IT HAS BEEN OVER four years since Congress passed a law making it mandatory that no one drive over 55 miles per hour. The main goal was to save on the country's depleting energy supply, with a side benefit being the saving of lives because of the lower miles-per-hour ratio.

But studies have proven that the argument that driving 55 miles per hour doesn't hold much water, let alone gas. And if the slower speed has in fact resulted in a saving of lives, the cost is sky-high, and might be better directed along other life-saving channels.

Studies have shown that the reduction in the speed limit "may" have resulted in a saving of between one and two per cent on fuel per year. Even this small of a saving is debated by those who know much more about miles-per-gallon than we do.

In fact, these automobile experts tell us that the energy savings by the 55 mph limit is so trivial that we could get almost this much of a saving simply by keeping our tires properly inflated.

Also, gauging the cost of the number of lives saved against the amount of extra time spent driving shows that Americans, who may waste up to $6 billion in extra travel time per year due to the 55 mph limit, pay to the extent of $1.3 million per life saved on the highways.

Some people argue that the money could be better spent in buying smoke detectors for every home in the U.S. In fact, it has been said that placing such a detector in all the homes would save at least as many lives as the 55 mph speed limit, and the cost would be only $50,000 to $80,000 per life saved, considerably less than the $1.3 million figure.

Stated another way, more kidney dialysis machines could save more lives for only about $30,000 per life, or more mobile cardiac-care units would cost only about $2,000 per life saved.

There are even a number of improvements that could be made, reducing road hazards, which would cost an estimated $20,000 to $100,000 per life saved.

At a cost of $1.3 million per life saved, the 55-miles-per-hour speed limit is not much of a bargain.

A better way of saving gas, the experts say, would be to make it mandatory for everyone to drive the smaller, more efficient automobiles.

Either mandatory, or perhaps provide more incentives. Those in favor of bringing back the higher speed limits say why not pass a law saying that owners and drivers of the smaller cars which are more economical be allowed to drive at, say, 65 miles per hour, where conditions warrant.

This would be better than passing a law which would require everyone to drive the fuel-efficient cars, and might result in much more savings in gasoline than the much-maligned 55 mph speed limit.

Give it a thought. The idea caught our fancy, and we're not so sure but that it wouldn't work, given a fair trial, which is what the mandatory 55 mph limit has had.

THANKS TO THE Uniform Time Act of 1966 we will get an extra hour's rest this Saturday night, which is the date we set our clocks back an hour and return to Standard Time for another six months.

If you're like we are, you are always ready to regain this "extra hour." As a matter of fact, we have been ready for at least the past month, and we're not sure that this one hour we gain on Saturday night is going to do the trick.

But at least it will help.

Ambulance Service Open House Sunday

Bovina Ambulance Service will officially begin service to the community and surrounding area following an open house Sunday afternoon on the parking lot of the Bovina Supermarket. Everyone in the area is urged to attend.

The open house, which is slated to begin at 2 p.m., will feature the local ambulance and its equipment and a visit by the air ambulance from Amarillo. The air ambulance is a helicopter especially equipped to transport the ill and injured who need fast and reliable transportation to Amarillo hospitals.

It is furnished by Panhandle Emergency Medical Services and will be available to Bovina residents.

In addition to the air ambulance, Bovina Ambulance Service personnel will be on hand to demonstrate skills, show equipment, and answer questions concerning local services provided. Although the ambulance now contains all the equipment called for by the state for ambulance operation, following a meeting Monday afternoon with the county commissioners in which additional funding was granted by the county and through the generous donations of many area businesses and organizations, additional equipment which will enhance the ability of the local crews to provide for the comfort and safety of the sick and injured in this area, has been ordered.

Members of the service have spent any spare time they could afford the past week building in equipment and providing storage in the ambulance for equipment. "I think local residents will be pleased with the ambulance and the comfort it can provide," a local crew member stated.

The service, which is due to go into full operation on November 1, can be obtained by calling 238-1212. This phone will ring in the homes of all crew members, so response time within the city should be about four minutes. Everyone in the community is urged to keep this number near the phone and to remember to give their address when calling the ambulance. Those in the surrounding area should be able to give directions so crew members can reach their home quickly.

TIME CHANGE...Pam Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Rhodes, and Joan Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Carson, are shown above holding a clock as a reminder to everyone that the time will move back one hour Sunday morning, October 29.

Halloween Carnival Is Slated

The Bovina Jaycees will be holding their annual Haunted House and Carnival again this year. The event will be Tuesday, October 31, and will be held at the store at 329 North Street from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m.

All local organizations who want to sponsor a booth at the carnival need to contact Mike Spears, Burl Taylor, or Lawrence Kreigel as soon as possible. There will be a $5 charge for the booth space this year to help defray costs.

Only two organizations have reserved a space at this time. The Booster Club will have an Ice Cream Booth, and the FHA is sponsoring a Cake Walk.

