Over in Abilene the other day they found a "lost man" in jail. He had been locked up on a DWI charge, and came very near to being the "forgotten man."

This reminds us of Eastland's need for rain. Surely the Lord has not forgotten us. As long as we had company we felt more or less secure. Everybody has had rain except Eastland and Abilene and we are dry in more ways than rain, joined the wets, and has cut our company. Eastland is alone, and we are dry in more ways than one. A good rain would change a lot of this—at least we could take a bath whether we had anything to drink or not. As the matter now stands we are just fresh out of everything.

We are very eloquent when boasting, but our record for praying shows to have been neglected. Prayers may not produce rain, but prayers indicate that we still have respect for the giver of all good things.

Maybe we are taking too much for granted. Possibly we are not as good looking as we have been thinking. It could be that we are just another bunch of human beings suffering from a great drought. But regardless of what else we may be, we are dry.

It is a good thing that Dives asked Father Abraham for that cup of water rather than Eastland, for if his application had been sent here we would have been forced to have said no.

But cheer up, if you can, for this is not the worst drought Texas ever had. We can remember when this section of the country was inhabited by Indians and long horned steers, and they seemed to thrive pretty well, despite the fact they had little or no rain.

Just west of here in the gyp area, people had a hard time keeping iron tires on their wagons during droughts. This gyp and alkali would come to the surface, and be ground into a very caustic like dust, that actually ate the iron off the wheels. After a good rain (and they usually had one or two good showers each generation) the gyp gave no trouble.

We have seen those old long horns sucking cactus plants for their water, so it is no wonder they were so tough you couldn't stick a fork in the gravy. Prairie dogs always settled in flats where water was moderately shallow—they had to or die.

The only thing that leads us to believe the "Old Rip" story is that in earlier days in this area it would go for years without rain, although horned toads seem to grow and thrive.

Once while driving through a certain West Texas city we heard a group of children crying. Some of these kids must have been 16 or 18 years old, but they were crying as though their hearts would break. Although it was raining at the time, there was no thought of a storm. Finally we asked an old man why they were crying, and he told us they were scared of the rain. Most of them, it seems, had never seen rain before, and they were not as fortunate as old Noah—they didn't have an ark.

If it rained tomorrow some of us would be belly-aching about wet weather and mud before the weekend.

Butler Fund Is Growing Daily

Money, material and labor are being offered each day to the Whitely Butler fund.

At this time we have $782.00 cash in the bank, and very likely enough free labor to build the house. Dealers have stated that they will sell all materials at cost. W. T. Young has agreed to sell plumbing supplies at cost, and will do the roughing in and installing free of charge.

All this adds up to ultimate success, so if you have money or materials, let us know. So far we have not had to do any begging—merely stated facts in the case, and let people be their own judge as to what they will do. "Nuff said. Who'll be next?"

Weather Gives Southwest Area Complete Variety Conditions

By United Press
The Southwest Thursday shook off effects of the words, weather wise: Tornadoes, squalls, drenching rain, near flood and temperatures ranging from freezing to 102 degrees.

Two baby tornadoes struck northeast of Texarkana, Ark., just across the Arkansas-Texas state line Wednesday.

An area of squally weather held on along the northwest coastline of the Gulf of Mexico, with winds up to 40 miles per hour and occasional gusts a little higher.

The catenkerous weather conditions producing drenching rains ranging up to 7.64 inches at Lake Charles, La., in a single 24-hour period.

Danger of a serious flood by the Big Blue river in Kansas was believed past, although heavy rainfall sent it above flood stage. U. S. Weather bureau forecasters said the rise stopped Thursday and only Blue Rapids, Kans., was likely to suffer. A crest of 22 feet, two over bankfull, was predicted for Blue Rapids.

And Southwest temperatures ranged from 29 degrees at Fraser, Colo., early today to sizzling 102-degree readings at Presidio, Col. and Laredo, Texas, deep in the Rio Grande Valley.

Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma got the worst of tempestuous weather conditions. It was fair to partly cloudy over Colorado and Wyoming today with no precipitation reported and temperatures rising. A new Mexico was cloudy to partly cloudy with scattered showers.

After a pleasant respite, the mercury climbed back toward the 100-degree mark in Colorado. The state's high was 99 at La Junta. New Mexico had a high of 97 at Socorro.

The two baby tornadoes swirled out of the sky over the Texarkana, Ark., municipal airport six miles northeast of the city. The first one came in an empty hangar. The second, about two hours later, didn't touch ground at Texarkana, but swirled off to Rondo, Ark., where several houses collapsed.

The storms hurled debris through the air, knocked out telephone service between Texarkana and Little Rock and ripped wires along railroad tracks into Texarkana, halting service temporarily.

