Union Pacific Officials Issue Formal Statement Declaring That Wells-Fargo Co. Will Supercede Pacific Co.

Dallas, May 20.—Officials of the Texas & Pacific railway declined tonight to make statement relative to the report that after July 1 the Wells-Fargo Express Company will operate on the Texas and Pacific and other Gould lines, displacing the Pacific Express Company.

The significance of this understanding can only be realized when it is considered that the Wells-Fargo & Co.'s. express is controlled, according to common information by the Harriman and Rockefeller interests, while the Pacific Express is dominated by the Gould lines.

The Missouri Pacific is understood to hold 40 per cent of the Pacific Express stock and Wabash 20 per cent, making 60 per cent for these two Gould lines. The remaining 40 per cent of the stock is owned by the Union Pacific. The Gould and Harriman lines own the Pacific Express, control resting with the Gould railroads.

The announcement that the Wells Fargo & Co.'s. would in July supercede the Pacific on the Missouri Pacific, the Iron Mountain, the Wakash and the Texas & Pacific caused the utmost surprise in railroad circles. Although it was surmised that the Wells Fargo & Co.'s. express had acquired control of the Pacific Express, the explanation given was that, the Wells-Fargo concern had obtained the contract with the Gould lines by virtue of strenuous competition.

Change Authenticated.

New York, May 20.—That the Wells-Fargo Express Company has arranged to take over the business of the Pacific Express Company, which operates over the Missouri Pacific and its affiliated lines, was authenticated tonight when the Missouri Pacific made the following announcement:

"The express business on the Missouri Pacific system will be conducted by the Wells-Fargo Company after July 1, superceding the Pacific Express Company which now operates those lines."

EIGHT ARE LYNCHED

Six Negroes Lynched Together Near Lake City, Florida.

PREACHER IS AMONG VICTIMS

Sunday and Monday Signalized Violent Acts in Florida and Georgia. Seven were Charged With Murder of Whites.

Swainsboro, Ga., May 22.—A negro preacher who was alleged to have shot his wife and an officer who attempted to arrest him was hanged by a mob today.

Lake City, Fla., May 22.—Organizing near this city a mob of white men stormed the jail, took away and lynched six negroes charged with murder. The affair has caused tremendous excitement throughout this section.

Crawfordsville, Ga., May 22.—Joe Moore, a negro, who was accused of murdering Henry Googher, a wealthy farmer, was taken from the jail at an early hour this morning and hanged.

Shortly before daybreak a mob of masked men quietly advanced on the jail, threw their guns on the jailer and demanded the key. Moore heard them coming and began to beg and sing, but the white men had no mercy on him. His body swung in the air thirty minutes after lynching.

Shower for Miss Coggin.

The largest and most elaborate affair in social circles this season was the miscellaneous shower for Miss Coggin given Wednesday afternoon by Mesdames Sinclair, Gaither and Jackson, emblematic of Miss Coggin's approaching marriage to Mr. Aziel Crouch in June. Hearts and wedding bells were used in decoration.

On entering the first evidence of cupid's work was two hearts pinned together by cupid's dart.

Chains of hearts were caught from the wedding bells that concealed the chandeliers to the corners of the rooms. In the parlors green and red were given preference, in the dining room red and white. Carnations in keeping with the harmony of each room were used in profusion.

Tables had been arranged for progressive 42. The score cards were hand painted hearts with the picture of the bride-elect and cupid, each score having seven hearts. The losing of a game meant the losing of a heart. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. L. H. King and Miss Haley of Matador were the lucky players and cut for the prize, Mrs. King winning the fan which she presented to the bride-elect. Mrs. W. T. Berry was awarded the box of candy for consolation in a cut with Mrs. C. D. Mims which Mrs. Berry presented to the bride-elect.

Angel food with cream representing red hearts and cupid were served to about fifty guests. Bonbon dishes of cut glass filled with chocolate almonds were on each table during the games.

At the first notes of sweet music the doors were thrown open which revealed a beautiful room decorated in pink and white with a line of dainty linens and beautiful gifts, concealing a table of cut glass and silver, all bearing evidence of the love and esteem with which each holds this fair young bride-to-be.

