'Democracy In Action' Tour Success

around Muleshoe

A line of dark heavy clouds moved into the Muleshoe area late Thursday afternoon, bringing with them hail and heavy rains.

Marble sized hail and wet driving conditions were the cause of at least two accidents, east of Muleshoe on Highway 84. The hail was accompanied by heavy rains.

A representative of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation told the Journal Friday that three or four miles South of Circleback, on Highway 3397 water was over the road for a period of time. Water was also over the road one mile East of Circleback on Highway 298.

According to the highway spokesperson, all roads were clear Friday morning. All water had drained off during the night.

Leadership Muleshoe Group Returns From Austin Trip

According to Advisors R.A. Bradley and Carolyn Johnson, the Leadership Muleshoe's "Democracy in Action" Tour was a huge success with members of the organization receiving V.I.P. treatment from some of our state's top leaders.

Arriving in Austin last Thursday night, the tour began Friday morning with the first stop at a Williamson County District Court Room. There, Jeanne O'Marley, Administrative Assistant for Williamson County Juvenile Probation, spoke to the youth about juvenile crime and the juvenile justice system. She praised the youth for their stand for leadership and encouraged them to be proud of their small town heritage. "You can make a difference", O'Marley told the group. "You can be that person that changes others' lives."

From the court room, the group was taken to the William S. Lott Juvenile Detention Center. There, Craig Kotze, a Drug Prevention Specialist for the Governor's grant programs, spoke to the youth about the importance of drug prevention. He gave alarming statistics and showed the latest information concerning controversy of the legalization of marijuana. He encouraged the youth to become involved in the fight against drugs. "I challenge you to take PRIDE in America and pride stands for Positive Resistance In Drug Education!"

The group was then introduced to the Honorable John R. Carter, a criminal judge who received national recognition as the trial judge for such cases as the Henry E. Lucas Serial Murder Trial and the Killeen nurse who became known as the "baby killer". Judge Carter spoke briefly about the justice system, but quickly left the subject to praise the Leadership Muleshoe members. Judge Carter was not scheduled to speak to the group. He had seen information about the organization that had been sent to Jeanne O'Marley. Impressed with what he saw, he called Carolyn Johnson and asked if he could be a part of the tour. The Honorable Judge told the group that his best advice to them would be the famous commencement speech that Winston Churchill delivered consisting of only these five words-- "NEVER, NEVER, NEVER QUIT!"

Following the judge's remarks, the group then toured the juvenile detention center. They were shown the intake room and told the procedures for handling a juvenile--from the moment of the arrest all the way through the court systems. They were also allowed to view the "Visitor's" room and observe the high tech security system in the center. At the completion of the center's tour, they met Charly Skaggs, former National President of the Juvenile Officers Association. Charly welcomed the youth to the center and gave each member a packet of educational materials on juvenile crime and a souvenir drinking cup.

The next stop was the Governor's mansion. The members were met at the mansion by Margie Oliver, assistant to State Representative Pete Laney. Margie accompanied the group on their private tour of the Mansion and then on to the Texas Chili Parlour for lunch--the "in" place in Austin that is frequented by legislators. This lunch was compliments of Muleshoe State Bank.

After lunch, the group made their way to the State Capitol Building. They were greeted by State Representative Pete Laney who invited them into his private office. State Representative Layton Black from Goldwairie joined Laney and together they spoke to the youth about state government and their roles as Representatives. Like all presenters before them, Laney and Black praised the Leadership Muleshoe members and offered words of advice. Laney advised them to get involved in politics. "Who would be better qualified as one of Muleshoe's next school

TFS Working With Rural Fire Departments

The Texas Forest Service has scheduled a meeting Friday, June 26 at 2 p.m. at the Hereford Fire Station, located at 212 N. Lee. All local elected officials, fire departments and individuals interested in rural fire protection from across the Panhandle are encouraged to meet with the TFS to show their appreciation for the efforts to enhance equipment and funds to the Panhandle. "State agencies seldom receive recognition for their work," said Courtney Sharp, Local Government Services Coordinator. "We want to show the TFS that we appreciate their efforts to work with Panhandle fire departments to help save land, homes, and lives."

The TFS has been actively working with rural Texas fire departments to develop fire protection plans and provide training and equipment through the Rural Cooperative Fire Protection (RCFP) program.

The TFS assist rural fire departments in the form of trucks, slip-on units, communications equipment, protective clothing, support equipment, and training.

The RCFP program has been very successful in providing support to rural fire departments in the Texas Panhandle such as: Wayside Emergency Team, Muleshoe VFD, Sunnyside VFD, Wellington VFD, and Bootleg VFD are just a few of the fire departments who have received

SPARTAN Schedules Open House June 22

When you've got to "make tracks" to shopping, school, or a zillion other things call SPARTAN at its newly remodeled Transportation Center in Muleshoe.

