

WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Evidently, the community is enjoying another good year of boys' baseball.

The games are coming off on a regular basis and there doesn't seem to be any more confusion or lack of organization than usual.

This year for the first time, too, there's a girls' softball league to add to the overall program. This is a great thing for the individuals involved, no doubt.

We spent part of last week an eye-witness to the boys portion of the program.

During that week, which we spent keeping score for the games, we noticed that Cecil Bunch is probably the umpiringest preacher we've ever known. Sponsors of the program -- Bovina Lions -- are probably taking advantage of Cecil, his interest in working for his community and his willingness to don the mask and breast protector when an umpire is needed, no matter what the age group.

He isn't the only one who pulls umpiring duty, but he does more than his share, we're guessing.

Of course, the entire program is run by volunteers and they are all deserving of appreciation and thanks. Just seems from here that Cecil goes farther above the call of duty than do most of us.

Umpires are a necessary part of the game and the program. However, the work is physically demanding to some extent and the chances for criticism are excellent.

We appreciate the work Cecil is doing. If that's all the pay he gets, he's vastly underpaid.

Mothers of the players are doing a good job of operating the concession stand, it seems to us. They're consistently there on time and it appears that business is good.

You know, women are probably better than men at being prompt and dedicated about the civic work they do.

Managers of the teams are doing the usual good jobs. They get their pay for their efforts in the form of respect and admiration from their players. This usually runs much deeper than it appears on the surface, too. Often, life-time friendships are born right there at the ball-games and at the practice sessions in between.

Nobody asked us, but one improvement which could be made in the program here would be to provide more helmets for the offensive players to wear.

The rules say that the batters, baserunners and base coaches must wear the helmets. Evidently, we don't have enough "good" ones to go around and the batter feels he's entitled to the best one. He's probably right, too, because he has the most pressure on him when he's in the box and is entitled to all the protection and comfort he can get.

Anyway, this necessitates the better helmets being thrown back to the next batter after a player reaches base. This is inconvenient and time-consuming.

More helmets would, we guess, eliminate this problem, if it is one.

Probably wouldn't cost anything but money to make the improvement.

We couldn't help but notice while pulling our Lions Club duty at the ballpark last week that many of the players swing away when they have a count of three balls and no strikes.

We were of the opinion that this was kind of against baseball strategy unless you were a home run threat. That doesn't seem to be the case in the Bovina boys' league, though. Just almost any and everybody is apt to be swinging away with the count 3-0.

Maybe that's not as bad as we think it is, but we couldn't help but notice it.

Guess you should admire a batter for having the confidence to swing at the first good pitch he sees.

As we said, nobody asked us.....

With the major league season just about one-third complete, our Houston Astros are in second place and threatening to move back into first. They've been reasonably hot of late to make this move back toward the number one spot after having dropped to third place.

This could be the Astros' year. It's still too early to tell. It could also be the year of the Los Angeles Dodgers or the Cincinnati Reds.

The only good thing for farmers who get hail is that they get to do the talking in the coffee shop immediately thereafter.

Hail Damages Crops In Bovina Area

Monday --

Wheat Cutting Resumes Here

After being halted by last week's rains, wheat harvest resumed this week. With the decreased number of acres this year, the harvest period won't last long, weather permitting.

The crop was reported to be "dry" Monday following Friday night's rain as it was brought into Bovina elevators. With no more moisture, the harvesting operation is expected to be completed the latter part of this week or the first part of next.

The crop, which was already less, acreage-wise, than normal due to a new government program, was damaged in this area by hail Wednesday night of last week. Estimates of the amount of damage ranged as high as 50 per cent. However, in most cases, the damage from the hail was considerably less.

Barley had already been harvested, for the most part, prior to the rains of last week.

The price of wheat has been holding steady --- about $1.35 per bushel --- during the harvest period.

With Wiseman --

Lawlis, Lambert Join Business

Announcement was made this week that two Bovina men have purchased a one-third interest each in Parmer County Spraying Service with T. C. Wiseman.

Ovid Lawlis and Junior Lambert joined the aerial crop spraying firm in partnership roles this week, Wiseman announced.

