Around The Square

With Mack

We've been having troubles all our own the past week. It is just one thing after another. We hit our desk at the crack of dawn Monday morning, bubbling over the news and high aspirations. About 10 minutes later the phone ring and we learned that our society editor was sick. No putting on—really sick. This came as a shock, for she has been as regular as the calendar every since we landed in this fair city. But when you are sick you are sick and there is nothing you can do about it. Only we hope the illness is not of long duration. If it should be the society page will be running blank pretty soon.

Now we can write up a bull fight, edit a prohibition rally, and help candidates kiss babies, but when it comes to "society," well, that's different. It's a lot easier editing a "moonshine still" story than it is a society column, especially if refreshments are served. More than likely we would feed them pickles or onion before the cake and ice cream course. And we don't know any more about "hosted" than we do about "heaven," if as much.

Right now we are trying to unscramble a "stork party" and a "cock-tail party." It would be awful to give a baby about three fingers of "panther juice" instead of it's formula. The result might be serious.

But being an editor of many years standing we have accumulated the "brass" of a government mule. We'll try anything one time, even though the label is printed "poison."

So until the regular boss of the "Society Page" recovers you may expect most anything. We have the boss, his wife and a substitute society editor helping us, but so far we have managed to keep all of them mixed up. We are running in circles, pulling our hair, and wondering why on earth all the news on earth broke this week. We have parties and palsy contests, frolics and just plain foolishness, medical balls and monkey shines, and all of this stuff, when properly handled reverts in to "real news". Yet when given in to an ordinary ninepenny editor it might make a label for a bottle of patent medicine by the time he gets through with it.

Far sometime we have thought "wind-jammer," but we struck a man this week that has us skinned 40 ways from Sunday. He is a good man, and also a candidate so we shall not call his name. We want to see him elected. He complained a little about our sand storm story, and in fact acted as though he did not believe it. Well, he has that privilege and we shall not argue. Though his story about cold weather beats anything we have ever heard. We have lived on the North Plains, and have seen it so cold that a blazing fire would freeze stiff. But he insists that he was in a cold region some time ago, where the ground was frozen so hard people could not dig or blast a grave to bury a man. So according to this man they just stood the dead man up on his feet, got a pile driver and drove him into the ground.

Now, people, that seems hard to believe. Looks like the fellow would shatter like glass.

Mary Spencer Honored At TCU

Miss Mary Spencer, 210 S. Oak Street, Eastland, is one of the ten finalists in the race for junior class Favorite at Texas Christian University.

Miss Spencer is majoring in elementary education at TCU. She is a member of the Bryson club (social club), Methodist Student Movement, and the Hoe Down club (square dancing group) at TCU.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Spencer.

Students will vote for their favorites at the annual Presentation Ball at the Fort Worth Casino Feb. 22. Winners will be announced by a full page portrait in the 1952 Horned Frog, student yearbook, when the book is delivered in May.

Turkey Growers Plan Meeting For March 6th

The program for the annual Eastland County Turkey Field Day to be held at Carbon, March 6 has been completed, it was announced recently at the County Agent's office in Eastland.

The all day program is to begin promptly at 10 o'clock that morning at the high school auditorium, in Carbon.

Those on the program include Alvin Kincaid, Cisco; George McCarthy, Vice-President, Universal Mills, Fort Worth; H. H. Weatherly, Educational Director, Burrs Feed Co., Fort Worth; R. E. James of the Bar Nothing Turkey Ranch, Austin; Sam Davidson of the Salisbury Company, Abilene and F. Z. Beamblossom, Poultry Marketing Specialist of Texas A & M. College.

Topics at the annual meeting include: Management of a turkey lay; flocks; Brooding and care of poults; feeding of turkeys, disease control and sanitation, turkey outlook for 1952 and the marketing of turkeys.

The meeting is open to turkey growers, feed men and others interested from Eastland and adjoining counties. Lunch will be served by the Carbon PTA at noon at $1.00 per plate.

Mrs. John Thurman, Eastland and J. Elmo Smith Rising Star served on a committee to plan the program it was said.

A large group is expected for the all day meeting. The largest number of turkeys on record is expected to be produced in the county this year according to preliminary reports.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Mrs. Ella Westbrook, and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Westbrook of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Mollie Monroe, of Pauls Valley, Okla., have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brashear in Eastland. Mrs. Ella Westbrook is a twin sister, and Mrs. Monroe is sister of Mr. Brashear. He had not seen the twin sister for almost 15 years.

