Just as well be "doing time" in the "pen" as suffering from pains brought on while trying to do the work of a "column" writer. Yesterday we devoted a lot of space to people who don't agree with us. We nearly begged their pardon, and promised them good write-ups in case they see the Glory Land before we do. Last night we had a good sleep—at peace with the world. It was wonderful, but we figured it was too good to last.

At Rotary luncheon Monday m Gamble asked if we didn't have a news story last week about a big goat barbecue over at the Baptist church. We joyfully replied we did, and that we were one of the "feed committee members." Then came his second question: "Didn't you have an ad in the paper a day or so later, where a fellow was advertising for a lost goat?" We saw the connection and the light.

Of course we didn't steal that goat, but we are going to be forced to convince Sam of this truth, before the grand-jury meets, or it might take all the lawyers in Texas to get us a suspended sentence. We bought our goats, but at the moment we are not sure about the bill of sale. Maybe "Old King" the cook, got the papers. Otherwise we had just as well enter a plea of guilty. Even the Judge might not believe an editor on oath. We have told the truth a few times, but can't remember just when or why we did it.

Guess it is a good thing they didn't ask us to that Bible Class fish fry over at the First Christian church. Had we attended, the State Game Warden would likely want to know where we got our fish, and this is the wrong time of the year to pay fines or have our fishing license revoked.

We would quit this editing business and go to feeding mules, only we feel sure that it wouldn't be a week until some fool mule would kick the "living daylight" out of us. Our only chance for complete safety is to talk Sheriff Tucker out of a "courtesy key" to the county jail. Then we can come and go as we please.

We predicted rain but it came near being a bad prediction. Even the few drops we got were a few minutes late, and we have been severely criticized. Trouble is we didn't do our own predicting — we listened to the weather man, who is usually wrong. Next time we shall do the predicting ourselves. The funny thing is the weather man gets paid for guessing and we do ours free gratis. One prediction is as good as the other, and the way to make a high score is to predict hot and dry weather all time. You will make an average score of 96 per cent good.

Unless you want to be a disfranchised American you had better pay your poll tax. This year we will elect everybody from constable to president, and it is worth a dollar and six bits of any man's money to get to mark up a ballot.

If you fail to vote don't blame the rest of us for electing men you do not like. Buy a poll tax, borrow a pencil and do your own scratching. That's the way to get what you want.

Truman's Budget Includes Texas Rio Grande Dams

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (UP)—President Truman's proposed budget for the 1952 fiscal year contained an appropriation for $14,156,500 for construction work along the Rio Grande.

In his budget submitted to Congress yesterday, the president earmarked $11,756,500 for continued work on Falcon Dam, expected to be completed in 10 months.

Also included in the budget was a $2,000,000 allotment for Anzalduas Dam, the proposed diversion structure located south of Mission. This dam will be a joint construction job similar to Falcon Dam. Mexico has appropriated funds for the work.

Money for plans and preparatory work on upper dam, above the Falcon project and for salaries and expenses of the International Boundary and Water Commission were also included in the budget.

The budget indicated the bulk of work on the Anzalduas Dam is expected to be done in 1953.

The bureau of the budget imposed a restriction requiring that Anzalduas Dam can't be used to divert water for irrigation until benefited water users make arrangements to pay for part of the dam allocated to irrigation.

Poultrymen In County Likely Grow Broilers

Poultry growers, farmers and others interested in the production of poultry and poultry products, will meet in the courthouse at 2 o'clock this afternoon, at which time they are to discuss the growing of broilers on a commercial scale.

The meeting was called by County Agent J. M. Cooper, who will serve as chairman. The group met last week, and it was learned at that time that many individuals are ready to join a movement of this kind. In fact, quite a number of poultrymen have been busily engaged in the construction of brooder houses and houses for growing broilers. Some have already ordered their chicks.

