MULES TUMBLE TO DENVER CITY--Michael Dunham, No. 44, attempts to break a tackle and go for just another yard or two in Friday night's football action at Denver City. It was reported that Jeff Hicks had a possible broken leg in action at Denver City, and will be out for the season. No official word could be confirmed at presstime on Saturday morning. The Mules lost to the Mustangs by a score of 53-6. Tough Denver City defense and Mule mistakes lost the game for Muleshoe. (Journal Photo)

Three Way Wins 48-29 With Wellman

It was 'fantastic' as far as the coaches, players and football fans at Three Way could determine for their first home game of the season Friday night.

The Eagles, guided by quarterback Mario Guillen, blasted the Wellman team by 48-29.

In the first, the Eagles got on the board on a Mario Guillen to Billy Perez 46 yard TD.

Wellman came back with an eight yarder by Scott Rowden, and the extra point was good.

Three Way trailed for the only time at the end of the first, by 7-6.

In the second quarter, Roy Suarez plunged over from the one; Mario Guillen again found Billy Perez, this time for a 49-yard TD; and then again for a 29 yarder.

Wellman's only score in the second quarter was a safety. Cont. Page 8, Col. 1

It was a 'great' night for football, with mild weather and a moderate breeze at Denver City. But, once again, the Mules fell to a much stronger football team.

Last week, the Mules defeated the Mustangs -- the Shallowater Mustangs. But, this week, another herd of Mustangs ran roughshod over the hapless Mules, when Denver City defeated the Mules, 53-6.

Again, the Mules made costly mistakes, but this week, it was not in penalized yards. Five lost fumbles, and two interceptions kept the Mule defense busy.

And, it did not help to lose quarterback Jeff Hicks to injury late in the third quarter.

A. J. Liles, an accomplished player, took over the quarterbacking chores, but it was obvious he had not had that much experience this year as quarterback.

Another devastating loss to the Mules was Daniel Olivas, who went out early in the fourth quarter after an apparent ankle injury.

Mules' lone score came with approximately seven minutes left in the third, when Daniel Olivas broke loose on the first play from scrimmage on the Mule's 20-yard line, broke a couple of tackles, stumbled, regained his balance, broke another tackle and raced 80 yards for the touchdown. He then kicked the extra point.

At the end of the first quarter, the score was 0-14; it was 0-21 at halftime; 6-39 at the end of the third; and the final 6-53.

Before he was injured, Daniel Olivas was the leading rusher for the game with nine carries for 105 yards; Michael Dunham carried 11 times for 39 yards.

The Mules rushed 37 times for 157 yards; and the quarterbacks completed one of seven passes for four yards. Denver City had 208 rushing yards and 116 passing yards.

Fall Bringing Welcome Relief From Hot, Dry Weather

Most Texans, particularly the farmers and ranchers, will be glad to see the last of the hot, dry weather that has plagued the state the past few months -- and relief actually is in sight!

The National Weather Service's 90-day outlook calls for a break in 'routine' before too long, as cool fronts should start moving through Texas with more regularity in the coming weeks.

That should bring some relief from the extremely high temperatures that have had a viselike grip on much of the state since about mid-July, said Dr. Mickey Flynn, meteorologist in charge of the NWS Agricultural Service Center at Texas A&M University.

There is also some possibility that frosts will be earlier than normal in northern parts of the state, Flynn said. Records indicate that frosts tend to be earlier in the season after an extremely hot, dry summer.

While an early frost might be good news to some folks, cotton farmers in the Texas plains would have a different opinion. An early frost could be detrimental to cotton fiber development, particularly in the South Plains (Lubbock area) where more than half the state's cotton is grown.

The 90-day outlook calls for about average temperatures over most of Texas, with slightly above normal temperatures for northeastern and eastern areas.

As far as rainfall is concerned, the outlook is for below normal precipitation in the High Plains and Trans-Pecos areas, regions that have received above normal rainfall so far this year. Rainfall should be about normal for the remainder of the state over the next three months. If that holds true, parts of Texas should get some much-needed rains.