All proceeds that the Jaycees make will go to the Texas Jaycee Campus. The campus is located at Victoria, Texas and is a training center for paraplegics and quadriplegics. The campus' purpose is to help these people better themselves both mentally and physically so that they may lead a more normal life.

SALAZAR RAMBLES...Ruben Salazar, co-winner of the offensive award for the Mustangs in their win over Hart, is shown during a good

CST Back On Sunday

Residents are reminded that Saturday night (or early Sunday) is the time to set your clocks an hour earlier, or "fall back," to standard time, for the next six months.

Daylight Savings Time, which has been in effect since the last Sunday in April, will officially end at 2 a.m. on Sunday, October 29, when the time goes back to standard time until next April.

Contestant Solves Upsets

By R.D. LOONEY News Editor

After all the upsets this week, I was sure that the scores in our contest would fall. Apparently, what I thought were upsets, weren't upsets to many of our contestants.

This week's winner of the Bovina Businesses Football Contest was Rose Mary Marquez, who scored 12 correct in only her second week of competition. Rose Mary missed the Dimmitt-Littlefield and Miami-New England games. She was awarded the weekly first prize check of $7.50.

Second place went to Ralph Ramon with 11 correct and a tie-breaker 17 points off. Ralph missed the Arkansas-Texas, Baylor-A&M, and Washington-N.Y. Giants games. He received $5.00 for his efforts.

Third place went to last week's winner, Dale Gunnels. Dale had 11 correct and was 20 points off on the tie-breaker. He missed the Lazbuddie-Sundown, Baylor-A&M, and Washington, N.Y. Giants games. Gunnels was awarded $3.00 in cash.

There were eleven persons who scored 10 correct. They are: Pat Read, seven points off; Eric Johnston, 19 points off; Lisa Spears, 20 points off; Joyce Read, 21 points off; Paula Salazar, 21 points off; Johnny Stanberry, 22 points off; Bruce Caldwell, 26 points off; Don Spring, 28 points off; Suezy Smith, 28 points off; Dean Stanberry, 30 points off; and Norma Noyes, who didn't write down a tie-breaker.

The first five places in the contest standings are now occupied by one person at each level. Nick Rodriguez is still in first place with 69, H.J. Charles is at 68, Don Spring is at 67, Dorothy Harris is at 66, and Billy Smith is at 65.

With the contest just having passed the half-way mark of its 13-week schedule, and with six weeks and with a potential of 84 points yet to be earned by contestants, anything can still happen, and no contestant in the upper portion of the standings can be counted out of the race.

The contestant in first place at the end of the 13-week series will receive a cash prize of $100.00. In addition, weekly cash prizes of $15.50 are awarded each week.

Sponsoring the annual contest with the Blade are Bovina Pump Company, Bovina Wheat Growers, Sherley Grain, Charles Oil, Chuck's Spraying Service, Chemical Enterprises and First State Bank.

Also, Big Nick's Machinery, Lawlis Gin, Horn-Clayton Insurance, Paul Jones Texaco, Dairy Freeze, Parmer County Spraying Service, Bonds Oil Company and Agri-Sprayers.

The eighth week's contest is printed on page 3 of this issue. Sports fans are invited to turn to page 3 and fill out their blank for the current week's contest and mail or bring it to the Blade.

Absentee Voting Underway

Absentee voting is underway at the County Clerk's office in Farwell for the General Election on November 7, and will continue through Friday, November 4.

Voters who think they might be out of the county on election day may cast an absentee ballot. They should bring their voter registration card with them in order to vote.

A special booth will be opened in Friona on Wednesday, November 1, at the Friona Texas Federal Credit Union, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Voters from any precinct may vote that day at the special absentee booth. It will be the only special absentee booth for the general election, according to County Clerk Bonnie Warren.

ROSE MARY MARQUEZ was this week's winner in the Bovina Businesses Football Contest. Rose Mary got 12 correct in only her

Bush, Hance Here Friday

Both candidates for the U.S. Congressional seat, Kent Hance and George Bush, are scheduled to campaign in Bovina on Friday, October 27, and as coincidence would have it, both are due in town at the same time.

Bush, the Republican candidate, will meet with his supporters at First State Bank between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m. that day.

Hance, the Democratic party candidate, will visit with his backers beginning at 3 p.m. at the Dairy Freeze.

The public is, of course, invited to attend either function, whether or not they necessarily support either candidate.

Trimble Wins FFA Award

The Bovina Greenhand Chapter of Future Farmers of America held their annual Greenhand Creed Contest last week. The purpose of the contest is to develop leadership skill and train each member in public speaking.

The contest had 17 Greenhand members competing for a plaque presented by the FFA Chapter officers.

The High Point Individual and winner of the contest was Charlie Trimble, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Trimble of Bovina. Charlie is a freshman at Bovina High School and is the reporter of the Greenhand Chapter.

