That bunch of Democrats up in Chicago are having more fun than a barrel of monkeys, but unless they gain a little momentum and get some constructive work done, they won't choose a presidential candidate before the general election.

However, they will get off a lot of steam, and Veep Barkley had an opportunity to prove that he is still one of the outstanding orators in America, despite his age. The old boy certainly got 'em told and made 'em like it, and to our way of thinking his physical condition is not to be sneered at. He is younger right now than some of his 40-year-old critics.

Just at this time we have a Youth Revival in Eastland which will likely be of more value to suffering tax payers, than both the conventions. But as long as the world stands we will have politicians. And as long as Republicans play the ponies and Democrats guzzle straight bourbon, we shall have two parties. When they cease to exist it will be the millennium, and we'll have no further use for them.

Seems as though Northern Democrats have very little in common with the Southern variety. A platform that will please the Southern group would be poison to their Northern buddies, who are not so straight laced, and it is going to take a lot of neutralizing cordial to get them mix. The only thing they have in common is name. Otherwise they are widely divided as the North and South poles.

Yet they must have unanimous consent of both groups if they ever hope to elect anybody. To do this the leading chemists from both camps must be called in to manufacture a kind of political suspension, while both groups go ahead and do just as they please.

People are asking about the Friday night candidate speaking, but to date we know nothing about it. It seems to be more or less an election year custom, but the candidates have been as quiet as mice this year. It could be that they think that there has been too much said already. However, if they have nerve enough to face the public again, we'll be more than glad to help 'em get a good crowd.

Eventually we will have universal peace, but it will be after Democrats and Republicans cease to exist. About all we can do is keep those Europeans so full of groceries they will be fat and sluggish to fight.

We have no idea what like will do about this, though we hope he doesn't raise taxes. Uncle Sam is making more out of our job right now than we are, and we are highly in favor of a tax moratorium, and the longer it exists the better we will like it.

The only thing that prompts us to keep on living is to see what Joe Stalin does when like says "frog." Bet he jumps like a "high-lifted" kitten, and its not thought it will be in this direction.

Crash Kills San Angelo Man

FORT ORD, Calif., July 25—A Texan stationed at Fort Ord was killed Thursday when his auto missed a curve and crashed over an embankment near here. He was identified as Sgt. William E. Williams, 32, son of William Williams of San Angelo.

Methodists To Sponsor Camp Movement

Youth from the Methodist Churches of the Cisco District are looking forward to a great week of camp in just ten more days, according to announcement made today by Rev. J. Morris Bailey, local Methodist pastor and associate director of the Cisco districts intermediate camp. "About fifteen or twenty boys and girls from Eastland will attend this camp which opens August 4," he said.

A total of two hundred youth and adult leaders will attend this camp for the three districts. The theme for the camp is "Living Together as Christians." A week at camp is built around some challenging theme and all experiences of study, fellowship, association, recreation, worship, eating, refreshments, friendships, give expression to that theme. There is an adult leader for every eight or ten youth.

Mrs. J. Morris Bailey and Mrs. A. E. Cushman will be women counselors for the camp. Other adults from the Cisco district will include Rev. James Holdridge from Breckenridge, Rev. W. L. Milner from Putnam, Mrs. E. H. Lightfoot from Cisco.

The Rev. Mr. Bailey is receiving the pre-registrations of all youth from the Methodist Churches of the Cisco District. Youth from Olden, Bullock, Carbon, Gorman, Flatwood and Desdemona are included.

Yellowjackets To Meet Ranger Friday Night

Yellowjackets are to play the Ranger nine at A.B.C. Field Cisco, Friday night at 8 o'clock. This happens to be Ladies Night, and all the ladies will be admitted free of charge.

This will be the first game between the Jackets and Ranger.

TRUMAN COMMUTES SENTENCE OF HIS WOULD-BE SLAYER

WASHINGTON, July 25 (UP)—Oscar Collazo was "dazed and stunned" by the news that President Truman—the man he tried to kill—had commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment.

Donald Clemmer, director of the District of Columbia jail, said Friday the Puerto Rican nationalist had no comment on Mr. Truman's action when notified late Thursday. Collazo, 38, had been convicted in the slaying of White House guard Leslie Coffelt in an attempt to assassinate the President Nov. 1, 1950.

"He appeared dazed and stunned for a moment," Clemmer said. "Later, he seemed a little glad." Clemmer said Collazo would be moved from the death house to a cell block. He said it would be up to James V. Bennett, director of federal prisons, to decide where Collazo will serve his life term. Collazo had been scheduled to die in the electric chair Aug. 1.