The only thing standing in the way, seems to be that concerning markets, and experts say this is not to be classed as a serious drawback, for with present meat prices the broiler will be welcomed by many housewives over the nation. Even with broilers bringing a price that would make them profitable to growers, they would still be about the cheapest meat on the market.

Thoughtful Thief

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 22 (UP)—Sheriff's deputies today investigated a bear found hanging on a Del Paso Heights walnut tree.

A thief apparently had hung 85 pencils, 16 erasers, a fountain pen, 12 boxes of crackers, two birthday cakes, 74 packages of cigarettes, and a case of beer on the tree.

Price Daniel Embarks On Try To Unseat Senator Connally

DALLAS, Jan. 22 (UP)—State Attorney General Price Daniel embarked today on what promises to be a bitter political campaign to unseat veteran U. S. Senator Tom Connally.

The 41-year-old Daniel the opening salvo of his battle against the aging, white-haired Connally in a radio broadcast last night over two statewide hookups in which he offered the voters an anti-Truman platform.

"A clean and honorable" campaign was promised by Daniel. He blasted the Truman administration with charges of "waste, corruption, blundering foreign policy and the Tidelands oil 'grab,'" and pledged himself to use his influence against Mr. Truman's nomination by the Democratic Party.

Sen Connally announced at the beginning of a tour of Texas late last year that he would be a candidate for the fifth term. There were prospects he might draw another opponent. Former Rep. Martin Dies of Jasper has said he will run if he can raise $100,000 campaign money.

Daniel's first campaign meeting will be a luncheon here today. He will speak at a Houston breakfast tomorrow and will next appear on Firearms Ban Violence Flares In Reynosa, Mex.

REYNOSA, Mex., Jan. 22 (UP)—Violence has flared anew in this border town where firearms were banned two weeks ago for everyone except police.

A policeman was killed and another wounded yesterday in a gun battle which assistant police chief Victor Leal said evidently started when an officer and a radio station employe argued.

Rogelio Ponce, recently promoted assistant chief of the security commission, was killed and a Guernero Lopez, 24, was seriously wounded.

Officers said they believed wild flying bullets may have struck several citizens in the area near Vista Hermosa saloon where the shooting fray occurred. Nine persons were arrested but later released.

Mayor Alejandro Bernal imposed the ban on firearms two weeks ago. Almost immediately, a civilian was killed by a police officer. The officer said he was attempting to disarm the man and fired when he believed his own life was endangered.

Texans To Get Tabs For Their License In '52

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (UP)—Unless the steel shortage eases up, Texas motorists will draw metal tabs for their cars next year instead of full-sized license plates.

The Texas Highway Commission yesterday announced authorization of the tabs for 1953 and said the action cancelled an order of 8,000,000 regular-sized license plates which had been placed last October with the Texas Prison System.

The national Production Authority notified the highway department that steel used in license plates in 1953 will be cut to 20 per cent of that used for the 1952 issue.

Slots for the tabs expected to be issued in 1953 are provided on the 1952 plates which go on sale Feb. 1.

E. J. Amsy, director of the Highway Department's Motor Vehicle Division, said that use of the tabs will save 1360 tons of steel.

Churchill Will Stay Inside; No Parade

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (UP)—British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, suffering from a cold that forced cancellation of a parade and reception for him here, stayed indoors today until time for his departure for home tonight.

Churchill will board the Queen Mary shortly before its scheduled sailing time at midnight (EST).

The 77-year-old prime minister, who twice caught pneumonia on his travels during World War II, developed a "very slight cold" yesterday. Lord Moran, his physician, advised him to forego a ticker tape parade on Broadway and a reception which city officials had scheduled for today.

Political Battle Shaping Up In The Illinois Primary

More Insults; No Truce Yet At Panmunjom

PANMUNJOM, KORPA, Jan. 22 (UP)—The Communists charged today that the United Nations are plotting to break the stalemate in armistice negotiations with "bombs and bullets."

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang accused Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, head of the U. N. truce delegation, of "bragging" in an interview that only allied military pressure could end the deadlock.

