Bovina, Texas

VOL X, NO. 32

WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

New population figures adorn Bovina's city limit markers.

The 1702 figure may or may not be right, but it's based on enough "evidence" that the state highway department will go to the trouble to change the figures on the city limit markers on the five roads which come into Bovina.

We did a little research to determine how the 1702 figure was reached. After checking with chamber of commerce people and at the city hall, we didn't have any concrete formulas. However, we feel that an educated guess is about as good as any kind of formula which could be used.

There's no doubt but that the town has enjoyed fine growth since the official census was taken in 1960. The population has increased and will continue to do so.

Those figures on the city limit markers may even need to be brought up-to-date again before the 1970 census.

Back in 1956 or so, the population figure read 643. The population total has almost tripled in the past 10 years. That makes this town one of the fastest growing in the state.

While on the subject of statistics for Bovina, it could be pointed out that postal receipts have about doubled during the past 10 years. Part of this increase would, no doubt, have to be contributed to raises in postal rates.

Still, that's a sizeable bit of growth in 10 quick years. Statistics don't mean anything, though, unless you're smart enough to interpret them and most of us aren't.

The fact that Bovina, and this area is, and has been, enjoying a solid, steady growth is pretty well established.

Governmental leaders on the local level, city and school, are presently being confronted with these growth figures as they make plans for the years to come.

It's been noticeable that during the past decade and a half, almost all local governments have under-estimated their needs. If there's been one to exceed the need, we aren't aware of it.

That's not a bad situation, it's probably better to go slower and have less expansion than is needed than to have so much that a burdensome economic situation develops.

In a nutshell, we think too many people think too conservatively about the growth of this area.

Post-irrigation history will prove our point, too.

The thermometer may not indicate it yet, but spring is on the way. Evidence of the approaching season change is in the increased lateness of darkness during the past few days.

It doesn't get dark nearly as early as it did a month ago. And the daylight arrives earlier, too. When we notice this each year, we take comfort in the fact that spring can't be too far away.

Understand we didn't say spring was here. We've just noticed the first indication that it was promising to come again, that's all.

two two-year terms. Gober and Bonds have each served one term. Corn was appointed by the council to fill the unexpired term of Mario Trevino, who moved from the community after being elected two years ago.

Citizens may file for positions on the ballot at the city hall or candidates may be petitioned. Petitions require a minimum of five signatures of qualified voters and are to be submitted to Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, city secretary.

There will be two vacancies on the seven-member school board.

Terms of Grady Sorley, present president, and Don Murphy expire.

Board members with one more year remaining on their present terms are Durward Bell and J. E. Sherrill, who was appointed to replace Robert Read, who resigned prior to the present school year.

Board members who were elected last year and have two years remaining on their terms are Leon Grissom, Leslie McCain and Billy Marshall.

Candidates for the position may file their own names with Mrs. Pearl Dodson, school district tax assessor-collector, at the tax office down town or candidates may be placed on the ballot by petition.

The city election is scheduled for Tuesday, April 5. Ballot

Showmanship awards will also be presented in each of three divisions, swine, lambs and steers.

Candidates for the four positions which will become vacant this year were selected by a nominating committee.

At a regular monthly meeting Thursday in Bovina Restaurant, Bill McGinnis, a Lubbock attorney, met with the group to discuss the possibility of moving here to practice law. He said he would make a decision in the next few weeks.

McGinnis told the chamber directors that he feels "this area offers great opportunity. I think you have a progressive community and I like it."

His wife is a school teacher. McGinnis is a 1962 graduate of University of Texas law school. He completed his undergraduate work at Texas Tech. He has worked two years in Lubbock city attorney's office.

In other business, the board agreed to sponsor a variety show sometime in April to benefit the Community Improvement Fund, which is designed to construct a clinic here. The show will feature a musical comedy group from Lamesa.

Also discussed was a benefit basketball game to be sponsored by the chamber which will also benefit the CIF. It is scheduled for February 21 (See story elsewhere).

NEW POPULATION FIGURES -- Bovina is wearing a new population figure on her city limit markers. Signs with the new figure -- 1702 -- were erected on the five highways coming into Bovina Monday by members of state highway department maintenance crew. Alfred Mills is shown putting the finishing touches on this sign on Highway 86 east. The old figure was 1029 which had been on the signs since the official census in 1960. The highway department changed the total figure on the signs at the request of the city council. The new figure was determined by the number of water, gas and electric meters in the city. Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture asked the city to request that the signs be brought up to date.

A Way With Windows

Fashions at the window have done an about face—from stark simplicity to the opulent elegance popular years ago. But the room-muffling yards of damask draperies used then have been replaced by drip-dry synthetics and other practical materials that have a lovely, deceptively fragile appearance, but never fear the washing machine.

Drapery linings, too, are back in the fold as part of the richer look. With the extra body a lining gives, draperies hang better and provide more privacy. Roc-lonized, or self-lined, draperies are the newest fashion at windows; they have all the luxury of separate linings, at budget prices. These self-liners are a combination of chemicals bonded right to the back of the fashion fabric to keep sun and dampness away from the decorative face. And because they're insulated, the new self-linings help control the temperature on the room side of even the biggest picture window.

