Credited with 468 Votes in Electoral College to Mere 63 for Opponent, Who Leads in Only Nine States.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the precedent-breaker, smashed one of America's most ancient traditions Tuesday with a dramatic and sweeping victory in his battle for a third term Credited tentatively with 468 of the 531 electoral votes on the basis of returns Wednesday night, he was leading his opponent, Wendell Willkie, in all except nine states. In the Willkie column were only Colorado, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Maine, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Vermont, with a total in electoral college of 63 votes.

Traditionally democratic Texas, with its 23 electoral votes, had given Roosevelt and his running mate, has been "Sweetheart" of the band Henry A. Wallace, approximately 81 per cent of its 674,992 votes counted Wednesday. The votes stood: Roosevelt, 546,355; Willkie, 128,379.

> In the same tabulation State Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. Mc-Donald was given 216,496, against which W. N. Corry, the write-in candidate, had polled only 141,679.

All state amendments carried with the exception of the Red River proposal, which was still in doubt Thursday morning.

WENTY-TWO YEARS AGO, on Flanders' shelltorn fields, a bugle's silver tone brought golden silence to still the cacophony of War . . . a silence, however, epitomized by the grim quiet of the burial grounds with endless crosses, row on row.

Today our nation labors with feverish haste that we may erect a man-made barrier against the thunderous wrath now sweeping a continent in the wake of human hatred. The torch of America is being carried to light forever the path of peace for this hemisphere. For twenty-two years we have shed no blood in war ... yet American motherhood trembles as children kneel in evening prayer for fear that this precious peace may not be maintained ... that the overseas lightning may yet flash across the ocean with its blighting destruction.

Well today may we add to our pleas before the Almighty's throne our prayer for a continuation of the golden silence that came on this day in 1918 . . . and from the merest child to the tottering patriarch, add these words to our supplication . . .

"And grant us Peace . . . Amen!"