Second place went to Miss Kathy Falkenburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Falkenburg. Third place went to Miss Donna Beth Lide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lide.

The chapter officers of the Bovina FFA would like to say congratulations for a job well done.

GREENHAND CREED AWARD.... The Bovina Greenhand Chapter held their annual Creed Contest last week. Charlie Trimble, center, won the contest, Kathy Falkenburg, left was second, and Donna Beth Lide was third. The purpose of the contest is to develop leadership skill and train each member in public speaking.

AT ANNUAL MEET

Diana Hobby Is Keynote Speaker

Mrs. Diana Hobby, wife of Lt. Governor Bill Hobby, has accepted the invitation to be the keynote speaker for the Panhandle Planned Parenthood Association's Tenth Annual Meeting, which will be held October 31, 1978, at 12 noon, at the Amarillo Country Club.

Mike Montgomery, President of the Panhandle Planned Parenthood Board of Directors, said, "This year the Annual Meeting holds a special significance to the representatives of Planned Parenthood as the Association is commemorating ten years of service to women in need."

Diana Hobby has been actively involved in civic causes for many years. She has been influential in promoting the goals and objectives of Planned Parenthood, prevention of child abuse and neglect, and other social programs. Montgomery states, "We feel especially fortunate for one so informed and educated to take time from her busy schedule to accept our invitation."

Mrs. Hobby is a native of New York City and spent much of her time in North Carolina on the farm belonging to her mother's family. She graduated from Radcliffe College in 1952, where she was elected Phi Beta Kappa, and received her M.A. in English from Georgetown University in Washington in 1955. She taught school before her marriage in 1954. She worked as

Scooter's Scoops

By Scooter Russell

We've had a drastic change in weather this week. Cold, rainy weather. I returned from Idaho last week and for the past three years I have found the weather there to be pretty chilly this time of year but while there we had the air conditioner on nearly every day. We always think we are ready for cold weather but it takes a while to get used to it.

Other news around town...

 Carrie Melear returned home from attending her nephew's funeral in Cameron, Texas, which is near the Waco area.

Her nephew, W.L. McIntosh, Jr., 27, was killed in a head-on collision near Rosebud, Texas, which also took the lives of two other people.

McIntosh was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.L. McIntosh of Cameron.

He was a graduate of the University of Texas in Criminal Justice and was an adult probation officer in Milam and Falls County.

He was buried in Cameron Wednesday with Masonic rites.

Carrie and a cousin, Lucille Hancock of Tucumcari attended the services and returned home Sunday.

+ + + +
 Furne and Jay Harris of Bovina attended the Harris Family reunion Saturday and Sunday in Midland at the home of Dean Casbeer, Jay's sister.

Forty members of the family were at the reunion and this included all members of the family with the exception of four nieces who were unable to attend.

Jay said most of the relatives were from the Texas area but one niece came from New York and a nephew from California.

Said they had a good time visiting and eating.

 I talked with Mike McCallum about his recent good luck. Seems he won an RCA select-a-vision at a raffle in Lubbock. Mike sells real estate in Lubbock and during the past month he rated number one with real estate listings and was awarded two trips to Hawaii.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean McCallum of Bovina.

 Greg Hromas was telling me about the excitement at Sherley Grain Elevator the other day. A man drove on the scales and slumped over on the horn of his vehicle but was able to tell the boys he needed to go to the hospital. Greg Hromas and Terri Sherrill rushed him to the Clovis hospital where he was treated for a blood disorder.

The man, Joe Wilmeth, was in the process of moving to Clovis from Spearman and was on his way back to Spearman when he became ill. He was released from the hospital the next day.

 An unusual wreck occurred two miles east of Farwell last Saturday. A pickup pulling another pickup was westbound and a pickup pulling a horse-trailer was eastbound. The westbound pickup came loose from the pickup it was pulling and caused it to be thrown in the path of the eastbound pickup, causing the horse-trailer to be loosed from that pickup.

A lady in the westbound pickup was injured and rushed to the hospital and a very expensive horse in the horse-trailer was killed. The horse-trailer rolled over the pickup and completely demolished it. Two men from Portales that were occupants of that pickup were uninjured.

Boy, I hope you got all that straight....that was a hard one!

A TAXPAYER'S BILL OF RIGHTS IS PAST DUE

Bill Clements believes we still have a chance to preserve our future by establishing constitutional protection against excessive taxation and runaway government spending.

Bill Clements believes the people of Texas should have the power necessary to ratify or reject tax policies made by legislators.

To establish this power (of the people), Bill Clements will introduce an amendment to the Texas Constitution that would give the people of Texas this right.