In this bower of loveliness Misses Zora Coggin and Mossie Sears presided over the punch bowl. Mrs. W. T. Berry acted as toast mistress and in her most original manner toasted the bride, Mrs. W. H. Dickson toasted the groom, while it fell to the lot of Mrs. C. M. McCauley to toast the mother-in-law. Miss Mackey toasted the girl left behind. The toasts were closed by the bride-elect giving her response.

With congratulations and best wishes to Miss Coggin and adieus to the hostesses each left feeling that it had been an ideal afternoon that would ever be treasured.

Miss Mattie Paylor entertained at her brother's, T. E. Paylor, Monday evening with an apron party. The young ladies enjoyed several guessing contests, one being the different articles found in and above a watch. At the conclusion marshmallow cake and punch was served to Misses Lowery, Rister, Sutphen, Wheeler, Lowrey, Warren, Josephine and Bessie Medlen.

The Actions of Mexican Rebels May Cause Some Complications.

CHINA IS MAKING A PROTEST

Washington Also Asked to Afford Protection. Madero Will Take Upon Himself Responsibility for Pacification of Country.

Eagle Pass, Tex., May 22.—Sam Wah, proprietor of the International Hotel in Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, Mexico, opposite this place, and a partner of Foon Chuck, the millionaire Chinaman of Mexico, who has large interests in Torreon and throughout Northern Mexico, received telegraphic information this morning from his agent at Torreon that 224 Chinese had been killed at Torreon in a fight with Mexican rebels. Forty-five of Wah's workmen on a farm and five in a restaurant were among those killed.

Sam Wah has telegraphed the Chinese minister at Washington and the ambassador at Mexico City asking protection.

North Mexico Quiet.

Juarez, Mex., May 22.—Tranquility of an officially declared variety, not unlike the quietude of the erstwhile general armistice but possessing more of the normal atmosphere of real peace, reigned in northern Mexico today for the first time in six months. Messages were flashed today over all wires and by courier to remote parts of the country announcing that a peace agreement had definitely ended the hostilities between the revolutionists and the federal government.

Undisguised joy beamed in the face of Judge Carbajal, the federal peace envoy, today as he prepared to depart for Mexico City, his mission here being accomplished after nearly four weeks of parleys. Francisco I. Madero, Jr., triumphant leader of the revolt, will await the resignation of President Diaz, starting for Mexico City within a week, when it is expected to become an established fact.

The commissioners expressed great relief that the task for which they so long had labored had been accomplished without the introduction of disagreeable conditions and without injuring the national prestige or dignity of their country.

Come and hear our new records. The Elite.

CITY CORPORATION IS VOTED DOWN

By a vote of 44 to 40 the citizens of Stanton decided that they didn't want incorporation in the election last Saturday. The interest was active and almost a full vote was polled. The books, obligations, etc. of the dissolved government will be taken in hand by the county and adjudicated, thus bringing to an end our one year reign of "local self government."

IF WE KNEW.

Could we but draw back the curtains
 That surrounds each other's lives,
 See the naked heart and spirit,
 Know what spur the action gives—
 Often we would find it better,
 Purer than we judge we would;
 We would love each one better,
 If we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds by motives,
 See the good and bad within;
 Often we would love the sinner
 All the while we loathed the sin,
 Could we know the powers working
 To overthrow integrity,
 We would judge each other's errors,
 With more patient charity.

If we knew the cares and trials,
 Knew the efforts all in vain;
 And the bitter disappointment—
 Understood the loss and gain—
 Would the grim, external roughness
 Seem, I wonder, just the same?
 Would we help where we now hinder?
 Would we pity where we blame?

Ah! we judge each other harshly,
 Knowing not life's hidden force;
 Knowing not the fount of action,
 Is less turbid at its source;
 Seeing not amid the evils,
 All the golden grains of good,
 Oh, we'd love each other better
 If we only understood.

PEACE IN MEXICO.

The sudden and unexpected assurance of the immediate resignation of President Diaz in all probability brings peace to Mexico, while it reveals with astonishing abruptness the real depths of disaffection throughout the country. The "old lion" would never have yielded had not conditions been so grave as to threaten almost immediate anarchy and disintegration. Only a few days ago he had declared a tentative purpose to resign, but throughout his statement breathed a defiance that boded ill for an early termination of the uncertainty. His almost complete surrender indicates that the seriousness of the situation has been borne on upon even his iron determination.

