

Bull Town Bulletins

By Bill Ellis

HAVING JUST returned from a trip to Oklahoma and the Dallas area, ye editor was reminded of an old axiom that we find to be true almost every time we ever go away from home.

That is the fact that almost invariably when you go on a trip, you are apt to run into someone from your hometown, or at least Parmer County, before your trip is over.

This time it turned out to be the Gary Snead family, who live in the Hub Community, that we met in a very coincidental manner.

Number one son Stanley and myself had picked Friday night to watch the Texas Rangers play baseball against the Minnesota Twins.

About the time the game started, who should walk just in front of us but the Sneads. Their seats were in the same section. With a crowd that night of some 16,000 people, what would you figure the chances of winding up with seats almost next to some neighbors from home, when neither knew of the other's plans?

I've always enjoyed this aspect of travelling, and probably the biggest "coincidence" along this line happened to us in 1977, when we took a trip to California.

As we started out, wife Carol said "I'll bet this is one time you don't run into someone you know!" We were almost reconciled to the fact that she might be right, because we knew precious few people in California at that time.

The first stop on our trip was to take the kids to Disneyland on Monday. After making a few of the rides, it became prudent to catch the train, which circles the park, in order to get to an attraction some distance away, without having to walk all the way across Disneyland.

As the train pulled into the station, with open-air cars, who should be waving a greeting to us but Cecil Bunch, longtime Church of Christ minister in Bovina! He and his wife were also taking in Disneyland that day. I should have made a bet with Carol ahead of time; it hardly ever fails.

PLEASE INDULGE us another personal mention this week, and I assure you, if she were your "near relative," I would be glad to make mention of it.

By now, everyone knows that Sally Ride is America's first woman astronaut. (But did you know that in addition to being the nation's first female to orbit the globe, she also is the youngest?)

It just happens that Dr. Ride is married to Steven A. Hawley, who also is a member of NASA's astronaut team. Hawley is a cousin to the Ellises.

Both Sally and Steven hold their doctorate degrees. When he was chosen to participate in the astronaut program in 1978 at age 27, he was the youngest person ever approved by NASA for the select group.

It is also Steven's goal and ambition to be chosen for a space mission. But for the present, he's having to learn humility, and be able to cheer his talented wife, who beat him into space.

McCain Brothers Make Tape

Ben and Butch McCain, Oklahoma City's Channel 4 TV news and weather brother team, have just returned from making a tape and being in Nashville on the Hee Haw Show.

Ben called to say they taped one song, "The Birds And The Bees," did some of their usual humor, performed a skit with Roy Clark in the cornfield, Grandpa Jones and a couple of the Hee Haw honeys.

Ben filled in for Charlie Farqson, telling the Korn News and Butch filled in for Lisa Todd, the weather girl.

The Hee Haw cast saluted the city of Bovina.

Ben and Butch are probably the only news and weather brother team in the country.

Ben said they were asked to Nashville because the producer of Hee Haw had seen a variety show that had been shown in Los Angeles, California.

Going to Nashville with the McCains was Bill Thrash, who is the Director of Operations for Channel 4 TV.

The show will be shown in the fall and they will let us know the exact date at a later date.

Ben says one never knows how much will be cut out or left in but they are excited about the good news and he wanted to let his hometown know.

Ben also says that both he and Butch attribute much of their success to Doris Wilson, their music teacher, and also their parents, Leslie and Rose McCain.

Roming Is Named To State Panel

The Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority has appointed members to the Authority's Citizens Advisory Panel.

Members of the panel include: Ralph Roming, a farmer from Bovina; Dr. James Clifford, a physician from Paris, Texas; Dr. George Crawford, a physicist with Southern Methodist University in Dallas; Mrs. Mary Clair Hill, mayor of Kingsville, Texas; Dr. Haskell Monroe, president of the University of Texas at El Paso; and Dr. Jan Turk, a geologist in Austin.

The Panel will advise the Authority's directors and staff on scientific and social issues such as site selection, public participation and long-range planning.

Roming was selected as chairman of the Panel by the group.