Some 3,000 persons, mostly Puerto Ricans in New York, have signed a petition, requesting a pardon for Collazo. The Justice

Material Being Moved To Butler Lot, And Cash Still Coming In; Banner To Furnish Ice To Workers

A Warranty Deed to the property on which the Whitney Butler home will be erected, is now in the writers hands, all signed and ready for delivery at the proper time.

The lot is to be leveled up and in all probability the foundation will be poured early next week, with actual building beginning on Wednesday or Thursday. Mr. Burkett stated yesterday that he needs two or three men, right now, to dig foundation holes, so concrete may be poured some time Monday. You may contact Mr. Burkett at the Crowell Lumber Co., phone 300. Some of the material is already on the ground, and we have assurance from City Manager Heck that water will be available immediately.

Donations are coming in each day, though not as rapidly as we should like. Previously we have reported $1,123.00, to which we wish to add the following new contributions:

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sparks, $5.00; C. M. Murphy, $10.00; Winona Davis, $5.00; A friend, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Geem, $5.00; Cash, $20.00. Grand Total to date, $1,163.00.

Corinth Baptist Revival To Begin 8 P.M. Tonight

A revival meeting will start Friday night, July 25th, at the Corinth Baptist Church. There are to be two services daily. The morning service will begin at 10 a.m. and the evening service at 8 p.m.

The Evangelist is to be Rev. Tom Small, pastor of the Graham Baptist Church, and the pastor, M. A. Erwin will assist. The meeting will close August 3rd.

The general public is invited to attend.

Vote, But Do It Legally, Judges Will Assist You

Tomorrow is election day, and you will be expected to do your duty. The first thing is to vote.

And remember these suggestions: Go to the polls as early as possible. Where a man and wife, or any two or more persons go to the polls together, just remember you may not be seated together while voting. Talking and aiding another is not permitted, as election judges will be present to give any needed instruction.

No electioneering in the poll's prohibited zone. Go in quietly, vote quietly and leave quietly, and as you place your ticket in the box state your name.

The vote may be heavy and election officials will appreciate your cooperation.

Preacher Wants Ride To Dallas

You don't happen to be going to Dallas tonight, do you? If so, and you expect to leave after services at the Baptist Church, and plan to get to Dallas before that 8:05 plane leaves for the South Saturday morning, we know where you can get an excellent free passenger.

His name is Tom Chism, Baptist minister, who has been riding in the revival here, but must get to Houston tomorrow for another engagement. Just call Melvin Rutherford, Baptist pastor, at 28 or 82 and he will tell you all about it.

Youth Revival Makes Progress; Good Attendance

Unabated interest is being registered at the Baptist Youth Revival, and souls are being saved each day, is the report from the pastor. The young evangelists and singer are doing some splendid work, and the young people of the church are exerting every effort to make the meeting a success.

There are two services daily. The first at 7 o'clock in the morning and the evening service at 8 p.m., including Saturday.

Volunteers Are Out Of Sorts With Collie Pup

JOPLIN, Mo., July 25 (UP)—Disgruntled volunteer workers were convinced Friday that no love is so steadfast as that of a pooch for his bone.

The workers spent more than a week, not to mention $3,500, pumping 15 million gallons of water out of an old abandoned mine shaft in the belief the ink hole would yield a human body.

The search project began after somebody spotted a shaggy Collie dog guarding the opening of the mine shaft. When the dog kept its lonely vigil day after day, residents became convinced it was waiting for its master who had disappeared into the water-filled hole.

Nearly 2,000 sensation-hungry spectators crowded around the shaft Thursday when volunteers made the perilous descent and came up with a bone.

The "faithful" animal didn't even get the bone he had waited for 25 days.

The searchers said they would probably give it to Mrs. Don Ruggles of Spring City Mo., the first person who asked for it.

Several people said she could have the Collie, too.

New Technician Says Hospital Lab Is Complete

Mrs. Clelis Hansen Williamson, M. T. (ASCP) is the new laboratory and X-Ray technician at the Eastland Memorial hospital. Mrs. Grace Reed, supervisor has announced.

Mrs. Williamson is the wife of Jasper Williamson, rancher and employee of the Lone Star Gas Co. They have an infant son, Larry Don.

Mrs. Williamson, who was formerly employed at the Ranger Clinic is a graduate of Ranger Junior College, attended North Texas State College, and the Baptist Memorial School of Medical Technologists in San Antonio. She is an active member of American Society of Medical Technologists, American Society of Clinical Pathologists and Texas Society of Medical Technologists.

The laboratory has all modern equipment down to the last test tube. One of their most prized possessions is the latest model binocular microscope, a new Leitz Rony Photometer, pre-calibrated for the most common clinical tests as well as special tests, a new refrigerator, an incubator for bacteriological work and analysis.

The laboratory is equipped to do routine work as well as special techniques in the field of urology, chemistry, bacteriology and blood banking.

