gabby doodle from noodle says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

In one of them Gurvernment pamphlets I got the other day it said the clocks in the U. S. National Bureau of Standards was varying up to a 50th of a second ever 24 hours. The way the item was wrote, it sounded sorter like a complaint. And I can understand how in Gurvernment circles in Washington, a 50th of a second ever 24 hours is very important. I'm expecting any day to see where the Congress has appropriated $150,000 to git them clocks fixed.

But this appropriation, of course, won't come till they've had a investigating committee fix responsibility fer the disaster.

I brung up this item at the country store Saturday night and most of the fellers was agreed the country would be better off if they'd throw away them clocks in Washington and git some bells.

Ed Doolittle recollected that his Grandpa never had a timepiece on the place. They'd go to work at sunup and quit at sundown, and when dinner come his Grandma would ring a big bell mounted on high polls out in the barnyard. Dinners always come, said Ed, when the sun was straight up-and-down. Ed allowed as how the sunup to sundown and bell system would be a big improvement in Washington.

Clem Webster figured the big dome they put on the Capitol building was probably put there in the first place fer a bell to call them Congressmen into session. He allowed as how the dome had to be put there fer some purpose and it had to be fer a bell. Clem is a great feller fer having a purpose fer ever-thing. Fer instant, you never catch Clem just whittling to be whittling. He's always whittling a gate latch, a gun rack, a jug-stopper or somepun he aims to use. But they is a lot of difference between Clem and them politicians in Washington. Between you and me, Mister Editor, I don't think we'll ever git them Congressmen on the sunup to sundown and bell system. The sooner they appropriate the money and git that 50th of a second corrected, the sooner they'll git on with the business at hand.

Zeke Grubb said the Congress would never vote $150,000 fer fixing clocks or anything else. Zeke says the Congress don't deal in nothing but even numbers. If a million dollars ain't quite enough fer somepun, they make it two million. Zeke claims Congress got this idea from doctors. You never see them fellers, says Ed, splitting a dollar. He predicts that it'll cost either $100,000 or $200,000 to git them clocks fixed.

Yours truly,
Gabby

Texas Trading Turkeys For Arizona Quail

Forty south Texas turkeys have been sent to Arizona for planting. In exchange, Texas will get a shipment of Gambel's quail. This is a trade made between the Texas Game and Fish Commission and the Arizona Game and Fish Commission, to increase the quantities of the species in the two states.

The turkeys were trapped on the King Ranch and moved to Midland by truck. There they were met by two planes from Arizona. They were released in the Nogales area.

When Texas receives its shipment of the Gambel's quail, they will be released in the Black Gap area, according to W. J. Cutbirth, Jr., assistant executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

At the present time, the Gambel's population along the Rio Grande Valley in West Texas is low. It is hoped through this exchange of wildlife to increase the population of this popular bird. Already the Black Gap has been stocked with Chukar from Nevada and California.

Big horn sheep from Arizona also have been placed on the Black Gap management area.

BADGER TALES

By RUTHIE CORDER

Merkel held the District Interscholastic League meet for literary events Saturday. Some Merkel students carrying off ribbons were:

Farris Neill — a first in number sense; Lola Loflin — a first in shorthand, with a grade of 99.3; Lester Dorton — a first in extemporaneous speaking.

(Someone named Ruthie won first in girl's extemporaneous speaking).

Lewis Pack — a second in declamation — (he has potential).

Betty Richardson — a third in girl's declamation; Elizabeth Tucker third in poetry reading; Don Williams — third in typing.

Although Merkel did good this year they are planning on winning all of the first places next year — even if some of us are graduating?

Basketball awards were finally presented to boys and girls teams last Monday. Freshman girls were wearing their new letter sweaters, sophomore and junior girls and boys had on jackets, and the senior girls were carrying blankets. — Now how can a girl carry a blanket to school? Oh well, they're all happy.

Carole McAninch, representing the Merkel F.H.A. had a darling picture in the Sunday edition of the Abilene Reporter. It seemed like all the boys clipped it and hung it up —

Can you believe that there won't be any school Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week? — for the students. Parents and teachers have to go however. It's Conference Day.

