Mules Lose 'Squeaker' To Dimmitt

Controversial Calls Help 'Cats Score Touchdown

muleshoe

Charles Shain, instructor, said a Defensive Driving Course will be conducted on Saturday, October 20, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., at Muleshoe High School, Room 33 (auto technician classroom).

Shain said, "The purpose of the course is to make you a safer driver, receive 10 percent off your insurance and/or for the court."

Cost of the course is $25. Call 272-3911 for reservations.

The Texas Health Department 306 West Second Street has announced that flu vaccine has arrived.

The charge for the flu shot is $2 plus, clinic charge, according to income.

To make appointment to receive a flu shot, call 272-5561.

The Fine Arts Boosters met Monday night and discussed several money making projects.

A lot of new ideas were discussed and put into work. The Mighty M Band has a lot of things coming up in the near future.

Mighty M Band Day at the high school was October 13; Marching Festival at Texas Tech is October 21 and most important of all is the UIL Marching Contest at Texas Tech on October 31.

FAB says, "We would love to have a big crowd go to Jones Stadium and give them your support. We still need more parents out for our meetings. The next meeting is Nov. 12 at 7 p.m."

Educator of the Week at Watson Junior High School was Dean Black, seventh grade English teacher.

Principal awards at the school went to Joshua Alfaro, sixth grade; Shelby Murphy, seventh grade and Manuela Soliz, eighth grade.

Angel Garza son of Celia Garza of Sudan, graduated this summer from Texas State Technical Institute in Amarillo with a certificate of completion.

He majored in Auto Body Repair.

Michael Conley also of Sudan,

ALL MIXED UP AND NOWHERE TO GO--John Orozco, in the far right, drags a couple of Dimmitt Bobcats along with him as he grinds out some of the more than 150 rushing yards he had Friday night against Dimmitt. On the ground are a couple of other Mules who have tried to help, including Damon Parker, No. 64, and coming up in the background is Eric Richardson, No. 40. Orozco had his best running game of the season in the 14-13 loss to Dimmitt. (Journal Photo)

When the Mules traveled to Dimmitt Friday night, they were taking on a team that had racked up a 4-1 season, to 3-2 for the Mules. Last Friday night, the Bobcats fell to Denver City, who had previously beaten the Mules.

For awhile, everything went the way of the Mules.

The Bobcats took the opening kickoff, and after losing two yards, and coming up on a fourth and 12, booted the ball to the feisty Mules.

John Orozco started out with what proved to be his best rushing game of the year to date, as he quickly toted up four first downs for the Mules, in eight plays.

At the helm of the Mules was back-up quarterback Galin Latham, who really "came into his own" during the game, proving that he could run as well as hand the ball off.

In the first series for the Mules, they took over and behind John Orozco, Galin Latham and Danny Rodriguez, soon had the ball deep in Bobcat territory, and were knocking at the goalposts.

After marching for 78 yards, and using up nearly eight minutes on the scoreboard clock, Latham slammed into the end zone from two yards out on a quarterback keeper.

Junior Olivarez booted in the extra point, and it was time for the Bobcats to take over again.

The stunned Bobcats had moved the ball into Mule territory when the first quarter ended, with the Mules jubilantly leading the Bobcats, 7-0.

Shortly after the second quarter got underway, the Bobcats bogged down and were forced to punt the ball away.

This time, the 'Cat defense tightened up, and the Mules failed to advance the ball, gaining only four yards in three attempts.

As the Bobcats took over again, they gained a first down behind the running of Lincoln Stewart, as the Mules were keeping Bobcat power runner Armando Arce well-contained.

The rest of the second quarter was a see-saw game, as both defenses tightened up on the other, and neither team made much headway.

Muleshoe Business Moonlight Madness Sales Planned

Tuesday, October 23, will be the first of the "Merchant's Midnight Madness Sales," until Christmas, announced Nancy Kidd, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

She said there will be free treats at each business, plus some 'threes' -- Big Bonus Buys.

"Be on American Boulevard and Main Street from 7-11 p.m.," said Mrs. Kidd. "Merchants and employees will be dressed in fashionable night wear. Get in the Christmas shopping atmosphere early at home in Muleshoe."

"Our merchants are putting out a big effort and lots of work to get shoppers to shop Muleshoe FIRST," she added. "You know, you just might find that certain item right here at home, and that sure helps our tax income and local economy."

She concluded: See you on Tuesday, October 23, from 7-11 p.m. in Muleshoe at one of the participating merchants:

Fry & Cox, Inc., Perry's, Anthony's, Joe's Boot Shop, Country Junction, Main Street Beauty Shop, Poyner's, Something Special and Williams Bros.