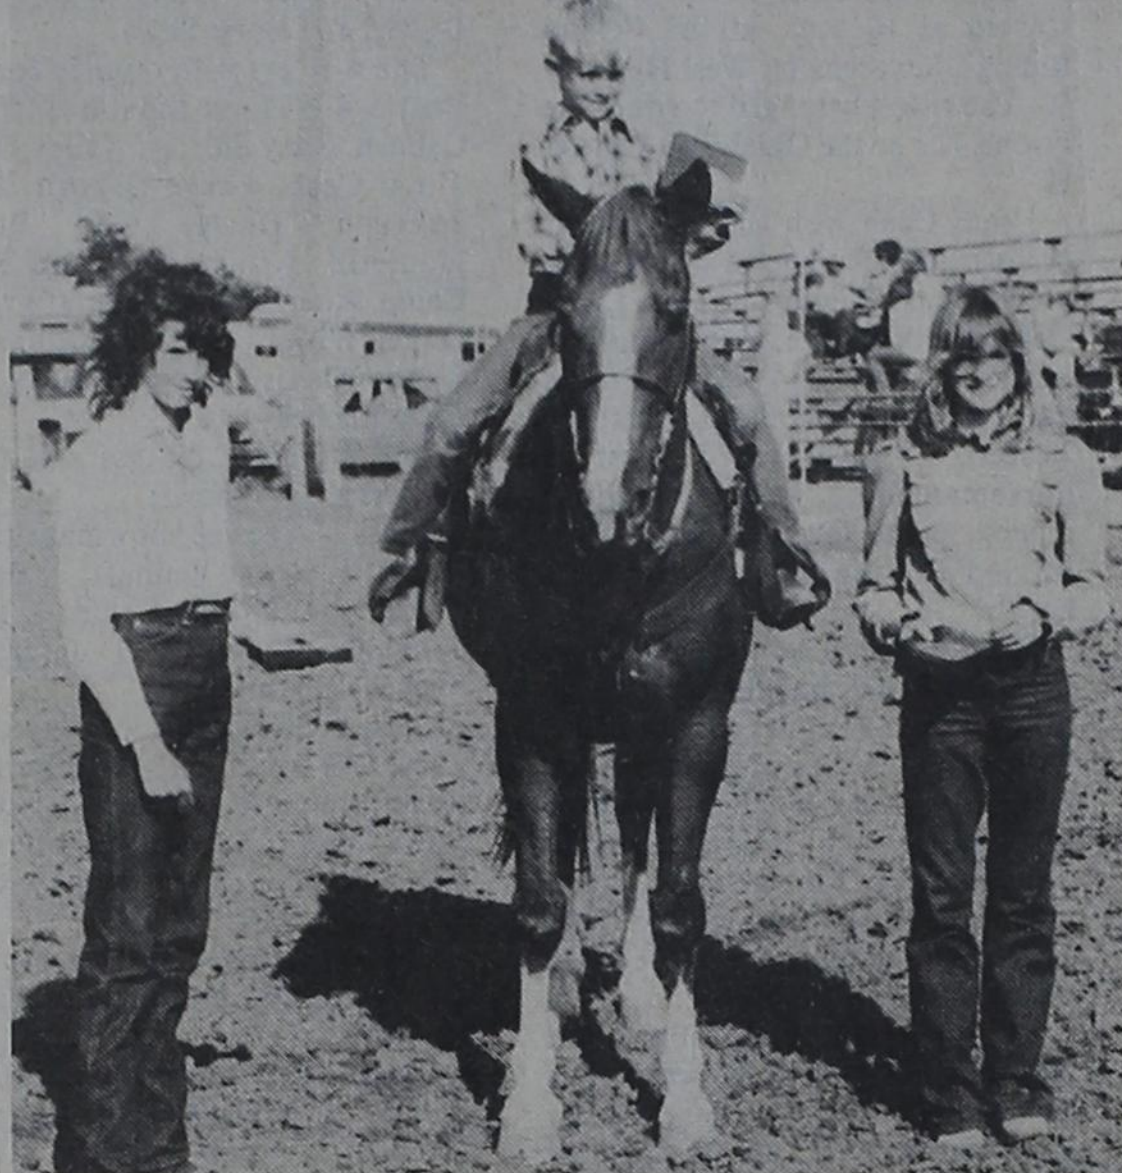

The Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority was established in 1981 to construct a facility for the burial of low-level radioactive waste. Low-level waste include materials contaminated with radioactivity from hospitals, laboratories, and other industries which handle or process radioactive material, but does not include spent fuel from nuclear power plants.

County Show Steers To Be Validated Here

Parmer County steer validation for all county steers (4-H and FFA) exhibitors will be held Wednesday, June 29 from 8 a.m. until 12 noon at the Jerry London farm four miles west of Hub on the Bovina-Dimmit Highway.

All show steers that will be exhibited out of the county must be validated at this time.

If anyone should desire more information contact the Parmer County Extension Agent or the vocational agriculture instructor in each respective community.

Sarpalius' DWI Bill Signed By Governor

The Governor has signed into law a bill which all Texans can be proud of. The signing of Senate Bill One, a bill we authored and sponsored, represents a significant step toward increasing the safety of motorists who travel the roads and highways of Texas.

The new DWI law will go into effect January 1, 1983. The new measure calls for tougher penalties for repeat DWI offenders and it encourages alcohol rehabilitation. The new law also eliminates deferred adjudication, which in the past, allowed offenders to keep their record clean by serving probation without committing another offense.

We believe the tougher penalties, which will be assessed against DWI offenders beginning next year, will discourage intoxicated persons from getting behind the wheel of an automobile.

Under the new law, the courts will be allowed to suspend a motorist's license for up to one year on the first DWI conviction if the offender refuses to participate in a DWI education course. A second offense can result in a suspension of six months to two years.

A first time DWI offender will face a possible maximum fine of $2000 and a jail term up to two years. A first time offender can receive probation without going to jail by participating in an alcohol or drug dependency evaluation and by completing other necessary conditions of probation.

Jail time will be mandatory for repeat offenders. Second time offenders will face jail time of from fifteen days to two years and a fine of from $300-$2000. On a second DWI conviction, a person will have to serve at least three days in jail as a condition of probation.

A third time offender will face from thirty days to two years in the county jail or from sixty days to five years in the Texas Department of Corrections and a fine of from $500-$2000. On a third conviction, a person will have to serve at least ten days in jail as one condition of probation.

