With Mack

Usually when we think of a precinct or county Democratic convention we think of a bull fight or wrestling match, with no holds barred. Every fellow who can make a speech does so whether he knows what he is talking about or not. We have seen arguments end with blows, and on one or two occasions knives and guns were brought into action.

You know some people take their politics rather seriously. They act as though the selection of some favorite son might be a life or death proposition, when as a matter of fact, the favorite son couldn't give his pugilistic condenser a fresh chew of "star navy" even if he had it to spare.

We learned a long time ago that politics and politicians are very unstable and non-appreciative. Most of them forget all about you after they are elected, and if they are defeated they blame you for falling down on the job. All of this is bad, and the best mother's son of them is none too good. So when you begin tearing your shirt for some guy just remember that all is fair in love, war and politics, and that within 10 days after the election you will be a forgotten man, and that regardless of how you voted or who is elected, it won't make much difference, anyway.

The sun will continue to shine, taxes won't be any lower, and if your man was not successful you will not have to do any explaining when he comes up for an investigation or white-washing.

Unless we change our mind, and we probably will not, we shall plug for Eisenhower, even though he is not our very first choice. We like him, though he never heard of us and likely never will. We will support him because we think he can poll more votes than any other living man or dead ghost. Also we feel that he could not get us in a worse condition than we are now in (thanks to Harry). He reminds us of the cat and it's nine lives. He is not entirely or permanently dead—not yet. He may flare up and be a kind of menace again, never can tell. That's why we are for Ike—Ike can handle him, and we doubt if any other proposed presidential candidate can. When he waves that magic wand, votes come flying. They said he couldn't four years ago, but he did. He will bear watching, even at this late date.

We think Henry Zweifel, Texas Republican party "big shot" has fired his last political bullet. He did some talking the other day when he should have been listening, to our way of thinking. Jack Porter a younger man and formerly a Democrat, will likely inherit the post. He is likable and progressive, and doesn't feel that the national committee from Texas should limit his activities to "postoffice" patronage.

Yes sir, we are learning things everyday. Politics makes strange bed-fellows. So far as party is concerned, either of the major parties can lead the country. One is about as good or bad as the other. It will take a man who is bigger than the two parties combined to do anything worthwhile. Anybody may make a "Rock-ribbed Republican" or a "Yellow dog Democrat," but it is going to take a real He-man who has principle instead of promises, to make a President who can and will serve 156 million good American patriots, instead of some political party. Find that man and our troubles will cease.

He appealed to the business men of Eastland to support the WTCC with their time and money. The immediate objectives are:

1. A state-wide conference on surface water problems.
2. Continuation of a campaign to obtain a U. S.—Mexico labor agreement to meet the needs of West Texas farmers and ranchers.
3. A long-range national advertising campaign to sell industrial assets and tourist attractions.
4. An exhaustive survey of Texas' highway problems.
5. Active cooperation with all forces devoted to soil conservation.

Carbon Soldier Gets Citation

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN KOREA—Pfc. Floyd J. Rice, Star Route, Carbon, recently was awarded the Meritorious Unit Emblem while serving with the 121st Evacuation Hospital in Korea.

The hospital was cited for its "unmatched efficiency" in providing medical and surgical service for UN troops since September 1950.

Sam Robinson Of Eastland Very Ill In Ranger Hospital

Sam Robinson of Eastland, the father of Homer Robinson of Ranger, is in a very critical condition in the Ranger General Hospital.

It was stated that Mr. Robinson went to the hospital Sunday evening after a heart attack at about 6:00. A relative said that his condition was very bad, and that he is not expected to pull through.

Gaston Foote, Guest Speaker For Rotarians

Sixty-seven Rotarians, their wives and visitors heard Dr. Gaston Foote, pastor of First Methodist Church, Fort Worth, when he delivered an address at the Luncheon Monday.

