Around The Square

With Mack

An old saying is that "When it rains it pours," and so far as we know this may be true, only it hasn't done either one in Eastland county for many moons. We are hopeful, however, and are still looking for that rain, which is bound to come.

It may be the good Lord is punishing us for some of our cussedness. We don't know. Though we do know that most of us can not stand prosperity. We are prone to give ourselves the credit for all good things. So long as the sailing is smooth and we have a few dollars cash, we have an idea that this success is brought about by our excessive wisdom. We never take time to thank the Lord for these blessings, but continue asking for more.

Then when "hard times" hit us we begin to complain. When rain was plentiful and cash was all about us, we were too busy to give thanks, but when the drouth strikes and our money is all spent, we sure get critical.

If we were half as thoughtful of the Lord as He is about us, it would be a different story. The only time we try to get close to Him is when we are hungry or sick. Then we grow pitifully humble.

We've been here a long time, and though we have never tried to amass great wealth, we have been rather fortunate. The Lord has been a lot better to us than we deserved, and we are thankful.

There may be those in this county who are really suffering and through no fault of theirs. Our sympathy goes out to them, and if occasion should arise, we will split our last loaf of bread with them. And we are not kidding.

Things are going to work out alright. Let's keep busy doing the very best we can do, and in the end we will win.

Hard times usually bring a big crop of candidates. Maybe no peanuts or cotton—but plenty candidates. That's alright. Most candidates are pretty good men, else they would not be offering themselves for public office. Once a man announces his candidacy, he becomes community property, and if he has a family skelton, he may rest assured that it will be dragged out of the closet. Your life must be above reproach if you plan to make a success. Shady characters can't stand the "voter test."

Right at this time we are entertaining our youngest grandchild, Jo Lynne Frederick of Fort Worth. As far as we are concerned she is the real thing, and her grandmother admits that she loves us better than we do. This, of course, is not true. Granbabies are about the most important thing in life. We should know for we have seven, ranging from good to bad, but all just about perfect in our estimation.

About 40 years ago a slogan became very popular in Texas, and the Old Fort Worth Record gave us credit for originating it. We are not sure about this. We may have originated it, but it is possible that it was "swiped." Anyway, it was good and we think it would be of service today if people followed it. "The cow, sow and hen, make for prosperity." How about it?

Little Items Of Local Interest

Les A. Nelson, brother of Rev. Alfred Nelson, Baptist pastor at Olden, who recently surrendered for the ministry, will enter Howard Payne College in Brownwood at an early date, to begin his training.

Sheriff Frank Tucker is in the Ranger General hospital at this time, where he is undergoing treatment. An operation in December is the cause of the trouble, and so far physicians have been unable to get the wound to heal.

Members of the oil fraternity here appear to be a little more active than usual. At least two new locations have been staked here recently, and considerable drilling activity may be expected in the near future.

Splendid Program Rendered By Douglas School And Colored Choir; Attendance Was Good

A large audience was present at the high school auditorium Thursday evening, when local colored citizens gave a delightful evening's entertainment, in their effort to raise a fund for the Eastland Memorial hospital. More than $90 came in during the evening, from the sale of admission tickets.

Children of the Douglas school, under the direction of Cleavon Gavon, and choirs for all the colored churches, participated. The choir was neatly attired in black robes and white collars. Mrs. Vivian Jones was director of the choir and Mrs. Ozona Durall, the accompanist.

A number of spirituals were sung and was very much appreciated by the large crowd. One of the numbers, in which a solo was sung by Mrs. Vivian Jones, had to be repeated upon demand. There were several good solo voices and the hearers could have enjoyed several additional numbers. We hope we have an opportunity to listen to this musical group more often.

The children have been practicing for several weeks and did credit to their director. They succeeded in claiming the rapt attention of the audience throughout the evening.

They left with the general attitude of having spent a profitable as well as an entertaining evening.

Eastland Boys Meet In Japan

It's a small world after all, is the opinion of three Eastland county boys now in a hospital in Yokosuka, Japan.