The laboratory will be approved by the Texas State Health Department.

In combination with the efficient laboratory is the X-ray department complete with a portable X-ray machine and developing system in addition to the large X-ray unit.

The Therapy Department includes a brand new basal metabolism machine, an electro-cardiograph machine and short wave diathermy and a new infra-red lamp.

Yellowjackets Down Breck At Cisco, 13 to 3

The Breckenridge Colored Ball Team, after much bragging, again went down in defeat when they played the Jackets at A.B.C. Field, Cisco last night. The score was 13 to 3.

Rodney Stephen pitched the entire game and gave the boys only 3 hits. Early in the game it appeared that the Jackets had some real competition, but their opponents soon began weakening and they had a walk-over. A record attendance was present.

Jackets will meet the Ranger team at Cisco tonight at 8 o'clock, and a good game is expected. Saturday night, on the same field, they will contact the Eula team, and in all probability the Yellowjackets will have to get their stingers out if they do any good.

Cox Campaign Closes With Abilene Rally

Jack Cox closed his campaign for Congress with a speech in Abilene with a speech at a political rally sponsored by the Jaycees. Cox, accompanied by a caravan of 100 cars, had spent the afternoon campaigning along with 200 volunteer workers.

Blasting his opponent for his "Washington double-talk" Cox came out with both fists flying. "He tells you he stands for one thing and then when the roll is called he votes the opposite way or he isn't even there," said Cox. "Check the record on what he has done to labor, the farmer, the business man and on foreign affairs. How can you ever be sure where he stands on any issue?" asked Cox. Proving his accusation, Cox again pointed out that his opponent has failed to explain why he has voted for every tax increase since he has been in Washington, although he says taxes shouldn't go any higher. Democrats Will Choose Nominee From Eleven Before Convention

CHICAGO, July 25 (UP)—Eleven candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination were placed before the Democratic convention in a grueling 13 hour and 43 minute session that began at 12:10 p.m. edt Thursday and ground on until 1:53 a.m. Friday.

Last to be placed in nomination was Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who had asked his supporters not to do it.

At the last minute Rev. William J. Green Jr., of Pennsylvania bowed to a "personal request" from President Truman and abandoned plans to offer the President's name. Puerto Rican delegates said they also wanted to nominate Mr. Truman but would refrain at his request.

"Veep" and despite the fact the vice president had withdrawn formally from the race.

Hennings' proposal to make Barkley the party's standard bearer against Republican candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower touched off the last of a series of demonstrations that had rocked convention hall through the marathon session.

It was a madhouse session that left delegates harassed, harried and worn. Tempers frayed and voices cracked as the traditional "man who" nominating speeches dragged on, interrupted repeatedly by squabbles over seating of southern delegations and other side issues.

Chairman Sam Rayburn called a halt to the nominations at 1:15 a.m. edt after all states and territories had a chance to nominate. Eleven names had been offered the convention, at least four of them "serious" contenders.

Longest Shouts for Russell

Besides Barkley the nominees in order were Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, Averell Harriman, Oscar R. Ewing, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Gov. Paul A. Denver of Massachusetts, and Sen. Herbert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Russell got the longest demonstration—30 minutes, a full 10 minutes over the 20-minute limit which Chairman Sam Rayburn sought in vain to enforce. The Kefauver display went 25 minutes. Stevenson's name was good for 26 minutes of the same insanity.

Harriman got 19 minutes, and was good for more but Rayburn cut it off to announce settlement of the steel strike.

By Alan Adams

WASHINGTON, July 25 (UP)—The longest and most costly steel strike in the nation's history neared an end Friday, as the CIO steelworkers met to approve a White House-prompted settlement.

The union's 170-man wage-policy committee was scheduled to meet at noon CST, to put its formal stamp of approval on the agreement reached at the White House late Thursday between CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel President Benjamin Fairless to end the 54-day-old strike. Fairless had represented the "big six" steel firms.

A reliable source said Fairless accepted Murray's invitation to attend the committee meeting and answer any question the members might have about the new contract.

Immediate Work Order Expected

As soon as the committee acted, Murray was expected to issue an immediate return-to-work call to 600,000 workers in the basic steel industry. The workers have been on strike since June 2, when they walked out minutes after the Supreme Court ruled President Truman's seizure of the industry was unconstitutional.

For the steelworkers and for the nation, the walkout caused almost incalculable loss. The steelworkers lost more than $480 million in wages. The industry suffered a production loss of more than 17 million tons—a loss which forced cutback and shutdowns in the nation's industries and threatened to wreck the mobilization program.

Put even when the steelworkers stream back to their jobs, the effects of the strike will linger. It will take the industry a week or more to get back to pre-strike production because of the need to build up slowly the furnace fires which have been banked during the strike.