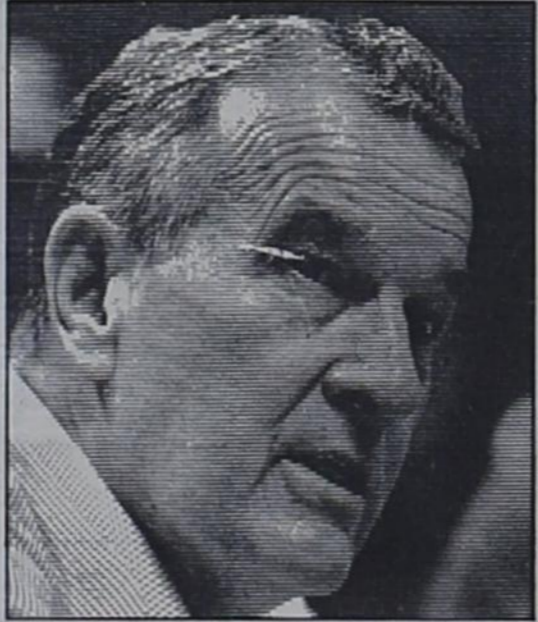

Bill Clements' "Taxpayers' Bill of Rights" would:

- Give Texans the right of initiative and referendum, a phrase that means we, the people, have a right to vote on the taxes to be levied on us.
- Place a ban on corporate or personal income tax in Texas.
- Require a two-thirds record vote of both houses of the legislature to pass a tax bill.
- Allow local taxpayers to call an election to ratify or reject a tax increase created by a local governmental unit.

Bill Clements believes in Texas and the people of Texas.

Bill Clements thinks that elected officials must work for the people and represent them properly.

As governor of Texas, Bill Clements will work for and with the people of Texas.

It's about time someone recalled that our form of government was conceived to be a servant of the people and provide the means to insure that principle endures.

Banquet Honored 4-H'ers

The Parmer County 4-H Awards Banquet was held October 3 at the Friona High School Cafeteria.

The purpose of the banquet is to honor outstanding 4-H'ers for their achievements throughout the year. The banquet began with a welcome from Lisa Darby of Farwell. Shain Rhodes of Friona gave the invocation.

After dinner Lisa McGehee of Lazbuddie led the pledge of allegiance. The 4-H motto and pledge were led by Wendy Jarman of Lazbuddie.

Lisa Darby, mistress of ceremonies, introduced special guests and 4-H Club families.

Joan Carson of Bovina and Tom Mesman of Farwell read the Highlights of the 1977-78 4-H Club year.

Year Pins were presented to 4-H'ers who had turned in records of their projects.

County Commissioner Jimmy Briggs of Lazbuddie assisted in presenting Achievement Awards. These awards are presented to 4-H'ers who had record books go to district competition.

Special awards this year went to overall winners of the Project Fair.

The Gold Star awards are presented to one boy and one girl with outstanding achievement. This is the highest award a county can bestow. Joan Carson and Tom Mesman, last year's winners, presented this year's awards to Johanna Mesman and Mike Schueler.

Johanna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mesman of Farwell. She has been active in the Farwell 4-H Club and carried many projects. Johanna is interested in a career in veterinary medicine.

Mike Schueler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schueler of Rhea. Mike is president of the Friona 4-H Club and has also carried several projects. Mike plans a career in agriculture.

Special guest of the banquet was Martha Couch, District 2 4-H & Youth Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Martha encouraged 4-H'ers and their families to consider 4-H a family organization, not just a youth organization.

The benediction was given by Mike Schueler of Rhea.

Sponsors of the banquet are the Bailey and Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperatives.

Our Part In Salvation

God freely offers you salvation. But to accept salvation, you must so completely surrender your life to Christ that he becomes more important to you than fame, fortune, family or friendships (Luke 14:25-33; Philippians 3:8).

To surrender to Christ, you must first believe in Jesus as the Son of God (John 3:16). Then trusting in Jesus, you must repent of your sins (Acts 17:30, 31). Repentance is a decision to leave sin and follow wherever Jesus may lead. Next, as a penitent believer you must publicly confess your faith in Jesus (Romans 10:9, 10), thereby pledging allegiance to the king of your life. You complete your initial surrender to Christ by being baptized in water (Acts 2:38; 1 Peter 3:21). In baptism you will receive forgiveness of sins (Acts 2:38; 22:16), be saved from the punishment for past sins (Mark 16:16), enter Christ (Galatians 3:27), and begin a new life (Romans 6:1-6).

That baptism is immersion is evidenced by the definition of the original word, by Bible examples (Acts 8:36-39) and by statements that baptism is a burial and resurrection (Colossians 2:12). Those not having the proper baptism are instructed to be rebaptized (Acts 19:1-5). Therefore, if you have not been immersed for the right purpose (remission of sins), or if faith, repentance or confession did not precede your baptism (as in the case of infants), you should be rebaptized.

After baptism you must daily surrender to Christ (Luke 9:23) by growing in Christian character and knowledge (2 Peter 1:5-12). However, when you sin after baptism, you must immediately repent, confess and pray for forgiveness (1 John 1:8-10; Acts 8:22); otherwise you will fall from grace and lose salvation (Galatians 5:4; Hebrews 10:26-31). By remaining faithful to Christ until death, you will receive eternal life (Revelation 2:10).