Gordon Woods was in town Thursday showing off a 19 1/2 pound bob cat. The cat was caught by the county trapper on Mr. Woods' place, and is one of the largest picked up in several months. A cat of this size can kill sheep, goats and hogs, Mr. Woods said.

Dave Fiensy, who was injured in an automobile crash several months ago, has been returned to a Dallas hospital. Mr. Fiensy's home here in Eastland, from condition has been very serious, though he is reported to be recovering at this time.

Government's Right To Suspend Airline Service Is Challenged

By Charles Corddry
United Press Aviation Writer
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UP)—Can the government force an airline to quit serving a city or group of cities?

Its power to do so was under challenge today in San Francisco and Chicago Appeals Courts. Attorneys predict that the supreme court eventually will have to decide the question.

The outcome will have an important influence on past and future Civil Aeronautics Board decisions affecting a number of cities around the country. The board is "re-aligning" the nation's air route system through the device of suspending trunk airline services at various cities and substituting feeder, or local service, airlines.

The 9th Circuit Court at San Francisco stayed the board's latest suspension order on Tuesday and is expected to hand down a decision on the agency's powers within about 60 days. Western Air Lines appealed as "unconstitutional confiscation of property" a board order to suspend certain services through Southern California and Arizona, specifically at El Centro, Cal., and Yuma, Ariz.

When it suspended Western, the CAB handed Bonanza Airlines, a feeder line, an 856-mile route from Phoenix to San Diego and Los Angeles.

In related cases, United Air Lines has appealed two CAB actions in the 7th Circuit in Chicago. One, which the court has stayed, would suspend United at Rock

Jas. T. Perryman Will Be Buried In Fort Worth

Funeral services will be conducted today in Fort Worth, for James T. Perryman who died Wednesday night at his home in that city.

Perryman, an independent oil operator and broker was born in Indian Territory, though he had lived in Fort Worth most of the time during the past 35 years. He was quite well known in Eastland.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Bessie May Braly of Eastland, two sons James D. Perryman of Dallas and Curtis L. Perryman of Lubbock; three brothers, C. W. Perryman of Ft. Worth; V. C. Perryman of Dallas; and L. R. Perryman of Oklahoma City; two sisters, Mrs. A. W. Hurley and Miss Ina Perryman, both of Oklahoma City and three grandchildren.

Ranger College To Be Heard On Two Stations

The Ranger Junior College Hour will be heard this Saturday morning at 10:00 a.m. over KRCR, Mineral Wells and between 9:30 and 10:00 a.m. over KSTB, Breckenridge.

Last week the Brass Ensemble presented four number both classic and popular. This week they again present this group in a program entirely of popular numbers. The Brass Ensemble is composed of Polly Hibdon of Brady, brass horn; Janice Page of Ranger, baritone horn; Tommy Patterson of Eastland, trombone; Don Bryson of Graham and Jack Hull of Mineral Wells, cornet.

$1,000 In Cash Prizes Will Be Awarded At Fair

Over $1,000.00 is offered in premiums for the winners of the various classes in the annual Eastland County Livestock Show to be held at the old Airport in Eastland on Friday and Saturday, March 28 and 29, S. P. Crofts, Cisco, President of the County Livestock Raisers Association said today.

His organization is sponsoring the show which will be held in Eastland for the first time in several years. The two hangars at the old airport, one mile north of town will house the animals. Permission from the city has been given to hold the show here and a lease has been signed to this effect it was revealed.

There will be divisions of beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep and goats and hogs at the annual show. There will not be room nor facilities to show turkeys or poultry. Crofts said. Superintendents from all over the county have been named to handle entries and record winners in the various divisions.

All animals must be in their places by 10 o'clock on the first day of the show, Friday, March 28, C. M. McCain, Eastland, General Chairman for the show said. They must remain on the ground until 4 o'clock the next day, Saturday, March 29.

There is to be no entry fee for exhibiting animals of any kind. Animals in the breeding classes should be either purebred or at least representative of their breed. Animals in the fat steer, fat lamb or fat barrow classes may be grade or purebred.

Exhibitors of fat classes is limited to either FFA or 4-H Club boys from over the county it was said.

The horse show to be held in connection with the other classes of livestock is expected to draw exhibitors from distant points. It will be under the direction of Sig Faircloth and Pete Tindall, both of Eastland.

