North Texas State College students in Denton, seem to be interested in men rather than parties. Geographically speaking, most of these students would normally be listed as Democrats, though not just any old kind of Democrat. They are showing signs of super-intelligence, and are no longer satisfied with some old "yellow dog" just so he calls himself a "Democrat."

Recently they took a cross-section poll of 210 students, and 177 indicated they would vote. Out of this number 121 of the 210 preferred Ike on the Republican ticket over a Democrat. Fifty-three were against the general, and 19 were undecided, most of them waiting to see who would get the Democratic nomination.

Asked who they would prefer as the Democratic nominee, Estes Kefauver got the nod from 102 of the 210. Richard Russell got 21, Adlai Stevenson, 20 and Harry Truman with 20 were Kefauver's closest competition.

For the Republican nominee, Ike carried a landslide of 152 out of the 210 students. Earl Johnson got 16, Taft 14 with MacArthur and Stassen trailing.

Ike is the popular man regardless of party affiliations.

Ben Hamner registered a complaint with us Saturday, and we feel he has a kick coming. Several months ago he dug a tank out on the farm, but it is dryer now than it was at the time he dug it. For this reason he says he would like to see just a little dampness, in order to prove the thing is a tank and not a dust bowl. He's not asking to get it up to the spillover, but just enough to settle the dirt on the bottom. We think he is modest with his request, and that his complaint is justified.

Seems as though we can have all kinds of weather in this country other than "wet" weather. One day it is so hot you can fry an egg on the sidewalk, and the next day it is so cold you have to protect your tomato plants from frost.

We get plenty clouds, and should get rain, but we don't. Maybe the weatherman is playing a trick on us, and still plans to send the rain just before it is too late. If this is true, we hope he keeps his mind on his business, for we are flirting with the deadline right now.

Candidates have been walking so far, but it would not surprise us if some of them began to run within the next few days. Yes, sir, the "baby kissing season" is now on, and they may be expected to do their duty when it comes to shelling the woods for votes.

Personally we can't see what a fellow wants an office for. It forces him to do stunts that he otherwise would not do. He must sometimes spend perfectly good money that his wife really needs, and even if he is successful and gets the office he will discover that it cost him plenty—maybe as much as the office is worth. Were it for life it would be different, but most candidates are forced to do it all over again come two years.

They can be thankful for one thing though, cigar prices have not greatly increased in price. And, too, some of us are thinking about quitting the weed. That will save them quite a little money. Most voters prefer coffee and that can still be bought for five cents a cup, if the seller is willing to use it as a "leader" and not try to make any profit. If he tries to make half a cent a cup he will lose all his coffee trade, and the fellow who makes a good cup is bound to lose at that price. The old time candidate could announce a meeting some where on the creek, buy a pound of coffee for a quarter (and we have bought Arbuckle for a dime a pound) make it in a bucket and satisfy a pretty good group of coffee drinking voters. But "them days are gone forever."

The State Water Commission has continued the Eastland County Water Supply District's application for water rights on the Leon River "day to day until such necessary lacking forms are completed and filed with the board."

Millard Parkhurst, district counsel, S. W. Freeze, engineer, C. B. Pruet, district president, and Beverly Dudley, Sr., and R. V. Galloway, who went as observers, appeared before the board at Austin yesterday.

Pressing business and other matters kept other members of the board from appearing at the hearing.

A South Texas irrigation district and G. A. Fox, a landowner, submitted by letter the only two objections that came before the hearing. Fox's objection was that he operate a gravel pit and had peacan trees on his property in the lake basin, the loss of which would deprive him of his means of making a living. The irrigation district objected on the district's taking water from the Leon in a conflicting period with the operation of the South Texas District.

C. B. Pruet said the "water board granted approval of the water rights, subject to completion of further forms." And that as soon as the forms were in a ruling would probably be given.

The local district's application was to take from the Leon River, 11,000 acre feet of water per annum for storage in the reservoir to be built. The water is intended for domestic and commercial use.

Next step before actual construction can start on the reservoir is voting of water contracts to the district by Eastland and Ranger, and then marketing of the bonds.

Commissioners Reject Walker's Settlement Plan

County Commissioners of Eastland county have voted unanimously that they opposed compromise or settlement with Horace Walker, former special tax collector in this county, who is charged by indictment with embezzling county tax funds.