EDDIE RABBIT AND K.W. SHARP

Country Singer Has Golden Record Hit

(Editor's note: K.W. Sharp is the husband of Kathy Trimble of Bovina, and is employed by Radio Station KLVY in Levelland. The following article appeared in the Hockley County Free Press on October 15).

By K. W. SHARP

Stardom comes only after hard work, dreams, and lots of luck. Country music star Eddie Rabbitt has finally realized that.

For those who do not know who or what an Eddie Rabbitt is, he happens to be one of the top Country vocalists around.

Maybe songs like "Drinkin' My Baby Off My Mind", "Two Dollars In The Juke Box," "I Can't Help Myself," "We Can't Go On Living Like This," "Hearts On Fire,"

"Rocky Mountain Music," and his best yet, "You Don't Love Me Anymore," may ring a few musical bells. His music is not all Country, just enough to keep all ages listening.

Eddie Rabbitt recently appeared at a Lubbock concert, and after waiting for him to sign autographs, we finally got away for an interview.

I asked Eddie Rabbitt, which sounds better than saying "Mr. Rabbitt", how he felt about performing before large crowds. He simply replied, "It's great, because when a large crowd likes what you do, it makes the sound coming up front to the stage. It's just terrific."

"I'd rather work with large audiences, in most cases, just because you get to a lot more people. And right now, I'm in the process of trying to get my music to more people," he said.

Through his many songs and hits, Eddie Rabbitt's biggest hit is probably a song that he wrote and someone else recorded, that someone else being the late Elvis Presley. Rabbitt let Elvis record "Kentucky Rain" and the rest is musical history. "Kentucky Rain" was a solid gold single, not only for Elvis, but for Eddie Rabbitt too.

Eddie Rabbitt is not only an outstanding singer, but an ever better songwriter. Rabbitt writes most all of his music, after all who knows how to sing a song better than the man who writes the music.

The Academy of Country Music gave Eddie Rabbitt the title, "Best New Male Vocalist of 1978."

Movie scouts have also noticed Eddie Rabbitt's talent, and Rabbitt seems to like the idea of the movies, but quickly says "I'll never let it interfere with my music."

With that statement, one thing is for sure, Eddie Rabbitt knows what got him to the top, and what will keep him on the top -- writing and singing!

There are over six million more women of voting age than there are men.

John Hill calls for state tax freeze

"Our state taxes in Texas are among the lowest in the nation, and I want to keep them there. As I've said many times, I'll veto a tax increase before the ink dries on the bill."

As Attorney General, John Hill proved he could increase the efficiency of his office without any unnecessary budget increases. He absorbed a three-fold increase in his office caseload by hiring top legal talent capable of higher productivity. The result: his staff lawyers doubled their average workload, and the increased court judgments and enforcement of civil penalty laws returned $25 for every $1 of state funds spent on his office.

As Governor, John Hill will insist on this same type of increased productivity for all state agencies. He will institute new controls over federal funds, demand that we follow our "pay-as-you-go" budget policy, and use zero-base budgeting to eliminate unneeded programs before any new programs are added. And he'll block any state tax increase -- there won't be any new taxes under John Hill.

Kent Hance.

When Kent Hance began work in the Texas Senate, he did not sit on the sidelines like most freshman Senators. He sponsored Legislation to remove a State Supreme Court Judge from office following his indictment for perjury. He led the fight in the Senate trial to impeach a District Judge from Duval County for misconduct in office. This was the first such trial in more than 30 years, and was the first major effort to clean up corruption in Duval County. He sponsored measures to remove the Senate's top employee for questionable conduct.

Wherever Kent Hance found waste in government, he acted. He sponsored and passed into law "sunset legislation" that abolishes state agencies on a periodic basis unless they are re-established by the Legislature. This helps to keep agencies from getting out of hand, and to eliminate those that are no longer needed. He made welfare fraud or food stamp fraud a felony in Texas.

In his four-year term, Kent Hance never missed a day in the Senate's five sessions, regular and special. In four of those five sessions he didn't miss a vote. In the fifth, he had a 96% voting record.