Penalties will be further enhanced in DWI cases involving death or serious injury.

Juveniles who are arrested for drunken driving will lose their license after their offense unless they take a DWI education course. After a second DWI conviction, a juvenile will lose his or her license for a year or until he or she reaches the legal drinking age, whichever is longer.

The new law also includes a new definition of intoxication. A person will be considered legally drunk if a test for alcohol in the blood shows a concentration of 0.10 per cent or more. Studies indicate that anyone with a 0.10 per cent blood alcohol level is too drunk to be driving.

Wheat Harvest Gets Underway

Bolstered by a spell of hot, dry weather, the wheat and barley harvest was beginning to pick up steam in the Bovina area this week.

Leslie McCain marketed the first load of 1983 wheat at Sherley Grain. McCain delivered his load of grain on Wednesday, June 15.

Joe Bradburn delivered the city's first load of barley on the same date. The barley tested 13 per cent moisture content.

A spokesman for Sherley Grain said that all of the grain brought in so far has been dryland, and that the yield hasn't been too bad, all things considered. It is felt that the hail and violent weather of earlier this month probably hurt the irrigated wheat more than it did the dryland.

Other farmers who have begun to harvest their wheat include Chuck Stallings, Gregg Wilson, Bob Sparks, Vernon Willard, Mike Beauchamp, Big Nick Treinen and Lawrence Widner.

The dryland wheat had an excellent start this year, helped out by the larger than average snowfalls of the winter. But the crop had hardly any moisture during the spring, and it wasn't until late May that a decent rain was received in the area.

City Receives Sales Tax Check

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today sent checks totaling $43.8 million in local sales tax payments to 974 cities that levy the one per cent sales tax.

"The cities who lean most heavily on oil and gas for their local receipts are still suffering, but the rest of the state is beginning to make up for the drops in revenue we saw earlier this year," Bullock said. So far this year, in local sales tax cities have received $353.5 million, less than one per cent behind the $354 million total paid by this time last year.

Bovina's check amounted to $779.61, which was down from the same period a year earlier, when the city's check was $1,167.40.

For the year Bovina's sales tax receipts amounted to $11,170.67, down 1.80 per cent from the $11,375.47, as of the same date in 1982.

Friona received $4,342.02, which was up from the same period a year earlier, when the city's check was $3,701.65.

For the year, however, Friona's sales tax receipts amount to $46,383.37, down 6.21 per cent from the $49,454.57, as of the same date in 1982.

Parmer County's three municipalities received $6,331.02 for the period, up from $5,914.25 a year earlier. For the year, the county total receipts are $69,414.94, compared to $72,145.92 a year ago.

Houston received the largest check, $8.4 million, a 12.5 per cent increase from the city's June 1982 payment, but year-to-date payments for Houston are still about 8.3 per cent behind last year. Dallas' check for $5.2 million brought that city's 1983 total to $41.7 million, 8.5 per cent ahead of last year.

San Antonio received $2.9 million, boosting that city's increase over 1982 to 10.7 per cent. Austin's check for $1.7 million equals a 16.7 per cent rise above last year. Fort Worth's check of $1.7 million represents a ten per cent increase for 1983.

Midland and Odessa payments still lag behind last year. Odessa's $456,000 June payment leaves 1983 year-to-date payments to that city 32.1 per cent behind last year. Midland received $376,000, leaving that city 25.5 per cent behind 1982.

Bullock also sent June rebates to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. The Houston MTA received $9.3 million, up from last June's $8.7 million check. The San Antonio MTA got $1.3 million, up from last June's $976,000.

The June checks were for taxes collected on sales made in April and reported to the Comptroller by the end of May.

Lions Give $1,000 To Paving Fund

The Bovina Lions Club has contributed $1,000 to the project to pave the parking lot at the Bovina Senior Citizens Center, according to Durward Bell.

The contribution by the Lions has gone a long way toward helping the senior citizens reach their goal. The paving project was expected to cost $6,000.

It is expected that the paving project will be accomplished in July or August.

Those who would like to make a donation to assist the project may still do so at First State Bank, or to any member of the Senior Citizens organization.

A Cool Idea: JJ's Ice Cream Scoops Up Homemade Taste

From THE JOURNAL RECORD

It was on a trip to Cape Cod last June that John Caldwell got his first taste of the ice cream that would inspire the gourmet specialties at the newly opened JJ's Homemade Ice Cream Shop in Oklahoma City.

There was this small store in a converted barn that had the old fashioned fixtures and served the most memorable ice cream, he recalled.

The proprietor had his own White Mountain Ice Cream Mixers and four months out of the year, he made and served his homemade concoctions.

Caldwell, and his partner Jim Rader, had been considering going into the ice cream business as a sideline to their regular jobs at Spaulding & Slye, the real estate brokerage firm. Caldwell is a broker, and Rader is the brokerage manager.

By July, the two of them were both in Cape Cod taking lessons on the art and science of making homemade ice cream.

In their off hours from the brokerage company, Caldwell and Rader can often be found at their shop, 6930 Northwest Expressway, next door to Harry's Oyster Bar. They often work evenings, operating the ice cream mixers that are prominently displayed in the front window.

"We want people to know we make it all right here," Rader said, "from our own recipes."

Learning to make that ice cream wasn't that simple, recalled the owners. They wanted to reproduce the same quality that was offered in the New England establishment.