"Bombs and bullets are the only language the other side understands," Hsieh quoted Joy.

Hsieh said the interview was published in the weekly news magazine, U. S. News and World Report. However, a text of the interview released the U. N. command tonight showed no reference to "bomb and bullets."

Hsieh's angry charge came during a 14-minute "no progress" meeting of the subcommittee working supervision of a truce.

He also curtly rejected a U. N. offer to accept the whole 16-point Communist truce supervision program if the Reds would write in a provision banning construction of military airfields.

"Our side firmly rejects any attempt, any form of interference in our internal affairs," Hsieh said.

The U. N. offer actually had little significance. Apart from the airfield question, there only were minor differences in the U. N. and Communist truce supervision programs anyway.

The offer was made mainly as a sop to Communist pride of authorship.

Summer Is Over; Cold And Dust Hot Most Texas

By United Press

Winter has returned to Texas with cold, high velocity north winds that bumped temperatures and kicked up dust in the drought-ridden west.

The mercury tumbled to 16 degrees at Lohart at 4:30 a.m. At the other end of the scale, Houston had the state's 68 high. Texarkana was the only point reporting rain.

Dust blew at Wichita Falls and Amarillo, also continuing to blow in Western Oklahoma and Kansas.

Texarkana shared the midnight thundershowers which visited Ft. Smith, Ark., and other points east into Arkansas.

The Dallas Weather Bureau said forecasts called for continued dusting in West Texas, where lands are powder dry from the long drought.

There was hope for light rain tomorrow, but the moisture forecasts were for no better than scattered showers over the state.

Early morning low temperature readings today included Amarillo 25, Childress 32, Wichita Falls 43, Dallas and Fort Worth 50, Lubbock 31, El Paso 49, Abilene 45, Mineral Wells 49, Waco 51, San Antonio 65, Laredo 62.

Much good work was accomplished at the Eastland Memorial Hospital last evening, M. H. Perry, construction chairman, said and continued that if anyone else would help in some way to further their efforts.

Trumanite Will Try To Block Kefauver Boom

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (UP)—Pro-Truman Democrats will wage a major battle in the Illinois Democratic primary to hold the Kefauver-for-president boom in check until the president reveals his own 1952 intentions, it was learned today.

The names of Sens. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.) and Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) were both entered just before the filing deadline for the April 8 primary in the pivotal midwestern state.

The name of Gen. Douglas MacArthur also was entered for the Illinois Republican primary where Sen. Robert A. Taft (O.) and Harold E. Stassen both are in the lists. But MacArthur promptly announced that it was done "without authorization" and he will withdraw from the race.

The Illinois election will be the first test of Kefauver's vote-pulling power outside Tennessee. Informed sources said Illinois organization Democrats are preparing to "pour oil on the coal" for McMahon in an effort to top Kefauver in the "popularity contest" preferential primary or at least to dull the luster of his vote-getting reputation. The Tennessee Senator, who has not yet formally announced his candidacy, won national attention as chairman of the Senate Crime Committee.

Although McMahon said he was put up as a candidate only by friends in "southern Illinois," informed party sources said that the powerful Chicago Democratic Organization headed by Jacob L. Arvey is expected to support him against Kefauver with all its strength.

Other developments on the political scene:

1. Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle promised to announce today—if he can make up his mind—whether he will run for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio. His uncertainty was heightened at the eleventh hour by an offer of another high government job.
2. Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson said an appointment today with President Truman at the White House. The meeting could have strong political significance in view of the McMahon-Kefauver scrap shaping up in Stevenson's state.
3. MacArthur backers dropped plans to seek pledged delegates for the general in Ohio. But four pro-MacArthur candidates filed for Republican delegate posts in the New Hampshire primary, despite the general's determined efforts to rule himself out of the presidential race.

While only two of Eastland's recognized "testing stations" have stickers and forms at this time, car testing is going ahead in a business-like fashion. King Motor Co. got in stickers this week, and several cars have passed the necessary requirements.

