Front Line Troops Confused By The "Don't Shoot Order"

TROOPS PUZZLED MOST BY DENIALS; NO ORDER GIVEN

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch is from a veteran United Press correspondent with wide experience in World War II and the Korean War.

By Robert Vermillion
United Press Staff Correspondent
SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Dec. 1 (UP)—Front line troops are still as puzzled as anybody else by the confusion surrounding the 8th Army's mysterious "don't shoot" order.

But they like the order. What puzzles the GI's is the explosion from the 8th Army, general headquarters in Tokyo and Key West of reports which correspondents sent on the basis of what they learned first hand from the soldiers themselves. Official denials have centered around an erroneous report that the 8th Army ordered a "cease-fire" in Korea. No soldier was told this. The soldiers were told simply not to pick a fight with the enemy and not to shoot at him unless he started it.

Correspondents have been forbidden by censorship to use the word "order" in describing the 8th Army directive. But as far as the soldier is concerned, he gets an order. Officers do not make "suggestions" to their troops. There was nothing in the directive which would enjoin the 8th Army from attacking the Communists.

Obviously it is not good military policy to inform the enemy that you are not going to attack during any given period of time. However, the "don't shoot" order still applies to the front line companies and no "clarification" has been made to the troops which changed it in any way. Only the artillery has been directed to resume its normal harassing and interdiction fire against enemy positions and communications.

Exactly when the order was issued from the 8th Army, and its exact contents, are not known. But here is the chronology of the affair as it hit the front lines: Tuesday—The order was received at division levels between 11 p.m. and midnight. On one sector of the front it was received by a regiment as early as "about 10 p.m." and one company had the telephoned order logged in its book as received at 9:20 p.m. when received at the company level the order had been reduced to a simple "don't shoot unless you are shot at."

Wednesday—All artillery fire against the enemy had virtually ceased. Artillery units did fire counter-battery against enemy shells and mortar firing at us. We returned the fire at the rate of five shells for every one fired by the Reds. Patrols went out as usual. Some drew fire from the enemy and withdrew immediately, turning the situation over to the artillery. Also on Wednesday, the 8th Army issued its first statement denying a "cease-fire."

Thursday—Some time during the morning artillery units were ordered to "resume normal fire" as of 1 p.m., which they did. An infantry officer told a reporter: "We will avoid all situations which could lead to contact with Communist troops." Gen James A. Van Fleet, commanding the 8th Army, issued a statement again denying a "cease-fire" but omitted an order which had been issued but whose contents he was "not at liberty" to reveal. He said it would be "clarified" in those units which "misinterpreted it."

Friday and Saturday—No further change. The artillery is firing at any and all targets but the infantry still is forbidden to look for a fight. United Press dispatches throughout the period of confusion have emphasized that ordinary patrolling continued in the necessary job of feeling out enemy front line positions.

Local Baptists Adopt Budget For The Coming Year

An annual budget of $29,381.00 has been adopted by members of the First Baptist church. This is an increase over last year when the church had a budget totaling $19,659.00. The only increases noticeable was the building fund, repair fund and missions. This year the church will give 25 per cent of all monies collected to missions, as its part in the co-operative program, sponsored by Southern Baptists.

Request To Build Airfields Denied By UN Delegates

By ARNOLD DIBBLE
United Press Staff Correspondent
PANMUNJOM, KOREA, Dec. 1 (UP)—Communist truce negotiators today demanded the right to build airfields in Korea during an armistice.

The United Nations delegation rejected the demand and disclosed afterward that it considers the Communist air force a major threat to a stable armistice. However, the allies yielded to the Communists to the extent of agreeing that other types of military reconstruction or rehabilitation work might be undertaken during a truce.

Pastor Bailey Announces His Sermon Themes

"Life Then And Life Today" will be the sermon subject of Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor, at the 10:50 morning worship service Sunday at the First Methodist church. The chancel choir will sing the anthem "Bell Carol" by Miles. Mrs. J. P. Kilgore will play the pipe organ and include in the music "Shepherd of Israel" by Ritter and "Andante Pastoale" by Galbraith.

Sunday evening at the 7:30 worship service the pastor will preach on the theme "Certainty with God." The men's choir will sing and Cyrus B. Frost, Jr., will lead the congregational song service. Mrs. T. J. Haley will play for the service. Sunday School will meet at 9:45 and the Sunday evening youth groups will meet at 6:30.