Defense Needs First

Defense officials began mapping plans to channel critically-needed steel into military production when output is resumed. On the civilian front, Defense Production Administrator Henry H. Fowler quickly ordered the major steel companies to reserve all tin plate for food canners and not to ship any stocks except as directed. The move was aimed at preventing a multi-million dollar loss of perishable foods now retreating.

The agreement provides average 16-cent hourly wage increase retroactive to May. The industry had proposed a 10-cent increase starting March 16. Prior to the strike, the steelworkers averaged $1.85 per hour.

The pact also calls for a modified union shop, the main issue in the drawn-out dispute. The union security clause requires non-workers to sign a union membership card to take effect within 30 days, unless a worker chooses to leave the union during the last 15 days of the first month.

Escape Clause Remains

Another basic issue was an "escape" clause that would permit workers to withdraw from the union. The steelworkers sought to eliminate this clause, but the agreement provides for a 15-day "escape" period at the end of each contract.

Other contract improvements include six paid holidays and increases in differentials and other "fringe" benefits amounting to about five cents an hour. The total package settlement was about five cents below the 26.1 cents recommended by the wage stabilization board.

Immediately after the agreement, Acting Defense Mobilization Director John R. Steelman announced the steel industry will increase averaging slightly above $5.20 a ton. This was entitled to only $4.50 the Capehart Amendment economic controls law.

HOLLYWOOD UP—Lauritz Melchior is so far gone that he is willing to spend some $10,000 just to keep a date with the latest little lady to draw his attention. He is slaving away in front of the cameras in "The Stars Are Singing" at Paramount to raise part of the cash. Also he will devote most of the proceeds from his next concert tour toward outfitting himself for the appointment—half way around the world. The girl is expensive and hard to get but she has Melchior plying with excitement. Money is no object.

The little lady that is causing all this commotion, Bahgel, by name, is a Bengal tiger, the man-eating variety.

Melchior, who would rather hunt big game than do anything else except sing, has been invited by the Maharajah of Coocbehbar to match wits with the kitty this fall. His biggest worry is that some other hunter might get the tiger before he can get there.

Did Well in Africa

Melchior's hunting expeditions have taken him to almost every remote place on the globe. He returned recently from a six-week safari to Kenya Colony, Africa. During the time they were actually in big game country, Melchior and his party bagged more than 200 specimens of 38 different varieties of game.

There were leopards, cheetah, cape buffalo, zebras, elephants.

called attention to the fact that his opponent's record shows that every tax increase has directly hit the working man. He went on to say that another example in this same tax stand is the fact that his opponent has voted against every tax decrease, even voting against an extra exemption for the old people and the blind. "But Congress recently voted themselves exempt from income tax on their living expenses in Washington, but they didn't lower your taxes any," he explained.

"You won't have to wait for an election year to hear from me either," said Cox. "I feel it my duty to report to you through your newspapers and radios at least once a month."

Cox carried his challenge to his opponent's record on over to the farmer and his problems. He pointed out that his opponent was absent from Congress when the all important cotton acreage allotments were set causing many West Texas farmers to fail to get the cotton acreage they needed.

As a final statement in his campaign, Cox said, "The finest people I have ever met are in this District. I believe I'm going to win, but win or lose, I will never be able to fully express my deep appreciation for all of the help and splendid support you have given me."

Hens, rhinos and lots of other animals.

The tenor's own prize trophy was a 500-pound black-maned lion that was 55 feet from him when the first shot was fired.

Melchior's closets call was when a charging buffalo finally dropped only 10 feet in front of his 470 gun after he had fired nine bullets directly into the animal's head.

Anti-American Demonstrations Flare in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran, July 24 (UP)—Communist mobs beat up a U. S. Army officer and stoned an American economic aid office Thursday as anti-Americanism mounted throughout Iran.

U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson promptly ordered all American Point Four economic assistance offices throughout Iran closed and instructed American citizens to remain indoors for their own safety.

Communist and nationalist leaders whipped up sentiment against Americans by charging the U. S. supported discredited, deposed Premier Ahmed Qavam and by assailing the American judge's vote against Iran at the World Court hearing on the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

The American Army officer beaten by a Communist mob was a member of the military mission sent here to help train Iranian army troops. His name was withheld. While raining blows on the hapless officer, the crowd shouted: "Out with U. S. advisers!"

Red mobs demonstrated outside American economic assistance offices throughout Iran. In Tehran, demonstrators shouted:

"Throw the Americans out! We don't want them to spread their germ warfare here!"

At Isfahan, 200 miles south of Tehran, a Communist mob stoned the American Point Four office and smashed doors and windows before armed police dispersed them. Martial law was imposed in Isfahan.

