards in eight games. Last Friday night against Texas Western, Harold Barrett, Riley Cross, Bill Murry, Chester Lyssy and Sammy Walker all got into the act to intercept six passes bringing to 32 the total of enemy attempts which have backfield. The Cowboys are hoping for some measure of success in this department against the Lions.

Pacific Coast League To Get Higher Boost

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (UP)—Satchel commissioner Ford Frick's plan to raise the Pacific Coast League to a new status where it could prove its right to be a major league drew a mixed reception today from P.C.L. officials.

Generally, the coast league heads looked with favor on the proposal, but comments ranged from the "we are thankful" of league president Clarence Rowland to the description, "nothing that solves the problem," from owner Paul Fagan of the San Francisco seals.

The Frick plan, recommended by the major league's special committee on the Pacific coast league, calls for the creation of a new type of league higher than the P.C.L.'s current "triple-A" status but not quite a major league—to be called an "open classification."

"Open" leagues would be given wide examinations from the annual player draft, something the P.C.L. has been demanding. A player in this type league wouldn't be subject to the draft until he has finished five years in the minors, and then would command a $15,000 draft instead of the current $10,000 price in the triple-A leagues.

Moreover, a team could protect a player from draft entirely by giving him an inducement to sign a waiver of his right to be drafted.

P. C. L. president Rowland hailed the plan as assurance his league would be given the chance to advance to major league status as a unit.

"This gives us the assurance that the integrity of the Pacific coast league will be recognized," said Rowland, "and that when it advances the advance will be made by all eight clubs as a whole. We feel that progress has been made and we are thankful."

The plan will not become operative unless it is approved by the majority of the minor leagues at their annual meeting in Columbus, O., Dec. 3, and a week later by the majors at their meeting in New York.

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

Hunters ignore the difficulties of the climb up to high country and the rigors of the hunt when the quarry is a handsome buck deer. Of all American big game animals, perhaps the deer is the most sought after.

Certainly it is among the most elusive. It is an extremely nervous animal, highly susceptible to shock. But it is also one of the hardest to kill.

This hunter has seen a buck run 200 yards or more, even with his vitals—the heart or lungs—punctured by a well-placed shot. The stamina of the deer is almost unbelievable.

It is true that there are many instantaneous kills each season, but for every one of these there are many hits which resolve themselves into losses as the wounded animal disappears, not to be seen again.

This becomes obvious that the deer hunter needs, among other things, to get his deer; a high-powered rifle with tremendous shocking power and a well-placed shot.

Sometimes at the opening of the season, the hunter will have the good fortune to run across a deer that presents a standing shot. But once the season gets in swing and the number of hunters increase, the nervousness of the deer increases and the third important factor—skillful hunting ability—becomes at least equally as important as the high-powered rifle and supreme marksmanship.

The deer, besides being high-strung, is also very curious. And, if his curiosity is tickled, will sometimes stand like a statue for as much as half an hour watching the hunter—especially if the huntsman is downwind. But once given a sniff of that terrifying human smell, the animal is off on winged foot.

Many hunters try to pick their shots, but a majority will take a chance every time on a running shot, for there is ever hope in the heart of every hunter.

Any hit on a running buck is a good one. If you can hit him just where you want, hats are off to you, for you are an expert marksman without dispute.

But let's face it: Luck plays a part, also, in the successful hunt. There's something about the uneven gait of the deer, particularly this is true in rough country, that makes it hard to catch properly in the gunner's sights.

Civic League And Garden Club Study Beautification, And Care For Business Matters Wednesday

Beautification under divisions were presented Wednesday afternoon at the meeting of members of the Civic League and Garden Club at the Woman's Club.

Landscaping, Interior Decorating, and Personal grooming were the three phases of beautification presented.

Mrs. Buda Butler, president presided and heard reports of the hospital committee chairman, Mrs. John Turner, who reported that the Eastland memorial hospital was ready for the roof, which was quite a contrast from the minutes, read earlier in the afternoon, in which a motion had been made to keep complete records, so that if the hospital was not built funds could be returned to the schools and other organizations donating.

Mrs. Sam Gamble, treasurer, made a report that 59 members had paid their dues and received their yearbooks. She also reported the expenditures and the balance on hand.