"The projected lack of rainfall in the High Plains and the Trans-Pecos regions is good news for cotton farmers who will be actively harvesting their crop over the next few months," Flynn said.

"However, the dry weather will definitely hamper the planting of small grains (wheat and oats) and other crops for fall and winter grazing. Right now soil moisture is extremely short over most of the state, and producers need rain to plant crops that will provide forage for their livestock later this fall and during the winter months."

Establishing some green foliage for livestock is particularly important this fall because of the siege of dry weather this year that has limited grazing on pastures and ranges and reduced hay production, Flynn added.

Because of short hay supplies in many counties, producers need rain immediately for a possible final cutting of hay. However, that possibility will diminish with each passing day of dry weather.

Fall vegetable growers as well as gardeners also are looking for some relief from the hot, dry weather, Flynn said. Fall vegetable planting is in progress.

Nursing Home Administrator Stays Optimistic

(Editor's note: It's a little bit difficult to try to clear an hour to talk to Jim Swanner, administrator of the Nursing Home at West Plains Medical Center. If you're busy, just try to keep up with his tracks -- and his tracks are wheelchair tracks. Let's take a look at this very busy, very dedicated administrator.)

Jim Swanner, who was actually born in Bailey County, near Baileyboro, is one of the busiest men in Muleshoe -- and a big part of his time involves juggling money, including money that just isn't there.

As administrator of the Muleshoe Nursing Home, he is very busy keeping up with 44 nursing home residents; 46 nursing home employees and 35 hospital employees.

Minor crises pop up several times a day, and all too frequently, major crises rear their ugly heads.

But -- he continues to be very optimistic.

"I just can't say enough about the wonderful community support we have," he said Thursday afternoon during an interview for In Profile.

He said that when he and his wife, Jolene, moved to Muleshoe in February, 1981, he had just been named administrator of the nursing home, adding, "When Jolene and I moved here, we began a commitment to become part of the community."

"And, what has kept me here is wanting to see this place (the hospital and nursing home) go!"

The administrator said his grandparents farmed in the Stegall community, and after being born in this county, his family moved to Dickens County where he started to school in Spur.

From there, he attended the Dry Lake School after his father became a farmer and rancher in that area.

He also said that during his first year in college at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, Eric Smith, a former Muleshoe High School chemistry teacher was his chemistry teacher. Now, Eric Smith, who has been ill for the past few years, is a resident of the Muleshoe Nursing Home.

Jim Swanner had planned to be a coach, and up until the age of 19, was really going forward with those plans. He was attending college, majoring in physical education -- but the fates interceded in his life.

At the age of 19, he was in an automobile accident that left him a paraplegic. This was a devastating blow to the young man who had participated in athletics all his life. He especially enjoyed football, and spent one year playing varsity basketball.

After the accident, he had major adjustments to make in his life -- and, of course, a change in his path to a career.

He went to a re-hab center in Okmulgee, Okla., then attended a technical school at a Re-hab Training Center at Oklahoma State University. The training center had formerly been a federal hospital for prisoner of war patients.

During that training, he learned watchmaking and after just over a year, opened a jewelry store in Cushing, Okla. This was in 1956. In 1962, he moved back to Texas, to make his home at Levelland. After that time, he went into business at Lubbock, opening a camera repair business that he operated for the next 18 years.

In the meantime, he had met his future wife, Jolene, who was the director of nurses for a nursing home in Lubbock.

Looking around the nursing home at the times he would be waiting for Jolene to leave work, he said his only thoughts were, "I don't think I could handle it."

But, he got a boost in the direction of nursing homes when a friend had to enter a nursing home due to illness and he wanted to visit him. "It was so

Annual Affair

This Weekend

On Sunday afternoon, at 2 p.m., a Charriada will kick off the annual Diez y Seis celebration in Muleshoe. The Charriada will be held in the arena east of Muleshoe on Highway 84, across from Valley Grain.

Arena action and plenty of food will be available, according to the coordinators of the annual event.

Then on Sunday evening, at La Mulita, the annual dance and queen coronation will be held at La Mulita.