Purina Feed Mill Blast Injures 2 Workers Thurs

FORT WORTH, Feb. 22 (UP)—Two explosions shattered a section of the huge Purina Feed Mill and two workmen were in critical condition today with third degree burns.

A spark from a feed grinder was blamed for the first blast. A second dust explosion quickly followed.

Flames shot from the windows in "solid sheets", witnesses said. The mill is 15 blocks east of downtown Fort Worth.

Steel and concrete were smashed to bits small enough to hold in the palm of a hand, said R. E. Cowan, manager of the mill.

The explosions occurred late yesterday on the eighth floor of the mill. The combustible dust-laden air carried flames to other bins in the 11-story structure.

Cowan estimated damage at more than $25,000.

The injured men were Tom Harrison, 44, and L. B. Stroud, 26. Harrison received third degree burn on the upper part of the body, and was the most gravely injured. His clothing was blown off in the blast.

One worker, A. T. Dawson, said the explosions "sounded like four or five heavy shots of dynamite going off."

STORM TORN TANKER REACHES CALM WATERS OFF RHODE IS.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 22—The storm-torn stern of the tanker sheltered waters off the Rhode Island coast today and its 13 "stay-put" seamen were expected to be removed from the hulk as soon as it is moored in Narragansett Bay.

The Coast Guard said as it expected the two tugs pulling the battered stern section to enter the bay shortly after 9 a.m. and anchor the hulk off Jamestown R. I., for removal of the 13 men and the cargo of fuel oil.

At 8: a.m., the hulk was within five miles of the day's mouth and its volunteer crew of 13 began Monday when the Fort Mercer and another tanker, the Pendleton, were broken in halves by a nor'easter off Cape Cod. They rode out a second nor'easter aboard the hulk yesterday.

Two barges were sent from New York to unload the machinery from the stern of the vessel and to take off what is left of its fuel oil cargo.

The 13 men of the Mercer stern were the last of 70 men who survived the break-up of the tankers. Fourteen men were lost, 32 were rescued from the drifting stern of the Pendleton and 25 were rescued from the broken pieces of the Mercer.

The men who rode the stern of the Mercer to safety were expected to be called Monday as witness at a Coast Guard inquiry which already has heard charges that there was "lack of leadership" in the after section following the break-up.

C. W. Hindsley of Houston, a steward and Marine Veteran who was among 21 men taken from the stern, said "no one wanted to direct the handling of

NATO Sets Goal For Pact Army

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 22 (UP)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization will try to build a 50-division army and a 3,500-plane air force by the end of this year, it was learned today.

These twin goals for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's expanding armed forces were set by a three-man committee of experts headed by U. S. Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman and have been approved by NATO's Military Committee.

The Harriman Report, which also includes assessments of money, manpower and arms for each of the member nations, next will go to the organization's Council of Ministers for routine formal ratification sometime in the next few days.

NTSC CONDUCTS RJC BRASS CLINIC; CONCERT TONIGHT

A brass ensemble from North Texas State College held a "Brass Clinic" this afternoon at Ranger Junior College for brass players from high schools in this area.

This evening this group of excellent musicians will present a concert of brass music in the First Methodist Church at Ranger, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The general public has been cordially invited by the college to hear this group of musicians, who are generally considered as one of the better performing units in the state.

Taking part in the afternoon clinic were Mr. C. F. Briggs and the brass sections of the Bulldog Band. The band directors of the Anson and Albany bands also participated in the clinic and will participate in the concert.

In addition to the above mentioned band units, the following high schools were either represented the men. There was confusion. "One guy ran the colors upside down as a distress signal. Another ran around hollering. No one could read codes or even send an SOS," he said.

Hindsley said that some of the men who volunteered to stay aboard the hulk of the ship did so "because they were skeptical of rescue attempts" and he thought the officers should have made them leave.

"We had no assurance we wouldn't be hit by another blow," he said, "the best thing to do was to get them off the ship."

Another witness, seaman Julio Molina of San Turco, Puerto Rico, charged that the Captain, Fredrick C. C. Paetzl of Houston, refused to listen when he reported an eight-foot hole in the tanker hull.

Paetzl denied that from his hospital bed at Portland, Me. He said there wasn't a hole, only a "crack," and that he sent an SOS immediately.