Cars entering the station are looked over and if outstanding defects are noted they are repaired and put into good shape before the test is given. So far is known no cars have been completely turned down in this city, though several have had to undergo repairs.

This, it is said, indicates that unnecessary repairs are not being asked by examiners in Eastland and many other cities, and the few testing stations that started in for a "big kill" are now beginning to wonder why they did it. Their useless contentions may deprive them of all business, it is thought.

TFWC President Asks That Local Clubs Cooperate In Polio Drive

WORTHAM, Jan. 22 (Sp.)—Texas clubwomen will fall in step in the "Mother's March on Polio" scheduled for January 31 to help Texas pay its own way. Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs of Wortham, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, has asked that every Texas club offer its services in the dramatic closing appeal being planned for the 1952 March of Dimes.

"This Mother's March will be the biggest single fund raising activity conducted during a single hour for a charitable cause in the state's history," she pointed out. "Here is clubwomen's opportunity to demonstrate our Texas Federation's concern for the health and welfare of Texas.

Participation of clubwomen in response is expected to swell the numbers of marching mothers to over 150,000 in the concentrated one-hour appeal for funds. It will begin at 7 and end at 8 o'clock the night of Thursday, January 31, in every town in the state. The one-hour push will close this year's "March of Dimes."

Base officers said the men were leaning against a truck-derrick when the boom of the derrick hit a high tension line, killing the men instantly. The operator of the boom was uninjured because he was not grounded, officers said.

The victims were identified as Cpl. Cloyd R. Mix, 25, of Terra-ville, S. D., and Pfc. Robert F. Schroeder, 20, of Ossian, Ia. The men drove trucks hauling rock and sand to a base construction project officers said.

Zsa Zsa Gabor And Husband Call Off Fued

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Jan. 22 (UP)—Hungarian beauty Zsa Zsa Gabor said today that she and her actor-husband George Sanders have called off their feud, but she admitted he still has his bachelor's apartment.

The fiery actress and Sanders parted last November after a fight over their roles on Tallulah Bankhead's radio show.

Miss Gabor said her lines in the show would have made her marriage "look ridiculous."

She walked out on the act, and when Sanders refused to follow her, they separated.

"I have been discarded like a squeezed lemon," said the urbane Sanders when he moved out of their home and into the bachelor's apartment.

Looking Back on 1951—
... the inventory shows that the scales weighed out a good portion of the better things for us to enjoy. While the mistakes we made stick out like a sore finger and our failures almost overwhelm us, yet these discouragements are small indeed compared to the unhappiness and tragic experiences of some who happen to live in other countries. We are glad we live here where we have had the opportunity to serve a host of loyal customers for more than a quarter century.

Truman Has His Reading Matter For Sometime

WASHINGTON, Jan. (UP)—President Truman had his reading matter cut out for him today—the longest telegram in Western Union history.

680-foot telegram, complete with signatures, was to be rolled into the whitehouse today to tell the president that 31,306 citizens of Schuylkill County, Pa., believe a proposed new Air Force depot should be built in their county instead nearby Lancaster County.

Eight duplicates of the message were also being delivered to the Pentagon for Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of state, as well as to Capitol Hill for members of the armed services and appropriations committees of the House and Senate.

The telegram totalling about 80,000 words, cost $2,940 to send from Pennsylvania to the capital. Western Union teletype machines chattered incessantly for two days transmitting the original message and then reprinting the copies for the government officials.

TEXAS FOR EISENHOWER, a non-partisan movement asking General Eisenhower to become a candidate for President, has organized a chapter at the University of Texas. Headquarters for Texas For Eisenhower are in Denison, Eisenhower's birthplace.

Police Capture Stolen Narcotics

COLUMBUS, MISS., Jan. (UP)—Police said they were holding three robbery suspects here today after a city patrolman got "the drop on them" and found $250,000 worth of narcotics in their car.

Patrolman Sam Pope said he picked up the trio last night when he recognized their "weaving" automobile as the get-away car in a narcotics robbery in Meridian, Miss., Saturday.