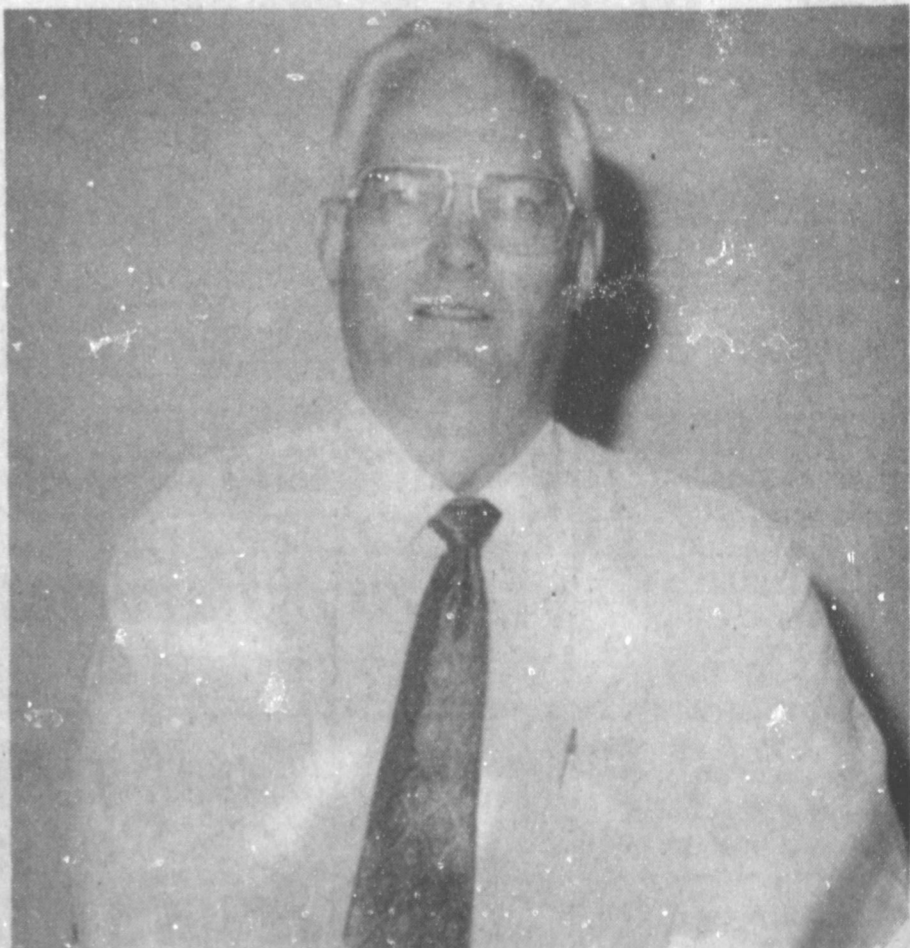

Crowned queen will be Claudia Posadas. Laura Arzola was second runner-up and Amelia Gardea was third runner-up.

Playing for the dance will be Los Jilgeros del Arroyo of Chihuahua, Mexico; and Nueva Imagena of Clovis, N.M.

Also, $1,000 will be presented three lucky winners, in denominations of $500, $300 and $200. For a $1 donation, you will have one opportunity to be the winner. You do not have to be present to win the prize money.

On September 16, 1810, Father Miguel Hildago y Castillo gave the shout of freedom, "Grito de Dolores," in the village of Dolores in Guanajuato, Mexico.

He led the war for Mexico's freedom from Spanish domination. This date has been celebrated by Mexican people since that date.

dirty and so depressing, I had to really prepare myself to go see him," added Jim. "All I could think of was that there had to be a better way. So, I went to school to learn to become a nursing home administrator."

He and his wife Jolene went to work for a company that owned 26-27 nursing homes, where he had been accepted for internship as the company was looking for administrators. He had interviews scheduled, with Midland being first, where he was offered the job. However, the administrator said he had made the interview appointment and wanted to keep it, so came to Muleshoe the next day where he met Dr. Bruce Purdy, and had lunch with him and two hospital board members.

By the time the lunch was over, he had made up his mind to come to Muleshoe.

