YOU MAY HAVE HEARD about the "Victory Tour" this summer by the Jacksons, of whom the soprano-voiced Michael Jackson is the leader. What you may not have heard is that the tour is designed to fleece their fans out of millions of dollars, and set the entertainment group up for early retirement if they choose.

In their appearance in Dallas this weekend, for example, the Jacksons advertised their tickets at $30 each, and they could only be ordered by applying for four-ticket blocks. Those wanting tickets had to send a mail order for $120 into the Jacksons' headquarters.

The concert will be held in Texas Stadium, which will hold 43,000 fans for each night's concert. Naturally, there are millions of young fans who would like a chance to see the Jacksons in person, since they are currently the top outfit, at least as far as the kids are concerned.

Those lucky enough to be selected by the computer to receive tickets for the Dallas concert were to get their tickets two days ahead of the concert. Those living 400 miles away had lots of notice as to how to plan their weekend, didn't they?

The ticket applications were made several weeks ago. The Jackson promotion promises to refund the money to those who do not get tickets "within four to six weeks." That's where the scam comes in.

Reporters following the entertainment business say the Jacksons cashed all of the money orders immediately, and while their fans will eventually get their money back, they will have the use of this pile of cash, estimated to be as much as 1.2 billion dollars, for a couple of months.

One writer who is following the situation estimates that the Jacksons should make in the neighborhood of $16 million on this investment, from their Dallas appearance. And this is OVER and ABOVE what they will make on the concert itself.

Now, if this isn't enough to make you want to go and rip the tapes out of your kid's cassette, how about some more?

The money order had to be accompanied by a coupon printed in newspaper advertisements. But in the height of arrogance, the Jacksons told newspapers they had no intention of paying for the ads. The newspapers were to print the advertisements free, or not at all.

Papers in several places, such as Tulsa, Topeka, Wichita and St. Louis told the Jacksons to go jump in the lake, but all three daily newspapers in the Dallas-Fort Worth area ended up running the ads. They justified their move by the fact that they would sell thousands of extra copies containing the Jackson coupon, but they set a dangerous precedent.

That's not all. The Jackson management is asking for free stadium rental in their appearances. Again, a couple of Texas places, including the Cotton Bowl and the Astrodome, told the Jacksons "Thanks, but no thanks." The Cotton Bowl manager told them it would not be fair to other promoters to do anything different for the Jacksons. In addition, most facilities would receive a percentage of the sales of merchandise, but not from the Jacksons.

About all Texas Stadium and the city of Irving is getting to keep, to help pay for the clean-up after the three concerts, is the profits from the food and drink concessions. Oh, yes—they have also raised the parking fee at Texas Stadium from the usual $3 to $5 for the event.

We also heard that the Jackson tour had booked 32 rooms at a posh Dallas hotel, and immediately began to dicker with the management for a bigger discount than was customary for the hotel to give.

Local Youngsters Complete Bike Course

The Bicycle Safety Clinic that was sponsored by the Bovina 4-H Club last week was a big success. It was taught by Mel Clark, one of Bovina's police officers.

On Monday, there were 15 children who came. The day was spent checking their bikes to see if they were really safe. Tuesday, the group spent the day learning and discussing the bicycle laws. On Wednesday, twenty-four children spent the day learning and also practicing the signals for bikers to use when riding. Thursday the children reviewed what they had learned during the week and registered their bikes with the police department.

On Friday, the youngsters "had a blast" at the bicycle rodeo held for them located behind the school house. They had an obstacle course set up for them to ride through, a flag race and also a barrel race.

They were grouped with youngsters their own size. Those winning first place were: Manuel Porras, Elizabeth Porras, Michael Helton, Angel Porras, Carlos Garza, Andy Stormes, Corkey Brito, Crystal Trim, Cory Graves, Wayne Stormes, Joshua James and Tammy Stormes.

Second place winners were John Stormes, Floyd Yell, Jamie Graves, Tobyn Dyer and Shonda Trim.