U. S. Weather bureau forecasters said despite the squally weather along the Gulf Coast, aircraft and other reports indicated no sign of a hurricane yet. Small craft warnings remained in effect from Corpus Christi, Tex., to Pensacola, Fla., however.

Oklahoma's drought-breaking rainy spell appeared over with Wednesday night's thundershowers in the Panhandle. A general warm-up was expected Thursday.

Iran Premier Resigns Post

TEHRAN, Iran, July 17 (UP)—Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi announced the resignation of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh Thursday and ordered out police and army troops to keep order in his restless capital.

Tank and troops took up strategic positions throughout Tehran to prevent any unruly demonstrations against Mossadegh's deposition.

Informed sources said Mossadegh resigned Wednesday night after the Shah rejected the premier's demand for the right to take over the war minister's portfolio himself.

If the shah had yielded on this point and also agreed to Mossadegh's demand for unlimited economic and financial powers for six months, the premier would have become virtual dictator of Iran.

Ranger, Eastland, Strawn Boys Vie For Calves Tonight

Eleven area 4-H and FFA Club boys will scramble tonight for two registered Jersey heifers in the Ranger Jaycees Original West Texas Calf Rodeo arena and two of the numbers will correspond to numbers of the two heifers and the boys getting these pigs will be given the heifers.

Again Friday night the remaining nine boys will chase the greased pigs for three heifers.

Doctors Check Toll Of Seven Years On HST

WASHINGTON, July 17 (UP)—Medical specialists submitted President Truman to exhaustive tests Thursday to determine the physical toll of his seven grueling years in the White House.

The Chief Executive is 68 years old and just recovering from a virus infection. Before Mr. Truman could become embroiled in an active political summer, his physician, Maj. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, put the president in the Walter Reed Army medical center Wednesday for several days of scientific checks.

Mrs. Truman, obviously concerned over her husband's condition, was scheduled to arrive here by train from Independence, Mo., and visit the President immediately in his luxurious hospital suite.

White House staff members emphasized that it was strictly Mrs. Truman's idea to leave her sick mother in Missouri and rush to the President's bedside. They said she had not been "summoned" in any sense.

"She just won't feel right unless she came here to see if there's anything he needs and if there is anything she can do to make him feel better," a close friend of the family said.

Members of Mr. Truman's staff who saw him in the hospital Wednesday said the President spent most of the day "sitting around" his suite in a bathrobe, apparently in chipper spirits.

White House Press Secretary Joseph Short said that while the President developed a slight temperature during the afternoon Wednesday, there had been steady improvement in his condition since Monday morning. It was on Monday that Short first announced that Mr. Truman was suffering from "a mild virus infection." The president became ill Sunday.

New Polio Record Set Past 7 Days

By United Press
San Antonio reported its fourth resident poliomyelitis death this year Thursday, as a medical team from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis visited the hard-hit Rio Grande valley.

Haskell J. Martin, a 34-year-old veteran from San Antonio, died at Brooke Army hospital after he was admitted as a polio case July 14.

The State Health Department announced only Wednesday that new record of 296 cases of polio were reported in Texas last week.

It was the third all-time record number of cases for a seven-day period within four weeks. And it marked the fifth consecutive week in which more than 100 cases of the dread disease were diagnosed in Texas.

Seven counties, Harris, Dallas, Tarrant, Bexar, Jefferson, Stephens and El Paso reported more than half of last week's 296 total. Harris Houston had 56 cases.

Six more cases were diagnosed Wednesday at Houston to bring its total to 526 for the year, including 20 deaths.

Dr. Herbert W. Wagner of the national foundation medical staff and Dr. Louis Llewellyn, regional medical consultant, said at Harlingen they were visiting in the Rio Grande valley for observation purposes only.

In neighboring Oklahoma, meanwhile, 10 new polio cases were reported by the national foundation Wednesday, pushing the state total so far this year to 169, up 75 from the same date last year.

"Loyalist" Texas Demos Reject Compromise Talk

Royal Chorus From Boles Home, To Be At Church of Christ, Eastland, Friday Night; Public Is Invited

The Royal Chorus of Boles Orphan Home, Quinlan, Texas, will present a most interesting program at the Church of Christ, Eastland, Friday July 18th, beginning promptly at eight o'clock.

The Royal Chorus is accompanied by their counselors, Lewis W. Hogue, and Hugh A. Graham, gospel ministers. Mr. Graham has developed this chorus up to a point where it is said this group of musicians are second to none in the South. Their program for Friday night consists of well-known songs, and spiritual selections. The large group of singers, numbering thirty, travel in their own air-conditioned bus, which was donated to the home by the Central Texas and Bus Lines, of Waco.