"We spoke with the guy several times," recalled Rader, "before we convinced him we were 2,000 miles away and wouldn't be any competition."

After paying a consultation fee of $5,000, and agreeing to never open a shop in the northeast, Rader and Caldwell flew out for a day-and-a-half apprenticeship with the ice-cream king.

That fee, "a pretty healthy amount," admitted Rader, was an essential investment, and since their opening in February, the two real estate brokers have applied that schooling to create a large variety of flavors.

"The biggest thing is figuring out recipes," said Rader. "We got in here a month before opening and made ice cream at night. We figured out recipes, till we got a good product."

There are 12 distinctive flavors offered on the menu at any one time, and these rotate almost daily. Caldwell and Rader have created a repertoire of 36 flavors, and are constantly looking for additions to the lineup.

"We wanted a product that was different than others in town," Rader said, "something that the customer could really distinguish."

"Even though price-wise we're more expensive, people are willing to pay the price to get a healthy serving of superior ice cream."

Those prices, 85 cents for one scoop and $5.90 per hand-packed quart, are on a par with other quality ice creams in the city, they said.

In addition to rather unique flavors, such as cinnamon peach or Oreo crunch, JJ's offers an abundant list of accoutrements to challenge the more innovative customer.

"We cater to the individual," Rader said, "anyone can come in and create any flavor. We'll actually mix it to get that special flavor."

Appearing on the menu is "In Its Or On Its," they include M&Ms, crushed Oreos, Heath Bars and Reese's Peanut Butter Cups and eleven other delicacies. JJ's will sprinkle them on top or mix them into the ice cream.

"The kids see the M&Ms," Caldwell said, "and go for that every time."

Vanilla is the biggest ice cream seller, report the owners, followed closely by Oreo crunch, coffee and strawberry.

One of the secrets that makes their ice cream superior to the other expensive types, says JJ's owners, is the manner in which their machines mix it.

"One of the secrets is to whip it at a slower speed," explained Rader. "Because we whip it slower, there's less air. When you get a scoop of ours, it's denser and heavier."

Opening a frozen dessert shop in mid-winter may not seem like good business, but Caldwell and Rader wanted to get a head start on warm weather, to develop the product line and establish an efficient operation.

The owners report that their enterprise, despite the abysmal weather, is already on the verge of becoming a profit-making venture.

JJ's is serving between 200 and 300 customers each weekday, and more than twice that number on weekends. That amounts to about 225 gallons of ice cream per week.

Being located in the center of the northwest's restaurant district that includes TaMolly's, Chi-Chi's, Harry's and Nino's has contributed immensely to the night traffic, Rader said.

"Mexican restaurants help out," he said, "because they don't have a big dessert menu."

John is the son of Tom and Skeet Caldwell of Bovina.

A PEACHY CONCOCTION... Owners of JJ's Homemade Ice Cream Shop, John Caldwell and Jim Rader, traveled all the way to New England to learn their craft.

Roming Gives Views After Facility Tour

Ralph Roming was one of six men appointed by Governor Mark White to be on the citizen's advisory commission to work with the staff and with the board of the Texas Low Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority. Roming was selected as an advisor to represent the agriculture and livestock industry.

The men went June 12 to the Mercury Proving Grounds facility which is the location of Department of Energy of low level and high level waste disposals. They had a briefing at the Las Vegas local office of DOE and there received clearance papers. They rode to the Mercury Proving site in the DOE bus, which was 65 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

This is an area composed of 350 square miles. They toured various segments of the facility. The Mercury testing grounds is where all of the nuclear devices are tested in the United States, whether it be bombs or ammunition or whatever, and these have been tested in Nevada since 1950. About 5,000 people are employed there.

The radioactive cannisters containing the high-level material are received at E-Man, which is the name of the building that was constructed in 1950. It is a concrete building, and rather common-looking from the outside, according to Roming.

The main portion of the building where the radioactive material is received is 165 feet long, 65 feet wide and has a boom clearance inside of 75 feet high. It is constructed out of six foot thick concrete walls and six foot thick lead glass windows.

The rail cars and flatbed trucks with the high level cannisters are received in that building. All the work is done by remote control with people on the outside looking in and operating the remote control system.

The system is very complex and most of the machinery is designed on the order of a human's shoulder, elbow, wrist and hand. It has those capabilities, with the exception of many thousand times that much strength.

It has the capability of picking up a quarter inch washer off the floor or starting a quarter inch screw. This was completed in the 1950's and is constantly improved as time goes on.

All high level material is currently stored underwater at the various nuclear plant facilities across the United States. There are currently 800,000 pounds on storage throughout the country, such as Three-Mile Island, Key-Point, Florida and others.

The site in Nevada is now the only high-level disposal area. When material is ready to be stored underground it is transported to the E-Man facility by rail car or a flatbed truck. Roming reported after seeing a film of the testing at this facility that there is absolutely no doubt that the system is safe.

A film strip showed a semi-trailer truck being totally demolished by a freight train engine and knocking the cannisters several hundred yards. When it was picked up there was damage to the outside of the cannister but none whatsoever to the inside contents nor was there any leakage. The freight train was traveling 80 miles an hour and the semi was sitting crossways on the tracks and was completely destroyed.