Diaz is also disclosed as capable of that patriotism his intimates have all along claimed for him. It would be silly to believe that the element of personal fear entertained into his calculations. So that even those who have most resented the old man's obstinacy must now admit he has been actuated by a sincere, if uncomprehending, desire for the ultimate welfare of the nation.

Given the confidence of the people, it ought not to be difficult to stamp out guerrilla warfare and, in due time, to work out a genuine democratic government. As for Diaz, personally, there can be only strong admiration, tinged with sympathy. He will stand out as one of the most powerful figures in the history of the new world. He brought rehabilitation and peace to Mexico by the only method that could, at that time, have been effectual. With the inevitable readjustment of time and progress, other mediums and processes were needed. The world will hope that he will be spared to see his country's welfare vindicate a sacrifice that required even more courage than he displayed in his earlier and more ruthless days.

Incidentally, the advocates of violence and intervention, the professional hot-heads, in our own country, are properly rebuked. Had President Taft been less firm, the present placid prospects would never had been approached. In all likelihood, we would have been drawn into an entanglement the end of which could only have been embarrassment, loss of life and extra tax levy on our people.—Atlanta Constitution.

President Diaz goes down under almost identically the same pressure that put him at the head of the government more than 30 years ago. There will never be permanent peace in any country on the western continent as long as the common people are oppressed. More than 400 years ago a spirit of equal rights to all the people was the prominent feature and direct cause of all the trouble the first settlers had with their mother country. Their cause prevailed and freedom proclaimed through out all the land. Since then other nations have been added to the roll and in no case where a republican form of government has been established have they ever returned to the autocrat rule. Diaz was slow to take the hint. Mex-

THE LITTLE ROCK RE-UNION.

The re-union at Little Rock was largely attended and a very enjoyable meeting so the boys report. Of course it had its sad features, as has been the case for several years some who left home well and hearty fell by the way and never returned. So it was 50 years ago. Then they were in the prime of manhood and gave up their young lives in a heroic struggle to defend a cause dear to all the south. It is different now the cause was lost, they are struggling to keep fresh the memories of the other days and stamp upon the pages of history that never surrender at Appomattox their love for their Dixie land.

Some stayed away on account of not feeling physically able to make the trip others had sickness in their families or other various good reason for not being there but will say that not one stayed away because his love for the cause had waned in the least degree.

The next meeting is to be at Macon, Georgia.

We notice of the graduates of the Abilene high school there are 17 girls and one boy. In the Merkel schools 7 girls and one boy. Now we are willing to grant that the girls have always been prettier and sweeter than the boys but are not ready to admit that they are naturally able to out number them in graduating classes, in fact it really ought not to be. Why do the boys drop out? They certainly have not figured on what it means to go out into the world without at least a high school education especially in this age when it is almost a necessity in every branch of business. Statistics show that the boy with a high school education receives $1.00 per day better wages than the one without it. Then it is a business proposition. An investment that pays a big dividend besides the polish and pleasure it carries with it. Of course some few have succeeded in the world without an education but these few cases only emphasize its importance. These very men would not be willing to try it again nor advise you to risk it. Boys get in the procession and try to make it a tie next year at least.

Billion Dollars for Factories.

The Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association has begun a campaign for a billion dollar factory investment in 1912. The amount seems large but not too large for Texas. Our farmers haul $1,200,000 worth of raw material to the foreign factory per day, our forests furnish the lumber for the furniture and wooden ware factories of the north, a railroad is now being constructed from the gulf to the iron ore fields of east Texas and our ore will soon be running the iron furnaces of the east. It will take more than a billion dollars invested in manufacturing to work up the raw material now being shipped out of the state and we have only one-fifth of our area under cultivation and our minerals are practically untouched, but a billion dollars is quite sufficient for a starter.

Texas is today the most inviting field on the globe for capital and when our opportunities are understood and our citizenship ready to welcome factory investments by patronizing their products, we will experience no difficulty in building up a civilization that will be the marvel of the 20th century.

Queer Case of Suicide.

