Record Grain Crop Reported; Harvest Nearly Complete In Merkel Area

With only about a week or so left of the grain harvest operations in this area, a record yield per acre, as in other grain producing areas, has been reported despite extensive damage from rain, hail and wind earlier in the season. Ideal weather conditions prevailed long enough for the harvesting to get well underway before being slowed down by the rains.

Although the yield this year is the best in memory, the restricted acreage keeps it from being the best volume; however, the volume is the best since 1936 and the quality the best most people have ever seen.

The wheat yield in this area is from 12 to 15 bushels per acre with an average of about 22 bushels per acre. Oat crops yielded an average of at least 60 bu. per acre, and barley 35 to 40 bushels.

The Merkel grain elevators have been busy day and night with only a few quiet days, when the rains slowed down the harvesting, reported. One million pounds of wheat was unloaded in one day at Patterson Grain, according to Jack South, manager.

Mr. South reported his company has shipped over 23 carloads for over 2 million lbs. and 96 truck loads for 6,500,000 lbs of wheat, 24 carloads of oats and 11 cars of barley.

Doan, manager of Kimbell Grain, said they have shipped about 50 cars for 5,000,000 lbs. of wheat.

Toombs and Moore have shipped 11 carloads of wheat, 6 of oats and 3 of barley, according to Willie B. Toombs.

Wheat is currently bringing $1.65 to $1.68 per bushel, oats, 45 per bushel, and barley, .70 bushel.

The Merkel grain elevators serve farmers from many surrounding communities including Divide, Trent, Violette, Hodges, Stith, Noodle, George Blair and Newby.

From Florence Palmer, Fort Wayne, Indiana: I remember walking to and from school. On the Illinois prairie where I lived, most of us walked approximately two miles to and from the little district school each day.

In September when school started, decked in a new calico dress (a must for the first day in school) and with our recess tin dinner pail we gladly took off early in the morning. Summer, warm and hazy, still hovered over the landscape and the roads were dusty and full of yellow butterflies.

October was a brisk, pretty month and we welcomed the first frosty morning. Then came winter. The snow drifted, sometimes covering the hedge fences. We loved this. Dressed in leggings that buttoned well over our knees and with four buckled overshoes, we walked on top of the hedge to school, had snow fights and, though the oldsters grumbled about the snow, we were sorry when the spring thaw began.

There was fun in the spring, too. Most of us had rubber boots to travel the wet, muddy roads and how we enjoyed wading in the little rivers and ponds melting snow and spring rains provided. I can remember that your feet were often cold but we would venture as far as possible into the water and take as long as we possibly could to get home in the evening.

I am sure the school bus is most convenient but today's children miss something too, for we really had fun walking to and from school.

FOUR GENERATIONS—Present for a dinner in the home of Mrs. Jennie Massey recently were four generations. Woman Fractures Hip At 96; Walks Without Help At 100

A fractured hip at the age of 96 has not kept Mrs. Aquila Duross, a patient at the Starr Rest Home, from walking without help and with only a slight limp.

Mrs. Duross, who celebrated her 100th birthday in April, has been able to walk for over two years and although she is almost blind and doesn't hear well, she is quite active for her age.

She attends Sunday services in the Home and likes to listen to sermons on her radio. Mrs. Duross has been a Baptist since early girlhood.

She enjoys folding small garments on washday and is unhappy if anyone else does them, but she refuses to fold on Sundays, saying she doesn't work on the Sabbath.

"Aunt Aquila" as she is fondly called, talks a lot about the war. She said she was very young but remembers how afraid she was of the soldiers and what hard times they suffered during that period.

Mrs. Duross was born Aquila Ann Wallace in Cumberland Furnace, Dickinson County, Tenn., April 9, 1858, and came to Stiner, Biscayne County, Texas at the age of 25.

She met and married A. L. Duross in 1898. There were no children born of this union but she raised three of her husband's children by a former marriage, who think of her as their own mother.