The proposal, it was understood, carried with it an agreement to dismiss all criminal cases against Walker now pending in State Courts. Walker in turn would have paid 15 per cent of the total asked in a civil suit, of a little more than $107,000. A conference on the proposal was held in Eastland last Wednesday, with Walker's representatives, a member of the Attorney General's staff, District Attorney Joe Nusselt and special prosecutor, Frank Sparks, present, as well as members of the Commissioners Courts.

Commissioners stated that if Walker is guilty he should and would be prosecuted; if he is innocent he should be cleared of all charges and claims. In addition to the five cents sent to Breckenridge on charges of venue, Walker is under indictment here charging forgery and theft by false pretense.

Also growing out of his five-year tenure as special delinquent tax collector here, is a federal court indictment alleging use of mails to defraud, which on April 22, was passed by U. S. District court at Abilene, until the October term.

Crossroads Cemetery Will Be Worked Saturday

The Crossroads Cemetery will be worked May 17, a spokesman said.

Ancient Car Is Now On Display

You may see the New Buick and the "old one" too, if you will visit Muirhead Motor Sales Rooms in Eastland. They are both Buick's alright, but their resemblance is quite foreign. In fact the new Buick and old Buick are about as much alike as an ox-cart is a B-29.

The old slogan has been proven true, in a way—"When Better Cars are Built, Buick Will Build Them." Judge L. R. Pearson of Ranger brought the old family bus over, an old Buick Touring Car, that has been in his family for 42 years, and while it shows some signs of wear, it still operates under its own power.

The motor is in good shape, apparently the body and tires are not so hot. In fact the old "clincher type" tires are obsolete—have not been made for 20 years. It will make about 15 miles an hour on good road if you will use white gas—the very poorest grade. If you should fill it with ethyl gas it might explode—just wasn't made for that kind of stuff.

It has two kinds of light, one burns kerosene, the other type uses carbide. See it.

OPS Business Analyst Will Visit Eastland

A representative from the Fort Worth District Office of Price Stabilization will be at the Eastland Chamber of Commerce from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. May 19 to assist business men from a three-county area.

Businessmen from Eastland, Erath, and Palo Pinto counties can get the answers to their price control problems by conferring with the OPS business analyst who will be available at the price clinic. Each businessman will confer privately with the representative.

The meeting was arranged through cooperation of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

Pentagon Unhappy With Kojie Release Agreement

Quarterback Minstrels Ready For 2-Night Program; Plenty Fun For All Who Attend, Is Promise Made

It's Minstrel time in Eastland, folks!

To the majority of people in this territory, that statement is sufficient evidence that they will miss something if they don't mark May 15-16, on their social calendar. For the benefit of those who have come to these parts during the past year, we may have to elaborate on just what they may expect.

It is quite probable that you will be surprised to find your favorite local merchant or your next-door neighbor has talent you did not suspect. At any rate there are a dozen or more of these faithful fellows who have worked over a period of weeks, to put on a show they will be proud of, and one they think you will enjoy. You may prove your appreciation by your attendance, and patrons of former shows will tell you it will be well worth your time and money.

The fun and laughs are not all there is to the show. Ten minutes research will bring fourth a dozen or more worthy projects sponsored by the Quarterback Club Minstrels. Ask your school boy or girl about that.

It was necessary this year for the cast to make a decision whether to attempt the show or not, without the competent direction of Marene Johnson who has written and directed each of six shows in recent years. She has been unable to do the work this year, but the boys finally came to the conclusion that "the show must go on," and each member has worked to bring the show up to the standards of the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Taylor whipped up the script, and together with E. K. Henderson, club president and interlocutor for the show, and Marene Johnson as advisor and assisting with the music, have arranged an evening's entertainment to offer you on Thursday and Friday of this week. The minstrel will be held at 8:00 o'clock both evenings at the high school auditorium.

Costumes are being made and readied by Mrs. Jack Chamberlain, assisted by Meses. E. K. Henderson, Earl Francis, Jim Evtatt, J. O. DeBark and Milton Hunt.