Reflections
From
The Blade

TEN YEARS AGO . . . February 8, 1956
A blizzard, possibly the worst in 25 years of Bovina, swooped down on the sleeping town Wednesday night and continued to cast its white blanket of fury through Sunday. Snow, totaling an estimated 15 inches, engulfed the area for miles around and stopped normal means of transportation until after the storm had "let up." Some residents of the country around Bovina weren't able to get into town for groceries and other supplies until Monday. Many of those who came before Monday traveled on tractors and horses, and a few walked.

Farmers and businessmen from all over the plains, including Parmer County and the Bovina area, heard two specialists in the vegetable field—one a specialist in production and the other in marketing -- discuss the possibilities of a mass vegetable growing and marketing idea that sprang from the mind of Lazbuddie Farmer Donald Davis.

The Parmerton Gas Association awarded a contract to Bob Orr of Panhandle Steel Company of Amarillo to build some 25 miles of natural gas pipe line north of Bovina. The contract was awarded Tuesday at meeting of the newly formed association's contract committee. Members are Dave Carson, Joe Wilson, Loyd Battey, Bill Thornton, Johnnie Horn, H. T. Reynolds, O. W. Rhinehart, Floyd Dunavant, chairman, and C. R. Elliott, secretary.

Bovina Church of Christ will have a gospel meeting February 12-19. The meeting will start on Sunday and end on Sunday. Cline B. Drake of Crosbyton will be the speaker.

SIX YEARS AGO . . . February 10, 1960
Plans were made for annual school trustee election at a regular meeting of school board Monday night. The election will be first Saturday in April, terms of Board President Bob Wilson and Wendol Christian, former president and veteran member, expire.

City commissioners discussed the possibility of bringing an ambulance to Bovina Wednesday when the man who has offered to put one here accidentally walked into the meeting. Jay Claborn, of Claborn Funeral Home in Friona, was in town on other business and went into City Hall where the commissioners were meeting.

Claborn has had a standing offer before the city for years to leave an ambulance here. Commissioners have been reluctant to accept because of lack of understanding of liability the city would assume in operating the ambulance, according to City Secretary Henry Minter.

Despite two losses to Lazbuddie Longhorns, Bovina's Mustangs still have a good shot at the District 2-B crown according to Coach Bob Wills. "If we can win the next two, we will meet Lazbuddie in a best two out of three series for the championship," the coach says.

Potato Salad:
International Favorite

Many are the ways of fixing potato salad. In Scandinavia, they often combine potatoes with apples, beets and herring. In Spain, anchovies and capers turn up with potatoes in salad and in the Basque country, they even fill a hollowed apple with cubed potatoes which have been marinated in an olive oil-vinegar dressing. French potato salad consists of simple sliced cooked potatoes dressed with vinaigrette sauce. German potato salad sometimes appears with bits of crumbled bacon or the potatoes may be flavored with dill and garnished with cucumbers. At the Castellana Hilton Hotel in Madrid, a "Salad Americano" listed on the menu turns out to be potato salad garnished with tomato wedges and hard-cooked eggs.

Whatever the country of origin, the dressing for potato salad is all-important. Most connoisseurs also feel that the cooked potatoes should first be marinated in fragrant olive oil, preferably a Spanish olive oil. An old Alsatian trick is to add a couple of tablespoons of boiling hot water to the potatoes just before tossing them with oil—important if raw onions are used with the potatoes, it blends the flavors more smoothly. Vinegar is never added until last, shortly before serving. Sometimes vinegar is omitted altogether and mayonnaise added, but many an otherwise delicious salad has been ruined by too much mayonnaise.

Spanish Potato Salad

4 potatoes, cooked, diced	1 tablespoon hot water
1 garlic clove, peeled	1/4 cup Spanish olive oil
1 small white onion	3/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon diced pimiento	2 tablespoons vinegar
2 anchovy fillets, chopped	12 pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon capers

Rub out garlic clove over wooden salad bowl. Slice onion thin, or dice fine. Add to bowl with potatoes, pimiento, anchovy and capers. Add hot water, toss lightly. Add olive oil and salt, toss again. Let stand at room temperature until an hour before serving, then chill. Just before serving, add vinegar, toss lightly, arrange over salad greens. Garnish with sliced stuffed olives. 6-8 servings.

SENATOR
Ralph Yarborough

Dear Fellow Texan:
Last week the Federal Budget for 1967 was laid before the Congress. Although the Budget in general is responsible in meeting our Nation's requirements, it fails to provide for any meaningful program of readjustment assistance for our 5 million veterans of the Cold War, more than a quarter of a million of them in Texas. These are the veterans who have had their lives interrupted on an average of more than 2 1/2 years while they were defending our freedoms all around the perimeter of the free world.

With the growth of armed conflict in Viet-Nam, it is clearer each day that this Nation must help these veterans readjust to civilian life when they are released from the Armed Services, just as we helped the veterans after World War II and the Korean Conflict.

Yet, this new bill proposed in the House of Representatives last week is a small, limited bill to educate and train only 126,000 veterans out of the total 5 million veterans of the Cold War.

To date the Administration has refused to recommend an effective bill for these Cold War veterans, but justice, economics, and the people of this country demand and recommend it.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have stated that this bill limited in the House of Representatives is a "watered-down and cut-rate piece of legislation." The National Commander of the VFW called it a "Hydra-Headed Monster proposed by the Administration."