That's the theme of the SPARTAN Public Transportation marketing campaign that was introduced early in March. The ribbon on the newly remodeled building will be cut by Bailey County Judge Marilyn Cox on Monday, June 22, announced Peter Canga, SPARTAN'S Transportation manager. Mayor Darrell Turner, commissioner C.E. Grant, and Mike McDearmon, president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, will also be part of the ribbon cutting ceremony.

"Light-hearted television and radio spots will reinforce the idea that the bus is an easy, convenient way to travel," said Canga.

"People have always been our focus, and we're really encouraging everyone to give SPARTAN Public Transportation a try."

For this purpose SPARTAN will open a new Transportation Center in Muleshoe, located at 804 W. American Blvd., the new center will serve as a Bus Depot and a multi-purpose center. In addition to transportation and ticket sales office, the center will house other social services such as Head Start, Commodity Distribution, and JTPA.

The ribbon cutting ceremony will start at 3 p.m. and open house will continue until 5 p.m.

Developed by the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDot), the campaign will assist Rural Transit Systems across the state in encouraging their images and ridership.

Bus service on the SPARTAN Public Transportation TRAX is available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday and the fare depends on the distance from one community to another. Within any of the communities the fare is $2.00

Fungal Disease

Hits Area

Apricot Trees

The fungal disease has been invading area apricot trees this spring. The fungus is called Cystospora Leucostoma.

Cytospora attacks wounded areas in the tree which may be the result of hail damage or even pruning. Cytospora is a slow acting pathogen which means the damaged portion of the tree could be from past years.

Affected trees should be pruned to remove the dead limbs and be watered and fertilized at above-normal levels. There is no chemical control for this pathogen.

For more information, contact the County Extension Office at (806) 272-4583.

Senior Citizens Van Has New Schedule

Starting July 1, the Senior Citizens Van will begin operating on a new schedule, on a trial basis.

On Monday, the van will go to Lubbock; Tuesday, Amarillo, Plainview, Clovis; Wednesday, Lubbock; Thursday, and Friday, Muleshoe.

"In the past we have operated on a demand/response basis, which has worked quite well for some time," said Sharon Plott. "However, we have now reached a point where the van is traveling out of the county three or four times a week and often carrying only one passenger at a time. Not only is this not very practical, but we are not providing units of service needed in order to show the Texas Department on Aging (TDOA) that a need for this service exists."

"We realize that some appointments may have already been scheduled far in advance, and we will do our best to accommodate those. But in the future, we ask our senior citizens to help us by considering this schedule," Ms. Plott continued.

"We hope that scheduling rides in this manner will serve a three-fold purpose. It should increase our units of service, while decreasing costs; plus the rides will be more enjoyable for our passengers, since they will be shared with others."

Also, the TDOA is stressing more and more that the van service should target low-income and minority groups. The low-income part has been no problem, but here are very few members of minority groups using the service.

The only requirement to ride the van is that you must be at least 60 years of age. There is no charge, although those riding the van are encouraged to donate when they can to help defray the cost to the county.

All senior citizens are encouraged to make use of the van. "This is your service and we would regret seeing it discontinued," Ms. Plott concluded.

Scholarships To Be Awarded At 4-H Roundup

More than $700,000 in scholarships will be awarded to outstanding young people at the 1992 Texas 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 8-11.

Roundup is the state's biggest annual 4-H event. More than 2,500 young people will gather this year to practice leadership and demonstrate skills and knowledge gained through work in 4-H projects, said Gayle W. Laine, 4-H youth development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The 4-H scholarship selection is one of the main events of Roundup," Laine said. "This year, $722,000 in scholarships sponsored by the Texas 4-H Foundation will be awarded."

"In terms of total awards given, the Texas 4-H scholarship program is the largest one in the nation," said Dr. Lance Bullard, executive director of the Texas 4-H Foundation. "The program continues to grow with tremendous support from the private sector."

Scholarships are contributed by individuals, businesses and organizations interested in helping young people receive a college education, Bullard said. Recipients are selected on the basis of scholastic ability, need, 4-H participation, leadership and character.

This year 116 outstanding 4-H member will receive scholarships ranging from $500 to $12,000, Bullard said. There are more than 400 4-H scholars attending 34 Texas colleges and universities.

A favorite part of Roundup is the 4-H Food Show. Contestants enter their favorite recipes in one of four categories--nutritious snacks and desserts, fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals and main dish. Each first-place winner receives a $750 scholarship from the Morrison Milling Company.

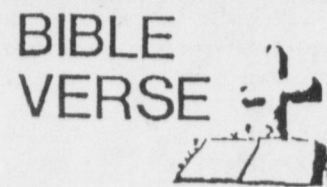

Young people take part in 40 contests ranging from consumer education to veterinary science, Laine said. The photography contest and exhibit and the 4-H fashion design competition are two of the highlight.