Both Lawlis and Lambert had been associated with Chuck's Aerial Spraying Service. Lawlis is also manager of Lawlis Gin Co. and will continue in that capacity.

Parmer County Spraying Service recently completed new office and hangar facilities west of Bovina on FM Road 2290.

Wiseman established the business over a year ago. Original offices were in Farwell.

The business features three spray planes. Pilots are Bob McAllister and Ronnie Teague.

Notice of the additional partners joining the business is made in an advertisement in this week's issue of The Blade.

HAIL DAMAGE --- Tommy Williams, who farms west of Bovina, shows with his left hand how tall his corn was prior to the hail storm which struck Wednesday night of last week. Williams hopes the now knee-high crop will "come back" from the hail damage. Corn and grain sorghum were believed to be hurt less by the hail than the young cotton crop which was destroyed in areas where the most severe hail fell.

Storms Bring Needed Rain

Rain, which was needed, and hail, which wasn't, came to this area last week.

The moisture, accompanied by damaging hail, fell late Wednesday afternoon.

Rain, without the crop-destroying ice, fell again Friday night.

The Wednesday rainfall totaled .85, while 1.9 inches were recorded Friday night.

The hail didn't fall consistently throughout the area, but took its toll in strips west and southeast of Bovina.

Some fields of young cotton were destroyed by the hail, others were damaged but will be allowed to stand.

Wheat in the hail-damaged areas received damage estimated at up to 50 per cent.

Grain sorghum and corn crops were hurt, too, by the frozen rain but they will be expected to recover to a great extent, unlike the tender cotton.

Due to the time of the year, the hail-destroyed cotton is not likely to be replanted. Other crops will be planted on the cotton land, in most cases, with soy beans expected to be the most popular replacement.

Wheat harvest, which was just beginning to get started at mid-week, was halted by the moisture.

Some farmers returned to wheat fields Monday with their combines and all the grain is expected to be ready to cut this week. The only question is when can the farmers get to the wheat to harvest it.

Damage from the hail seemed to be in streaks on both sides of Bovina. Extent of the damage varied from farm to farm.

The rain was considered highly beneficial, but farmers in the hail area would have rather not had the damage, had they had a choice of rain with hail or no rain.

The ideal situation would have been to have the Friday night rain and skip the Wednesday afternoon storm.

Additional rain is predicted for this week.

City Hires 3 Boys To Work

Three boys have been employed to work for the city during the summer, according to Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, city secretary.

Employed to work as city beautification aides are Randy James, Juan Ortiz and Joe Delgado.

The three boys were hired through the Office of Economic Opportunity, with the OEO paying 100 per cent of the boys' salaries.

The OEO office in Bovina is under direction of Mrs. Pearl Cervantez.

In addition to the three boys, the city has hired Miss Debra Hollaway, a '72 BHS grad, to work in the city office this summer. Her salary is paid 50 per cent by the city and 70 per cent by the federal government.

Investigate Break-In, Accident

A color television set valued at $400 was stolen from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bruce on Fourth Street over the weekend.

The TV was reported missing when the Bruces returned home Sunday afternoon.

The burglary was investigated by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace and Cth Marshal Ronald Mitchell. Entry to the house was made through a window in the back door, according to Mitchell. Nothing else in the house was disturbed, Mitchell said.

A Friona man was charged with DWI following a two-car collision about 9:30 p.m. Friday northeast of Bovina on Highway 60.

Thomas Teedog Takingun was charged following the accident, according to Mitchell. Four people in the other car were injured in the accident. They were taken to Parmer County Community Hospital in Friona for treatment. Two of them, a mother and daughter, were later transferred to a Lubbock hospital, according to Mitchell's report.

The accident was investigated by members of the state highway patrol.

July 1st --

Cutting, Penning Contests Slated

Bovina's Roping Club will sponsor a cutting contest at the roping arena east of town Saturday, July 1. The contest will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Preliminary planning for Bovina's ninth annual Bull Town Days got underway recently as Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture directors named Tom Bonds chairman for the second consecutive year.

Bond's appointment was announced jointly this week by leaders of the chamber and Bovina Roping Club, co-sponsors of the annual celebration.

