Now we are in the dog house for sure. We would be scared only for the fact we've been there before, and know that dog houses won't bite. As usual we are as innocent as a lamb. The only thing we have done was feel sorry for a poisoned pup, and being kind hearted by nature we admitted it publically—even published it in the paper.

Today we got a letter in Uncle Sam's mail from some irate lady who begged to differ with us on the dog question. In fact she thinks about as much of a dog as we do the Fair Deal. And she had the nerve to express her opinion in no uncertain language. She said her only excuse for not signing the letter was that she would be burned in effigy before tomorrow night if she did. So she signed off—Disgusted.

All our lives we have thought pretty well of dogs, and this letter did not change us one iota. Her letter starts off like this: "Now I wonder if our editor will be kind and fair enough to print the other side of this dog story," and we hasten to inform her we will. She says something about her grandmother saying that nothing is too thin to have two sides. We heartily agree, whether it be pan cakes or pumpkin pies.

More than that we are going one better than her grandmother. We insist that every question has three sides. They are: Your side, my side and the right side.

Poisoning or killing a dog now and then won't break the canine family of bad traits, though it might break the heart of some dog owner. Death is too permanent to be played around with. In these few words you have our side.

Now to your rescue, Disgusted, you may have a squawk coming.

It isn't funny to watch a bunch of stray dogs kill your chickens, tear up your flower beds or your garden. It's bad, and on the spur of the moment you may feel like committing murder, but don't do it. Lets educate dog owners. This may be done very effectively with or without aid of the police. Non-dog owners should band together and notify dog owners of these depredations. An intelligent dog owner will agree with you, and if possible repay you for the mischief done by their dog. If they do not they should be ostracized until they pack up their dogs and leave. And so far as the stray cur is concerned he should be dealt with by proper authorities—not poisoners. If a proper home can not be found for him, the lethal cure may be meted out, in a painless and legal manner.

We have a dog, but if he ever bothers a neighbor we want him reported to us, and we will take proper action.

Now, Disgusted, have we shown your side of the dog question? Some may come by and introduce yourself.

What we are wondering now is, who will be the first good fellow to come by and leave a 2 or 3 figure check for the Telegram's Christmas Cheer Fund?

Union Building At RJC Center Of Student Life

One of the most consistently used at the Ranger Junior College is the Student Union Center located on the southwest corner of the campus.

This building is for the students. Here they have a place where they may purchase soft drinks, read, study, dance, play the juke box, play games, or just plain loaf.

By having this spacious student activity center complete with the bookstore gives the young men and women attending the institution a place of their own, where they may relax with their friends when they are not attending class.

The building is very attractively decorated and furnished for the students. In the main hall of the building large comfortable chairs, sofas, and small tables make up the furnishings.

In the small section housing the bookstore, there are soft drink machines, tables, and chairs for play or study.

The main section of the building is used by the various classes and clubs at the junior college for the parties, dances and other social events, making it the hub of student life.

Workers Are Needed Tonight

Polio Epidemic Causes Action Among Odessa Government Heads

ODESSA, Nov. 28 (UP)—Officials set another emergency meeting on Odessa's polio outbreak today after tentatively agreeing to organize a sanitation district covering "most of Ector county" to allow rigid enforcement of health laws.

In a meeting last night, city councilmen, county commissioners, health officials and physicians reviewed the city's appalling polio record for November and promised quick action to protect the community's health.

Seven new cases of polio were reported in the city yesterday and one additional fatality. Six per-

County Members Attend Farm Bureau Convention In Houston

The State Convention of The Texas Farm Bureau Federation was held at the Rice Hotel in Houston, Tex., November 19, 20, 21, with approximately 1500 members attending.

The members from Eastland County attending the convention were Mrs. John Love, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Sparks, and C. L. Rogers. After arriving in Houston we immediately registered and then with special interest looked at the large map of Texas which had little lights designating the progress each county had made in the Farm Bureau in having an organized Farm Bureau, county Farm Bureau office, service program and exceeding the quota.

Our group was happy to see that Eastland County had all four lights shining brightly which was the largest amount of lights any county could have.