Attendance was good and immediately following the luncheon Mrs. Virgil Seaberry sang two special numbers. She was accompanied by Mrs. Donald Kinnaird. This portion of the program was well received by an appreciative audience.

Dr. Foote, while new on his present job, is a native of Texas. In fact he said the address Monday was the closest to the town of his birth he had ever made.

He proved to be a real entertainer as well as an instructor, and at times his wit brought great laughter. Introduced by I. C. Heck, as a Methodist minister, the group settled down for a sermon. They got the sermon, alright, but a very palatable form.

The speaker began by complimenting the Rotary Club. Said he was probably not good enough to be a Rotarian, not tough enough to be a Lion as he settled on being a fairly good Kiwanian.

He urged people to do things, to advance and to climb. If you live right you'll likely conquer in the end, was the gist of the theme. He urged charity, brotherly love and co-operation. A man with $369 may be a lot happier than a millionaire—Selfishness can and does cause many heartbreaks.

Put something into life and you expect a proper recompense. His points were pungent, but well received.

Pickens Urges Citizens To Aid WTCC Campaign

W. B. Pickens, Eastland's director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, today announced the immediate objectives of that organization.

Mr. Pickens said the WTCC's 1952 program of activities and services were developed from ideas and suggestions of individual members throughout its 32-county territory. He described it as "a grass roots expression of what the people want their regional chamber of commerce to do."

He appealed to the business men of Eastland to support the WTCC with their time and money.

The immediate objectives are:

1. A state-wide conference on surface water problems.
2. Continuation of a campaign to obtain a U. S.—Mexico labor agreement to meet the needs of West Texas farmers and ranchers.
3. A long-range national advertising campaign to sell industrial assets and tourist attractions.
4. An exhaustive survey of Texas' highway problems.
5. Active cooperation with all forces devoted to soil conservation.

Uninstructed Delegations Rule In County Precinct Conventions

Eastland County Precinct Conventions, from which reports have been received, show the majority of the delegations to the County Democratic Convention Tuesday afternoon were uninstructed.

Two conventions in Eastland seemed to be in complete harmony with Shivers' uninstructed policy. Both Eastland precincts asked for and sent delegates to the county who will urge that Eastland County delegates to the state convention vote for an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

Pre. 1, Eastland named all present as delegates to the county meet. They will vote as a unit, and have seven votes. Pre. 2 named Jack Frost, V. S. Howard, W. B. Pickens, Grady Pipkin, H. H. Hardeman and Mrs. Bula Butler as delegates to the county meeting. They have 6 votes.

Republicans named Herb Tanner as delegate to the county meet from Pre. 1. A. H. Johnson will be delegate from Pre. 2. K. B. Tanner is county chairman.

Ranger's two conventions, held at the City Hall and Young School, both voted for uninstructed delegations to the county.

Precinct number three at the City Hall in Ranger was attended by seventeen voters, Lee Dockery was elected permanent chairman and Richard Cox secretary. Henry Davenport, Lloyd Bruce, E. H. Mills, Morris Newnham, Vern Peterson, and Lee Dockery were elected as county Democratic Convention delegates. Alternates at this precinct were Charles Bobo, Price Crawley, Mrs. Morris Newnham, G. W. Jones, Don Norris, and Mrs. P. J. O'Donnell.

Delegates from this precinct will go completely uninstructed and will not vote under the unit rule, nor are they pledged to support any type delegation to the state convention. A resolution was introduced at the meeting that would have sent them as supporting uninstructed delegation to the state and national conventions, but was tabled and not voted on. This resolution also included the unit rule vote clause, which was also defeated.

Ranger's other Democrats, meeting at Young School, elected Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, Pat Thomas, L. R. Pearson, and D. D. Pickrell, delegates uninstructed, but with a resolution passed that they vote under the unit rule and support an animal for improvement of his flock.

Selling at this type show does not always follow the decision of the judge's, as the breeders buy the animal most suited to their needs. Top price paid for any animal at the show was $195, and it was fifth in its class.