After Mr. Duross died she lived with relatives at Gorman for eight years before moving to Roton to live with a nephew, Gene Wallace. It was while living with the nephew that she suffered the fractured hip. A short time later she was brought to Starr Rest Home, then known as the Lawson Rest Home.

J. W. Hammond Home Destroyed By Fire; Damage Estimated At $10,000

The J. W. Hammond home at 402 Rosa St. was reported a total loss after being gutted by fire early Monday morning with damage estimated at $10,000.

The local fire department answered the alarm at 3:1 a.m. and reported the blaze out at 5:30.

The Hammond's son, Johnny Wayne, 26, was the only member of the family home at the time. Awakened by heat and smoke, he found part of his room ablaze and ran to the kitchen to use the telephone but was forced out of the house. A small dog in the kitchen at the time died of suffocation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond, who own the Ben Franklin variety store, were in Lufkin visiting Mrs. Hammond's father, Rube Sessions.

Their two youngest sons, David and Bob, were with them.

Mrs. Lige Harris, a neighbor across the street, called the fire department while another neighbor, A. J. Richardson fought the fire with a hand fire extinguisher.

Waymon Adcock, fire chief, said the fire apparently started in a southside bedroom of the two-story house.

Coffee served to the firemen, was furnished by the Merkel Drug, Mrs. Pat Cypert and Mrs. Waymon Adcock.

On Thursday night, at 8:15 there will be an Order of the Arrow Ceremony which everyone is invited to attend. Mr. Lassiter said. An Indian dance and camp fire will be the main attractions in addition to witnessing the "Tapping" of Order of Arrow Pledges.

The boys will return to Merkel Saturday afternoon.

Supers, Starbucks Still Top Contenders For Season Lead

The Carson Supers and the Starbucks are still fighting for the little league lead but the W. T. U. Kilowats are closing the gap fast.

The games have tightened up a little as the boys are getting more sure of themselves. Jimmie Whisenhunt is probably one of the best eight-year-olds to enter the league in several years, said Newt Logan, president. Johnnie plays second base for the Kilowats and does a good job. He is small but fast.

Thursday night games saw the Starbucks win the opener over the Cardinals with the pitching of Bob Benson. Carville Clark returned to the Starbuck lineup after being out several weeks with a broken collar bone.

In the closing game Thursday the Supers barely squeezed past the Bankers by one run. George McDonald pitched the Supers to victory in the closing inning after locking horns with Frosty Winters in a real pitching duel.

The Supers won over the Willys in Friday's games with Tip-ton pitching. Reynolds was the big man at the bat in the game as he collected four doubles for four times at bat.

In Friday's closing game the Kilowats got past the Bankers after using three pitchers. Johnnie Whisenhunt blasted a lone one over the center field fence for his first home run of the season.

Games were played Saturday night to make up for the ones rained out last Tuesday. In the first game the Willys beat the Cards with Kenny Hogan pitching.

Saturday's second game saw a lightly contested game between the Starbucks and the Kilowats. The Kilowats finally eked out a one run victory with C. B. Rust the winning pitcher.

Tuesday night the Starbucks gained a two-run victory over the Willys as Bob Benson pitched for the winners. Jack Chancey did a good job of pitching for the Willys but lost the contest by two runs.

The second game on Tuesday was one of the most thrilling games of the season as the Kilowats and the Supers went extra innings with the Supers finally winning by one run. Lee Fisher was the losing pitcher although he stuck out 15 batters. This was one of the better pitching shows of the season matched only by Keith Wilson earlier in the season when he also struck out 15 men. The Supers Doan was the big gun at the bat as he blasted two doubles that drove in four runs. Mac Dorton kept the Supers in the game with professional-like courage in his shortstop position and surrounding territory.

The season is well past the midway mark and the eleven and twelve year old boys will be playing their best as they seek positions on the All Star team will be chosen about part of July.

Little League Schedule

FIELD DAY—Area farmers and Merkel businessmen attended the Texas Research Foundation Field Day at the Clyde McCoy farm recently.