Provisions have been made for seating an overflow audience. There is not a dull moment in this program from the start of the first to the last song. There can be no higher entertainment for all, and especially the young people of Eastland, than they will see Friday night. It borders almost on the miraculous to see and hear what this group of young boys and girls do. You will not want to miss this gala attraction.

The Church of Christ extends a very cordial invitation to all religious and non-religious groups to attend this inspiring program, promising you full satisfaction in an hour of wholesome entertainment. Programs similar to this one, if conducted in an opera house, would cost $1.50 per person to see. All this is FREE. No charge will be made. Just come, and see for yourselves what can be done with little children under proper supervision.

Bond Granted 2 Men Following Cisco Shooting

Otis Knox of Eastland and Adron Swindle of Cisco, have been released under bonds of $1,000 each, as the result of a shooting scrape on the 200 block on West 8th Street, in Cisco, Wednesday afternoon. Both are being held for grand jury investigation. The grand jury of the 91st District Court, for Eastland County, will meet Monday, July 21st.

Following investigation by officers, Knox returned to his home in Eastland, Swindle, who was wounded in the arm and face was taken to a hospital, but was later released, and went to the home of his sister, who resides in Cisco.

Eastland Boy On Honor Roll

Louis Burl Houston of Eastland was included on the honor roll list of students for the spring semester at North Texas State College.

Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Houston, Rt. 2, Eastland, has a B average in scholastic work. He is a junior student majoring in business management at NTSC.

SINGERS TO MEET AT CHURCH OF GOD SUNDAY

There will be singing at the Church of God, in Eastland, Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. Many singers from over the county will be present, and you are invited to hear them and take part yourself.

Statement Made By John Hart To County Voters

To the voters of Eastland County:

All of you I count and value as my friends, and I feel no hesitancy in asking you to return me to the office of County Judge for a second term.

I have served you honestly, and as efficiently as my judgment could dictate during the present term, and I shall continue to do so if you feel the County needs me for a second term.

Most of you know the tax problems that have been before your Commissioners Court, and the way we have tried to handle them taking a firm stand for an honest administration of your business. I have reared my family in this county and have served you in offices of trust heretofore, and from these experiences I have gained much that enables me to meet the many problems that have confronted me as your judge, during the present term, in a manner that I hope has been of benefit to each of you.

If you feel that I have done a good and honest job I will greatly appreciate your votes at this time, reminding you that I must depend on you to meet the challenge of those whose interests may not be best served by my return for a second term. I pledge a continued effort to run this office for the benefit of Eastland County and the fine people who have heretofore honored me with their confidence.

Sincerely and gratefully,
John S. Hart,
County Judge.

Train Collides With Truck; 9 Aboard Injured

CHANDLER, Ariz., July 17 (UP)—Nine persons were hospitalized Thursday with injuries suffered when a Southern Pacific passenger train collided with an asphalt truck, derailling two engines and a baggage car.

The spectacular crash occurred at a crossing about 10 miles east of here Wednesday. One of the engines overturned, the second crashed into its side and a baggage car directly behind the engines ran off the rails, authorities reported.

Eight train crewmen and one passenger were injured, but they were not believed serious. Five were taken to the Southside hospital in Mesa, and four were taken to Memorial hospital in Phoenix.

The passenger Mrs. Rosa Sills of Hitchcock, Okla., was treated at the Phoenix hospital for shock and bruises.

Several other passengers were reported to have suffered minor bruises, but they did not require hospitalization.

The injured were engineers Jesse Hejyek of Phoenix and C. A. Ball of Tucson; firemen Dale Enby and William Tynas; baggage attendant Berlin Ferguson; Mrs. Sills; Cooks William G. Hunt and David M. Culver and Porter Emil Strong, all of Los Angeles.

A bus was sent to the scene to take the passengers to Phoenix, and crews immediately set to work clearing the track.

The train, Southern Pacific's Imperial, was westbound from Chicago to Los Angeles when it struck the tank truck almost in the middle, cutting it in two. The driver of the truck escaped unhurt.

Credentials Committee Will Start Work On Seating Group

CHICAGO, July 17 (UP)—Former Rep. Maury Maverick, leader of a "Loyalist" Texas delegation, Thursday rejected any talk of compromise with a rival anti-administration faction headed by Gov. Allan Shivers.

There were reports that the credentials subcommittee of the Democratic national committee would attempt to compromise Friday by offering to split the 52-vote Texas delegation evenly between the Shivers and Maverick factions.

Maverick claimed no knowledge of such a compromise.

"We're the legal delegation and we ought to be seated," he said. "I don't think a split would be acceptable. My disposition is I'd like to be seated or not seated."

The credentials committee goes to work Friday on the Texas dispute and a similar contest involving Mississippi's 18 convention voters.

Works With Byrnes
The Texas governor has been working closely with Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina in the battle to regain control of the Democratic party from northern liberal elements.