The 13 men of the Mercer stern were the last of 70 men who survived the break-up of the tankers. Fourteen men were lost, 32 were rescued from the drifting stern of the Pendleton and 25 were rescued from the broken pieces of the Mercer.

The men who rode the stern of the Mercer to safety were expected to be called Monday as witness at a Coast Guard inquiry which already has heard charges that there was "lack of leadership" in the after section following the break-up.

C. W. Hindsley of Houston, a steward and Marine Veteran who was among 21 men taken from the stern, said "no one wanted to direct the handling of

Church Census Will Be Taken In City Sunday

Sunday afternoon, Feb. 24, the members of the First Baptist church of Eastland are to take a religious census. Every house in town is to be contacted, and the information gathered that invitation might be given to every one to attend church.

We invite the cooperation of everyone, and would like to suggest that you give the information asked just as quickly and clearly as possible. Also, if you are going to be out of town that afternoon from 1-3 p.m., we would like to ask that you will out the card found in this paper and leave it in the door of your home.

If you are a member of some other church, and would like to have the information ready, just fill out the slip found in the paper and have it ready.

This is a big task. We are not asking for the information to put anyone "on the spot" nor to embarrass anyone, and the cooperation of the entire people of our town would be appreciated very much.

In nearly every instance there will be two people, and we plan to call from 1 to 3 p.m. Thank you, for your cooperation.

The information asked, which will appear on the card, will be: name, age, address, church member, where, denominational preference, member of Sunday School, where, Extension department prospect, why?

William J. Williams said he has asked the Senate's legal experts for an opinion on the "legality" of the hundreds of "waivers" which the Internal Revenue Bureau has granted in recent years to allow former employes to handle tax cases before the waiting period expires.

If the legal staff says the waivers were proper under present law, Williams said, he will introduce stricter legislation to "stop what's been going on."

Williams is particularly perturbed about the 102 waivers which have been granted to the New York law firm of former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan.

He told the Senate yesterday that the government has failed to collect "a dime" on a $2,000,000 tax debt owed by four clients of the Nunan firm.

He also asserted that the Revenue Bureau ignored recommendations of its own agents that three of the tax cases be sent to the Justice Department for criminal prosecution.

Island Only 150 Miles South Of Russian Border

United Press Staff Correspondent
8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Feb. 22—South Korean Marines have smashed an attempt by nearly 1,000 Communist troops to capture allied-held Yang Island off the Korean east coast, only 150 miles south of the Soviet border, it was announced today.

The South Koreans, commanded by a United States Marine officer, sank 13 of the 20 Communist invasion sampans, downed 70 Reds, killed seven others and captured six in a 34-hour battle ending at 11 a.m. Thursday.

The Marine defenders numbered only about 200 men.

The Red battalion commander was among the prisoners. A Korean Naval Communique issued at Pusan said that the South Koreans also captured three rocket guns, 17 Russian-made sub-machine-guns and 41 rifles. It was not announced whether the attackers were Chinese or North Koreans.

The Communique said nine South Koreans were killed and six wounded in the battle.

Disclosure of the invasion attempt was the first indication the allies still held any terrain so far north. Yang Island lies off Songjin, between the 40th and 41st parallels and nearly 150 miles north of the Korean battlefield.

An 8th Army communique reported only patrol action along the 145-mile main front across the waist of Korea. No more than a platoon was involved in any single skirmish.

In the air, 35 American Sabre Jets headed off 60 Communist MIG-15 jet fighters as they crossed the Yalu River Manchurian frontier into Northwest Korea and damaged one of them in a dogfight at 40,000 feet.

Major William F. Shaeffer of Des Moines, La., said he hit an Mig's right wing, rudder and fuselage and saw the plane trailing smoke before he had to break off the attack.

Senator Calls For Stricter Revenue Laws

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UP)—Sen. John J. Williams said today stricter laws may be needed to make sure that former Internal Revenue officials wait at least two years after leaving government service before representing defendants in tax cases.

"I thought we had a law to enforce that waiting period," the Delaware Republican said. "But it has been so loosely interpreted by the Internal Revenue Bureau that we may have to plug the loopholes."

Williams said he has asked the Senate's legal experts for an opinion on the "legality" of the hundreds of "waivers" which the Internal Revenue Bureau has granted in recent years to allow former employes to handle tax cases before the waiting period expires.

If the legal staff says the waivers were proper under present law, Williams said, he will introduce stricter legislation to "stop what's been going on."

