dedicated fishermen . . . like Dave Hawk, John Fox, Glenn Hayden, Jackie Hewlett, etc. We are firmly convinced that the difference between the fellow who catches a lot of fish and one who catches few is -- real hard work. There is more to successful fishing than tossing the bait in the water and letting nature take its course. Bait that lies dormant on the bottom or suspends motionless beneath a float will lure a few fish. But it won't have the appeal of the same bait that is really "fished" by the fisherman. In this case, "fished" means putting action into the bait.

Fish don't always strike because they like the smell of the bait. If the fish have fed recently, they may ignore the bait entirely. However, if this same bait has action, the odds are good that the well-stuffed fish will fin over to do something about it. This is simply because game fish have a common trait. They are truculent and bent on challenging small but lively marine life that intrudes or strays into their domain.

Successful anglers fish out every cast from the time the bait or lure hits the water until it is reeled back up to the rod tip top. Only when live bait is used does the angler not have to actively "fish" the bait to be successful. In this case, the live shrimp, minnow, or worm, does the bulk of the work. But if dead bait is used, then the fisherman must work it to get results.

There is even more work involved when artificial lures are used. Dead, natural baits have an odor that will attract some species like catfish. Unless specially coated, the artificial lures have no odor, and their appeal to fish must be made on an action basis. This simply means that the angler has got to work at his lure fishing to be successful. Fishing is not for the lazy. It just looks that way!

Cutting Contest --

Tentative judges for the show will be Doyle Stowe and Dwayne Winkles, both of Clovis, and Sam Aldridge of Farwell.

An admission of $1 for adults (12-years-old and up) will be charged at the gate. The concession stand will be open and will serve food and drinks during the show.

The first three places in the contest will be awarded cash prizes. The jackpot will be made up from $12 out of the $15 entry fee, with $3 going for the cattle.

There will be two divisions in the contest, a Futurity division for horses two to four and a Maturity division for horses five and older.

Friday Incident --

Youth Arrested In Local Theft

Several juveniles have been arrested the past week in connection with thefts in Farwell and Bovina, reports Sheriff Charlie Lovelace.

Two youths, one from Texico and the other from Clovis, were arraigned Friday on charges of theft in connection with a theft at Helton Oil Co. last week. Bond was set at $1,000 each. Tools were taken from trucks in the yard at Helton Oil Co., and a pump owned by C. L. Mahaney and also tractor tools were taken near the yard at Helton Oil. All of the stolen goods have been recovered, according to Sheriff Lovelace, who says the juveniles are awaiting trial and are confined to Parmer County jail.

It takes thousands of cars to move wheat at harvest time-- Santa Fe is ready!

420-million bushels is the estimated harvest now getting under way in the southwest and midwest wheat belt. This harvest has to be moved from growing areas to elevators and mills, also to ports for export.

Here's how Santa Fe has been getting ready for this big job.

At the start of the year we ordered 800 giant 100-ton covered hopper cars which are ideal for moving wheat, potash and bulk commodities as they can be loaded in twelve minutes and unloaded in about three minutes. During April we added 500 more to increase the order to 1300 cars, so we could have almost 10,000 giant hoppers ready by harvest. We also use box cars and other types of equipment to keep the wheat rolling.

And there are other ways we are ready for this big job. Last year we expanded and automated our Argentine Yard at Kansas City, which is a busy wheat terminal. Our data center at Topeka is prepared to keep constant check on cars to gain the best possible utilization of equipment. Diesel units have been added to our locomotive fleet and older units updated to move the wheat trains.

Now the harvest is starting and Santa Fe people, with their experience and dedication, are ready to handle this big transportation job. All together we are making our strongest effort to move this year's wheat harvest while at the same time keeping all other freight moving across our railway.

"To efficiently move huge volumes of wheat at harvest time must depend on fast loading and unloading of cars by shippers, elevator operators and at port terminals. We must also rely on prompt inspection by government agencies. Through cooperation with everyone in the grain industry, Santa Fe is making an all out effort to move this year's wheat harvest without a serious car shortage."

Lightning Strikes; Two Fires Result

Friday night's spectacular electrical storm kept Bovina Volunteer Fire Department busy during the early morning hours when they were called to two separate lightning-caused fires, one in town and the other at the Charlie Ross farm, northwest of Bovina.