UN Label On The Korean War Is Called Disgrace

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (UP)—Rep. George H. Bender (R-O.) said today that the United Nations label on Korean War forces "is a shabby and disgraceful farce, designed to debauch the American people." In a statement, Bender released figures showing "the percentages of the United States forces in Korea in comparison with those supplied by all other nations." He said release of these figures had been cleared by security officers. "They are shocking in their revelation that our government has furnished 98.2 per cent of all the air forces engaged in Korea, 83.81 per cent of the naval forces, and 88 per cent of all the ground forces outside of those furnished by the South Korean government itself," he said.

Week Of Prayer To Be Observed By Baptist WMU

"The First Christian Giver" will be the theme used by the pastor at the First Baptist church Sunday morning and a special sermon is scheduled for Sunday evening.

During the week the WMU will observe a week of prayer; meeting Monday through Thursday at 1 until 2 p.m. each afternoon. On Friday the meeting will start at 10:30 and will continue until 2 p.m. A covered dish dinner will be served at noon.

The annual Lottie Moon mission offering will conclude the week's program. The offering will be taken at the morning worship service Sunday, December 9th.

Services Are Announced By Presbyterians

The Rev. M. P. Elder will speak on "When God Speaks", Heb. 1:2 Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church. The hour has just recently been changed from 5 p.m. to 4 p.m. the pastor said. The public was invited to attend the service.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Arch Birt, of Cisco, senior member of the board of county commissioners, is beginning to stir about again. Mr. Birt has served for 20 years as an Eastland county commissioner. He has been in ill health for some time, but is greatly improved and his friends are glad to see him in circulation again.

Eastland Mavericks are to be in a new district next year, it is reported, and from all indications they will be biting off some rather big competition. The past season's games were very disappointing, but we are not foolish enough to believe this will be of a permanent nature. They could lead the district next year.

Civil suits in the Ninety-first court have occupied the time of Judge Davenport during the past few days. A number of these suits have not been tried, and are still on the docket. Some will be continued until the next regular term of court.

Texan Believed Drowned After Plane Crashes

WARSAW, MO., Dec. 1 (UP)—A search of the Lake of the Ozarks was continued today for Earl Wright Jr., 26, pilot of a four seated Stinson airplane that crashed into the lake near the Cole Camp Creek arm late yesterday.

Two passengers in Wright's plane were injured and taken to a Sedalia hospital. They were Sam Elliott, 20, and Estel Kincaid, 37, cattle ranchers of near Warsaw.

They were rescued by boat by resort owner Rodney Tevis after they crawled to the top of the plane. It was believed Wright was thrown into the water as the plane crashed and drowned.

Elliott is the son of Lloyd Elliott of Dalhart, Tex., extensive rancher and cattleman. Young Elliott and Kincaid were flying over the area to inspect land they planned to purchase for use as ranches.

Olden Takes 2 Games From The Scranton Quints

The Olden Hornets buzzed over to Scranton and took two games Friday night. Coach Hilliard's girls played a very neat game to take a win of 24 to 17. Canet and Edwards tied for point honors for the Hornets with an add up of 10 points each. Starr was high pointer - for Scranton with 9 points.

Coach Weaver's boys took a fast game with a score of 20 to 12. Weaver's shift in line-up brought out the ability of co-captain Adams who played his best game of the season. Captain Rouch counted for 10 points, trailed by the co-captain, Adams, with 6 points.

Ingram led the scoring for Scranton with 6 points. Officers: Barbee, Hardin-Simmons, Maynard, Rising Star.

Ratheal Will Be Main Speaker At B.T.U. In Olden

Olden B. T. U. will have as guest speaker Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m., Rev. C. Melvin Rathéal, pastor of the First Baptist church, Eastland. The usual program will be rendered following the address of Rev. Rathéal. The Olden group is reported to have a splendid organization with much interest being shown by members.

Woman's Day To Be Observed By First Christian

In observance of Women's Day the subject for the Sunday morning worship service will be "What Can I Do?" The subject for the evening service will be "The Uplift Of Christ."

Whenever you hear persons giving silly reasons for not going to church, call to their attention this widely quoted article.