In the photography contest, the top four winners' pictures in the photography contest are displayed in the National 4-H Photography Exhibit.

In the fashion competition, sponsored by Wrangler, senior 4-H members compete in three design categories -- accessory, apparel and textile. Participants conduct their own design research to develop finished products.

"Roundup is a time for recognizing outstanding young people as well as adult leaders, alumni and sponsors," Laine said. "It's an excellent learning opportunity for thousands of youth in our state."

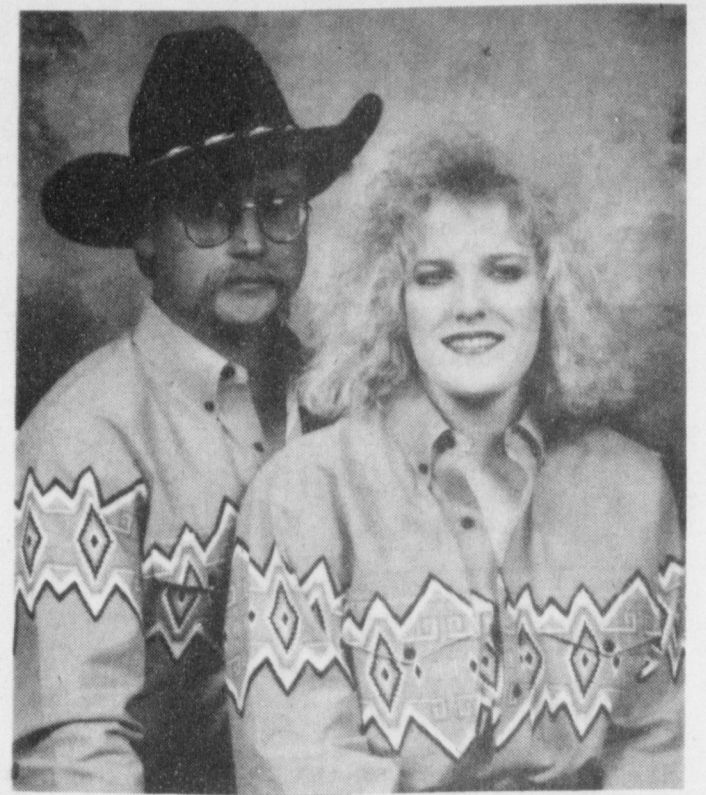

"If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven."

1. Who spoke these words?
2. To whom were they spoken?
3. What was their effect?
4. Where are they recorded?

Answers:

1. Jesus.
2. A young man, who had "great possessions" often designated as the "the Rich Young Ruler."
3. He "went away sorrowful."
4. Matthew 19: 21.

Technology Gives Women Birth Control Options

Recent improvements in contraceptive technology have given today's 35-plus woman birth control options she did not have before, according to a reproductive endocrinologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Her choice should be based on which contraceptive method offers the least risk for her health, said Dr. Alfred N. Poindexter III, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology.

Oral contraceptives, once not routinely prescribed for women over 35 because of the risk for blood clots and heart attacks, are now a popular choice for many. The low-estrogen pills used today have reduced the risk associated with the high-estrogen pills introduced in the 1960s.

However, Poindexter cautioned, older women may have other risk factors that need to be considered before deciding to take "the pill."

Older women are at increased risk for high blood pressure, diabetes and cardiovascular disease, conditions that increase the chances for complications from birth control pills.

Women over 35 who smoke should not take birth control pills, Poindexter said. Smoking dramatically increases the danger of fatal and non-fatal heart attacks for women that age, and oral contraceptives magnify the risk even more.

If birth control pills are not the right option, other contraceptive methods for today's 35-plus woman include:

*Sterilization. "The risks are minimal after the operation," Poindexter said. He performs tubal ligations through a small abdominal incision using a local anesthesia, which further reduces risk and cost.

*Norplant, the new, no-estrogen contraceptive contained in small tubes and implanted in a woman's arm. It can provide birth control for up to five years, or until the tubes are removed. "There is some research indicating Norplant may adversely affect cholesterol and triglyceride levels and, therefore, increase cardiovascular disease risk. But the data are still inconclusive," Poindexter said.

*Barrier contraceptives, such as condoms and diaphragms used with a spermicide containing nonoxonyl-9, a chemical toxic to sperm and to many disease-carrying organisms. "While not new, this is a very good contraceptive method for a woman with waning fertility. It is also good protection against sexually transmitted diseases," he said.

*IUD, or intrauterine device. "The IUDs currently approved for use can be a good choice for a woman approaching menopause who know she has completed her family," Poindexter said. "Since IUDs can be associated with fertility problems, older women wanting to postpone pregnancies should choose another contraceptive method."

Poindexter recommends that women over 35 consult their doctors to decide which method is best for them.