The modules are taken out of the shipping cannister and placed in a smaller stainless steel cannister and sealed in this E lab facility. It is completely remote controlled by people working on the outside, looking through the lead glass.

They have monitoring devices to show what the radioactive level is inside this room, and they also have monitors on the outside of the walls.

In thirty years' experience there has not been any radioactive material whatsoever. Roming says, in fact, the radio-active levels in our everyday lives are much higher than what is on the wall inside or out of the E building.

They are equipped with the most elaborate testing equipment possible to check the equipment itself and it is constantly utilized. Many of the workers' only job is to prove that the testing equipment is accurate at all times.

Roming said after visiting the Mercury site in Nevada that he was very impressed. He said before that he had always thought the Department of Energy was a cadillactype of bureaucracy in that there are "visible waste" of taxpayers' dollars, but he felt now that he was absolutely wrong.

He said he was impressed with the scavenger type of research they had done to find ways to use material that was currently on the shelf. He was amazed at the DOE's ability to utilize present and current technology. He was very pleased with their conservative attitude and appearance of trying to do everything possible to save taxpayers' money.

It is still an extraordinary part of our overall United States budget but at the same time Roming was impressed with their conservation of technology, manpower of machinery and apparent awareness of the taxpayers' dollars.

Ora Woody's Services Held

Ora Lee Woody, 80, of Farwell, passed away June 13 and services were held at the Sunset Terrace Cemetery at Farwell. She died after a lengthy illness.

Scooter's Scoops

By Scooter Russell

Elton and Marie Venable attended funeral services for Elton's aunt, Clara Brannen, in Amarillo. Mrs. Brannen would have been 102 years old in November. She was survived by one of her daughters who was 80 years of age and had been living with her until a short time ago when she moved to a rest home. Mrs. Brannen's brothers were Oscar and Bill Venable.

Harry Crammer of the Netherlands was in Bovina one day during the past week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stanberry and Linda. Harry was an exchange student and had lived with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murry in Mt. Pleasant, Texas. This week he has been in Clovis visiting with the Stanberrys' friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hershall Arnold.

One day they brought him to Bovina and Jack Stanberry took him to the top of Sherley Grain, where he took several pictures. He was also treated to a trip to see the production of "Texas," and they also took him to Carlsbad Caverns.

The Senior Citizens will meet June 29 at 11:30 a.m. for their regular luncheon at the center. You are asked to come and bring a friend and the center will be open by 10 a.m.

Wayne, seven-year-old son of Sam and Ella Jo Stormes, will be in Oklahoma for three weeks visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S.J. Stormes of El Reno, Oklahoma. Sam and daughter Darla went with Wayne to Oklahoma but they will be returning after a week's stay.

Maesie Flynn and her sister Mrs. Bruce Parr of Friona have been visiting their sister, Mrs. W.W. Cummings, who is a dialysis patient in St. Mary's Hospital in Enid, Oklahoma. Mrs. Cummings' husband W.W. was in Dallas at the time attending a family reunion.

On the way home Maesie and her sister stopped in Mooreland and visited with two sisters, Mrs. Irene Highfill and Mrs. Carl Lehr. They also visited their niece, Mrs. Charles McKnight, who was visiting relatives in Oklahoma, and she lived in South Carolina.

Vernon and Dottie Ward enjoyed having their family visiting over Father's Day, their daughter Billie and Ken Harrison of Amarillo and their granddaughter and great-granddaughter, Kathy and Kiley of Clovis.

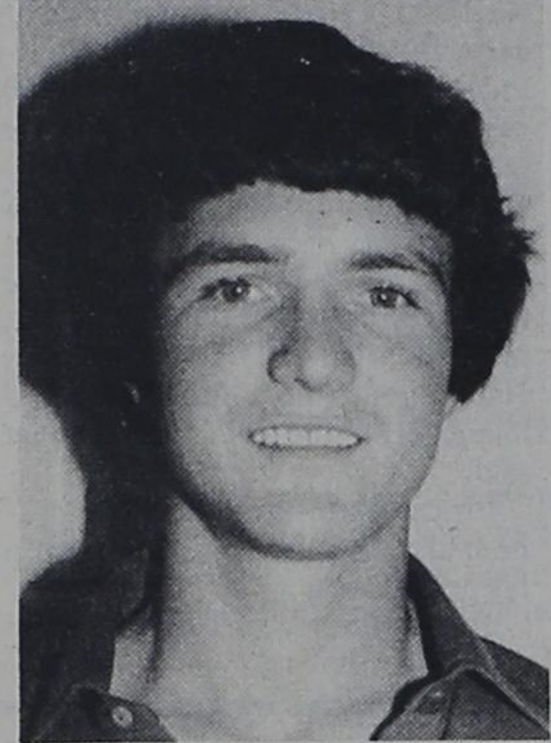

Gary and Vera Cox and family were in Bovina last week visiting with friends, Printes and Carolyn Pruitt. Gary and Vera are former Bovina residents and now live at Wilson.

Jim and Joy Melton and their granddaughter Misti went June 12 to Buckeye, Arizona and visited with family, Kent and Jody Stanberry. The Meltons returned home June 18.

We understand Nathan Moore is getting better every day and he is still in the Alpine Hospital. Three of the Moore children, James, John and Misti have been in Bovina visiting their aunt and uncle, Nita and Don Dale.