Some of the highlights of the show will be solos by many of your old favorites. There is also dancing, and harmonica and mandolin music. A particularly special attraction will be the between-acts numbers by Stanley Webb and a group of guitar strumming youths. The country store is not to be forgotten, either, with the best of candy promised, and a stage full of valuable and useful prizes.

So whether it be Thursday or Friday, we'll be looking for you at the Minstrel. Bring your friends with you.

List of characters: E. K. Henderson, interlocutor; Wendell Seibert, Sassy Frass; Earl Francis, Smokey; Luther Black, Honk; Neil Hurt, Power Glide; Frank Hightower, Kilowatt; Marvin Nash Bones; James Reed Smokey; Allen Hunt, Short Stack; Lum Edwards, Sugar Lump; F. O. DeBark, Short Stuff; Wayne O. Jackson, Pepper.

Wayne Brock, Geronimo; Jim Evtatt, Rutch; Edd Hooker, Tabu; James Wright, Bucksot; Neil Day, Babe; Tom Lovelace, Transpor; Jim Watson, Beany; H. Basham, Short Circuit; John Liveley, Boogie; Milton Hunt, Flap Jack; Tommy Nicholas, Jazbo; Pete Rogers, January; Kenneth Mahan, Mollasses.

Musicians are Mrs. Andy Taylor, Miss Candy; Miss Sarita Seal Pinkie.

Local Red Cross Reports April Aid Activities

The Eastland County chapter of the American Red Cross expended a total of $486.27 during the month of April in Eastland County.

Forty families were given assistance during the month including twelve in Eastland; eleven in Ranger; nine in Cisco, five in Rising Star and three in Gorman.

The assistance rendered included; reporting and communication service, assistance with applications for government benefits, counseling in personal and family problems, referring applicants to other community sources of help, financial assistance.

The needs of the service men's families are given priority in the Red Cross Home Service program. For them as for veterans, Home Service provides specific services toward meeting problems of families and individual resulting from military service.

Firemen With Families Have Pleasant Hour

The Eastland Volunteer Fire Department entertained the families of the members with a social evening on the lawn at the city hall.

Home made ice cream and cake was served for refreshments.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Paek Kilbourn, Cooper Kilbourn, Collin Cagle, Otto F. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Foy True, Carl True, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cartwright and son, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Mert Muller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Louis, Mr. Jack Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jackson and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fiensy, Mr. H. E. Basham, Mr. Pearson Grimes, Mr. I. C. Heck, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Young, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Myrick, Mr. J. R. Woods, Mr. Jack Muirhead, Mr. Tom High, Mr. Leon Wright, Mr. Neal Seabourn, Mr. Sam Horring.

Dr. Ben H. Bradley, president, of that city is extending a cordial invitation to turkey growers of surrounding counties as well as others who are interested in the promotion of the turkey industry in the area to attend the meeting, which is expected to get started promptly on time.

Bradley pointed out that growers and others interested would be welcome to join the organization. Membership is growing rapidly and shows that a definite need has been felt for such an association, he said. It was pointed out that there are many organizations within the area for the purpose of promoting beef and dairy cattle but none for the promotion of turkeys and turkey raising, an expanding business in the area surrounding Eastland County.

Other officers include J. H. Tidwell, Desdemona, vice president; Mrs. J. H. Tidwell, treasurer and Miss Peuna Van Winkle, secretary, Gorman.

Purposes of the organization include: the dissemination of better turkey feeding, management and marketing practices, to encourage the public to eat more turkeys, to cooperatively purchase equipment and supplies when deemed feasible and practicable, to publicize the area as a producer of top quality turkeys, to better inform members on turkey markets, to encourage turkey growing among rural youth, to disseminate information on ways and methods of financing turkey growing as a means of securing additional farm and ranch income.

It is expected that a regular monthly meeting of the association will be held for the next several months.

Turkey Growers To Meet May 15 In Rising Star

Discussion and adoption of a proposed Constitution and By-Laws as well as other business will be in order at the monthly meeting of the Central Texas Turkey Growers Association in the Agricultural Building at Rising Star, Thursday night, May 15th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Douglas Choir At Rotary Club

Rotarians enjoyed a splendid luncheon and program Monday, when members of the Douglas School choir rendered several selections. Among this group were several good voices, who, with training, will develop into good singers.