From the time he moved to Muleshoe, and before, West Plains Medical Center and the Muleshoe Nursing Home were both in deep financial trouble, and the nursing home needed a major overhaul to continue to qualify for licensing by the state.

So, he quickly learned to juggle funds to provide the best care possible for the residents.

He stayed with the nursing home through Westworld, the California corporation who leased the hospital and nursing home. He did express pleasure over the major repairs conducted by Westworld, and fought strongly with them when they were threatening to close down not only the hospital, but the nursing home.

At one point, a number of patients were transferred out of the Muleshoe Nursing Home, but the doors were never closed.

But, Westworld closed the doors of the hospital on November 13, 1986. Stunned residents could not believe the hospital in Muleshoe had actually closed.

A struggle began to keep the nursing home open, with Jim Swanner 'right up front' in the battle for the nursing home.

Last fall, a large group of local residents cleaned and repaired the hospital and got it ready to re-open, which it did, late in October.

Jim Swanner said, "It really makes it all worthwhile to see the front door (of the hospital) without the bars and bolt. It is good to know we have such a dedicated group of employees, and to know that we can again provide health care for the community."

"We appreciate so much the support of the community. Anyone we have ever asked to do anything has responded immediately."

"We realize we don't say it enough, but we appreciate the entire community," he added.

On the day West Plains Medical Center was inspected for re-licensing by the Texas Department of Health, Gerald Guthrie, head of the licensing division of the TDH, from Austin, said he wanted to personally inspect the hospital.

Guthrie noted that the hospital was the cleanest, neatest and best-smelling hospital he had ever inspected.

During the Thursday interview a local electrician, Jack Dunham came in to talk to the administrator. He had been called to check out a boiler that would not work. Dunham found that the boiler had developed leaks in the seams, and said it would take more than himself to make it operable.

Jim Swanner said that was just typical of the major crises he finds on a day to day basis -- equipment that needs major repairs, or replacement, and no funds for the necessary work to be done.

However, he stays optimistic, believing that everything will work out, eventually.

Jim Swanner and his motorized wheelchair can be seen up and down the hallways of the hospital and nursing home as he copes with one problem after another, but he is an eternal optimist, and keeps a quiet smile as he goes about his business, still believing, "There must be a better way" and if there is, you can be sure, he will find it.

Bearden Presents Program For Muleshoe Jennyslippers

Steve Bearden, from the Bailey County Sheriff's office spoke at the noon meeting of the Jennyslippers Tuesday. He spoke to the group on 'Crime Stoppers' which is being organized in Muleshoe. He stated that he is making an effort to get a representative of each of the civic organizations in Muleshoe as a board member. These board members will meet once a month and one of their duties will be to set the amount of reward for each crime, with rewards varying depending on the severity of the crime.

"Citizens may witness all or part of a crime without being aware of what they have seen. Consequently, they may unknowingly possess key information that could aid the police in solving the crime. In some instances, citizens do not contact police with information out of fear that if they reveal their identity they will expose themselves or their families to acts of retaliation by the criminal. In most instances, these citizens will not come forward with information unless they can be assured that they will be provided complete anonymity by the police. Finally, citizens may not come forward with needed information because they are uncertain who they should contact in the police organization and what procedures to follow in supplying their information."

"The Crime Stoppers program provides a method of overcoming these limitations by involving citizens in solving felony crimes. Through the Crime Stoppers program, citizens who have knowledge of a specific crime are encouraged, either for civic or monetary reasons, to come forward to police with this information. The program allows any citizen supplying information to remain completely anonymous, if they so desire. In this way the citizen is assured that his identity will be protected and that any information relayed will be utilized.

Bearden pointed out that in Lamb county 'Crime Stoppers' has aided in the recovery of property 101,000; recovery of drugs 74,500; felony cases cleared 240; with rewards of $7,400 being paid. The organization has also helped to solve four homicides, 11 rape cases, five robbery cases, 79 burglary cases, and 13 fugitive arrests.

Sandi Robinson volunteered to serve on this board.

During the business meeting, the Jennyslippers voted to make a donation to this organization, with the amount being decided at a later date.

