While we skipped his name in Sunday's paper, we know now that Doc Alford was one of the most faithful of the hospital workers. If he will forgive us this one time, we'll promise to not overlook him next time we build a hospital. Why they wouldn't have had that thing done yet, if it hadn't been for him, and that poor little baby born there Monday night, might have been born in Ranger. Now it will go down in history that he discovered America right here in Eastland.

On Friday of next week we will have an opportunity to tell our Water Board directors to go right ahead and sell all the water they can deliver to Eastland and Ranger. We are not voting any new taxes or increasing the present proposed indebtedness in any manner—just marketing our proposed water supply. And with the lake as large as this will be, we will have plenty water to sell, and big sales spell little taxes.

While speaking of water let's mention one or two things that go with water. For instance, with plenty industrial water, we may expect a number of small industries. They are almost sure to follow, yet it is not too early to begin probing around. Some properly written letters and good personal contacts will work wonders. Let's tell the manufacturing world what we have to offer. Let's tell them what they may save in rents, leases etc., if they locate here. We have everything conducive to good manufacturing other than water, and when that lake is full we will have an unlimited supply of that.

Harry has his dander up again, only this time he is kicking Congress in the pants rather than common tax payers. This is a relief, to the least, whether we like Harry or not. With Harry, Congress and the steel strike on the "card" most anything may happen. It is a "big gun" affair, even if we do have to pay for it, which we will. Taxes will continue to grow until Harry has everybody on the Federal payroll, and then one day he will discover that a government job and there is no body to pay taxes. Of course the pay roll will not be met, but everybody will quit, go home and go to work. Then Harry will begin drawing his pension. He will live in a government dole of some fifty thousand dollars a year, and what he can pick up on the side.

We suppose all is fair in love, war and politics. If it isn't Harry can adopt the old Kaiser's slogan of "might makes right" and hang on to it until he gets so old he would not enjoy it.

For the benefit of barbecue connoisseurs, and especially the group who planned to attend the Free barbecue honoring hospital workers, that barbecue is still coming up. It has been postponed, but not cancelled. So when you get the signal, be ready to go.

As a rule we don't kick about rain, but the shower Friday sure, knocked us out of a good feed. Instead of good barbecue Saturday night, we substituted a slice or two of second grade bologna. There is no comparison. If you think there is, you eat the bologna and we'll take the barbecue.

Novelty Music At Lions Club

With new officers in their stations the Lions Weekly luncheon proved to be an enjoyable occasion this week. Two visitors were introduced, after which the meeting was turned over to program chairman.

Lowell Snyder had the program Tuesday and he really brought in something new when he produced a Hammond Chord Organ, and rendered several selections. Later Jana Weaver was called, and though the instrument was new to her, she had it delivering first class music in a short time.

Our scout troop is at camp at this time and arrangements are being made to get the boys back home.

A Miracle Has Been Wrought

By Lynn Landrum
In The Dallas News

They are celebrating a miracle in Eastland, Texas, tonight, Saturday, June 7. There will be big speeches, big crowds and a big barbecue. But none of these are the miracle; they are merely the celebration. The miracle is that this comparatively small city has built a 22-bed hospital, with no bond issue, no government hand out and mighty little money of any kind. They did it with faith, faith and work from preacher and lawyer and housewife on down to bootblack.

The lot was provided some time ago. But the business-booster committee couldn't quite raise the money. Then the women's garden club dug up $1,000. Somehow the $1,000 in cash seemed to challenge Eastland. An automobile dealer sent 100 local telegrams—and the Eastland Hospital Volunteer Workers Association was organized.

Arbitrarily, the City of Eastland added $1 per month on every water bill. It was utterly illegal, as everybody knew. But to date not one customer has complained. This informal tax will continue three years, yielding $40,000. That is the reserve fund for running the new hospital, which receives its first patients next Monday. You see, Eastland thought this thing through.

There had to be an architect. There had to be a practical building contractor. So the association hired them. But the rest of the job was done for free—by Eastlanders who made up their minds to have that hospital.

Unpaid workers came. As many as forty came in a single night, they dug foundations, poured concrete, put up walls, the roof and the plumbing.

White, collar, overalls, teacher, doctor, merchant, real estate man—they worked in gangs, worked at night, worked on days off from their regular tasks, put in an odd hour or so where it would do the most good.

And when everybody's back was sore and his tongue, hanging out—along came the women bless their hearts, with hot coffee, sandwiches, cake or pie. Mexican señoritas

Hollis Herod Accepts Post With Majestic

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Herod of Breckenridge, have moved to Eastland where Mr. Herod will endeavor to help the Worleys make the Majestic theatre one of the finest theatres in Texas.