It will be remembered that the Rotary Club sponsored a movement to get play ground equipment for the Douglas School, and the musical program Monday came as "thank you."

President Whittington stated that the hospital is nearing completion, and that work is going along nicely on the preliminary work for the new lake. No hitches so far, and it will not be long before the district will be ready to contract water customers.

Terry Barrett To Be Speaker Of Safety Program

Terry Barrett of the State Department of Public Safety will be the speaker on the Safety program of the Civic League and Garden Club's final program of the year, Wednesday at 3 p.m. at the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Samuel Butler, president, will preside over the business meeting and will hear final reports of the year from the officers and committees.

All members were urged to attend.

Colson Fired As Prison Chief; Dodd Reassigned; Probe Started

KOJIE ISLANDS, May 13 (UP)—A lot of loose ends remain in the case of the captured commander of Kojie islands.

And the Pentagon has called on the new Allied supreme commander in Korea to tie up some of them.

Army headquarters in Washington has asked General Mark Clark for a full report on the seizure of Brigadier-General Francis Dodd by Communist war prisoners last week.

An army spokesman in Washington says Clark already has asked Eighth Army headquarters for the report, and it soon will be on its way to Washington.

What the Pentagon is disturbed about is the agreement reached between Brigadier-General Charles Colson and the Communist for Dodd's release. A Defense Department spokesman says it contained "several erroneous impressions."

For example, under the terms of the agreement, the Allies promised to stop forced screening of war prisoners and the re-arming of certain captives on Kojie.

The Defense Department says there was no forced screening to stop, and as far as re-arming prisoners is concerned, the department apparently has no "knowledge of it."

In Tokyo, Clark's headquarters refused to comment on the Pentagon Denial that Communist prisoners were forcibly screened.

General Colson, himself, has been fired from his short-lived command of the Kojie Prison, which began shortly after Dodd was captured. Colson has been returned to his former post as chief of staff to the First Corps on the Korean fighting front.

General Dodd, also has been reassigned to a new post at Eighth Army headquarters and a third officer, Brigadier-General Haydon Boatner, has been put in charge of Kojie. Boatner is a former assistant commander of the Second Infantry Division and a native of New Orleans.

Omar Burkett Announces For Legislature

To the citizens of Eastland, Callahan and Shackelford Counties:

I herewith announce for State Representative, District 76, a new district comprised of the above named counties and does not, at this time have a Representative.

It was my pleasure to represent Eastland and Callahan counties in the 46th, 47th and 48th sessions of the Legislature. This experience gives me a knowledge of the rules that govern the procedure in the House and the Parliamentary steps necessary to enact into law, or prevent bad Legislation to become law. I served on many of the most important Committees, especially the committee appointed by the Speaker of the House to investigate and make recommendations to the succeeding Legislature having to do with the re-organization of our State Eleemosynary Institutions. The recommendations

HOSPITAL PERSONALITIES

By Mrs. Samuel Butler

It would take a "special edition" to enumerate in detail all the actual work he has done and supervised the past eight months building the Eastland Memorial hospital. When he had a job outline for the evening's work and there were not enough workers present, he would send word to his veteran students that he needed them. No sooner said than they arrived by the dozens to help. Whether it was concrete mixing or fire drudgery, they had their Perry's attitude, that which is necessary does not offend me.

The following veterans from the Eastland County Vocational school have given many hours of volunteer service to the Eastland Memorial hospital: Orval D. Phillips, Jesse V. Cox, Edwin W. Carlisle, Mickey Campbell, George T. Guess, C. B. Harris, Charlie T. Harp, Arthur R. Lindsey, Edwin Marchlewski, Eugene Millican, Elbridge Allgood, Sidney McCullough, Paul Rowch, Roy L. Tackett, John T. Wilson, Herman L. Walters, Martin H. Ziehr, H. D. Martin. The citizens of Eastland salute each and every veteran for this splendid service.

M. H. Perry, you will find other projects to conquer in life, but you will never do a more noble service to humanity than you and the volunteer workers have done for Eastland. Please accept our gratitude. We cannot thank you enough.

God Bless you, "Perry."

Cave-In Injures Ranger Rancher

Leslie Hagaman was injured Saturday afternoon about 3:30, when a creek bank in Wild's Canyon gave way beneath his horse. The horse fell forward and Mr. Hagaman fell the opposite direction, injuring his back.

