UNIFIED PLANS BEING MADE FOR CONSTRUCTING MAMMOTH LAKE

Water! That was the subject discussed at a special, called meeting held in Eastland, Friday night, in which prominent citizens from Ranger, Cisco, Eastland and Gorman took part. It was a "planned program," and nothing else was discussed.

The meeting was held in the Roof Garden of the Comellee Hotel, and was called to order by Mayor Price Crawley of Ranger. Guest, or rather visitors, included mayors and city commissioners from the four cities mentioned above, chamber of commerce executives, and other outstanding and influential citizens of the county, including a number of individuals from legal fraternity.

Before discussions began a banquet was served, and the menu included real steak, taken from a steer, and not hamburger meat. It was broiled for the reason there isn't enough available water in the county to have cooked it otherwise. It was swell.

Mayor Crawley during this opening remarks stated that the program was planned and that no subject other than water would be brought up.

As a matter of fact Eastland County residents have been water conscious for some time. Engineers and others have been employed to make surveys, but as the matter now stands Eastland county is still dry. Some of the past activities have been good. Real progress has been made and during the weeks and months Eastlanders have been learning. Many important facts have been discovered, and all this will help in the future.

Ranger has probably broken the ice in the campaign, for it has passed the "talk" stage over there. Ranger has had an election, and a water district has been created. This district has been approved by the Legislature, and it is this particular water district we would discuss at this time.

No other water districts are needed so far as Eastland county is concerned. The Ranger district may be and must be enlarged to take in other suffering cities like Eastland, Cisco, and probably Gorman, De Leon and Dublin. This can very easily be done, it is thought, and the cost would be very nominal, and would be cared for by water consumers and not the community or county at large. A farmer with a good well doesn't need to be drawn into a water district of any kind. He is already being cared for, and the only thing that might attract him would be a good fishing hole and we would not have to buy that.

Ranger, Eastland and Cisco are suffering from the lack of water. This is an unquestionable fact—even an admitted fact. There might be a way to build three lakes, but they would prove burdensome. Engineers say that there is a point in Eastland county when a big dam may be constructed that will supply all the towns for all time to come.

This point seems to be some seven miles Southeast of Eastland and seven miles Southwest of Ranger. It would have a water shed of more than 260 square miles, and afford something like 32,000 acre feet. And because of the ideal location, the cost would be very minimal. It is the one perfect site in West Texas.

This lake would be larger than Lake Worth. We would have more water than they have at Colorado City. In fact engineers say we could impound enough water there to furnish 10 million gallons of water daily for ten years without a rain.

At this time the three major cities in Eastland county might use three million gallons daily. But the group that met last evening are not asking for a little drinking water—they want industrial water, too.

Because of our geographical location, our rail and highway systems, all three cities are considered as excellent for the home of smaller manufacturing plants. This alone could care for expenditures in arranging for water. Not only would they be big commercial water users, but would afford some outstanding payrolls which would bring new money into the county each week.

At the particular moment it appears that I have been forgotten and that when individuals from Ranger, Cisco and Eastland speak of the lake they do so wholeheartedly and with a plural, county-wide sentiment. During the entire session last evening not one discordant note was sounded. The writer being rather new in the county met quite a few strangers, and we learned their names by asking. You could not tell who they were or where they came from, Cisco, Ranger or Eastland, by their remarks. Petty differences have been buried, once and for all, and the citizens of Eastland county are working hand in hand for the betterment of the entire county. Anything that is good for Ranger would be good for Cisco and Eastland.

Working in this frame of mind will aid us to glorified success, to be enjoyed equally by the three cities.

The people should know the truth, and we feel they have had it. So let's go ahead and arrange for the dam, the pipe line and finally all the water we want and then so on.

Dublin Defeated Eastland-Ranger Play Sat. Night

Dublin went down in a game played at Dublin last night when they tackled the Eastland group. The score being 45 to 44 in favor of Eastland. These recent games have been of the nerve-twisting variety, as the score usually results in the neighborhood of a tie until the game is about over, and then someone makes a point. This was an invitation tournament game.