Mr. Herod is a native of Oklahoma, but has been in Texas long enough to get his feet on the ground. Until recently he was employed by the Worley's as manager of their Breckenridge theatre. When it was sold Mr. Herod had a number of opportunities to go to other points, but selected Eastland, because he liked and knew people in this area, and because he wanted to be affiliated with a really good show, which the Majestic really is.

The Herods have two children, a son in Korea and a daughter, 9, who resides here with them. They are Presbyterians and active in social affairs.

Small Twister Hits Eastland; Damage Is Done

One of Texas' smallest twisters struck Eastland on Friday morning of last week though damages to the extent of something like $3,500 was left in its trail.

It came from the west and passed directly over the city of Eastland, but made only one dip, and that was the northwest corner of the building occupied by Warren Motor Co. It dipped with such force, that it greatly damaged the roof, destroying one section, and did considerable damage to a new Studebaker car.

Very few residents of Eastland were aware of the fact that a storm was in progress, much less one of cyclonic proportions. Nearly half an inch of rain fell during the storm.

War veterans who were studying in a school nearby came in and did their stint, too. They didn't have to. But the Eastland spirit is catching. The thing got to be almost a religious revival.

The Negroes of Eastland have been in the big middle of the whole enterprise. Knowing that hospital accommodations are set aside for them, they have not held back at anything. Their school and their show netted over $90. And as they labored mightily alongside their white neighbors they got their names in the newspapers, of Eastland; just as did every other volunteer.

While the workers were working, the planners were watching the Southwest for bargains in first-class equipment. The equipment came in. Some of it, was donated by citizens and firms. Some of it came from the most surprising places. But today the hospital is complete, ready to go. Eastland has more than seen a miracle—it has wrought a miracle.

Notice Given To Student Seeking Draft Deferment

AUSTIN, June 11 (UP)—Some eight-thousand Texas college students were advised today that if they want to stay out of the army for another academic year to continue educational pursuits, they had better submit written requests for deferment to local draft boards as soon as possible.

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, State Selective Service director, announced yesterday that Texas draft boards have begun reconsidering eligibility of the eight-thousand college students for further deferment and, Wakefield warned today, "A board isn't required to hand out deferments or give consideration to them unless the individual makes a request."

Used Oil Sold $10 Gallon As Termit Killer

Houston police have told a 60-year-old, ex-convict the difference between termit exterminator and used motor oil.

The police are holding Caleb Andrew Clay on charges that he sold an elderly woman 65 gallons of used motor oil at $10 a gallon on the pretense that it was expensive termit exterminating liquid.

Mrs. Olive E. Harris said Clay contracted to treat her house for termites for $150 then sold her the "exterminating fluid" for $650. An investigation showed the fluid to be nothing more than used oil, probably picked up at a service station for nothing.

Paintings Now Hang In City's New Hospital

A group of fine gifts to Eastland Memorial Hospital are on display in the main corridor. Local artists painted landscapes depicting spring, autumn, and flower studies in colors beautifully harmonious with the interior colors of the hospital. These paintings represent many, many hours of inspired work in oils, water colors, and gesso with tempera.

"Spring by Florence Jessop is a beautiful, large landscape with wild flowers in bloom surrounded by oaks and mesquites. She has used gesso with tempera as her media. Mrs. Jessop is well known in Texas, art circle, belonging to the Texas Fine Arts Assoc. & Federal artists and having had many of her canvases on tour with state exhibits. She conducts painting classes in Eastland, Breckenridge, and Ranger. She has studied under John Gathia Browning of Brownwood and New York, and Xavier Gonzales.

"Blue Lady Mountain" and "Texas Landscape" are two oils paintings executed by Maude Underwood of Gorman, Texas and donated to the Eastland Hospital. Mrs. Underwood is also a member of the Texas Fine Arts Assoc. and has studied many years under numerous well-known Southwestern artists: Frederick Taupes, Xavier Gonzales, John Gathia Browning, and Schrinder.

Alma Quinn's oil painting, "Yellow Iris" is a beautiful study of yellow blossoms in a maroon bowl. The wide frame is stained in soft green to blend with the corridor walls. Mrs. Quinn has studied under John Gathia Browning and is now studying under Florence Jessop.

Mrs. Ed Allgood's painting is a large watercolor, beautifully rhythmic, depicting and October scene. She has titled it, "Rhythms of October." Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allgood and mother are newcomers to Eastland. All three have contributed generously to the hospital effort. At present Mrs. Allgood is studying under Mrs. Jessop.

All these paintings which are hanging in Eastland hospital are effectively framed in solid mahogany. Mrs. G. M. Harris dropped all other work to make these beautiful, hand-rubbed mahogany frames so that the paintings would be shown to advantage.

It is a fitting climax to a wonderful hospital built by citizens—that the adornment be paintings done by local artists.