We want to express our sympathies to Polly Hester whose mother Ora Lee Woody, passed away June 13. Graveside services were held at the Farwell Cemetery June 15. She was

BRET WHITTEN

Whitten Is Runner-Up For FFA Trip

Bret Whitten of Bovina High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America is the first alternate for one of five trips Southwestern Public Service Company will sponsor to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, in November.

Whitten was a top student in the "Farm Motors" course at a three-day farm electrification workshop sponsored by SPS in Amarillo, June 13-15. Eighty-four FFA boys and five FFA girls from Texas and New Mexico attended.

Vocational agriculture teachers who made up the workshop faculty selected the five trip winners on the basis of test scores and class performance. Winning the trips were Frank Jesko of Lazbuddie, J. Dale Butler of Valley High School, Keith Williams of Mobeetie, Shad Kelley of Abernathy and Brooke Owens of Artesia.

The workshop was the 21st sponsored by SPS. It was the second ever in which girls were students.

The future farmers learned how to wire buildings, build and use electric controls, or how to build electric motors. They also were taught how electricity is made, and first aid and safety tips.

Five area vocational agriculture teachers paid by SPS taught the three courses. They were assisted by ten adult FFA advisors and by SPS personnel.

The "Farm Wiring" course emphasized safe and efficient wiring of two- and three-way switches, proper wire splicing, and how to make a meter loop. The skills can be used in homes, barns, sheds, or other places electricity is needed.

Students in the "Electric Controls" course learned how to tie in three- and four-way switches, how to set up photoelectric cells for automatic lighting, and how to set up two- and three-pole relays.

The "Farm Motors" course taught students how to operate, repair and build small electric motors.

On the second day of the workshop, the students toured SPS' Harrington Station, the coal-fueled power plant northeast of Amarillo. The station has a generating capacity of 1,122,000 kilowatts.

Southwestern Public Service primarily provides electric utility service to a population of more than one million in a nearly 70,000-square-mile area of the Panhandle and south plains of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle, and southwestern Kansas.

survived by one daughter, Polly, three sisters and one brother. She died after a lengthy illness.

Ella Jo Stormes and children, Andy, John and Tammy, spent Father's Day in Farwell with Ella Jo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Myers, and her grandfather, L.M. Bell.

They also visited other relatives, Ella Jo's brother Billy, her sister Sharon, and aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Myers visiting from Fresno, California, and Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Grippando and Shane from Muleshoe.

George and Montie Turner have had company recently: their nephew and his wife, Harmon and Mae Nelson of Lajunta, Colorado, and their grandson Mike McCullough is in Bovina visiting them and his parents, Dean and Arlene McCullough and his sister Nancy Rundell and her family.

Montie was telling me that Mike lives in Houston and is assistant vice president of Inter First Bank in Pasadena. Mike grew up in Bovina and went to school here.

Montie's sister-in-law is seriously ill in Lockney and Arlene drove her parents to Lockney Monday of this past week.

Capi and Cody Grissom are in Bovina visiting grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Durward Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grissom. They live in Montrose, Colorado. Their parents have been here but have gone back to Colorado. They are Royce and Karen Grissom.

Billy and Suez Smith and Billy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Odom Smith attended the wedding of Billy's niece, Glenda, which was held last Friday in Alma, Arkansas. Accompanying the Smiths was their son Kevin. They returned home Sunday night.

Have a fine week and thank you for helping with the Scoops... Scooter.

Alertness Is Stressed By DPS Officials

Motorists should prepare themselves for summer driving, according to Major Vernon Cawthon, Commander of Region 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety. With summer approaching many people are planning vacations and he warned drivers that accidents can spoil vacation trips.

"Summer driving is difficult because the motorist is trying to get away from it all, and this means getting into an unfamiliar environment," he said. "A good rule is to plan your trip before leaving and know highway numbers and streets that you will travel," Cawthon said.

"For the urban driver the expressway can become a bore, luring the weary into a false sense of security. Drivers who normally drive on quiet country roads can panic in the confusion of the multilane mix of car and pedestrian city traffic," he said.

Cawthon said, "Fatigue and lack of alertness is a serious problem on long freeway trips." He advised the motorist to stop every two hours to rest or change drivers and to never drive more than ten hours each day.

The Major suggested that motorists check all hoses, fan belts, tires and to make sure the vehicle is in good mechanical condition before making any trip. He also advised motorists to get plenty of rest each night. Motorists entering large cities should plan their trips to avoid rush hour traffic, obey speed limits, avoid the use of alcohol when driving and be patient. Drivers who think ahead, stay alert and drive defensively can have a safe trip and a great vacation.

Randy James Receives Five Year Award

Randy C. James, maintenance technician two, received his five year service award on June 15.

James is employed by the Bovina Highway Department.

The awards were presented at the district office in Lubbock. He was one of twenty-two employees with a total of 295 years employment recognized at the awards ceremony.

Taryn Ward Celebrates Her First Birthday

Taryn Nicole Ward celebrated her first birthday on June 14 at the home of her great-grandmother, Sid Lloyd. Cake and ice cream were served to members of her family.

She is the daughter of Elyse Ward and Jerry Ward. Her grandparents are Julia Moody of Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Ward of Bovina and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Moody of Plainview.