Marine Sgt. Clifton Osborn of Cisco went down with an attack of yellow jaundice while in Korea. He was flown from the battlefield to the hospital, where he located another jaundice patient, Billy Rex Berry, also of Cisco. While renewing their schoolboy friendship they were overheard by a navy corpsman, Dub Grimes of Gorman, who said: "Say are you two guys from Eastland county, Texas? They were, and in all probability they will stage a West Texas Rodeo, as soon as they are dismissed from the hospital."

Midwestern Deep Freeze Death Toll 21 Now; Cattle Freezing

By United Press
A numbing cold wave moved into the eastern states today as a 40-year-old man described the misery of three days marooned by a midwestern blizzard which cost 21 lives.

Winter relaxed its frigid grip on the northern midwest states as the cold front invaded the upper reaches of New England with zero temperatures. Low thermometer readings were reported throughout most of the Atlantic seaboard states.

But in Minnesota and the Dakotas residents searched in snow drifts up to 15 feet deep for additional victims of the four-day deep freeze which was spearheaded by a howling two-day blizzard.

Kenneth Grebing finally made it back to his home at Pierre, S. D., bringing with him a tale of long hours of agony trapped by the snow.

Grebing, operator of a trucking firm, said his ordeal began Monday at the height of the blizzard when he plowed into a snowbank because he was blinded by the storm.

The truck he was driving carried 125 gallons of fuel, he said, but the motor failed and with it his heat was cut off.

He walked 12 miles through the storm until he came upon the stalled auto of the Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Ray. The back seat was covered with a foot of snow.

Grebing said he pleaded with the Rays to walk with him. He told them they would freeze to death if they stayed in the car. At last he convinced them and they started off down the wind-whipped road.

But after only three-quarters of a mile, Mrs. Ray collapsed and the three of them took refuge in another stalled auto they found on the road.

They spent 20 hours huddled together in the front seat, trying to keep warm with their hands.

About 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, another lonely traveler, Loren Chase, stumbled onto their car. He had walked 20 miles guided only by the telephone poles protruding from the snow.

Soon after that they left the car and followed Chase to the farmhouse of Herb Smith a few miles away.

evening. Ninety one dollars was realized for the hospital.

The evening's presentation was the original inspiration and suggestion of Cleavon Gavon, who recently moved here from Detroit. He has found Eastland a pleasant home and to show his appreciation, he is writing a new song about the Good Folk of Texas. He is employed by the Connelley Hotel and as a hobby he works with the young people in trying to teach them the way of good citizenship, which was the theme of Thursday evening's performance.

Eastland Youth, Machine Gunner, Is Now In Japan

WITH THE 1st CAVALRY DIV. IN JAPAN — Pvt. Lawson C. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin O. Brown, 999 S. Halbrayn, Eastland, recently arrived in Japan from Korea with the 1st Cavalry Division.

The unit participated in the see-saw battles across the Nakdong river and following the Inchon invasion in September 1950 climaxed a spectacular northern drive with a link-up with the 7th Infantry Division.

Brown, a machine gunner, has been in Korea since Oct. 7, 1951. He is a member of Company E of the 5th Regiment.

Globe Girdling Congressman Is Headed To Dallas

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 25 (UP)—Globe-girdling Congressman Peter F. Mack planned to fly to Dallas today in his light plane for a two-day visit before returning to Illinois.

The Illinois Democratic Representative, who flew solo around the world on a good will tour, said he expected to return to Springfield, Ill., Sunday to attend a reception in his honor.

His air tour of 30 countries and 450 cities began at Springfield last Oct. 7 and was financed by his constituents.

Mack said yesterday his trip convinced him that America's stock was higher in Europe and Turkey than in any other country in Southern Europe because those nations benefited most from the Truman Doctrine.

It is to be drilled by A&P Development Co. of Lubbock as the No. 1 Walker Estate.

Costs For Food Now On Upgrade

Eat, drink and enjoy your groceries, for tomorrow they may be higher.

The U. S. Department of Labor in a recent bulletin stated food prices seem to be more or less stable in most Southern cities. Pork, fish and some cuts of beef have shown slight declines, while fruits, vegetables and dairy products are slowly climbing.

Flour, round steak and butter are steadily climbing, with lettuce, tomatoes, cabbage and bananas showing the biggest gains. Potatoes have done a rocket climb since the first of the year, and navy beans have done almost as well.