Eastland will meet Ranger tonight at 8:30 p.m. at Dublin, to play off the finals game. Ranger defeated Comanche yesterday afternoon with a score of 34 to 33 in their favor.

Granbury, Goldthwaite and Dublin have been eliminated in previous games.

Haines and Stephens made 10 points each in the game last night, and were trailed by Hanson R. George Harris 8, Williamson 7 and Herring 2.

Eastland's next game will be with DeLeon, Wednesday, December 19. The game will be played in DeLeon. The next home game will be played here January 4, when the local quint tackles Hamilton.

It is possible that there will be a game or so during the holiday.

NAMES IN THE NEWS—Career diplomat John Stewart Service, left, target for Sen. Joseph McCarthy's communism-ingovernment charges, has been fired because there was "a reasonable doubt" of his loyalty. Service, in the office of his attorney in Washington, said the dismissal was a "shock" and a "surprise" and represented an "injustice". Right, Charles Oliphant, resigned chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, as he continued his testimony before House Tax Investigators in Washington. He was questioned about his $1,300 debt to the Capital's No. 1 mystery man, Henry Grunewald. (NEA Telephoto).

UN DOWNS 27 RED PLANES; REPORTS OWN LOSSES AT 14

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Dec. 15 (UP)—U. S. jet fighters today show down one Communist MIG-15 jet, damaged six others and fire-bombed a North Korean supply center into a "mass of flames."

The American victories in two dogfights over northwest Korea increased the 8th Air Force's toll of Russian-built MIGs in the past three days alone to 27 destroyed or damaged.

One Sabrejet was damaged in one of the dogfights, but it and all other UN planes engaged returned safely to bases.

However, a propeller-driven F-51 Mustang on another mission was lost to enemy ground fire.

The 5th Air Force at the same time acknowledged the loss to Communist ground fire during the week ended Friday of 13 planes, the largest number ever lost during a seven-day period in Korea.

Fifth Air Force fighters during the same seven days shot down in combat 14 enemy planes, probably destroyed four more and damaged nine. No Allied fighter was lost in combat.

American Thunderjets swooped low over a supply area in woods north of Yangdok, a key transport hub on the Pyongyang-Wonsan railway, in a devastating fire raid Saturday morning.

Returning airmen reported they napalmed "everything in sight" and machine-gunned every moving target. At least 25 buildings housing enemy troops and supplies were destroyed and 40 others damaged.

"We hit everything, even cutting down trees with our bullets," reported 1st Lt. Doyle R. Beck of Wilburton, Okla. "The place was just a mass of flames when we left."

Ground fighting also increased. Tank-supported United Nations infantry jabbed at the Communist line in hit-run raids all along the 145-mile front. In one action alone yesterday, they killed or wounded 200 enemy troops. The Chinese Communists struck back on the central front with one of their biggest probing attacks since the start of the "cease-fire" two weeks ago.

In the air war, 24 American Thunderjets shot down one MIG and damaged five others in a low-level dogfight near Songchon. An undetermined number of the enemy jets had jumped the F-84s just after the American planes completed a saturation fire-bombing of supplies and rolling stock at Songchon, a transport hub.

The downed planes was credited to Capt. John E. Mitchell of (2017 Wedges Street, Independence, Mo.) It was his first. He also damaged a MIG in the dogfight.

"The MIG broke off into a lazy S-turn when I hit it with a long burst," Mitchell said in describing the "kill." "It began to trail smoke and went into a dive into the ground and exploded."

First Christian Sunday Services Are Announced

The subject for the Sunday morning service will be "The Certainty of Christmas." The sermon subject for the evening service will be "The Spirit of Christmas."

The sweetest gentleness of civilization is the gifts of Christmas to the world. With a kind, wistful reverence, Christmas is the glory of millions of homes. If God had not so loved the world that he gave, men would not have found the secret of unselfish longing and giving.