His son, John, was riding with him at the time of the accident. John summoned aid, but due to the rough terrain, some 2 1/2 hours was required to carry Hagaman out of the canyon. The ambulance was unable to proceed to the scene of the accident. John also pulled his father out of the water in which he fell immediately after the accident.

The West Texas Clinic reported Hagaman's condition as improved and satisfactory. He is suffering immense pain from the sprains and injuries sustained.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Ed French have accepted positions with the First Baptist Church, Ballinger, as educational director and educational secretary, respectively. Mr. French plans to attend Hardin-Simmons University this summer, and will enter the Seminary at Fort Worth in September. They have many friends in Eastland who regret to lose them here, but who wish for the best in their new undertakings.

Little Julie Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Frost, underwent an appendectomy Thursday in a Ranger hospital. She is reported to be improving and will probably return to her home today.

The Low-Down On Presbyopia

The unregulated sale of ready-made, uncorrected spectacles in 44 states is based on one of the most curious misunderstandings about the human eye that are likely to be found anywhere, says the Better Vision Institute. Most people, as they get along in years, begin to have trouble in seeing to read or to do other close work.

This condition, known as "presbyopia", is due to the gradual hardening of the crystalline lens in the eye, making it impossible to focus on near objects.

The treatment of presbyopia, taken by itself, is very simple. It consists in wearing magnifying, convex spherical lenses, known as reading glasses. So it is argued that anyone having presbyopia may prescribe his own glasses, merely by trying them on at a drug or dime store. If he can see to read with them, the glasses are believed to be "okay."

Ophthalmic specialists point out that this argument is as full of holes as a Swiss cheese. No one can know, without an eyesight examination, whether he has presbyopia or some other seeing trouble which reading glasses are powerless to correct. With or without presbyopia, vision may be impaired by myopia, hyperopia, astigmatism, anisometropia, and other errors of refraction plus a whole catalog of outright eye diseases.

Lest We Forget

As you travel along life's pathway, Whether the going is good or bad, You should write back to the home folks. They may be lonesome and very sad. If you are wed you have duties To your children, husband, or wife. Wed or single, you should remember To cherish the ones who gave you life.

"Honor thy father and thy mother, That thy days may be long upon the land". These words are from the fifth commandments, And they are easy to understand.

They gave you their best years of love and care, Of which there is no measure. Send them a loving message now and then, It will give them lots of pleasure.

Sometimes the ever-loving mother, Who may be tired, and full of pain, Though she has no answer to her letter, Will sit down and write again.

And when you read that letter, In it their age may not be told, You never guess from its contents, That Mother and Dad are getting old.

You may think, if you have troubles, To write them will never do. They may write something that will help you, For they had their troubles, too.

They don't want you to neglect your business. Write them a card, and sign your name. Then if you have no time for letters, That will make them happy, just the same.

I have seen the disappointment on some faces, And the tear-filled eyes of some Who wait for news of their children In the letters that never come.

There is a sad day coming in the future. You'll get a message that is hard to bear. When you can no longer write them letters, When they are no longer there.

When you look on their dear faces, As you stand beside the bier, If you've been careless about those letters, You'll shed many a sorrowful tear.

As you continue on life's journey, When they no longer roam, You'll be glad you wrote those letters To the dear old folks at home. —Bessie Ware Greenwood, Miss.

Economy In Government Present Need

COLORADO CITY, Tex., Government must come to its senses about the value of a dollar, spending only the dollars it must spend and making those dollars do a better job, Mr. H. Kelley, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, declared today.

"We need to call a halt," he said, "to the whole philosophy that has taken hold of our federal government—spending on things that are not vital to our defense, but that merely reflect the new willingness of our politicians to surrender to socialism in return for votes." He warned that Administration officials are using the present emergency as a means of advancing programs on the grounds that they are essential to the nation's welfare. The great size of present military outlays, moreover, were drawing attention away from the billions being spent in non-essential fields, he added.

Kelley asserted that in the five years between V-J Day and the outbreak of Korean hostilities, while America's armed strength was rapidly declining, the federal government still spent more than $200 billion; a sum greater than had been spent in the first 40 years of this century. "As a nation rebuilds its military strength," he said, "it is imperative that the government be called to account for reckless spending policies."