SCAC Reviews Year's Highlights

1991-1992 was an outstanding year for the Student-Community Action Club, a club which was organized at Muleshoe High School in 1983. The club was an outgrowth of a group of high school seniors who wished to "save the Muleshoe depot." The next year the club was organized with a formal constitution as a group of junior and senior students who work to make the Muleshoe area a better place to live. Students each year are chosen for membership by their willingness to work to improve school and community relations and their belief in a strong nation where patriotism is very important.

Each month the club honors a "Citizen of the Month," someone who has contributed to the community and school. For example, one timely "Citizen of the Month" was Elizabeth Watson, the March "Citizen." Mrs. Watson was presented a beautiful corsage and was recognized for her contributions to education during her fifty years in the education field. Mrs. Carolyn Johnson was honored as the April Citizen of the Month for her efforts to improve the community. As Chamber of Commerce manager, she was instrumental in organizing the Leadership Muleshoe group made up of high school students. Also, at the April meeting of SCAC the Hubert Kidd family was recognized as the March Citizens of the Month for the family's contributions to the Special Olympics, the Jennyslippers and Cari's volunteer work at the Muleshoe Nursing Home. Each guest "Citizen of the Month" is invited to speak to SCAC members telling of their school and community activities and giving their beliefs about what makes a "going" community and what makes a good citizen. Club members gain much insight from these speakers.

April is the month the club chooses new members for the next year to replace outgoing senior members. Therefore, at the April meeting of SCAC new members were voted in and were chosen from the written evaluation forms turned in by prospective members. The following were selected because of their willingness to work to make the Muleshoe area better: Stephanie Quintana, Jeanne Cox, Angie King, Shane Schuster, Donna Puckett, Becky Botkin, Eric McElroy, Rebecca Green, Rose Marie Gloria, Eric Cisneros, Emily Harris, David Serrano, Summer Wiley, Marianne Toombs, Sandra Mendoza, Casey Estep, Blanca Sanchez, Steven Wausan, and Hector Arzola.

These new members were honored on May 21 at an annual end-of-school-new-member picnic which was held this year at the home of Tiffany Angeley. Over fifty "old" and new members gathered for a hamburger cookout at the Angeley home and enjoyed an evening of business, fun and eating. New members were welcomed by the Vice President Tiffany Angeley. She asked each to stand and give his or her name, classification in school, and to give a favorite activity. Election of officers for the 1992-1993 school year was then conducted and the following were selected to head SCAC for next year: President, Stacie Harris; Vice president, Mandy Shipman; Secretary, Amanda Ashford; Treasurer, Aida Martinez; Reporter, Stacey Langfitt; Parliamentarians, Dustin Wilhite and Stephanie Quintana; Historian, Jodie Thomas; and Chaplain, Summer Wiley.

A special tribute was then given to the outgoing officers by the club's sponsor, Jean Allison. She commended each outgoing officer for the outstanding job he or she did and presented each a gift of appreciation. Outgoing officers are: President, Galin Latham; Vice President, Tiffany Angeley; Secretary, Courtney Graves; Treasurer, Patricia Del Toro; Reporter, Stacie Harris; Parliamentarian, Mickey Trussell; Historian, Shea Wilbanks; and Chaplain, Jill Noble.

Each year SCAC conducts money-making projects and contributes this money to the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation. Over the years, this club has been one of the biggest contributors to this organization because SCAC members believe it is important to preserve some of this area's heritage. Club members this year voted to contribute $400 and asked that the money be used for landscaping the Heritage Center, if possible. Not only do club members vote each year to contribute money, but the membership is always eager to contribute time and work at the Heritage Center.

The end-of-school-new member picnic is the culmination of activities conducted by a group of high school junior and senior students who contribute positively to make the school and community better! They are to be commended.

High School Faculty Hosts Reception

A retirement reception was held May 19 in the Muleshoe High School Library to honor two retiring teachers of Muleshoe High School, Mary Nell Bleeker and Jean Allison. Mrs. Bleeker has been in the teaching profession for 17 years and Mrs. Allison for 15 years. Hosting this occasion was the Muleshoe High School faculty.

A large number of guests as well as hosting faculty members were greeted by Mrs. Bleeker and Mrs. Allison. Special guests were Vernon Bleeker, husband of Mrs. Bleeker; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Vobman, Friona and Wanda and Wally Cockerham, Lubbock, daughters and son-in-laws of Mrs. Bleeker; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allison, Wyndi and Austin, of Muleshoe; Carolyn Allison, Lubbock; children of Mrs. Allison; Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Osborn, Lovington, N.M. and Sammy Allison, sisters and brother-in-law of Mrs. Allison.

Guests were registered from Muleshoe, Amherst, Olton, Friona, Lubbock, Lazbuddie, Rogers, Portales and Lovington, N.M. Unable to attend this function were Mrs. Bleeker's two sons and families, Delmer Bleeker, Ft. Worth, and Alford Bleeker, Houston, also, Mrs. Allison's children, Veta Skogland and Fred Allison and families.