Why I do not attend the movies. No one speaks to me; the movies are unfriendly.

When I go they ask for money. One ticket should admit my entire family, because there is only one source of income for all of us.

When I get home from business I am tired and must rest. I saw a poor picture once; it made me nervous and I decided not to go again.

There are so many hypocrites attending the movies that I think I should not go.

Movies may be a good thing, but I got out of the habit of going.

I don't like the manager's attitude on social question.

I stay away from the movies because I went too much when I was a child.

I don't go to the movies because they admit undesirable people.

I don't go to the movies because the manager never calls on me. Ad infinitum.

COME TO CHURCH, the friendly church with a spiritual message.

Emberton, local pastor, states, this service will be conducted at the Church of the Nazarene in Cisco and we invite all who desire to attend.

We are expecting visitors from Ranger, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge and Stephenville.

Illicit Stills Taken By State Board Officers

Moonshiners may still be found in this state, though licenses have never been granted any individual in this state to manufacture spirits of any kind. During the month of October, according to a report from the State Liquor Control Board, no less than 7 illicit stills, which had a cubic capacity of 375 gallons. Officers also took 1,020 gallons of mash and almost 15 gallons of moonshine liquor.

Eastland Thirty Years Ago Quite Different From Today; Many Old Timers Still Reside In The City

Thirty years ago Eastland's Daily newspaper was known as Eastland Daily Oil Belt News, of which the Telegram is a lineal descendant. We have before us a copy dated February 27, 1921, and while it is more or less a relic we are due thanks to Mrs. J. U. Johnson, who furnished this copy.

The first thing that took our eye was the announcement on page 1, showing the paper contained 42 pages. Some larger than the Telegram, we should say, in the center of the page was a picture of Eastland's city manager, and under this the following cut lines appeared: "Walter Lander, Brainy and Efficient City Manager of Eastland. Page one carried two large ads. One was signed Rebold Lumber Co., and the other by B. F. King, Jeweler."

The issue was some kind of special and many large ads appeared in it's columns. One half page ad was signed "Whittington Sanitarium", which indicates they had hospital and sanitariums in the dark ages as well as today. L. B. Wright appears to have been the leading hardware dealers, judging from the size of his ad. They had autos then for Harwood Auto Supply was yelling for more business.

Connellee Theatre probably furnished most of the entertainment, but Mr. Pipkin of Piggly Wiggly fame, was chief grocer in those days. First State Bank was doing business here 30 years ago and boasted it's $200,000 capital.

Robin's Jewelry Shop sold watches and diamonds and B. F. Allen was doing his best to interest men in tailor made suits.

O. M. Crenshaw was secretary-manager of the chamber of Commerce, and The Security State Bank was asking for more business. The Guaranty State Bank let it be known that it held $31,256.00 worth of Liberty Bonds, which tell us we had a world war in that age.

The First State Bank had a half page ad which contained a picture of it's home. This building is now occupied by the Eastland National Bank. Campbell and Fagg had the leading department store and were advertising Georgetown Crepe at $1.49 a yard. The Princess Theatre knocked the world over when it announced "Paramount Arcraft" and a "cooling system". "Crusto" bread was made by Hildley Bakery. Barrow Furniture Co. had a furniture store and undertaking parlor. Peeman & Dillingham had an auto shop, and Magness Company sold Buick Cars.

W. V. Dunnam was county attorney, while C. R. Starnes was county judge. J. H. Jones was county judge-at-law. Eastland Gas and Electric Co. served both fuel and lights, while the Daily paper announced a big subscription contests in which two model T Fords were given as prizes.

Eastland Laundry company were doing the family wash for 10c a pound. Babb Bros. were selling shoes and clothing. We had a "Smart Shop" in those days, and Walter Morris had the Charlotte Hotel and Cafe. Eastland Hardware Co. sold wagons, harness and firearms. The Stanley Cafe served French pastries made in their own shop.

J. U. Johnson operated Eastland's big Department Store. His slogan was "The Public be Pleased." This reminds us of another old slogan used by certain companies, "The Public be D...D." They may be sorry now.

City Drug Store was owned by Madden & Brown. Eastland Laundry company announced that it "Soaked the Clothes - Not the Customer."

