No Need for Filing New Applications

Austin, Nov. 19.—Orville S. Carpenter, acting director of the Texas Old Age Assistance commission, has issued a statement that neither applicants nor recipients now on the rolls would have to file new applications under the new pension statute.

"The original application will be sufficient for every one who has previously filled out one of these forms," Carpenter stated.

He added that the commission had received a number of "second" applications which were unnecessary and could not be considered.

Immediate re-investigations will be made of all recipients now on the rolls whose eligibility is doubtful under the "necessitous circumstances" clause of the new law.

SHOULD STOP WHEN PASSING A SCHOOL BUS

Complaints Come From Drivers of School Buses as to Failure of Drivers to Observe Statute Regulations.

Some complaint has come from drivers of school buses coming to Merkel concerning drivers of automobiles not stopping. The law requires that any driver of an automobile or a truck must stop when passing a school bus if the school bus is loading or unloading children. Not only does the law require this, but the safety of children requires that the utmost caution be taken in this matter. Failure to stop might mean the loss of life of one or more school children. A driver cannot fail to be cautious where children on the highway are involved. Sometimes children may be careless, but no driver wants to be the one to run over and kill a child merely because the child might be a little careless. Supt. Burgess urges that drivers of all motor vehicles be very cautious in this respect.

Parents, too, are urged to caution their children about staying at the side of the road in walking to and from buses. The highway department suggests that such walkers on the roads and highways walk on the left side of the road so that they may more easily see the approach of a car or truck.

Drivers of school buses would also like to have the general public note that school buses are not supposed to pick up and haul passengers other than school children. All buses now coming to Merkel are owned and operated by school districts, not by individuals, and are not permitted to pick up people other than school children along the route. This regulation will explain to the public why the drivers of the school buses do not stop at signal and pick up passengers.

As much as roads will permit, drivers of buses attempt to maintain a schedule, arriving at the various stops at the same time each morning. They want to shorten the time as much as safety will permit so that no child will be on the bus more than a few minutes. Co-operation of parents in seeing that the child is at the bus stop when the bus arrives will help the driver maintain a definite schedule when roads are good. Of course, no driver can wait on a child who is not at the stop when the bus arrives. The child should be there ready to step into the bus.

Marking the first anniversary of the project, women who are employed in Taylor county sewing rooms of the Works Progress administration are busily engaged in plans for a fair when their handiwork will be exhibited to the public.

Merkel's exhibit will be given on Dec. 10, stated Mrs. Bonnie Griswold, supervisor.

A total of 217 women is employed in Abilene and Merkel, with 35 being employed in the local sewing room. In addition to the 160 women enrolled in the main sewing room at Abilene, 22 Mexican and negro women are also employed.

Mrs. Estelle Brooks, county supervisor, announced that in addition to the many types of garments made in the sewing rooms, other articles which the women are making in a bedroom improvement program will be shown. These will include quilts, tufted bedspreads, hooked rugs, household utility boxes, and bookshelves made of spoils.

Motto of the sewing rooms during the entire year has been to waste nothing—to make something useful out of every scrap of material.

WILL PROVIDE STREET LIGHTING FOR HOLIDAYS

Civic Improvement Committee of Lions Club Assigned to Completing Details of Illuminating Downtown Section.

With the generous co-operation of the West Texas Utilities company, Merkel streets will again take on the holiday spirit with strings of many colored lights on the downtown streets.

Details were left to the civic improvement committee of the Lions club, which is composed of Fred Hughes, chairman, A. T. Sheppard and Victor Harris.

Hon. J. Bryan Bradbury, representative from the 116th district, was the special guest of the Lions club at their luncheon Tuesday in their new hall. In a masterly way he depicted Texas' 100 years of glorious history and matchless growth, and painted a picture of opportunities the future offers to the biggest state in the Union, whose raw resources are as yet practically untouched.

One of the things that most impressed him about Merkel, the speaker said, was the splendid co-operation and working in harmony of the business men, which had made possible such achievements as the summer rodeos and inter-community baseball league and which brought together such a representative body of men in the membership of the Lions club.

Early in the day Mr. Bradbury had talked to the student body at the High school.

Mrs. Yates Brown played the accompaniment for the singing of "America" and "The More We Get Together" at the opening hour, with Yates Brown leading the songs. Invocation was given by Herbert Patterson.