Not only is the bill limited in the number of veterans it would cover, but it proposes what is called a pock mark theory of veteran's legislation where veterans of a few limited areas get education benefits, but the majority of veterans do not. Such discrimination against most of the veterans of this Nation has never been practiced in veteran's legislation in the history of this country, because we do not believe in second class soldiers in this Nation. I will fight against such false distinction and discriminatory legislation against veterans because it would be a new departure from veteran's legislation.

This new watered-down proposal in the House of Representatives requires that a veteran serve two years before his government will help him readjust to civilian life, a stringent rule never laid upon the backs of veterans in the past.

Today's veterans deserve the same treatment that our veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict received. In a recent editorial in favor of my Cold War GI Bill that would offer educational training to all the veterans, the Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution of Atlanta, Georgia, stated that "the current crop of veterans should not be asked to settle for less than those of a decade ago."

Stars and Stripes, the National Veteran's newspaper, also endorsed my GI Bill in a recent editorial, saying that they hope the GI Bill will be passed in the form which it passed the Senate.

I believe we should have a GI Bill this year, and I do not think the Federal Government should pay back those who defend our lives with a watered-down, limited, unjust bill.

Dear Fellow Texan:

When I returned to Washington for the beginning of this session of the 89th Congress this January, I pledged to the people of Texas that I would make every effort to see that the programs which were enacted into law last year were given sufficient funds to become effective, and that we would not neglect the building of the Great Society.

I was pleased when President Lyndon B. Johnson recommended to Congress that we should continue the beneficial and progressive programs of the Great Society. I am confident that the United States economy and the American people can rise to the challenge of continuing our great domestic programs, without cutting our military effectiveness.

One such program is the War on Poverty. President Johnson stated in his State of the Union Message that we should not only continue the War on Poverty, but should speed it up, and I agree with his recommendation.

The War on Poverty has meant great benefits to our home State of Texas. Already we have received in Texas more than $41 million in funds used for the War on Poverty.

Texas has received $14 1/3 million for 147 different Neighborhood Youth Corps Projects which provide work experience and training for youths 16 to 21 years old, enabling them to get and hold jobs after this training. Already in Texas more than 28,000 young people have been helped under this program.

There have been 52 work-study programs to give part-time jobs to college students from low-income families so that they can complete their college education. Texas has received $2 1/2 million for these 52 programs.

Grants totaling $1,600,000 have been given to Texas for Adult Basic Education Programs which give low-income adults the chance to learn to read and write and thus become employable. Over 43,000 Texans have received education under these programs.

Rural loans to provide loans to low-income farm families who need small amounts of money to increase their earnings have numbered 1,100 in Texas, amounting to almost $2 million.

In addition, Texas has received almost $20 million for Community Action Programs in different local communities, including 170 Headstart Programs which give lower income children a chance to begin the first-grade on an equal footing with other children.

Despite the money that Texas has received however, we have not received our share in accordance with the number of people who need education or training under the War on Poverty. Texas ranks number one in the Nation in the number of poor, but we rank only fifth in the amount of funds we have received.

But without the proper leadership to encourage the poor of Texas to make application for these training and educational projects, the War on Poverty will not reach the people it was intended to benefit. On the Community Action Programs (one of the types of projects which was subject to the Governor's veto before the Congress limited it) Texas has lagged far behind in using the total amount of its quota of funds. There should be better leadership in Texas to assist the communities in applying for these programs so that the War on Poverty can benefit the poor of Texas and thereby help the whole State. Our leadership should encourage this improvement instead of fighting it. Otherwise our State will remain in first place in this Nation with a large number of poor families.

I will continue to support the objectives of the War on Poverty and work toward their better implementation in Texas.

AUSTIN -- Gov. John Connally is going along with forecasts that a "substantial amount" of new government spending in the next fiscal period is "almost inevitable."

However, Connally declined to join in predicting specific new taxes. He called such forecasts "premature," although the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy earlier had indicated it agrees with the predictors.

"It's almost inevitable that we are going to be looking at increased expenditures in a substantial amount," Connally told a press conference. "But I don't want to try to estimate the magnitude of a tax program, if any, or the expenditures."

Meanwhile the tax policy committee held its first meeting, ordered Texas Research League studies on impact of sales tax adjustment and an unusual appraisal of how to equalize the widely-varying state property tax.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, committee chairman, reported that all members of the panel seemed to feel that more revenue will be necessary when the Legislature writes the new budget for Texas government operations next year.

Atwell said the committee will be taking a reading on revenue which could be obtained from raising the sales tax rate (now two per cent) and removing various exemptions.

These exemptions apply to food, drugs, farm machinery, alcoholic beverages, industrial and agricultural fuel and power. Atwell doubts that the legislature will tamper with the food, medicine and farm implements.

He expressed a personal preference for a rate hike if new money is mandatory.

Fire Here Early Monday

Bovina Volunteer Fire Department answered an early morning call Monday.

An automobile was on fire at the intersection of Highway 86 and Third Street. The car, a '59 Ford, was owned by Jerry McGuran of Dimmitt.

The fire started from a faulty wheel bearing. McGuran called in the alarm from a pay telephone at that intersection.

The rear of the auto was heavily damaged before the flames were extinguished, reports Bill Denney, city marshal.

The fire was reported at 1:30 a.m. Monday.

Parr, who is also a director for Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, gave a rundown on the activities of that organization during the past year.

W. L. (Preach) Edelman, who is president of a group of farmers in the Black community who banded together to form the Plains Farmers Cooperative, reported on the progress of that group, which began last summer to purchase gas from Transwestern Gas Company.