The Oil Belt Power Co. and The Oil Cities Electric Co., doing business in Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge, Gorman and De Leon, were urging people to join the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Sam Nolley was sheriff, and Tom W. Crutcher was selling insurance. Weaver and Downen were photographers. J. L. Jones was trying to sell silk and taffeta dresses for $16.50. Blouses were $3.75.

Much additional information is contained in this copy of the Oil Belt Daily News.

Daily Report Of Hospital Workers

Volunteer workers on the Eastland hospital Friday included Rev. Otto Marshall, I. C. Heck, Neil Hurt, Jack Jernigan, Doc Alfred, Wayne Jackson, M. H. Perry, Rev. T. G. Oilphant, Isaac Williams, F. M. Spurlin, Felix Spurlin, Joe Reihl, Bill Frost.

Wade Massengale, Donald Brinkley, Willie Speaker, Parks Poe, Edward Ivory, Curtis Koen, G. N. Smith, L. C. Jones, Robert Vaughn, S. A. Green, B. E. Robinson and Bill Tinkle of Las Vegas, N. M., Mr. Tinkle set the glass in a number of hospital windows.

Hostesses were Mmes. C. M. McCain, Ben Mathews, Waverly Massengale, Miss Massengale and Miss Iva Stewart of Chicago, Ill.

IMPORTANT NOTICE STOP

The City of Eastland has placed "Stop" signs at certain dangerous street intersections. These signs read "Stop"—not slow down. The police department has been given strict instructions to give violation tickets to everyone who does not comply with this traffic regulation.

Traffic violations are expensive in the destruction of property. Far more serious is the crippling or killing of innocent people. "Think" and "Stop".

PLAIN IRISH STEW

By Major Hoopie McCorkle
Telegram Philosopher

The flavor will be the same, but the name of this column has been changed, or translated into the English—"Just Plain Irish Stew." And the sad thing is we doubt if we have convinced a single customer we are a fluent speaker of French.

It seems we are prone to make mistakes. We are just as full of them as most dogs are fleas, and it seems we will never learn.

Right now it looks like we may have made a mistake when we volunteered to use the Telegram as a kind of clearing house for a Christmas Cheer Fund. We made inquiries from local individuals and it appeared the road was open for travel. We have had part in several Cheer fund drives and know that much good was done. Considerable suffering was alleviated, and all that, but such a campaign here may be all out of season. Many, many newspapers in many, many cities do sponsor such drives and we have never heard of one having a failure. That's why we feel prompted to call the Eastland campaign off before it gets started.

Word has come to us that several individuals and organizations in this city have been giving attention to this work, and we would not for one moment stand in their way. It may be the Telegram's offer is resented in a way. We do not know. However it is handled it will require a lot of time and effort. This we know.

Another thing we know is that we have not been getting much response. It is seldom mentioned one way or the other. It will not disturb us in the least to take out. So unless subscriptions begin coming in immediately, we will let silence give consent and withdraw from the field.

A few days ago a fellow asked us why we don't tell the truth sometimes. We do—sometimes, though not very often, and the reason is people don't want the truth. We decided once in our younger days to be an honest editor. We would tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. We told it one day—everything we knew about everybody and everything. The next morning the city's population had dropped from 1100 to about 148. They could not stand the truth. Of course when all our advertisers and readers skipped town we went broke, and only for a small loan from the town's bootlegger, we could have not moved our plant. The truth didn't scare him. He knew he was a bootlegger and so did everybody else. He didn't have to run. Which reminds me of a story about a preacher.

He had been kind of soft-soaping his group along in an effort to keep harmony and his salary going. One day he announced he was going to call the name of the man who had been seen with another man's wife, if the wayward brother didn't drop a 10 dollar bill in the collection plate the following Sunday. The preacher was desperate and he figured he might work the bluff and get $10. To his surprise the plate was filled to overflowing on Sunday, and with nothing but $10 bills. The shoe fit several of the group it seems.

So since that time we have been telling the truth when we figured it wouldn't hurt anything, and lying when we knew that lying was the only decent way out. We are not foolish enough to start running our customers off, even though we know they should be in the penitentiary.

A man may steal a hundred thousand dollars, kill the office boy who saw him take it, and still be a "praying deacon." It is only after he is caught and convicted that he becomes bad. At least this seems to be the gauge used to measure our social standards. That's why we handle the truth so recklessly. It just doesn't hurt matters to know too much, especially if it is true, though a coward is not afraid of a lie if it is big enough.