Pope said that two of the men were armed with .38 and .45 caliber pistols and that he found cocaine, opium and morphine hidden in the car.

The three men identified themselves as Louis Tike of Birmingham, Ala., Charles Carpenter of Meridian and R. C. Phillips of Montgomery, Ala. However, police later identified Phillips as C. N. (Bull) Whitney, also of Birmingham.

Latham Laws, a Columbus druggist appraised the narcotics and said they were only worth about $5,000 at retail prices, but would bring "about $250,000 on the black market."

Northern Midwest Hit Anew By Snow

By United Press
Two storms — one a howling blizzard and the other a drenching rainstorm—closed in a giant pincers movement toward the northern midwest today.

A new blizzard driven by 60-mile-an-hour winds swept the mountains of California and Nevada and moved eastward toward the Continental Divide in the Rocky Mountains.

Once again, winter vacation resorts in the Sierras were snow-bound. Thousands of cattle in Colorado were trapped by the snow. Railroad officials feared that passes through the mountains would be blocked anew.

The rain-drenched pacific coast, however, was promised a day of at least intermittent sunshine.

And an official of the Los Angeles Water and Power Department said last week's seige of rains and floods would prove beneficial in the long run because the water relieved a severe drought facing the area.

A vast rainstorm pelted a good deal of Texas and Oklahoma. The weather bureau said it was marching slowly northeast and should move into the Great Lakes region later today.

Joker Ruining Stores Good Will By Phone
HOUSTON, Jan. (UP)—Houston merchants have appealed to police and their own Retail Merchants' Association for help in tracking down a so-called prankster who is rapidly ruining their good will.

Several store managers have reported the prankster is calling women saying such-and-such a store has a gift waiting if they'll come by to pick it up. The prankster tells the women the gift is an advertising gimmick.

First the store hears of it is when the woman appears seeking her gift. When the women are turned down, most of them "blow their top," as one manager put it.

Cycling Terrorists Bomb In Indo-China
SAIGON, Indo-China, Jan. (UP)—Twenty-four persons were wounded today and government buildings were damaged when Communist terrorists threw seven bombs into the crowded streets of this southern Indo-Chinese city.

Eight of the wounded were reported in serious condition. The terrorists threw the bombs as they rode through the streets on bicycles.

Two Men Buried In Avalanche At Winter Resort
SUN VALLEY, Ida., Jan. (UP)—Veteran skiers faced blizzards and threat of avalanche today to recover the bodies of two men buried in a snow slide on the ski slopes of 9,000-foot Baldy Mountain.

A third man, ski instructor Victor Gottschalk, was taken alive from under the crushing mass of snow, but died a short time later. The missing men were Arthur Gardner, 39, New York City and George Fraser, 35, Ensenada, Mexico.

The snow avalanche roared down from the top of Baldy Mountain and funneled into the Broadway Run ski course.

The search party was made up of hand-picked, experienced skiers, selected because of their skill on the mountain slopes.

They worked under conditions made hazardous by a raging blizzard which dumped an additional foot of snow on the area, plus the danger of new avalanches.

Fraser was a member of a prominent San Diego, Calif., family.

Hunter Gets Shot Back
HARTFORD, CONN., Jan. (UP)—When surgeons removed John McKees appendix, they found it contained fire bird shot, a hospital spokesman disclosed today.

Doctors theorize that birdshot from the same blast that McKee fired to fell the bird lodged in his appendix after a hearty meal.

Lots Of Coffee, Even For Navy

According to Navy standards, one pound of coffee makes two gallons of liquid. In that case, the Navy consumed approximately 18,000,000 pounds of coffee or 36,000,000 gallons during the 1951 fiscal year.

To break this down further, it is estimated that each man in the Navy drank 53 gallons of coffee during the year, which, to a man from Boston, would be a lot of beans.