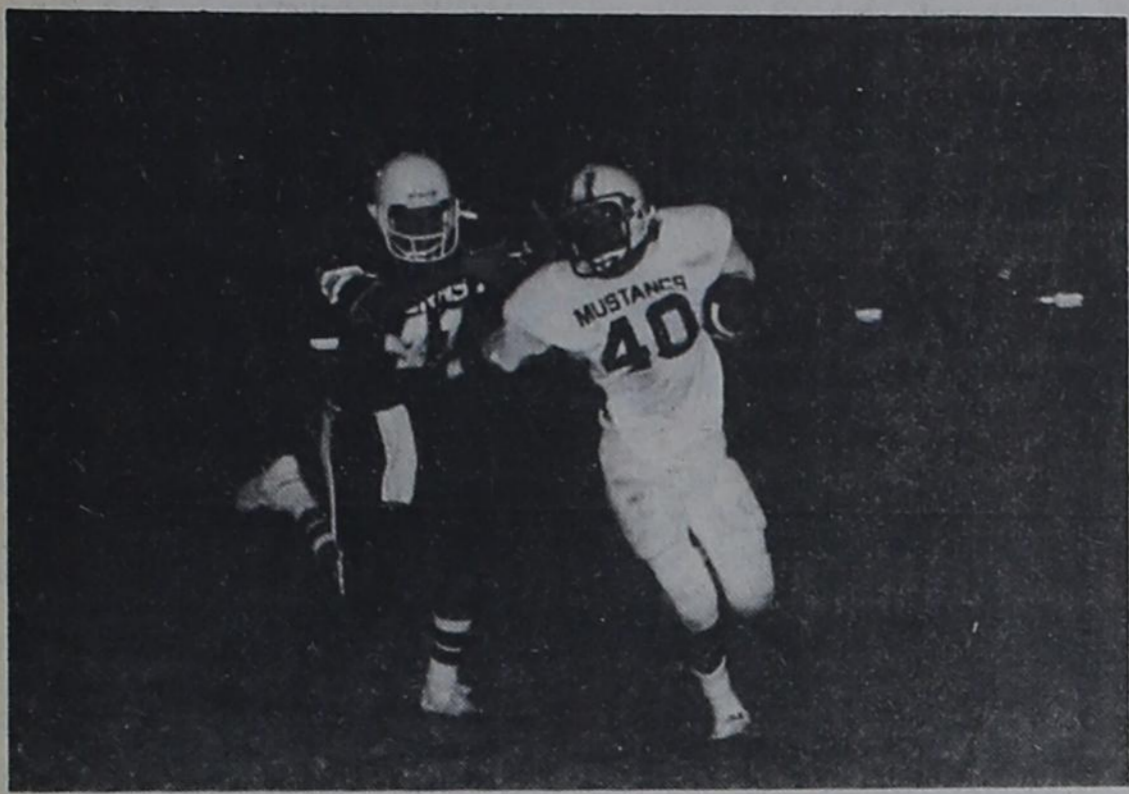

In Congress, Kent Hance will continue this kind of representation where it is needed most... at the Federal level. Kent Hance has proved that when he sees evidence of corruption, waste or inefficiency in government he does not look the other way...

HE ACTS. West Texas needs Kent Hance in Congress.

Let's make sure the man we send to Congress is the man with qualifications we can measure--and count on...!

Authorized by the Kent Hance for Congress Committee, Mike Higgins, Treasurer.

A copy of our report is filed with the Federal Election Commission.

OFFENSIVE STARS...This week's co-winners of the offensive award were Ruben Salazar and Ronnie Cary. Ruben had 132 yards rushing on 12 carries. Ronnie kicked two field goals, one for 27 yards and one for 48 yards. The 48-yard field goal may be a record.

CRAZYHORSE AWARD...Mike Read is this week's winner of Bovina's defensive award. Mike played a very good game for the Mustangs, making many solo tackles and one interception for a touchdown (the play was nullified by a penalty).

BIG HIT AWARD...David Steelman won the Big Hit Award with a tremendous hit on the Hart quarterback late in the game.

Fillies Set Sights On Volleyball Title

Fillies now possess a three to one lead in the series, with four more games on tap Monday, October 30.

The games will be here at Williford Gym and will start at 6:30 p.m. The Fillies will be playing the Farwell Steerettes for the title. The Fillies need only two more wins to clinch the District Championship.

Ponies Rack 'Horns In District Opener

The Bovina Mustangs came away from Hart last Friday night with a win in their opening district game. The Mustangs roped, hog-tied and branded the Longhorns for an easy 33-15 win.

The Mustang offense is starting to get it all together as they were able to move the ball pretty well against the Longhorns. Ruben Salazar turned in a great night for the Ponies with 132 yards on 12 carries. Doug Roming, who is still recovering from a bad knee, had 36 yards on seven carries. Richard Villarreal rushed for 38 yards on eight carries.

Another offensive highlight of the game came on the toe of kicker-quarterback Ronnie Cary. Cary kicked two field goals during the game, one from 27 yards out, and one from 48 yards away. The 48 yard field goal could be a district record.

Coach Barnes was told by one news representative that it was the longest field goal he had heard of this season.

Coach Barnes said of the Hart game, "Our execution is getting better every week, but we are still making a lot of errors. We have been inconsistent and our technique needs improving."

The next opponent the Mustangs will face will be the Farwell Steers.

The game will be played at Farwell and will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday, October 27. "This is a good rivalry and we expect the team to be up for Farwell," reports Coach Barnes.

