VOL X, NO. 28

WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

On a state-wide basis, Parmer County is still politically in the embryo stage. This is true for a variety of reasons. One of the most important reasons is probably the overall lack of political interest among Parmer citizens. Oh, yeah, we holler as loud as anybody and louder than most if the farm program doesn't just fit our individual needs, but there's a small amount of actual, participating political interest.

Those remarks are taking the county as a whole. The political hotbed of the county, strangely enough, isn't Bovina, Friona or Farwell. It's Lazbuddie.

Those folks on the eastern side of the county play the game of politics the way it was evidently meant to be played -- hard and rough.

They take an active interest in both the Democrat and Republican parties and support them with their time, energy and finances.

When there's a county-wide political meeting involving a state-wide political personality, you'll find, invariably, some fine Lazbuddie citizen in charge of affairs. Usually there'll be more than one. And as we said, it doesn't matter which side of the political fence the candidate is on, he'll have some strong supporters from Lazbuddie or he more than likely won't be in Parmer County.

We admire the community of Lazbuddie for its healthy attitude in regard to politics.

At these aforementioned county meetings, which are often as hot as hell somewhere other than Lazbuddie, you'll find other Parmer Countians playing lesser roles, but it appears to us that the largest amount of the important part of the leadership comes from the eastern side of the county.

If all of Parmer's communities had the political interest that Lazbuddie does, our county would be more important on the state political map, in spite of the fact that the population (and vote total) isn't as great as some others.

From our observations, it seems that the Lazbuddie voting precinct is fairly evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans and a hard fight is fought by both sides to see which will carry that particular ballot box in a general election.

In the county's three major towns, political arguments are held to a minimum because the business people are often afraid they will offend a favorite customer by expressing views. At Lazbuddie, we suspect, a man is better thought of for positioning himself on one side of the fence or the other so that all his acquaintances and neighbors will know whether he's "friend or foe" and therefore how to converse with him politically.

Lazbuddie's leadership of county politics could have come about by the fact that Bovina, Farwell and Friona have kept passing the burden and obligation of political responsibility back and forth like a hot potato until the strong-backed folks from the eastern side of the county fell heir to it and were more than glad to accept. At the same time they were willing to accept it, they were also probably wishing that they could count on more support, physically and financially, from other parts of the county. Up to now, though, they've had to work to get same and then it has been only half-hearted in too, too many cases.

Let us say again that we're proud of the political interest at Lazbuddie displayed by both Demos and Repubs.

This year is, if you haven't guessed it by now, an election one.

Bovina voters will get the jump on most other voters. They can sharpen their ballot marking pencils this Saturday and cast a vote in the $100,000 city bond election.

Community leaders have been somewhat disturbed in the past several days because there seems to be a lack of interest in the election. There hasn't

Deposits Here Show Increase

A good farming year in the area is reflected in bank deposits here as of December 31 as deposits surged over the $2 million mark.

Total deposits are up almost $200,000 over the same period a year ago. The total as of December 31 was $2,055,837.35. At the end of 1964, the total was $1,871,701.40. This is an increase of $184,136.95.

Loans were down slightly from the 1964 total of $1,316,639.39. Total loans at the end of 1965 were $1,208,659.78.

Total deposits two years ago at the end of 1963 -- were $1,845,820.23.

The bank official statement of condition at the close of business December 31 is scheduled to be published in next week's issue of The Blade.

Trustees Approve Car Plan

Members of the school board continued discussion of an expansion program for school facilities, academic and athletic, at a regular monthly meeting Monday night.

Board members also approved a plan whereby a new Ford automobile will be furnished the school for administrative use during the school year and for driver education purposes during the summer. Cost for the automobile is $40 per month. Superintendent Otis Spears will pay half this expense for personal use of the car.

The board agreed to begin legal action, through the school's attorney, John Aikin of Hereford, to have faulty tile replaced in the restrooms of the portions of the school building which were constructed last year.

Other official business conducted at the session was routine.

Kunselman Re-Elected Fire Chief

Pat Kunselman was re-elected to his second term as chief of Bovina Volunteer Fire Department at a recent re-organizational meeting.

