If general conditions are as bad as we think they are, it's time to begin some constructive changes. Maybe we are an old fogey, but we know the difference between "moonshine" and sunshine. Politicians have ravished the county and they are not repenting at all. Everything, so far as they are concerned is fair in "love, war and politics."

That's why half our "big brass" is under suspicion. That's the cause for our so-called investigations. And right now most people are wondering if investigations will really be made, or whether we will just have another big white-wash party. Those boys stick together.

Regardless of party affiliations, we are, after all, just plain Americans. We may not be as good as we should be and sometimes we wonder if our honesty could not be improved upon.

No foolishness, we must face the facts. It is time to start a clean-up that will be remembered until the Lord returns again.

Things can not go on as they are. Every day we are squandering America's wealth. Our national debt staggers us, and yet we are told by Truman and others that the end is not in sight—they must have more money. For what?

Do they want us to work and slave while they give away the fruits of our labor? Do they want to employ 50 per cent of the population to collect taxes for the other 50 per cent? Hundreds and thousands of new jobs are being created every month—useless jobs, and not jobs that are in any way connected with our war effort or the defense program.

There is too much bad blood in Washington. If the high brass can't tell a Communist from a cootie, tell high brass is not intelligent enough to hold high office and draw high salaries. Lets fire them and replace them with men who can tell a horse thief from a Sunday School teacher, after a ten year association. It may be that some of our Washington arch-crooks teach Sunday School on Sunday and rustle horses during week days. Dual personalities.

The crook is not going to give up until he is kicked out. You can't insult him or shame him.

Why honest men want to stay up there is too much for us. We know we do have honest men, and many times they are criticized for sins committed by others. They could help if they would call for an investigation and then tell all they know. Some of them would be assassinated, but that's better than to go on as we are. We could hang the murderer even if we can convict him for stealing the dome off the capitol building.

If Thomas Jefferson might get a peep behind the scenes in Washington today, he would probably thank the Lord for calling him when he did. Doctrines promulgated by George Washington are being passed up as so much rubbish.

This nation is making fair progress in its race to ruination. Better interest yourself as an individual. We do not have to stand for such leadership as we now have. Avail yourself of an opportunity to vote, and then vote for the good of America. Vote while you can. The way things are going now we may not be permitted to vote within a few years. They have taken away all we have other than the vote. Do you like it? Then vote for God and Country.

Taxes today are not taxes at all—it is confiscation. And this confiscation is not the greatest of our worries. Ignorance in the high brackets is more dangerous than the so-called taxes.

And again we warn, vote for God and for Country before it is too late. Our situation is precarious.

Tickets Ranger Chamber Commerce Banquet Sold Out Wednesday Noon

The committee handling the sale of tickets for the Ranger Chamber of Commerce banquet announces that all 300 tickets have been sold, and has ordered further sales suspended.

As was announced earlier it was possible only to accommodate 300 people and this number was reported sold at noon Wednesday.

It was impossible to secure a place locally to hold the banquet that would accommodate more than 300 people, consequently the sale had to be stopped when that amount was sold, according to the ticket committee.

Wampler Brothers also marked a wildcat location on the Cisco township as the No. 1 Bernice McCrea.

H. E. Hanrahan, et al, Rising Star, has staked two locations 6 miles southwest of Rising Star. Both contracts are for 1,950 feet with cable tools.

Clyde Young To Attend Meeting San Francisco

Clyde Young, manager of J. C. Penney Company department store, will leave here the 7th of March to attend the Company's Golden Jubilee convention being held in San Francisco, Calif., from 9th to 12th.

"This year marks our 50th anniversary of serving the American people," Mr. Young said, "and our convention has been built around that theme. Naturally we are proud of our past—our Company started as a single, tiny store in 1902 and has grown to be the biggest of its kind in the world.

"But frankly we are looking to the future, rather than the past. We want to continue serving the American people the best we know how in the next 50 years—and that's what we are going to talk about at our convention," He added:

"We have built a great business following a simple principle—the Golden Rule. We believe in it and we are going to take the opportunity, at the convention, to reaffirm and rededicate our selves to this great principle in 1952 and the years ahead."

J. C. Penney, founder of the Company and its board chairman today, will make the keynote address at the two-day meeting. The subject of his talk will be "Do It Better."

Principal convention address will be given by A. W. Hughes, president of J. C. Penney Company, on the topic, "A Look Ahead."

Mrs. Hightower Passes Away In Ranger Hospital

Mrs. Emmett Hightower died this morning in a Ranger hospital following a short illness.

She was a native of Missouri, having lived in Ranger for seven or eight years. She was a member of the Methodist Church and a former member of the 1920 Club.

