A recreational program, with special emphasis on golf and the aspirations meeting of the Lions club held at noon . Tuesday. Golf clubs were utilized to furnish attractive table decorations, while the Valentine motif was carried out with red hearts bearing invitations to Merkel citizens to join the Golf club and participate in its activities.

E. Yates Brown was toastmaster, first introducing Joe Ward of Abilene who gave several cornet solos, with Mrs. E. Yates Brown accompanying at the piano. Miss Lucy Tracey followed with two readings, both having to do with golf, and fitthe day.

DILTZ EXPLAINS CLUB PLAN.

W. L. Diltz Jr., president of the Merkel Golf Association, was the guest of the Lions and explained the early organization of the Golf club and the present plan of operation. He said the "pay as you go" policy had been adopted, each member being pledged to pay $2.00 per month as dues, which amount provided for the employment of a caretaker for the course and enabled the members to enjoy the game at all times and without inconvenience. Membership was urged both from the standpoint of recreational advantage to the individual member and as a contribution to civic advancement. #### OIL MEN SPEAKERS.

F. L. Routh of Breckenridge, connected with the legal department of the Phillips Petroleum Co., and C. H. Siggins of Tulsa, Okla., production Manager for the Midcontinent Oil and Gas Co., were guests of the club and spoke interestingly of Merkel's connection with oil development.

Mr. Routh gave it as his belief that Merkel occupied a stragegic position for rapid development with a prolific oil field to the north and prospects for another field the same distance south. He urged Merkel citizens to take advantage of the opportunities now the construction of the gravel road toward the oil field, Mr. Routh saying it was a step in the right direction, as tivity in the field would be seeking new depot for Merkel. WARNING AS TO PECAN PLANTING

West Texas Farmers Told Trees Bred in Rainfall Area Are Not Suitable.

Fort Worth, Feb. 14 .- A warning to West Texas farmers contemplating pecan planting, that trees which have been bred to high rainfall conditions will not develop properly in West Texas has been issued by Col. R. L. Penick, chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Col Penick stated that many West Texas farmers have been interested in planting pecans to the extent that they have bought a few trees for experimental purposes and were very much disappointed when they died. This failure of the trees to live was because they had been raised in a climate where from 60 to 70 inches of rain fell each year and were planted in a climate which averaged 20 inches of rainfall per year.

The western varieties have smaller leaves than the eastern varieties and require less water. Reputable western nurserymen sell no other kind.

Originally the West Texas Chamber of Commerce undertook to distribute one thousand trees at very nominal prices but a new deal whereby all orders for trees during the season can be filled has been made. The orders will be received at the headquarters office at Stamford for Halberts, Nuggetts, Burketts and Success, all proved vestern varieties.

Hawk Brand Work Clothes Made in South

Twenty years ago the center of the textile industry of the United States was located in the New England section. Today the larger percentage of the cotton spinning, weaving, dying and manufacturing has been transferred south of the Mason and Dixon Line.

This result has been a gradual outgrowth of a desire on the part of the mills and cotton factories to eliminate charges, and also to reach a more selective source of skilled labor.

Outstanding examples of this development are the two modern and completely equiped Hawk Brand Work Clothes factories located at Paris and Waco, Texas. At these two plants, there is row and row of modern machinery, which at full capacity are capable of turning out millions of pants, overalls, autosuits, shirts and playsuits, annually. Approximately 800 operators can be employed at one time Only the best of materials and most comfortable patterns are used in these factories for experience has shown that the consumer wants good merchandise when he pays out his

Your home town merchants and business enterprises are entitled to the support of the people living in the trade territory of that town. Communities and towns with city aspirations cannot hope to succeed unless encouragement is accorded enterprises already in their midst. Every city of consequence in the United States was built by the support of its citizens.

By patronizing the Merkel merchant you are enabling him to prosper and at the same time increase his business volume. Increased turnover means that he will be better able to serve you. Whether it be Groceries, Meat, Dry Goods, Clothing or Automobiles the home dealer is entitled to your patronage. By the same reasoning, the farmer can aid in the creation of a better market by selling his products in the home town-dealing with friends whose interests are mutual.

Money spent away from the home town is contributing to the upbuilding of some other section. Money spent in the home town finds its way into the hands of your friends and back into your own pockets.

We buy and sell Poultry, Eggs, Cream, Hides and Furs. We pay the highest market price and sell on a close margin. We are a Merkel institution and are always anxious to present our claims to your business.

-that's Lone Star Gas' winter job!

"Keeping the home fires burning" is not merely an echo of the world war to Lone Star Gas Company---but an every day job! There's food to be cooked --- there are folks to be kept warm in winter. And supplying natural gas for the cooking and heating needs of 200,000 homes, and thousands of hotels and restaurants---well over a million people---is no small job. It takes ample resources --- and a large and well trained organization, animated by the spirit of service.

Such are the resources and the organization of Lone Star Gas Company--producer, transporter and wholesaler of natural gas --- which serves you through your local gas company. Over 3,200 miles of main pipe lines--- and 20 giant gas compressor stations with 33,000 horse power capacity---are required to bring gas from 21 important gas fields to more than two hundred live and growing communities.

And, here's a point to remember about Lone Star Gas Service. While the gas demand falls off in summer to one-fifth its winter volume, this giant organization (and most of the expenses involved) must carry right on through the warm weather when there is no heating demand---to be ready to serve you, and a million others, when cold weather comes again. Twenty years of dependable service --- is the record of Lone Star Gas Company --- and we strive each year to make our service better --- more complete--more dependable.

members of the Idlewise Bridge club in her attractive home on Oak street with a pretty party in which a colorful tribute was paid to Abraham Lincoln's birthday. All game appointments were of patriotic design and at tea time a salad plate containing baked apples in brilliant red coloring. chicken sandwiches in blue and white, and coffee was passed to Misses Iva Bragg, Mary Eula Sears, Christine Collins, Althea Boden, Mary Cleo Booth, Lucy Tracey, Boag Sears, Mesdames Harry Cookstan, Roy Largent, George White, Matt Dillingham, Jim Sears and Bill Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Scott opened their attractive home on Oak street with two pretty parties last week. Thursday evening's hospitality included bridge games in which all party appointments were of the Valentine motif. Preceding the games a sumptuous three course dinner was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Eugene Harvey, Lige Gamble, R. O. Anderson, Harry Cookstan, Sam Cummings, R. I. Grimes, C. A. Jones, George White, Tom Largent, F. C. McFarland, Edward McCrary, Missecs Mary Eula Sears, Mary Cleo Booth and Dr. W. S. Sadler.