Pork chops have shown a drop of more than 16 per cent, and eggs are on the toboggan, though just before the holidays they showed a 68 per cent gain.

The slight net gain of about 1 1/2 per cent is a fair general average.

Bartee Leaving For New Church

Mac Bartee, minister of the Eastland Church of Christ, who resigned his post here some weeks ago, will leave Monday for Austin, where he will take over the duties as minister for the Brykerwood Church of Christ in that city. This, it is said, is quite a promotion for Mr. Bartee.

Mr. Bartee came to Eastland in February 1950, and has served the local Church of Christ since that time. The Bartees have one child.

Reds Offer New Plan To Break Truce Deadlock

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Jan. 25 (UP)—The United Nations offered a new plan today to speed up a Korean armistice.

The Allies gave the Reds a choice of three ways of settling the deadlock over airfield construction and proposed that staff officers begin at once to work out details of supervising a truce.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fan promised to study the proposal and reply later, possibly at the next meeting of the truce supervision subcommittee at 11 a. m. tomorrow (9 p. m. today EST).

The UN command was believed to have introduced its plan after getting a directive from Washington to "ease up" on Allied demands in the interest of concluding an early armistice.

In the war prisoner subcommittee, the Communists began staking out a claim to 37,000 captured Red troops who the Allies say are 50,000 South Korean troops who, since their capture, have been incorporated into the Communist armies.

10 Red MIG's Downed Over Korea Today

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Jan. 25 (UP)—American Sabrejets shot down 10 Communist MIG-15 jet fighters today in four flaming air battles over Northwest Korea.

It was Sabrejets' second largest one-day bag of enemy jets. They scored their biggest victory last Dec. 13, when they shot down 13 of the speedy, sweptback wing MIGs.

An 11th MIG probably was destroyed in today's swirling dogfights over "MIG Alley." Three others were damaged.

Five of the enemy jets were sent crashing to earth by Sabres of the 51st Interceptor Wing in a single dogfight late this afternoon. Three others were shot down by the 4th Fighter Interceptor wing in another dogfight at almost the same hour.

Two more of the Russian-built fighters had been knocked down and one probably destroyed on a morning clash southeast of Sinuiju on the Manchurian border, northern terminus of "MIG Alley."

U. N. losses, if any, were not given in accordance with standing practice.

The aerial fighting highlighted the day. Ground activity dwindled to patrolling in freezing temperatures ranging to nine below zero. Most of the 145-mile ground front was under heavy snow.

Altogether, 68 allied jets tangled with about 167 Communist jets in the four separate aerial battles.

The day's bag brought the 5th Air Force MIG total to 182 destroyed, 33 probably destroyed and 349 damaged.

Old Timer Says Auto Test Law Bound To Fail

Under date of January 21, the following letter was received by the Telegram, from Jesse E. Richardson of Teague, Texas, though for many years an Eastland resident.

"I want to tell you that I admire you for the way you criticize the new automobile law. (If it can be called a law) I only wish more of the newspapers would come out as openly about it as you do. To my way of thinking it is the most in-sensible law ever passed by the Texas house of representatives.

"It is some consolation to know that the Eastland representatives voted against it. I wonder just how many would admit having voted for it; especially those who are out for re-election. (?)

"One thing is in favor, however, enforcement of the law has been suspended until September, which means after the election.

"I was a resident of Eastland about thirty years, having moved away two and one half years ago. I still own my home there. I like the town and the people. Consequently I try to keep up with the civic affairs to some extent."

Best regards to you, your paper and to Eastland.

Jesse E. Richardson

Egyptian Police Rebel At British Disarmament Plan; Battle Ensues

By Peter Webb
United Press Staff Correspondent
BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, Suez Canal Zone, Jan. 25 (UP)—More than 1,500 tank-supported British troops shot and shelled defiant Egyptian police into surrender at Ismailia today in the bloodiest battle of the Anglo-Egyptian conflict.

At least 43 Egyptians and British were killed and scores wounded in the six-hour engagement in the center of Ismailia, main trouble spot in the Canal Zone. More than 300 dusty, bloody Egyptian survivors surrendered.

