After this week, when you mention this column, just remember it is no longer a new comer. Next Monday we complete our first six months in this fair city, and this column is just as old as our existence here. We came here on the same date. Tuesday we will be a qualified voter in all elections, for we have talked Joe Collins into resigning his office as County Treasurer and moving to Manahans. Our reason for this is that we wanted Joes home, and the only way to get it was to get Joe to leave town.

Our best wishes go to Joe, Mrs. Joe and the two little Joes. May the sandstorms skip them. And now that we own that home at | and we are a voter. Everybody is happy but the wife, and she will be as soon as she finishes straightening up the house, arranging the and we are a voter. Everybody is Really the Church would not loose much if it did de-cide to "withdraw" from us. We use the word "withdraw" because it sounds better than "throwed Stockyards, Zoo, and perhaps other out," especially as we are the ones to be "thrown."

You know most anything might happen, and the more we think about it the more we are in-clined to be scared. We would offer our "regrets,' 'if our bravery would prohibit. We are simply scared.

We began, and notified people who were to move in our old home to do likewise. They did. Then a phone call blasted the hopes of three families. It leaked out in Monahaus that Joe had a couple of babies, and his pros-pective landlord told him "no soap" Had to get another house, therefore the 12 hour delay and Sunday says a news commentator and here's what he meant: The Automobile outpaced War as a mass killer in February of this year when it's fatality toll exceeded for the first time in history the toll of the nation's military dead since 1775. That's the sorry angle but the other angle is darling. Americans can't get along without the automobile and we intend to keep it. But we must be more careful in it's use and keep it insured—just in case!

The Automobile Is Darling But Dangerous