Services are awaiting the arrival of her children.

Lawmakers May Block Eight Billion Plans

President Truman takes his new eight-billion-dollar foreign aid program to congress and the nation for approval today. The president is scheduled to present his case in a message to congress this morning and in a radio-television address to the nation tonight.

The program is made up of about five-and-a-half-billion dollars in new military aid and two-and-a-half billion in economic help for fiscal 1953, which begins July 1st. The administration has heard reports that economy-minded lawmakers are in a mood to cut the entire request for economic assistance for the non-Communist world.

One congressman, Republican Senator James Kim of Missouri, has asked Congress to hold up action on President Truman's foreign aid program until France and Germany ratify the Lisbon Agreements on Atlantic Pact Defence. Kim says the Lisbon Agreements are "not worth a plugged nickel" unless the French and Western German Governments ratify them.

It's reported in Bonn that four leading West German industrialists have been arrested for betraying western arm secrets to Soviet Russia. Authoritative sources say the four—who are not identified—allegedly gave the Russians, among other things, allied plans for the manufacture of a new alloy stronger than steel.

Communist agents have photographed secret notes in a diary kept by a former United States Military attaché to Moscow. It was disclosed in Washington today that extracts from the diary of Major-General Robert Grow have been published in Europe in an effort to show that the United States is preparing to unleash a third world war.

The pictures were taken in the General's Room in an army-operated hotel in Frankfurt while Grow was absent.

Magician Will Furnish Fun For Father And Son Banquet

A. C. Wimpee, educational director for the First Baptist Church, Brownwood, will be guest speaker at the Father and Son banquet to be held in Eastland at the Methodist Church, on Monday night of next week. Mr. Wimpee, according to information received here, is a magician and an entertainer of considerable note, and the banquet program committee feels that they were fortunate in obtaining his services.

He was formerly with Baylor University in Waco, where he served the student body in various ways. He has seen considerable overseas service with the army in the Eighth Service Command. Many programs, for soldiers, including music, novelty and comedy, were rendered.

He was born in Kaufman county which makes him a Texan by choice, rather than by adoption. But adding his points of ability will not help the program, if you want an hour of good clean entertainment, the kind that will be enjoyed by young and old, get your ticket for the Father and Son banquet and make arrangements to attend. The place: Basement of the First Methodist Church in Eastland on Monday night, March 10.

Texas Leader In 1951 Highway Construction Aggies Are Told

COLLEGE STATION, March 6 (Sp)—Dewitt C. Greer, state highway engineer, Texas Highway Department, said today that Texas built 1269 miles of federal aid roads, 248 bridges and eliminated 11 railway grade crossings in 1951 to lead the nation in this field. These figures were released recently by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.
 "This federal aid road construction," Greer said, "was supplemented by a sizeable program of farm to market roads financed with state funds made available by the last session of the Texas legislature."
 Speaking at the 26th annual short course in Highway Engineering, at Texas A. & M. College, the state highway engineer pointed out also that during 1951 Texas built 137 miles on the interstate highway system, which is strategic both from the military and civilian viewpoint insofar as the movement of traffic is concerned. The nearest competitor to Texas in this field was California with 354 miles, he said.
 Greer urged the engineers of the Highway Department to continue their good work in 1952 of "expeditiously and efficiently putting the 'money under the rubber' for the maximum benefit of Texas motorists."
 "The controlled materials plan of the federal government is now operating smoothly and so far as Texas is concerned the Highway Department has developed flexibility in highway design in order to reduce to the minimum the use of critical steel. Highway projects are therefore moving to construction without interruption or delay at the present time."
 Greer said that "in a report made to the national congress 30 days ago Thomas H. McDonald, commissioner of the Bureau of Public Roads, pointed out the movement of the federal aid highway construction program in the U. S., it was interesting to note that during the calendar year 1951 Texas led the nation in the number of miles of federal aid road constructed, the number of bridges built and the number of highway grade crossings eliminated."
 The highway short course will continue through Thursday morning, with more than 400 in attendance.

IMPORTANT WATER MEETING

The Eastland City Commissioners have called a meeting of Eastland Business Men and Citizens for Thursday night of this week, (March 6) at 7:30 p.m., this meeting to be held in the County Court Room, second floor of the Court House.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Wrong Signature On Legal Papers May Cost Time, Money

Should a married woman sign important documents with her own given name or use her husband's first name? Is "Junior" or "Senior" legally part of your name? Should you sign your middle name or initial? Is "Mr." or "Mrs." part of a legal signature? Lawyers find that people are often at a loss to know how to sign their names to legal documents. And, while signature discrepancies ultimately may be straightened out, the process can be expensive.