Some of the highlights of the convention were speeches by National Farm Bureau President Allen B. Kline, State Farm Bureau President J. Walter Hammond, Mrs. Raymond Sayre, president of Associated Women of A.P.B.F., Congressman Olin Teague, Col. W. B. Bates, President of Houston Chamber of Commerce, Congressman W. R. Poage, and Dr. W. B. Kammlade, Associate Director of Extension, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The resolution which the Eastland and Comanche County delegates carried to the convention was under discussion for almost an hour before being passed. The resolution denounced the two-price system and asked discontinuance of the oil stock peanut program under which farmers are allowed to raise peanuts for oil purposes in addition to their edible crop grown on regular allotted acres. This resolution will now be taken to the National Farm Bureau Convention. J. Walter Hammond will be fighting for this resolution in Washington regardless of the outcome of the vote at the National convention.

One resolution which was passed asked the Department of Agriculture to have substantial data before publishing crop reports, and urged the Secretary of Agriculture to announce each January 1 the amount of cotton the nation should produce and to get the support price at 100 per cent of parity. The farmers also asked for a quarterly instead of an annual adjustment on parity.

Mrs. John Love and Mrs. Joe Bob Browning were honored at the "100 Member Club" breakfast and were presented gold pins in the general assembly. In order to be a member of this club one has to sign up 100 or more members for Texas Farm Bureau during a year's time.

The greatest impression received from the convention was the importance of being organized.

FARMERS MUST ORGANIZE IN SELF DEFENSE. OR TURN THIS GOVERNMENT OVER TO THE CONTROL OF THOSE WHO ARE ORGANIZED.

Mrs. Milton Day, in charge of Community night program in Olden, is urging a full attendance for the November meeting which will be held in the high school gym tomorrow (Thursday) night at 7:30 o'clock.

Relic Paper Has Competition; 4 Copies Located

Bob Humphreys, Texas Electric Co., employee, and collector of relics, visited this sanctum Tuesday afternoon and brought us another copy of the Ulster County Gazette. Seems there are several copies in and around Eastland. Mrs. J. C. Lilly brought in the first copy of this 152 year old paper, another woman, whose name we have lost, has a copy on cold storage in Dallas. Owner of this copy claims to have the original copy and can trace it back to Jan. 1, 1800 in Jamestown, N. Y.

Another gentleman called early this week and tells of a copy owned by a friend in Graham, Tex. Type faces are different, though the material contained in the papers is about the same. This would mean all are not originals, but copies or reproductions. As to their worth we offer no guesses, though if we owned one of them we would certainly keep it as a prized novelty.

Catholic Priest To Be Released By Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 28 (UP)—Roman Catholic Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac, convicted by Communist Yugoslavia of war-time German collaboration, will be released from prison in December, authoritative sources said today.

The Archbishop will be returned to his home in Croatia, and must remain there under terms of the release, the sources said.

Mgr. Silvio Oddi, Charge D'Affaires of the Papal Nunciature here, said the Vatican would consider the Archbishop "still imprisoned" if Mgr. Stepinac were prevented from exercising his powers as Primate.

The disclosure followed publication of a letter from Marshal Tito to columnist Drew Pearson in which Tito said, "The Stepinac question will be solved within a month."

Sources in the Archbishop's former entourage said Mgr. Stepinac's home at Krasic and his summer residence at Brezovica—both in Croatia—were being repaired and redecoreated for his return.

In 1946, the Archbishop was sentenced to 16 years at hard labor for alleged Nazi collaboration and aiding the war-time puppet regime in Croatia. His sentence included loss of civil rights for five years, starting the day of his release.

Special Program Be Rendered In Olden Thursday

Mrs. Milton Day, in charge of Community night program in Olden, is urging a full attendance for the November meeting which will be held in the high school gym tomorrow (Thursday) night at 7:30 o'clock.

These monthly meetings are very popular and are free to anyone who wish to attend. They are held primarily to promote friendship and neighborliness. Visitors are assured of a good program.

Front Line Action In Korea Is Halted

UN Force Will Fire Only If Fired On First

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 28 (UP)—The United Nations troops in the front lines in Korea were ordered today to halt all offensive action and to fire only if fired upon.

The infantrymen along the frozen 145-mile front were ordered to provoke no incidents.