Shivers leans toward Sen. Richard B. Russell for the Democratic presidential nomination. His delegation, if it is seated, would be expected to follow him down the line.

Everette Smith Funeral Is Set For Friday P. M.

Everette Smith, 69, died at the Eastland Memorial hospital at 4 a.m. today, following an illness of many months' duration. Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. from the Hamner Funeral Chapel, in Eastland. Rev. Otto Marshall, pastor of First Christian Church will have charge of the services.

Mr. Smith had been ill for many months, and had been confined to his bed most of the time at his home, 1512 S. Seaman. At about 2 a.m. today he became much worse and was rushed to the hospital, where he died some two hours later.

Deceased was well known in Eastland, and had been living in Eastland for 34 years. He formerly operated a produce business.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Pearl Smith of Eastland; three daughters: Mrs. Rena Mae Kirk of Fort Worth and Mary Lou and Lena Delores of the home address in Eastland.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. J. L. Yelving, E. E. Sharp, R. H. Reed and B. F. Hanna.

Libel Suit Grows From Refusal Air Officer To Fly

TYLER, July 17 (UP)—A $75,000 libel suit growing out of the Air Force stay-down pilots controversy has been filed in a Tyler district court by Col. James Young Parker, commanding officer of Biggs Air Force Base at El Paso.

Parker filed the suit against F. R. White, a Midland manufacturer's representative, charging that White wrote a libelous letter to Sen. Lyndon Johnson, after the April 16 court martial and discharge of Lt. Verne Goodwin of Biggs AFB for refusal to fly.

The commanding officer said in the suit, filed Wednesday that copies of the letter were sent to Goodwin and to him and were addressed:

"Kernal J. Y. Parker, Air Force Gesteano Leader, Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso."

The letter also said, according to the suit, that Parker "along with his groons should be jailed immediately."

Parker said in his petition the letter contained other obscene remarks directed at him.

The Biggs AFB commander is a native of Smith county, Tex., and was graduated from Tyler Junior College in 1933 before being appointed to West Point.

His suit cites Parker's war record, including duty in the Philippines and captured by the Japanese at Corregidor.

Goodwin was one of several Air Force recalled reservists who caused a nationwide controversy when they refused to fly.

ing Mississippi's 18 convention voters.

Maverick's group is not pledged to any candidate. Maverick said he himself has no individual favorite at this time and "I'm very favorably disposed toward four or five candidates."

At various times, Maverick referred to the rival Texans as "Dixiecrats," "Shiverscrats" and "whatever you want to call them."

"Shivers is carrying Russell on the other," Maverick said. He accused the governor of plotting to put Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on the Democratic ballot in Texas as the Democratic presidential nominee this fall "that is if he doesn't happen to like the man the Democrats nominate."

Bolted Convention
"That is what is known as Russian - Mussolini style," Maverick snorted.

The Texas battle sprang from the May 27 Democratic state convention at San Antonio. The Shivers wing of the party declined to pledge delegates to support the Democratic presidential ticket this fall, irrespective of personalities. Maverick and his group bolted.

Besides the Texas and Mississippi delegate fights, the credentials subcommittee also will deal with six states—Idaho, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan and North Carolina—which chose too many delegates. They created confusion by trying to get accreditation for too many delegates with fractional votes.

Lot Needed For The Butler Home
Do you have a good building lot for sale, or maybe you have one you would be willing to donate to a good cause—or at least sell at a very low figure.

Friends of Whitney Butler are raising a fund to build a small home for this worthy, though incapacitated gentleman, and his wife. Money has been coming in to the Daily Telegram for several days, and we now have a total of $782.00. This, of course, is not enough, but there are plenty generous-hearted people in Eastland, who have not brought in their contribution.

May we suggest that if you are one of this number, please bring in your contribution at your earliest possible convenience.

Also we need a building site—a lot. We are not hard to please, but this lot must be conveniently located. Mrs. Butler has many washing and ironing customers, and the home must be easily accessible to her patrons.

If you have a lot, contact the Telegram editor. If you wish to donate the lot or sell at a reasonable figure, we might be interested. As you know, our funds are limited, and a dollar will have to do full duty.

1st Christian Revival Is To Close Friday

The revival meeting at the First Christian Church will continue through Friday evening, with Lloyd H. Thompson of Big Spring, bringing the messages. The sermon for tonight will be "New Testament Mountings," and on Friday the speaker will use as his subject "Hold On to God."

Interest has been increasing from night to night, according to Rev. Otto Marshall, the pastor, and everybody is invited to attend.

There will be baptismal services Friday evening.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

Is there a counterpart of our American "Bill of Rights?" Texas lawyers believe that for every guaranteed RIGHT, there is a corresponding RESPONSIBILITY on the part of every citizen.