The fire department boys were called to the Ross place about 2 a.m., when a storage shed, apparently struck by lightning, caught fire. The shed, used for storage by Don Murphy, who farms the place, was totally destroyed. It reportedly contained several barrels of flammable material.

An alarm was turned in by Jerry Wright, who reported lightning struck his house and ignited insulation material in the attic of his home. The fire department went directly from the Ross fire to Wright's home. Firemen entered the attic and removed the insulation. No damage, other than burned wiring, was reported there.

The firemen finished their night's chores about 4:30 a.m. Saturday morning.

Freeze your best sauces in Tupperware 2-ounce Midget plastic containers and, when frozen, store the cubes in polyethylene bags. When a recipe calls for just a few tablespoons of basic sauce, put the cubes into a measuring cup... set the cup into a skillet of simmering water... and the sauce will be deliciously ready in only 10 minutes.

Why not double or triple quantity when preparing favorite dishes? Then, you can eat one portion for dinner that day -- and freeze the rest for dinner a week or two later.

Before packaging poultry for the freezer, remove the original wrapping and cardboard plate.

The first may not be moisture- and air-resistant; the second absorbs moisture and may impart flavors and odors to the poultry during freezer storage. Use a Tupperware plastic container for best freezing results. There are many sizes and shapes to choose from and all have unique airtight seals to lock in goodness and freshness.

Meat loaves, raw or cooked, freeze well. To defrost and cook uncooked loaf: empty into baking pan and bake according to recipe directions, increasing baking time by 50%. To defrost cooked loaf: remove from container, wrap in foil and bake in a 400 degree Fahrenheit oven for 30 minutes.

NEW STYLES: TWO FOR THE ROAD

"Of models and throbbles" may well summarize the 1971 theme of the new outfits for the girls who work for Hertz Rent A Car. An array of "style-t-yourself" fashions provides a new wardrobe for each girl. At right, the number one style of the current season—pants suits—is included in the uniform styles of the No. 1 car rental company. Tunics complement each of the dresses in the new uniform collection, as shown at left in one of gold. These outfits and others offer fashionable examples of a new "carisma."

NEW FHA ROOM --- Looking over scrapbooks and records in the recently-completed red and white FHA room at the homemaking cottage are new officers of that organization, left to right, Gail Dixon, Rhonda Rhodes, Patti Mills, April Wilson and Cindy Barrett. Nena Spicer, secretary-treasurer of the group, was attending Girls State and could not be present for the meeting. Mrs. Janie Potts, homemaking instructor and FHA sponsor, met with the group to form a new program and name committees for the coming year.

Cook's Corner

"I just live an everyday life, I guess," says Mrs. Lowell (Kathy) Boozer, "it doesn't sound like much but I do a lot." A resident of Bovina since 1955, Kathy was born in Memphis and moved here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Jones. She began third grade here and was graduated from Bovina High School in 1964. She and Lowell were married just three weeks before she was graduated from high school. Boozer moved to Bovina from Hale Center in 1961 with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Zemrey Boozer.

Members of the Bovina United Methodist Church, Kathy has taught the kindergarten Sunday School class and is currently serving as reporter for Bovina Women's Study Club. "Sewing is my main hobby, I sew just about everything for Misty and myself," Kathy says about her hobbies. In addition to caring for their two children, Misty, age four, and David, seven months, Kathy professes to enjoy yardwork, swimming, skiing (water and snow), cook-outs and entertaining. She worked as a secretary for a lumber company in Friona two years before the birth of her daughter. One of the five recipes Kathy is sharing with Blade readers this week is Mrs. Zemrey Boozer's potato salad.

GOD IS LOVE

The most wonderful news that man can receive is that God is love (1 Jno. 4:16). God is eternal being. But if He is not concerned for man who is a creature of time, a created being which thus has not existed externally, then man can have no real and lasting hope. God is all powerful, but if God does not love man, the power of God becomes simply a source of terror to us. God is holy; but if God does not love us the holiness of God must repel us from God, for we are unholy. God is just, but we have sinned and, unless there is compassion with God, there is only fear in the heart of man when he thinks upon holiness of God and of man's own sinfulness. Thus without the truth that God is love, the other truths about God would work for our condemnation and not for our salvation.