Coffee, (according to the standards of most Navy men is their "life blood"), is drunk with meals, between meals, and at any other time of the day or night. You can usually find a pot boiling away in the torpedo shack, on the bridge or in the engine room.

Just one ship alone, the battleship USS Missouri, drank up approximately 79,000 pounds. Ask any man in the Navy and he'll tell you, "Not one ounce was wasted!"

If you have a relative in the Navy, you might write and ask him if he got his 53 gallons of coffee last year.

Mrs. Prichard, Loyal Worker Honored At Farewell Party By First Baptist Co-Workers

The Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist church honored Mrs. E. M. Prichard with a farewell party Friday evening in the fellowship room of the church.

Games and stunts were directed by Mrs. Frank Sayre from a stage arranged with microphone, after which Mrs. Prichard was presented a place setting of her chosen pattern of silver from the guests. Mrs. Parks Poe, WMU president, made the presentation.

Mmes. H. T. Weaver, Howard Upchurch, T. D. Wheat, circle chairman, Mrs. Gene Rhodes, Secretary, and Mrs. H. W. Sims, young people's secretary were acting hostesses and served refreshments from a tea table featuring the "Good Luck" motif.

The centerpiece was a large silver horse shoe with an arrangement of blue chrysanthemums at the base and was flanked by blue tapers. The horse shoe motif was repeated in the plate favors. Mrs. Poe presided and poured for the forty-eight guests attending.

Mrs. Prichard, who moved with her family, Monday to Brownwood, served as Sunbeam Director of the Cisco Association, was Sunbeam counselor of the local WMU for the past eight years, an active member of the Mayebelle Taylor Circle, Sunday school teacher in the Young Peoples Department, and an associate member of the Home Makers Class.

Eastland High School Seniors Have Realistic Hobo-Hike

The Senior class of the local high school relaxed after mid-term examinations last Saturday evening in hobo fashion.

Responding to paper sack invitations the group appeared at the back door of several "joints" where they were given hand-outs which they placed in a large paper sack. A sign there told them where to go for the next hand-out. After collecting a sack of food items the group assembled for a Hobo Convention, using the sack for a plate, they added hot dogs on buns, cokes and cookies to their collection and sat at picnic tables and feasted.

A King and Queen were chosen by drawing names from a hat and Larry Miller and Sarita Seale were "crowned" with a base ball bat. The entire class formed a procession and Blister Graham entertained the "Royal" party with his guitar. A Hobo quartet composed of Derrell Black, Edwin Aaron, Kenneth Gossage, and Guy Warden, sang a melody of appropriate songs, accompanied by Hobo Graham on the guitar.

Afterwards all the boys and girls grouped in the yard and sang. A social photographer came out and made several shots of the Hobo Convention and then the group adjourned to the movies. Some of the signs read like this:

On down Seaman Street you go, knock on Hobo Weaver's door. Now to Hobo Graham's you are led, Easy, cause the house is red. Speak to ever one you meet, Till you get to William's street. Now to Grissom's under the tree, Don't forget the password, please. Across the alley and over the way, Will lead you to Hobo Day. Now you go to Hobo Stephen, And see if you have come out even."

The hostesses were the parents of the Seniors who live on the "south side" of town.

Mrs. Ray B. McCorkle left Monday for Fort Worth, where she goes to visit her son, G. L. Frederick and family.

WCSA Rummage Sale Continued; Response Good

Members of the WCSA of the First Methodist church wish to announce that their rummage sale will be continued next week end, beginning Friday morning, and through Saturday.

They want to express their thanks for the help given and wish to add that any one having rummage to contribute, that a committee will be at the building, which is located just north of the Castleberry Feed Store and is known as the Arther's Trading post building, on Thursday morning as well as Friday and Saturday.

The women said that they have had repeated calls for children's clothing and for men's work clothes.

The sales last week end amounted to $107.00 and they were given a donation of $15.

They now lack $1380.00 on the parsonage fund, for which all of the proceeds of the sale are being used, the spokesman said.
