

world are heralding the news of Joe Stalin's paralytic stroke, and his very serious condition. So the question arises-is this good news

Other than a few Communists, he has no admirers. In most sections of the world his name is a byword, and he is hated as no other man. Yet to say whether the news is good or bad, we withhold our opinion. It remains to be seen who is to take over following his death. A good man, if there be one there, could change the present outlook, but in all probility he will be followed by an individual of like type.

Malenkov and Molotov are mentioned as leading rivals, and in our opinion either of the two are capable of being even worse than Stalin.

Russia does not want to fight of four in the number of missing. anything but a war of nerves. To do this they are actively sowing seeds of discord and doubt. They wish to rule the world, and to cram down the throats of good men and free men, their communistic doctrine. The world is not going to suf-for ais indignity without a strug-gran all probability a majority of Russians would be willing to help clean out or abolish toh Kremelin. It never has and never will offer anything that is good and we are not looking for it to come in the form of a miracle.

If the Bible is true, and we feel that it is, though Joe Stalin dis-agrees, that old infinel is prepar-ing to spend an indefinite stay in a devil's hell. The world will re member him for a few years because of his crimes, and after that today. he will pass from the minds of

In all his life we have nevo heard of his doing anything to make the world better. He has been thriving for 73 years on blood, death and suffering. And what has been going on behind the Iron Curtain, the world will likely never know. It seems to be no more than one large "chamber of hor rors", where death would be swee as compared to the suffering of unfortunates over there.

Joe Stalin says there is no. Go -that when man is overtaken by death it is all over. Joe Stalin is wrong about this, just as he has been wrong about most everything else. In our opinion we have gracious God and just God, as well as an active and very efficient devil. And when Joe's case comes up for consideration we expect this devil to handle it without fear or to admit it.

These are not cruel words just plain facts. And they will not bother Joe in the least, for he devil. To him the Bible is a book something like Aesop's Fables.

But seriously speaking we are likely to have a change. In all (Continued On Page 3)

WHERE DO WE SAVE?

An Editorial

Ever since the public's interest has been aroused conerning Representative Burkett's bill in the Legislature to abolish the 91st Court at Eastland and put this county in ed an increase of 411 in American the 90th District with Stephens and Young Counties, much casualties in Korea for last week, has been said, both by the proponents and the opponents of

Throughout Mr. Burkett's numerous public statements of West Texas, Abernathy. The on the matter, he has repeatedly declared his position to be in favor of anything that will save the Eastland County Abernathy, Rev. C. A. Kennedy taxpayers money and opposed to anything that will cost will discuss the program as tried Wednesday's summary listed 75 them money. He has also repeatedly said that there is nothing personal involved in the matter whatsoever. In view of these statements, it is extremely preplexing to attempt to reconcile his position with the contents and results of some of the bills he has introduced. For example, uary and the Baptist Standard of one of his lesser publicized bills, House Bill No. 237, propos- Texas featured the story last es to set a minimum salary for constables in precincts containing a town of less than 1,000 population at $300.00 per year; for precincts containing a town with a population of 1,001 to 6,000 he proposes a minimum annual salary of minary in Fort Worth, Texas and $1,500.00. At the present time, the law requires each coun- was a missionary in Africa for 5 ty to pay its constable a salary but sets no minimum or years before coming to the pastormaximum figure and leaves the salaries for constables ate of the First Baptist Church at within the discretion of the Commissioners Court. Eastland County has been paying its constables a salary of $100.00 per month, or $1,200.00 per year.

In 1951, the salaries paid to the Eastland County Constables totalled $5,100.00, while the constables fees received by the County for that same year, totalled only $554.25. In 1952, the County paid out $6,400.00 for such salaries and in turn received a total of $395.75 in constables fees.