On motion of Booth Warren, the president was asked to name a committee of five to arrange appropriate decorations or displays in the show windows of the new Lions hall for all holiday occasions, such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, etc., and the following committee has been appointed by President West: Roy Reid, chairman, Arthur Lawson, Milton Case, W. W. Haynes and R. A. Hoover.

How to Treat "Loose" Smut of Wheat, Oats

"Loose" smut of wheat, "covered" or "loose" oats and "covered" smut of barley are subjects of this week's article for The Mail from Vocational Agriculture Instructor C. H. Collinsworth.

"Loose" smut of wheat," he says, "is different from the 'stinking' smut in that the loose smut can be seen in the field. It destroys the beards and chaff as well as the kernels, which are replaced by black masses of spores which are usually blown away by harvest time. The destruction of the kernel is the only damage the loose smut causes. The disease is spread by a fungus inside the kernel, so a treatment of the outside of the grain does no good. Hot water is used to kill this fungus, but care must be taken not to get the water too hot, as it will injure the seed germination.

"Treatments: One method is to soak the grain in cold water for 4 to 6 hours and then dip the seed into water at 120 degrees for a few minutes and then place the grain for 10 minutes in water at 129 degrees. Now remove the seed and place in cool water for a few minutes, then spread the seed out to dry. It is best to place the seed to be treated in a burlap sack, so the hot water will pass through it to the grain easily. This hot water treatment will kill both the spores of the 'loose' smut and stinking smut.

"The hot water treatment is quite a bit of trouble and demands quite a bit of work and time, so it is advisable to treat only a part of the seed and save it so as to have 'clean' seed for the next year.

"The 'covered' and 'loose' smuts of oats are not caused by the same organism as of wheat smuts. Oats are treated for both smuts with formaldehyde.

"Treatment: One method, known as the dry method, one pint of commercial formaldehyde is mixed with a pint of water in a hand sprayer and, as the grain is shoveled from one pile to another, each shovelful is sprayed. This amount treats 50 bushels of grain. Now the seed is mixed again and cover it in a wagon sheet for five hours. The seed may now be planted or stored. Be careful and have the sacks or other containers clean from smut so as to prevent re-infection of the seed.

"Covered smut of barley: This smut may be controlled by soaking the seed for two hours in one pint of formaldehyde to 40 gallons of water. Loose smut of barley is controlled in the same manner as loose smut of wheat except the water is kept at 126 degrees F and the seed is soaked 13 minutes."

With morning . . . came the repair crews

An early snow, drifting down from leaden December skies, froze to telephone poles and lines. Hard on its heels came the wind. Ice-laden wires snapped and poles splintered before the blast.

Night found scores of towns throughout the storm region handicapped by crippled telephone service.

But, with the morning, came the repair crews. Hastily gathered from regions untouched by storm, they poured into the stricken area with trucks, tools and materials. Day and night they rushed the work of reconstruction.

One advantage of the Bell System's far-flung organization is this: When disaster flattens the telephone system, men and money and materials are instantly available for the prompt repair of the damage.

"SNOBBISHNESS."

I do not think that anyone in Merkel High school can be accused of being "stuck up." Snobbishness is a rather common fault despite that fact that all the world hates a snob.

This class of people is found more in colleges than in high schools. High school students often go off to college, come home for Christmas, and "high hat" all of their old classmates and friends simply because they go to college.

We have been taught differently in High school, so let us remain always as friendly as we are now. No matter how rich or poor one may be, he can have many friends if he wishes.

SOPHOMORE NEWS.

The Sophomores told you in previous reports that they were enthusiastic about every activity and especially, football, clubs, and selling of Annuals. By the way, five members from this class met and decided on Dorma Lee Shelton to sell Annuals this year. They've made up their minds to sell the most. They really should for they have the largest class enrollment in school.

FIRST INSTALLMENT OF SOPH DECISIONS.

"The only exercise some people get is jumping at conclusions."

"We know that we weren't as silly last year as the Fish are this year." Watch next week for second installment of "Sophomore Decisions" and "News!"

JUNIOR NEWS.

The Juniors have had a class meeting! The meeting was called in order to select a representative on the Badger staff. Mattie Lou Ford was elected. Of course, that will do wonders for the Badgers!

The Juniors are looking forward to selecting their rings. The excitement over the Senior rings makes them even more anxious!

SENIOR NEWS.

The Seniors are working hard this week. The Badger staff has started work on the Annual and they are all looking forward to the best "Badger" Merkel High school has ever put out. The Seniors who have not received their rings deposited their money last Friday, and are now looking forward to getting them.

