National Issues Be Discussed By House Members

FORT WORTH — Twelve members of the House of Representatives have accepted invitations to discuss national political issues with people of the state in the second annual Texas Congressional Forum here Nov. 21, its sponsors announced Saturday.

This program, described as a modern version of the old-time Town Hall meeting, drew nearly 1,000 persons from more than 50 counties when it was inaugurated last year. Its sponsors are the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. The public is invited.

Representatives who have announced they will sit on the panel to answer the voters' questions are Omar Burleson, Anson; Jack B. Brooks, Beaumont; Martin Dies, congressman-at-large, Orange; John Dowdy, Athens; O. C. Fisher, San Angelo; Brady Gentry, Tyler; Frank Ikard, Wichita Falls; Wingate Lucas, Grapevine; W. R. Poage, Waco; Ken Regan, Midland; Olin E. Teague, College Station; and J. Frank Wilson, Dallas.

Ed Gossett of Dallas, former congressman, will be the moderator; R. B. Anderson of Vernon will deliver the keynote address to precede the question-and-answer session. Berl E. Godfrey, president of the Fort Worth Chamber, will preside. The program will begin at 2 p.m. in the Texas hotel ballroom.

I'M GROWING AND GAINING on PURINA!

Forty-one Hereford and mixed steers, weighing in at 450 pounds each, have been placed in a special pen by the Wilson Feed & Seed Company, local Purina dealers, to show how steers can be fed more profitably in the dry lot.

The steers will be fed for 100 days on the new ration, "Fat Calf Chow." During the time this feeding demonstration is being conducted, cattlemen and others interested in feeding steers, are being invited to visit the Wilson Feed & Seed store, to watch these steers grow.

POTPOURRI AND WORSE

(By Major Hoople McCorkle) Telegram Philosopher

We read something worth while we like to pass it on, and at this time we are indebted to Joe Lawrence of Olden, for the following. Under the caption of "Map's Failings" it reads: "Any man can spoil himself. He can allow himself to grow so sensitive that he lives in constant pain. He can nurse his grudges until they are an intolerable burden. He can think himself insulted until he is apt to be. He can believe the world is against him until it is. He can imagine troubles until they become real. He can hold so many under suspicion that no one believes him. He can look so askance at his friends that they are no longer friends."

"He can think himself so important that no one else does. He can have such a good opinion of himself that no one else enjoys his presence. He can become so wrapped up in himself that he becomes very small."

Most of us are guilty of one or more of these shortcomings, and we pay dearly for it. It isn't good sense for us to be too sensitive, to hold grudges and court "in-sults". It is not natural for us to be individual to think we are more important than we really are, and to isolate our lives. No we must cultivate these shortcomings. You may master the art, but when we do we will have lost everything that we appreciate and hold dear—other than our egotistical selves.

And then when we take flight from this world to another, mourners will be few. We, ourselves, have eliminated them, while passing through this vale of tears.

Armistice Day is just ahead of us, and most residents of this city will likely observe the day in a fitting manner. It has been almost one third of a century since firing ceased, and the Armistice was announced. Some may have forgotten it, but loved ones of those boys in Flanders Field will never forget.

The least we can do is to pause, reflect, and pay homage to them.

And then there is Thanksgiving, and so far as we are concerned America has much to be thankful for. If we might only catch a glimpse of living conditions in those countries behind the iron curtain, see the poverty and squalor there, where individuals have nothing to look forward to, either in this world or the world to come, we would know for once and all that America is "the Chosen Spot" of the universe. We have so much to be thankful for, over here.

And one of the greatest of all our blessings is our "religious freedom." We doubt if we appreciate this as much as we should, but we really do have it. Our thoughts change over to the joys of this life, and when we add up and get the total, we learn that our joys and blessings far outnumber our trials and tribulations. And then what is more, we have the future to look forward to.

All does not end, so far as we are concerned, even at the close of life. We still have hope and faith, as we plan for another world.

And on Sunday morning (the Lord's Day) we gather and praise His Holy Name. We gather in groups and study His word, and on this Sabbath we are to study "The Compassion of Jesus." This word Compassion means more than love—it means that Jesus' sorrow and pity was excited by the great misfortunes and the distress of we mortals here below. He is sympathetic and tender—even responsive in that he died that we might live.

He is now preparing a place for us—a place where we will spend eternity. The home will be one of splendor, with streets of gold. There will be no tears, but through out ceaseless ages we are to enjoy all that is good.

Worth considering, even if for the season, you are enjoying life in the greatest country on earth.

After all it is possible that many of our troubles are imaginary to a certain extent. We can begin feeling sorry for ourselves, and it won't be long until we really think the whole world is against us. Usually this is not true—we have merely lost our "get-up-and-go." We think the drouth has ruined us, but it really hasn't. It has caused some suffering and inconveniences, and we do not enjoy enduring them, but we are a long way from the bottom. Fact is there is nothing wrong with us that a good rain will not cure.

The saddest thing we can think of is the loss of life and the suffering our boys in Korea must undergo. It is terrible, but there may be a way to end this and at no distant date.