Under Mr. Burkett's new bill, five of Eastland County's six constables would receive $1,500 per year and the sixth ning to come in time for the proone would receive $400.00 per year, making a total of $7.-300.00 Assuming that the resulting fees derived from their services would reimburse the County anything comparable to the past two years experience, this legislation would reattend this meeting, and other sult in a net loss to Eastland County of something over $7,-

Without any intended or suggested criticism of either of the gentlemen now serving this county as constables, or their services, it is indeed difficult to reconcile his economy minded position with the obvious results to the Eastland County taxpayers, if House Bill No. 237 is enacted into the law. One can only wonder if in truth and in fact, personalities do not really enter into his legislative activities.

Life-size Wood Carving of Last Supper

BOSTON, MASS .- All the specialized skills of some of the finest craftsmen of New igland have been combined to create this life-size copy in wood of the famous painting The Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci.

More than a year was used in preparing the great carving—18½ feet long and 8½ feet wide. The figures, of limewood, are delicately tinted to give a feeling of lifelike reality, and a giant frame of contrasting walnut gives it depth. The carving will be the point of central interest in The Upper Room chapel, now nearing completion in Nashville. It is expected that visitors who view the carving will be moved to spend a few moments in prayer and meditation in keeping with the purpose of The Upper Room—a devotional guide issued in 17 languages and used round the world. The chapel itself is part of the new headquarters building for The Upper Room, the world's most widely used devotional guide. It is believed that it will become a devotional shrine and point of interest for visitors of the Midsouth.

The picture shows W. D. Irving, of Irving and Casson, New York and Boston, who have produced wood carvings for some of America's greatest churches and cathedrals. The wood carving was done from a model created by Earnest Pelligini.

Advise Farmers To Preserve Our Wild Life

ventual benefit of farmers, if the latter are not too thorough in reaping their harvests.

This suggestion was set forth n a message recently sent its customers by the farm equipment division of the Avco Manufacturing Corp., at Coldwater, Ohio.

"Modern machines and modern harvest methods make hardships for the wild life on our farms," the message said. "The modern corn picker, which scarecly misses an ear or kernel, leaves slim picking for birds and animals.

"Farmers who wish to protect wild life and provide good hunt-ing for themselves and friends can ave animals by 'cutting corners. "The idea is to cut diagonally across the back corner of each field you harvest to leave a natural shelter and a little store of feed for your own wild life.

"The bushel or the forkful that you waste is more than paid for by the warm feeling that you and your machine are giving a break to game already hard-pressed from every side."

Said the little red rooster, "Gosh all hemlock! Things are tough. Seems that worms are getting scarcer, and I cannot find enough. What's become of all those fat ones is a mystery to me. There were thousands through that rainy spell ... but now where can they be!"

The old black hen who heard him didn't grumble or complain. She had gone through lots of dry spells, and lived through floods of rain. So she flew up on the grindstone, and she gave her claws a whet, as she said, "I've never seen the time when there weren't worms to get."

She picked a new and undug spot; the earth was hard and firm. The little rooster jeered "New ground! That's no place for a worm." The old black hen just spread her feet, and she dug both fast and free. "I must go to the worms", she said, "The worms won't come to me."

The rooster vainly spent the day, through habit by the ways where fat round worms had passed in squads back in the rainy days. When nightfall found him supperless, he growled in accents rough, "I'm hungry as a fowl can be—conditions sure are tough."

He turned then to the old black hen and said, "It's worse with you. For you're not only hungry, but you must be tired too. I rested while I watched for worms, so I feel fairly perk; but how are you? Without worms too? And after all that work."

The old black hen hopped to her perch and dropped her eyes to sleep. And murmured in a drowsy tone, "Young man, hear this and weep. I'm full of worms and happy too, for I've dined both long and well. The worms are there as always...BUT I HAD TO DIG LIKE H --- "

Oh, here and there is a little business going on, but not too much NOW, because of "POOR CONDITIONS, but soon as things get right again, we'll sell our customers NEW MERCHANDISE, in our new store, it will be announced later.

Meanwhile the old black hen will keep on digging the hard way, gobbling up the worms.