It was reported that negotiations were also underway with another gas company with lines across the area, Great Plains Gas, which might also become a competitive gas supplier.

"We would like to remind all members who were not at the meeting that annual dues of $2 per well are now due. We have collected for around 250 wells, but usually have around 1,000 wells represented in the county," said Schlenker.

Among those present for the meeting was Bill Millen of Muleshoe, president of the Plains Gas Users Association.

Parmer County Irrigation Gas Users Association was organized in 1961 in the interests of securing gas for irrigation purposes at the most reasonable rate possible.

Texas Tech basketball fans were quieter than an unpopular referee at a coaches' convention following the upset of the favored Red Raiders to Texas U. Saturday night in Lubbock.

We hesitate to comment on that game and its outcome to any great length, however, because this is being written prior to Tuesday night's game between the aforementioned Red Raiders and the league-leading Fightin' Texas Aggies. An upset in that game could put us in the awkward situation of having our foot caught in our typewriter.

Probably it's best that we just wait until the season is over, or later, before we ride all-ready-upset Texas Tech fans ... much.

If you itemize your deductions, you may use this table to determine the general sales tax to be entered on Form 1040, page 2, Part IV. However, if you can establish that you paid a larger amount, you are entitled to deduct that amount. This table is based on the Texas State sales tax of 2 percent. Sales taxes for automobile purchases are not included in the table and they should be added to the table amount, if applicable.

Karen Estes Wins Betty Crocker Award

Karen Estes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Estes, is this year's Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow for Bovina High School. She scored highest among 15 senior girls here in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken December 7.

She is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards ranging from $500 to $5,000. In the two years Karen has attended Bovina High School, she has participated in Junior Class play, student council, newspaper staff, and the high school musical production. Among the offices she holds in her senior year are class treasurer, German Club president, and Pep Club vice-president. Also, she was selected most likely to succeed her junior year. She is a cast member of the Senior Class play to be presented March 19.

Karen is now taking her first year of homemaking.

Before moving to Bovina two years ago, she attended Monterey High in Lubbock where she was active in Spanish Club and Sophomore A Cappella Choir.

Karen is among more than 570,000 senior girls in 14,714 of the nation's high schools enrolled for the examination.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are being judged competitively. From them, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker Search. In addition, her school will be awarded a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. The second-ranking girl will receive a $500 educational grant.

Following her selection, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow, together with a school advisor, will join winners and advisors from each of the 49 other states and the District of Columbia in an expense-paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington D.C. Climax of the trip will be the naming of the 1966 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Chosen from the state winners on the basis of her original test score, plus personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will receive a scholarship increased to $5,000. Grants of second, third and fourth ranking girls in the nation will be raised to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively.

All judging is conducted by Science Research Associates, Chicago. This educational testing and publishing firm also constructs and grades the written test.

Began in the 1954-55 school year, the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow is designed to emphasize of homemaking as a career.

A couple of weeks ago I ran a want ad for my husband's hat. Now I've got more hat stories going than I can keep up with. Did have a response to the ad, Harley Sherich said Billy had his hat. And, that he picked it up at church. The only catch to that is that Billy didn't wear a hat to church on the Sunday in question.

Well, Harley does have his hat back, and Billy has someone else's hat, the one Harley wound up with when his own was missing. It's a very nice hat, even a more expensive one than Billy's, but it's not his, and you can tell it when he puts it on. It just doesn't look right.

So, we've still got somebody's hat. If you have one, not your own, in a size seven, long oval, Resistol, let us know, we may have your hat.

Also, since I've been in the hat story business, have learned that someone has Travis Hancock's hat. It, however, isn't a Resistol, it's a Bradford, 7 and one eighth, and it even has his initials in it. He has someone's hat, a very nice hat, but as I say, it isn't his.

So, there are still four men, two of them unknown who have the wrong hat.

Am so glad that we women don't have that trouble with our hats. Men may laugh at them all they like, but I know that no other woman will ever pick up one of my hats, thinking that it is her own.

Haven't read anything specific on new spring fashions for women's chapeaus, but from what I've seen in the stores, the new spring hats look as fresh and flowery as they do each February. It is so refreshing to go into a dress shop when there's snow on the ground and it's really cold, and see these bright pastel hats. It really makes one ready for spring to get here.

I don't particularly like to buy my new spring hat in February, but as most of you can bear me out, you can nearly always find more attractive hats in February than you can the week before Easter.

As long as I'm on the subject of women's fashions, what about these hip hugger slacks? I just love them, they're so comfortable. And, the high school girls look real cute in them.

Am seeing more and more of them in the new spring fashions. Something I must comment on is the new spring shoes. They can be equalled only by the crispness of the hats.

Why is it that the spring shoes make you want to buy a pair, just looking at the bright colors? At least, that's the way they effect me. Winter shoes don't strike me this way. In winter, it's always should I buy black shoes or black shoes. They make me feel like a funeral.

But, the spring shoes are happy; they make you feel light and fresh.

Malcom were in Bovina they also visited with Mrs. Malcom's mother, Mrs. Frank Smith. Both Malcoms are brothers of Mrs. Carson.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Jones returned to Bovina Saturday. They had spent three weeks in Mesa, Ariz, and one week in San Francisco, Calif. While in San Francisco they visited brothers of Mrs. Jones.