Lewis McDaniel, Southwestern Public Service representative here and past president of the chamber, was appointed Bonds' assistant.

Dates of the three-day celebration are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 17-18-19.

Plans are underway for the festivities, which have been highly successful in years past. Chairman and leaders of the various events are being appointed and a schedule of events is being lined up, Bonds said. The schedule may be announced as early as next week.

the office opened in June of 1970.

Twenty-nine applications were received by the commissioners court with nine persons being interviewed by a representative from the state welfare office. The final selection was made from a slate of three applicants by the state office in Austin.

Mrs. O'Neal, a native of Farwell, is a graduate of Texas Tech at Lubbock. She moved here from Dallas where she had worked with handicapped children and adults at the Cook's Children's Hospital and the Child Study Center for the mentally retarded.

Bovina softballers did twice Saturday night what they hadn't been able to do in two years -- defeat Helton Oil Co. team, which features players from Texico, Farwell and Clovis.

In a doubleheader played on the local field, Bovina took 6-1 and 7-6 wins.

Lefthander Glenden Sudderth paced the first win as he allowed Helton only two hits and one run in going the seven-inning distance. Ray Carter pitched and batted Bovina to the second game win, 7-6, as the local lads had to come from behind twice and go into extra innings to gain the victory.

Willie says "more rain by July 2nd."

A $120,000 building and remodeling project was launched this week at Bovina Methodist Church.

The feature of the new building will be a sanctuary which will seat a total of 325. The new sanctuary will have a total of 4100 square feet, not including the balcony. Also to be built new are six new church school classrooms and new office space.

Rains, which are general throughout this area, totaled some 2.5 inches Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Only a minimum of hail fell during the three rains.

Though the showers brought the just-started wheat harvest to a halt, farmers were generally pleased with the additional moisture.

A new saddle, which will be given away by Bovina Roping Club during Bull Town Days 1966, is now on display in First State Bank of Bovina.

Plans are underway for a men's slow-pitch softball league to begin here July 11, Jim Russell, Lions Club president, announces.

Teenagers of the First Baptist Church were entertained with "Burst of Fun" Thursday night at the fire station.

Centered around balloons, the party featured games with balloons, decorations of balloons and balloon favors.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wilson, Suzanne, Pam and Torild Skjerve toured southern Texas last week.

Fourth Street and Dimmitt Highway will be the scene of a car bash Sunday at 3 p.m. Admission to the event will be 20 cents per individual bash and $1 per member of a team for three minutes.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

Watergrass has become an increasing problem in High Plains sorghum fields in recent years, and can cut yields in half.

The weed has recently become a serious pest in sorghum because herbicides used to control pigweed are not very effective against watergrass. Good pigweed control has resulted in cultivation being reduced or even eliminated.

Watergrass is actually a general term that includes both jungle rice and barnyard grass. It is most common in flat fields where water accumulates after irrigation or rain.

Dr. Allen Wiese and other Texas A&M University scientists have grappled with the water grass problem since 1969, and have found that the best control is obtained with a pre-plant application of propazine followed by cultivation.

The propazine is most effective when applied to preformed beds and incorporated with a rolling cultivator just prior to preplant irrigation. The irrigation should be delayed until one month before planting.

The researchers also found that certain experimental herbicides applied with directed sprays offered some watergrass control, but the chemicals will need more testing before recommendations can be made.

A "red alert" is being sounded throughout the state as screwworms continue to assault livestock and other animals.

Weather conditions were favorable for heavy screwworms buildups last winter in northern Mexico as well as in parts of the Southwest. Some infestations, were also spread by transporting infested livestock last fall, and the insect pest spent the mild winter in new quarters. This spring overall conditions were "ripe" for a massive screwworm invasion.

More than 5,000 cases have been confirmed in Texas this spring, the earliest and heaviest outbreak in the history of the Screwworm Eradication Program.