This week started the last six weeks of the school year. Some of the students are actually smiling now that the end is within sight—especially the seniors.

Walter G. He had suffered a heart attack early Tuesday morning at the railway station in that city where he was ticket agent and telegraph operator.

Everett Burleson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Burleson, left Saturday for Paul Spur, Ariz., where he will work with his father, Lois Burleson, on the ancho Sacatal, with show cattle.

Half a century in the practice of medicine was recorded last Sunday, April 6, by Dr. M. Armstrong, well known pioneer physician, and 35½ years of that time has been spent in the service of his fellow-men in Merkel, that since October, 1905.

One of Merkel's oldest landmarks, probably the oldest business building in town, surrendered to the march of progress this week when the frame structure belonging to the J. B. Bell estate and last occupied by the Fox Reeking Shop, west of the Front Street Grocery, was demolished.

The building formerly located at the corner where Ferrier's service station now stands, served as post office in the early days, which time Ed Vickers was postmaster. It was moved to make way for the rock building erected by the late C. M. Largent about a year ago.

Dr. J. B. Bell occupied the building office while practicing as a veterinarian, and it later be-

Farm Facts

Even with modern equipment and techniques, farmers put in a long workday in comparison with that of many of us. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service notes that the workday for farmers across the United States averages 10.6 hours during the month of June, and its length isn't changing much.

What's more, the operator puts in a longer day than his hired hand, on the average. The average workday for hired workers on farms in June totals 9.3 hours.

You probably might get an argument on this but the statistics reveal that, in June, farmers work longer hours in the North Central states than anywhere else—11.3 hours.

Wisconsin farm operators top the list, working 12.2 hours. Their counterparts in Florida and Nevada average 9.1 hours. The Florida farm hand knocks off after 8.4 hours, while the North Dakota Florida operators and hired workers put in an average of 10.6 hours in June—longest day of any.

The farmer's work day averages 10.6 hours.

The North Dakota farm hand works 7.9 hours in December and the Wisconsin operator works 10.6 hours. Florida operators and hired workers put in 7.4 and 7.6 hours, respectively.

VA Teacher Speaks To Local Gardeners

Chester Collinsworth, vocational agriculture teacher in Merkel High School, was guest speaker for the Merkel Garden Club horticulture workshop in the school library Thursday.

Collinsworth spoke on "Propagation of Plants." Through the use of an opaque projector, lecture and demonstration he taught the club members how to do shield, patch and square budding and to make whin and end grafts. For this they used native stock and improved scion. Collinsworth warned members to spray pecans as soon as eggs appear on new growth and repeat in 14 days.

Mrs. Jarrett Williams and Mrs. W. S. J. Brown identified plants and wild flowers.

Announcement was made of the Junior Garden Club meeting which will be held April 13 when demonstration on "Flower Arranging" will be given by Mrs. Dale Litton. Mrs. Robert Hicks and Mrs. Dent Gibson will be hostesses.

Following the program, Mrs. W. T. Sadler, president, reported on the District 8 spring meeting where the Merkel club won a blue ribbon and Sweepstakes Award with a grade of 99 per cent on their yearbook. Mrs. Mack Fisher, president-elect, was chairman of the project.

The next meeting will be May 4 when Mrs. Charles Griggs of Sweetwater will be guest speaker. Mrs. S. D. Gamble and Mrs. Herbert Patterson will be hostesses.

Farm Facts

The U. S. farmer is the most highly mechanized and most efficient farmer in the world. He owns $18.4 billion worth of machinery and motor vehicles.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Balance Sheet for Agriculture, 1960, value of machinery on farms has increased six-fold since 1940. It more than doubled from 1948 to 1960.

In 1959, gross expenditures for all farm machinery were $3 billion more than in 1958. Expenditures were up for tractors (15%) and other machinery (10%) as farmers continued the trend toward larger and more efficient units.

The value of machinery and motor vehicles on farms in 1960 was slightly more than $18 billion as compared with $4 billion in 1940. Tractors are valued at $503 million as compared with $3.4 billion; automobiles at $958 million as compared with $4 billion; trucks at $262 million as compared with $2.3 billion; and other farm machinery at $1.3 billion as compared with $8.7 billion.