Serving at the bride's table were Oleta Hamby of Vernon, sister of the bride, Dollie Daughtry of Quanah and Janet Roberts of Quanah.

The groom's table was covered with a beige crocheted cloth, handmade by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. John Counts of Tucumcari, N.M. Chocolate cake and coffee were served from the groom's table by Terry Darling and Harrol Redwine.

For her traveling ensemble, the bride chose a suit of burgundy nylon and mohair with black accessories.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Quanah High School. The groom is a 1963 graduate of Lazbuddie High School.

The couple will make their home in Canyon, where the groom will continue his studies at West Texas State University.

Every Christian A Witness

"... And ye shall be witnesses unto me..."
Acts 1:8

Our world is rapidly becoming pagan. With each passing day, a larger portion of the world's population consists of people who embrace no kind of Christian religion. If memory serves us correctly, out of each 30 babies born today, only one of them will ever be converted to any kind of Christian concept. This means that the world is being paganized 30 times as fast as it is being Christianized. Why? What is the problem? Do we who hold to the truth of God's Word and to faith in The Lord Jesus Christ not have the Truth which can set the world free?

It is this writer's opinion that the basic problem is that we have too long had the "Let George Do It" attitude about our faith. We are content to let someone else do our job for us in the spiritual realm, and therefore it never gets done. One sad fact is that when the people let the "preacher" do all of the Christian work, most of it goes undone.

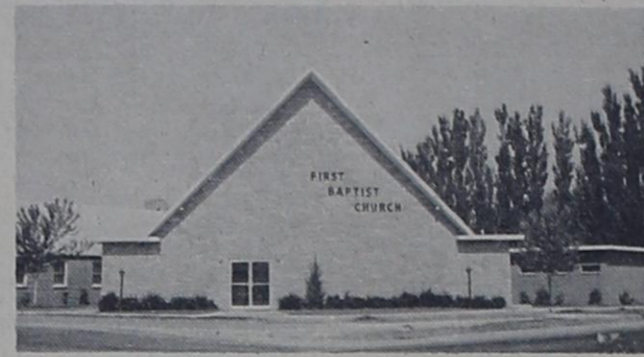

If each Southern Baptist (approx. 10,500,000 in the U.S.) alone, not counting other church groups, were to win only one convert this year, then all those combined were to win only one more each the next year, and so on, within about ONE GENERATION, the world would belong to Christ.

This is a real possibility, and a real challenge. It can be done, if each Christian were truly a witness.

4-H COUNTY FOOD SHOW DATE has been set for March 26th. The details on place and date has not been worked out yet, but this gives 4-H leaders and members a goal to work toward.

A visit with Mrs. T. A. Mills of Bovina the other day indicated an enthusiastic group is working in Food project. She has five girls in her group that are looking forward to the food show. Enthusiasm is contagious. If a leader puts a lot into her job as a group leader and is enthusiastic then her girls will be enthusiastic also.

Mrs. Sonny Spurlin, Bovina, is also working with a group of first year girls in food group. We are still in need of a leader for home improvement project work in Bovina.

JANUARY "WHITE SALE" GUIDE LINES FOR BUYING SHEETS AND PILLOW CASES -- Many homemakers wait until the "white sale" to build up their bed linen supply. These sales feature decorative sheets and pillowcases as well as the traditional white. Here are the answers to some questions you may have about quality:

Muslin sheets are made of thicker yarns, have lower thread count, are coarser and heavier than percales, also less expensive.

Percales are finer and smoother because yarns are combed as well as carded. For muslin, the cotton is carded only.

What is meant by thread count? It's the total of lengthwise and crosswise threads in a square inch of fabric after it's bleached and finished. By themselves thread count numbers do not indicate quality, they merely tell you what kind of sheet you are getting. Common thread counts are: Medium weight, muslin - 130 to 134; heavyweight muslin, 143 to 148; utility percale, 186 to 190; and luxury percale more than 200.

Which type wears best -- There is little difference in wear ability of three groups -- heavyweight muslin, utility and luxury percale. In terms of cost the heavyweight muslin are strongest and heaviest and give the best wear in terms of cost, followed closely by percales. Sheets with about the same number of lengthwise and crosswise threads wear better than those with unbalanced weave. Hold sheets to light to see if weave is balanced and even and threads free of knots. Look for firmly woven selvages.

Seconds and irregulars are often good buys if they are full size and have only small flaws that are not in center where wear is concentrated. What other fibers are used in sheets? Nylon tricot (knit) are very smooth, lightweight, fast drying, and long wearing. Nylon absorbs little moisture, people find them uncomfortable in hot, humid weather. The newest blend is a luxury percale of 65 per cent dacron and 35 per cent cotton, which is fine, strong, lightweight, fast and smooth drying and absorbent enough for body comfort.

By Mary Whitman

"Telling time" by blowing the fluffy seeds off a dandelion, "snapping" a snapdragon, and making a Jack-in-the-pulpit "preach" are age-old flower games enjoyed by children.

Almost everyone has played "he loves me" or "he loves me not" by pulling petals from daisies.

"Do you like butter?" Little girls are still anxious to tell you by holding a buttercup under your chin to see if it casts a bright reflection. Any field of knowledge is fascinating when it's approached as a game, with facts added later as curiosity grows. Even the simplest family outing helps a child learn. Gardening, trips to parks and woods and nurseries all become adventures as a child adds to his information.