Although sterile fly production at the Mission Lab is running at its peak -- 200 million a week -- treatment with these flies is not enough to stop the destructive, flesh-eating livestock pest. All livestock producers and owners of other animals (dogs, cats) are urged to follow certain precautions:

1. Carry out all approved preventive practices to help eliminate screwworms.
2. Inspect animals regularly and carefully and treat all wounds whether they are wormy or not.
3. Delay all surgery until cool weather this fall. Shearing, docking, castrating and dehorning only provide additional wounds for worm infestations. Studies show that almost 90 per cent of all worm samples come from calf navels and man-made wounds.
4. Spray animals with an approved product before shipping them. This is a preventive measure against spreading the infestation.
5. Be cautious of livestock shipments coming from infested areas. If buying such animals, be sure to check them thoroughly for wormy wounds.
6. Care should be taken not to move infested livestock across state lines. Infestations resulting from this practice may bring about a quarantine and the regulated movement of livestock.
7. As soon as a wormy wound is found, send a worm sample to the Screwworm Laboratory, Box 969, Mission, Texas 78572. If the case is positive, sterile flies will be dropped as soon as possible to further protect animals in the area.

Everyone must cooperate if the screwworm eradication program is to be effective. This means farmers, ranchers, pet owners, auction managers and others who work with or own animals.

The possibility of a vaccine or vaccines to control calf scours may soon be a reality. Scours, an intestinal ailment characterized by severe diarrhea, is a costly problem in the cattle industry as it causes high death losses in calves. Many infested calves do not die suffer retarded gains in weight and often weigh as much as 100 pounds less than normal at weaning time.

During the past two years, some 13,000 calves on 30 Nebraska ranches with a history of severe scouring were checked. Orally administered scour vaccines were given to pregnant cows 60 to 90 days before calving. Later research proved that only one vaccination was needed.

The vaccination program gave 75 per cent effective control. A herd wherein scour infection reached a 90 to 100 per cent incidence reported only 10 per cent after the treatment.

Research in Nebraska is continuing to find an agent, or agents, affecting the 25 per cent of the herds in which the scour vaccine failed to perform.

The studies indicate that there will be two vaccines to help control scours. One will be given cows orally 60 to 90 days before calving to protect their calves against the scour-causing viruses which otherwise might be in the colostrum and milk. The other vaccine will be for the calves and be given orally 24 hours after birth.

Of Interest To THE WOMEN

Cook's Corner

Mrs. Kenny (Maise) Birkelbach made her teaching debut in Bovina in 1968 and taught two years before semi-retiring after the birth of their son, Phil. Kenny and Maise are natives of Littlefield, graduating from high school there in 1964. Both attended Texas Tech University at Lubbock where she received her BS degree in secondary education. Kenny left the university at the end of his third year to go into the family business at Littlefield.

Shortly after moving here in the summer of 1968, Kenny took over management of Birkelbach Machine and Pump. Maise taught junior high math two years and has served as a substitute teacher since Phil was born.

Kenny's main hobby is sports, said Maise, and they enjoy fishing trips whenever they get the opportunity. Maise enjoys sewing, but says she doesn't get to as much as she would like to since Phil's birth. "The baby thinks he ought to be operating the machine, too, and it just doesn't work too well," she said.

The Birkelbach's attend St. John's Lutheran Church at Littlefield.

Maise said she would like to re-enter the teaching field someday, but will have to wait a while longer as they expect the second addition to their family in October.

She is sharing three of her favorite recipes with our readers this week, including one for strudel, which is Kenny's favorite.

STRUDEL

- 2 c. flour
 - 1 c. margarine
 - 1/2 pint sour cream or half and half
 - canned apple pie filling
 - silvered almonds (optional)
 - 1 c. powdered sugar
- Cut margarine into flour; stir in sour cream. Refrigerate overnight. Cut in half; roll each half out to a 16x10 inch rectangle. Fill center with canned pie filling. Fold over sides and ends. Bake in 350 degree oven 50 minutes.
- About 15 minutes before taking out of oven, sprinkle with silvered almonds. Combine powdered sugar and 3 T. water to make icing. When cool, drizzle with icing. Any flavor pie filling may be used. Yields 10 servings.

- CHICKEN SPAGHETTI
- 2/3 c. grated sharp cheese
 - 4 c. broth (use mushroom liquid, broth and tomato juice)
 - 1/2 c. margarine
 - 1/2 c. flour
 - 2 c. chopped, lightly drained tomatoes

2 c. sliced mushrooms
4 small onions, grated
10 c. cooked spaghetti
7 c. cut, cooked chicken

While spaghetti is cooking, make sauce of margarine and flour, adding liquids slowly and using very low heat. When sauce is thickened, add onions, mushroom slices and chopped tomatoes.