Weldon Moody is assistant chief for '66. Herman Estes will serve as secretary-treasurer.

Department captains are James Taylor and Henry Spicer. Custodians are Dave Wines and R. L. Hopingardner. Cooks are Odie White and Larry Webb.

Farmers Info Meet Thursday

Tomorrow (Thursday) night at 7 is time set for the first in a series of agriculture information meetings for Parmer County farmers arranged by County Agent Joe VanZandt.

The meeting will be in Bovina Schools cafeteria.

Scheduled to appear on the program are James Valentine, area soil chemist; W. M. He, area irrigation specialist, and James Murphrey, area farm management specialist.

"These men will discuss fertilizers, fertilizer recommendations and new developments in the fertilizer industry," VanZandt points out.

Also, value of soil and plant food lost in water run-off and practical methods to reduce this will be discussed along with value and management of crop residues. Too, the management of fertilizer and water applications to obtain the highest net return from various crops will be discussed.

The county agent encourages both farmers and businessmen to attend the meeting.

A meeting for livestock producers, primarily on beef cattle developments, will be held in February. Meetings on herbicides, diseases and insects will be scheduled in February and March.

"By attending this series of meetings, a person can learn about recent developments and the latest recommended production practices which have been proven by research to be practical," VanZandt says.

Appreciation Night Set For Sheriff Lovelace

Parmer County friends of Sheriff Chas. Lovelace will honor the veteran law enforcement official with an Appreciation Night Thursday, January 27. Sheriff Lovelace, who will have served 20 years in the office when his present term expires in 1968, will be presented with an engraved watch in the Bovina School auditorium. A reception will follow in the school cafeteria. The program, to which everyone in the county as well as the sheriff's friends elsewhere are invited, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

"We think Sheriff Lovelace has done an outstanding job of heading our county law enforcement during his many years in office and we think it is fitting that we honor him for his fine work," says Herb Potts of Farwell, coordinator of the Appreciation Night program.