Lynn Harold Hough Come to church, the friendly church with a spiritual message.

Meeting Baptist Brotherhood On Monday, Dec. 17

A large attendance is being expected Monday night when the Brotherhood meets at First Baptist church. Pastor Rathaal was busy delivering tickets Friday morning, and managed to leave one with the writer. The tickets say "Free!! Food!! Fellowship!!"

Dr. T. R. Havins, of Brownwood, will be guest speaker. Plan to be on hand.

Rabid Alligator

SAN JUAN, Dec. 15 (UP)—Dorothy Wilson was afraid today that she had a rabid alligator on her hands.

Her four-foot pet won a battle with a dog last week. Since then, the dog has developed rabies, and "Junior" is acting strangely.

His eyes are too big, Miss Wilson said today and now he "just blows" instead of giving his usual deep-throated howl. She thinks he has been foaming at the mouth. "Junior" was under observation, but veterinarians said if he has rabies, he's the first of his kind to catch it.

UN Reject Communist Troop Rotation Offer

King Motor Co. Completes New Shop and Offices

Those who visit King Motor Company's office and shop are likely to discover many things they have never seen before, for that plant has been enlarged, rearranged and given a general face lifting.

Work began some time ago, but with the exception of a few minor touches all work has been completed.

To begin, we might say that the enlarging program was found to be necessary. Offices were adequate, though the stock room where Ford parts are stocked was greatly enlarged. The front display floor was not touched, as it's size has proven adequate all along.

When King Motor company first opened its doors it occupied only 2,500 feet of floor space. Sometime later this space all problems had been solved, so was doubled, and it appeared that far as space was concerned.

However, this was not true. New departments have been added from time to time, and with a growing list of customers, Mr. King decided to double in size again. The plant now occupies more than 10,000 square feet of floor space, and the arrangement is much improved.

Of course one might say that Ford sales come first, for they do, but the company operates one of the largest and most complete shops in this section of the state. It is truly a one-stop shop. You will find experienced mechanics ready to care for your every want, whether it be a four-bit repair job or a complete motor overhaul.

When water is available they specialize in car washing and greasing, and when it is not available they import enough on trucks to care for their patrons.

King Motor operates a complete paint and body shop, and does welding of any kind. Glass for doors, windows and windshields may be found in this shop where it is installed on short notice.

Just north of the main building is the used car yard. Offices have been erected, and as the matter now stands the used car department almost represents a complete unit within itself.

Those who have not seen the new plant are invited to do so at their convenience.

Sixteen employees comprise the working force at this time, and Mr. King estimates that efficiency has been stepped up at least 25 per cent since the enlargement.

Maddux Services Held Saturday

Reverend Jasper C. Massegee officiated at the funeral services held in the Second Baptist Church at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, for Clyde S. Maddux, 46, of 403 North Marston Street, Ranger.

Mr. Maddux passed away in Wichita Falls, December 13. He was born at Rising Star February 9, 1904. He had lived in Ranger since 1945. He did railroad work for 23 years, the last eighteen of services with the railroads were with the Texas and Pacific as section foreman. Mr. Maddux was a member of the Ranger Oddfellow Lodge No. 350. Interment was in the Evergreen Cemetery, and Oddfellow Services were conducted at the graveside.

He is survived by his wife of Ranger; four sons, J. D. of Ft. Worth, Richard Wayne of Marshall, Robert of Ranger, and Clyde with the U.S. Army in Korea; two daughters, Mrs. R. B. Davis of Grayford and Mary Jane Maddux of Ranger.

Killingworth Funeral Home of Ranger was in charge of arrangements.

Volunteers Hunt For Missing Man In Swampy Refuge

PALESTINE, Dec. 15 (UP)—Hip-booted volunteers plodded through the icy waters of a swamp here today searching for a missing state biologist while police awaited results of a lie detector test they hoped would reveal his fate.

Gus Engling, 33 director of the State Game Refuge here, vanished Thursday when he went into the flooded preserve after a poacher.