Statistics for the Hart game are as follows:

Bovina	Hart
273	Yards Rushing 148
94	Yards Passing 32
367	Total Yardage 180
14-145	Penalties, Yards 7-30

Ruben Salazar and Ronnie Cary were named as the outstanding offensive players of the game. Mike Read grabbed the defensive star award, and David Steelman received the Big Hit Award.

Around The House

By LAURA JACOBS

October marks the 75th anniversary of the completion of the first successful farm demonstration in the nation.

It was the success of this venture on the Walter C. Porter farm near Terrell, east of Dallas, that led to the creation of the Cooperative Extension Service nationally and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in this state.

Farmers, ranchers and homemakers in West Texas will join in recognizing this milestone in agricultural history by holding a special observance here Tuesday, October 31.

The South Plains observance will be held in the board room of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, 2901 Avenue A. It will begin at 9:30 a.m. with a coffee and includes a ceremony recognizing outstanding farm demonstrators and home economics cooperators from each of the 20 counties in Extension District 2.

The recipients are representing the more than 375 producers and homemakers in the district who conducted demonstrations this year in cooperation with their county Extension agents, said Billy C. Gunter and Mrs. Catherine Crawford, district Extension agents.

A documentary film on the Porter Farm, "I Am Thinking of the Harvest," will receive its premiere showing in the area.

A similar program for the 20 Panhandle counties which comprise Extension District 1 also will be held at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, October 31. It will be at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West, Amarillo.

Many other observances of Farm Demonstration Month are being held throughout the state. A special statewide salute was held October 12 in Dallas and at the Porter Farm.

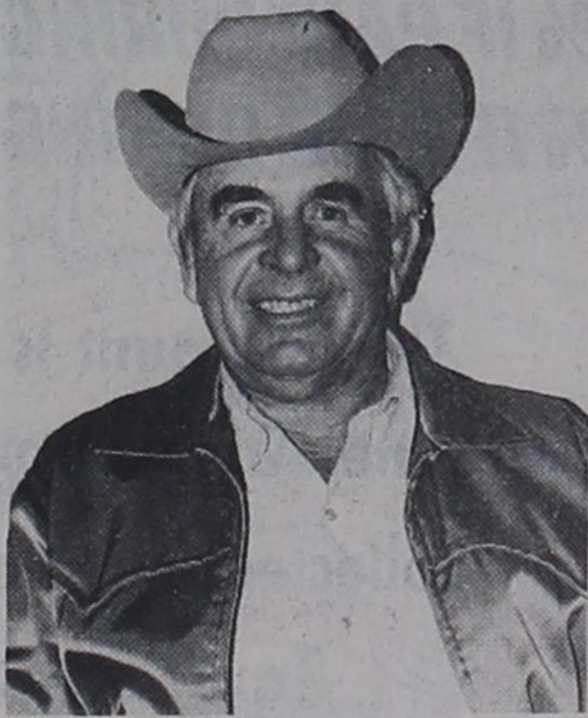

Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, a former president of Iowa State College and a special agent for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, went to Terrell in 1903 at the request of area citizens to set up a demonstration to "improve farming methods."

Knapp asked them to find a demonstration site and a farmer who would farm precisely as he recommended. Local citizens selected Walter Porter from several volunteers and also quickly raised $1,000 to cover any losses that might arise from farming with "the new methods." But the money was not needed.

The farm demonstration was a financial success, and the technique spread rapidly to other areas. Soon, farm demonstrations were evident in many counties. And they are still popular! There were 4,300 established in Texas last year, including every county in District 2.

George Bush for Congress

"The farmers here in West Texas are in a real bind. Their costs of production are going up—yet they are required to sell at wholesale prices."

"That's not right."

"As your congressman, I'll fight for increased export markets. I'll fight to reduce high inflation, high taxes, and high interest rates that run up the cost of production."

"I can't guarantee the weather—but I can guarantee that I'll work hard for the West Texas farmer."

WASHINGTON TO BE PRIMARY TARGET

AAM Plans Return With New Philosophy

By JIM STEIERT
(Courtesy of The Hereford Brand)

The American Agriculture Movement will be back this winter, but with a new look and a new philosophy, according to a local spokesman.

Jerome Friemel, an AAM supporter, reported that the tractorcades, blockades and other tactics that ushered in the farm protest movement only a year ago in the local area will be replaced for the most part this year by an intensified lobbying effort aimed at policy makers in Washington.

Movement supporters will evidently be attempting to assuage some of the hard feelings created by blockades and protests in the local area last winter as well, according to Friemel.

Gone too will be the production cutback threats that highlighted the first months of the movement's activities, when the farmer effort earned the name "farm strike," a title many supporters now feel is a misnomer.

"We're coming out with a whole new concept this year when we resume activity," said Friemel.

"Everybody's a year older now, and about 10 years smarter. We've taken a long hard look at the successes the movement met with last year, and the failures as well, and we've decided to center our efforts around those things which met with the greatest success during the past year," he added.