Recently the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar was presented an award by the Freedom Foundation for its work during 1950-51. One of its projects during the time, and one factor in earning the award, was the development of the following "Bill of Responsibilities."

I. It shall be the duty of every citizen to render undivided allegiance to the Constitution of the United States, to work for its betterment and perpetuation, to respect the sovereignty of the people's government, and to defend the nation against all its enemies whomsoever.

II. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be familiar with the Constitution of the United States and to be informed as to what rights and liberties are his, and to use these rights in such manner as is consistent with his own welfare and the welfare of his fellow citizens.

III. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend with his life the rights and liberties granted to him and to his fellow citizens by the Constitution, to obey the laws of the land and aid in their enforcement, and to oppose vigorously any persons whose intention is to transgress to law or to oppress the rights of others.

IV. It shall be the duty of every citizen to make honest, wise and courageous use of the free and secret ballot at every election; to exercise freedom of thought, speech, and worship; to protect the press; to safeguard the right of trial by jury and to render willing jury service when called upon; and to perform all other acts conducive to the perpetuation of the rights set forth in the Constitution.

V. It shall be the duty of every citizen to protect and sustain the unwritten liberties and rights vested in him by custom and usage and to perpetuate the ideals of the equality and dignity of the individual, upon which the Constitution is founded.

VI. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be active in the political party of his choice, and to be vigilant of the public officers, to render all possible aid to them, and to serve in public office by appointment or election when qualified and when called upon to do so. It shall be his duty to strive for the selection of public officers of ability and upright character; and when holding public office, to serve in such a manner as will subordinate private or minority interest to those of the people at large.

VII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to achieve the highest practicable level of education, and to work for the advancement of education by supporting and improving the public schools and by fostering the desire for education among his fellow citizens.

VIII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend the right to buy and sell, to own land and other property, to engage in commerce, and to work and earn a living wage, as a fundamental guarantee of the freedom and welfare of the nation.

IX. It shall be the duty of every citizen to instruct his children in the principles of freedom and to spread the ideals of democratic government at home and abroad.

X. It shall be the duty of every citizen to preserve an attitude of self-reliance, and to use all legitimate means to achieve financial independence and security; to practice thrift and economy in his own affairs and to require the same of local, state and federal government.

Man's Rights Over Property Fading Away

By BERNARD BRENNER

WASHINGTON, July 16—Students of land use planning are giving increasing attention to the idea that a man's right to do what he wants with his own property may soon be outmoded.

"The policy may prove successful as long as there is an abundance of land, food and employment, but there is no assurance that it will be compatible with the economic and social demands of the future when population pressures may be intensified."

So writes William H. Appel in the first issue of Yale Conservation Studies, reprinted in the current issues of "Soil Conservation," official organ of the Federal Soil Conservation Service.

"Basic Preconceptions"

The right to own land and to use it as the owner pleases is "heralded as one of the basic prerogatives of free men," Appel said. But the law has already divorced the right to own land from the right to use it by establishing zoning regulations, and by giving the government the right to condemn property.

"Much-debated government control" over farm land sales might be necessary, he said, to curb the sale of productive farm land for non-farm uses.

J. C. Dykes, assistant chief of the Soil Conservation Service, pointed out that the article did not reflect government policy. But he agreed with Appel that the forgotten man in land use planning is the country real estate agent.

Assist Owners in Buying "The agent, like the soil technician, can assist owners in buying, selling and managing their property in more specially desirable fashion," wrote Appel. "he is in a position to reduce the destruction of healthy property units."

The Yale Conservation Club writer said there is no force to arguments that laws of supply and demand will force a healthy use of the land.

"Competition for residential, commercial, industrial and agricultural land creates artificial values," he said. Appel indicated he feared much farm production would be lost in the future if farm land is sold for immediate cash value, ignoring long-time needs.

With no restrictions on the way in which productive farms can be broken up, or the uses for which they can be sold, Appel sees agriculture losing ground.

"Urban residents who own property in the country compete for it with local residents who become less and less able to meet the rising costs," he said.

"The only means of obtaining land is through accumulating capital, and the rural population finds it increasingly difficult to get this capital.

More Enjoyable Summer Diet Is Voiced By Tech

LUBBOCK, July —Substitution of fresh fruits and vegetables for heavy meats and potatoes will give more summer eating enjoyment.

Mrs. Jonnie Michie, head of the Texas Tech foods and nutrition department, says that with the arrival of hot summer months, wives and mothers dislike heating the house by preparing heavy meals usually at during the middle of the winter. To give the women more leisure from the kitchen stove, Mrs. Michie gives some suggestions for summer meal planning.