The group voted to sponsor a show, being prepared under the leadership of Rev. Oliphant, for benefit of the hospital. A committee was appointed to care for the arrangements.

They also voted to ask any one wishing to make donations to the hospital of any thing such as linens, etc., to contact the Hospital Committee before doing so.

Mrs. I. C. Heck reported on calls made to newcomers and presented two new members, Mrs. Fronia Grubb and Mrs. M. A. Treadwell.

Mrs. Art Johnson, chairman of the yearbook committee made a report and was in charge of the afternoon's program. She presented Herby Weaver, Jr., pianist, who played, "Valse" in A flat, by Brahms and "To An Indian Lodge" by McDowell.

Roll call response was Hobbs and Pat Peaves on the program subject and added a colorful note.

Mmes. H. B. MacMoy and D. L. Heale received the guests and with Mmes. H. T. Weaver, and Fred Davenport served as hostess for the tea, which followed the program.

The theme of the decorations was Thanksgiving and the table display prepared by Mrs. Houle, assisted by Mrs. MacMoy, was laid with a red damask cloth and decorated with a cornucopia of colorful fruit. The place setting was English Pheasant china. Green napkins repeating the cornucopia were filled with red apples.

Spiced tea and fruitcake was served to about 25 members attending.

Lana Turner Has New Beau Giving Off Vibrations

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 15 (UP)—Fernando Lamas, the Latin lover who's keeping that gleam in Lana Turner's eye these days, says his romance with the golden beauty has him "vibrating."

"It all happened all of a sudden," the handsome actor sighed. "It was fate. She is all woman."

But, Lamas said, he had to talk fast to date her up the first time. "That was only ten days ago," he explained. "There are men lined up for blocks waiting for her. I don't blame them. I've been dreaming of asking her for a date ever since I saw her in 'Ziegfeld Girl.' What man hasn't?"

But the lady said "yes" to Lamas and from then on it's been nothing but romantic fireworks.

"At the moment everything is fine and I am happy," he sighed. "I am vibrating. That's the way we Latins are. People argue about whether we're lousy lovers."

"All I know is we're hot-blooded. We feel more than American lovers. That way we have more fun—at times. But we suffer more, too."

Fernando plays it coy, however, when it comes to telling what he

Girl Plunges To Her Death From Circus High Wire

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 15 (UP)—Pretty Evy Trostl plunged 60 feet to her death from a high wire last night, only a few days before she was to have left her family's daring circus act and gone back to high school.

The 17-year-old beauty, youngest member of the "Great Arturos" acrobatic trio, lost her balance at the climax of her solo Spanish dance on a 3-8 inch cable.

The Shrine Circus audience of 7,500 and the girl's father and cousin, who were on one of the high wire platforms, watched in horror as Evy hurtled to the sawdust-covered floor.

Arturo Trostl, Evy's father and

The scrap metal he gathers is as necessary for producing tanks and autos, bridges, as iron ore from mines. He needs your broken machinery, old batteries, in fact anything discarded or useless made of iron and steel or other metals to send on to the mills. Most steel is made from ½ scrap and ½ pig iron. Other metals, too—zinc, lead, aluminum, copper, etc.—are re-used in production. Scrap is critically short.

A MAN AND HIS GRANDSON—Though he carries the burden of defending a continent and is harassed by those who want to learn if he's a presidential candidate, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower still has time to be a grandfather, a very devoted one. This very human photo-study of the general and his grandchild, Dwight David, age 3 1/2, was taken at Ft. Knox, Ky., where Eisenhower saw his son and family for the first time in almost a year. Though pressed by newsmen and photographers, "Ike" managed to whisper such a secret into the little boy's ear as to set his eyes shining with excitement.

Persistence Pays Off After Many Years of Waiting

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 15 (UP).—Back in 1915, dubious fellow geologists examined a desolate area near Worland, Wyo., and then advised Dr. Victor Ziegler to forget about it as an oil field.

Some even went so far as to offer to drink any oil found in the area. Ziegler, however, refused to be discouraged by their appraisals. For more than 25 years he went around quietly buying up leases to property in the district.