We can remember World War I, and the Armistice. The message was flashed to America that firing had ceased, and with millions of others we shed tears of joy. And we can say right here that "joyous" tears are the kind that melt you down to normal size, leaving you a humble atom of humanity, and yet you are satisfied. You care not for riches, and are satisfied to be the smallest frog in the pond.

We remember singing the old song "When the War is Over and Our Soldiers All Return." Maybe our tears were not salty—we do not know, but they were good tears—tears of joy, and we just couldn't breathe until we got them out of our system.

We are to have another day like that, and when that day comes your pride will fade away and you will cry like a baby and be happy to do so. Men never get too big or too tough to shed tears of joy. His emotions might cause him to bug his deadliest enemy.

When the next flash comes—"war is over", we will shout, sing and cry. We'll love everybody, and won't care who knows it. God speed the hour!

of all the pleasures

New DeSoto Bows to Public

Featuring a completely new body, the beautiful 1953 DeSoto goes on display at DeSoto-Plymouth dealerships Thursday, November 13. Shown here is a Fire Dome V-8 4-Door Sedan, which is powered by DeSoto's sensational 160-horsepower Fire Dome engine. Six body styles are offered in the Fire Dome V-8 series, while five body types are available in DeSoto's Power-

January and February. Most bulbs grow best in fertile soil which is moist but well drained. The specialist says most bulbs will grow better in full sun, however many of them grow in the shade.

Prepare the soil by fertilizing with 5-10-5 for the sandy and light soil, and 16-20-0 for black land and potash-rich soils in West Texas. The specialist recommends one-half cup to each 25 square feet of soil. Add a tablespoon of bone meal and a cup of sand one or two inches beneath each bulb when placed in the soil. The depth of planting depends on the size of the bulb. A large narcissus bulb may be planted seven to nine inches deep. Tulips are usually planted about seven inches, and bulbs of Dutch irises are smaller and planted four or five inches deep. Grape-hyacinth is still smaller and planted two to four inches deep. Iris which grow from rhizomes, are planted almost on top of the ground barely covered with soil. The crocus is planted only three inches deep. Place lilacs which root at the base of the bulb five inches deep in the soil.

Dairy Firm Has New Officials

Lindsley Waters, Jr., 35, has been named president of Tennessee Dairies, Inc., the firm which his family has built from a few cows and a horse-drawn dairy wagon in 1908 to an operation covering three-fourths of Texas today. This announcement was made today by C. D. Pierce, Field Manager for the Glen Pierce Company, distributors of Tennessee Dairies products in this area.

Waters' election as head of the pioneer dairy firm follows the retirement of his mother, Mrs. Lindsley Waters, who has been president of the company since 1944. From March, 1945, until his election as president of the company, Waters had been vice president and general manager.

4,415 new cases of tuberculosis were reported to Texas health authorities in 1951.

A-M Specialist Offers Hints On Tulip Bulbs

Now through December 15th is bulb planting time in Texas. Saddle Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, says October is considered the best month for planting most bulbs which can exist in cold weather.

The hardiest bulbs are the narcissi or daffodils, jonquils, grapehyacinth, snowflakes, snowdrops and most of the early blooming bulbs. The specialist recommends waiting until later to plant those with roots or bulbs that frozen soil would destroy. Gladioli grow from tender corms and dahlias from tender tubers, so these bulb-like

Nation's Fire Losses for 1951—

... are way up according to report of National Board of Fire Underwriters just released. Three quarter billion dollars went up in smoke, an increase of 12.3%, and more than 11,000 persons lost their lives. The causes are listed as about the same as previous years with careless use of matches and smoking accounting for 27%. Misuse of electricity, overheated chimneys and flues, lightning, spontaneous combustion and explosions are others in order.

How To Plan Fall Menus With Appeal

With autumn leaves of yellow, orange, rust, gold and brown, come autumn fruits and vegetables. Pumpkins, egg plant, pop corn, persimmons, apples, pears, red peppers, winter squash and sweet potatoes are just as colorful as other signs of the season. Measona Cox, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says these foods not only bring color to the family table, but a fresh appeal to appetites.

Take for instance, the sweet potato. The bright orange color is in season. The flavor and food value make it a good provider of energy.

is a rich source of vitamin A, a worthwhile source of vitamin C and contains small amounts of the B vitamin and minerals. Since the Texas Food Standard suggests at least one serving of potato each day, the specialist recommends sweet potatoes alternately with Irish potato for balance and variety.

These are two kinds of sweet potatoes. One kind is dry, mealy and rather light yellow in color. The other is a deep yellow variety which is grown in Texas. This is moist and juicy in texture, and because of its rich color, is especially good for vitamin A.

Baking the sweet potato to retain this food value and color is the method of cooking recommended by the specialist. Select smooth and uniform size potatoes, wash and dry, brush with butter or bacon drippings and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) until tender. This requires 35 to 60 minutes, depending on the size of the potato.

Roll gently in a cup towel until soft, split and add a square of butter or enriched margarine.

For other sweet potato recipes see your county home demonstration agent.