S'Western Bell And Employees In Wage Fight

ST. LOUIS, June 11 (UP)—Officials of the CIO Communications Workers Union announced in St. Louis today that local leaders of the union will meet in district caucus this week. Purpose of the session is to map the next move in the dispute with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Frank P. Lonergan, assistant director of CWA's district six, says if the company persists in its stand strike action will "most certainly" be taken at the caucus. The district caucus will meet Friday and Saturday at Cleveland in conjunction with the international CWA convention. It could empower district officers to take a strike vote among its 55,000 employees in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, and part of Illinois.

Heat Slated To Remain In Texas

Texans continue to sweeter under 90 degree temperatures today and no break is seen by weathermen for at least the next day or two.

But showers continue to fall in South Texas as far south as Brownsville. And several South Texas and Gulf Coast cities report rain. San Antonio had more than one-third of an inch. Austin and Alice almost one-fourth, and Corpus Christi one-fifth of an inch. Showers were reported at Palacios, College Station, Victoria and Brownsville.

The high temperature reported in the state yesterday was 101 degrees at Presidio and the low maximum was 85 degrees at Galveston and Marfa.

The forecast today calls for partly cloudy skies over most of Texas with scattered showers in the south and north and in the South Plains region of West Texas.

Texas Crops In Good Condition

Texans' feed crops and pasture lands are in good shape as the result of recent rains followed by hot weather.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says wheat, corn and commercial vegetables are in excellent condition due to the rains.

However, agriculture men say cotton is now in need of dry weather and higher night temperatures would help the crop.

W. J. Van London, State highway engineer, made the announcement yesterday. The Houston Chamber of Commerce is planning ceremonies for the big day.

Tyler Boy May Lose Sight Of Hurt Left Eye

A 10-year-old Tyler boy may lose the sight of his left eye after he was accidentally shot in the face by his young cousin in Oklahoma City.

The victim is Bruce Johnson, the son of George E. Johnson, district manager for Sinclair Oil Company at Tyler. Bruce was visiting near Britton, Okla., at the home of his cousin, 12-year-old Robert Black when the accident occurred.

Robert told officers he fired his father's 410 gauge shotgun out a window and Bruce happened to be walking by. The charge struck the boy in the face. His condition was described as "good" in an Oklahoma City hospital.

A 40-year-old glass company employe has burned to death in Houston when fire swept through his trailer house.

When firemen extinguished the flames, they found the body of Sanders G. Moss inside. A passerby turned in the alarm when he saw flames shooting from the trailer's window.

GOP Delegations Visit Eisenhower

Most political candidates hit the campaign trail ...
 But today, the campaign trail is coming to a candidate, Dwight Eisenhower.

BY THE CARTON

All but three of the 24-man Maryland GOP delegation will talk to Eisenhower at New York. Several of the visitors are backers of Senator Robert Taft, although the entire state is pledged to Gov. Theodore McKeldin on the first ballot.

But on Friday, Eisenhower will do the moving. He will meet the 70-vote Pennsylvania delegation at his 189-acre farm near Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Eisenhower will go to Texas June 21st to talk to the Eisenhower delegations from Texas and Louisiana. Both states have twin sets of delegates favoring both Eisenhower and Senator Taft. Eisenhower will meet the delegates at Dallas. And he will make a trip to Denison, his birthplace.

Elsewhere on the political scene: An Illinois Congressman has demanded that General MacArthur retire from the Army before making the keynote address at the GOP national convention. Democrat Melvin Price says that acceptance of the post was a clear violation of Army rules forbidding political activities for generals on active duty.

STRIKEOUT STORY—Bristol's Ron Necciai struck out 27 Welch, Va., batters in nine innings in the Class D Appalachian League to earn himself a "night" and promotion to a circuit of higher classification. This ran the incredible 19-year-old, six-foot five-inch Pittsburgh farm hand's total to 77 strikeouts in 32 innings. (NEA)

Sergeant Will Get "Ax" For Writing Letter

A sergeant has told off a general. Now, the Army will tell off the sergeant.

But 24-year-old Dean Chase of Salt Lake City says he's not sorry, even though he may be court-martialed for it.

Dean didn't like the way General Mark Clark handled the situation on Keje Island recently. So he wrote him a letter.

He told Clark that his action, in a trip to Denison, his birthplace.

Elsewhere on the political scene: An Illinois Congressman has demanded that General MacArthur retire from the Army before making the keynote address at the GOP national convention. Democrat Melvin Price says that acceptance of the post was a clear violation of Army rules forbidding political activities for generals on active duty.

repudiating the agreement to free Brigadier-General Francis Dodd, was "repugnant and disgraceful."

He added "your act is another example of the stupidity and demoralization of militaristic discipline."

Clark forwarded the letter to Sixth Army Headquarters in San Francisco. And the Sixth Army has ordered Sergeant Chase to face a court martial.