The serving table was covered with a white applique cloth decorated with a beautiful rose silk flower arrangement. Punch and cookies were served by Tiffany Angeley, high school senior and friend. The honorees were presented a lovely white carnation corsage and a large, gold, engraved platter as a retirement gift from the high school faculty. Also, the Muleshoe Classroom Teachers Association presented a plaque of appreciation to each for her dedicated service to the teaching profession.

Both Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Bleeker raised a large family before getting their college education. Mrs. Bleeker is the mother of four children, ten grandchildren and one great grandchild; Mrs. Allison is the mother of five children, one son, Jack, is now deceased, as well as seven grandchildren.

Mrs. Allison graduated from Eastern New Mexico University, summa cum laude, in 1977 and began teaching at Muleshoe High School in September of that year as a tutor. The next year she began teaching in the social studies department having all of the seniors in U.S. government and free enterprise, later economics. Mrs. Allison has taught these two subjects every year since, having all of the seniors each year.

Her goal has been to graduate participating citizens. To reach this goal and to encourage students, each year she has presented either a mock election, a Bill of Rights or Constitutional Convention program, and has sponsored Mock Trial teams. Each year the Mock Trial teams have participated in regional competition and have gone to State two of these years. The latest to go to the State competition was this year's team consisting of team members, Andy Crawford, Audree Anzaldua, Tiffany Angeley, Cory Collins, Courtney Graves, Charla Holt, Jason Harmon and Galin Latham.

Mrs. Allison was social studies department chairman and during her fifteen years at Muleshoe High School has taught, besides U.S. government and economics, U.S. history, honors U.S. history, world geography, psychology and English III. Mrs. Allison believes a passive student is a nonlearning student, so she always worked to involve her students in the learning process.

Mrs. Allison has received a number of honors during her years at Muleshoe High School. In 1980, she was chosen Teacher of the Year by the Texas Future Teachers Association; was the dedicatee of the Muleshoe High School Muletrain Yearbook in 1988, received the Blackburn-Moore TFTA Chapter's Faculty Outstanding Achievement Award in 1989-90, twice was named "Citizen of the Month" by the Student Community Action Club, and was named "Woman of the Year" in 1990 by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture for her contribution to the community.

Mrs. Allison considers one of her greatest accomplishments to be the sponsoring of the Student Community Action Club, a club which she helped to organize in 1983.

Mrs. Allison is a member of the First United Methodist Church, the Texas State Teachers Association, Classroom Teachers Association, American Association of University Women, KKI, the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

Mary Nell Bleeker began working in the Muleshoe School system as a teacher's aide in Special Education. She worked in this position for eight years. During these years, she was an associate member of TSTA and worked closely for the teachers of Junior High, Richland Hills (Dillman School), DeShazo and High School. The first six years, she was the only aide in Special Education. She worked as needed with all the teachers. The last two years, she was assigned to High School.

In the summer of 1981, she returned to college and received her degree from Texas Tech in Elementary Education and All Level Special Education, completing it in December 1983. The week after finishing her college work, she was hired to begin teaching at DeShazo. She finished the school year there. She was then placed in Muleshoe High School Special Education where she remained until her retirement at the end of this 1992 school year.

She was a member of Texas Classroom Teachers and the Special Olympics Area 17 Coaches and Planning Committee. She received the Teacher of the Year award from the Texas Future Teachers of 1988 and the James Lamb Jones Award for best coach of the year 1990 from the Special Olympics of Area 17. She earned her Alphabetic Phonics Therapist Certificate from the Scottish Rites Learning Center in Lubbock and has been teaching phonics in the school system since 1988 in addition to other Special Education classes.

At retirement, she has no definite plans, but hopes to work in the community, visit family and maybe do some traveling in the U.S. with her husband, Vernon Bleeker. She stated that she had enjoyed the seventeen years in the Muleshoe Schools, working with students, teachers and administrators. She will miss them all.

Cancer Society Addresses Skin Problem

The American Cancer Society and the Dermatology Society are joining forces to address a growing problem in Texas-skin cancer, according to Mrs. Homer Allgood, President of the Bailey County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

This year more than 500,000 Americans will be diagnosed with skin cancer and 27,000 diagnosed with a very serious form of skin cancer-malignant melanoma. The tragedy in these numbers is that there will be 7,800 deaths nationwide and 350 deaths in Texas. Alarmingly, the incidence of melanoma is increasing at the rate of 3.4% per year.

Research has shown sunburn in early childhood can be a risk factor in developing skin cancer later in life. Parents can play a critical role in cancer prevention by:

*Educating children of the ill effects of the sun;

*Encouraging children to play in the shade or indoors between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.;

*Seeing that children use sunscreen with a SPF (Sun Protection Factor) of 15 or above. Sunscreen should be re-applied every two hours and re-applied after swimming.