An extraordinary case of suicide was described at an inquest held on the body of Alfred Hampson at Virginia Water, in Surrey. It was stated that Hampson suffered from weak-mindedness. He was left alone in his private room in a sanatorium for about twenty minutes, and when his attendant returned Hampson was found pressing a red-hot poker into his body. He informed Doctor Moore that he had been told he had a devil inside him, and the only way it could be killed was by means of a red-hot poker. He died next day.

Spirit Drops in on Friend. Mr. Andrew Lang, the eminent essayist and critic, relates a curious circumstance which recently happened in a little Scottish town. A man was dying, when he suddenly said, as if recognizing some person, "Eh, ye'll be frae the Whey Pat?" He then expired. On inquiry it was found that a man had died, coincidentally, at the rural tavern, the Whey Pat, a few miles distant! Apparently, after his death he had looked in on his friend, who was also about to enter the spirit land.

The American at the Gate.

"Next" called Saint Peter.

A tall, comely woman arose from the bench and came forward graciously. She was dressed for style rather than for comfort. Her clothes rustled vulgarly and her hair was manifestly different from what God intended it to be.

"Name, please."

"I am the American Wife."

"Are you sure?"

"Here is my marriage certificate."

"I mean are you sure you have been a wife?"

"As to that, I—"

"What do you understand the qualifications of a wife to be?"

"To take charge of the household and—"

"And do as little as possible in it, eh?"

"But you could not expect me to do the heavy work, could you?"

"You expected other women to do the heavy work?"

"Servants. They are different class."

"And you were peevish when they didn't do it just so?"

"But—"

"And you were always complaining that things weren't going right?"

"Let me—"

"And when your husband came home at night he had to hear all your little ailments, physical, mental, domestic and social."

"But, don't you—"

"Your idea all the time being to divorce yourself—"

"Not divorce—"

"From real usefulness of all kinds in order that you might engage in the most trifling occupations."

"Don't you think a woman should have some pleasure in life?"

"Sitting around the bridge table or at the matinee and eat rich food until you got fat and then haunting beauty doctors until you got thin. Wasn't that your highest ideal of pleasure?"

"I went to clubs and to church."

"To show your clothes."

"I had children."

"But you found it a terrible nuisance to take care of them."

"I could afford to hire nurses and governesses."

"But you couldn't afford to give them any of your own very valuable time."

"But my husband didn't want me to work myself to death."

"No, of course not. It is no better to work yourself to death than to loaf yourself to death. But, after all, your husband has nothing to do with it. We'll deal with him separately. You had your own life to live. His being foolish doesn't excuse you."

The American wife burst into tears as she saw her chance of heaven fading away.

"Here, none of that," commanded Saint Peter. "Tears have no effect on us." Then he turned to his clerk. "Clerk, give this woman a gingham apron and set her to work peeling potatoes and other odd jobs. Let me see her again in about six months."—Ellis E. Jones in Life.

The Demagogue

The passing of the demagogue has marked an important epoch in the progress of Texas. Like the desperado and the cowboy he has had a thrilling and exciting career and like them he has been compelled to give away to the trend of civilization.

He was the product of the times and the harder the times the more perfect the product. A Prince Albert coat, a slouch hat and a strong pair of lungs and he was ready for the hustings to warn the people against the approach of capital. He thrived best upon strife and dissension and his principal occupation was in shrewdly arraying class against class and then leading the stronger against the weaker force. With star defying audacity he would publicly attack the character of a prosperous industry and argue its destruction with all the logic and sincerity of a Pilgrim father pleading for the burning of a witch. He was a mixture of ignorance and genius, and would hunt out prosperous corporations and make their success a springboard on which he could bound into the spotlight by denouncing capital as sapping the life blood of the people and then proceed to argue hypothetically the cause of the down-trodden masses with the earnestness of a starving lawyer pleading his first case.

He was a patriot for applause and a politician for revenue and he sought the goal of his desire with the intuition of a gifted criminal and he would track his prey with the instinct of a hungry beast. But he is gone and may his shadow never again darken the threshold of Texas.

Good Roads

A farm with bad roads is worse off than a farm with bad water. It is hard to understand how a farmer, otherwise enterprising, should be backward in building roads. Travel through some of our rural districts and you will find farmers with blooded stock, land highly cultivated and premises well kept and with public highways that bog up an empty wagon six months in the year. Build roads and keep up with the procession.