The artillery was ordered to fire on the enemy only if the enemy fires first.

There will still be scouting patrols in front of the lines, but insofar as the Allied forces are concerned, they will be scout patrols only and will not engage in offensive action.

Explaining the order, a high ranking western front officer said: "We are not going to provoke or incite any incidents. If we are fired upon we will fire back. Our artillery will fire only counterbattery fire if provoked. We will not fire harassing or interdictionary fire missions while the other side observes this. I hope we will both be honorable about this thing."

This statement left the question open whether the officer meant that the no-offensive fire order was issued by the UN command on its own initiative, or whether there was some kind of agreement with the Communists.

UN negotiators at the Panmunjom truce camp refused to say whether there had been any agreement with the Communists.

The question was left open also whether aerial and naval offensive action will continue while the truce negotiations are in progress.

UN airmen shot down three Red jet planes Wednesday.

At the same time, 8th Army Headquarters warned that the war officially is still on.

"There is hope (of a cease-fire) but that hope must not be sabotaged by wishful thinking," the announcement said.

"The mission of the 8th Army and attached UN ground forces in Korea is to rebel Communist aggression in this theatre.

"The fact that a military demarcation line has been determined is but one of the points on the agenda. Until such time as an agreement is reached on all points which will insure an armistice in Korea, the 8th Army will take any steps deemed necessary to safeguard itself against surprise and to fulfill its mission."

In the air, American Sabrejets shot down three and damaged four Communist MIG-jet fighter planes, some perhaps flown by women pilots. One Sabrejet was lost.

The 20-minute dogfight over northwest Korea boosted the 8th Army Jets' two-day toll of enemy jets to 12 destroyed or damaged. Two allied jets have been lost.

The possibility that some of the MIGs were flown by women was raised by a Communist newsmen at Panmunjom, who said the Reds have thrown large numbers of female pilots into the jet air war in Korea.

Ground fighting along the snow covered 145-mile Korean front continued to diminish with both sides apparently willing to wait out the truce negotiators' attempt to complete an armistice within the next 29 days.

If a truce is completed by Dec. 27, the present battleline will become a permanent cease-fire line. There was no incentive for either army at the moment, therefore, to try to take additional territory.

Forty MIGs and 28 American Sabrejets took part in the first air battle reported during the day. It ranged from 30,000 to 8,000 feet over Sinanju in "Mig Alley" and ended with three Communist jets shot down and four damaged.

The "kills" were credited to Maj. Winton W. Marshall of Raleigh, N.C., who shot down one MIG and shared in the destruction of another with 2nd Lt. Samuel A. Greening of York, Pa., and 1st Lt. Dayton W. Ragland of Kansas City.

Ratheal Speaks At Lions' Club

Rev. C. Melvin Ratheal, pastor of First Baptist Church here, was guest speaker at the Lions' weekly luncheon Tuesday noon.

The speaker chose for his subject, "Sportsmanship," and for some 15 minutes he painted a word picture of present day goings on with reference to gambling and the buying off of players in college and high school football and other games.

The speaker did not place the blame so much on the players as he did the outsiders. Players know right from wrong, as do their coaches, and as a rule coaches insist on fair play. But outsiders, many times, are more interested in their bets than they are good sportsmanship, and it is not uncommon for them to "buy games."

This wreck everything, including the boy, is the pastor's opinion.

Such practices should be done away with and our boys given training in good sportsmanship.

Two visitors were present: A. D. Green of Dallas, and Rev. Ratheal.

Chanters From M'Murry Are To Appear In City

ABILENE, Nov. 28 (UP)—Members of the McMurphy College Chanters will be presented in concert at the Eastland High School, December 3, as a part of their first major tour of the year.

Dr. Richard C. von Ende, chairman of the division of Fine Arts, will direct the choir of 45 mixed voices as they tour North Texas, giving a series of 16 programs, from December 2-7.

Slated on the trip are both sacred and secular programs in high schools and churches in Ranger, Cisco, Breckenridge, Minerals Wells, Graham, Throckmorton, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Childress, Paducah, Crowell, Munday Knox City, Haskell and Stamford.