Abandoned Wells Continue To Pose Danger To Children

A 20-month-old toddler trapped in a deep, narrow shaft near his home in Denver last month has provided High Plains residents with yet another near-tragic reminder of the importance of properly closing open, abandoned irrigation wells and other similar openings leading below the land surface.

On September 15th, Kevin Davis fell into a hole 18 inches wide and 12 feet deep which had been dug for a home remodeling project in southeastern Denver. He was rescued 14 hours later and was treated for dehydration and minor abrasions.

High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No.

1 officials say this accident serves as a reminder of the danger associated with open, abandoned wells and other similar openings. Landowners and operators are urged to check for and properly cover any abandoned wells on their Property

Across the Texas High Plains, an estimated 70,000 large capacity irrigation wells have been drilled since irrigation began on a wide scale in the late 1930s. More than 47,000 irrigation, municipal and industrial water well drilling permits have been issued by the Water District during the 36-year period from 1953 to 1989, says Becca Williams, director of administration. Most water wells range from eight to 16 inches in diameter Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Sandhill Cranes Begin Arriving At Game Refuge

Don Clapp, manager of the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge said this week, "Once again the sandhill cranes have commenced their fall migration. The majority of the lesser sandhill crane population annually winters in the South Plains Region October through February."

"Eighty cranes were sighted at the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge on September 23. By October 7, their numbers had increased to 800."

"Refuge crane populations normally reach into the thousands by mid-November depending upon the lake water levels. The best time for viewing the cranes is early morning or late evening."

Clapp also reminded that although crane hunting is not allowed on the refuge, the required crane hunting permit may be acquired at the refuge office, which is open 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Crane hunting season begins on November 10.

Bids And Contracts To Be Considered By School Board

Members of the board of trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District will meet at 7 p.m. on Monday, October 15 at 7 p.m.

The following business items will be considered:

Employ auditors to conduct the 1990-91 school audit; consider bids for school supplies and paper; consider bids for food products and cafeteria supplies; consider bids for all custodial and maintenance supplies; visit with architect regarding junior high school building; review superintendent job description; review and discuss board policy; review proposed superintendent's contract.

Also to be heard will be the financial reports and several informational reports.

MHS Graduate Works For Homesick Texan

Texans who have moved to other states, or even overseas, can now keep up with "What's going on in Texas," through a new publication, The Homesick Texan.

Bill Durham, a graduate of Muleshoe High School, and now a resident of New York, stopped by The Journal offices during the past week with a copy of the new publication.

He is a contributing editor to The Homesick Texan and writes stories with a Texas perspective, and does some photography for the tabloid size newspaper.

He said the newspaper is especially designed to cover the entire state, and in fact, the first issue had stories from the wine industry in Lubbock, through the Kennedy Center, and even a short story on the governor's race between Clayton Williams and Ann Richards.