The good thing about telling a lie is that usually it doesn't hurt anything, because nobody believes what you say anyway. Liars are soon spotted in a community, and after that nobody takes anything they say seriously. Just as well have a big L branded on their forehead—everybody has their number.

Let's consider the "white lie." Are you justified? We know we are on thin ice when we say "yes", but we have seen times when a white lie would save a life. That was good and we think the lie was justified, for it helped one individual and didn't hurt anybody. A soft way to answer this question would be to answer it by asking another question.

We may not be able to get the scriptures to bear us out on this statement, but in our weak and feeble manner we have wavered about some of the decisions made by the Saviour. At the time his group wanted to stone a self-admitted sinful woman, Jesus told the one that was without sin to cast the first stone. He asked, in a sense, for self examination, and the answers must have been negative, for they turned and left the scene. Jesus didn't lie—just put the woman's accusers on the spot, while He forgave the woman of her sin. Let's change the subject before we get into deep water and drown.

Right now is a good time to say a little about Christmas. Yes, Christmas, and not Xmas. It is in commemoration of Christ's birth and who ever spelled the name of Christ with an X. The work Xmas, looks about as silly as we feel. Certainly He should mean enough to us to occupy our minds for two seconds while we spell His name. In algebra X may equal the number, but in speaking of our savior X doesn't even register. At this season of the year our hearts become tender. In our mad rush for gain and glory we have neglected Him for the first eleven months of the year. In December we pause and take stock. We see suffering and crime, hunger and anguish. Poverty and squalor are about us. We continue to pause and are moved to alleviate some of the suffering. We give gifts in love and thanksgiving, we aid t h e poor and in a way forget the shortcomings of those about us. Christmas—a festival celebrating the birth of Christ, on December 25, and Christ-mas-tide (Christmas Eve, Dec. 24) on through Epiphany (Jan. 6.)

These days should be our most holy and sinless days. And the least we can do would be to commemorate His birth in a manner that will be pleasing to Him. This can not be done with drunken orgies. It can not be done with revelry. Fire works at Christmas are as much out of place as an electric refrigerator would be at the North Pole. Fire works for the Fourth of July, but the adoration of Christ at Christmas.

We've never been one of the holier-than-thou type, but we can discern the difference between prayer and powder. And while in Fort Worth we learned that a cow in no way resembles a water pump, even though some dairy-men might differ.

Let's make Christmas a day for joy and thanksgiving. If you do you'll feel better all next year. Try it and see.

Tennessee Meets Vanderbilt In Season's Final

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Dec. 1 (UP)—Tennessee, the nation's top-ranked football team, took the field a 26-point favorite to complete its first unbeaten, untied season today with a "homecoming" conquest of Vanderbilt.

Gen. Bob Neyland, coach of the Sugar-Bowl bound Volunteers, feared that his men might not be mentally sharp for the regular season final, after playing three rugged games.

But the Vanderbilt Commodores, who have lost four of their 10 games including a near-upset of Orange-Bowl-bound Georgia Tech, were not expected to give the Vols many scares. Tennessee was in first-class physical condition, with linebacker Bill Barbish, who has a fractured thumb, the regular unable to see action.

Three CCNY Men Barred Waiting Probe Results

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (UP)—Three members of the present City College of New York basketball team were barred from playing in tonight's season-opening game against Roanoke College because they gained entrance to the school on falsified high school records.

The college announced that "what appears to be conclusive evidence" of tampering has been found in the records of players Morris Bragin, Edward Chenetz, and Arnold Smith.

"They will be permitted to continue attending classes, but will not be allowed to participate in varsity athletics, pending completion of the investigation," the college announcement said.

The irregularities came to light as a result of the investigation stemming from the discovery that Herb Cohen and Al Roth, two of the CCNY players recently convicted of "fixing" games, gained entrance to the school in this manner. The latest announcement said the records of another convicted "fixer," Irwin Dambrot, also has been found to be "altered." Bragin, Chenetz and Smith were not involved in the "fixing" scandal.

Christian Training of 400 Boys and Girls to Be Feature on Methodist Home Radio Program

This group of boys from the Methodist Home, Waco, Texas, will be heard on the Home's regular Sunday morning broadcast December 2. They are shown singing one of their favorite hymns, "Halleluiah."