A number of fine juvenile books can help a youngster along the way. . . and even engross adults. Did you know that 600 years ago in Syria you could lose your head for picking a crocus? Did you know that the primrose was once used to treat headaches and the marigold to improve eyesight? Or have you ever eaten flowers?

You can find recipes in ancient cookbooks for day lily soup, for eggs scrambled with rose petals, for boiled cattail buds and for candied violets. We learn from a flower book published by Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin. Editor Dorothy Haas points out that a book of this kind tells how plants grow, how they were christened, and how nature has provided for replenishing the world's wealth of flowers.

There are more introductions to the world of plants and nature in a number of books found at local variety stores and libraries. Using books as a guide a child may go on to mount leaves, seedpods, wildflowers and weeds. Framed, these make attractive wall decorations for a child's room. Or, arranged in scrapbooks they can aid with 4-H work or school credits as he studies botany and other subjects.

The town council of Faversham, England, spent so much time studying reports of efficiency experts on how to speed up their work that they got six months behind.

Since Bill Slova of Tampa allowed the chimpanzee that he was training to drive his car, Florida has changed its law on unauthorized use of a motor vehicle to "driver" instead of "person."

FARM BUREAU BREAKFAST -- Some 20 officers and directors of Parmer County Farm Bureau were present Tuesday morning at Bovina Restaurant for a kickoff breakfast for FB membership week. Ed McKay, right, of Farm Bureau's state and national legislative staff, was guest speaker. He was introduced by Jerry Bedenbender, Lubbock FB director. In center is Don Gerles, Parmer County Farm Bureau president.

TOP TEXAN -- Beautiful and talented Dale Evans, Queen of the Cowgirls and a world-renowned philanthropist, displays the Texas Press Association's most coveted plaque -- The Texan of the Year Award. Miss Evans is the first woman to be named Texan of the Year. Four other native-born Texans have been similarly honored. Awards during previous years went to Paul Richards, Van Cibur, Dan Blocker, and C. B. "Tex" Thornton. Pictured with her at the honor banquet in San Antonio on January 29 is her famous husband, Roy Rogers, King of the Cowboys. Miss Evans received the plaque from TPA President Winn Crossley, publisher of the Madisonville Meteor, at the closing event of a two-day TPA Mid-Winter Convention at the El Antonio Motor Inn. The couple flew from California especially for the event.

How to Make A Picture Grouping

Picture groupings can serve many purposes. They can focus attention on one specific area of a room, highlight a large piece of furniture, or introduce a needed color accent.

The choice and placement of a grouping of framed pictures should relate to the available wall space, the lines of furniture beneath it, and also follow the rules of good balance.

According to the Picture and Frame Institute the first step in composing a picture grouping is to mark off an area on the floor approximately the same size as the wall space where the grouping will hang.

This is where you will do your initial trial and error work before punching holes in the walls.

For a large grouping begin with one important or key picture and build your arrangement around it. The key picture may be in the middle, top, or bottom of the grouping.

Arrange and rearrange your secondary pictures around the key picture until you get a pleasing overall effect, suggests the Institute.

Don't spread the pictures too far apart. A narrower space between pictures will tend to give the grouping a cohesive feeling rather than a flyaway effect.

If possible, try to keep the bottom line of the grouping even. Aim for balance so that the eye will flow smoothly from one picture to another. If your vision is continually drawn to one side of the BEEF CATTLE MEETING There will be a meeting for beef cattle producers on February 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the First State Bank of Bovina community room. Dixon Hubbard, area livestock specialist, will discuss recent developments in several areas of beef cattle production. This is the third of a series of meetings this winter planned to help area farmers and cattlemen keep informed of new developments.

TOP DRESS WHEAT Now is the time to top dress your wheat with nitrogen if you didn't apply all of your nitrogen fertilizer before you planted. As a general guide about 100 pounds of nitrogen is recommended for an ungrazed wheat crop. For wheat that is being grazed usually 125 to 130 pounds of nitrogen is necessary to produce a good crop.

Pray one for another -- (James 5:16)

If there is someone we wish to see made whole and perfect, in need of prosperity, success or happiness? Is there someone we wish to see exercise wisdom and good judgment in conducting his affairs? What ever need another person may have, we pray for him. We pray knowing that God is present and works unceasingly in and through the one for whom we pray.

Arrange and rearrange your secondary pictures around the key picture until you get a pleasing overall effect, suggests the Institute.

After you have finalized your floor grouping, cut out a piece of paper large enough to hold the complete grouping. Lay the paper on the floor and draw the outlines of the pictures as arranged on the paper.

Mark the spot where the nail or hook will go. Tape the paper to the wall space, drive the hooks, then remove the paper and hang the pictures.

If your wheat didn't receive this much nitrogen before you planted, then you should top dress with enough nitrogen to add up to either 100 or 130 pounds of total nitrogen applied. Nitrogen applied in excess can cause excessive growth and lodging in the spring.

Top dress applications of nitrogen should be applied before the wheat plants start to grow and tiller. Nitrogen applied after tillering will probably not increase yields any.

FASTER FIELD SPEEDS CUTS SOIL COMPACTION

In an actual test, a 60 H.P. tractor, using standard single wheels and pulling a 14 foot disc, covered 73 rods in five minutes. The trip was made in third gear. But when the same tractor, pulling the same disc in the same field and in the same gear, was fitted with a set of M&W Duals, it covered 92 rods in five minutes! An increase of 27%. Saved fuel, too.