A year ago, the first well was opened. Within a few months, 10 other wells began pumping and the district became one of the richest producing areas in Wyoming with a daily production of between 25,000 and 30,000 barrels.

Today, Ziegler and his 40 faithful stockholders were completing negotiations for the sale of the field to a group of Texas oilmen headed by Leland Fikes of Dallas. The financial negotiator was William L. Less, president of the D. H. Ellis Co., of New York. The reported purchase price was $20,000,000—or about $20 for each share of stock originally bought for 1-10 cent.

Texas Tech To Meet Powerhouse Next Saturday

Texas Tech's Red Raiders tackle one of the nation's football powerhouses when they meet the Tulsa University Golden Hurricane in Tulsa Saturday afternoon.

Rolling along at the top of the Missouri Valley Conference and headed toward a possible bowl bid, Tulsa has won six and lost one game. The Golden Hurricane ranks second in the nation in rushing and total offense.

Only direct comparison of scores gives Tulsa a 25-point margin over the inexperienced Raiders. Houston downed Tech 6-0, then fell before Tulsa 46-27.

Tulsa has also triumphed over Hawaii, Marquette, Wichita, Oklahoma A&M, and Kansas State. Cincinnati defeated the Hurricane 47-35. Tech's victories have been over West Texas, Texas Christian, Arizona, and Texas Western. Losses have been to Texas A&M, Baylor and Houston.

DeWitt Weaver, Tech's new head coach, and an assistant, Jack Mitchell, both were on the Tulsa staff last year, assisting J. O. (Buddy) Brothers. Incidentally, Brothers played for Tech in the '30s.

In seeking revenge for last season's 39-7 defeat, Tech will utilize the same type offense run by Tulsa—the split T.

Tied with Hardin-Simmons for the Border Conference lead, Tech meets New Mexico in Albuquerque Nov. 24 and Hardin-Simmons in Lubbock Dec. 1.

B-29 Superforts Hit Red Fields

By RICHARD APPLEGATE United Press Staff Correspondent 8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Nov. 15 (UP)—B-29's Superfortresses bombed two Communist airfields nearing completion in northwest Korea today, but rain brought ground activity farther south almost to a standstill.

The four-engined bombers flew through intense anti-aircraft fire to pound airfields at Namsi and Taechon with 570 demolition bombs of 100 pounds each by radar. Two B-29s attacked each air base.

The Communists have been rushing construction work at both fields in an attempt to get them in shape for Russian-built Mig 15 fighters now based in Manchuria. If the Migs could be shifted to the new fields, they would be within range of UN ground forces.

The two fields have been attacked several times previously, but Red work gangs fill in the bomb craters and repair revetments nearly as fast as the UN bombers destroy them.

Other B-29s aimed their bomb cargoes by radar at Communist front line positions and military targets in the Kyomipo area south of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

A cold, drizzling rain reduced activity along the 135-mile ground front to little more than patrolling.

An 8th Army communique said the heaviest action till midday was a pre-dawn attack by two Communist platoons northwest of Yangu. An allied unit fell back under the initial onslaught, but counter-attacked and chased the enemy back to his own line.

Second Cafe in Price Rollback

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 15 (UP)—A second Detroit restaurant jumped on the pre-war price bandwagon today, but a bar owner warned the idea is so good he had to jump off and raise prices again.

Sigmund Berg said he pushed the price of a glass of beer back to a nickel in 1948, for the same reason restaurant owners Joseph Tuzsak and Mrs. Sandra Dell did—no business and no profit at inflation prices.

"Brother, it worked, how it worked," said Berg. "But one way or another, prices catch up to you again. I kept nickel beer prices for three years until last August, then I quit, and raised it back to a dime, but I also gave them 12 ounces instead of eight of course."

"Our trouble was that we could not handle the business," he said. "After three years, my employees were so beat out from dishing up so much ruds, they complained of overwork. So I figured to give them a break and raise the price back to a dime."

"I'm still making a profit though," he said.

Tuzsak dusted off 1939 menus and price list: Tuesday, serving up such dishes as steak for $1.15 and pork chops for 55 cents, and a cup of coffee for a nickel.

Mrs. Dell's restaurant joined him yesterday.