The American Cancer Society and the Texas Dermatology Society's campaign "Don't Get Burned" will only be a success if teachers and parents join together to educate children on the ways to protect themselves in the sun.

Harlan Receives Degree At A&M

John David Harlan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Harlan of Bula, received his B.A. degree from Texas A&M on May 15. On the same day, he was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force at a private commissioning ceremony conducted by the University.

The ceremony was also attended by his wife, Tearsa, and his parents. After being sworn in, his wife and mother pinned his bars on. While waiting for active duty orders, John and Tearsa will be residing in Houston. John is a 1987 graduate of Sudan High School.

On May 16 the public commissioning exercise for all 4 branches of the service, was held in the G. Rollie White Coliseum on the campus. Speaker for the occasion was Lieutenant General Neal T. Jaco, Commanding General, Headquarters 5th, U.S. Army. There were approximately 180 new officers commissioned at this time, including the 23 being sworn into the Air Force. This is one of the smallest groups of officers to be commissioned in recent history of the University due to the cutback in defense spending.

DPS Cautions Summer Travelers

It's vacation time and time to start thinking about our summer travels and those year long planned vacations. Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says, "With some pre-planning on our parts, our summer travels can be made a lot easier and a whole lot safer."

Major Cawthon suggests that before you take to the road that you first check out yourself or other drivers in your group to ensure that everyone is well rested. Do not push yourself to the limit, ensure that you take proper breaks and spread the driving out over short distances. Ensure that all drivers feel good physically and emotionally and that no driver is taking medication or has had any alcoholic beverages to drink.

Make a check of the vehicle to include tires, brakes, belts, hoses, wipers, lighting and fluid levels and include spare parts for any minor repair that might unexpectedly come up. Remember to use your headlights to allow other drivers to see you in adverse conditions. At night, do not over-drive your headlights. Over 50 percent of all traffic deaths happen at night. Also, remember that at night, our eyes take four to seven seconds to re-adjust to night conditions after facing bright lights.

Keep posted on weather conditions. Adverse weather can affect your ability to see and be seen. In bad weather, slow down and put on the low beam headlights. If conditions warrant, it is advisable to stop and take a break.

Be alert to traffic conditions and if you are traveling at night, and especially on the weekends, be aware that a lot of drivers sharing the road with you are either fatigued or intoxicated. Alcohol impaired drivers cause at least 50 percent of all fatal accidents. One of your best defenses against the drunk driver is your safety belt, but it is only effective if you and all your occupants wear them.

"Let's all work together to make this summer a safe one on our Texas highways. Drive friendly; it's the Texas way."

Statewide Elections

Held For TCPB

In the second statewide election since the Texas Corn Producers Board became a statewide entity in 1990, six board members were elected or re-elected in elections held in March and April.

Prior to the elections, the TCPB had divided the state into eight separate "Voting Regions" so that board members would more closely represent the corn interests of a particular region of the state, and so that all Texas corn producers would have representation on the board. As there are 15 board seats on the TCPB, the voting regions are designed for each seat to represent 1/15th of the total corn production in Texas as reported by the Texas Crop Reporting Service. The Texas Department of Agriculture approved the voting region plan.

There were two seats up for election in Voting Region One, which consisted of Lamb and Castro Counties in the Panhandle. Lois Wales of Dimmitt and Carl King of Dimmitt won those seats. However, since Carl King is also Executive Director of the Texas Corn Producers Board, he chose to resign his seat so that the board would have broader representation. The board then elected the third highest vote winner Doug Riggins of Kress, to fill the vacant seat. Both Lois Wales and Doug Riggins of Kress, will serve until 1998.

Winning the two seats in the largest voting region in the state were Andy Armstrong of Ennis and John Baker of Temple. Voting Region Six consists of 121 counties, and stretches from El Paso to Texarkana. Both men will serve until 1998.

The six new board members were sworn in on May 6th in Austin by Bob Tarrant, Coordinator, Commodity Board Programs, Texas Department of Agriculture. The board then moved to elect officers for the 1992-1994 term. Elected as Chairman was Albert Williams of Farwell; vice chairman is Gerald Donaldson of Boling, TX; and Jerry Don Glover of Muleshoe was elected secretary-treasurer.

Press releases and legal notices on the election were sent to all major newspapers in the state where elections were to occur. Over eight thousand ballots were distributed. The voting period was from March 9, 1992, until April 10, 1992. The next election will be in March 1994.

There will be four seats up for election in 1994, three in the panhandle area and one seat in the Coastal Bend area.