CHORAL AND GLEE CLUBS.

The High School Chorus presented its first program last Tuesday morning. The Girls' Choral club opened the program by singing two numbers: "Out of the Dusk to You" and "Lena and Hans." There were three duets on the program. Pauline Joyner and Etycl Church sang "A Friendly Wish," Billy Largent and Etycl Church sang "When the Corn is Waving." The last duet, "A Perfect Day," was sung by Frances Higgins and Pauline Joyner. The Boy's Glee club closed the program by singing two songs: "Serenade" and "Backward, Turn Backward."

PEP SQUAD.

The Pep Squad girls just couldn't seem to get together for the trip to Colorado. So many girls had planned to do something else on Nov. 11 that there were not enough left to put on a formation. They missed a good game even if Colorado did hold the big end of the score.

However, on Friday, Nov. 20, when Merkel plays Loraine, the Pep Squad will be up and on the go—backing those Badgers: from whistle to whistle.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB.

Thursday, Nov. 12, the Home Economics club met in a regular business meeting.

After the minutes were read, each girl answered the roll call with a sentence pertaining to etiquette. A brief program was given consisting of two short talks on "Every Day Manners at Home" by Vernell Bland and "Table Manners" by Nadine Clark.

It was decided that for the next club meeting each girl would answer roll call by telling "What I did on Thanksgiving."

Next meeting is postponed until the week after the Thanksgiving holidays.

SPANISH CLUB.

Spanish club meeting was postponed until Monday, Nov. 16, because of weather. They hope to have an audience of about 65 at their initial meeting Monday. This time they get regardless of wind or weather.

TYPING.

The students are progressing nicely in the typing classes. The daily classes are spent in practice or preparing lessons from the manuals. Each student has a manual which helps him to get acquainted with the machine. Each Tuesday and Thursday the typing classes are given speed tests. The percentage of errors is still pretty high but some of the students are making fair rates of speed. Jannell Black leads the second period, first year students, and Janet Berry leads the third period, first year students.

ARMISTICE DAY.

There is no use to ask if everyone enjoyed the holiday! Everyone did! There was a good crowd from Merkel at the Colorado game. Some who did not get to see the Merkel game went to see the Abilene-Breckenridge game. Even those who stayed at home enjoyed the day off.

Everyone is looking forward to the Thanksgiving holidays!

HANGING AROUND THE SIDELINES.

(By Sylvan Mellinger.) Vincent Barnett is one of those mighty Badger guards who has filled this position for two years. Vincent is a boy who keeps on fighting until the last whistle is blown. He fights hard if the Badgers are ahead and fights still harder if they are behind. Vincent has one more year to play for the Badgers.

John Malone plays the fullback position. John is like Vincent in that he fights harder if the Badgers are behind. John proved himself capable of filling that spot by his ball carrying and defensive ability. He is also a good blocker.

Herman Carson is another one of the Badger guards. This is the first year that Herman has been able to make the team, but from the way he is filling up that position he seems to be making up for lost time.

PERSONALITIES.

Leta Faye Barbee. Leta Faye has been in Merkel High only two years. In that time everyone has learned to think a great deal of her. She is pretty, industrious, and willing to help wherever she can. Last year Leta Faye was the High school beauty. She has taken an active part in all school activities. She has been in the Spanish club, Choral club, Dramatic club, and Pep Squad for two years. This year she is in the Home Economics club. All of us know what her hobby is—riding horses! Leta Faye says she plans to go to college next year. Luck to you, Leta Faye!

Woodrow Clark. Woodrow has been in Merkel High school five years. He has taken part in the Dramatic club two years, Spanish club two years, and has been on the basketball team three years. Woodrow is taking vocational agriculture this year and is in the F. F. A. club. He plans to make a farmer when he finishes school. We hope he will have a successful life!

LOCALS.

Everyone is sorry to hear of Mr. Rudd's illness. We hope he will get well soon and be back at school before long.

Mr. Coffman was taken to the Hendrick Memorial hospital Sunday, Nov. 8, for special attention. We hope he will soon be able to be back with us. Mrs. Rudd is substituting for Mr. Coffman.

JOKES.

Dick: "Don't pay any attention to John. He's just a flat tire."
 P. A.: "Oh, no! Who ever heard of a flat tire that was full of wind."

James R.: "Waiter, there's a hair in this honey."
 Wozy: "Sorry sir, it must have come off the comb."