In addition to their ribbons, each child was presented with a certificate for completing the Bicycle Safety Clinic. Those children completing the clinic but unable to attend the rodeo were Cain Neal, Isabel Marrufo, Sunshine Stone, Charlie Stone, Randy Stone, Felipe Salinas and Teresa Stone.

The Bovina 4-H appreciated officer Mel Clark for all the work and effort to make the week of learning a lot of fun for many young people.

Maesie Flynn was in a group of 47 who recently toured seven countries in sixteen days. Among the group were two men from Clovis, the pastor and youth director of the Central Baptist Church, Dr. John Wheat and Kenneth Yeakey.

There were so many in the group that they had to split into two parties. Maesie's group spent time touring New York City's attractions and took in a Broadway musical, "Forty-Second Street."

They flew from Kennedy Airport out of New York to Jordan. The first morning they took a motor trip to the King Hussein Bridge from Jordan to the west bank. They then proceeded to Jericho, the world's city, whose walls were destroyed by the power of God. Viewing the "Mount of

Bovina Man Is Stabbed, Four Arrests Made

Guadalupe Trevino, 33, was stabbed in the early morning hours of Saturday, June 30, at approximately 12:30 a.m., at his residence in Bovina, according to Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan. He was reported to be in fair condition following the stabbing at Clovis High Plains Hospital.

The four suspects then left Bovina in the victim's vehicle. They were arrested about one hour later at a Clovis bar by Clovis police officers.

Arrested in connection with the incident were Eduardo Diaz, 22, Guadalupe Lopez, 22, Henry Silva, 42, and a 16-year-old juvenile, all of Bovina. The juvenile was released to his parents, pending formal charges being filed.

The three adults signed waivers of extradition in New Mexico, and were returned to Farwell and are in Parmer County Jail.

All three men appeared before Justice of Peace Albert Smith on July 2, and were charged with aggravated assault. Bond was set at $5,000 each, and the case is pending Grand Jury action.

Three Students Attend Meeting

Six thousand Texas FFA members and guests are expected to attend the 56th Annual Convention of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, July 11-13, at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

Three members of the Bovina FFA Chapter will be attending. They are Tommy Hutto, Terry Moore and Ted Clayton. Tommy is the son of Gene and Vi Hutto, Ted is the son of James and Sandra Clayton and Terry is the son of Sonny and Melba Moore.

Vocational Agriculture is well known for providing learning experiences to students through the FFA with the theme this year—"Keeping America On The Grow." The ultimate objective is to produce future leaders for American agriculture with its vital role of producing food and fiber. Texas now has more than 900 FFA chapters with over 60,000 active members and more than 500,000 former members.

During the convention, over 2,000 award winners will be recognized with more than 1,700 members receiving the Lone Star Farmer Degree, the highest level of recognition by the state association. Educational scholarships totalling more than $450,000 will be presented to many of the members in attendance.

Durwin Hill, executive secretary, reports that deserving adults who have supported the FFA and its activities will be recognized by the presentation of Honorary State Farmer Degrees, Distinguished Service Awards, and VIP Awards.

Outstanding speakers scheduled during the three-day convention include State Senator Bill Sarpalus, Amarillo, Texas; Dan Clark, nationally known motivational speaker, Salt Lake City, Utah; and Bill Caraway, National FFA Secretary, Clovis, New Mexico.

Brad Bass, state president from Mount Vernon, Texas, will preside at the general sessions. These sessions will include the election of the 1984-85 state president from the state officer candidates nominated by the ten area associations. From ten area nominees, voting delegates will also select the state FFA sweetheart to represent the state association during 1984-85. Those in attendance will hear and recognize the Outstanding Public Speaker who will represent Texas at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

Recreational activities will include the Fun Night and Talent Contest where the delegates will select the Outstanding Talent Team from ten area nominees.

The Texas FFA Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting on Thursday afternoon along with the State FFA Convention. In addition, the alumni will host a reception for the past state FFA officers and participate in the presentation of its publicity award.

Convention participants will have the opportunity to visit with approximately sixty commercial exhibitors to observe new methods, products and equipment in the agribusiness industry.