In this regard, he concluded that the American people were now far more mindful of socialism at home than of the dangers of militarism abroad. "They are feeling the pinch of our terrific taxes," he said, "and not only by rearmament but also by the inroads of British-style socialism. They are tired of the government taking away their right to decide how their money should be spent. They are feeling the load of inflation. They know we are in for a period of hard work, had saving, hard sacrifice, and they want to see Washington spenders take a share of it."

NTSC String Clinic Will Be June 8th

DENTON, Tex., May—Hundreds of Texas junior and senior high school musicians are expected to attend the annual summer string clinic at North Texas State College from June 8 through June 20.

Under the sponsorship of the NTSC School of Music and under the direction of Russell Miller of the music faculty, violin, viola, cello and string bass players will participate in the 13-day clinic. Individual instruction will be given. Daily sections and orchestra rehearsals will be held and ensemble participation at graded levels will be conducted. The clinic will be concluded with a concert with the NTSC Symphony Orchestra and the choral clinic chorus. During the young musicians' stay on the campus, they will be housed in NTSC dormitories and will be afforded college recreational opportunities.

Radioactive Iodine Helps Heart Cases

GALVESTON, — Radioactive iodine is proving a successful treatment in many "hopeless" heart ailments, a University of Texas scientist says. The iodine depresses the thyroid gland, decreasing oxygen consumption throughout the body, and consequently, easing demands on a heart that can't pump normally, Dr. Arthur Ruskin, associate professor of internal medicine at the Medical Branch, explains.

Painstaking research is gradually sharpening the effectiveness of other scientific weapons against heart disease, he says in a report on recent advances in cardiac drugs. Chemical derivatives of drugs long used in heart failure cases are bringing more exact relief in minutes instead of hours, he comments. New non-poisonous mercurial drugs now treat heart failure, where previously the ill effects had to be tolerated, and a new drug, khellin, alleviates pain in coronary diseases, he added.

Mr and Mrs Irwin W Coleman of Jackson, Miss were the over night guests here in the home of his sister, Mrs Don Parker and Mr. Parker.

Moonlight And Roses Theme Carried Out At Annual Junior-Senior Banquet

One hundred and thirty guests attended the annual Junior-Senior banquet, which was held May 11 in the roof garden of the Connelley Hotel.

Theme of the banquet was Moonlight and Roses. The setting was a realistic garden, within a white picketed fence. The entrance was a trellis, with a picked gate completely covered with pink roses and green foliage. Trellises formed a back ground for the speakers table and also for the register table and were repeated on each side of the garden. Wrought iron furniture and a bird's bath helped lend a realistic air to the setting.

Sparkling stars twinkled in the sky, and the scene was lighted with Japanese lanterns interspersed with large decorative tissue balls.

The attractive tables were laid with white linen and decorated and lighter with hurricane lamps interspersed with fern and pink roses. Dainty programs hand painted with garlands of pink roses marked the places.

Don Roff served as toastmaster and also welcomed the guests. W. G. Womack, superintendent of the Eastland schools, gave the invocation. Response was given by Rodney Stephen and W. H. Stanley, principle, was the speaker for the evening and was followed by a program of music and songs carrying out the program theme.

Rhea Hurt gave the class prophesy and Gene Griffin and Herby Weaver read the Class' will.

Others on the program were Jana Weaver, Gay Poe, Derrell Black, Dolores Warden, Joe Ernst, Jim Ed Willman, Mary Ann Henderson, Marilyn Morgan, Sally Cooper, John Whatley, Mrs. J. E. French.

Mrs. Peter Woloszyn, class sponsor, directed and helped with the preparations assisted by members of the class and their mothers. Crowell and Hanna Lumber Companies furnished the trellis and Willy Willys Furniture Mart furnished part of the background furniture.

Young Drivers Pay High Rates For Insurance

Auto insurance companies charge 60 per cent more to insure young drivers against accidents, and some won't insure a driver under 25 at all. This is because harsh statistics show that the average young driver is 60 per cent more likely to have an accident than the older driver, and 67 to 100 per cent more likely to have an accident in which somebody is killed, says the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Youthful cockiness, publicized leniency in treatment of young offenders, and slacker parents were given major shares of blame by traffic safety authorities interviewed for the bureau's report.