In legal effect, a name is used merely as one method of distinguishing one person from another. Under the Common law, since very early times, a legal name has consisted of one Christian or given name, and one surname which is the family name. Generally, use of both such names is necessary for legal identification.

The law does not pay too much attention to the middle name or initial. However, although the use of the middle name or initial is not required, it is wise to use it since it may be important for identification in some cases.

According to attorneys, married women have more difficulty with their signatures than most other people. When a girl marries she, of course, takes her husband's surname. Thus Mary Lou Jones legally becomes Mary Lou Brown when she marries James E. Brown. But, in practice, she usually does not stop there—she uses his full name as her own, signing herself as Mrs. James E. Brown, instead of Mary L. Brown (or Mary Lou Brown) which is correct.

Can this apparently minor error in Mrs. Brown's signature cause any trouble? Let us assume that the Browns decide to sell their home, which they have owned fifteen years, and move to Oregon. Five years pass, and their former home is now owned by George Smith, who has made a deal to sell it at a nice profit. In checking the title of the property, the name, "Mrs. James E. Brown" turns up in Smith's abstract, as it appears on the deed

Penney Medallion Designed By Famous Sculptor

To celebrate its Golden Jubilee, J. C. Penney Company commissioned Julio Kilenyi, famous sculptor, to design a medallion symbolizing the department store chain's place in the American scene. Above, Mr. Kilenyi puts the finishing touches on his design, which is distinguished by its simplicity and warmth. One side of the medallion (left) shows the Penney Company, which this year celebrates its 50th anniversary, represented by a 50-year old oak tree. Beneath the sturdy oak is the inscription: "Growing with the Nation." On the medallion's reverse side (right) are depicted three generations of Americans who have been and are being served by J. C. Penney Company. Mr. Kilenyi many of whose works are on permanent exhibition in the Metropolitan Museum of Art and other museums, considers the Penney medallion one of his finest examples of this form of creative art.

shelter. The Browns may be out time and money in correcting the discrepancy.

In this situation, the "minor" variation in Mary's signature has resulted in trouble for everyone involved.

Perversely enough, other married women feel that their maiden surname is still legal and continue to use it. For instance, a wife may register her automobile in her maiden name instead of her married name. This is not in compliance with the law requiring a car to be registered in the name of the owner. Her maiden surname is gone for good, unless she is divorced and wants to resume the use of her maiden name. Then it may be returned to her by a court order.

The law does not consider "Junior" or "Senior" a significant part of the name, as regards identification. However, it will not be incorrect to add such terms to your signature, if you wish. Similarly, "Mr." or "Mrs." are not legally important or necessary.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Soap Not To Be Mixed For Wash

Laundrying specialists in the Department of Agriculture warn housewives that too many soaps may spoil the wash.

Mixing odds and ends of soap with synthetic detergents—just to use them up, for instance—may result in a wash that won't come clean.

They advise using a product according to instructions on the package. If it isn't satisfactory, try another next time. The Laundry experts point out that soaps and detergents on sale today are highly specialized, made for different uses.

by which James and Mary sold their home.

For the title to be clear, the land records must show that Mrs. James E. Brown who sold the house and lot was the same identical person as the Mary L. Brown or Mrs. James E. Brown whose name appears on the deed conveying the property to the Browns many years before.

In order that the purchaser may be safe, lawyers and courts must not overlook the possibility that they may be two different persons. If so, the first Mrs. Brown may have died leaving heirs who have not yet relinquished their interest in the home. Other possibilities would present serious implications also.

Proof of identity in this case could involve tracing the Browns

ARLINGTON, March 5—Basketball coaches of the Pioneer Conference have unanimously selected Glen Lewallen, San Angelo's rangy center who led the loop in scoring with 485 points, and Jim Richardson, sharpshooting forward on the championship Arlington State Rebel squad, to

The five players selected were all excellent scorers, compiling a total of 1,632 points throughout the season.

Only league school not represented on the first team was Schreiner Institute, which was awarded three positions on the second team. Mountaineers winning second team positions were Bill Banks, center; Bubba Creel, forward; and Bobb McKinley, guard.

Rainmaking Boosts El Salvador Coffee Growing In Drouth Areas

Modern witch doctors eventually may be able to promise that lack of rain for Latin American coffee crops will never threaten the flow of supply to American coffee cups.

The general public has become so accustomed to the miracles performed by Twentieth Century scientists that it all but ignores much of their alchemy. But when meteorologists learned the secret of triggering clouds to make them blink with interest. Now the rain before their time, everybody rain-makers are wringing water from the skies over El Salvador to nourish thirsty coffee trees—and the results are successful enough to suggest a solution to the dry spells that occasionally hamper coffee production.