The Chanters traveled over 3,000 miles last year in appearing in programs all over the South west. About the group critics have said: "Whether singing hymns in a church or light jumpy numbers for a high school audience, the Chanters are so devoted and enthusiastic to their work, that each selection seems to come alive with their singing of it."

Miss Mary Ellen Hayes, assistant professor of organ, will serve as accompanist for the Chanters and will be available for organ recitals prior to the regular program if requests are made.

Sarah Widner, Abilene sophomore, serves as assistant accompanist. Soloists who will probably be featured include Jimmie Davison, Lamesa senior, who will accompany herself on the accordion; Kenneth Rodgers, Plainview freshman; Jacques Hunter, Abilene sophomore, and Harold Rucker, Abilene sophomore, who is president of the Chanters.

Two male quartets will also be spotlighted in several numbers. "Coming Through the Rye," a sort of syncopated rhythm will be included on the program as well as "Gloria God In Heaven," a special Christmas number.

Jack Frost Will Head C. of C. For Coming Year

Jack Frost will serve as president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce during the next 12 months, following his election Tuesday night at a directors meeting.

Other officers for the coming year are: Ben Hamner, first vice-president; Dr. Jas. C. Whittington, second vice-president; and Herbert J. Tanner, manager.

Several important questions were discussed during the meeting though nothing definite was done. Important announcements will be made within the next few days.

The Big Gifts reports was made at the "Early Bird Breakfast," attended by some forty two men, held at the Hotel Connelley this morning.

The Big Gifts Committee consisted of Bruce Pipkin, Cyrus Frost, Dr. James Whittington, and Hubert Westfall. This committee has been working on their part of the campaign for the past two weeks.

Car License To Be Discussed At Meeting, Dec. 3

A meeting of Eastland County motor vehicle dealers, finance companies, banks, etc., will be held in the Commissioner's Court room at the Eastland County courthouse on December 3, 8:00 p.m., to discuss procedure used in obtaining registration and certificates of title on motor vehicles and attendant problems.

This meeting will be held due to the number of vehicles registered in Texas having reached 3,137,526, and a further increase expected. It is the desire of the Highway Department to co-ordinate the work of these business firms, the county tax collector, and the motor vehicle division in order to render the best possible service to the public.

The disclosure followed publication of a letter from Marshal Tito to columnist Drew Pearson in which Tito said, "The Stepinac question will be solved within a month."

Clayton Rand Says

GOING STRONG AT 92

Hilton U. Brown, age 92, has written "A Book of Memories," published by Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind.

Hilton Ultimus Brown, former journalist of Indiana, for 70 years with the Indianapolis News, as reporter, city editor, managing editor, general manager and now vice president, has seen, heard and written much in his time. He was for 68 years a director of Butler University and 49 years president of its board.

His "Book of Memories" is a volume of exciting pen pictures of Jefferson Davis, William Tecumseh Sherman, General Benjamin Harrison, James Whitcomb Riley and Booth Tarkington.

While on his honeymoon South in 1883 he interviewed Jefferson Davis, ex-president of the Confederacy, and did so well with the story he was given an increase in salary, from $10 to $13 a week.

His autobiography is largely a story of his youth, of Hoosier personalities, Butler University and the Indianapolis News, but it's dramatic stuff. When 19 years of age, Hilton Brown was asked what he enjoyed most, and he replied, "A good book, a fine sermon, a pretty girl, the theatre, a football game and a good cigar."

Apparently, at 92, he still has ideas.

When he wrote his first copy for the News in indelible pencil, a stuttering printer commented: "Another d-d-damned college graduate to e-e-educate."

Muddled Southwest Conference Gets Ready For Another Week

By CARTER JEFFERSON
United Press Sports Writer
Texas A&M winds up its football season Thursday, and it will be a success for the Aggies if they can lick their oldest enemies, the Texas Longhorns.

The Aggies always point all season for the Texas game. They haven't won a Southwest Conference this year, and they are holding down the cellar in the standings. But the fans at Kyle Field will act just as if a national title were at stake on Thursday and so will the teams.

The College Station fracas is not the only grudge battle on tap this week. Southern Methodist invades Fort Worth Saturday, and the Mustangs would dearly love to topple Texas Christian and put the conference race back in its usual muddle.