The sheep in all classes were selling at about half price of the last year's sale, due to the wool market being low.

Wilkinson's four entries were his first in the show, although he has attended for a number of years. He said he didn't expect to win any prizes when he started down, but the quality of his sheep proved to be among the best in the show.

Ruby Lee Shop Moved To Main

The new location she feels, is more desirable in many ways, and more convenient for patrons, Mrs. Josephine Bristler has recently joined our staff, she said. Other operators are Margaret Cox and Marie Dry. You are invited to visit them in their new location.

Politics Reach County Level In Texas Today

Heifer Calves Be Awarded On Wednesday, 7th

At the Eastland County Livestock Show there were 41 Dairy Animals. Of this number 19 were a direct result of the work of the Eastland County Youth Dairy Development Committee. Says C. V. Whitaker, Assistant County Agricultural Agent.

This program was started by the Eastland County Dairy Association and then turned over to the Youth Dairy Development Committee, which is composed of 95 business men. Heifers are awarded to worthy boys and girls who apply for 1 and agree to care for her and return the first heifer calf to the Committee to be awarded to another boy or girl.

It is expected that more of the animals under this program will be at the Eastland County Dairy Day to be held at Fireman's Field in Eastland, Wednesday, May 7.

Two Jersey heifer calves are to be returned to the Committee at the Dairy Show and will be awarded that day to Kitty Ingram, Scanton 4-H Club and Benny Warren, Eastland F.F.A. Chapter.

Exploding Boat Motor Kills Former Rangerite

Funeral services will be held Wednesday in the Hughes Funeral Home in Dallas for Travis Teary, a former resident of Ranger, who was killed on Grand Prairie Lake when a boat motor exploded, Sunday at about 12:00 p.m.

Also injured Sunday about noon was one of Teary's sons, Robert, 8, when the 22 horsepower Johnson motor exploded. Another youngster, a friend of the family, in the boat was uninjured.

Teary was employed in a wrecking yard on the old Highway 80 while he lived in Ranger. His wife, the former Faustine Franklin, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Franklin of Ranger.

No time has been set for the funeral pending arrival of relatives from distant places.

Survivors include his wife and four children. The three sons surviving are "Butch," 9, Robert 8, and Henry 4; the daughter is Patsy, 12 all of West Dallas.

36th Division Camp Date Set

Texas National Guard officials have announced that the 36th Division's annual two-week field training encampment will begin June 1st at North Fort Hood, Texas.

A parade by the 36th Division on one 8th will be reviewed by high Army officials and state officers, the announcement says.

Water District Meeting Often On Bond Sales

The question has arisen in many minds since the passing of the bond issue for the Eastland County Water Supply District April 22, just what is being done to facilitate actual work on construction of the proposed reservoir.

Water Board President C. B. Pruet of Ranger stated the board is meeting continually with representatives of various bond buyers in an attempt to work out a sale of the bonds that would be most beneficial to the district.

Pruet stated that actual sale of the bonds of course hinges on the water contracts to be voted on in the near future, by the two cities of the district, and the outcome of the public hearing at Austin, May 2, of the district's application for water from the Leon River.

The president also mentioned one definite offer had been made, but that the board members felt that by more or less shopping around they could better protect the interest of the water district, and make a more agreeable arrangement than has been offered to date.

Actual start of construction has not been definitely set, but immediately upon completion of preliminary arrangements, preparations will be made to begin actual construction of the water supply facilities and dam.

Hospital Gifts

Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Williams, East of the City, have ordered from the Western Auto Supply Co., a Wizard Electric Refrigerator. This is a seven foot box, and the Williams' family designated especially that this one be placed in the Nursery of the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams have recently returned to Eastland and built a beautiful ranch type home just east of the city limits. Our appreciation to them.