Quick relief from summer heat can be obtained from the inside Mrs. Michie said. A decrease in the protein diet, plus a reduction of fatty foods, will lower temperatures. An increase in vegetables of high water content, such as lettuce and tomatoes, give the body added moisture.

In preparing summer meals one hot dish will increase digestion, an give variety. Substituting for all cooked fruits and vegetables, and too much iced fruit and underripe fruit can be more than beneficial.

THIS STORY, Dr. Basil Willing has been talking to spectators in the murder of Jack Duggan, private detective, who was poisoned while posing as Basil at a dinner party given by Dr. Zimmer, a psychiatrist. Willing also a psychiatrist had followed Duggan to Zimmer's place because Duggan had been posing as Basil Willing. Duggan was killed before he could tell who the next morning in a card table room. Miss Katherine Shaw, who also was at the party, is found dead. In questioning her nephew Basil, she has been poisoned because someone thought he was really Dr. Willing.

"The Lawrence's happen to be friends of mine," said Rosamund Yorke. "It was I who recommended Max to Perfidia. And Stephen isn't really a recluse. He's here somewhere this afternoon. Would you like to see him? I know he'd enjoy meeting you."

Rosamund darted toward a group near one of the windows. "Stephen! Do let me interrupt for a moment. There's a friend of mine here whom I'd like you to meet."

Basil had spent too much time in hospitals not to see at a glance that Stephen Lawrence was a man chronically ill. He had the winnowed look of someone who endures pain. It wasn't altogether a matter of frail body, sunken cheeks, thinning hair and faded blue eyes. It wasn't even the lightness of his breathing, the slowness of his motions and the gentleness of his manner. It was rather his singularly sweet-tempered smile and his look of detached serenity. He was like paper which has burned away so slowly that the dead ash retains the shape of solidity yet actually is so fragile that it will crumble to dust at the first touch.

THE two men had hardly exchanged a greeting when Yorke came back with Manhattan and new arrivals claimed Rosamund's attention.

"Rosamund does like to pretend she wears wine-red velvet that brought out the pastel delicacy of her coloring—silvery blonde hair, apple blossom skin, but there was something wanting in her prettiness. The pink mouth was too soft, the mouth of a sleeper or a child. The eyes were too empty of all interest in the world around her. Her manner was charming—quiet without a trace of shyness. No doubt a product of elaborate training and expensive education. Intellectually she could have been 25 or 30, but physically and emotionally she was like an enlarged child rather than a grown-up young woman.

Gisela looked up at Basil with a smile. "She's been telling me the most interesting things about her work in a settlement house. She teaches painting to children after school."

"I don't teach, really!" Even Perfidia's voice was immature, treble and thin. "I just hand their pieces of wrapping paper and old jam jars of poster paint and turn them loose. They have a wonderful time. The only happy time in their whole day. They hate their schools and they hate their homes. Sometimes I wonder what they will be like when they grow up."

Yorke laughed shortly. "They'll be like me. I was slum bred. Yorke is an abbreviation of some Slavic name that immigration officers couldn't spell in the nineties."

"And do you know," added Rosamund, "just a few moments after he left Max Zimmer's, this poor little man in perfectly good health, collapsed and died!"

"Perfidia sprang to her feet, face paper white as only a very fair skin can be when it is drained and bloodless. 'In good health, yet he died?'"

"He was poisoned by some opiate, according to the papers," said Rosamund. "Probably codeine."

"I take codeine myself," remarked Lawrence. "Almost anyone might have some."

Basil saw the whites of Perfidia's eyes as her eyeballs rolled up under the lids. He caught her as her knees buckled. Gisela took the girl's head in her lap, stroked her forehead. Stephen knelt beside her, chafing the cold hands, calling his daughter's name softly.

Lightning Is Dangerous; Be On Your Guard

NEW YORK, N. Y.—People who work or play outdoors were warned today that the summer season, with its sudden and violent thunderstorms, is the period of the greatest danger from lightning.

Lightning takes approximately 300 lives a year in the United States, statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company pointed out, adding that many of these lives could have been saved if the victims had sought safe shelter.

One of the most dangerous places during a storm is under a tree—especially an isolated one. About one fourth of all the deaths from lightning occur among persons who seek shelter under or near trees. After striking a tree, the bolt may flash sideways or it may run along the ground and kill anyone in its path.

The activities in which the lightning victims were engaged when they were struck indicate where the greatest danger lies. A few of these were:

Swimming. Lightning is a danger both day and night, but the largest number of fatal injuries occur in the afternoon. The fewest deaths take place in the morning hours. Lightning deaths among men and boys are four times as frequent as among females, reflecting greater exposure.

Mortality from lightning shows a definite geographic pattern, the statisticians pointed out. The highest death rates are in the Mountain States and the Southern States stretching from South Carolina to Arkansas. The lowest rates are in the Pacific Coast states and the Northeast, Rhode Island, with a population of well over 700,000, has not suffered a single fatality in a decade and a half.