TEACHING JOHNNY TO SWIM SERIES ONE

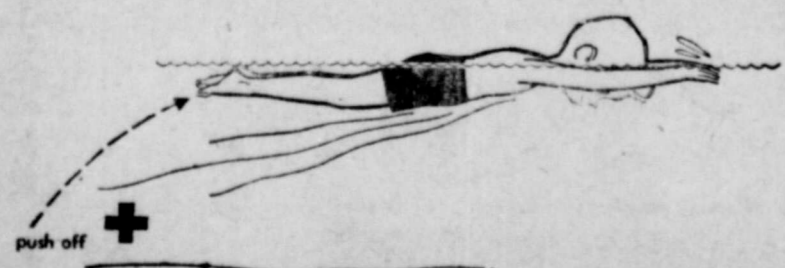

Johnny can be taught to swim more readily if you select one of his friends to learn along with him. Many of the steps can be accomplished more easily when two youngsters work together.

Getting Johnny and Jimmy accustomed to the water is the first step. Fill a receptacle with water at home and have the boys put their faces in often enough so that they can hold their breaths and stay in 15 or 20 seconds; then practice exhaling under water and inhaling when the face is out.

In chest-deep water, Johnny and Jimmy practice breathing by doing the see-saw. Facing each other and with hands clasped, first one and then the other takes a breath, goes below the surface for two or three seconds. This continues in a rhythmic pattern.

Johnny practices the "sled" or prone glide as it is technically termed. In waist-deep water he leans forward with arms extended and hands together until his shoulders are below the surface. Taking a breath, he places his head in the water and pushes forward.

Eastland Man, Father Of Nine, Mamed Texas Baptist Father Of The Year

A 76-year-old Eastland tax assessor and former accountant, schoolteacher and newspaperman who has reared nine children and sent eight of them to college has been named Texas Baptist Father of the Year.

He is Joseph Carroll Allison, tax assessor-collector for Eastland County and a deacon for 32 years who says he has "held every position in the church but pastor and Woman's Missionary Union president." He is a member of the Bethel Baptist Church in Eastland.

Three of his six sons are Texas Baptist pastors and a daughter is married to another pastor. Six of his children graduated from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, another graduated from Howard Payne Baptist College in Brownwood and another from Texas Western University in El Paso.

The oldest son trained at a technical school in Los Angeles where he is now a productive supervisor for Douglas Aircraft.

Mr. Allison once had five children enrolled in H-SU at one time "and that was during the depression," he said.

A committee selected Mr. Allison as father of the year "because of his example of applied Christianity in his home, before students and through his church."

Several other men were nominated by pastors and church organizations for the Texas Baptist honor. Making the final selection was a committee composed of the Rev. D. C. Ham, pastor of the Casa View Baptist Church of Dallas; Jack Harwell, regional civil defense public relations director, Denton; and Kathryn Allen, assistant editor of the Baptist Standard.

Mr. Allison is the second Texas Baptist father to receive the award. A 73-year-old retired schoolteacher, Ira Irving Isabell of Fort Worth, won the first award presented last year.

Mr. Allison was born Nov. 24, 1882, the son of a Carbon, Texas, farmer. One of eight children, he attended a small rural school until he was 13. He then enrolled in Sam Houston Normal Institute, where he earned a permanent teaching certificate in two years.

He studied for two more years at the University of Texas and was named superintendent of schools in Dickens, Texas, in 1907, when only 24 years old.

Between teaching jobs in Dickens and Afton he married an attractive schoolteacher and both taught until they moved to Eastland in 1911.

He bought an interest in the Eastland County newspaper where he worked for about a year "writing most of the copy, editorials, setting type and running the press."

"The paper didn't make enough to support myself and my partner's family," he said, "so I returned to teaching."

He served as principal and superintendent of the Breckenridge School System for seven years.

"When the oil boom came in 1919," said the silver-haired father, "I went back to our paper. But the Eastland school was short of teachers, so I also taught math until 1926."