Donna Kirk president, called the business meeting to order and Ellen Ladd, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Nelda Merriott, Thursie Reid and Ellen Ladd volunteered to serve as judges for the "Garden Spot of the Week" contest, which will conclude at the end of the month.

A nominating committee was selected and will present a set of officers for 1989, to be voted on by the organization at a later date. Those serving on the committee include; Sandi Robinson, Nelda Merriott and Billie Downing.

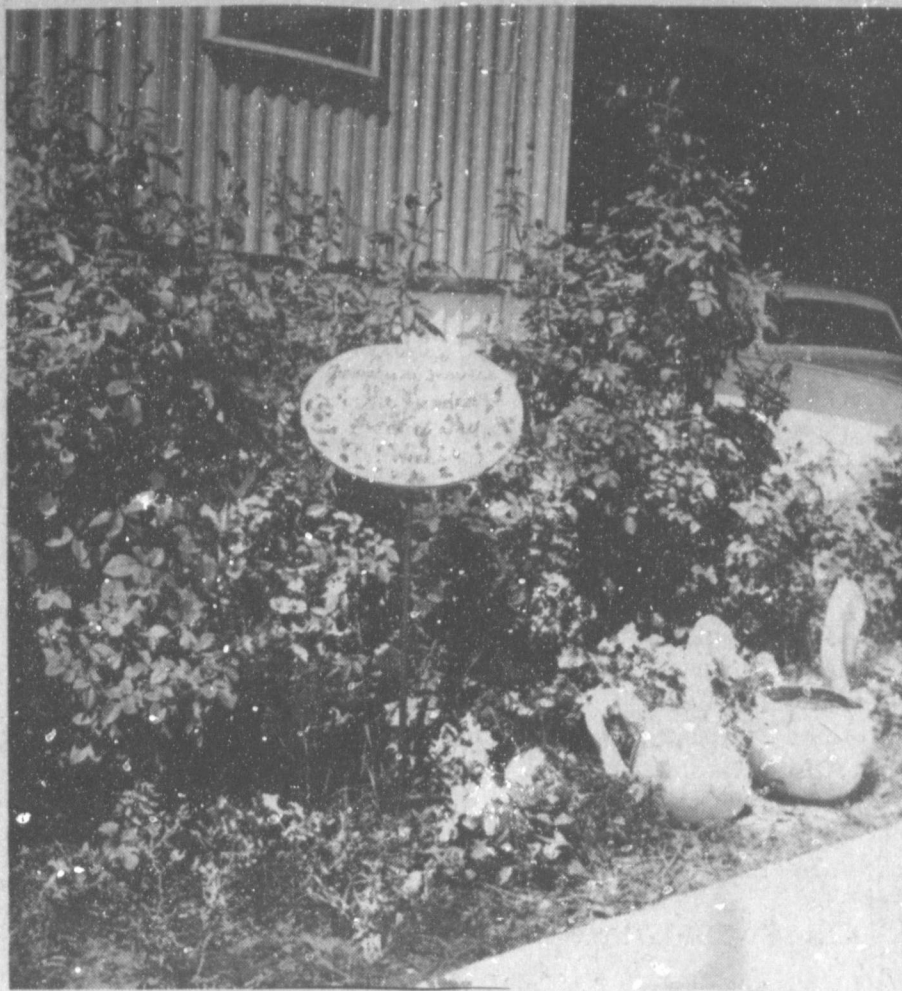

Those going to the regional meeting at Memphis last weekend gave a report on the meeting and showed the Jennyslipper scrapbook (blue ribbon and all) which took first place. It was reported that the regional meeting will be held in Muleshoe in 1989.

Doris Wedel gave a report on the food booth at the fair/75th birthday celebration last week. Vivian White reported on the history book committee booth. "It went real good," we sold several books" Mrs. White said. "The Pioneer Kitchen received a lot of comments. It was a lot of fun".

Upcoming events to remember includes Tuesday, Sept. 27, Brown bag meeting at library; Tuesday, Oct. 11, Semi-annual membership drive; Friday, Oct. 14, skating; Tuesday, Nov. 8, Election Day, noon meeting at Old Depot; Tuesday, Nov. 11, skating; and Friday and Saturday, December 2&3, Arts and Crafts Bazaar, Annual Barbecue.