Thursday was observed as a day of national mourning throughout the country for some 23 or more nationalist demonstrators killed by army troops last Monday while crowds stormed the parliament building clamoring for the ouster of Premier Qavam.

Today only 1.7 per cent of U. S. national income is spent on education, compared with 2.5 per cent in 1940.

Convention Bulletins

By H. D. Quigg
 CONVENTION HALL, July 25 (UP)—The 31st Democratic national convention finally struck a note of harmony early Friday. The delegates were unanimous on one thing: Utter confusion.

At one point during the weary minutes shortly before 2 a. m., the roll-call clerk called out: "District of Columbia."

The chairman of that delegation arose and spoke into the mike.

"For what purpose does the chairman call the name of the District of Columbia?"

"Well," answered Chairman Sam Rayburn, and there was tender patience in his voice, "we started calling the roll early Thursday for the purpose of giving any state in the union, or the District of Columbia, an opportunity to put in nomination a candidate for the presidential nomination."

The D. of C. said oh, well, in that case it had nobody to nominate.

A couple of tired state delegates voted "no" on a motion to table, that is kill, an adjournment motion, when actually they meant to vote "yes" because they did not actually want to adjourn at that time. Voting "yes" when you mean to signify "no I don't want to go home" is a bit confusing when it's 2 a. m. and you've had only four hours sleep the previous night.

Anyhow, on the next go-round the two states had to switch their vote completely.

Adding to the confusion was a sign in the hoopla presidential demonstration for Gov. Paul A. Dever of Massachusetts. It said: "We want Dever to continue building Massachusetts."

Modern communication is a wonderful thing. Gov. Forrest Smith, chairman of the Missouri delegation, was downtown when he heard on the radio that Missouri had cast 8 1/2 yes votes and 9 no votes on the motion to seat

Egypt's "Strong Man" Takes Over Government

CAIRO, Egypt, July 25 (UP)—Egypt's new army "strong man" arrested five high interior ministry and police officials Friday on charge of plotting against him and seized control of Alexandria, King Farouk's summer capital.

Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib moved swiftly to remove all possible opposition to his three-day-old military coup and to the government headed by Premier Aly Maher Fasha he obliged Farouk to accept.

A simultaneous announcement said Farouk had signed a decree appointing Naguib commander-in-chief of the Egyptian armed forces.

He previously had been army commandant in Cairo.

No reason was announced at once for the army's occupation of key points in Alexandria, but Naguib said in a communique he had arrested the five interior ministry and police officials because they were conspiring against public security.

He said the arrests were necessary to guarantee the security of the army coup.

Farouk and his court moved to Alexandria from Cairo two months ago.

Maher, sworn in by Farouk with his all-independent cabinet in Alexandria Thursday night, announced that the government would move back to Cairo at once to maintain close contact with the army.

Of Importance To You

This is a brief statement about a very important matter—the 76th Representative District, comprising Eastland, Callahan and Shackelford Counties.

The office of State Representative, as you doubtless know, is one of the lowest paid, but one of the most important in our state. The kind of state government we will have for the next two years will be determined, in a large measure, by the kind and character of men the people of Texas elect to the Legislature in the approaching primaries.

The Legislature runs Texas. It not only makes our laws, but levies our taxes and spends the money. It is within the power of the Legislature—thru good or bad legislation—to make or break any business or industry. The Texas Legislature has grown until it is now a billion dollar institution.

We are convinced that Mr. L. R. Pearson is the best qualified man for this important office. He served us ably and efficiently in three sessions of the Legislature. He has demonstrated that he is content to do well the job at hand, without trying to build himself up to a better paying office. He is experienced, capable, sound, energetic. He knows his way around in the Legislature, and gets things done. Also, he knows the value of the tax dollar. He does not favor spending the state into hopeless debt, and is pledged against any new or additional taxes. Also, he is pledged against creating any new boards or commissions. He has sponsored some of the most beneficial legislation the state has had in the last six years.

We will need his ability and good judgment in the 53rd Legislature which convenes in January.

Actor Voices Opinion Demos Not For Movies

By ALINE MOSEY

HOLLYWOOD, July 25—Academy-award winner Broderick Crawford said Friday the politicians should have hired a movie director for their conventions because as TV stars they fizzled.

Voters got their first chance to see their representatives in action or their television sets. The result, the broad-shouldered actor shuddered, should make the politicians "wish they were digging ditches instead of being party men."

"He thinks a movie director would have coached the convention stunts and prevented their mistakes. "One fellow forgot he had on make-up and mopped his brow. It all came off," he grinned.

"The show could have been handled better, as far as camera angles went. Furthermore, you've got to start slow and work up to something. These guys start working at a big pitch.

"The gestures were bad. If Sen. John Dirksen had gestured once more with his right hand I would have kicked in my television screen.