Later he worked as secretary-treasurer of a road construction company which folded up in '32. ("The depression lasted longer than we thought it would.")

He taught summer school at Simmons College (now H-SU) and took a bookkeeping course on the side.

From 1939-45 he labored about 16 hours a day at three different jobs to keep his youngsters in school. Teaching math in school, keeping books for three Eastland firms at night and serving as city tax assessor, he "scraped together" enough to keep five of the children in college at one time.

"When our oldest daughter, Verne, started to school, I had only $5 to give her to reserve a room at Simmons. I told her she might be able to stay about three weeks or a month, but to go ahead on faith and register." She graduated and is now secretary for an Eastland firm.

He was named tax assessor-collector in 1955 to fill an unexpired term and was elected to a full term last year.

Religion was a vital part of J. C. Allison's life even as a boy. Reared in a Christian home, he taught Sunday School and worked in the Y.Y.P.U. before he was a Christian.

"I knew about God and the Bible," he said, "but I didn't know Christ personally until one of my teachers at Sam Houston talked to me during a Union revival meeting."

For 24 years, Mr. Allison has helped conduct city and county elections. He has not missed a year until 1955 when he became a county employee and ineligible for the job. One year he held ten elections in Eastland.

He has served as treasurer of the Cisco Association for several years. He takes a two-week vacation every year, but at the rate of one day a month, to attend the Baptist associational worker's convention.

His pastor, the Rev. James Flaming, says "Mr. Allison is almost a legend around our church and in the Eastland area. I suspect that some of the stories told about him and his sacrificial spirit have become somewhat exaggerated, but the exaggeration itself reveals the high esteem that people have for him.

Does he plan to retire soon?

"I wouldn't last a year if I did," he said, "a man who's been as busy as I have must stay busy. If I lose the county job, I'll probably keep books and work with income tax returns."

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allison's children are Carroll Allison, aircraft production supervisor, Downey, Calif.; the Rev. Joe W. Allison, pastor, First Baptist Church, Estelline, Tex.; Verne Allison, secretary, Eastland; John L. Allison, chemist, El Paso; Edith M. Allison, secretary, Abilene; the Rev. Grady N. Allison, pastor, First Baptist Church, Munday, Tex.; Nelson Allison, schoolteacher, Odessa; Betty L. Beatz, Funston, Tex.; and the Rev. James Allison, pastor, Bryce Baptist Church, Bryce.

Row crops are needing rain. Frank Brnovak who lives in the west end of the Canyon (what is known as the White Church community reports it is very dry there.

Rev. E. H. Martin, pastor of Pioneer Methodist Church is in charge of camping at Butman youth camp. There are a number of campers there.

Ida Mae King and Carole Perry, attended the Youth camp at Ceta Canyon this week.

We have received some reports on the wheat and oats yield on a few farms.

A. D. Scott reported that 60 acres averaged 22 bu. per acre which is very good.

Leroy Riney who had 50 acres of wheat in the K. Blackburn place had perhaps the best yield of the Canyon. However we don't have the correct report on that place.

John Swinney of the White Church community reports 200

bu. of oats off seven acres of land. A very good yield.

Word came this week from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weston of Midland that they had found a bulldog puppy for Donnie Russom. Don had a want ad in the Up the Canyon several weeks ago stating how much he would like to have a bulldog puppy. Don said, "I didn't think about Mr. and Mrs. Weston way out at Midland taking the Merkel Mail."

Several from the Canyon attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Huff

Remember his first great adventure?

With full heart and watchful eyes you helped him enjoy his very first taste of independence. And how proud you were when he achieved his goal, all by himself, and then, laughing, ran to your waiting arms to share his triumph with you!

Nothing you can give your child is half so precious as this wonderful opportunity to be himself. All through life you want him to be free to choose his way.

That's why it's so important to be on the watch for ideas or ideologies that could set limits to his independence. The idea, for instance, that government should own and run more and more businesses, services, institutions. Don't forget that when government runs more and more things, the individual has less and less freedom and independence!