Taryn's other great-grandmother is Valda Skeen of Clovis. Her cousin, Kendall Webb of Clovis and her great uncle, Elbert Kelley, were also present to help her celebrate her birthday.

USDA Exercises PIK Option For '83 Wheat

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block today said it will be necessary to require wheat producers who do not have sufficient quantities of wheat pledged as price support loan collateral to meet their payment-in-kind requirements to obtain loans on their 1983 crop production.

Producers who have no 1983 crop wheat planted for harvest or who do not have sufficient wheat planted for harvest to meet their PIK requirements will receive payment-in-kind from other wheat in Commodity Credit Corporation inventory, he said.

Block said all producers who signed a contract to participate in the 1983 PIK program agreed to obtain a loan on their 1983 production for PIK purposes to satisfy program needs if required by CCC. USDA decided to exercise this option after determining there is an insufficient quantity of wheat currently available to CCC to meet PIK needs, he said.

CCC has developed special provisions to permit producers to use their 1983 wheat production for PIK purposes even though they do not have warehouse or on-farm storage available, Block said. The producer must certify to the local county office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service that the required quantity was harvested from an eligible farm and has not been sold prior to the certification.

The producer can obtain the loan, redeem the loan collateral and sell it to CCC. The producer then will be eligible to immediately receive the payment-in-kind from CCC inventory. However, these producers will not receive the proceeds of the sale of the wheat to CCC until their PIK availability date, Block said.

Producers with eligible 1983 crop wheat stored in an approved structure on the farm or in a warehouse covered by a uniform grain storage agreement may receive a regular price support loan for the wheat and earn storage payments for up to five months beginning on the PIK availability date.

Two Frionans Are Members Of
Annual "Texas" Performance

The gates are opened, the flags are flying, the lines are polished, and "Texas" is playing for its eighteenth season in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Every night except Sunday, eighty singers, actors, and dancers burst upon the stage to the sounds of "Texas Forever," and once more the story of the settling of the Texas Panhandle during the 1980's is unveiled to near-capacity houses.

Indians, horses, thunder, fire, and romance are all parts of the show. "Goose bumps" are frequently apparent when audience members are made to feel a part of the sacrifice, perseverance, and humor of these pioneers.

Company members were selected in auditions that were held throughout Texas and New Mexico in January and February. Those selected have been sharpening and refining their talents in rehearsals that began in May. Eight hours of practice six and one-half days a week forms the company into a unified whole that not even wind, heat, cold, or storms can divide.

Hospitality members have dusted off their Texas draws and their

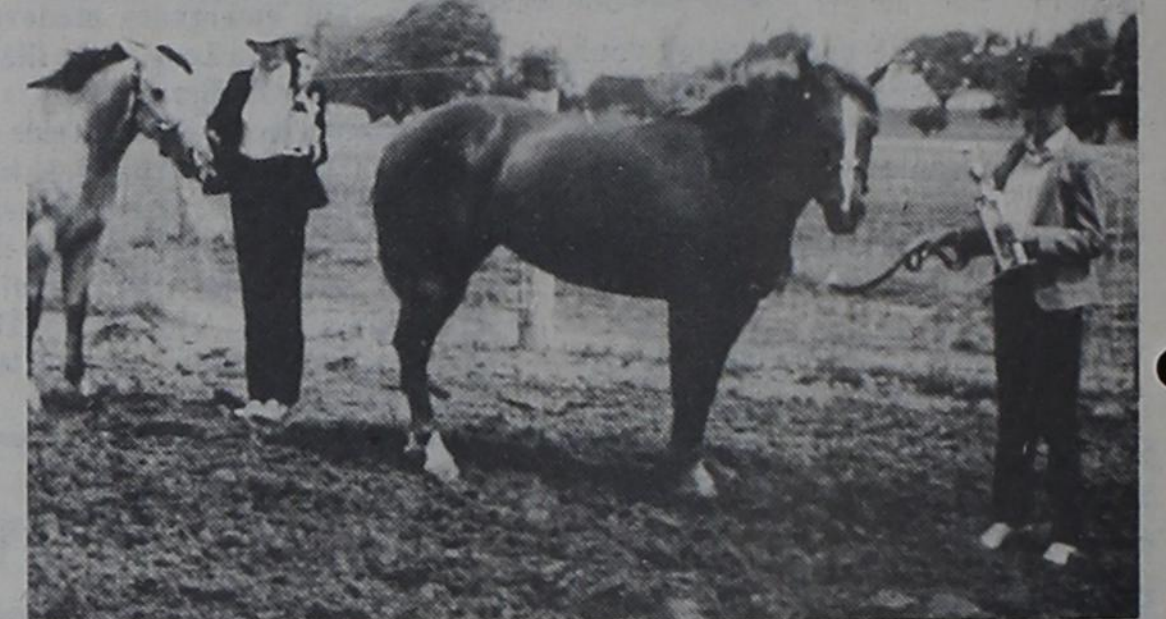

"Howdy y'all." They know how to get the most possible cars onto the parking lot and how to pour hundreds of soft drinks in only a few minutes.

Two local residents perform at "Texas. They are Jo Ann Flores and Brendan Wyly.