Sheriff Roy A. Herrington said the biologist was presumed dead, but the search would continue. More than 60 officers and volunteers combed the area yesterday, but found no trace of the missing man among the quicksand and water holes of the swamp.

"The brush is so thick in there you can't see more than three feet in front of you," Herrington said. "It was to be covered foot by foot."

Police arrested Alton Paris, 53, on charges of trespassing and hunting without a license last night. Paris admitted shooting two ducks in the game refuge, but he denied seeing the game official.

Herrington said he would take Paris to Austin today for the lie detector tests. The suspect agreed to the examination, police said.

Engling was last seen when he parked his pickup truck and walked into the swamp to investigate gunfire. Members of a pipeline repair crew working nearby said they heard one more shot after Engling entered the forest.

Neighborly Deed

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 15 (UP)—Policeman Arthur J. Schumeyer walked out of his home yesterday to drive for work. The car had a flat tire.

He fixed the flat, got in behind the wheel and discovered he was in his neighbor's automobile.

REDS ACCUSED OF TRYING TO GAIN POINTS LOST IN BATTLE

By Arnold Dibble
United Press Staff Correspondent
PANMUNJOM, Korea, Dec. 15 (UP)—The United Nations rejected a boobytrapped Communist troop rotation offer today and accused the Reds of trying to win at the truce table what they lost in battle.

UN delegate Maj. Gen. Haward Turner scathingly denounced the Communists in rejecting a six-point Red compromise proposal for limited troop rotation and policing an armistice.

The offer would have limited the replacement of combat-weary troops during an armistice to 5,000 a month—well under the present UN rotation schedule—and subjected even those to a possible Communist veto.

Turner's blast came in a joint

UN-Communist subcommittee still deadlocked after 19 days of trying to work out a program for insuring observance of an armistice.

A second subcommittee debating an exchange of war prisoners also was stalemated. UN delegate Rear Admiral Ruthven E. Libby told the Reds that their refusal to permit Red Cross representatives to visit prison camps only "feeds the fire of suspicion."

Despite the lack of progress, both subcommittees agreed to meet again at 11 a.m. Sunday (9 p.m. today EST).

General Turner angrily denounced the Communists for refusing to permit unlimited troop rotation and inspection of their interior communications during a truce and for demanding the right to build new airports in North Korea.

Turner said the UN already was rotating troops, keeping Communist airfields in Korea usable, making aerial observation daily over North Korea and threatening the Communist rear by holding islands off the Red coast.

"You seek to gain through negotiation what you could win through fighting," Turner said. "You seek to avoid, through negotiation, what you could not avoid through fighting."

"In accepting the restrictions advocated by the UN command, you (would) merely accept a continuation of limits on your military capabilities which exist today as result of UN command military operations."

"Your capabilities should continue to be limited by the terms of the armistice. You lose nothing. You gain much, for these same limits are applied to the UN command, even though you cannot today effect them by military means."

Clayton Rand Says

"THE TRUE BELIEVERS" I'm reading a little volume by Eric Hoffer, entitled "The True Believer," "Thoughts on the Nature of Mass Movements."

Eric Hoffer, a longshoreman on the Pacific Coast since 1943, and before that a migratory field hand and gold miner, has made up amply for his lack of schooling as an omnivorous reader.

"In 'The True Believer,' he springs some novel observations. 'In prewar Italy and Germany,' he says, 'practical businessmen acted in an entirely logical manner when they encouraged a Fascist and Nazi movement in order to stop communism. But in doing so, these practical and logical people promoted their own liquidation.'"

"Eric Hoffer reasons that 'There is a tendency to locate the shaping forces of our existence outside ourselves. Success and failure are unavoidably related in our minds with the state of things around us. Hence it is that people with a sense of fulfillment think it is a good world and would like to conserve it as it is, while the frustrated favor radical change.'"

"If anything all a man," says Theobald, "so that he does not perform his functions, if he have a pain in his bowels even—the forthwith sets out reforming the world."