This year's AAM efforts, which should begin gathering strength after the completion of fall harvest, will be geared primarily toward a massive lobbying drive directed at Washington.

The AAM Washington push is expected to begin shortly before legislators return to Washington in January, and will be launched with a nation-wide tractorcade.

"The tractorcades will be leaving staging points in various states on or about the date that Congress convenes, and will proceed in large groups along major thoroughfares throughout the nation. We figure it will take 15 or 20 days to reach Washington, and once we arrive there, we have plans to use camping facilities in Virginia to give us better use of our funds and allow us to stay in Washington a lot longer this time around," Friemel explained.

"There may not be as many farmers showing up in Washington as there were in January of this year, but those that make the trip will be planning on staying a lot longer. We have been told by many Congressmen that we need to stay in Washington until the political machine moves, and that's just what we intend to do this time," he continued.

According to Friemel, the familiar tractorcades of last year's AAM protests won't be so common in rural areas as they were during the past winter either. But the colorful rolling protest placards will still be very much in evidence during the movement in Washington.

"We feel like going to Washington on tractors will attract more attention. People seeing a man from the area walking down the street won't pay much attention to him, but when they see the tractor, there is something there very much symbolic of the farmer, and we think our tractors will help bring our message home," Friemel commented.

The Hereford AAM supporter reported that individual AAM offices over the state might conduct some "minor activities" during this year's protest, but the Washington effort will remain the focal point for supporters throughout the winter.

The Hereford AAM supporter reported that individual AAM offices over the state might conduct some "minor activities" during this year's protest, but the Washington effort will remain the focal point for supporters throughout the winter.

"We had to start somewhere last year, and some protests were staged in the rural areas. But we know the rural folks already understand the situation. That is one reason the tractorcade to Washington should help. We will be going through a lot of urban cities on the way to D.C., bringing this movement to the attention of a lot of folks who have never really learned about it. We've got to get away from the rural towns to accomplish anything. The tractorcade idea has been received with a lot of enthusiasm wherever we've mentioned it, and the national tractorcade should be one of the highlights of the year for the movement," Friemel continued.

According to Friemel, the AAM's new protest season may be launched with one focal activity within the state, to get supporters geared up for this winter's efforts.

"We will probably have some type of Texas event. Possibly a tractorcade to the Austin area, but it's still in the planning stage right now. We have to see how this year's harvest comes out and when folks will be able to participate. We don't want to tie any plans down too tightly right now," Friemel stated.

The spectre of a 100 percent cutback in crop production by supporters of the AAM movement last winter remained a focal point of criticism which was heaped on the farmer effort by numerous factions.

Although the 100 percent cutback pledge was later dropped to a 50 percent layout plan, the movement goal proved unrealistic, virtually from the effort's first day, and planners of this year's activities apparently realized the crop production cutback plan was a real stumbling block to success.

"We are not going to use any crop cutback goals or recommendations this year because the real problem is in Washington's cheap food and fiber policy. Legislators insist on keeping food prices cheap, as evidenced by grain export embargoes and the importation of foreign beef. The market is still controlled by government action. So long as these cheap food attitudes remain in Washington, we can't solve this problem in our country with what we do production-wise. The only way we could achieve commodity price increases would be to cut the food supply to a shortage level, and this is not in the best interests of anyone in our country. We have to address Washington on the cheap food and fiber policy, and this is going to be our basic aim," said Friemel.

"This is going to be more in the direction of a farm lobby than a strike. We know now that the problem lies in the national cheap food policy. The last 12 months have probably been the most educational period for farmers and legislators in the nation's history, and we are going to concentrate our efforts on continuing to educate legislators on agriculture," he added.

Friemel cited increased rural Texas political influence as a benefit of last year's AAM effort.

"Last year in the Democratic convention in Texas, there was one delegate selected for the national convention from a city of less than 35,000 in population. This year, and we feel it's due to the awareness of agriculture and rural areas, there are 19 delegates to the mid-term national convention from cities under 35,000," Friemel claimed.

He pointed out that AAM will continue to encourage participation in the political process.

"The whole agriculture protest movement began with one small idea. When you look at where the AAM has gone in only a year's time, it is phenomenal, the things that have happened. It's almost a miracle in our time. We hope to take the basic AAM concept and its successes and build on them through a revision of our goals, and a change in the people we concentrate our efforts on this winter," Friemel concluded.

The tractors of AAM supporters such as these were a common sight as they rumbled along the area's highways last winter, en route to rallies, protests, blockades and other activities of the farmer group. But the tractorcade will be reserved as a tool for maximum effort projects of AAM this winter as the protest movement revises its goals toward educating the urban areas of the nation, and sets its sights on a massive nation-wide tractorcade to Washington in January. AAM supporters and planners are predicting little activity in rural areas this winter as they prepare for a concentrated lobbying effort in Washington.