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Twelve Kiwanians and 2 guests met this morning at the Dairy Queen for breakfast. Our guests this morning were Eufemia Torres, secretary for the Chamber of Commerce and Jack Wilson, manager for the Chamber of Commerce. President Larry Parker called the meeting to order. Scott Churchman led the club in the pledge to our flag. Jim Lutz gave the invocation. Lonnie Merriott gave the friendship coin to J.O. Parker; who will be going to Fire School next week. At least I thought it was J.O. Parker. His name tag said Herb Langfitt. After being gone for a month and getting one year older, I guess I must be forgetting. The guy I thought was Tom Bowen, his name tag said J.O. Parker; the guy I thought was Herb Langfitt, his name tag said Tom Bowen. Of course, that side of the room has always been a little mixed up anyway. Maybe a month off so I could go to Alaska and Austin hasn't made me completely batty.

Larry introduced Eufemia and Jack from the Chamber office. Jack told of some of the plans and upcoming events for the 4th of July. It sounds like lots of fun for all.

The Kiwanis Club will open the Mule Putt Golf Course this Friday 6-5-92 at 7:00 p.m. We invite everyone- young & old and all inbetween to come out and play, $1.00 per game. Have fun. board Members", Laney suggested. "It's obvious you have leadership skills. Who would know more about the needs and concerns of the school than someone who has just spent twelve years there", he added.

Layton encouraged the young people to never stop growing. "When you're green you grow. When you're ripe you rot!" he jokingly told the group.

After posing for pictures with the two representatives, the group then went to the House Chambers. Delwin Jones, State Representative from Lubbock was there to show them around and share information. Most tour groups are allowed only to observe the House Chamber from the balcony level. Representative Jones made an exception for the youth from Muleshoe. He allowed them to go on the floor of the Texas House of Representatives.

Representative Jones showed them around on the floor and explained in detail the entire legislative process. He explained the sequential flow of a bill from the time it is first introduced in the House to final passage and transmittal to the Governor. He also allowed them to take the floor as Speaker of the House, Gib Lewis. Some of the members even sat in the Speaker's chair and looked as though they enjoyed the view of the House from that prestigious position.

Tim Raven, a lobbyist from Texas Telephone Association accompanied the youth with Representative Jones throughout the tour of the Capitol. He explained to them his role as a lobbyist and the role he plays in the legislative process.

After leaving the House Chambers, the group was in for a real treat. They were invited into the Speaker of the House's private office and were allowed to view his private apartment inside the Capitol building. The importance of seniority in the Legislature became quickly evident to the tour group as they compared the furnishings and size of the Speaker's office to the other Representatives. The group was also taken into the private "coffee bar" reserved only for use by members of the House of Representatives.

The final stop at the Capitol was Secretary of State John Hannah's office. Mike Bell from that office led the tour for the group through the large complex. Inside the office were four huge steel vaults filled with state documents. On display, were documents hundreds of years old--some dating back to when all legislative records were handwritten. As the group toured the offices, Mike explained the role of Secretary of State and the support this office gives to the Governor's office.

Friday night they met with AT&T representatives. Jim McFelea with AT&T talked to the group about the telecommunications field. AT&T then treated all of the members to dinner at The Old San Francisco Steak House. After dinner, they presented each of them with a souvenir drinking cup.

Saturday was fun day for the youth. They drove to San Antonio and spent the entire day at Sea World. After Sea World, they enjoyed dining on the River Walk, took a boat ride on the river, saw the Alamo, and shopped at Market Place Mall. Saturday ended with a good night's sleep before the nine-hour drive back to Muleshoe on Sunday.

At the Journal, we thought it would be interesting to find out what part of the trip the participants enjoyed the most. Here are their answers:

Galin Latham: "I liked the part of the Capitol Tour where I got to actually be on the floor of the House. It was interesting to see the flow of a bill from the time it is introduced to final passage."

Mickey Trussell: "I liked the tour of the Secretary of State's Office. It was interesting to see the many documents and the huge vaults in which they were stored."

Patricia Del Toro: "I liked the discussion with Pete Laney. He was very interesting. Also, I enjoyed going to the Speaker of the House's private office and apartment."

Jason Harmon: "My favorite part was actually being able to get on the floor of the House Chamber. The program on drug prevention was good, too. The information on how marijuana use stops your emotional development made a real impact on me."

Margarita Posadas: "I enjoyed visiting with Pete Laney. He made us feel very welcome and good about ourselves. The thing that I remember most about what he said was, "We have more advantages growing up in this decade than any before us. If we take advantage of this, we can go further than any graduating class before us!"

Jody Field: "I think everyone enjoyed being on the House Floor. That was really special. In addition to that, I liked the program by Jeanne O'Marley. I enjoyed her talking about how important it is that she separates her work in juvenile crime from her personal life. She told us that in order to keep her sanity, she can't take her work home with her."

Steven Noble: "I enjoyed seeing the technology that there is on the House Floor. It was interesting to hear about the changes from the raising of the hand to cast a vote to push buttons and computers. My interest was sparked when the idea of one of us running as member of the School Board came up. I had never thought about it, but it was a good idea!"