Dr Quintanilla To Speak At Friona

Dr. Quintanilla will be speaking in Friona at the Junior High Auditorium, Euclid Avenue, on Monday, Sept. 26 at 7 p.m. and Varla Wilcox stated that the Friona PTA urges everyone to go out and hear her experiences.

"Dr. Guadalupe Quintanilla is a woman worth listening to. A Mexican youngster brought by her parents to Brownsville, TX, she quit school at the age of 12, after intelligence tests indicated she had an I.Q. of 64, some 30 points below average" said Varla Wilcox.

"This test was given in English when Dr. Quintanilla only spoke Spanish. When her children needed her help to overcome the same problem she wanted to go to school herself to learn how to help them learn. She then found out her records showed that she was 'mentally retarded'."

"With alot of persistence she did go back to school. Taking classes in basic English, basic math and typing at Texas Southmost College she started her education.

"Her appetite for knowledge was insatiable. Three days a week she studied at Texas Southmost; two days she attended classes at Pan American University in Edinburg, 70 miles away. After three years, she received both her junior-college degree and a Bachelor of Science degree, with honors, from Pan American.

"She then cast her eyes on the University of Houston, where she could study Spanish literature. In 1971, she received her Master's degree; in 1977, her doctorate in education. In the years that followed, she became the first Latina to win an American Council of Education Fellowship. "The grade school dropout without a high school degree is now Assistant Provost for the University of Houston."

Be Prepared For 'Sticker Shock' When Shopping

If you didn't buy fall and winter clothes last year--especially dresses, men's and women's suits or coats--be prepared for "sticker shock" when you begin shopping.

Last fall consumers stayed away from the stores and for the first time in 20 years, annual sales of women's apparel fell, according to U.S. Commerce Department figures. The buying slump has continued through 1988, although retailers hope sales will pick up this season.

Industry sources have blamed the drop in clothing sales both on a rejection of recent clothing styles, such as last season's short skirts, and prices, which rose 7.3 percent in 1987 and continue to inch up this year.

"The higher prices may encourage consumers to be more conscious of what they're getting for their money, especially in the big ticket fall and winter clothes like wool suits," said Dr. Ann Beard, a clothing and textiles specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

Although the price of raw wool has doubled in the past year, that's not the only cause for increasing higher wool clothing prices this fall, according to Rita Kourlis, director of wool marketing for the American Wool Council in Denver.

"The cost of the wool is only about three percent of the retail price for the finished garment. So in a $300 suit only about $10 goes for the wool," she said.

"There's somewhat of a trickle effect, with the cost of wool yarn and fabric increasing as the price for raw wool goes up," Kourlis said. "However, the labor to produce a garment is by far the greatest expense."

Rising clothing costs may mean consumers hang onto the clothes in their closets for another year, or adopt some different strategies for shopping.

"Consumers have a number of options for making sure they get the most for their investment in clothing," said Beard, who prepares educational materials for Extension consumer courses held throughout the state.

Use should be the first consideration, she said. Paying for high quality fabrics, good construction and classic styling is more important in those clothes you will wear frequently and expect to have for some time, rather than those worn only once in a while.

"Many retailers will feature winter clothes made with wool blends, rather than 100 percent wool, to keep consumer's costs down. Wool blends have many excellent features, but have less breathability than the pure wool fabrics," she said. "A lighter weight wool or wool blend may also be a better investment since it can be worn for a longer period of time in our Texas climate."

In addition to styling and fabric content, Beard suggests checking for signs of quality construction. "Some manufacturers of clothing in all price ranges may skimp on workmanship, materials or quality inspections to keep prices from rising faster."

Around 7 p.m. Friday, his truck was slammed by an eastbound train, just behind the Old Corral Restaurant in Muleshoe. Board Members Give Report On Superintendent

By: R. A. Bradley

Eighteen members and one guest met Friday morning at the Old Corral. Guest was Chad Johnson, son of Reggie and Sue Johnson.