Mrs. J. M. Dunn of Kilgore, "sister of the late Mrs. J. A. Cato" is visiting in Eastland this week and gave to the hospital a feather bed and four pillows. This feather bed and two others donated by Dr. Cato have been made into pillows by the Ranger Mattress factory, and all of them will be paid for by our own Dr. Cato.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stokes of the Leon Plant purchased a brand new woolen blanket and donated to the hospital.

Mrs. Minnie Ewart, Halbryan St. gave one half gallon Stanley wax.

Mrs. W. W. Carney, Halbryan St. gave one book green stamps.

Wittrop Floral Co. want to announce that the mother of the first baby born in the hospital will receive an orchid corsage and the infant a container of baby flowers.

The Eastland hospital is one of the finest projects anywhere and is becoming known all over the State. But even finer than the project itself, is the spirit of oneness, of cooperation and loyalty of our citizens. The desire to give something and have a part in this great movement is expressed by so many persons.

If you wish to donate something, call your hospital gift committee, Mrs. James Horton, Mrs. Theo Lamb and Mrs. Larry McGraw.

Cooper Not To Be Candidate

J. W. Cooper, who recently announced for the office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 1, has asked us to announce to the voters in this precinct, that he has withdrawn from the race. He wishes to thank his friends for anything they may have done on his behalf.

"Owing to circumstances over which I have no control, it will be impossible for me to continue in the race for Justice of the Peace," he said.

Some Flare-ups Likely In Both GOP, Democratic Camps

By United Press

Politics takes over just about all the news in Texas today, and Texans will be voting, then watching and waiting for results of county conventions, both Democratic and Republican, throughout the state.

Saturday's precinct conventions were the opening preliminaries, and today, with the second round coming a short 72 hours later, tempers have cooled very little. Its been a long time since Texans have taken so much interest in the smaller convention meetings and citizens are making up for lost time.

The issues are clearly drawn in both camps.

On the Republican side, it is a fight for delegates to the state convention by backers of Senator

Dairy Show Will Be Held Wed. 7th

The Eastland County Dairy Show will be held at Fireman's Field in Eastland on Wednesday, May 7, according to C. V. Whitaker, Assistant County Agent.

All animals must be in place by 10:00 a.m. At 10:15 a representative of the North Texas Artificial Breeding Farm of Dallas will make a short talk on "Artificial Insemination".

From 11:40 to 12:15 there will be a parade outdoors of all animals that the owners wish to lead.

At 1:30 Burleson will Officially Classify the animals at the show. When the Classification is over two Registered Jersey Heifers will be awarded by the Eastland County Youth Dairy Development Committee, George I. Lane, Chairman, to Kitty Ingram, Scanton 4-H Club and Benny Warren, Eastland F.F.A. Chapter.

Following the awards the results of the Judging Contest will be announced.

John Boan, 42, Dies In Ranger; TESCO Worker

John Boan, 42, 7212 N. Walnut street, Eastland, died at Ranger General Hospital at 3:00 a.m. today. He had been in the hospital for about one week, and was suffering complications from a previous operation.

Mr. Boan has been employed by the Texas Electric Service company for eleven years, and worked in the maintenance department at the Leon Plant.

His wife and two children survive, as well as other relatives whose names have been obtained so far. The body was brought to Eastland by Hamner Funeral Home, through funeral arrangements are pending.

A Cappella Choir Program

The Eastland High School A Cappella Choir under the direction of W. H. Stanley will present its annual spring concert May 6 in the high school auditorium. The public is invited and there will be no admission. The program will be as follows:

- Group I
"Tenebrae Factae Sunt, Dar Palestine.
- A great darkness fell over the earth when they crucified Jesus of Judea. About the ninth hour he cried aloud, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me. Into Thy hands I commend my spirit. And with bowed head, He gave up the spirit. O Sacred Head, J. S. Bach (1685-1750).
- * All in the April Evening, H. S. Robertson.
- O Jesus Grant me hope and comfort, Johann W. Franck (17th Century).

