. . My soul doth magnify the Lord,

And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for: behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name.

And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.

Finish the reading of that great hymn of praise as Luke records it in his first chapter. Look in your reference Bible at the little index letters sprinkled through the text and the corresponding letters in the margin. Note that the beginning of the Magnifica is reminiscent of Hannah's rejoicing over the prospect of the birth of Samuel, and that almost every phrase suggests a possible source in historic records.

This young woman, sixteen or seventeen perhaps, had read the literature of her nation and had made it her own. Her mind and spirit were richly stored. Reverence, gratitude, high spiirtuality, and great sympathy with the common lot of humanity are in the Magnificat. Socialists and other champions of human rights have claimed to find in it the possible source of Jesus' sympethy with the poor.

Merkel had its first black widow spider patient in the case of Mrs. Emmett Hudson, who lives on the Morrison ranch on Mulberry flat.

Mrs. Hudson was bitten on the great toe of the right foot Saturday morning at about 8:30. Rushed immediately to Merkel, she was given the incision and suction treatment at the office of a local physician, where she remained until 2 p. m. and was then allowed to return home.

Baptist Revival to

The First Baptist revival, now in progress at the city tabernacle, will continue through Sunday, closing with the Sunday night service.

Unusual interest is being shown throughout the city generally, and under the effective and powerful preaching of Rev. H. R. Whatley the meeting has proved of great benefit in advancing the cause of the church and restoring a truer and deeper religious feeling in the community.

Besides the regular morning and evening services, a men's prayer meeting is being held at 6:45 a. m. and a ladies' prayer meeting at 9:30 a. m. The young people assemble at 7:45 p. m. under the leadership of Joe Trussell, evangelistic singer.