Christian training for 400 boys and girls at the Methodist Home, Waco, Texas, will be portrayed in the Home's regular Sunday morning radio broadcast at 8:15 December 2. The life story of one of the Home's boys who chose the Methodist ministry for his life's work will be told. The young man whose life has been dedicated to the ministry was salutatorian for his high school graduating class.

Appropriate music will be furnished by the Methodist Home Choir and a speciality number will be offered by a group of boys whose picture is shown above. Radio stations in Texas and New Mexico who are cooperating in broadcasting the programs are: WFAA, Dallas; WOAI, San Antonio; KPRC, Houston; KRIS, Corpus Christi; KRGV, Weslaco; KGGC, Amarillo; KRSD, El Paso; KGGM, Albuquerque; KFYO, Lubbock; KFDM, Beaumont; KFRO, Longview; KVAL, Brownsville; KERB, Kermit; KTVC, Austin; and KBST, Big Spring.

Baylor Can Still Get Cotton Bowl Bid By Winning

HOUSTON, Dec. 1 (UP)—Baylor's Golden Bears, which can hardly wind up the loser no matter what happens, lower the curtain on their regular season today against Rice Institute.

The important thing about the game is that Baylor might conceivably come out of it with the Southwest Conference championship in their grasp, along with a ticket for the Cotton Bowl game with Kentucky on Jan. 1.

That can happen if Baylor beats Rice and if Southern Methodist spoils Texas Christian in the other conference game at Fort Worth. If Baylor wins here and still loses the Cotton Bowl bid to TCU, the Bears probably will turn out a winner nonetheless.

It was understood that Orange Bowl officials would be ready to extend a bid to play in the Miami saucer against Georgia Tech on New Year's, Baylor acceptance was not viewed as unlikely.

Sonja Henie To Be At Dallas Arena Dec. 6-23

DALLAS, Dec. 1—Sonja Henie will do more skating in her performances Dec. 6-23 at the Dallas Ice Arena than she did in winning all 10 world's championships and three Olympic titles over a 10-year span.

Here are the figures, according to the "first lady of the ice world" who brings 200-company troupe to Dallas for an 18-day engagement of her all-new 1952 Ice Revue:

"It takes approximately one minute to skate each of the six 'school' figures in the compulsory program in a world's competition, even though the figures are traced in triplicate on the ice," she explains. "The free skating half of the world's competition finds each of the women contestants limited to four minutes. That's a total of 10 minutes of skating for each title, or 130 minutes for the 13."

In each of her Revue performances, Sonja is on the ice about 45 minutes as she stars in six numbers. So in three performances, she skates a total of 135 minutes, as compared with 130 minutes for 13 titles.

Mail orders are being accepted through Box 7772, Dallas.

EASTLAND'S MANUFACTURING PLANTS

Cornelius Printing Plant Is Very Complete; Annual Payroll Is One Of Largest In Eastland District

There isn't a man, woman or child in Eastland, who has lived here for as long as 80-days who is not familiar with the name "Victor Cornelius." They also know he is in the printing business, and that he has one of the largest payrolls in this section.

And this isn't the first feature story ever written about Cornelius Printing plant. In fact, it probably won't be the last, for most editors, reporters and writers know something about the printing business, and when they happen to be well acquainted with "printing," as many of them are, they know that the local plant is something strictly out of the ordinary.

To begin it might be said that the annual payroll runs just a little less than $160,000.00, and a payroll of this type is to be given serious consideration in any man's town, and especially so in the smaller cities, like Eastland. Forty employees draw weekly checks, and when one considers that many of them are married men with families, it means that maybe 200 mouths are being fed from this source alone. Printers are in the expert labor class, and some of these weekly checks would look like a fortune to some people in the lower pay brackets.

While local printing jobs are accepted and appreciated, a major portion of the customers are from out-of-town. In fact they may be found in many states, for their hobby "Theatre Printing" is sold in every state of the Union. This plant has not always been big, for Mr. Cornelius started in a small way, but has enjoyed a substantial growth every year.

From one small hand fed press, the plant has grown into one of the largest in the state. Today 15 large automatic presses are in operation. Other machinery and equipment such as intertypes, folding machines, drills, punches, cutters, stitchers, etc., will be found on their floors.