Arrange layers of cooked spaghetti and chicken. Moisten each layer with sauce. Top with generous sprinkling of cheese.

Store in refrigerator until 1 1/2 hours before food is to be served. Remove to warm room. Put in cold oven, turn to 350 degrees and cook until hot. Makes about 30 servings. Maise says it is a good recipe for large gatherings. However, she usually halves the recipe for her family.

SUPER DOGS

- 1 c. flour
 - 1/4 c. corn meal
 - 1 t. salt
 - 1 t. dry mustard
 - 2 t. baking powder
 - 3 T. sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 1/2 c. milk
- Mix all ingredients together. Dip weiners in batter and fry in deep fat (350 degrees) until golden brown. Makes about 8.

THE BIKINI ELURA WIG

A wig so light you barely know it's there. And so easy to wear all you have to do is stand under it. The cap is merely criss-crossed ribbon to let the air circulate through. Bare fashions look best with this small head-style, with its face-flattering lines. Monsanto's modacrylic fiber is perfect for sultry days, too. It doesn't frizz in humidity. It blows naturally in the breezes and then falls back into place naturally. And it doesn't change color even in brightest sunlight. Wig shown by Kenneth.

Mrs. Caldwell Observes 88th Birthday Friday

Mrs. J. R. Caldwell will be 88 years old Saturday. An open house will honor her Friday in her home at 705 Fourth Street. The honoree is a pioneer resident of Bovina, moving here 47 years ago. Her husband, the late J. R. Caldwell, was a farmer in the Oklahoma Lane Community.

Pre-Nuptial Courtesy Fetes Miss Clements

Miss Denise Clements, bride-elect of Joe Jones, was honored recently with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Earl Whitten. The honoree was presented a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. J. T. Jones, mother of the prospective groom, and Mrs. Jimmie Clements, mother of the bride-elect, were presented corsages of pink roses. "I guess it's okay to trust in prayer to get you by exams, but suppose the Lord hasn't had second year Algebra?"

INFLUENTIAL POWER

Many years ago I attended a gospel meeting in our city. For several days the truth went unheeded. Near the close of the meeting a young man pushed his way to the aisle and courageously walked down to obey the gospel. Of those present, he was considered least likely to take that action. The impact of that young man's decision was felt over the entire audience. Since his obedience this man has influenced over eleven hundred souls to make the same trip. The influence of this young man who obeyed will live after him (Rev. 14:13). He, perhaps, is unaware, but that is the way of influence. It sways lives one way or another. You and I do that every day. Few things work so quietly, yet so effectively, as influential power.

My life shall touch a dozen lives
Before this day is done;
Leave countless marks for good or ill
'Ere set the evening sun.

So, this the wish I always wish,
The prayer I ever pray:
Lord, may my life help other lives
It touches by the way.

At Home In Farmer County

By Jana Pronger
County HD Agent

When unloading the grocery bag, do you make a mental note of how long the hamburger will safely keep or how many days before the bread will become stale?

A Rutgers University study has examined all major retail food categories and has made recommendations on the length of time products retain their quality and the types of date labeling that assure the consumer of good quality foods.

From one shopping trip to the next, groceries are exposed to varying sanitary conditions and temperatures before being purchased. Even the techniques used in processing and packaging food items can affect their preservation.

Potato chips become stale and rancid within a week in one type of wrapper yet will still be fresh four weeks later in another type.

The Rutgers study recommends that ground beef packages show the date and time of wrapping. The meat should be sold within 24 hours of wrapping and should bear labels that advise consumers to either cook or freeze within 24 hours of purchase.

According to the report, bread and milk should be tagged with the date of display. This practice should help the retailer in stock rotation and the consumer in home use.

The study also suggests that expiration dates (indicating the end of the product's freshness of usable life) and retail pull dates (showing the last day the store may sell the item) be omitted.

