Overseas Mail Rules Are Worth Senders' Study

Persons sending Christmas pack ages overseas might do well to familiarize themselves with both United States and foreign regulaector, U. S. Department of Com-merce at Dallas warned today.

"If they do this, it will avoid delivery delays and possible rerackaging or re-shipment of par-cels," he explained.

Tutt explained that duties and taxes can not be prepaid on packages sent through the mail. Senders can obtain information which may save time and money by checking with the Commerce Department office, 1114 Commerce, Dallas.