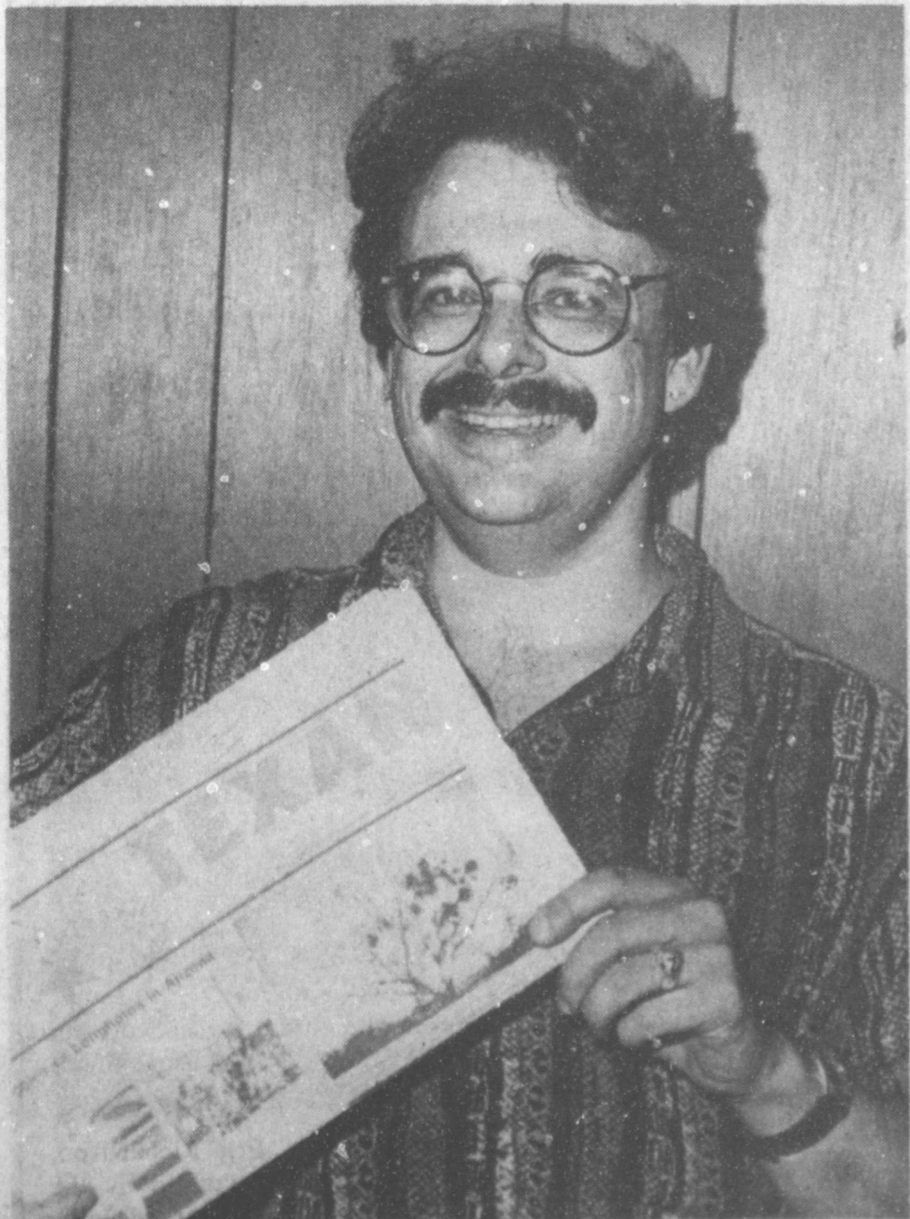

You can find a special football story from Lamar Consolidated Schools in Rosenberg and an author from Estelline (near Childress).

Also, you can find Texas sports, including the decision by Arkansas to leave the Southwest Conference, and a comprehensive story about mesquite trees.

There's a couple of stories from when Edna Ferber's Giant starring Rock Hudson, Elizabeth Taylor and James Dean was filmed, and a story on the growth of Houston.

The 24-page newspaper The Homesick Texan is scheduled for quarterly publication and Bill Durham was excited about his connection with the Dallas-based newspaper.

Durham said their subscriptions are going well, and the paper is well-received by Texans who live elsewhere -- usually job-related, and not by choice.

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Sixteen Kiwanians, two honorary Kiwanians, Robbie Clapp and Chad Johnson, one guest, Jim Stewart, and our new Sweetheart, Marsha Wilson attended the Kiwanis Club meeting Friday morning at the La Placita Restaurant.

Marsha, the Kiwanis Club is very proud to have you as our sweetheart. We are looking to a wonderful year of friendship. We must tell you that we never give our sweetheart up, because even after your graduate and move on, you will still be our sweetheart.

Marsha, you have a wonderful personality and a beautiful smile. Don't ever change. Marsha, you are the sweetheart of a bunch of very dignified fellows. The only thing wrong is, they don't bring this dignity with them that early in the morning. WELCOME!

It is always good to see our honorary members, Robbie and Chad. We miss Lacy Morris and Jon Keith Turner. Lacy is sick and we want her to get well real soon. Lacy, we sure miss you.

President Jim Lutz called the meeting to order. Keith Turner led the club in the pledge to the flag and the invocation was given by Eddie Morris. Lyndon Huckaby, who is still looking for a friend decided he would try Hugh Young. Huck said that Hugh would need a friend. This is the last Friday morning that Jim Lutz will preside as our installation banquet will be next Tuesday night and the helm will be turned over to Glen Morris. Jim, we wish to say thank you for a very good job for the past year.

Our guest Friday morning was Coach Jim Stewart. Coach reported that the Mules would be traveling to Dimmitt for our first district game.

This should be a good but a hard game. Dimmitt is always big and a hard team.

Coach stated that the Mules had worked hard and trained real hard and played their pre-season games and came out 3-2 in those.

You only play one game at a time and tonight it is Dimmitt. Coach stated that the Mules were a tough bunch of kids, who has worked hard, and showed teamwork, who didn't quit.

Coach stated that there was no free lunches -- you had to work for all you get. The Mules have a good attitude and that is about half of the program.

Coach Stewart and you whole staff and all of the Mules -- Hit Hard -- and play a good, clean game. We want you to win just like you do -- but win or lose -- we are very proud of you and all of our youth. Good luck.