An Army spokesman said Chase could have written a polite letter of disagreement to Clark. But, he said, "you just don't talk to a superior officer in that way."

Chase, himself, says he's "astounded" by the court martial action. But he says he knew what he was doing and will face a possible dishonorable discharge and six months in jail without flogging.

Says the sergeant: "I feel the principles involved, those of free speech, outweigh any personal inconvenience."

FLASHBACK

Sometimes it's a fleeting moment, sometimes it's week months and years in the headline. Then they drop from sight.

For instance, what ever happened to Charles Farrell?

Silent screen star Farrell perhaps is best remembered for his co-starring roles with Janet Gaynor, particularly "Seventh Heaven." Little has been heard of him in recent years.

Where is Charles Farrell now? Starting next Monday, Farrell will star in a summer-long television series. He has a number of business interests on the west coast.

Flashback, a United Press spot-check on the people who made yesterday's headlines.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

Texas Stamp Collectors Will Convene

Texas stamp collectors will meet Friday in Houston for their 57th annual convention. An exhibition of some 150 frames of stamps, some of them very rare and valuable, will be displayed. Emil Christenson of Houston, president of the Texas Philatelic Association will be up for re-election.

Paternal Nicknames Have Undergone Many Changes

Fashions in fathers may remain pretty stable over the years; but not so the fashions in paternal nicknames.

A greeting card maker has looked up the lore on the names by which the heads of households have been variously known, handles ranging from "daddy dead" to the old man."

Mark Finch, spokesman for the Hallmark people, says Pa probably is the oldest of all American names of affection. George Washington is said to have used it. After he cut down the cherry tree, he's reputed to have said, "I cannot tell a lie, Pa."

Now that's as rare a name for father as Papa is. For Papa, a Victorian term of affection went out about 30 years ago.

Finch says today's father usually is "Daddy" to his children up to 10 or 12. After that teen age dignity alters it to Dad or Pop.

AUSTRALIA PLANS BASE TO EXPLOIT ANTARCTICA

By Eric Riel
United Press Staff Correspondent
SYDNEY, Australia (UP)—Australia plans to set up what it hopes will be the first permanent air base in Antarctica.

The base would reinforce Australia's claim on the biggest chunk of the great ice-bound continent. Australia's vast polar territory now covers an area almost twice as large as the whole of Australia itself.

The air-minded Australian foreign minister, Richard G. Casey, who likes to fly his own two-seater plane, is much interested in Australia's Antarctic territory.

Casey announced last October that the government proposed to ask Capt. P. G. Taylor to make the first flight from Australia to the Antarctic mainland. The flight was contemplated for last January, but had to be postponed.

Pacific Base Proposed
Taylor flew across the southern Pacific, from Australia to Chile, in 1951. He suggested an air base on Easter Island — about 2,000 miles west of Chile — where he landed his flying boat.

U. S. authorities are reported now to have started work on the proposed base. Its completion will be another step towards inauguration of a regular trans-Pacific service between South America and Australia.

Bronx Family Says Breaking Mirror Harmless

There's a Bronx family in New York who think women could get rid of a popular superstition if they'd just take out a pocket mirror from time to time, break it, and see what happens. Nothing, is the bet of the Ashenfarb brothers and their father.

The four men run a mirror works, and broken mirrors are to them like broken egg shells to Omelets, strictly an everyday necessity. Their factory is filled with scraps of the silver-backed glass.

The mirror makers agree it's about as hard to give up the superstition about seven years had luck

As it would be for a woman to give up mirrors.

Try adding one tablespoon of molasses to your regular recipe for butterscotch pie. The molasses will enrich both the flavor and color of the filling and it blends nicely with other ingredients for a real butterscotch flavor.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

The GOLD IN THEM THAR HILLS

THE RESERVES OF IRON ORE, THE OIL UNDER GROUND, THE TIMBER IN THE FORESTS, THE FERTILITY OF THE SOIL, THE POWER IN THE STREAMS—AMERICA HAS ALWAYS BEEN RICH IN NATURAL RESOURCES, BUT IT IS THE PEOPLE WHO HAVE CONVERTED THESE INTO NATIONAL WEALTH.

THE LASTING VALUE OF NATURAL RESOURCES DEPENDS ON HOW WELL THEY ARE USED AND CONSERVED, AND THIS IN TURN DEPENDS ON THE INVENTIVENESS, SKILLS AND THRIFT OF THE PEOPLE.

IT IS WHAT MEN AND MACHINES ADD TO OUR NATURAL RESOURCES THAT MAKES UP THE BIGGEST PORTION OF OUR NATIONAL WEALTH. THRIFT HAS A PART IN THIS TOO, BECAUSE THE MONEY PEOPLE PUT INTO LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS HELPS PROVIDE THE TOOLS OF PRODUCTION.