Single wheels put a tremendous "squash" on soil, leaving tightly packed dirt below the level reached by a disc, harrow or field cultivator. Duals spread the weight, cut compaction, help improve yields.

Let Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply improve your tractor's pulling power and efficiency with a snap-on dual wheel set now. We can equip all tractors.

FOOF'S SPOOFS

EDUCATION IS IMPORTANT... BUT PUTTING IT TO GOOD USE IS MORE IMPORTANT...

There are several ways to exercise your pet. First there's the most obvious... walking. Good long hikes benefit you as well as your pet.

Most dogs like to chase balls or other objects—but don't throw stones or something small enough for him to swallow. If you throw a ball 50 yards and your dog chases it and returns it to you 100 times, he has run more than five miles. Also, your mid-section will benefit from the hundred bends it takes to pick up the ball and throw it.

Grown dogs also like to jump. You can teach your dog to do this by holding a yard stick or broom stick a few inches from the floor (with one end of the stick against a wall so he won't just walk around the end). Hold a piece of his favorite food or a toy on the other side and command "jump" or "up".

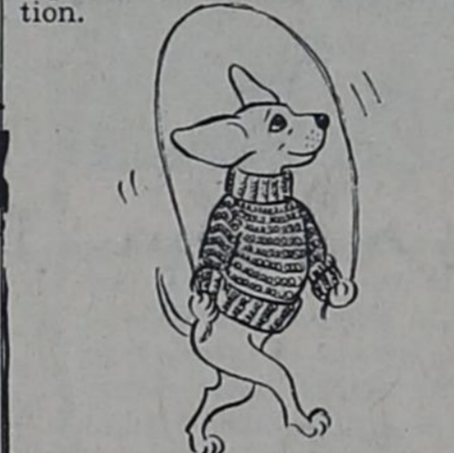

Feeding tip: The chief drawback in using table scraps as a steady diet for your dog is that they usually lack sufficient vitamins and proteins. Top grade, all-purpose dog foods such as Friskies contain these nutrients in the proper amount necessary for good health.

EXERCISING YOUR DOG
By Bob Bartos, Manager Friskies Research Kennels

Most dogs don't get as much exercise as they need. Wild dogs often ranged many miles in search of a single meal, so understandably a jaunt around the block doesn't qualify as enough, particularly for the larger breeds.

Insufficient exercise can make your pet sluggish, out of condition and fat—all of which may make him susceptible to disease or infection.

Community Improvement Fund Growing --

Mexican Dinner Success; Benefit Basketball Scheduled

Bovina's Community Improvement Fund is over $130 richer as a result of two week-end activities which boosted it.

A Mexican dinner in school cafeteria Sunday, which was prepared and served by members of Bovina Chapter of American G. I. Forum, netted $102.40. The weekly rummage sale, held Saturday, brought in another $28.

Approximately 100 people went to the Mexican dinner, which was designed as a fundraising project for the Fund. The Fund's total is now $3,383.68, announces Mrs. Bob Estes, member of Bovina Woman's Study Club.

This Saturday will mark the end of weekly rummage sales which have been conducted in former fire station building on Main Street.

"We'll be open this Saturday and will move everything out," Mrs. Estes says. "We plan to sell the remaining items in large quantities and at cheap prices so that everything can be moved from the building."

The rummage sales will probably be started again next fall. Leaders of the promotion believe that the sale will be more effective during that time of the year.