Kip McCall: "I was really interested in the presentation by Jeanne O'Marley and asked her lots of questions about juvenile crime. She told me later that I needed to be a lawyer because I asked such good questions. This made me feel good. The judge's presentation impressed me. I really liked what he said about we should get involved in our community--and maybe even run for school board. Then, Pete Laney and Layton Black suggested that to us, too!"

April Watkins: "Getting to tour so much of our state capitol was the greatest part of the trip. I especially enjoyed being on the House Floor. Of all the people that spoke to us, I enjoyed Judge Carter's presentation. I was very interested in all that he had to say."

We also thought it would be interesting, to get a response from the sponsors who went on the trip. So, we asked them the same question about what they enjoyed most:

Carolyn Johnson: "As a typical advisor, I enjoyed observing the members on the tour. I was very proud of our youth. They were well behaved, asked very intelligent questions, and presented themselves as real leaders. As far as the tour itself, I enjoyed touring the Secretary of State's office. I would have loved to have had time to have just gone into one of the vaults and looked through the many documents"

R.A. Bradley: "I thought the entire trip was great! It strengthened my belief in young people. I'm a strong believer in basically the majority of youth is good. My favorite part of the trip was the talk given by Judge Carter. He told the young people, "Don't wait until you're young and have a lot to offer."

HIS TROUBLES WON'T GET HIM DOWN

Forgetting his incapacitation, he is happily determined to plan ahead. His spirit is not easily crushed. Life is always full of hope and excitement. The Lord and this young man's Christian friends have taught him to have such an outlook on life.

"But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith." Galatians 5:22.

We invite you to attend the church of your choice regularly to worship, to be uplifted, encouraged, and blessed.

International Meat Goat Conference July 8-10

An international conference on meat goat production and marketing will be held in Laredo on July 8-10.

A major objective of the conference, open to anyone interested in the meat goat industry, is to discuss the formation of a marketing cooperative or association, said Dr. C. Wayne Hanselka of Corpus Christi, a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Representatives from the Texas Department of Agriculture will present information to the conference on how to form such an organization.

The meeting also will review meat goat production in the United States, Mexico, South America, and Africa. Marketing opportunities will be addressed by Dr. Frank Pinkerton, goat Extension specialist with the E. "Kika" de la Garza Goat Research Institute at Langston University in Oklahoma.

Concurrent sessions also will discuss: management practices to meet nutritional and health requirements of meat goats; breeding practices and production systems to maximize kid crops; grazing considerations that impact rangeland vegetation (including brush management) and goat nutrition and diets; and predator avoidance strategies. Alternatives in the goat business also will be reviewed, including cashmere, mohair, and dairy options.

Experts from several countries will make presentations that will be simultaneously translated in Spanish and English.

The conference is scheduled to be held at the La Posada Hotel in Laredo. For more information and registration materials, call George Gonzales, county Extension agent in Laredo, at (512) 721-2626.

Hanselka said meat goats provide an attractive alternative and complementary enterprise to the ranching economy. Ranchers, large and small, have successfully implemented goat enterprises on their properties.

Goats can use roughages, such as brush, that cattle do not use he said. Properly managed, they do not compete with cattle or white-tailed deer. Three kid crops every two years provide extra income to the ranch business.

Consumers are also demanding a lean supply of meat, the specialist noted. Small amounts (less than 1.5 pounds per person) of mutton and goat meat are consumed in the United States, Hanselka said, but the meat provides a source of protein for many parts of the world.

Goat is usually consumed as baked or barbecued "cabrito" (very young goat) in the Southwest. Other parts of the country prefer "chevon" (meat from a more mature goat). Certain ethnic Americans do enjoy eating goat meat and will pay relatively high prices for the privilege, Hanselka said.

There are presently 350,000 meat goats in Texas, and according to the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service the numbers have increased significantly in the past year. This greater interest has resulted in more requests for production and marketing information. The Extension launched a South Texas Spanish Goat Initiative in 1989 to address these educational needs.

Incredible ocean facts

What's the difference between ocean and sea?
"Sea" is a name for areas of the ocean that are partly surrounded by land. The sea is only part of the ocean.

Beach sand is all different colors
Some grains of sand are bright white, while others are green or pink, or sometimes even black!

What causes the color?
The materials that form the sand create its color.

For example, where seashell and coral are crushed, the beaches are often a pinky-white. Volcanoes will cause the sand to be black or green.

The shape of the ocean changes?
It's true, the shape of the ocean is continuously changing — very slowly.

The ancient toothbrush

"Chew sticks" have been found in Egyptian tombs dating back to 3000 B.C.!

Even today, many African tribes and people living in remote areas of the U.S. use "twig brushes" or white elm sticks.

When the first "bristle" toothbrushes appeared in China, in 1498, the bristles were plucked from the backs of the necks of hogs and fastened into bone handles.

The Romans used neither twigs or bristles; they picked their teeth with a stiff quill!