Both letter press and offset printing is done. No job is too difficult for these experts. A complete layout and art department is maintained.

The original "nap ad" and special 11X14 poster constitute a bulk of printing, though scores and hundreds of jobs of different types are handled in the course of a year. The slogan "Modern as Tomorrow" fits in quite well.

One noticeable thing is that there is very little labor turnover at this plant. Some employees have been there for many years.

A complete engraving plant is now in operation, and while this plant was primarily installed for their own use, some commercial work is accepted.

The 7th enlarging program is now under way. This time a warehouse and work room is being added, and when all is complete the plant will occupy something like 45,000 square feet floor space.

All equipment is modern and when anything new appears in the graphic arts field, Cornelius will be one of the first to learn of it.

Some printers, small ones, buy paper by the ream. Others take paper by the case or several cases, but Cornelius gets his by the carload. He uses two and three cars each month.

Maybe we should call it a specialty house, for it really is, but at that it is one of the best equipped printing plants we have seen for some time.

It is surely an asset to the city in which it is located.

Television In Texas To Get New Stations

Texas soon may have twice as many television stations as any other state. It now has transmitters in only three places. If every station allotted to Texas by the Federal Communications Commission is built, it will have 176 in a few years, according to an article in the December issue of Popular Science Monthly. The entire country now has only 108 television stations. In a relatively short while it will have 2,000, the article states.

This dramatic move toward letting everybody sit in television's ring-side seat on the world is made possible by invading the ultra-high-frequency range of radio waves. Television now uses the very high frequency range, where radio waves are four to 18 feet long and travel about 46 miles. Ultra-high-frequency, or UHF, waves are so short they act almost like radar, and travel only 15 miles. Shorter waves make it possible to have more stations.

Television pictures that travel on UHF radio waves will look just the way they do now, Popular Science reports. They can be either in color or black-and-white. There is one complication. Since UHF behaves like radar, it is more easily blocked by buildings and even by the leaves of trees. On the other hand, it is free of interference from electric signs and machinery than present sets are.

Leading manufacturers have already built converters, expected to cost from $20 to $75, to enable owners of VHF sets to tune in on UHF programs. Some of the converters stand on top of the main set; others are built in. The only trouble is that UHF requires one more antenna to add to the forest of hardware sprouting from the nation's chimneys.

Christmas One Day Or Every Day In The Year

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is a thoughtful little story told in a Christmas article by Milton Mayer, Chicago University theologian, in the December issue of Better Homes & Gardens.)

What a day is Christmas Day, with its giving and forgiving — with its open homes and its open hearts! What a day, with a word, a drop, a morsel of cheer for every friend and for every stranger!

But the other 364 days of the year? What about them?

The day after Christmas, a few years ago, the three of us, Bill, Stan, and I, were riding down Woodlawn Avenue in Chicago, in Bill's car. We were taking it easy — the show was two feet deep and getting deeper. We had almost an hour to get to a meeting, and the meeting was only a mile away.

A half block ahead of us a car was stalled. There was a woman in the driver's seat, spinning the back wheels like mad, and a man and a boy about 10 trying to push the front end of the car sideways.

"Let's get out and give 'em a hand," said Stan.

"We've got to get to that meeting," said Bill, at the wheel. "Nuts to the meeting," said Stan.

"They got themselves in," said Bill, "let them get themselves out."

"Nuts to YOU," said Stan. He got out of the car, which was still rolling, and slammed the door behind him. I was going to say, "I guess I'd better help Stan," but Bill had picked up speed and we drove away.

When I see Bill now, I think of Christmas. When I see Stan, I think of Christ. Christmas is a way of life, and a way is something we take habitually. Stan acted, that time, from habit. From habit firmly formed.

Don't misunderstand me about Bill. Bill has good habits, too — lots of them. After all, he's a theologian like myself. One of Bill's good habits is Christmas Day. The Day means more to him, I think, than it does to Stan.

If we'd met that stalled car on the 26th instead of the 26th, Bill would have said, "Let's give him a push, fellows — the old Christmas spirit." The "old Christmas spirit," one day a year, is a good habit, but it isn't the habit of Christmas. It isn't the habit of Christ.