And Baylor and Rice will be out for blood. Both of them must win to keep alive their chance at the conference crown—and a Cotton Bowl bid for Baylor. Rice has no chance at the bowl berth.

Both the Aggies and the Longhorns have been hard at it during the past nine days, getting ready for Thursday. Both are in top shape.

The longhorn's Gib Dawson is still the conference leading scorer, even though his team is fourth in the standings. Glenn Lippman at A&M is tied with a flock of others for second place.

Trainer Bill Dayton of A&M is bragging that the Aggies will be in peak physical condition Thursday. Texas, too, can't complain.

The experts say Texas will win, but anything could happen. Texas Christian, the leader in the wacky conference race, is also in tip-top condition.

The Horned Frogs merely limbered up yesterday, but the rough stuff was due to begin today. Coach Dutch Meyer showed the week's game films, then started telling his team what not to do against SMU.

He will spend the rest of the week telling them what they should do, and running them until they can.

At SMU, Rusty Russell will be minus one of his linemen, Bob Hooks, who enhanced his reputation for eagerness by almost blocking a Baylor punt last week end. In the process he received a kick in the face which broke his jaw. Several other Mustangs are on the doubtful list—including linebacker I. D. Russell, who suffered a neck injury.

Baylor was hardest hit of all this weekend in its rough tussle with SMU. Fullback Richard Parma, one of the Bear's top ground gainers, was lost for the season when he broke a collar bone.

Several other Baylorites are on the sidelines—end Stan Williams, tackles Ken Casner and Luke Welch and halfback Cotton Davidson were hurt in the roughhouse with the Mustangs. Red Donaldson and Glen Jones, a pair of key defensive backs, already were out of the lineup. Rice is in better shape, with only one reserve, end Blois Bridges, out with injuries.

Coach Jess Neely held his team

Bette Davis Is Called In On Her Back Taxes

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28 (UP)—Screen actress Bette Davis was scheduled to testify today in the federal government's civil suit against her over $80,820 in income taxes.

The government contends the star owes the money on her taxes for 1942-43. She argues the taxes were paid in full on a community property basis before and shortly after the death of her former husband, Alfred A. Farnsworth, in 1943.

Argentine Sends Polar Expedition

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 28 (UP)—Argentina launched one of its most ambitious ventures in Antarctic exploration today with a force of 200 men, three planes and two ships.

A ski-equipped DC-3 manned by a crew trained in Alaska under the guidance of U. S. Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, will head the expedition. The plane is equipped with rockets for take-offs from frozen areas and can operate in temperatures of 40 degrees below zero.

Twelve Air Force officials and 30 men will handle the DC-3 and two specially-equipped British planes. The Navy units are the frigate Hero and the seagoing tug Charrua. Both are fitted for rescue operations in case of plane mishaps.

Your Scrap Dealer...
A VITAL LINK IN NATIONAL PRODUCTION
The scrap metal he gathers is as necessary for producing tanks and autos, nails and bridges, as iron ore from mines. He needs your broken machinery, old batteries, in fact anything discarded or useless made of iron and steel or other metals to send on to the mills. Most steel is made from 1/2 scrap and 1/2 pig iron. Other metals, too—zinc, lead, aluminum, copper, etc.—are re-used in production. Scrap is critically short.

Sanders, Hamrick Among Leading Backs This Year In Pioneer Loop

ARLINGTON, Nov. 28 — Ranger's surprising 27-0 victory over the second-place Schreiner Mountaineers last week wound up the Pioneer Conference season for 1951.

The San Angelo Rams, winners of the loop title for the second consecutive year, by virtue of four conference victories against no defeats, have received and accepted a bid to appear in the Olegder Bowl in Galveston. Opponents will be Hinds Junior College of Raymond, Mississippi, winners of the Mississippi Junior College League pennant.

Conference officials feel that the league completed its best season with all five teams being more closely matched than in 1950.

In individual statistics, San Angelo led in total offense with 2,605 yards in eight games, an average of 326 yards per game.

The Schreiner Mountaineers led in passing with a total of 1,433 yards gained in the air in ten games. The Arlington State Rebels were the league's leading running team with a total of 2,030 net yards gained from scrimmage in nine contests.