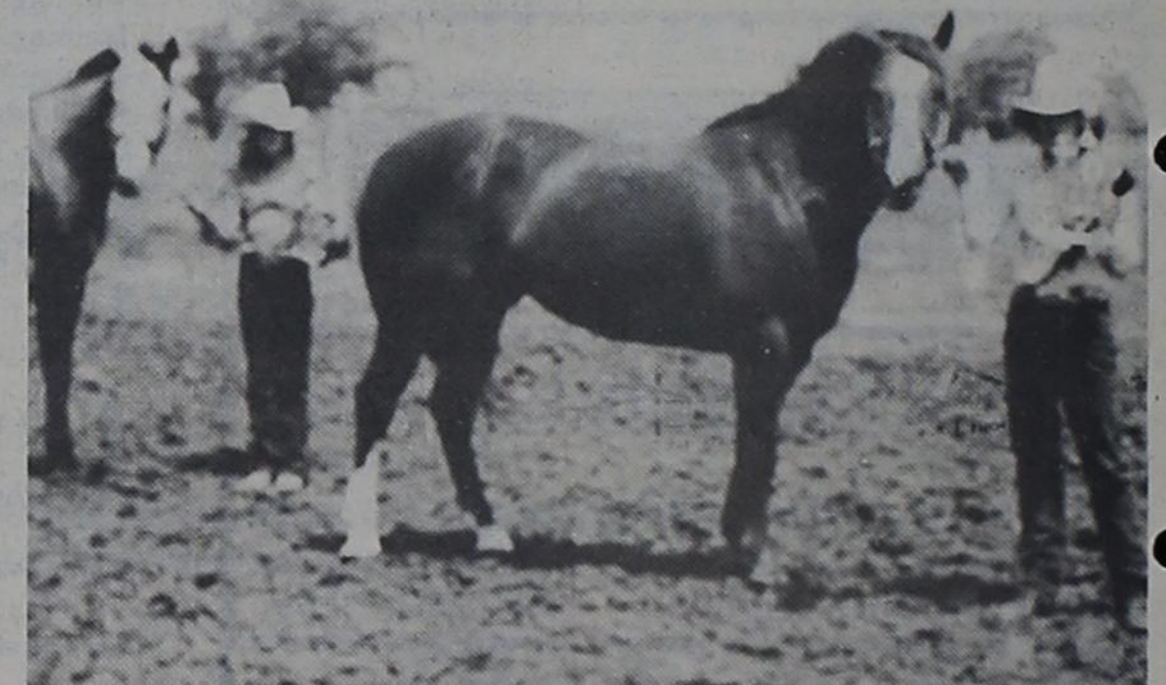

Jo Ann is in the hospitality department. She is the granddaughter of Jose B. Flores, Sr., and the niece of Fred and Ofelia Flores, all Friona residents.

She is a 1982 graduate of Friona High School. She is a freshman sociology major at West Texas State University.

Wyly, a sound and light technician, is the grandson of Alta Wyly of Friona. He is returning for his second year of work with the light and sound crew. Brendan attends Canyon High School and is pursuing a course of study to prepare himself for entry into an engineering school.

Grandparents of the infant are Mary Alice Merrell of Bovina, Jeanene Lopez of Lubbock and Doug Gaines of Amarillo.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gaines of Friona, Mattie Merrell of Lubbock and Alma Englant of Bovina.

Great-great-grandmother is Dellie Horton of Bovina.

Around The House In Parmer County

By LAURA JACOBS
It's that time of year when many of us are cleaning out our closets, storing winter clothes, and getting a bundle together for the drycleaners. While drycleaning can do a great deal to improve the appearance of many garments, it can't do everything.

According to the International Fabricare Institute, professional drycleaning is much more than just cleaning. It's many different operations performed by skilled people, all aimed at giving your garments a "like-new" appearance.

Drycleaning requires reading the labels on garments for care instructions and determining precisely the type of fabric, weave and dyes that make up the fabric. The construction, color and degree of soiling must also be considered. Based on this information, the drycleaner removes spots and stains with water and special chemicals.

Drycleaning also involves replacing sizing, water repellent and other finishes, and pressing the garment on steam equipment to restore its original shape. It can include replacing missing buttons, performing minor repairs, and packaging the garment neatly.

Although drycleaning offers many positive features there are some things that even the best cleaner cannot do. Some stains, for example, cannot be removed. The nature and age of the stain, plus the color and construction of the fabric may make a stain impossible to remove without causing damage to the garment. Drycleaning cannot correct manufacturing defects. Some colors may run or fade during drycleaning or stain removal procedures. This is caused by the manufacturer's failure to thoroughly test the dyes in solvent and water.

Another common manufacturing defect occurs when bonded fabrics separate as they come in contact with drycleaning solvents. Garments sometimes shrink because of the manufacturer's failure to adequately pre-shrink the fabric, as well.

Consumers may also create problems that drycleaners cannot correct. For example, drycleaning will not repair worn or torn areas caused by excessive wear and abrasion. When consumers use poor home spot-cleaning procedures, such as excessive rubbing or brushing delicate fabrics, or failing to rinse chemicals out adequately, there is little the drycleaner can do to correct the problem.

So before you take a load of clothes to the drycleaner, inspect them carefully. Know what you can and can't expect in the way of getting back garments that look "like-new" again.