Thanks, Coach, for getting out early on a Friday morning which makes it a long day for you, but it will also be a long day for Marsha, too, as she, along with the rest of the cheerleaders and backers, will be there also. GO MULES!!

Dry Ant Killer Destroys Entire Colonies

Most fire ant products notoriously slow-acting, often taking two to four weeks to become fully effective. But Orthene Fire Ant Killer, a dry powder which is one of the fastest-acting and most effective fire ant killers available, begins controlling fire ant workers within hours after application. It kills on contact, unlike the bait-type formulas which must first be digested by the ants.

With dry treatment, the fire ant workers will track the powder deep into the mound where it also kills the fire ant queens, thereby destroying the mound. This method is preferred over drench treatments because it does not disturb the mound. (Unaffected fire ants may relocate their colony to a new location if the mound is disturbed.)

With Orthene Fire Ant Killer, entire colonies are destroyed in three to seven days. Ninety percent of active mounds are knocked out with just one application, and, once treated, mounds are rarely re-infested.

Orthene Fire Ant Killer is available in sturdy, 8-oz. and 1-lb. canisters. One pound applied as a dry powder treats up to 108 medium-sized mounds (1-2 feet in diameter); and one pound applied in solution will treat approximately 80 medium-sized mounds.

Creative Living

By Sheryl Borden

Information on creating your own art, preparing almond desserts, and news in home lighting will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, October 16 at 12 noon and Saturday, October 20 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain)

Cathy Crane, representative of Deck the Walls, will share ideas on how to frame special items; from a hobby, a special collection or a family heirloom - so that they become art. Ms. Crane is from New York.

Audrey Stehle, from the Almond Board of California, will prepare some wonderful dessert recipes made with California almonds. Ms. Stehle lives in Indianapolis, IN.

Vickie Watts, Marketing Home Economist with Southwestern Public Service Co. in Roswell, is going to show a lighting bar to illustrate the multitude of different types of lighting that are available to consumers.

On Tuesday, October 16 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, October 18 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will present information on decorating with pillows, making a braided calico rug, and using proper flag etiquette.

Mary Ellen Payne, with the NM Cooperative Extension Service in Las Cruces, NM, will narrate some of the history about the US Flag. She will show how to properly display the flag as well as re-emphasize important facts about flag etiquette that may have been forgotten through the years.

Dee Stang, with Lynn Dee's Patterns in Arvada, CO, will show how to make a braided calico rug. Since the interest and emphasis on country decorating is still very strong, these rugs can certainly provide a decorative touch and be functional at the same time.

Suzi Holder, with the NM State 4-H Office, will discuss the importance of attractive throw pillows in the scheme of decorating and will show how to make some simple lap-back pillow tops that can be used in various rooms to complement different decorating styles. Ms. Holder is from Las Cruces.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl

Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of materials offered on the show by sending one 25 cent stamp for each handout requested. Send the stamps, along with your name, address and booklets requested to:

Jennyslippers Hold Membership Drive

Five ladies from the Sudan Chamber of Commerce, as well as several prospective Jennyslippers and Jennyslippers were on hand Tuesday night, when the Jennyslippers held their annual membership meeting.

Mrs. Joyeline Costen introduced Mrs. Jacquelin Davis of Clovis, N.M., who presented the program. A fashion designer, Mrs. Davis told the group how she came about being a fashion designer. Growing up on a farm and driving a tractor, she stated that she had plenty of time to decide what she wanted to do. April 1, 1979 she started her business in Clovis, N.M. in The Blue Room. Later

BIBLE VERSE

1. Who was the author of this verse?
  2. To whom was he writing?
  3. Just what does it mean for us today?
  4. Where may it be found?
- Answers:
1. Paul the Apostle.
  2. The church at Corinth.
  3. Each of us should strive to do our utmost to develop our lives along high ideals and motives.
  4. I Corinthians 12:31.

she branched out and opened Lady J's. Mrs. Davis told of some of her trips and some of the humorous things that had happened to her while on the trips. She also showed some of her line of clothing, all of which she had designed, and explained how you can pack for a week, using one small bag. "All you need is a basic dress, one pair of shoes and different accessories" said Mrs. Davis. She stated that she traveled approximately 60,000 miles last year.

In a short business meeting, the Jennyslippers voted to help sponsor Women's Protective Service in Muleshoe. Eventually this service hopes to open an office here in Muleshoe, but at the present time, a lady comes from Lubbock.

Several door prizes were given away and refreshments were served.

Rebekah Lodge

The Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday night, Oct. 9 for their regular meeting. Dorothy Browning, Noble Grand had charge of the meeting. Mary Ann Ramirez and Doris Lambert presented the flags and Fern Davis gave the opening prayer.