Bobby Bowmer, Schreiner quarterback, won the individual passing championship with a total of 74 completions in 156 tosses for 1,178 yards, an average of 15.9 yards per completion.

The Mountaineers also had the league's leading pass receiver in James Brazell, unquestionably one of the finest junior college offensive ends in Texas. Brazell caught 37 passes for a total of 624 yards.

Douglas Cameron, slashing San Angelo halfback, was the league's best runner with a total of 720 yards gained from scrimmage in 117 carries, an average of 6.2 yds per try.

Caddy Sanders, Ranger, rated by many observers as one of the best all-around backs in the league, was the only player to lead in two departments. Sanders led in kick-off returns, bringing back 13 kicks for 231 yards, an average of 18 per return. He also led in punt returns, 20 for 388, an average of 19.4 per return.

His teammate, Bud Hamrick, was the loop's best kicker, with a total of 45 punts for 1,828 yards, an average of 40.7 per kick.

Individual scoring honors went to Don Bloom, speedy Arlington State halfback who tallied seven touchdowns and two conversions for a total of 44 points.

Jury Will Go To Night Club On Pay Suit

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (UP) — A justice court jury will go out on the town today to decide whether the music at a Dallas night club's gala opening was Hawaiian or hillbilly.

Justice of the Peace W. E. (Bill) Richburg, locally famous for his unusual methods of settling disputes, ordered the excursion because he said it would be the only fair way to get a decision in the bandleader's suit against the club owner.

Buss Everett, the band leader, sued H. E. Brown for $41 he failed to get for a one-night stand at Brown's Hawaiian room. Brown said he wouldn't pay because he hired Everett to play hulas and got instead a band that "sang like Roy Acuff." Everett claimed, however, that his men played bona fide Hawaiian music.

The judge suggested that his panel hear the program, but Brown said it wouldn't sound right unless the jurors saw the musicians in their cowboy costumes in front of his 17-foot murals of diamond head.

"You can't imagine how the 'Steel Guitar Rag' sounded against the background of those murals," the owner said. "I lost about half my customers."

Subs Could Go In Polar Region

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 28 (UP) — Submarines "as big as aircraft carriers" could operate under the Polar ice cap to within 900 miles of important targets in Russia, Sir Hubert Wilkins, 64-year-old Arctic explorer, said here yesterday.

Wilkins is a cold weather consultant to the armed forces. In an interview here, he refused to say whether his projected Dec. 3 expedition to the far north is concerned with such a super-submarine plan.

When it comes to SERVICE

PLYMOUTH IS THE CAR WITH MORE DEALERS, MORE TRAINED SERVICE-MEN, THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

To many people, the kind of service that's behind a car is important.

Before buying, they wisely ask: "Where can I get service if I need it?"

Plymouth Dealers Are Everywhere

It makes no difference where you live, there's an expertly trained Plymouth serviceman near you. With over 10,500 Plymouth dealers —far more than for any other make of car—you'll find a Plymouth dealer in or near every community in the nation.

70,000 Master Technicians

Plymouth owners have available not only the most, but the best, service. Nearly 70,000 Plymouth servicemen are members of the Master Technicians Service Conference, the largest program of its kind in the world. In operation for more than 4 years, this is a continuing "postgraduate" course in the most accurate, surest ways of diagnosing mechanical difficulties... the newest, best service methods.

The Right Service at the Right Time

Plymouth Master Technicians are the kind of servicemen who can diagnose the complaint right off—without costly, time-wasting guesswork and experimenting. Then they work to factory-approved standards, with factory-engineered parts. Result: The job is done properly. The Plymouth car is built to last —to give you fine and dependable transportation at low cost. But when your Plymouth does need a checkup, minor adjustment, or repair, it's good to know that this fine service is always near you. It's part of the satisfaction, the sense of extra value, that you get when you buy a Plymouth.

Professor "Tech," film character familiar to Plymouth servicemen, points out the newest and best service procedure. The latest educational aids, along with manuals, demonstrations, and practical "laboratory work" in the shop, are combined in a continuing "postgraduate" course. This unique, specialized training is one of the big reasons why forward-looking servicemen prefer to work for Plymouth dealers.