Robert A. Taft of Ohio and General Dwight D. Eisenhower. Eisenhower came out over Taft in Saturday's precincts but the senator's backers aren't taking it as a decisive defeat. They threaten bolts from conventions today and, in all probability, rump sessions will be held in many places by disgruntled minorities.

On the Democratic side, the issue is just as clearly drawn although it is a different kind of fight.

The battle here rages between the "Loyal Democrats" and the forces of Governor Allan Shivers, the conservative element. The "Loyalists—who were defeated overwhelmingly Saturday in their campaign for a pledged, instructed delegation to the state convention, will try again to sway the voters' sentiments. Shivers' group wants an uninstructed, unpledged group from Texas.

And the main story also has some interesting sidelights, particularly Duval County. The Texas Rangers will make sure that Duval residents vote the way they choose.

Colonel Homer P. Garrison, head of the Rangers, is sending at least one Ranger to Duval after District Judge Sam Reams of San Diego said he has reason to believe that residents are being intimidated.

Reams told Governor Allan Shivers that "the law (in the county) has been violated in connection with the conducting of elections.

Garrison says the Ranger or Rangers will report to the Duval County Grand Jury today or tomorrow.

To guard against trouble at today's county conventions in Houston, Police Chief L. D. Morrison has dispatched 106 officers to police Democratic and Republican camps.

Apparently, Morrison believes Democratic tempers are more likely to flare than Republicans. So he is sending 90 of the 106 to the Democratic convention. The remainder will attend the GOP meeting.

Among the four pupils of Mrs. F. L. Dragoo who won superior the grade of Kay Culbertson was omitted. She rated Superior, very high and played 10 pieces from memory. The entire group played one hundred and fourteen instead of the fourteen in Friday's paper, which was an error.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stephen, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Womack, and Mrs. Mary Bull of Anson, were in Mineral Wells Sunday, where the body of their aunt, Mrs. W. W. Hickman arrived for funeral services Tuesday.

AFTER a moment Alma called to Tommy again, under her breath. "I shouldn't ask you to come back!" she said. "You had to go! Oh darling! Of course you had to go!"

There were tears in her eyes as she turned away and walked slowly toward the living room. Joe did not even try to ignore the fact that she was crying. He patted her shoulder understandingly.

Joe knows, she thought, he's seen what's happened to Tommy. Joe knows that a man has to be reborn alone, without help. After a long moment of silence Joe cleared his throat and spoke gruffly.

"There's a gun in the glove compartment of my car," he said. "Hope Tommy finds it. Safe bet that the others are armed."

The early editions of the evening papers carried the story of the Mammoth Gold-buying Company murder. Joe went out and bought copies of them all, and he and Alma poured over them.

Her heart seemed to stop beating at the start of each brief paragraph. Suppose she had left some trace behind her in that office? Had she touched anything? She strained to remember... the door-knob of the private office? But she had been wearing gloves. Thank heaven, she had not removed them! The police had little to say at this stage of the investigation, beyond one significant statement. Apollo Brown was being sought for questioning.

"Looks like they believe it's a one-man job," Joe commented. So far there was nothing to hint that The House would be involved.

The hours crept by interminably and they dared not leave the apartment. As the tension of waiting grew they had less and less to say to each other but Alma knew the suspense would be intolerable without the quiet warmth of Joe Denton's presence. He radiates goodness and strength the way a clear fire sends out heat, she thought.

Joe had, silently, yet unmistakably reverted to their old, early relationship. Whether Tommy succeeded or failed in his mission—even if Tommy never came back, which was conceivable, Joe was letting her see that he knew Tommy had won; that the gallant gesture, the high-held head, the sudden courage of her husband had sealed her to him again, this time irrevocably.