Boys In Korea Enjoy Movies

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a liberal quotation from the letter of Cpl. William F. Cox, Headquarters Company, 555th Field Artillery Battalion, as he wrote it from 'about 52 miles north of the 38th Parallel'.)

"We have been a front line outfit since August and never even under the worst of circumstances have we had to go without at least five movies a week. Imagine that, doesn't it stir your blood a little? We are just one battalion, there are thousands of battalions and the same story fits all of them.

"When darkness sets in thousands of movies start to roll, in tents, ground dugouts, on a hillside, in hand constructed buildings, in bombed out buildings, in rice paddies and in many other places. I have stood on top of a high hill at night and looked down in a valley and have seen nine movies going at once. From every mountain you can see the same scene. From one section you can hear hot jazz music from 'The Strip' and from another you can hear Lana Turner, and another a mystery thriller and on and on.

"These three hundred thousand American men are movie fans. These movies are their touch of home. The movies, and I have heard many a high officer say it, are the morale of the troops in Korea. 'These men sit at these movies with loaded weapons at all times, at least the frontline outfits. Guards patrol the areas where they are being shown. In my own case, I and my buddies have sat watching the movies with 105 and 155 artillery rounds going over our heads toward the enemy. In at least two cases, we had incoming rounds within 200 yards and there wasn't one guy that would leave the movie.

"Tired, fatigued, and sometimes completely exhausted, young soldiers stop to see a movie, and then as if by a miracle they become less tired, less fatigued, and their exhaustion seems to pass by the couple of hours relaxation given to them through a movie.

"It takes hundreds of young projectionists to show these movies and the Army takes great care in training these inexperienced young men for this job. Other hundreds of young men learn to handle the moving of the film prints. Each division has a film print center and they are busy 24 hours a day. Right here in Korea we have a whole movie industry.

"Well, these are the things that I wanted to pass on to you. Just possibly they might be of some use in some way. They can never be exaggerated enough, believe me."

It's Tune-Up Time For Outboard Motors; Fishing Season Is Near

If you plan to do any early spring fishing from a boat, it's time right now to bring your outboard out of storage and get it tuned up. Don't wait too long to bring your motor in to your dealer for this service, or you may find him jammed up with last minute business. Possibly you will have to spend Opening Day rowing.

If for any reason you decide to, or have to, take care of the service tune-up yourself, here are the procedures which are normally followed by factory-trained service men:

"First," Olson says, "flush out the fuel system and clean the carburetor. Check the fuel lines carefully to see if any foreign matter has entered and may clog them.

"Clean and adjust the spark plugs. Or, if there is any question about them, buy new ones. Be sure, however, that you get the type specified by the manufacturer. Check your magneto points, too. If they are fouled, dress them, then wipe them clean. Be sure you readjust the gap setting to the manufacturer's specifications.

"Check the propeller for damage. File out or smooth off the small nicks, and note carefully if the blades have been bent to any extent. A damaged propeller may cause your motor to vibrate or run roughly; if the propeller can't be repaired, it should be replaced.

"Remove all the excess oil you left in the cylinders last fall as a corrosion preventative. To do this, ground the spark plug wires and crank the engine several times by pulling the starter cord.

"Drain and flush the lower unit, and refill the housing with whatever lubricant your motor calls for.

"At least once a year—and now is the time to do it—go over the motor and tighten all the nuts and screws. In particular, be sure the flywheel nut is tight."

Unless you enjoy tinkering with your motor, there is usually little need to involve yourself with service problems. Almost always, there is a dealer somewhere nearby who has been factory trained to handle your particular motor.

But, while there is no particular shortage of dealers, there are far too many outboards in customers' hands (nearly 2 and one-half million motors have been sold since World War II) for all to be serviced at the same instant. According to the Outboard Boating Club of America, about 88 per cent of all motors are used for fishing—and do you realize how near it is to opening day?

WTCC Seeks Aid Sen. Connally To Fight Bill

ABILENE TEXAS, February 22
Aid of Senator Tom Connally in opposition to passage of the Moody-Dingell bill has been asked by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which contends that it would nationalize unemployment compensation. Frank H. Kelley, WTCC president said today. Kelley said the WTCC will be represented when the Senate Finance Committee hold a hearing on the bill. "Under wise administration," he wrote, "we have built a trust fund reserve in excess of $230 million. The minimum rate assessed employers who have either totally or appreciably stabilized their employment was reduced from five-tenths of one per cent to one-tenth of one per cent." Even with this low experience rating under which most Texas firms have qualified, the state's reserve fund has continued to grow, and the recipients of unemployment compensation benefits have been beneficially served, Melton told Connally.