Plans were finalized for the Anniversary Celebration next Tuesday night, Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. "Come and enjoy the special program that has been planned and help make this a memorable occasion" said Fern Davis.

The Thanksgiving luncheon scheduled Nov. 1 was discussed and posters will be put up soon and members will be selling luncheon tickets. These tickets are $6.00 each and the lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Louise Allen gave the closing prayer and June Green and Fern Davis served refreshments to 13 members. It was reported that the members enjoyed a fellowship hour.

Radio Radio Station Raises Funds

KENW/KMTH-FM Public Radio are seeking money and members during their two week "Radio Worth Listening To" membership drive, which began October 8. The station hopes to raise $12,000 and 150 new members in an effort to meet the cost of broadcasting in-depth news and information programming to eastern New Mexico and West Texas.

As an affiliate of National Public Radio and American Public Radio, KENW/KMTH-FM offers listeners a non commercial news source for morning and afternoon news. The popular "Morning Edition" (Monday thru Friday, 6-8 a.m. MST) and "All Things Considered" programs (Monday thru Friday, 4:30 - 6 p.m. MST) does an in-depth examination of the daily news with commentary, interviews and special features. "Marketplace" (Monday thru Friday, 4-4:30 p.m.), an up-and-coming business news program provides daily national and international business news with reports, commentary and often irrev-ent features. "The MacNeil Lehrer NewsHour", the well known news/interview program from the Public Broadcasting Service, is simulcast on KENW/KMTH-FM from 6-7 p.m. MST.

Abandoned Wells

and are dangerous to humans and animals when left uncovered. In most cases, open holes occur when the well is no longer used or when the pump is removed for repairs, and the opening at the top of the casing is left uncovered.

"Open holes are death traps," says Engineer Technician Obbie Goolsby, who has coordinated the District's abandoned well capping program since 1971. "Some abandoned wells have no cover at all, and they are often hidden by weeds. Anyone walking across a field could accidentally slide in and be trapped," says Goolsby.

Two open-hole related accidents have occurred within the 15-county Water District since its creation in 1951.

In 1981, four-year-old Jared Artho fell 260 feet into an open hole that his uncle was in the process of filling. The scratched and frightened child was rescued two and a half hours later.

In 1986, six-year-old Bo Dempsey almost slipped into an old well in Randall County when he stepped off a school bus and ran to catch some flyway papers. His watchful mother caught him by four fingers before he could slide deeper into the well.

"It is very fortunate that it was possible to rescue these children from these open wells. However, it's far better to properly cap abandoned wells and never have accidents like these occur," says Goolsby.

State law and High Plains Water District rules require that abandoned wells be properly covered. Water District rules define an open or abandoned well as "any artificial excavation drilled or dug for the purpose of exploring for or producing water from the underground water reservoir, not capped or covered as required by the rules of the Water District."

Rule 16 of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District details the conditions of covering open or uncovered wells:

"Every owner or operator of land within the Water District upon which is located any open or uncovered well is, and shall be, required to close or cap the same permanently with a covering capable of sustaining weight of not less than four hundred (400) pounds, except when said well is in actual use by the owner or operator thereof; and no such owner or operator shall permit or allow any open or uncovered well to exist in violation of this requirement."

Since 1951, landowners have cooperated with the Water District to properly cover more than 1,200 open, abandoned wells. "Many producers have taken the incentive to cap open holes located on their property, and we appreciate their efforts. However, we continue to find open, abandoned wells, which require proper closing," adds Goolsby.

The location of any open, abandoned water well should be reported to the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405. The District's telephone number is (806) 762-0181.

3-Way Eagles Are Victorious Last Friday

The Three Way Eagles struck in a hurry in their homecoming game against Southland last Friday night. At 9:08 of the first, Sammy Belez made it into the end zone from five yards out, and the PAT failed. Then, at 6:44 of the first, Jessie Haros added another TD run, this one for 21 yards. Roy Guiron made the extra points.

Again at 4:58 of the first, Bobby Gonzales had a 41 yard touchdown run with the extra point made by Larry Robertson. The final TD of the first quarter was a 31 yard pass from Mario Guillen to Jesse Haros. At the end of the first stanza, it was a 27-0 football game.

Two touchdowns were made in the second quarter. Jessie Haros scored from 15 yards out, and the PAT failed at 4:42 of the second. Efrain Guillen galloped for 62 yards at 2:15 of the second, and Jesse Haros made the extra point.

Coming back in the third, the game was over at 8:05 of the third, on the six-man 45 point rule when Wade Wilson made it into the end zone from 31 yards out, to end the game with a 46-0 victory for the Three Way Eagles.