TELEVISION APT TO CHANGE POLITICAL CONVENTION WAYS

By JAY BREEN NEW YORK, July 17 —The Democrats are huddling with television experts this week to see how much they can profit from technical and production errors committed by the Republicans in the first presidential convention to be televised nationally.

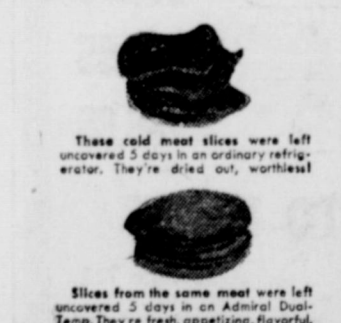

The consensus was the GOP put on an absorbing, slam-bang affair, but got nowhere near all it could from using television's unblinking eye as a vote attracter.

Most authorities predicted that both the Democrats and Republicans would have to change their political shows from the ground up by the time 1956 rolls around.

Must Watch Make-Up For example, they said the so-called "Fourth of July" orator has been given his death notice. In his place will come the politician who watches his make-up as carefully as his cohorts and values his tailor side by side with his campaign manager.

"Those are only some of the obvious changes," said a veteran TV producer and director, Jeanne Harrison. "This year's conventions should convince both parties they need entire staffs of stage managers."

These cold meat slices were left uncovered 3 days in an ordinary refrigerator. They're fresh, appetizing, flavorful.

NEWS FROM CHEANEY
Mrs. Bill Tucker

Some recent items we are just catching up with are these: Mrs. Nellie Morehouse and Darwin after a three weeks stay in Texas with Mr. and Mrs. Choe Underwood and Gary have returned home to Medford Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Wilson and sons of Ft. Worth recently visited his brother Ira Wilson and family. Aubrey was visiting a new car.

Word comes of the recent arrival of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Humme in Ohio. Mrs. Hummel is the former Quida Dale Brown of Alameda.

The grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Brown, now that they have a way to go, will be rolling northward to see the little miss who is near a month old.

Miss Annie Watson of Brownwood spent a couple of days in the home of Arthur Love and Betty.

Mrs. Vellie Watson and Mrs. Moody are now employed at the Eastland garment plant.

Mrs. Polly Blackwell visited her brother, Charles Neger in Fort Ord, California several days ago.

NOW FOR THE LATEST ITEMS
Mr. and Mrs. Ben Freeman passed so fast Monday morning we only heard the exco of their helo. No guess as to where or why they were going.

Mrs. Bessie Perrin underwent major surgery Friday at the Ranger General Hospital. She was reported resting very well Sunday afternoon.

Er. A. W. Brazda of Ranger was called to the John Tucker home Wednesday when Aunt Ellen, who is an invalid developed a cold. She is much better.

Mrs. Maud Melton was a patient in the Gorman hospital the past week, a kidney disorder was soon corrected.

Mrs. Eva Underwood went to Bell County on Friday to attend funeral service for her sister Mrs. Anna (L. B.) Underwood who had been ill for several weeks. The rites were held in the chapel at the Sharps Cemetery, near the old home place, where several of the Underwoods have been laid to rest. Accompanying Aunt Eva were Mr. and Mrs. Alton Underwood, Will Walter, and A. C. Underwood.

Ronnie Love visited a few days in Odessa with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Love.

Mrs. Lee Yancey assisted other women of the neighborhood in hosting a miscellaneous shower in the Yancey home for the newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Varner.

Gifts were also included for another couple who were recently married in Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Yancey. J. L.'s bride, the former Maggie Sue Newsome, has visited several times at Alameda.

J. T. Yancey, who is the twin brother of J. L., home from California, said he would keep all gift packages that were tagged J. T. for future need. Folks still get the boys names mixed.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Strickler of Ft. Worth and Mrs. J. P. Strickler were callers in the John Tucker home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Mary (Joe) Tucker and Mrs. Richard Tucker of Ranger were visitors Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ima Clark of Cisco visits Mrs. Gene Ferrell quite often.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Love have visited in and out here, at Possum Kingdom and at the Bob Love farm near Stephenville during his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Lemley visited the Boles relatives at Desdemona Sunday afternoon.

Garvis Hattox and Junior Love have reported back to their camp for assignment. Garvis goes north to Alaska and Junior goes to Korea.

The happiest person we have seen was Elbert Denton, Saturday night, as he demonstrated the versatile features of his motor wheel chair, a gift from the town of Gorman and his many friends.

Elbert was in the Indian Trail Festival parade after more than 20 years of being unable to walk.

He stated he didn't even know the location of his post office box, nor its combination when he first went for his mail.

He is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Cozart of Ranger.