Back to the Soil

There is too much money going for the luxuries of city life and not enough for country improvements.

The cry of "back to the soil" should apply to money as well as to men. It takes the coin of the realm to improve farms, build public highways and make farm life profitable and attractive.

The End of the World

should it come to-morrow would find fully 1/3 of the people suffering with rheumatism of either slight or serious nature. Nobody need suffer with rheumatism for Ballard's Snow Liniment drives away the trouble, relieves the pain instantly and leaves the users as well and supple as a two year old. Sold by H.C. Burroughs

Construction has begun on the $50,000 Santa Fe passenger station at Sweetwater.

Biliousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made me worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by all dealers.

Ground was broken on May 12 for the new $30,000 Garden Academy at San Antonio.

The Texas Mule

The bray of the Texas mule is heard around the world, for wherever he goes he lustily sings the praises of his native land. He is the most sturdy farmer and the most successful miner of the animal kingdom. He is the only animal that did not enter Noah's ark. By good conduct he has overcome the prejudices of an illegitimate lineage and has successfully fought his way into the highways of industry with his parents as competitors, until today he drags the nation's commerce. He is a self-made animal. Year by year he has patiently studied new occupations and adapted himself to changed conditions until he is the master of more industrial pursuits than any other animal and he is by far the Commercial King of Beasts. He has arisen from obscure origin to the wealthiest of domestic animals; he is worth $28 per head more than the horse, six times more than the Texas steer and fourteen times more than the hog.

1910 VALUE PER HEAD $108.

During the past ten years the Texas mule has attracted the attention of Uncle Sam by showing the greatest increase in value per head of mules of all states in the Union, having an increase of 118 per cent or $58.48 per head to his credit during the past decade and in doing so he has paid a dumb tribute to the soil and climate of Texas that is far more convincing in its eloquence than all the tongues of our orators or pens of our writers. The whole world marvels at a country that can rear such mules.

We have more than twice as many mules as any other state in the Union. The census reports of the Federal department of agriculture on Jan. 1, 1910, reports 792,000 head of mules and the last estimate of value per head made by the department places the average value of $108, making a total value of all mules of all ages of approximately $75,000,000, which is an increase of a quarter of a million mules in number and $45,000,000 in value, including both increase in value per head and increase in number during the past decade.

The mule raising industry is one of the most inviting pursuits and Texas is undoubtedly the greatest country on the globe for mule raising.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed by Merkel Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement. Read Merkel endorsement. Read the statements of Merkel citizens. And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it:

J. W. Bland, of Merkel, Texas, says: "For several years I had attacks of kidney trouble. My kidneys were very weak, and when I caught cold it was sure to settle in them, causing the kidney secretions to become far too frequent in passage. I tried several remedies, but with little success until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Rust and McCauley's Drug Store. I can say that they did me a world of good. My back has not troubled me to any extent since using them, and my kidneys have performed their functions properly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Is This Your Girl.

The following, which we clip from an exchange, may not be true but contains a lesson that many thoughtless girls would be better for heeding.

We see stated in an exchange where a 15-year old girl in a neighboring town, who was in the habit of meeting the trains and flirting with the trainmen, succeeded in landing a beau. She gaily consented when he asked her to walk home with him. Her newly formed acquaintance asked to be led to her home and upon arriving there he boldly rang the door bell. Her mother came to the door and Mr. Traveling man delivered a short lecture, something like this:

"Madam, here is your little daughter. I picked her up at the depot, a place where girls of her age should not go alone unless on business. I have a daughter at home the age of this one. I am away from home a great deal of the time and am not certain whether my daughter meets the trains and flirts with the trainmen and the passengers or not, but if she does, I hope someone will do for me that which I have done for you—take her home to her mother."

Mrs. M. A. Sullivan.

Mrs. M. A. Sullivan, wife of E. D. Sullivan deceased, was a native of Tennessee and was born in the year 1828 and departed this life May 14, 1911, at 9:45 p. m. She embraced religion and united with the Presbyterian church in her youthful days.

After the death of her husband she made her home with the family of her brother Rev. A. A. Baker, where she spent her latter days. She had been an invalid for a number of years and through all her afflictions she expressed strong desires to depart and be at home with kindred spirits who had gone before.