What is the definition of love? Henry C. Sheldon says, "It is 'holy love,' and stated that it could also be viewed as 'loving righteousness.'" Charles Hodge pointed out that there is nothing in God incompatible with love; no malice or malignity, no coldness or indifference. Love includes benevolence and also the desire for communion with the object of one's love. International Standard Bible Encyclopaedia defined it as: "Love is an earnest and anxious desire for, and an active and beneficent interest in, the well being of the one loved."

What is love? Simply stated, GOD IS LOVE. He has manifested an earnest, active, anxious and beneficial interest in His creature man. Who enables us to love? God does. He is the source from which love comes, for God is love.

On The Farm In Parmer County

Alfalfa has the highest plant nutrient requirement of all forage crops. An eight-ton yield removes 360 pounds of nitrogen, 80 pounds of phosphorus, and 360 pounds of potassium. If inoculated, nitrogen will not be needed. If the crop is not growing off properly and has not been fertilized this year, 80 to 120 pounds of phosphorus should be broadcast after the first cutting, just ahead of water. In sandier areas, have a soil test made to evaluate possible potassium deficiency.

The Swine Outlook is brightening. Recent statistical figures on swine numbers by the USDA indicate decreasing numbers by mid-summer. This should result in a corresponding rise in hog prices at the same time and continuing into early 1972. Swine producers in the 10 corn belt states report their farrowing intentions during March, April and May, 1971, to be seven per cent less than during the same period in 1970. In the June, July and August, 1971, period, they are expected to cut farrowing by 15 per cent. If these intentions are realized, there will be less hogs for market starting in August or slightly earlier. So, a price rise for market hogs can be expected by mid-summer.

The USDA report also indicates that there was about 22 per cent more hogs to be marketed during May than a year ago. So, don't expect much improvement in hog prices before mid-summer.

Record Keeping is important, even at planting time. Although farmers are busy with field work, now is the time to think about record keeping and the kinds of analysis that will be desired at the end of the crop year. Memories often fall six months hence when the exact fertilizer and herbicide rates or hours of irrigation time are needed to generate enterprise analysis. Each producer should keep a diary handy and should note all pertinent information while it is fresh on his mind. These data can then be transferred to a permanent record at a more convenient time.

Ornamental Insect Pests are beginning to increase in numbers throughout the area. Now is the time for homeowners to control bagworms, euonymus scale and elm leaf beetles. The euonymus scale is a difficult insect to control unless insecticide applications are times properly. The newly-hatched scales are presently in the mobile or crawler stage and are susceptible to insecticides. However, after the insects form the protective scale covering, control becomes difficult. Malathion, diazinon, or dimethoate (Cygon) provide good control of cedars and many other trees. Infested trees should be sprayed with malathion, toxaphene, carbaryl (Sevin) and diazinon for good bagworm control.

Tiny bagworm larvae can now be found feeding on the foliage of cedars and many other trees. Malathion, Sevin and toxaphene also give good control of elm leaf beetles. Additional applications of these insecticides in July and August are usually required. Due to the size of most elm trees, high pressure sprayers are usually required for good spray coverage. Disulfoton (Di-Syston) granules (15 per cent) at the rate of two and one-half ounces per inch of tree trunk diameter give excellent elm leaf beetle protection. However, this material is required for use only by commercial growers or professional applicators.

In Texico --

Sherley-Anderson Buys SL Grain

Sherley-Anderson elevators recently purchased the State Line Grain elevator located on the state line road in Texico-Farwell, according to Fred Chandler, employee of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman, Inc. of Farwell. The former State Line Grain company will now be known and operated under the name Sherley-Anderson-Pitman, Inc.

Chandler says Sherley-Anderson-Pitman of Texico will be operated in conjunction with the Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator in Farwell. The company retained Myron Hillock as elevator superintendent for the Texico elevator. However, during harvest Fred Chandler from the Farwell elevator will assist with receiving grain at the Texico elevator. Johnie Williams will be manager of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevators in Texico and Farwell.

PUNCH A HOLE, put in the soil and plant the seedling or cutting—then let nature take its course. Polystyrene foam cups, used by the billions for hot and cold food beverage service, are used by tens of thousands as plant starters by nurseryman F.D. Hall of Butler, Pa., who recommends them as the ideal plant starter for the home gardener. Hall, who has been using between 50,000 and 75,000 six-ounce foam cups a year for the past seven years, says that the cups provide distinct advantages over peat pots and other containers.