ATTEND ELECTRICITY CAMP.... Five Parmer County residents were among 125 4-H'ers who spent five days, June 18-22, in the Sacramento Mountains south of Cloudcroft, New Mexico, learning about electricity. Southwestern Public Service Company hosted the camp and SPS employees provided the

A. Alexander Is Member Of "Texas" Stage Crew

The name of the show is "Texas," and it is staged each summer in Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo. With a name that assumes an entire state, and with a 600 foot backdrop, the performers who dare to sing, dance, or act in the show had better be something special.

And they are. Eighty performers, supported by sixty technicians and hospitality crew members were selected at auditions and personal interviews held in January and February throughout Texas and New Mexico.

In late May they arrived in Canyon to begin rehearsals and preparations for the opening of "Texas" June 13. And they trekked from all over. Not just from Canyon and Amarillo, not even just from Texas, but from nine states. They call 45 cities "home."

Somehow, the directors will mold these eighty distinct individuals into a whole that is greater than the sum of its parts. Solo voices will be blended into a chorus that raises goose bumps as it sings familiar western songs. Individual dancers will be formed into a body that creates pictures of drama and fun. Actors will lose themselves and be transformed into pioneers of the 1880's struggling with drought, storms, Indians and their own weakness.

Andy Alexander is a stage technician. He is a sophomore in his first year at West Texas State University where he is a theatre major. He has appeared in two main stage productions, "Ten Little Indians" and "The Good Doctor." In addition to working technical crew for these two shows, he worked on the crew for "Grease," "Cosi Fan Tutti" and "Coppelia." Andy has also appeared in several student productions at WT.

Andy is a 1983 graduate of Bovina High School. His parents are Dr. Bob and Chris Alexander of Friona and

ANDY ALEXANDER

Bob and Sarah Owen of Bovina. "Texas" has played in its Pioneer Amphitheatre for eighteen seasons to almost 1,500,000 people. Its visitors are vacationers, conventioners, honeymooners, scouts and senior citizens. They camp, stay in ritzy hotels, "board" with friends or relatives, or settle right in on the parking lot with their motor homes. "Texas" plays nightly, except Sunday from June 13 through August 25 in 1984. Ticket prices range from $5-$7 for adults with children's tickets half-price in the lower priced sections. For information or reservations, call or write "Texas," Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2181.

Doug Roming Earns Degree

Doug Roming from Bovina received a bachelor degree in agricultural education at Texas A&M University's spring commencement exercises.

A total of 3,379 degrees were awarded, including 2,932 bachelor's, 362 master's and 85 doctorates.

Scooter's Scoops

By Scooter Russell

Levi Johnson entered St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock on Thursday of last week for tests and treatment. He got out of the hospital on Saturday and is home.

His wife, Ethyl, said Levi is feeling good and they are hopeful that all will continue to go well for him.

Visitors in the Sam Stormes, Jr. home over the weekend were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stormes of El Reno, Oklahoma. They brought their granddaughter, Darla, home to Bovina. She had visited with them for several weeks. Darla's brother, Wayne, went back to Oklahoma with his grandparents to spend a few weeks.

Nelline Spicer returned home Saturday after spending a couple of weeks with her sisters and mother. While there the family enjoyed a family reunion at the home of Nelline's mother, Nell Gordon of Boswell, Oklahoma. Nelline's sisters, Adele Anderson of Dallas and Elsie Adams of Stilwell, Oklahoma were there and a host of nieces and nephews. The Spicers' son, Marty, and his wife, Audrey of Mesquite, were also able to be with them.

The family enjoyed a good visit and a sight-seeing tour to South Fork and Southern Cross, which are located in the Dallas area.

Joyce Read and her mother, Hazel Stowers, flew to San Marcos last Thursday to be with Joyce's daughter, Denise, who underwent surgery for an acute appendectomy on July 4. She is fine and came back to Bovina with her mom on July 7.