Think of your son's first "independence day" when you hear talk like that. Point out that in countries where government does control almost everything, the individual is controlled, also. And the loss of anybody's independence is a threat to everybody's freedom.

Very much aware of this danger are the independent electric light and power companies, because government already runs part of the electric business. And powerful people are pressing to take over more.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Farmers and ranchers in this Great Plains area of Texas now have an opportunity to do more conservation work on their land through the Great Plains Conservation Program.
The Great Plains Conservation Program is a voluntary, long-time program to promote land and water use through a stepped-up conservation program. It is an added approach to enduring conservation based upon land capability, and provides long-term assurance of needed financial aid through cost sharing contracts to carry out a complete soil and water conservation program for the entire farm or ranch.
The Great Plains Conservation Program is not a replacement for other programs or an income supplement, or production adjustment program.
The Great Plains Conservation Program is in addition to all other going programs in the Great Plains and is a program that permits needed flexibility in the use of cost sharing assistance in the establishment of enduring soil and water conservation.
Many farmers and ranchers in Texas have already made use of this new program. Approximately 200 have developed plans of operation and signed cost sharing contracts.
Further information and application forms for assistance through the Great Plains Conservation Program may be obtained through your county agent, ACP office or SCS office.

Starr Rest Home

By MARY OUTLAW

Mrs. W. M. Permenter of Garland visited her Grandmother, Mrs. Smothers Wednesday.
We want to thank the Methodist Bible Church School for coming into the Rest Home and putting on a program of scriptures and song. They brought fruit, cookies and candy for which we are grateful. The teachers of the school present were Mrs. Ewin Reed, Mrs. Pat Dudley and Mrs. Pete Morgan. There were a large number of children, it was a nice program and the patients enjoyed it very much. Come to see us again sometime.

Mrs. Stockbridge gave the home a large bouquet of Easter Lillies that she had grown. They were beautiful and the patients with me want to thank her for being so nice and thoughtful.

We are so glad to have our cook, Nettie Harris back from her vacation.

We want to express our appreciation to Dr. and Mrs. Warren for the nice Elk meat given the home. We were curious to know how much it weighed so as we put it in the deep freeze we weighed it and there was 120 lbs. of sausage, T Bones, roast and rounds. Boy have our old people been eating elk. It is delicious. Everything we have tried yet was really good. We just wanted to tell them how much we appreciated it.

Mrs. Warren Price and Mr. Wiley Smedley of Rowden visited their father N. A. Smedley, Saturday.

Mrs. Sarah Carr celebrated her 87 birthday Friday. Her daughter Mrs. Carr, of San Angelo and her granddaughter brought her a big pink coconut cake which she shared with the other patients. We wish for her many more birthdays.

Mrs. B. T. Brown and grandchildren of Trent visited her mother Sarah Carr, Saturday.

Mrs. Miller is happy to see her friends and relations visiting her. We are very sorry that Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hartley and Grandma

A MEDITATION

By Mrs. L. A. Watts
I have my passport for heaven
Did You know I was going away?
I came here many years ago
But I didn't come here to stay.

Shall I pack up my trials and troubles
And take them along with me too?
No, each of you have enough of your own
I don't want to leave them with you.

What about a coat or wrap
Against the chill of the night?
No, if I make it to heaven
I'll be robed in a robe of pure white.

Without my glasses,
Will I be able to see
The beautiful wings of heaven?
Please tell me how it will be.

They say no glasses are needed
In that mansion so heavenly bright.
For our eyes will be dimmed no longer
In that home where there is longer no night.

Hartley crop was hailed out. Grandma is our patient in the home and a very nice one too.
The Church of Christ members from Trent came into our home Sunday to fill their appointment. They had a good service and we invite them back again.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Merrick of Willow City visited Mrs. Joney Smothers Saturday night.