"These guys need directors badly. They played for the fellows in the convention hall, instead of the 60 million TV fans who vote in November." As a result they over-played it.

Many a politico, he figures, may lose votes because his constituents had an unflattering first-hand glimpse of him.

"I predict a lot of them will Mr. and Mrs. Setser returned Mrs. Patterson to her home following a two weeks vacation trip spent with them in Arkansas.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE IN WASHINGTON

Check The Facts — Compare The Records Present Congressman JACK COX

ON TAXES

- Voted for every tax increase since going to Congress
- Voted against every tax decrease
- Voted against extra exemption for old people and blind.
- Consistently voted against higher taxes.
- Continually fought for balanced budget, no deficit spending.
- Supported Constitutional amendment to raise ceiling for old age assistance.

ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS

- On foreign affairs committee. Helped determine foreign policy that has lead us into war in Korea. Openly stated foreign policy on China was right.
- Always stood for firm foreign policy that people can understand. Actively fought communism and at his own expense, travelled 150,000 miles and made 1000 speeches to over 50,000 people in his fight against creeping socialism.

ATTENDANCE RECORD

- Absent only 21 days in 6 years. A number of these at birth of daughter when wife was ill. Only absent 2 days in last regular session and not absent a single time in the special session. Percentage of attendance for total time in Legislature is 95.4%.

ON FARM POLICY

- Has failed to show that he has done anything toward a refund of Federal tax on tractor gasoline. Was not present when important cotton acreage law was passed.
- Voted for and actively worked to keep state tax refund on tractor gasoline for farmers. Voted for and worked for first permanent farm to market road program. Vigorously campaigned for soil conservation.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

- Since 1945, more money spent by Congress than total spent since beginning of our Nation's government. Each employed person in the Country owes $6000 as his share of Federal debt.
- Saved taxpayers of Texas approximately 60 million dollars by his economy plan. Helped keep Texas on pay-as-you-go basis so that State doesn't owe anybody a cent and has a cash balance.

PUBLIC LAND GRANTS EASE PAYMENT STATE TAXPAYERS

AUSTIN, Texas, July—Thanks and land grants, a special tax has been levied in support of the University of Texas, a doctoral dissertation by Edith Helene Parker points out.

Further, "appropriations from the general revenue have been probably less than a fourth of what would have been necessary for a university of equal grade and standing," Dr. Parker declares.

Now historian for the U. S. Defense Department in Washington, D. C., Dr. Parker recently received a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University. She wrote on "History of Land Grants for Education in Texas," including all types of public education.

"Nearly one-third of the public domain of Texas has been devoted to the cause of education," Dr. Parker relates. "If there were to be a catastrophe of such proportions as to destroy the funds and plants of the Texas public system of education (in 1950), the people of the state would have to use three-quarters of a billion dollars to replace what has been in so large a measure attributable to the gift of free lands."

Land granted the University of Texas constitutes the largest land endowment for an institution of education in the U. S., and, "in all probability, in the world," Dr. Parker states.

"An evaluation of what the University has meant to the state of Texas is beyond the scope of this study," she says. "Though the teaching, research and service program of the University, the progress of the state has been closely allied to the institution of its creation. The free school system of the state, from the elementary grades through the high school and state junior colleges, is complete in the University."

"Higher education is admittedly not entirely free but the low tuition costs, arrangements for self-support of students and facilities for low-cost living have placed a university education within reach of any Texan with the ambition to have it," Dr. Parker added.

Th dissertation explains the University's Permanent Fund may not be spent. Only the Available Fund (income from Permanent Fund may not be spent, and that income is shared with Texas A & M College.

Blackfeet Indians gathered the rose colored leaf of the "horse mint" herb, placed it in hot water, and used it as an eye wash.

Football Comes To Texas Next Month In Style

FORT WORTH, July—Wide-open football comes to Texas Aug. 8.

It's the potent Split-T formation as coached by Maryland's Jim Tatum versus the ever-threatening spread formation of TCU's Dutch Meyer.

And the masters of the two formations will be at the helm directing two all-star high school squads in the annual all-star football game of the Texas School Coaches Association Annual School, Aug. 4-8.

The game first time ever scheduled for Fort Worth—is the climax of the annual school sponsored by the coaches association. It will be played at 8 p.m. Friday Aug 8 on the plush carpet of TCU's Amos Carter Stadium.

Careful screening by two committees have aligned all stars from Class A to Class 4-AAAA teams into two squads—the South and North All-Stars.

Looming as a new high in scoring, the annual game will see the Meyer spread used for the first time although Meyer has coached the all-stars before. The 1951 season was the first time for Meyer to use the spread through an entire game and it brought a Southwest Conference Championship.