In the game, Three Way had 73 yards passing and 276 yards rushing for a total of 349 yards.

Southland had 89 yards rushing and 51 yards passing for a total of 140 yards.

Efrain Guillen had 12 tackles and 107 yards; Sammy Belez had six tackles and 10 yards; Bobby Gonzales had nine tackles and 57 yards; Mario Guillen had eight yards and seven tackles; Jessie Haros had seven tackles and 36 yards; Roy Guiron had six yards and two tackles; Jesse Gutierrez had 16 yards and three tackles; Marc Tucker had five yards and six tackles and Wade Wilson had 31 yards.

In passing, Mario completed three of six passes for 73 yards.

Fire Prevention Focuses On 'Safety'

Citing the loss of 300 lives and more than $1 billion in property damage to fires during 1989, Gov. William P. Clements Jr. proclaimed the week of October 7-13 as Fire Prevention Week.

"Fire continues to be a major threat to all Texans, particularly the very young and the very old," said James E. Saxton Jr., chairman of the State Board of Insurance.

During 1989, fires in Texas killed 292 people, injured more than 2,200 and destroyed an estimated $1.125 billion in property, according to reports submitted by Texas fire departments to the State Fire Marshal's Office, State Board of Insurance. The largest incident included in these statistics was the Phillips 66 Houston chemical manufacturing fire, which caused 23 deaths and property damage estimated at $750 million. Thirty-two injuries were reported; however, total injuries were estimated at more than 100. Saxton noted the 20,000 residential fires that caused almost 200 deaths and 1,800 injuries merit the attention of all citizens.

"Much of this tragic loss could have been prevented," Saxton said. "We have the knowledge and technology today to prevent much of the needless loss of lives and property in this state. We urge every Texan to practice fire prevention every day to help conserve our valuable Texas resources."

Fire departments in Texas reported 101,609 fires during 1989, according to data released through the Texas Fire Incident Reporting System (TEXFIRS) coordinated by the State Fire Marshal's Office, a division of the State Board of Insurance. Those 101,609 fires caused 290 deaths, 2,683 injuries and property damage totalling $1.125 billion.

Compared to the 102,849 fires reported during 1988, the number of fires in 1989 decreased by about one percent. However, fire-related casualties increased in every category except one: civilian deaths increased 22 percent; civilian injuries increased 13 percent; and fire fighter injuries increased two percent. Three fire fighters died in fire-related activities in both 1988 and 1989.

Careless cooking was the leading cause of fire and fire-related injuries in residences last year. More than 4,100 residential structure fires involved cooking appliances. These fires resulted in 235 reported injuries, seven deaths and property damage estimated at $12 million.

Mules Lose

half, the Bobcats again had possession of the ball, but failed to move it into the end zone and the Mules took over again with just :04 left in the first half.

The quarterback, Galin Latham gained three yards before the clock ran out, and at the half, the Mules still had their 7-0 lead.

As the third quarter got underway, the Mules took the opening kickoff, but after three plays, still needed four yards for a first down, so punted the ball to the Bobcats.

As the Bobcats began a struggle to get into the endzone the first of two very controversial penalties were handed the Mules.

A personal foul, for 15 yards, was called on a player who did not even make contact with the Bobcat he was accused of committing the foul against.

This gave the Bobcats a first down, and kept their drive going, and Lincoln Stewart burst through a short time later for a 14 yard Dimmitt Bobcat touchdown. The PAT was good, and the score was tied up, 7-7.

The demoralized Mules failed once more to move the ball against the Dimmitt defense, and were forced again to punt. This time, it was a short punt, giving the Bobcats a good field advantage.

At this time, the second personal foul, again a very controversial call, went against the Mules. A Dimmitt player hit a Mule in the back, and he topped onto the Dimmitt ball carrier who was on the ground. This 15 yarder added to the Dimmitt momentum and a short time later, on a pass from Dimmitt quarterback to Jeromy Casey was good enough for a 14 yard TD. The PAT was good, and the Bobcats maintained a 14-7 lead.

With 1:52 left to play in the third, the Mules again took over to try to even out the score and pull ahead.

At the end of the third, it was still Dimmitt 14, Muleshoe 7.

Then, early in the fourth, the Mules had moved the ball for 75 yards downfield to the Bobcat five. It took nine plays before John Orozco punched over from the five for the Mules second TD of the night. In an attempt to make two points, the quarterback dropped the ball, and the score stood at 14-13.

From that point, it again became a defensive game, with neither team managing to get into the end zone. The last 7:59 of the game was pure defensive action, and neither team getting much advantage.

The Bobcats were in possession of the ball at the final tick of the scoreboard clock.