Whatever Joe might continue to feel toward her in his secret heart, outwardly he would be nothing more than the devoted friend. Of them both! That was the glorious part of it—Tommy had won back Joe's respect as well as her own.

THE silence which fell between them were not uncomfortable, but they seemed endless. Once the telephone rang and they both sprang toward it. But it was only Old Victor Blanchard, worried because Alma had not come back to The House after the luncheon hour.

She reassured him, saying she had gone home because of a slight headache, and then Papa Victor rambled happily on for several minutes about his work on his successful design for the gold star pin.

"Only fancy, cherie," he told her excitedly, "I heard today that Mr. Muncie is going to name the pin after me! It is the first time The House has permitted any personal name to be connected with a product. What rejoicing I have! It is to be called 'The Victor!'"

"I am so proud and happy, dear Papa Victor!"

The old man's voice seemed to belong to another planet as she hung up. The whole tight little world that was Trumbull's was at that moment curiously remote—a well-ordered walled city in whose snug domain she had lived safely and securely ages ago.

At the moment it seemed as though she had never belonged to it, for her spirit was out there in the winter night, racing through unknown dark spaces with Tommy, anxiety blowing about her like a cold wind. At length Joe roused himself and got to his feet.

"It's late," he said. "Perhaps I ought to go."

"No," she said. "Don't go, please! I couldn't sleep anyway. Please stay!"

"Lie down on the sofa then. You must get some rest."

She protested, but at length she obeyed him. Her eyes closed irresistibly though she fought sleep off, and then after a period of deep oblivion, she heard the shrilling of the telephone.

THE sound of it reached down into her innermost being, dragging her back to consciousness with a pull like that of thin, silver fingers. This time it was Tommy, speaking on long distance.

"I'm speaking from the police station in Longtown, Pa.," he said. "Don't get upset, Jewels. I'm all right, but there's been a bad mess down here."

"Oh, Tommy! Are you really all right? What happened—did you catch them?" There was a slight pause at the other end as though Tommy was choosing his words carefully before answering.

"Yes, Bright and I caught them," he told her. "But there was a bad accident. Bright's car was wrecked with Mrs. Denton and Apollo Brown in it. She was killed instantly, and Brown died a few minutes later."

"And the jewels?" She was breathless with excitement and relief. "Did you get them?"

"Yes, in Mrs. Denton's suitcase. Including the Albert-Victoria Pin. The police have them now."

"And Bright—is he with you?"

Again the curious hesitation at Tommy's end.

"Yes, he's here," he said in a queer tone.

QUESTION: What size footing do I need for a one-story frame house on a concrete block foundation? What is a good coating to waterproof this foundation?

ANSWER: Extend the footing one-half the thickness of the foundation on each side, and make the depth one-half the width of the footing, for one-story houses. A coating of waterproof cement, pitch, tar, or roofing asphalt will seal a properly constructed concrete block foundation.

QUESTION: In trying to build some flower stands, I had to cut part of the lumber at various angles, such as 5, 12, 30 degrees. Is there any tool that will help determine these angles?

ANSWER: Cheapest tool is a protractor, a half-circle measuring tool with angles from 0 to 180 degrees marked along its curved surface. Adjustable miter saws are sometimes equipped with a measuring gauge up to 90 degrees, which is measurable on the base.

QUESTION: When the flame of my floor furnace shuts off, a sound like a slow-motion flying machine develops. Can you suggest a solution to such a problem?

ANSWER: This noise probably comes from loose joints in the jacket. One way to silence the furnace is to put asbestos washers in all bolt connections. If merely tightening them does not do the trick.

QUESTION: If I fill the space between ceiling joists with mineral fill insulation, do I need a vapor barrier? Could I use sawdust in place of the mineral fill for the purpose?

ANSWER: You need no vapor barrier where local insulation is applied. Sawdust is a good insulator but undesirable. In a hot attic, damp sawdust could catch fire spontaneously unless treated with fireproofing chemicals.