Temperatures at which the food is stored, sanitary conditions under which it was prepared and shipped plus other factors are more important in determining shelf life than age alone. For example, milk processed under borderline sanitary conditions may be 'fresher' but not up to the quality of older milk prepared under higher standards.

Ice cream, to retain top quality, should be kept at a temperature of minus ten degrees and never above zero, the study indicated. Disease-bearing organisms do not grow at temperatures below 32 degrees but deterioration will occur in loss of texture and crystal development in just a few days when ice cream is stored at too-high storage temperatures.

While the findings of this study haven't been formally endorsed by the USDA, the department has published the information as part of its examination of possible standards for readable code dating of perishable foods in the future. No doubt, readable code dating of perishable foods is on the way.

DID YOU KNOW?
The tiny peanut proved its worth a half century ago when the boll weevil ate its way through southern cotton fields.

Peanuts were a popular food in the south long before the rest of the country knew of their goodness. They moved north of the Mason-Dixon line with the Barnum and Bailey Circus about 1870 and became firmly fixed in the public mind as a necessary snack food for ball games and other sporting events.

Because of their popularity and nutritional elements, peanuts today are used in many packaged food products ranging from breakfast cereals to desserts. The greatest single use for peanuts continued to be in peanut butter -- which Americans consume at the rate of half-a-billion pounds a year.

Peanuts have just claims for outstanding nutritional fame. They're concentrated foods, high in energy value. Peanuts and peanut products provide an excellent source of protein. One-fourth cup of chopped peanuts contains 14 per cent of our daily need for protein. Although the protein of peanuts isn't a complete protein (as that of meat, eggs and milk), they serve as an excellent low-cost meat substitute when used in a mixed diet.

Four tablespoons of peanut butter yields about the same amount of protein as two ounces of boneless cooked lean meat. Peanuts also abound in minerals and B vitamins. Peanut butter provides one of the most nutritionally valuable foods available today. Half of all the peanuts grown for food in the United States are converted to peanut butter.

Peanut butter is made in different grinds. The types usually found on the market shelves are regular grind (fine to medium) and coarse or crunchy grind. Some peanut butters are just ground peanuts plus salt; others contain stabilizers to retard oil separation. For a more smooth texture, use a fine grind; for an interesting "broken nut" effect, use a coarse grind.

Peanuts stay crisp and retain their flavor best when stored in a tightly closed container in the refrigerator. Peanut butter, too, keeps best in the refrigerator. However, peanut butter is difficult to spread when cold, so remove it from the refrigerator a short time before using to allow it to soften.

And why not try this interesting peanut recipe?

Stubble Burning Harmful To Land

Burning straw off stubble land harms the land as well as the environment, according to Leon Grissom, chairman of the Farmer County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The land becomes vulnerable to the blowing wind and the washing rains when its protective cover is burned off. Fertility goes up in smoke and has to be artificially replaced when stubble is burned. These are the obviously harmful effects on the land.

A few of the not-so-obvious effects act slower, but do as much harm. These affect the environment.

Nobody can deny a sandstorm is unpleasant. This unpleasantness is increased by burning residues. The burned residues increase the amount of silt washed across the roads which forms a driving hazard. Public roads are part of our environment. Even the smoke from the burning is unpleasant and dangerous to people's health and to drive through.

What is the best thing to do with the straw? Leave it on the soil surface and incorporate it into the top inch or two of the soil. This forms an insulation blanket on the soil and reduces the environmental hazards already mentioned, according to SCS officials.

For further information contact the Soil Conservation Service, Friona.

In Homemaking --

15 Girls Finish Course

Fifteen Bovina High School girls are participating in the yearly Summer Homemaking Workshop during the first two weeks of June.

Concluded this week, the girls have been involved in several projects connected with homemaking, including crafts, field trips, sewing and cleaning.

In addition to two weeks of instruction at the cottage, girls must complete a home experience which is any project related to the homemaking field.

The work will be supervised by the students' mothers, and one-half credit, the equivalent of a semester's work, will be earned.

Some of the activities the girls participated in included candle making, foil art, decoupage, embroidery and making curtains for the cottage. The group went to Amarillo Thursday to tour a soap and lotion factory. They visited the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum at Canyon on the trip home.