Farmers own $18.4 billion worth of machinery and motor vehicles.

While there has been a large increase in total machinery and vehicles during these years, rising prices also have been partially accountable for the big jump in values.

VETERANS INFORMATION

Q — What are "day centers?" I've heard that the VA is operating some of them now.

A — The centers are one of the newer developments in psychiatric care. Patients, often those who have been long hospitalized for schizophrenia, spend their time in various therapeutic activities at the centers and return home at night. The centers are located at VA outpatient clinics, and volunteers from the community play an important part in helping with the activities.

Q — What are the eligibility requirements for education or training under the Korean GI Bill?

A — At least 90 days of active service, some of what must have been between June 27, 1950, and January 31, 1955; and, discharge or separation from service under conditions other than dishonorable.

Q — I am a Korean veteran and have found an error in my service record. Can the VA straighten this out for me?

A — No. The veteran should make written application directly to the service concerned — Army, Navy, Air Force or Coast Guard.

Q — By authorization of Public Law 382 and-or 724 the Federal government adds $6 a month to my civil service retirement check. In a year's time this $72 takes me over the $2700 limit to be eligible for a VA pension. Do I have to count that particular $6 a month as income?

A — No. The VA does not count as income that part of a pensioner's civil service retirement check which is a federal contribution for health and medical insurance.

flameless ELECTRIC COOKING

COOL as an April shower

Electric cooking is cool cooking because heat goes directly into the food, not out into your kitchen. And this direct contact of surface unit and utensil is possible only on an electric range.

That's why electric cooking is clean too. With no flaring flame, there's no dirt or soot to soil range surface, kitchen utensils, kitchen walls and curtains.

And with automatic electric controls, time and temperatures are exact. No guess work. Heats are measured for you — to assure precise cooking.

Ask your appliance dealer to show you the wide variety of new electric ranges that set the pace for tomorrow's better cooking.

...thrifty too
The average family, served by WTU, can cook a complete meal for less than 2¢ with modern flameless electricity and enjoy all the other advantages of an electric range.

Home Demonstration Notes
By LONETA ALLEN
Taylor County Home Demonstration Agent

Springtime brings an assortment of hungry insects that attack ornamental plants. Determining the kind and amount of insecticide to use on the different insects becomes a problem.

To answer these and other questions, extension entomologists of the A&M College of Texas have prepared a leaflet entitled, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants."

I find the leaflet most helpful because it defines the most common insect pests, describes the type of damage and gives directions for treatment, complete with dilution chart for mixing sprays.

Copies are available from my office.

In grandmother's day there were sulphur and molasses, sassafras tea, and "store bought" tonic to "tone up" the blood each spring. Today this is done the year around by including a variety of vegetables in the diet.

Green vegetables are important in the diet, mainly because of their vitamin A and C content, says Frances Reasonover, extension foods and nutrition specialist of the A&M College of Texas.

The intensity of the vegetable's green color and the part of the plant from which it comes are clues to its food value. In general, the greener the vegetable, the richer it is in minerals and vitamins. The dark green leaves may carry several times as much of some nutrients as green stalks.

The fresher the green vegetables, the better. Flavor and crispness, and perhaps some food value, too, are lost when vegetables wilt or are stored.

If vegetables must be held for two or three days before using, refrigerate them. Keep them moist in the vegetable crisper, covered container, or in a plastic bag. Be careful not to bruise leafy vegetables in storing. Store peas and beans in the pod, if possible to keep them fresh.

For best quality, cook green vegetables quickly. Use a cover on the pan to speed the process. Cook until the vegetable is tender but slightly crisp. Long cooking makes the vegetables limp and changes color and flavor and usually causes a loss in food value.

Planning meals a week in advance helps in buying, using leftovers, and in adding variety to meals, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. Balance each day's meal by including foods from each division in "FOOD FOR FITNESS." Get a copy from your local home demonstration agent or write the Agricultural Information Office.