Home Demonstration Notes

By LORETA ALLEN
 Taylor County Home Demonstration Agent

This is the last news I'll be sending for a month as I'm going to be going to school in Fort Collins, Colorado. Miss Sybil L. McDaniel, Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent will write for me while I'm gone. Miss Mary Graham, Junior Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent, who is training here will write an article one week. Watch for her column.
 The 4-H clothing workshop will start next week. All 4-H girls should make plans to attend the workshop nearest them.
 Last Saturday I worked in the yard. It is time to put that mulch around vegetables, flowers, shrubs, and trees. We are using straw from an oat field. It really saves water, time and energy. While I was working Saturday, I noticed black spots on my roses. I thought you might like to look your rose garden over.

 It is time to change the rose fungicides for disease control. Sulphur compounds used in cool weather can cause burns in hot weather.
 For black spot control change to captan, zineb or maneb, and for powdery mildew control to Karathane or Mildex. Applications should be made each week especially during rainy weather.
 To avoid wetting the foliage when watering the lawn or roses and that spraying will give better control than dusting. A spreader stick should be used with the spray for best results.
 Black spot is characterized by large, roundish, black spots with irregular or frayed margins. The spots may occur on either or both surfaces of the leaves, and frequently develop unnoticed on the soft twigs and branches, and also on the leaf stems. When severely infected, the leaves may turn yellow and drop off. This weakens the plants and makes them more susceptible to dieback, girdling and winter injury. It also results in smaller flowers that are weak in color and fragrance.
 Powdery mildew is characterized by a white, powdery coating that occurs on the leaves, buds, and young stems. Immature leaves may be curled, distorted and light in color.

(Ed. Note.—This is the last of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas's foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," says this internationally known jurist, whose work has been honored in the U.S. and in Europe as well, and whose name was put in nomination for the vice-presidency of the United States in 1952.)

The strength of our nation depends in no small degree on the boys and girls of today, and it is imperative that we do something about the rising tide of juvenile delinquency. In a recent talk to the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, the governor of Texas pointed out that 46% of the major crimes in the state during 1956 were committed by persons 17 years of age and under.

The responsibility for combating juvenile delinquency belongs to all of us—parents, first of all, but to the church, the school, and the community as well.

Home Most Important
Most important in the life of boys and girls in the right kind of home. There must be real love, love which does not over-indulge and which includes guidance for the child's life now and for his future life as an adult. Children need a sense of their own significance and to be recognized as individuals. They want understanding of their problems and as they grow older, independence to make decisions. Parental responsibility is to maintain a balance of giving boys and girls whatever amount of independence they are mature enough to handle at the same time providing guidance and discipline when these are needed.

In my experience trying juvenile cases, there is in most instances something wrong in the home situation, and some of the attributes of the right kind of home are missing.

Community Responsibility Heavy
At the same time the community may have fallen down on its responsibility. Blaming parents for the delinquencies of teenagers is too simple an answer. With increasing industrialization, the job of being a parent is much more difficult than it used to be. There are fewer chores around the home, less play space, a higher percentage of cars, paved roads, and taverns available to boys and girls.

It is the community's responsibility to assist in counteracting these changed conditions by providing such character-building organizations as scouts, 4-H clubs, junior achievement, etc., by establishing more community centers, and by encouraging more volunteering time and effort to such agencies.

Church and School
The role of the church is important. Religion should be a vital factor in the life of boys and girls, and it should be presented in such a manner that it can be applied to their daily lives. Church-sponsored activities many more than now exist are needed, activities which will appeal to young people and give them a creative role in the church.

The school's responsibility has likewise increased with the drastically changed conditions of modern society. There is need for the schools also to help provide more means for taking care of the idle time society has forced upon teenagers who don't know how to handle it.

Prevention vs. Rehabilitation
While our chief effort should be in providing a positive program to prevent delinquency, there will always be teenagers, as there are adults, who commit offenses and are brought before the courts. It is therefore necessary to have a constructive program of rehabilitation for youthful offenders.