Meyer will coach the South All-Stars with the aid of his chief assistant, Othol (Abe) Martin, the Frog backfield and offense coach.

Tatum, to be assisted in coaching the North All-Stars by Jack Hennemier, his assistant at University of Maryland, brings the intricate Split-T to the all star game for a fourth time. Although this is Tatum's first time as an instructor at the school and as coach of one of the all star teams, the Split-T in three previous attempts has not won a single time.

Tatum had an undefeated record at Maryland in 1951 and went on to upset Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl. He isn't a stranger to the Southwest. His 1946 Oklahoma eleven, winner of the Gator Bowl that year, appeared in Texas.

In the 17-year history of the all-star game the North eleven holds an 8-7 edge in victories with two games resulting in ties.

In addition to the coaching duties of the four coaches, they will hold daily clinics on their styles of play using the all star players as demonstrators.

And in the lecture hall during the week long clinic more detailed information on blackboards with charts of plays will be explained to the more than 1,200 coaches who will register for the Fort Worth school.

Tickets for the all star game are on sale at the Central Ticket Office in Hotel Texas' lobby and through the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce at $1.30 for west side reserved seats, $1.20 for general admission in the east stands, and 60 cents for students, high school and under.

To assure easy-walking distance of the stadium, the Fort Worth Committee on arrangements has provided for close parking of automobiles with the stadium's upper parking lot on the west side at $1 a car and 50 cents for the lower parking lot.

Another feature of the annual school will be the All-Star Basketball game between the North and South All Stars scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday night Aug. 7 at Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

There will be seats available for more than 8,000 for this classic with glass backboards providing a view for all spectators in every seat in the huge coliseum. Tickets for this feature are 80 cents for adults and 40 cents for high school students and under.

Vadel Paterson, head basketball coach of University of Utah will coach the North Squad and Hank Iba, Oklahoma A & M basketball coach who will be making his first appearance at the school, will tutor South Squad.

Public School Teachers Are Getting Scarce

AUSTIN, Texas, July—Industry, inflation and the Armed-Forces draft really are putting the squeeze on public school administrators looking for teachers, a University of Texas professor reports.

"Last year, employers usually had a choice of candidates for English and social-studies teaching positions," Dr. Hob Gray, Teacher Placement Service director, says. "This year, teachers in those fields have their pick of four or five jobs. Science teachers are much more in demand."

Dr. Gray cited one instance where a science instructor was hired by industry at double the salaries both he and his wife were making as teachers.

Only at the college level is the supply of teachers greater than the demand, and that appears to be a temporary situation, he added.

Star Specialist For UT AUSTIN, Texas, July—A specialist in the physics of stars and other celestial bodies will join the University of Texas faculty in September.

He is Dr. Frank N. Edmonds, who will come from the University of Missouri.

Waves Will Be Ten Years Old On July Thirty

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 21—Ten years of service in the Navy will be marked by the Waves on July 30.

Some 900 Waves on active duty in the continental United States, Japan, Hawaii, Norway, Germany, France, Alaska and England will salute the occasion with informal observances.

Captain Joy Bright Hancock, USN, Director of the Waves, will follow Navy tradition by using a sword to cut a ten-candle cake at the Naval Receiving Station, Washington, D. C.

The annual reunion to be held in Washington July 26-27 will be attended by more than 1200 women, including former Waves, and women of the Regular Navy and Naval Reserve.

Waves (Women Appointed for Voluntary Emergency Service) became a part of the Navy on July 30, 1942, when Congress authorized the commissioning and enlistment of women in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

More than 79,000 Waves were on duty in 900 continental shore activities and performed 450 different kinds of jobs during World War II. Over 4000 were assigned to duty in Hawaii.

Today 28 of the Navy's 62 enlisted ratings are open to WAVES. Their duty is limited only by restrictions on serving in aircraft on combat missions, on ships other than hospital ships and transports, and in billets classified as "heavy duty."

Timely Tips To Win At Showing Given By Tech

LUBBOCK, July—You can't expect an animal to make a good appearance in the show ring when it didn't sleep the night before.

Dean W. L. Stangel, head of the Agriculture Division at Texas Tech and livestock superintendent of the State Fair of Texas, says to keep animals on their toes in the show ring, exhibitors should be sure they make their livestock comfortable at all times prior to entering the show circle.

In a short course for beef cattle herdsman at Tech, Dean Stangel said the basic item for each animal is a bed containing two bales of straw, without lumps. "The herdsman should keep the straw worked up, so the animal will always lie down on a cushion," the dean suggested, and new straw should be replaced, and wet straw should be replaced, too, he said. And, if possible, the animal should be tied outside at night.

Dean Stangel made the suggestion that the exhibitor's best animal be placed on the aisle so the on-looker will be certain to see the exhibitor's top stock and get a good first impression. He also recommends an attractive showbox that never blocks the spectator's view of the animals.