El Salvador, third largest coffee-producing country in the Western Hemisphere, got its idea after experiments in New Mexico were credited with siphoning rain from an almost cloudless sky. At that time, magazine articles made the trick sound easy, gave the impression that all you had to do was heat a pinch of silver nitrate, shoot it skyward through a short length pipe, and raise your umbrella.

Since then, it has become known that rain-making is a difficult and by no means always-successful operation. When New York City's drought of 1951 brought shaveless days, a ban on the washing of automobiles and watering lawns, the city hired a rain maker to put a charm on any sky-born collection of moisture he could find.

The results were gratifying but confusing. It rained and rained. But the scientist's persistent refusal to claim credit for it led some to believe that it was a natural precipitation. Others insisted the project was a rousing success; they said the city farmers were willing to forget the glory and call it a simple act of God—only to protect themselves from law suits. Farmers had stormed the courts, claiming their crops had been ruined by the deluge.

Regardless of the true facts in this particular operation, rainmaking is recognized as a legitimate science, and Salvadoran farmers not to mention Salvadoran coffees—have benefited by it.

When the public of El Salvador decided to approve the experiment on behalf of their greatest export commodity, they called in a team of experts, headed by the eminent meteorologist, Dr. Irving P. Krick. Krick mapped out a plan and was given the go-signal. Within a matter of weeks, rain was obtained for practically all of the many coffee zones included in the plan.

The U. S. coffee industry, always interested in the problems and progress of the coffee-producing countries, saw in the experiment a vindication of this country's faith in the coffee growers' promise to assure a steady flow of green coffees to American shores by every means possible.

Driverless Car Goes On "Spree"

No it wasn't reckless driving, there wasn't even a driver in Mrs. J. R. Stewart's automobile yesterday when it took a "cruise" just inside the east city limits of Ranger. Mrs. Stewart had been having trouble with the car getting enough gas and she pulled into a filling station for help. Just as she had gotten out of the car, according to Chief of Police W. G. Pounds, the car suddenly started getting gas. The wheels started spinning and the car took off for tall timbers.

Leaving the filling station and crossing the highway the car "mowed" down a row of pickets in front of a house, went on through the yard and through another fence into a field, made about a half-mile circle up through a field, clipped off a telephone pole and came to a rest nearly back on the highway. The car suffered only minor damages even though it "plowed" up some live oak trees while foraging through the field.

Chief Pounds said that Mrs. Stewart thought perhaps she had left the automatic transmission in "Drive" when she got out of the car at the station. What gave it the gas so suddenly, no one knows.

Weekly Feature To Start Today About State Law

"It's the Law in Texas", a new weekly feature, makes its appearance in today's edition.

It is the first of a series of columns that will appear in this paper each Thursday. The articles will discuss points of law that every person needs to know.

The write-up being published today tells how a person's name should be signed to legal documents. It points out that proper signatures on important legal papers may save both time and money.

Among topics to be explained in other columns are the liability of a homeowner for accidents on his property, the question of who inherits in event a person dies without leaving a will, and others of equal interest.

Distributed as a public service by the lawyers of the state, the weekly column is prepared under supervision of the State Bar of Texas Committee on Public Information. Each statement made will be carefully checked by the Bar group to insure conformity to applicable Texas laws.

The rendering of legal advice on specific personal problems is for lawyers, specialists in that field. But "It's the Law in Texas" will give you back ground knowledge about the law and discuss in everyday terms, legal information that will help you in your daily activities.

Facts truck owners should know about hauling bigger payloads
WANT to know why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks?
First, they've got better weight distribution. This means that bigger payload capacity is engineered into a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Many trucks carry too much weight on the rear axle, not enough on the front. But in a Dodge truck, the right proportion of the load is carried on each axle.
Besides this better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning, easier parking. Come in and try one of these payload-parkin', easier-handling trucks for yourself. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.
Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back—for better distribution of the load. You can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.
Haul faster! Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are powered by high-compression engines to give you top performance with rock-bottom economy. Big power gives you pull and speed that save time.
Get longer life! There's a Dodge truck that's "Job-Rated" to fit your road and load condition—with load-carrying and load-moving units factory-engineered to stand up on toughest service.
"With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low!"
... says MORRIS SAPIR Dependable Furniture Company, Oakland, California
"After using Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks for eight years exclusively, I want to report that your new models are keeping me sold on Dodge.
"No vehicle we have ever seen can give our drivers more freedom in city traffic than our Dodge 1-ton truck. With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low."