As example of resulting higher insurance rates, the report points out that standard insurance coverage for the minimum $5,000-$10,000 personal injury & $5,000 property damage costs $30 a year in Little Rock, Ark., for a pleasure car driven only by people over 25; this rate jumps to $49 if a driver under 25 is allowed to take the wheel. For the same coverage in Miami, Fla., the rate jumps from $46 where only persons over 25 drive the pleasure car, to $74 if a younger driver has access to its wheel. In San Francisco the corresponding rate hike is from $54 to $87. In Chicago, the rate for older drivers is $58, against $95 for younger motorists. In New York City the rate is $115 for the minimum coverage for over-25 motorists, and $189 if the car is handled by a younger driver.

While these rates are based on the insurance companies' own experience, says the report, previously published accident studies conducted in Connecticut, Nebraska and Wisconsin have shown from 60 to 85 per cent more accidents per thousand drivers under 25 than among the group 25 and over, and from 67 to 100 per cent more fatal accidents among the younger drivers.

A recent breakdown of Minnesota traffic accident figures indicates that excessive speed is the main reason for the higher accident frequency among younger drivers, with failure to yield right-of-way as a close second in destructiveness, says the bureau. ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

Senior's Autobiography Tea Is Well Attended And Appreciated

The senior class of 1952 held an open house Saturday and Sunday afternoons, displaying the autobiographies in the home of Miss Verna Johnson, English teacher and sponsor of the project.

Members of the class alternated in greeting the guests, presiding over the register and serving the iced punch and fancy cookies from the refreshment table, which was attractive in its yellow linen cloth, and gay decorations of yellow and white daisies in a brass container.

Class members were also acting as hostesses in displaying the handsome books, which contained the life story of each of the seniors, complete with pictures of their families and of the more important people and places of interest each had visited.

Each year, and this project has been carried on for many years and the autobiographies become more professional looking each year. Many cute and original ideas and names for the books are carried out and if any of the parents and friends of the senior class failed to see the autobiographies of the class of 1952 they have really missed a lot, according to the report of those who attended.

that we made have largely been followed in re-organizing the entire system.

The records will disclose that I as a member of the Appropriations Committee stood for strict economy, always opposing wasteful spending of the people's tax money. In every way I could, I helped in the passage of conservation laws, pertaining to soil and water.

I shall be my purpose, if elected, to work for constructive Legislation for all the people I shall favor the outright repeal of the "much discussed Car inspection law," as I am opposed to such type legislation that can be "turned on and off like a water faucet" at the will or whim of the Law Enforcement Agency. It is indeed a very bad precedent.

The Driver's Responsibility Act has many bad features and should be either amended if not repealed. I shall oppose the proposal to issue the Five Million Dollar Road Bonds.

I shall oppose the movement proposing to take from the Counties their percentage, as now allocated, of Car License Fees and return same back to the State.

I shall oppose the re-allocation of the 1-2 cent gasoline for any other purpose than which it now goes, which is to the Counties for the construction of Rural Roads.

I shall oppose any new tax levies, increase of present levies or the going into our tax structure for any purpose, proposing re-adjustment of same.

Gratefully and Sincerely Yours,
Omar Burkett.

Ridgways Will Move To Paris On June First

June 1st has been set as moving day for the Matthew Ridgways. And the talk around Tokyo is that pretty Penny Ridgway will be a popular addition to Paris social life.

Mrs. Ridgway, who has been the military first lady of the Far East for one year, becomes Europe's number one military missus when her husband takes over General Eisenhower's post as supreme commander.

Mrs. Ridgway, the former Mary Anthony Long, is in her early 30's, sparkling and pretty. She wears big hats and fancy shoes and often dresses in black.

The "occupation women" of her social level believe Penny Ridgway will find the cosmopolitan atmosphere of Paris more to her liking than the strictly military and "small town" atmosphere of the American community in Japan.

Her only social handicap is one that should make her popular in beauty-loving France. A Tokyo woman, interviewed on her impressions of Mrs. Ridgway, was frank to say that her Spanish-type beauty plus her position had created an active envy among women of her circle.

Mrs. Ridgway is the general's third wife. They have a son three years old.