With the final action, the Mules total season is 3-3. They are 3-2 in non-district play and 0-1 in district action.

Next Friday, the Mules will meet the Tulia Hornets here, with gametime at 7:30 p.m. in Benny Douglass Stadium.

Carelessness Taking Toll On Farm Youngsters

By Mary Mahoney

Every year in Texas, avoidable accidents on farms and ranches usually claim the lives of more than a dozen youngsters and injure hundreds more.

"The tragedy is that in nearly every case, these accidents could have been prevented," said Thomas D. Valco, an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "In most farm accidents involving young children ages 14 and under, carelessness and distractions are the leading causes. Usually, the child involved had no business being there in the first place."

Valco, who has recently completed an analysis of rural deaths in Texas, said farm children are placed in needless jeopardy when they hitch rides on tractors, wander down to the stock tank by themselves, or work or help around farm equipment that they don't know how to control.

In a 1987, national study of farm youth deaths--the most recent of the few studies done on the subject--Texas led the 35 states surveyed with 16 deaths of farm children ages 14 years or younger, Valco said.

Nine children in the same age group died in 1988, in Texas, followed by 17 in 1989. Five had died through July of 1990.

"The number of deaths, compared to traffic fatalities for this age group, are relatively few," Valco said, "but deaths are just the tip of the iceberg here." Studies show that for every farm fatality there are 100 disabling injuries--where children have lost a finger or an eye or use of a limb.

September marks farm safety observances nationally, but Valco said it's frustrating to see young people continue to be injured "despite intensified farm safety educational programs taught to youths and adults across Texas."

"The leading cause of farm youth deaths in 1990 and 1989 has been drowning," he said. "Four of the five 1990 deaths occurred when toddlers or older children fell or stepped into deep water."

Drownings accounted for eight of the 17 farm youth deaths in Texas in 1989, Valco said. Six others died in farm equipment mishaps: three fell off tractors while riding with relatives, two were operating tractors that overturned, and one was killed in a cotton harvester.

"The 1988, casualties included two children who fell off tractors and were run over, one who fell off a shredder, one run over by a motor grader, one killed by a large round bale of hay, two who drowned, one thrown from a horse and stepped on, and one gored by a family pet--a buffalo," Valco said.

IRENE STEINBOCK

Irene Steinbock
Funeral Services
Held At Lazbuddie

Funeral services for Irene Steinbock, 76, were held at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 12 in the First Baptist Church of Lazbuddie with the Rev. Gary Wilcox, pastor, and the Rev. Barry Bradley, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe, officiating.

Burial was in Lazbuddie Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Mrs. Steinbock died at 12:16 p.m. Wednesday in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Born June 4, 1914, in Richland, N.M., she moved to Muleshoe five years ago from Lazbuddie. She was a homemaker and a beautician and a member of the Muleshoe First Baptist Church. She married Walter Conrad "Shorty" Steinbock on Aug. 2, 1930, in Clovis, N.M. He died March 10, 1976.

Survivors include a daughter, Nealy Moore of Lazbuddie; three grandchildren, Candy Charice Nowlin, Steffan Moore, and Tressia Charmaine Elliott, all of Lubbock; and three great grandchildren, Garrett Michael Nowlin, Tyler Daniel Nowlin and Jonathan David Nowlin, all of Lubbock.

She was preceded in death by a son, Darrell Wayne Steinbock, on Dec. 25, 1931.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

October 6, I attended my second crosscountry race at May Simmons Park in Lubbock. The reason that I was there, I had a granddaughter, Shane Schuster, running in the race. She is a freshman in Muleshoe High School. She runs on the varsity team, and seems to be doing a very good job for the Muleshoe Mules.

Some of these contestants will be going to District, Regionals and I feel, that at their very best, some will go to State. They train very hard and run at times that some of us would be in our air conditioned homes watching T.V.

The course at May Simmons Park is a killer to say the least. The young women and men from Muleshoe High School will run this course again at District. What I am really trying to say the rest of the season is going to be very difficult for them, in that they will be spending most of their time trying to master hills and valleys and basically this area is a flat area. So, if you see these runners in strange places, you will know what they are doing. These young men and women are in very good physical condition and can run their flat land miles with ease, however they will run the hills and will win, maybe not with the ease of the flat land, but they will win.

Lets get behind the Cross-country Team and see that they have the opportunity to train as they need to. This maybe a chance for the Muleshoe Mules Crosscountry Team to go to State this year. They need our support and encouragement.

A Proud Supporter,
And Grandmother
Cara J. Schuster

One always has time enough, if only one applies it well.