 It was Grovne's first experience in Sunday School. She was six years of age. The Sunday School teacher was discussing the lesson. She said, "Little boys and girls, what kind of children go to heaven?"
 Grovne promptly answered, "I know, teacher. Dead ones!"

Don Warren: "What's the fastest growing thing on earth?"
 Ben Robert: "A fish."
 Don W.: "Why?"
 Ben Robert: "Daddy caught one once and it grows six inches every time he tells about it."

Out of gas or got a flat? Phone 245. We hurry.

DORA DOINGS

Well, the busiest people on the Divide are the ones trying to get off on a deer hunt. Among those going so far are: H. D. Norris, E. P. Perry, Roy Laine, Pete Tyrone, Jim and Wilburn Payne and Mr. Huff.

The next busiest people on the Divide are wood-haulers, for we have some very cool nights and mornings.

Among those in Dallas last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Alva Egger and children and Ben Egger and son.

Mrs. J. T. Perry made a business trip to Abilene Monday.

C. B. Jinkens and family of Noodle and Mrs. Pearl McCoy of Abilene were Divide visitors Sunday.

The Nolan Baptist church is getting together money, materials and plans for a new rock church building to begin March the first.

Mr. and Mrs. George Whiteaker of Abilene were business visitors here Monday.

Albert Oliver and Clarence Whiteaker are helping E. C. Boyd to move and get established on the Willeke ranch which they have leased.

Mrs. S. E. Porter is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Miley Burrus, near Plainview, for a month.

Cliff Perry is doing jury duty in Abilene this week.

Lots of feed is being cut and hauled; the frost found lots in the fields, and some is still in the water and the ducks are having a feast indeed.

Elected to National Scholarship Society

Abilene, Nov. 19.—Emily Newman of Merkel became a member of the Alpha Chi, national scholarship society, recently when the Hardin-Simmons university chapter elected fourteen new members for the 1936-37 year.

Students were selected from the upper 10 per cent of the junior and senior classes and given individual oral examinations to qualify them for membership in the society.

Hardin-Simmons organized the local chapter of Alpha Chi in 1922 and went national in 1925.

Miss Newman and the thirteen other new members were guests in Dean Olsen's home for the informal initiation service.

To Those in Need Of Insurance

$2,000 was paid in exchange for $5.20 in premiums on a Southwestern Life Insurance policy. Read this letter from Mrs. Maude M. Cargill: Merkel, Texas, October 6, 1936. Southwestern Life Insurance Co., Dallas, Texas. Gentlemen:

I want to thank you people for the promptness in the settlement of the death claim on my husband. I want to express my thanks for the good that insurance does to people in need.

I really objected to my husband buying this policy, but I see the need of insurance and I want to say a good word to any one that needs protection. They can't get a policy that will pay any more prompt than you people have. It was just four days after your agent, Mr. F. E. Church, got the papers fixed that he brought me the check for $2,000 and I felt like if you all could pay a claim that prompt I could assure myself that anything trusted to you would be all right and that is why I applied for a single premium policy. My husband had just spent $5.20 on this policy and it cost him $1.04 per month so I will surely recommend you people to anyone that is in the market for insurance. I feel like you are the best, also I want to thank Mr. F. E. Church for the way he handled this claim and he is a man I have the most confidence in and he will not misrepresent anything to sell his policy.

I am yours truly, Mrs. Maude M. Cargill.

F. E. Church, Representative Southwestern Life Insurance Co. Merkel, Texas.

Fields Likes "Poppy" Role Best of All

The character he likes best, that of a lovable old faker who glories in bamboozling the public but who paves the way for the romance of a young couple, is given W. C. Fields in his carnival film, "Poppy," coming to the Queen theatre for Wednesday night prevue, 11 p. m. only. It is the part he played in his first stage success years ago.

Fields appears as a patent-medicine man and tent show follower who is the guardian of an eighteen-year-old girl, Rochelle Hudson. The girl has never known any other life.

When the two are operating a concession in a small town, Rochelle meets and falls in love with Richard Cromwell, son of the town's mayor. Fields, meanwhile, has concocted a scheme to have his ward identified as a missing heiress so she can take over an unclaimed fortune in the town.

The scheme works for a time and then is exposed. Rochelle, heiress for a day, is faced with the breaking up of her love affair and relinquishing of her new home. Then a sudden turn of the plot brings a happy ending.