Dean Stangel emphasizes tidiness, especially in equipment, aisles, and animals. The herdsman should also be neat, he added.

HOW YOU CAN MAKE AMERICA STRONG — IV

HE NEEDS YOUR VOTE — TO STAY FREE!

Our children's future is uncertain. Because our country's future is uncertain. Perhaps we have let them down. Can it be that self-government interests us no more... that the priceless gift of personal freedom can find no takers? Can it be that we know not—and care not—who represents us at the meeting place? Have we traded personal opportunity and integrity for security... for a handout at the back door? And robbed our children in the process? To be strong as a nation, morally and spiritually, is a primary duty we owe our children. Before it is too late... before the chance is gone forever... America must be made strong again. With informed, skillful, courageous leadership. Next election, no matter what kind, let's get up and put on our hats and go to the polling place and vote! Know the issues and the candidates. Vote to fill every office with an able man. Let's go back to the old-fashioned habit of taking a part in our democratic government. Our youngsters need votes... to stay free!

Bob Mathias In Try For Second Decathlon Medal

By Leo H. Petersen
HELSINKI, July 25 (UP)—The United States' towering basketball squad shared the Olympic spotlight Friday with broad-backed, super-athlete Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif., as competition opened in basket ball and the decathlon.

The heavily-favored U. S. quintet, with enormous Clyde Lovellette of Kansas and Bob Kurland of the Phillips Oilers almost certain to command both backboards, met Hungary in its opening game. The basketball tournament will consume nine days and includes two elimination rounds, a semi-final and a final.
Russia, still leading in the unofficial point total with 327 points to the U.S.'s 221, was seeded among the first four teams in the cage competition. But the Russians are entered in a different group and will not encounter the U. S. squad in the opening round.
Coach Warren Womble said the U.S. team "was in fine shape" with only Dan Pippin of the Caterpillar Diesels possibly sidelined with a pulled leg muscle.

Meanwhile, the brilliant Mathias—spectacular decathlon champion of the 1948 games at London—began his quest of a second decathlon gold medal—a feat previously accomplished only by the famous Jim Bausch of the U.S.
Mathias, who won his 1948 gold medal under dramatic circumstances, faced competition Friday in the 100-meter dash, broad jump, shotput, high jump and 400-meter run. In 1948, the Stanford University football star—called America's greatest all-around athlete since Jim Thorpe—compiled a total of 7,139 points in the decathlon.
Friday's competition also was to include the first and second rounds of the epee team competition, water polo, Greco-Roman style wrestling, the modern pentathlon, the final event of the cross-country run, yachting, a soccer match between Denmark and Yugoslavia and the bantamweight and featherweight competition in weight-lifting.

HEAD-OVER-HEELS IN HIS JOB—The feet protruding from the business end of this jet engine belong to B. E. Cummings, AM 3/C, of Lewiston, Idaho, and U. S. Navy airman R. L. Zook, of Willoughby, Ohio, will yank him away from his work, as soon as Cummings is finished. Both men are stationed aboard the U.S.S. Boxer, somewhere off in Korean waters.

cottons. If you putter around with a mess of sticky starch chances are you'll get either too much or too little in your dress. Even if you hit it just right, ordinary starches will wilt but fast on a humid day. Besides—just imagine the work involved in finishing one of the fancier models they're showing this Summer

"That's why women all over the U. S. and Canada are halting a new revolutionary method of Cotton service. It all stemmed from the discovery of a new sizing material by Emery industries, a Cincinnati firm, well known as a supplier of finishing agents to the Textile Industry. This new method of finishing cottons is working a minor miracle. It restores body to the cloth, brings back crispness without adding the harsh stiffness of a 'starched' finish—and cottons so treated resist wrinkling and wilting even on the hottest day.

"The new process is licensed to Sanitone Dry Cleaners all over the country and is the feature of the new 'Cotton Clinics' set up to care for Summer cottons. This material can be used only under the technical supervision of a commercial dry cleaner and is not available for home use."

Jailbird Composer Denied Freedom By Judge

MILWAUKEE, July 25—Frank Grandstaff, the jail cell composer, remained in custody Friday after losing his bid for freedom on a habeas corpus writ.

Circuit Judge Ronald Dreschler quashed the writ after studying arguments filed by the attorney's office and Sidney Usov, Grandstaff's attorney.

Grandstaff will be tried before a municipal court jury Aug. 26, on a burglary charge. He is accused of taking a piggy bank, ring and wrist watch from an apartment last May.

The 50-year-old musician, who won his freedom from a life term in a Tennessee prison after he composed a cantata honoring Big Spring, Tex., denied breaking into the apartment.