Health News

Everyday, paramedics and emergency room personnel make dozens of critical choices - decisions that help save lives threatened by trauma. Saturday, at 5 p.m. on KCBT-TV, "Health Matters," underwritten by Methodist Hospital, reports on "Emergency and Trauma Care."

"Health Matters" takes viewers from the scene of the trauma to the hospital, describing in turn the role of the paramedics, the capabilities of the mobile intensive care unit and the preparation and skill of the physicians, nurses and technicians who staff the emergency room.

The program probes the tremendous pressures and challenges faced by those who provide trauma and emergency care, whose skill and quick-thinking often can mean the difference between life and death, and features two local emergency physicians, Tony Hannaman, M.D., and Ben King, M.D.

"Health Matters" also discusses how trauma deaths - estimated at between 140,000 and 160,000 annually - can be reduced.

We would like to express our many thanks to everyone for your prayers, flowers, food and concern during the illness and passing of our mother and grandmother also a special thanks to the nurses at the nursing home and hospital and to Dr. McClanahan for their loving care of her.

"HE IS NOT HERE, BUT IS RISEN..."

Our Lord gave his life on the cross... and then he arose from the grave. He conquered death and provided a way that men might be saved.

As the powerful electricity may be transformed, the Lord has power to change men's lives.

"And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

Honor the Lord... enter his house with praise and thanksgiving.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Texas Pecan Crop Larger Than Last Year's Crop

By Edith Chenault

The Texas pecan crop is projected at 60 million pounds this fall, up 13 percent from last year and accounting for approximately one-fourth of the pecan harvest nationally.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimate indicates that Texas pecan producers may bring in their fourth largest crop in 10 years. The USDA projects this year's national pecan crop at 221 million pounds, down 12 percent from 250 million pounds last year.

The market outlook is favorable for pecan producers who have seen prices recover gradually from a 1987 crash. Joe Pena, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Uvalde, said some opening new crop bids have been outstanding-between $1 and $1.25 per pound for improved varieties and between 60 cents and 80 cents per pound for natives.

Prices are expected to drop later in the season. Industry analysts suspect that the USDA production forecast is understated and that this year's harvest of all tree nuts (among them, walnuts, filberts, almonds, pistachios, and pecans) will be a bumper crop of 1.6 billion pounds. This total is 28 percent above last year's and equals the harvest that broke the pecan market in 1987.

The 1987 crash sent national pecan market prices plummeting to an average 60 cents per pound for improved varieties and 38 cents a pound for natives.

What's different this year, he said, is that pecan carryover stocks from the 1989 harvest are low and the total pecan harvest this year is lower than expected. High carryover into 1987, a large national crop of 291 million pounds, and the highest tree nut crop on record caused the pecan market to tumble, Pena said.

Despite the good crop, Texas pecan growers have had their share of misery this year as last December's freeze, summer drought, September flooding and insects have taken their toll in some areas of the state.

For some orchards in South-west Texas, where the harvest is gaining momentum, the problem is too much of a good thing. Wil Baucom, Maverick County Extension agent, said orchards in and around Quemado have had lots of broken limbs because of heavy crops and higher than average rainfall.

The heavy crop also has decreased quality, Baucom said. "The thing that's concerning people right now is the quality. We have so many pecans on the trees that not all of them are going to fill out," he said.

In San Saba County, Extension agent Phil Davis said improved varieties will probably bear about 65 percent of their usual crop. The county-which probably produces more pecans than any other in the state-can yield six million pounds of improved varieties.

Irrigated orchards will probably bear very well, but dryland orchards are suffering because of a hot, dry June and August, Davis said. Native trees are producing a light crop, at above 20 percent of their potential, he said.

Davis credited the drop to the lack of pollination, insect damage and the fact that native and improved varieties had heavy crops last year.

"You won't have two bumper crops back to back on the improved varieties, and we had a bumper crop last year," he said.

Native trees will produce a bumper crop once in only three years, and last year saw a heavy crop in that county.

Producers there are about 10 days to two weeks ahead of the normal harvest date. Harvest should begin about Oct. 15 and be in full swing by the first of November.

In West Texas, John Bagnaud, Extension Service horticulturist in Tom Green County, said producers are looking at a below average crop because of high insect damage and below-average quality. However, yields probably will be better than last year, he said.

East Texas producers are looking at a severe, premature pecan drop because of drought, said Marty Baker, Extension Service horticulturist in Overton. Most pecans produced there are sold locally.

Mom: Have you changed the water in the goldfish bowl?

Boy: No. They didn't drink all the last water yet.

My uncle said he was going to make a bionic pelican. I said: "Why didn't you?" He said: "Because I couldn't afford the bill."