The last Egyptian resistance collapsed at mid-day when a small group of police diedards in the governor's mansion finally gave up in the face of pointblank shelling by 20-pounder guns mounted on Britain's big Centurion Tanks.

(In London, Prime Minister Churchill's government gave full approval to the disarming of Egyptian police in Ismailia— which started the battle.)

Rangers Take Thriller From Cisco College

The Ranger Junior College Rangers clipped their rivals from Cisco Junior College, the Wrangler, last night by a score of 76 to 75.

Bobby Huffmeyer of Cisco lead in the scoring for the night with 32 points followed by Tommy Wilson of Ranger with 27. Jim Bridgson had 19 and Don Ashcraft made 18 in the thriller, both are from Ranger JC.

Preceding the game between RJC and CJC, girls teams from the two colleges clashed. Ranger lost this one to Cisco 26-38.

Two newcomers at RJC saw action in the game last night, they are David Arderton and Bobby Skipworth.

Coach Boone Yarbrough said that Don Ashcraft came "unbuckled last night and played his best game of the year in the wide open affair at Cisco.

The Rangers next scheduled game is with San Angelo here next Wednesday night.

Judge Sentences Widow Swindlers To Twelve Years

EL PASO, Jan. 25 (UP)—Judge R. Ewing Thomason commented on the misdirected "talent and personality" of two savvy young men and then sentenced them to 12 years each for swindling Mrs. Gertrude Joyce, Roswell, N. M., widow.

Victor E. Pereira, 33, who married Mrs. Joyce and his friend Eugene H. Brading, 37, were convicted of defrauding the wealthy widow of $48,000. Judge Thomason sentenced them yesterday in Federal District Court here.

Five years of the sentence was for defrauding through the mails, and another ten was clapped on, to run concurrently, for transporting their spoils in interstate commerce.

The concurrent sentences would run only 10 years, but Judge Thomason added two years on a third count of fraud and specified that it follow the first 10 years.

Mrs. J. H. Caton Now Improving

The condition of Mrs. J. H. Caton who is ill in a Ranger hospital, was described as being improved today. She spent a quiet day yesterday, and word from the hospital early today, indicates that she had a good night.

Mrs. Caton is suffering from the effects of a severe heart attack, which occurred a week ago. Her condition has been described as critical all week, and while she is not out of danger, as yet, her condition is improved.

(Units of the British Mediterranean Fleet were ordered to put to sea from Malta. A spokesman at Naval Headquarters at Valletta said only that it was a precautionary move. He would not say it was connected with the Egyptian situation.)

The Egyptian police alone lost a minimum of 40 dead, plus an undetermined number of wounded. The preliminary British casualty figure was three soldiers killed and an officer and a soldier wounded.

The fighting centered around police headquarters and an auxiliary police barracks, but the last group to surrender was a small force enclosed in the governor's mansion. They had vowed to fight to the death, and some did.

An Egyptian army captain left the mansion under the truce flag British for permission to summon an ambulance and asked the ambulances for the Egyptian wounded.

The British refused the request. Retorted the captain: "You can come and collect our dead bodies."

He returned to his comrades in the crumbling building. They were outnumbered at least 20 to 1.

The British crushed the main resistance at Ismailia. Police Headquarters and a health office used as a barracks by auxiliary police at noon (5 a. m. EST), when the last group fled out of the buildings with arms upraised in surrender.

The auxiliary police barracks were a shell-shattered wreck, with blood running down the stairs. Bodies were found in grotesque positions amid the ruins inside.

Fighting broke out after the British surrounded Ismailia's main municipal buildings with two battalions of paratroopers, the 4th Royal Tank Regiment and armored cars of the First Royal Dragoons, with Lancashire Fusiliers in reserve.

The British called on all police to lay down their arms and surrender.

While police authorities sought to negotiate, a number of auxiliary police fired on the British forces. The British replied in kind and the worst Anglo-Egyptian clash since the British first sought to expel the British from the Canal Zone developed.