UNCLE LUKE IS A SKEPTIC

To be truthful about it, Uncle Luke is plumb "ornery" about a lot of things. He rants at the blasted "airplanes" that scare his chickens . . . he fusses about the way women dress nowadays . . . he's never been to a picture show . . . and one of his pet hates is those "x" "x" "x" squawk boxes" somebody around the house is always turning on while he's trying to read his newspaper. Oh yes! Uncle Luke likes his newspaper . . . dotes on it, in fact. Says it's the only way a feller could tell what's really going on in this crazy world nowadays.

Thank goodness we don't have to put up with many folks like Uncle Luke . . . but if you have an advertising message and want to be sure Uncle Luke sees it . . . put it in YOUR HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER.

A Consumer's Buying Guide To Summer Barbecue Fun

With the advent of summer, backyard chefs are in bloom all over the United States. This hardy perennial comes up with the daffodils and lasts all summer long. Certain hardy varieties in northern climates thrive right into December.

Many of this season's culinary experts are faced with the problem of replacing old, worn-out barbecue grills with shiny new models. Others may be ready to escalate their grapplings with chicken or steer to a new level of expertise and are ready to graduate to more sophisticated equipment.

In either case, and in most others, there is a barbecue grill for every purpose.

The Structo Barbecue Institute advises the potential purchaser to follow these simple rules when purchasing new charcoal grilling equipment for the patio or backyard:

1. Assess the level of your own skills honestly before making that purchase. If you are a hot dog and hamburger man, you may not want a deluxe wagon grill with warming oven and electric rotisserie.

2. If your level of competence is not a factor, then consider the design elements that pertain to your yard or patio. Grills come in a wide variety of designs and styles, from chaste Scandinavian stylings, to contemporary "functional", to kettle grills that come in a number of decorator-coordinated colors and finishes.

3. There is a barbecue grill for every pocketbook. Basic picnic grills can be purchased for as little as about $3.00 while there are fancy wagon grills with accompanying accessories that can cost over $50.

There is a wide number of choices at prices in between. If "franks and burgers" are the limits of your desire when it comes to charcoal cookery, an 18-inch picnic or brazier grill is probably just what you ought to have. 18-inch picnic grills come in a number of styles. They range from short-legged models for the beach or table top grilling, to folding models, to telescoping models that can be adjusted to any convenient height. These models also come in a wide variety of trims and colors, from basic black to super deluxe.

Brazier grills offer the backyard chef a little more convenience and durability for a modest increase in price. They come in a variety of colors and can be obtained with wheels or without, folding or non-folding, with windscreens and utility shelves or without.

The kings of the barbecue set are the wagon grills and the kettle grills. Wagon grills offer greater control of cooking temperatures and a wide variety of options. They are all mobile with wheels as standard equipment. Some models come with heat-tempered viewing windows for the cooking area and the warming ovens, utility shelves, convenient work shelves, storage cabinets, rotisserie motors, and adjustable spits and temperature gauges. Many of these options are interchangeable for a variety of uses and prices. Smart, color-coordinated styling sets these apart from run-of-the-mill wagon grills. However, you don't have to be a barbecue gourmet to use these finer grills.

Gourmet chefs generally agree that kettle grills offer a great degree of temperature control for fine cooking. Through draft controls and a temperature gauge, the experienced patio chef can achieve and maintain a degree of temperature that is the equal to those obtainable on the most modern kitchen ranges with their sophisticated temperature controls. Kettle grills come in a variety of colors and finishes, too . . . from heavy gauge drawn steel, to porcelain enameled steel, to cast aluminum.

Although these grills perform best when cooking roasts, chicken, turkey, or skewered dinners, with the hinged kettle lid up, acting as a wind break, they can do justice to the humblest fare.

The Structo Barbecue Institute points out that many families utilize more than one grill for its charcoal cooking activities, with the more sophisticated wagon grills, kettles, and hooded grills for use around the home, and a portable model for beach, camping, and cottage uses.

What to do with that old grill? Fire bowls for the braziers and picnic grills make admirable in-the-ground or hanging planters, according to some of the Institute's correspondents, while others have used the bottom halves of old kettle grills — repainted, of course — as birdbaths and planters.