July 5 was Hazel's birthday so Joyce helped her mother celebrate. Denise's roommate, Judith, showed the ladies around. They visited the Aqua-arena Springs at San Marcos and enjoyed the River Walk at San Antonio. Other guides on their sight-seeing tour were former Bovinans, Joan Carson and Carol Ware of Austin.

Hazel flew back home July 7.

Our sympathies to Phillip Johnson, whose niece died in a Dallas hospital during recent days. Brenda, 22, suffered gall bladder problems and was hospitalized for five weeks. Among survivors were her husband, a four year old child and a one year old child, also her parents.

Mendy Rhodes, Marci Dale and Bea Dale spent a couple of fun days in Plainview with their friend, Lavonia Moody. While there, Lavonia had a rush trip to Lubbock to be with her brother who underwent surgery. The girls went with her and made it fine.

Heath and J.J. Wright of Albuquerque are in Bovina visiting their grandparents, Gladys and Woodrow Wright. Heath and J.J. will be spending about two and one-half weeks before returning to their home. They are the children of Jerry and Carol Jean Wright.

Gladys said they had been having fun eating out and going to the park.

Bessie Webb entered the Friona hospital last Saturday suffering with problems caused by an infection. She was released on Tuesday of this week.

We congratulate Randy and Renee James, who are parents of a new baby boy, Jonathan Cooper, born July 4 at 6:41 p.m. The baby weighed six pounds, six ounces and was nineteen inches long.

Also congratulations to Bovina grandparents, Floyd and Ann Lee Englant and the great-grandmothers, Bessie Webb and Alma Englant. Jonathan has two brothers and a sister, Mathew, Tom and Marsha. Friona grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Taylor.

Veda and Elmer McKay were on vacation last week and visited with several friends and relatives. Veda's mother, Rosie Osborn of Estelina has been with the McKays for several weeks and they took her back to Estelina. They visited in Memphis with Veda's sister, Osie Lee Bebb; her brother Ben J. Osborn of Clarendon, and two cousins, A.H. Phillips of Amarillo and Melvin Airhart of Claude.

This week they have their grandson, eight-year-old Timothy visiting from Lubbock. His parents are Wanda and Gerald Hedley.

The Jacksons will be millionaires several times over from their Dallas concerts. And you thought Texas was lucky to get one of the Jackson concerts? That's just what they wanted you to think!

"I was surprised how quick the variety was ready to graze."

"In fact, some of my neighbors tried to rent my pasture when they saw how much better established it was than others all around us."

Pioneer[®] variety 2157 gets off to a fast start, quickly establishing the kind of healthy, vigorous growing stand so necessary for good pasture. Its upright growth habit helps provide maximum available grazing.

And because 2157 has proven to be such a good yielder, you can count on it to deliver top-quality wheat at season's end.

If pasture is part of your wheat program, new 2157 should be, too.

New Wheat Variety 2157

Superior Yield • Excellent Standability • Outstanding Grazing

"When I pulled my combine into the field, I knew for sure this wasn't an ordinary wheat crop."

"That 2157 was standing out there good and straight. And when I moved down the rows, I could hear the cylinders running full."

Farmers who've seen this impressive new high yielding variety like its standability and tolerance to dry growing periods and severe weather. It has excellent resistance to leaf rust, stem rust, fungal leaf blights, soil borne mosaic virus and the Hessian fly.

In side-by-side comparisons, Pioneer[®] brand 2157 wheat has consistently out-yielded other popular varieties. And it has shown consistently high test weights.

"Making Jelly"
The "secret" to making good jelly is no secret at all--it's a combination of pectin, acid and sugar in the right amounts. Whether you make your own jelly each year or you're trying it for the first time, it pays to know how these ingredients work together.

Pectin determines the firmness of the jelly. Too little pectin can produce a jelly too soft to hold its form. But good homemade jellies don't have to have as much pectin as commercial jellies, which must be firm enough to withstand shipment.

Different kinds of pectins produce jellies with various degrees of firmness. For example, cranberry pectins yield jellies that break easily into small clumps, while apple pectins create more elastic jellies.