In such a program the efforts of the judge and probation department are devoted to the individual child and his problems. There is need to try to find the

This An' That

The University of Kentucky proved in the N.C.A.A. tournament that the secret of winning basketball games is "five men, playing together." The team, nation champion tho it is, is not rated on par with some of Kentucky's great teams of the past. Teamwork and the desire to win is credited with bringing the Blue Grass team its fourth N.C.A.A. championship . . . The National Basketball Coaches Association wants the N.C.A.A. to investigate transfer students. The coaches think the N.C.A.A. should put in a rule which would make it necessary for flunked-out players who transfer to sit out two years of basketball competition before resuming play . . . Johnny Lattner, All-American halfback at Notre Dame in 1952 and 1953 will coach football next season at St. Joseph's High in Kenosha, Wisconsin. The new school, with a planned enrollment of 1,500 will field its first team next fall . . . Baseball: heaviest player on major league rosters is Don Newcombe, 248. Lightest is another Dodger, Rodney Miller, 144. Enos Slaughter, 44-years-old, is oldest in majors.

causes of his delinquency and to remove them. There should be less concern with handing out punishment than with trying to rehabilitate the offender.

More Probation Officers Needed
The sentence of the court may be probation or an institution. The difficulty is that there are not nearly enough probation officers, and, without a sufficient number, probation cannot do the job.

And our state institutions at Gatesville and Gainesville—through the programs are good—are far too crowded, and these committed must be released sooner than they should be, so as to make room for others.

In order for boys and girls released from the institutions to find their place in society there is great need for parole officers. At present, only the larger counties have such officers, and yet, without effective supervision after release, many an effort expended at the institution may well turn

Garden Setting For OES Chapter Installation

The Masonic Hall, decorated as a garden, was the setting for the installation ceremonies for the Merkel Chapter No. 212, Order of the Eastern Star Saturday, June 7.

Yellow and red roses on trellis, blue daisies and other garden flowers were used throughout the hall. A large gold lyre with blue ribbon and words "Harmony" and "Service" formed the background for the speaker's stand.

Mrs. Weldon Barbee and J. J. Beckman registered guests and handed out programs.

Mrs. Ford Butman gave the welcome address and introduced the installing officer, Mrs. Bill Hays. Assisting Mrs. Hays were Mrs. Inez Pratt, Abilene, installing marshal; Mrs. Dan Butler, installing chaplain; Mrs. Charlie Seago, installing organist; and Mrs. Jeff Chancey, Abilene, installing secretary.

Mrs. H. H. Windham, new worthy matron, and Mason Shurley, new worthy patron, spoke in "Service" and "Cooperation for Harmony."

In a program "Onward Matron, Patron" the outgoing worthy matron, Mrs. Ford Butman, and outgoing worthy patron, Bill Brazzil, were presented gifts and jewels from the Chapter. Mrs. Butman presented the new worthy matron with a gold engraved scrap book.

In "Our Garden of Service" Mrs. H. C. Reid accompanied Mrs. Windham into the garden of service where the Star Points presented her with a bouquet. Mrs. Buck Leach sang "In The Garden" to honor the new worthy matron and worthy patron as the officers formed a circle and offered a prayer of service.

Mrs. Henry Martin, Mrs. Dan Butler, Mrs. Truett Thompson and Mrs. A. B. Parham served frosted punch and cake from a table covered with a blue linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and blue carnations.

Benediction was by Leon McAden.

Officers installed were: Mrs. H. H. Windham, worthy matron; Mason Shurley, worthy patron; Mrs. Bill Brazzil, associate matron; Don Neal, associate patron; Mrs. Craig Humphreys, secretary; Mrs. Florence Berry, treasurer; Mrs. A. B. Parham, chaplain; Mrs. Henry Martin, marshal; Mrs. T. J. Bird Jr., organist; Mrs. R. E. Dayton, Adah; Mrs. Truett Thompson, Ruth; Mrs. Carol Britten, Esther; Mrs. Weldon Barbee, Martha; Mrs. J. J. Beckman, Elector; and Mrs. Buck Leach, Warden.

85 guests registered.