"If these philosophers are right, the rest of us are victims of the frustrated. It must have been an awful bellyache that the frustrated deadbeats and screwballs suffered who furnished the core of the New Deal and converted it into a mass movement."

POTPOURI AND WORSE

By Major Hoopie McCorkle
Telegram Philosopher

We don't expect everybody to agree with us all the time, but we hope most people agree with us a portion of the time, especially when we are right, and we sometimes are.

Most of our subjects are taken from common, everyday life, for we have come to the conclusion that "high powered" editorials are not too highly appreciated by the rank and file. So we try to keep both our feet on the ground.

One of our customers asked us the other day how long it was going to take us to run out of "soap." We told him that so far as we knew the supply would last from now on. We've been charging our editorial battery for 60 years, and we figure it will run at least 60 years more without further attention. And as we shoot a few charges in occasionally it may run forever.

This means that the fellow who did the asking is probably tired and wants a change. The only comfort we can give him is this: If he'll get Dick to fire us we'll stop pronto. Even editors have to eat. We just won the "Food Consuming Marathon" with high honors, and we don't intend to go into hibernation, at any early date. We have two banquet tickets in our pocket at this time, and the only thing that will keep us from using them is a broken leg or a punctured "tummy" and we will use a lot of Scotch tape and "never leak" before we finally give up.

Even the Bible suggests food. Jesus said, "I am the bread of life." We have never had a complete fill of this spiritual bread, but what we have had, we enjoyed. We also like the bread that is made from Texas wheat. This wheat bread is exceptionally good when you have plenty steak and gravy to go with it. But with all its goodness it has its disadvantages. Only for this bread and associated eats we would weigh 154 instead of 196. That's just a little heavy for a fellow who is only four or five feet tall. At times we look more like a walking silo than we do a human being, and this greatly embarrasses our better half.

We have dieted, but didn't seem to get any results. Our wife insists that "Melba Toast" is what we need. You know this Melba brand is alright if you soak it with butter, but when you have to eat it straight it is worse than prairie-dog poison.

We are going to pause here long enough to give you an idea of what a rigid diet, the reducing kind, consists of. Breakfast, 1 slice of Melba toast, made from a heel off a loaf of whole wheat bread. Cook slowly and be sure it is as dry as a powder-keg. Then slightly burn it and see if you can dissolve it in a half cup of lukewarm, black coffee. Then go to the dining table where other people are enjoying hot biscuits, bacon and eggs and peach preserves with plenty butter. As soon as they begin smacking their lips try and inhale the nasty ingredients in your cup. If you live it will be a wonder. At noon that day take up a notch in your belt, and enjoy 2 small bites of a cold boiled potato, without salt, pepper or butter. Be sure and don't get any of the peel in your mouth—it might contain a calorie or a vitamin. Either are fatal to people who happen to be of the pleasingly plump type of individual.

You will probably take up two notches in your belt after the heavy repast. Go on back to work and act as though nothing had happened, for the day is still young and supper is still coming up. Go in and take a seat at the table, and while others enjoy their cornbread and red beans, well cooked with liberal slices of salt pork, you may enjoy your half glass of strained spinach juice. If the flavor is too revolting you may chew some cedar bark, or even smoke it. Repeat this daily for two months, and you will have no further use for a belt. It will be full of little holes. If you keep your pants up you will use suspenders, and the termites will have them in a week unless you bathe daily with a good strong solution of sheep dip.

Now friends this is real dieting. The kind that is guaranteed to kill or cure. Two days of the program will break you from eating, and we have never seen anyone who lasted more than three days and lived. Then they were cripples for life.

We are a pound or so too heavy, and we know it. Yet, we want to live. Once we tried fr-casted Australian grasshoppers as a diet and they might have solved the problem only for the fact they would not let us break their legs before we ate them and they kept jumping back up and getting away.