Americans Not Satisfied With Military Waste

WASHINGTON — While the American people are willing to pay for defense, they are beginning to grumble at evidence of waste and extravagance in military buying.

For a whole year, a sub-committee of the House Armed Services Committee has been scrutinizing military procurement. The subcommittee, headed by Representative Herbert (Dem., La.), emphasizes his belief solely through a cataloguing of items required.

Herbert explains his views in an article written for Washington Report, the Chamber's membership publication.

"There is too much confusion in military buying," says Herbert. "Much of it could be eliminated by cataloguing which would bring standardization. Why couldn't American service men, in whatever branch, walk in the same kind of shoes when off duty? Why couldn't they sleep under the same kind of blanket?"

"The Hoover Commission, looking at a federal budget half the size that it is now, proposed $2.5 billion cut in making military purchases. Our committee believes that $5 billion is a reasonable cut today. We know that a firm standardization program through cataloguing will bring a common language in military buying."

No Settlement In Sight For Oilmen Strike

DENVER, May 6 (UP)—Union officials in Denver, Colorado representing the 90,000 striking oil workers say a settlement reached in California does not forecast any nationwide pattern for ending the six-day-old walkout.

In Washington, the Wage Stabilization Board has entered the oil dispute, but the board's plans are no clear. The steel dispute is marking time this morning, waiting for a supreme court ruling on the case. But steel production is nearing normal again at the government-run mills.

Easy to Make It

A few camellias, leaves, green limes, and a bunch of white grapes are all you need to duplicate this formal flower arrangement. A classic example of how to obtain maximum effect from a few flowers, it is one of nearly fifty different designs in Good Housekeeping's 34-page book of flower arrangements in the May issue. The foliage here includes glossy camellia leaves and the swardlike spears of pandanus. The limes and grapes are wired to sticks and secured in a holder. The color effect is striking white against several shades of green.

Spring Flower Show Planned At Breckenridge

BRECKENRIDGE, (Spl.)—Several hundred garden club members from District 8 were expected to attend the annual Spring Flower Show to be held in Breckenridge Friday, May 9. Many members of the local club were expected to attend the district meeting.

The delegates will be from the 10 towns in District 8 that have garden clubs. They will compete for honors and awards in the show which is being held in the Stephens County town for the first time.

Hostesses will be the members of the three garden clubs in Breckenridge and one of the best shows ever held was promised for visitors.

An original theme, "From Drought to Plenty," has been selected for the show. The idea according to the chairman, is to show how Breckenridge and the area grew from a virtual wasteland to fertility. The story will be carried out in the flower arrangements.

Five divisions have been planned for the show. The first is artistic arrangements; the second, formal and informal table settings; the third, potted house plants; the fourth, horticulture and the fifth, Boy Scout and Girl Scout arrangements.

The show and meetings will be held from 2 u.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Breckenridge Women's Club.

Tickets for the show will sell for 50 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Mrs. Ray G. Chapman of Cisco is cochairman for the district.

Bachelor Tells Of His Success Remaining Single

Women will have to revise their approach if they expect to have any luck this leap year, in the opinion of one Hollywood bachelor.

Actor Keith Larsen says the ruses women in Hollywood, and elsewhere, use are so worn out even a grade-school Romeo could see through them.

For example, says Larsen, who has a beach home at Malibu, "cute little tricks 'just happen' to walk by in brief bathing suits. And they 'just happen' to run into me as I'm going for a swim. And this same girl 'just happens' to have two tickets to a premier, and would I like to go along?"

Larsen says another hazard is the woman who is having a "small gathering" at her apartment. She invites you. You arrive to find you're the only one there, besides her. The others "just happened" to cancel out at the last moment."

Bachelor Larsen says one of the most hazardous types of females is the one ready to share all her troubles with you, and wants to give the man career advice.

Larsen lists some other types to watch, and then concludes, "but it does little good. The fact is, all women are dangerous."