To be eligible for the summer program, girls must have completed one semester of homemaking.

Mrs. Janie Potts, homemaking teacher at Bovina High

'Cat' Burglars Hit Hawkins Home Tuesday

Burglars of an unusual variety struck at the Harold Hawkins home west of Bovina some time early Tuesday morning.

When Mrs. Hawkins went to the kitchen about 5 a.m. to prepare breakfast, she found two large cats on top of the cabinet gnawing on a ham.

Upon investigation, the Hawkins' discovered the cats had entered the house by tearing through the screen of the kitchen window, some six feet from the ground.

When discovered, the cats made a rapid exit through the same window.

Mrs. Hawkins reported it was "an eerie feeling, to say the least."

Little League, Pee Wees --

CFS, Blade Keep First Place Spots

The Bovina Blade Pee Wee team continued its domination of that league last week with two victories for a perfect 9-0 slate.

Custom Farm Services dropped two games, but held onto the lead in Little League by virtue of Big Nick - Horn Insurance dropping two games while winning only one.

In Tuesday night's games last week, Isaac's eked out a win over Chuck's, 3-2, in Pee Wee division with Big Nick - Horn Insurance taking a thriller from CFS in the battle of the leaders, 6-5.

Blade continued its winning ways Thursday night with a 12-5 win over Isaac's in Pee Wee division with Big Nick - Horn Insurance taking a thriller from CFS in the battle of the leaders, 6-5.

Blade continued its winning ways Thursday night with a 12-5 win over Isaac's in Pee Wee division with Big Nick - Horn Insurance taking a thriller from CFS in the battle of the leaders, 6-5.

Blade boys had to scramble Monday night to defeat a stubborn Chuck's team, 9-8, to retain their undefeated status, Bank-Lawlis handed Big Nick-Horn Insurance their second loss of the week by a 15-11 score.

With only six games remaining in the 1972 season, the Bovina Blade boys appear to have wrapped up the championship in the Pee Wee division. In Little League, it's still anyone's ballgame with the top three teams in the four-team league having a shot at the title.

The schedule for the next four game nights is as follows: Thursday: Sherrill - Bonds versus Isaac's at 6 p.m. on the small baseball diamond; and Bovina Gin-3-Way versus Custom Farm Services at 6 on the regular diamond;

Friday: Chuck's meets Blade at 6:30 p.m. and Big Nick-Horn Insurance meets Bank-Lawlis at 8 p.m.

Monday: Sherrill-Bonds tangles with Chuck's at 6:30 p.m.; and Bovina Gin-3-Way meets Big Nick-Horn Insurance at 8 p.m.

Tuesday: Isaac's versus Blade at 6 p.m. on the small diamond; and Bank-Lawlis versus CFS at 6 p.m. on the regular diamond.

4-H DRESS REVUE --- Mrs. Johnny Grant Mars of Friona is shown with the nine and 10-year-old 4-Hers who will be participating in the forthcoming county dress revue. Mrs. Mars instructed girls from Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro counties in the art of walking and turning on stage.

Nitcholas Named AD At McLean

Bill Nitcholas, former girls basketball and track coach at Bovina High School, has accepted a post as athletic director and head football and track coach at McLean.

Nitcholas resigned from the coaching staff at Bovina in 1970 to go to Booker High School where he was football and girls basketball and track coach.

A graduate of Sul Ross State at Alpine, Bovina was his first coaching position. He organized the first girls track team here.

McLean, a Class A school, has an enrollment of some 400 with 160 in high school.

Nitcholas and his wife, Lee, have one daughter, Stacy, and are expecting another child.

Storing all those tennis rackets, bowling shoes, hockey sticks, ice skates, fishing gear, etc. etc., can become a headache unless you get it all organized. Try mounting a large piece of pegboard inside a closet door. The hooks come in various shapes and sizes. Hang everything neatly on the pegboard and with a little paint and a small paintbrush, outline each item on the board, so that everyone will know exactly where to hang his gear.

Parmer County will hold their revue July 25 in Friona. The program last Wednesday consisted of a fashion show, refreshments and modeling training. The fashions were provided by a dress shop in Hereford and modeled by 4-H girls from Deaf Smith County.