While our hearts are sad and her room is vacant and her voice will not call us again in the home, our sadness disappears when we remember she only sleeps to rise again.

At the age of four score and three, A battle she has won; The heavenly angels greet her now And see the smiles upon her brow.

Yes, auntie, we will meet you In the sweet by and by, And we will sing together As do the angels now.

And when our lives are ended And sorrow is no more, Then we will live together On that eternal shore.

Carrie Baker Warnick.

No Slavery to Work.

Deskins, Va.—Mrs. Mary A. Vandyke, in a letter from Deskins, says: "I had serious female troubles, lasting 40 days at a time. I was so weak I could hardly walk, so I tried Cardui. Soon I was better. Now I am well." If you suffer from any form of womanly pain of weakness take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui will lift you out of the misery and weariness caused by womanly weakness, and help you to see the bright side of life. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

The Dying Never Shed Tears

"I have stood by the bedside of hundreds of dying people," observed an old physician, "and I have yet to see a dying person shed tears. No matter what the grief of the bystanders may be, the stricken person will show no sign of overpowering emotion. I have seen a circle of agonized children around a dying mother—a mother who, in health, would have been touched to the quick by signs of grief on a child—yet she reposed as calm and unemotional as though she had been made of stone. There is some strange and inexplicable psychological change which accompanies the act of dissolution. It is well known to all physicians that pain disappears as the end approaches. And nature seems to have arranged it so that mental peace shall also attend our last lingering illness."

Extra Special Announcement.

We are authorized to announce that the Fort Worth Record will make the following unusual offer to Rural Route subscribers on account of the forthcoming prohibition campaign: The Daily and Sunday Record will be sent by mail to any Rural Route address or to those living in small towns where the Record is not delivered by local carrier, from now to July 31st, 1911, for $1.00, or from now until August, 31st, 1911, for $1.50. Remit by money order direct to the Record Co., Fort Worth, Texas.

Every farmer should become thoroughly posted on this great vital question and the Record can be depended upon to give both sides of the question fully and impartially.

RAMESES, A GREAT EGYPTIAN

Was Inordinately Vain and Ostentatious, but a Courageous and Determined Fighter.

Rameses' superb statue in Turin is proven by his surviving body to be a faithful portrait, showing us at least the outward man as he was. In person he was tall and handsome, with features of dreamy and almost effeminate beauty, in no wise suggestive of the manly traits which he certainly possessed. For the incident at Kadesh showed him unquestionably a man of fine courage with ability to rise to a supreme crisis; while the indomitable spirit evident there is again exhibited in the tenacity with which he pushed the war against the great Hittite Empire and carried his conquests, even if not lasting, far into northern Syria. After his nearly fifteen years of campaigning, in which he more than redeemed the almost fatal blunder at Kadesh, he was quite ready to enjoy the well earned peace. He was inordinately vain and made far more ostentatious display of his wars on his monuments than was ever made by Thutmose.

With his name perpetuated in vast buildings distributed at all points along the Nile from the marshes of the northern Delta to the Fourth Cataract. Rameses lived on in magnificence even surpassing that of Amenhotep III. His was the sunset glory of the venerable line which he represented.—Breadsted's "A History of Egypt."

A Family's School Attendance Record. Few families can boast of the school attendance record of the four children of J. R. Dannatt, assistant overseer of Newchurch, Isle of Wight, who have been connected with the local school for 17 years.

They have attended for an aggregate of thirty-two years and one month without missing a single attendance. The record is as follows: Harry Dannatt, five years and five months; Charlie, ten years and five months; Nemo, seven years and ten months, and Ada, eight years and five months. The school is about two miles from the family's residence, and the distance traveled by the quartet in journeying to and from school exceeds 30,000 miles.—London Daily Mail.

The Farmers Our Best Citizens.

Every battle field that marks the worlds progress, the victory of liberty over tyranny, or right over wrong has been deluged with the blood of our farmers. The farmer evades neither the tax nor the recruiting officer. The sons and daughters of our farmers are filling the seminaries, colleges and universities of the land and from our farm homes have gone in the past, as they are going now, leaders in literature, science and art, presidents of great universities, the heads of great industrial enterprises and they direct our government. The typical American today is the farmer and city life with its stir and bustle, its hurry and rush must be replenished from our rural homes.