This picture will be shown one day only—Thanksgiving eve (prevue, 11 p. m. Souvenirs and favors will be given away.

Recruiting Station Lists Army Vacancies

The army recruiting station in Abilene reports the largest list of vacancies for that district since the office was opened last September. The vacancies consist of the following: infantry, cavalry and field artillery, with stations at Fort F. E. Warren, Wyoming, Fort Bliss, Texas, Fort Sill, Okla., and Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Generally speaking, in order to obtain enlistment in the regular army, applicants must meet the following requirements: they must be between the ages of 18 and 35 for original enlistment, and those under 21 must have the written consent of parents or guardians; they must be at least 5 feet, 4 inches in height, and weigh not less than 115 pounds; they must be of good moral character, as evidenced by written testimonials by reputable citizens of their respective communities; they must be in good health and free from incapacitating deformities; they must be citizens of the United States by birth or naturalization, or be able to show a legal declaration of intention to become citizens; they must be able to pass intelligence and literary tests as prescribed in regulations governing recruiting for the regular army.

To obtain the written consent of parents or guardian and the references from reputable citizens requires from one to three days, depending upon the distance they live from Abilene. These papers must be obtained before the applicant will be shipped to the recruiting office in Dallas at government expense. All applicants having the above qualifications are requested to write or call at the recruiting station, 301 Federal building, Abilene, as these vacancies are subject to change.

Read the advertisements in this paper. There's a message in every one of them that may enable you to save money. At least you will know where to find what you want without doing a lot of hunting and asking questions, and you also know the merchants appreciate your patronage because they solicit your business and make special offering of their goods.

Plan Home-Coming at McMurry on Nov. 21

Abilene, Nov. 19.—The tenth annual homecoming of McMurry college planned Saturday, Nov. 21, with the Indian-Abilene Christian college game as the feature, will be one of the largest celebrations in the school's 13-year history.

To assist in conveying its invitation to alumni, ex-students, mothers and dads, Frances Marie Church of Merkel has been named homecoming chairman for that area. She is an ex-student of McMurry.

Festivities will get under way on the McMurry campus Friday night with a council fire and pep rally at Totem circle. In keeping with the Indian tradition, the Tom-tom will beat all night and the following day until the kickoff at the game at 2:30.

Dr. Thomas W. Brabham, completing his first year as McMurry president, is being honored at the homecoming reception Saturday morning and at the barbecue planned for 3,000 visitors at noon.

MERKEL GIRL TO MARRY OKLAHOMA MAN.

Miss Sarah Sheppard, who is to become the bride of Herbert Von Tun-gelen of Hollis, Okla., in a late Nov-ember wedding, was named honoree at breakfast on Saturday morning in the home of Miss Betty Lou Grimes. A profusion of cut fall blossoms decora-ted the rooms and the lace-laid table was centered with yellow chrysan-themums. Yellow candles in silver hold-ers further stressed the color theme where nut rolls forming the initial "S" with sweets and coffee were served.

Mrs. Comer Haynes entertained with readings and also gave piano selections. The prize for clever trousseau contests went to Miss Verne Moore, who very graciously presented it to the bride-to-be. Guests contribu-ted to a recipe file, also a gift to the honoree, and little Miss Alice Gail Price of Duncan, Okla., daintily pre-sented Miss Sheppard an array of miscellaneous gifts.

Those enjoying the Grimes' hospi-tality during this lovely gift party were Misses Sarah Sheppard, Sis Gamble, Clara Frances Largent, Verne Moore, Phyllis Smith, Fannelle Gray, Mary Elizabeth Grimes, Lois White-ley, Wanda Hunter, De La Verne Teague, Jane Ferguson, Mesdames L. V. Moore and Comer Haynes and Alice Gail Price.

Mrs. Lige Gamble was leader for the lesson on the "Bases of Early Woman Movement in Eng-land and the United States." She discussed the "Legal Disabilities of Married Women," as to property and as to control of children. Mrs. J. T. Warren gave "Early Statements of Women's Protest," a summary and criticism of Mills' "Subjection of Women," and a short account of Mills' work for woman suffrage.

Members present were: Mesdames Self, Sadler, Swann, West, Brown, Largent, Burgess, Smith, Wilhite, Cox, Warren, Booth, Durham, Hughes, McFarland, Gamble, Petty, Haynes, Sheppard, Misses Christine Collins, Johnnie Sears, Dota Garoutte, Julia Mertin.