Taft To Speak At Texas Tech

LUBBOCK—Senator Robert A. Taft, "Mr. republican" from Ohio, will make a speaking appearance on the Texas Tech campus March 12 on a swing through Texas on behalf of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Tech, has arranged for all classes to be dismissed at 3 p.m. in order that Tech students may hear Senator Taft. M. D. Temple, Republican committee chairman from Lubbock County, said Taft would fly to Lubbock from Dallas, where he is to make a major campaign speech.

San Angelo-Arlington Only Two Contenders Left In Pioneer Race

-24-2 inside Times and Tel Friday
Arlington, Texas, February 19
The Pioneer Conference probably will be at stake Saturday night, when the San Angelo Hans and the Arlington State Rebels, now tied for the loop lead, clash in a conference game at Arlington.

With only two games left on their schedule they could play a big part in determining the league crown if they are able to defeat their traditional rivals, the Arlington State Rebels, next week at Stephenville.

Glen Lewallen San Angelo's brilliant forward continues to lead all league scorers throughout the season with 412 points. He also leads in the conference scoring and 56 field goals and 41 free throws for a total of 153 points.

MARKET BASKET'S HIGHER—The basket of groceries that cost $10 in 1939 and $23.75 a year ago has gone up another $1.75 this year. Above Newchart shows comparative prices in cents of certain food staples for 1951 and 1952. Some food prices have dropped but the majority of the items have soared in price despite government controls. Bureau of Labor Statistics officials say indications are that prices will go still higher before they start to level.

Fire Fighter Has Gas Well Half Stemmed

RENOVO, Pa., Feb. 22 (UP)—A fire-fighting expert from Texas, his battle apparently half-won, bid his time today before attempting to cap the wild Maguire gas well in the rich, nearby Ledy Field.

Paul (Red) Adair of Houston and his crew planned to await the hardening of concrete around a seven-inch pipeline in the shaft of the mammoth well.

Adair succeeded yesterday in slipping a four-ton "Christmas Tree" valve over the pipeline despite a blizzard which flattened the gas along the ground, increasing chances of fire. Once the pipeline is firmly imbedded in the concrete, Adair then will try to complete the capping operation.

He will run a pipe from the valve to a manufacturer's pipe line a short distance away in order to seal off the gas still escaping.

The valve cut off 50 per cent of the pressure from the well, which blew in last Friday with such force it sent its caps flying against a steel derrick, causing a spark which ignited the gas into a flame 150-feet high.

The fire raged until Sunday, then suddenly died out. It flared again on Monday night and flickered out on Tuesday.

According to teenage contestants in the Grand National Bake-Off, annual cooking contest held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York, dishwashing is the second most important phase in cookery. Some 195 winners believed in the "pile-up-and-then-wash-em" technique, some in the "do-them-as-you-go-along" method—and others just up 'n left them for mother to do.

Ramsey Seeks Second Term

AUSTIN, Feb. 22 (UP)—Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey began his campaign for re-election today after announcing yesterday he wanted a second two-year term.

Ramsey, who was elected lieutenant governor from a field of 12 candidates in 1950, is a native of San Augustine, a lawyer and former Representative and state Senator and Secretary of State of Texas.

Principal duties of the lieutenant governor include acting as governor in the absence of the state's chief executive and serving as presiding officer of the senate. Because of his power and influence in the Senate, the lieutenant governor is generally considered one of the state's most important if little-known office holders.

Ramsey outlined a seven-point re-election platform. He called for both economy and honesty in government; less, better and cheaper government; no new taxes; conservation of natural resources; rural telephones at reasonable rates, and a backstop road to every Texas farm home.

Ramsey was appointed secretary of state by the late Gov. Beauford Jester in January, 1949, after serving as Representative and Senator from San Augustine. He left the appointive state office in February, 1950, to make the lieutenant governor's race.

Look for orlon taffeta on the yard goods counter. This is a new material that resists creasing, shrinking, and soiling. An orlon taffeta dance frock can literally be swished through soapsuds and rinses. It dries very fast with little or no ironing needed.