The acidity of the fruit also has something to do with firmness. Juices from higher acid fruits yield firmer jellies than juices from lower acid fruits, even where the pectin content is the same.

Fruits actually have a mixture of acids in them. But tartaric acid, which is plentiful in grapes and currants, is more efficient for jelly-making than citric or acetic acid.

Perhaps the biggest question in jelly-making is how much sugar to add, since that can vary from fruit to fruit. Most of the time, it's better to use a little rather than too much sugar if you want a jelly that will hold its form.

Experiments show that three-fourths cup of sugar per cup of fruit extraction works better than a cup or more of sugar, but that depends on their stage of ripeness and the amount of water used to cook them.

Having low acid or low pectin fruits does not mean you have to give up on making jelly. Low pectin fruits can be made into excellent jelly if commercial pectin is added. An acid can be increased in a fruit juice simply by adding lemon juice or combining it with other acid fruits.

the Valley of Kidron to visit Gethsemane and the Mt. of Olives. Continuing, they drove to Mt. Zion and visited Cenacle, the state of the Last Supper and King David's Tomb. They spent a night in the Jerusalem Hotel.

The next day they drove to the lowest point on earth and drove along the Dead Sea to Masada. It was at Masada that the small band of 960 Jewish Zealots held out against the advancing Roman legions and committed suicide instead of surrendering to slavery. They rode a cable car to the top of this fortress built by Herod along the southern shore of the Dead Sea. On top they viewed the environs left by the community after their three year battle. The group had lunch and spent the night.

The next day they traveled south through the Sinai region reminiscent of what the Israelites experienced centuries ago during their Exodus. After formalities at the border they crossed the Suez Canal, and continued onward to Cairo. They were able to see some of the farmland of Egypt.

In Cairo, the mystery, fascination and charm of the Oriental, Islamic Egypt unfolded before them as they viewed the city and its teeming masses. They visited the famous Egyptian Museum, with its collection

Carpenter Rites Held On Tuesday

Graveside services for Rose M. Carpenter, 75, were held Tuesday, July 10, at 4 p.m. in the Bovina Cemetery with Rev. I.S. Ansley, pastor from Friona, officiating.

Arrangements were by Ellis-Blackwell Funeral Home of Friona.

Born May 20, 1909, she had lived in Bovina for several years, moving to Prairie Acres Nursing Home in Friona two years ago. She died Saturday, July 7, at Prairie Acres.

Survivors include two nieces, Ida Mae Ellis and Willa Eva Hopkins, both of Shreveport, Louisiana.

rivaling those of the British Museum and the Metropolitan. They drove to the Citadel high on Mokattam Hills, a sentinel over Cairo where they visited the Mohammed Ali Mosque. The group thoroughly enjoyed a boat ride on the Nile. After lunch they visited Giza where they were able to see the Seven Ancient Wonders of the World--the Pyramids, where some were able to ride a camel to the base of the Great Pyramids and the Sphinx.

The next day they left the Holy Land and had a luxurious tour of the Alpine heartland. Then they boarded their motorcoach for a fascinating drive through Switzerland to Zurich.

The next day they enjoyed shopping, then drove through the little country of Liechtenstein enroute to Innsbruck, Rococo, capital of Austrian Tyrol. They toured the city and shopped for gifts.

The following day they drove to Ludwig's Neuchwanstein Castle for a visit and photographs. They checked into the hotel and toured the famous city.

The group then viewed the Passion Play, one act in the morning and the second act in the afternoon following lunch.