Christian Youth Now In Action; Many Projects

CHICAGO, ILL. — A "paint brush and hammer" religion is giving new impetus to the beliefs of thousands of young Protestants across the nation.
These young people, spurred on by a national project, The Call to United Christian Youth Action, are going further than reading their Sunday school lessons. They are putting their beliefs into action in their own communities.
The views were expressed by Don Shiver, 23, national chairman of the United Christian Youth Movement, which administers The Call. He then proceeded to point out some projects that have already been undertaken.
CRISTIAN YOUTH PROJECTS
Twenty-three teen-agers of various New Brunswick (N. J.) churches spent a recent weekend renovating a Baptist church in suburban Piscataway. They painted the Sunday school room in the basement, hung curtains, put hymn book racks on the pews and scrubbed the floor.
In Jonesboro, La., a small community of less than 4,000, young whites and Negroes have united forces to build a park for Negroes. Jonesboro doesn't at present have a park of any kind, but the youngsters know that the city is planning to build one. They also know that it will be for whites only.
Two successful attempts at evangelism have been held in Bushnell, Ill., and Fort Wayne, Ind., where United Christian youth missions have been held. The week-long mission includes a survey of the community's youth, their church preferences, discussions on teen-age problems, visits to the unchurched youth, and a new look at their own church's youth program.
"These are typical of the hundreds of projects that will be carried out in thousands of communities across the nation," Shriver pointed out.

Nepal Leaders Orders Curfew To Hunt Rebel Chief

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 25 (UP) — The Nepal government ordered a dusk to dawn curfew today in the Khatmandu Valley and gave rebels who took part in a 24-hour revolt three days to surrender.

An official Nepal spokesman here said all movement out of the Khatmandu Valley would be prohibited while Nepalese troops hunted down K. I. Singh, leader of Tuesday's short-lived uprising against the Congress party government.

Permits are needed to leave the valley in which the Nepalese capital is situated. All meetings and proceedings, except ceremonial gatherings, were banned in the capital. A state of emergency was declared yesterday by King Tribhuvana.

Singh was reported last seen seven miles from Khatmandu after collapse of the uprising, which was built around the Nepal Home Guard—the Raksha Dal Volunteers.

The spokesman said all was calm and peaceful today in the little state which lies between India and Communist Tibet.

Doctors Blast Baby Sitters And Bottle Babies

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 25 (UP) —Breast-fed babies have the best chances for normal healthy lives, according to a prominent Montreal doctor who is on the staff of McGill University.

Dr. Newell W. Philpott, speaking at the 16th Annual Convention of the International Medical Assembly, deplored bottle-feeding of babies.

He coupled that practice with babysitting as modern homewreckers.

Dr. Philpott accused modern women of dealing with their children as little as possible after they are born.

In other talks before the 1,000 attending doctors yesterday, Dr. V. Pardo Castello of Havana, Cuba said fear remains the greatest drawback to treatment of leprosy. He said, however, that sulfa drugs are bringing the disease under control.

Truman Dodges Politics In Letter Writing

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Jan. 25 (UP) — President Truman sidestepped mention of his political intentions today in a letter to Nebraska Democratic National Committeeman James C. Quigley, chairman of a midwest party conference calculated to boom a Truman draft.

Mr. Truman said 1952 is a critical year for defense, that the Democratic party will not play politics with national defense, and that his "purpose in this election year" is to make sure the party continues to work for the nation's strength and people's welfare.

He shed no light on his availability as a candidate for reelection.

The two-day Midwest Democratic Conference opens today with the purpose of persuading Mr. Truman to seek another term.

Belgian Doctor Comes To States To Help Girl

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 25 (UP) —The fate of a six-year-old girl, dying from tumor of the brain, today lay in the hands of a noted Belgian brain specialist who flew here from Brussels to treat her.

Dr. Roger Haentges told reporters last night during a brief stop at Dallas he was sure he would help the child, Sue Ford. But he declined to discuss the case further until he examined Sue and talked with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ford.

Dr. Haentges, who has four children, read an appeal in Brussels from Sue's father, "to the medical profession throughout the world" to do something for his daughter. Ford said an operation would kill the child and that she had only a few weeks to live. Sue doesn't know she has a tumor or even that the doctor is here to help her, although she is in bed at her home.

Dr. Haentges will use chemical injections and put the child on a special diet.