During the past two weeks we have asked two local physicians if there was any way to reduce without dieting. Their answers were about as comforting as a death warrant. Eat and you will stay fat—starve and you will die. It is a case of life or death. If you eat you are likely to die at any time. If you starve you may be able to guess the date of your demise, but you will do a lot of suffering while waiting for death to release you. If you eat, at least you will be happy. So we've decided to remain happy. "Pappy, pass the biscuits."

P. S.— Maybe those doctors made a mistake. We certainly hope so.

A lot of famous things, persons and doings have originated in Eastland county. This is the home of the Santa Claus bank robbers. It is the habitat of "Old Rip", the world's most famous frog or toad. Boyce House once lived here, and now we are to have one of the greatest inland bodies of water known to an anti-Truman constituency. That lake is going to be so big and so deep it could be used for a naval battlefield, only we have no way of getting those super-dreadnaughts up here from Galveston. A n d even if we had them here Uncle Joe would be afraid to show up for battle. He's heard of the Cisco Kid, and he is taking no chances.

Fact is, we don't want to fight anyway. We are going to build that little ocean for other purposes. The plutocrats may park their yachts out there, and fishers can gather oysters and shrimp during season, and out of season they can use worms and fish for catfish and perch like the balance of us.

Water will be plentiful, and when some eastern magnate comes along with a factory, we'll get it. The first question he will ask will be about water. We will tell him we have plenty and then some and he will be interested. During dry years we will sell to the state fish department water, so it can keep the Gulf of Mexico from going dry. We will be able to take a bath every week whether we need it or not, and if people want to give cars a daily shower they will have the water to do it with.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS

A regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastland National Bank, Eastland, Texas, will be held in the Banking rooms of said bank, between the hours of 1 and 3 p.m. on the 8th day of January, 1952 being the second Tuesday in said month, for the purpose of electing directors and the transacting of such other business as may properly come before the stockholders meeting.

Guy Parker
Vice-President

We won't have to set the old alarm clock any more. Factory whistles will get us up bright and early. The bank will have to add a special department for handling payroll checks, and Ft. Worth will call us "brother" rather than "kid". Dallas people will begin speaking to us, even on the streets in broad open daylight. Truman won't have a Chinaman's chance to be re-elected. He may think he has it until the Eastland vote comes in, then he will head for old Independence. This is no myth—believe it or not.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

God guides, supports, and protects man, and this relationship cannot be broken, stresses the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian science churches next Sunday. "God the Preserver of Man" is the subject borne out by the Golden Text from Psalms: "In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God."

The Bible offers this promise: "The Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me into his heavenly kingdom" (II Timothy 4:18). The Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy contains these passages to be included in the Lesson - Sermon: "Divine Principle is the Life of man. Man's happiness is not, therefore, at the disposal of physical sense—the relations of God and man, divine Principle and idea are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from nor return to harmony but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history."

'My Friend Irma' And New Spouse On Honeymoon

CARMEI, Calif., Dec. 15 (UP)—Voluptuous Marie Wilson and new hubby television producer Bob Fallon arrived here today for "a three of four day" honeymoon.

The "My Friend Irma" of radio, TV and movies exchanged "I do's" with Fallon last night in nearby Santa Barbara. The actress, discarding her honey, dumb blonde character that made her popular, wore a low-cut pink lace dress and a blue garter once worn by Lillian Russell.

Rev. Berkley Blake, pastor of the Santa Barbara Unitarian church, performed the simple double-ring ceremony at the swank Santa Barbara Biltmore Hotel.

London's "Pea Soup" Fog Lifts

LONDON, Dec. 15 (UP)—A "pea soup" fog which blacked out London for two days lifted today with a weak sun fighting to dispel the last curtain of mist.

after midnight leaving patches of heavy mist in the suburban areas. London was still shrouded in a light white cloud which obscured building tops, but Londoners said it wasn't "fog but just a heavy mist."

Traffic and air services again were normal. Motorists who had abandoned their automobiles in the thick fog two nights ago began to reclaim them.

The Alton Underwoods were at the "Choc" Underwood home Monday afternoon. The other Underwoods were not at church Sunday so we will have to visit them and find out why.