President Keith Turner called the meeting to order. Lyndon Huckaby led the club in the pledge to the flag and Nick Bamert gave the invocation.

Don Clapp gave the friendship coin to Nick Bamert because he had not seen Nick in quite some time. Nick, now you know you have been missed.

President Keith gave a report on a trip he, Kevin Harris and Jim Lutz made to Canyon for a council meeting last Tuesday night.

Howard Watson and Lyndon Huckaby, both members of the school board, gave a short report on some of the things they did to pick and hire a school superintendent.

They talked about how they looked and decided to hire a counselor to help them in their search and help screen applicants. This took many hours for them.

They made a wise choice. They eliminated the applicants down to 12, then to six, and on down to three. Much, much research, questions, etc. goes into picking and hiring some one to this kind of position.

Interviews with the people themselves, in communities they are coming from, etc.

After many, many, many hours of hard work, the school board has hired and have a verbal okay from Dr. Lawrence Ward to come to Muleshoe and serve this community as our school superintendent.

Howard said that in all of their meetings, they had 100 percent of the board. The board is to be commended.

Thanks for the hard work and a job well done.

OPPORTUNITY KEEPS KNOCKING!

THAT'S RIGHT, we said opportunity keeps knocking. It does so because there is no limit to God's love for man. Our Creator is not One who wound up this old world and then left it and its inhabitants abandoned like a forgotten toy. He is the One who cares most of all about us. He is the One who will leave the ninety-nine sheep in the fold and come searching for the one that is lost. As a poet once put it, "He pursues us down the days and down the years." He wants us for Himself because He loves us and He will never give up the pursuit. Most wonderful of all, His chase is that we may have life and have it more abundantly. Only when we stop running away and let Him into our lives can they be fulfilled. Go to Church Sunday and meet with God who has always loved you.

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

Birthday Cake, Fair Draw Crowd

Shortly before 2 p.m., the crowd started growing last Saturday at the Bailey County Coliseum. Along with the annual Bailey County West Plains Fair, a very special 'cake-cutting' was scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

By the time the Cake was carried out for display immediately prior to the cutting, an estimated more than 500 people were waiting.

As Mayor Darrell Turner was out of town, Mayor Pro-tem Paul Wilbanks was on hand to perform the ceremonial cutting. He called Myrtle Creamer up to receive the first piece of cake as he cut it.

Looking on as the cake was cut were Mel Phillips of Amarillo, Democratic candidate for State Senator, 19th Congressional District; Jimmy Watson, Democratic candidate for Bailey County Judge and John W.

Helping with the icing and decorating were Jonny Welch, Margaret Taylor, Helen Head, Joyce Holmes, Adena Johnson and Vandi Chancey.

They spent some five hours on Friday afternoon finalizing the cake. On the two days prior to actually putting the cake together Ann Johnson, Jonny Welch and Judy Lambert had made miniature vegetables of marzipan to top off the cake, and had made lettering and silver-studded mule shoes to be used as decorations.

Also donating time, money, or materials for the cake were Decorators, Spudnut Shop, Serv-all Thriftway, Pan N Save, Five Area Telephone Co-op, Farmer's Co-op Elevator, Judy Lambert, Muleshoe Co-op Gin and Brenda Robison.

Dirk West did a sketch to top the huge cake and did another cartoon sketch for the local paper. The sketch from the cake will hang in the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture office for the public to enjoy.

It was estimated that the final cake was approximately 40 inches long by 30 inches wide, and weighed some 110 pounds.

Friday winners of the Fair drawings, and winning $50 gift certificates were Margaret Taylor, who won twice and Kandy McWhorter.

Winner of the big $100 drawing on Saturday was Orvid Burris. Saturday $50 winners were Kandy McWhorter, Mary Ann Ramirez, Joe Don Prather, Orvid Burris and Fern Davis.

Winner of the decorating contest was Atkins Insurance Company.

Mission Cable's winners were Ollie Sebring, the Minnie Mouse stuffed toy; Celeste Yanzer (mother of Paula Winkler) the Mickey Mouse stuffed toy and Chuck Smith, one free month on the cable.