"Porgy and Bess" Goes To Europe

HOLLYWOOD, July 17 (UP)—Thanks to a Kansas millionaire, a company of "Porgy and Bess" goes to Europe this fall to fight Red whispers that American Negroes don't have a chance to be artistic.

A capitalist named Blevins Davis put up more than $200,000 to send the all-Negro opera by George Gershwin overseas. He figures it also will prove that all American culture isn't borrowed from Europeans.

"These 50 Negroes are wonderful musicians and singers," explained lyricist Ira Gershwin, brother of the late composer. "We'll show Europe that Negroes have advanced to a high cultural point."

European cities have the welcome mat out for the good-will company, too. The troupe, now appearing in Chicago, will play in Berlin, Vienna, Paris and London. Yugoslavians asked for the show. But the state department, backing the tour, ruled the opera couldn't ring up the curtain behind the Iron Curtain.

Sent Ballet Company
"Davis is a dedicated man," Gershwin went on. "He wants peace in the world and he wants nations to be happy and free. He thought 'Porgy and Bess' was a wonderful thing to send abroad. Last year Davis sent an American ballet company over there. This is a non-profit tour, too, so he'll be allowed to only break even."

The American opera was applauded by the critics but was lukewarm at the boxoffice when it opened in New York in 1935. But tunes like "Summertime" later became hits and made the revival a success in 1942.

"Porgy and Bess" once was staged in Zurich Switzerland. But the all-white Swiss cast played a bowling game on the stage instead of the traditional American craps.

A Copenhagen company produced the opera in black-face, too. But the rest of Europe has never seen the show.

Heard in Every City
"I've had more than 80 offers to sell 'Porgy and Bess' to the movies," Gershwin added. "But we won't sell it until after it's toured for a few more years."

"In fact, there's so much activity with George's and my music that I can't keep track of it. Every big city has a Gershwin memorial concert each summer. Our American in Paris, was a movie of 'Of These I Sing' was revived on Broadway. A Gershwin orchestra is playing in 98 cities this year.

"George left a lot of music that never was published, too. Some of these days I'll get around to writing lyrics for it," he signed. "But I like to spend a lot of time at the race track."

Tourists Expected To Break Record

DETROIT (UP)—The travel manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan predicts a record-breaking season for the nation's tourist industry during 1952.

Harry N. Rogan said his prediction was based on spring requests for travel routings and extra heavy travel over the Memorial Day and July 4 week ends.

He said one reason for the upswing in motoring vacations is that 42,000,000 United States workers will receive paid vacations during 1952. The tourist public is expected to spend $12,000,000,000 on travel within the nation's borders.

A survey by Rogan showed that 14 per cent of the motoring vacations will travel 2,000 miles or more, while 49 per cent will top the 600-mile mark.

The survey also provided the following statistics:

Two-thirds of the motoring tourists will stay overnight in motor courts, with 16.2 per cent stopping at commercial hotels and 12.1 per cent the guests of friends and relatives. Tourist homes will cater to the remaining five per cent.

Of each dollar spent, 29 cents will go for food for retail merchants, 13 cents for amusements, 10 cents for automobile expenses and the remaining 11 cents for miscellaneous items.

Grand Canyon will attract more than 700,000 visitors; the Blue Ridge Parkway will be traveled by 3,000,000 persons; more than 2,000,000 tourists will visit the Great Smoky Mountains National Park and 1,000,000 persons will visit Yellowstone Park.

Rogan estimated the minimum "comfortable" expense for a couple traveling 300 miles a day by car at $22. He said the estimate included food, lodging, gas, oil but no extras.

"REACHING FROM HEAVEN"

I want to recommend this picture to everyone! I think it is one of the best religious pictures I have ever seen. I have recommended pictures like Stars in My Crown, I'd Climb the Highest Mountain and now Reaching From Heaven. It is a must for everyone.

After a special screening we had sometime ago here is what some of the Cisco people had to say about Reaching From Heaven.

One of the most unusual pictures I have ever seen. It shows what Christianity is and how it works in the lives of ordinary people.
—Mrs. Grady James, 308 W. 4th St.

A very fine picture. Would recommend it to church people of all denominations and to those of no church at all.
—Mrs. J. W. Gill, 505 East 12th

I think this is a wonderful religious picture that meets people in a practical way.
—Rev. Grady James, Cisco

This is a picture with a terrific impact for the highest and best in life. A good family picture.
—Rev. J. W. Gill, Cisco, Texas

God, truly is "Reaching From Heaven" today, as always. He is ever mindful of us if we will but do our part. We should be interested in The Strangers. "Reaching From Heaven" is powerful and awakens spiritual need. Everyone should see it.
—Mrs. W. D. Johnson, 2097 Humbletown.