Washable Wardrobe New Fabrics Need Special Handling

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Finding out just how a fabric will act in the tub and on the ironing board is an important part of stretching the wardrobe dollar in this year of high living costs.

Among the fabrics least understood by the most women, rayon and acetate rank high. Few women realize that the two take a totally different handling and that when the two yarns are used in combination the procedure for acetate is the right one to use.

Rayon, for instance, can take heat without melting and therefore can be ironed with a hot iron.

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

Similarly, it can be safely washed in hot water.

But acetate, which women tend to confuse with rayon, will "fuse" if a hot iron descends upon it. This means that acetate gets a warm—never a hot—iron. And it follows that acetate must be handled with care in washing. Water must be lukewarm and the soap mild.

Acetate dries faster than rayon but it is also less absorbent, which means that rayon is somewhat more comfortable to wear. The two fabrics are equally and wholly moth-resistant and neither one deteriorates with age. Both retain their whiteness without need for bleaching.

Acetate is the fabric (left) used by Filcol for a dress with bolero jacket that slips off for dressy occasions. Trapunto work in an all-over pattern is used for surface interest.

Carolyn Schnurer uses rayon and acetate in combination (right) for this flowing crepe with sweeping, pleated skirt. Done in a light weight, it's a fashion rightly designed for wear through spring and into summer.

Predicted Population Level Not Evident, But Growth Beneficial

WASHINGTON—Contrary to most predictions in the 1930's that the United States population would level off and perhaps decline before many years, there now appears to be no population peak in sight.

That, says the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is of economic significance because a growing population should be accompanied by a dynamic economy. The Chamber makes its conclusions known in the latest issue of Economic Intelligence published by its Economic Research Department. It says:

"An economy with an increasing population must continue expanding. In terms of population no overall lack of investment demand is likely... There is no great danger of over-savings and underinvestment with resulting chronic unemployment.

The Chamber publication brings out many interesting facts about population. The population has doubled since 1900. Growth lagged in the 30's and early 40's, but by 1945 it had about regained pre-depression levels and since then has considerably exceeded those levels.

Three factors, says the Chamber, contributed to the recent population upsurge. Net immigration exceeded predictions, deaths fell below predictions and births far exceeded expected figures. While some decline in the rate of growth can be expected in the middle '50s, says the Chamber, the population should come close to 170 million by 1960, even with a rate of growth less than that of the preceding decade.

The Department of Agriculture is quoted by the Chamber as predicting that by 1957 the production of foods will have to be increased by as much as 20 per cent over 1950 levels. That would mean an additional 5.5 billion pounds of meats, an additional 30 billion pounds of milk and an added 15 billion eggs. The farmer should benefit accordingly.

Increased population, the Chamber points out, will require more homes, more home appliances, more schools, more roads and the like, all increasing production and lifting the level of economic activity.

Much of the economic thinking of the prewar period, the Chamber concludes, needs revision and readaptation for changes which will be brought by population growth in the years ahead.

One Worker In 10 Helps Distribute U. S. Output

It takes a total of 15 million persons to distribute and service America's vast production. That is one person out of ten in the United States. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States reports the ratio is the highest in the world and observes that it is an accompaniment of national prosperity.

CISCO, (Spl.)—One Cisco man was hospitalized and four other Cisco people received slight injuries in an automobile accident which occurred about noon Saturday at the intersection of West 16th St. and Avenue F.

In the hospital Saturday afternoon for observation and checks was Henry Davis of 104 West 16th. It was thought that his injuries were not serious. A child belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Davis was in the car with the father and received slight injuries. In the other car were Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Reddie and small child. All three of the occupants received painful injuries and were treated by a local physician.

According to investigating officers the car driven by Davis was headed east on West 16th when it struck the car driven by Reddie, which was headed south on the avenue, slightly behind the right front wheel. Both cars suffered extensive damage.