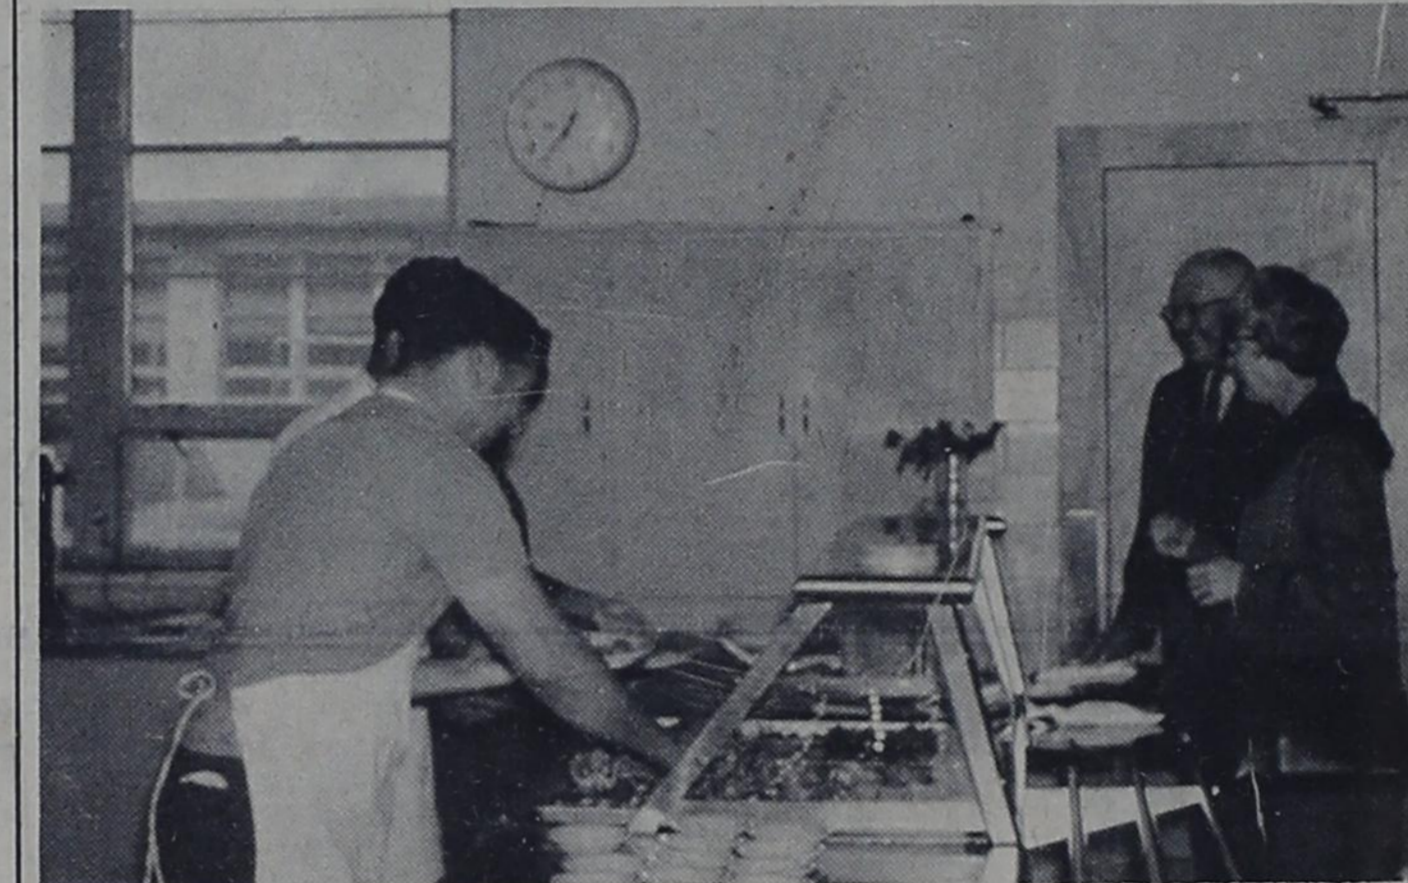

The next scheduled benefit for the Fund, which will be used to construct a clinic here, is a basketball game between Bovina Bull Towners and KCLV DJ's of Clovis. It will be February 21, a Monday night, at Williford Gym.

At halftime of that game, Bovina Elementary School's sixth grade team will play the fifth grade squad.

The benefit games are being sponsored by Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

ANOTHER DEPOSIT FOR CIF -- Mike Barraza, member of the Bovina chapter of American G. I. Forum, deposits profits from that organization's Mexican Dinner in school cafeteria Sunday at First State Bank. Accepting the deposit, which was in excess of $100, is Mrs. Bobby Fillpot, bank teller.

MEXICAN DINNER -- Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradshaw are being served during the benefit Mexican Dinner Sunday which was prepared and served by members of American G. I. Forum here. Profits from the promotion were added to Bovina's Community Improvement Fund.

BREAKFAST, BRUNCH, AND GIRTH
by Margie Blake, Carnation Teen Committee

What's the matter with Touchy Tessie? Everything anyone says to her hurts her feelings, and the slightest thing makes her flare up. She doesn't perk up till after lunch; safest to avoid her till then!

Why can't Burgeoning Betsy control her fatal fascination with fattening snacks? She knows better, and she is so anxious to lose the inches that crowded her out of her favorite outfit. But wave a candy bar or a French fry at her, and pow! she strikes like a hungry trout.

Why is Eloquent Eloise's English grade falling? It used to be her best subject, but since she's been taking it at Second Period, her "A" has sloped off to a "C". Her last test paper was red-peppered with pained comments by the teacher, who finally noted, "You haven't been paying attention!"

And finally, what, besides Problems, do Tessie, Betsy, and Eloise have in common? An insidious habit, all too prevalent: breakfast-skipping. Tessie's mornings are a mad rush; Betsy doesn't eat before school because she hopes meal-skipping will speed her into that outfit, and Eloise can't think of anything she'd like to eat for breakfast.

If only they knew! They all need breakfast to meet the heavy demands of a school day. And a girl who is counting calories should make every calorie count, with body-building proteins, vitamins, and minerals. And it's not only possible to prepare a warmly nourishing breakfast in a jiffy, it's easy. Especially if you use Carnation's recipe for velvety Oven-Scrambled Eggs.

To make two helpings, dice 2 slices bacon. Brown in small frying pan over medium heat. Pour off all but 1 teaspoon drippings. Beat 2 eggs with 1/2 cup undiluted Carnation evaporated milk, 1 teaspoon flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt and a few grains pepper. Add to bacon in frying pan. Cook over low heat until mixture begins to bubble (3 to 5 minutes). Place frying pan in hot oven (400°F.) for 5 minutes. Serve at once.

During the baking, the cook has just time to sip a glass of fruit juice. Afterward off to school. Results? Tessie is now a model of emotional stability. Betsy turns from high-calorie snacks with a will of iron, and Eloise recites brilliantly in Second Period English. Would that other problems were so easily solved!

The Carnation Teen Committee, made up of teens in schools across the country, makes suggestions for this column. If you have an idea or want a Teen Party Idea Booklet, write to CTC, 777 Third Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017.