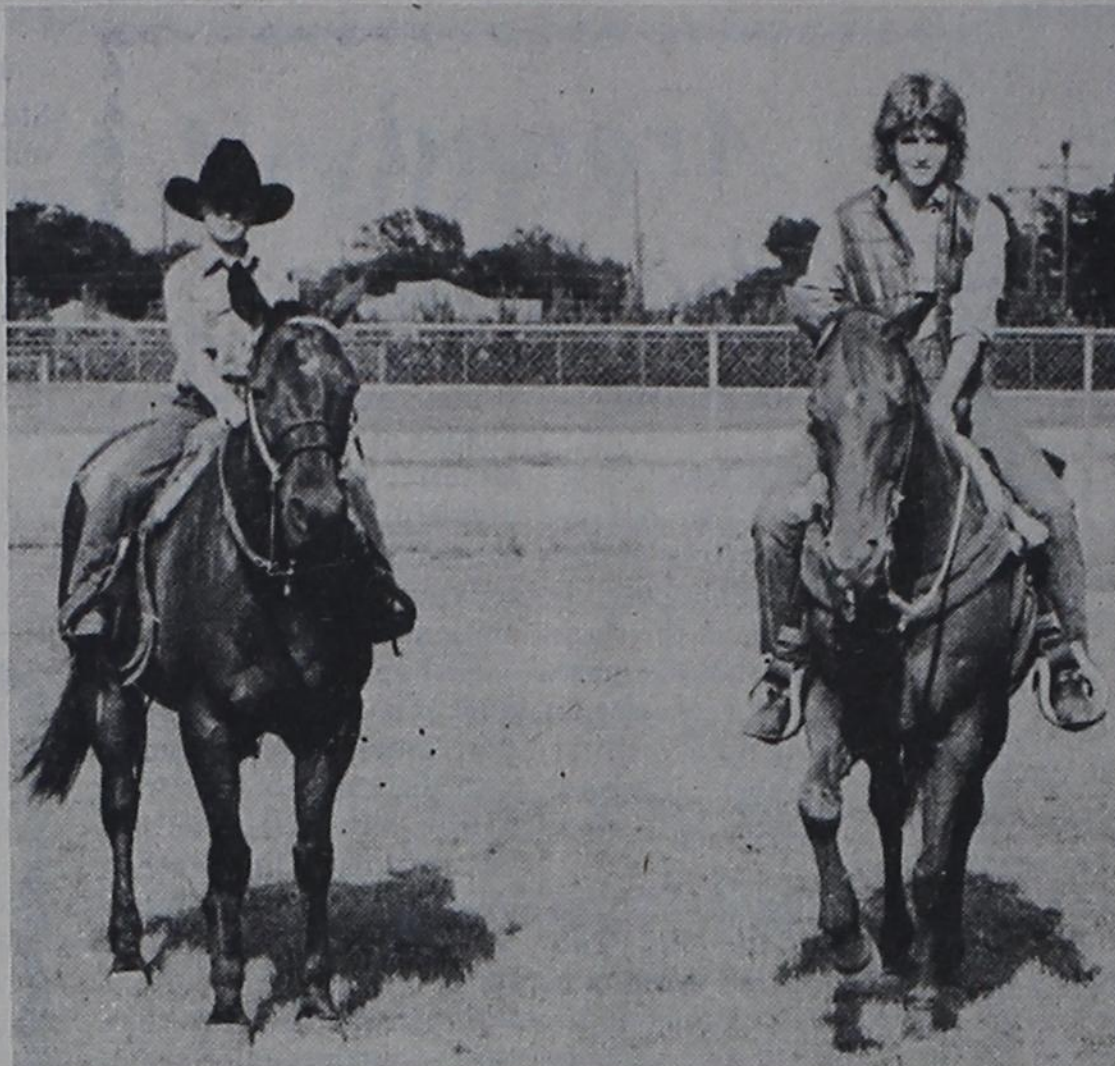

The next day they were able to visit Mozart's birthplace.

The group spent three days in Vienna, which included a drive around Schubert, Bruckner and Strass Memorials, the Grand Opera House, St. Stephen's richly carved Gothic spire and visited the 144-room Schonbrunn Palace. Late in the afternoon they joined together for their flight back to New York, bringing with them the delightful memories of the Holy Land and the Passion Play.

On the sixth day of the tour, Maesie stepped in a small hole and broke her ankle. The doctor put it in a cast and she missed most of one day's tour so the cast would harden but was able to continue during remaining days of the tour.

She said it was a wonderful trip and she would always treasure the memories.