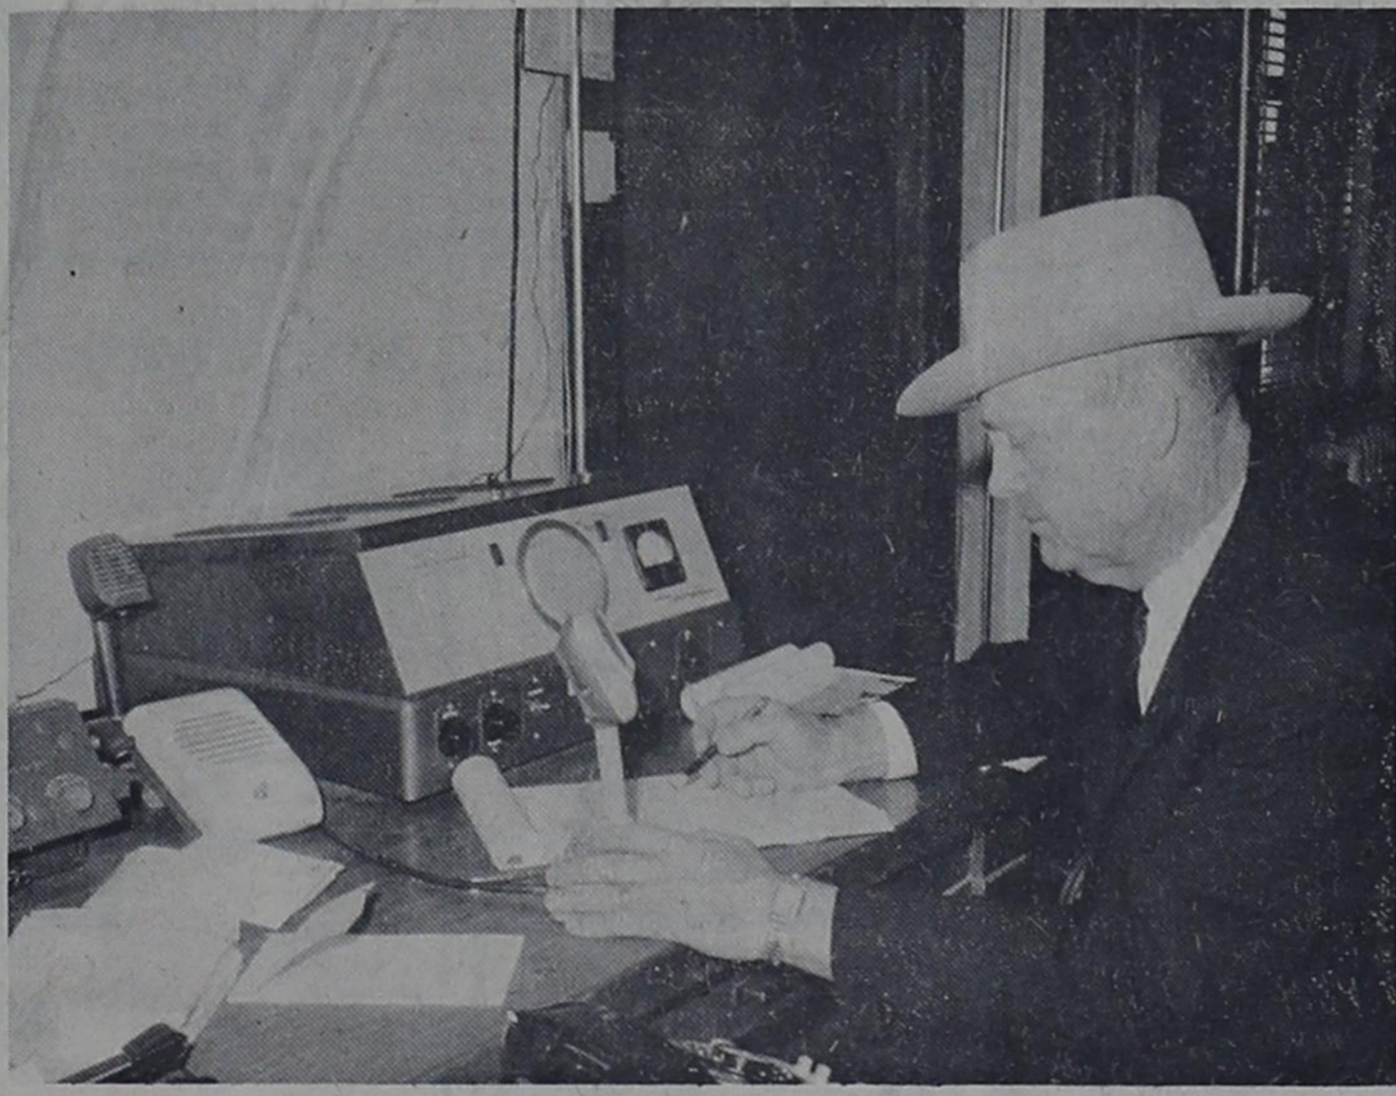

W. L. "Preach" Edelman of Friona will make the presentation to Lovelace.

Parmer Countians wishing to have a part in the Appreciation Night may contact either of the three banks in the county or various business places and individuals in all communities in the county.

Sheriff Lovelace, who is well respected in law enforcement circles in the area and by citizens of the county, was first elected to office in 1948 with his first term beginning January 1, 1949. Since that time, he has never had an opponent in his successful bids for reelection.

Lovelace moved to Parmer County with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lovelace, from Vernon in 1920 and has been a resident since that time.

He is married to the former Alice Guyer of Friona. They have three sons, Johnny, who is assistant football coach and head basketball coach at Spur High School, and Jerry and Leon, who are now attending Texas Tech on football scholarships as did Johnny.

NEW PRINCIPAL -- Jake Jacobs began his new duties as principal of Bovina High School this week. Jacobs came here from Tahoka where he was elementary principal and high school athletic director. He plans to move here with his wife and three daughters the latter part of this week.

Taxpayers Vote On 3 Issues

Bovina voters will decide Saturday on a $100,000 bond election which, if it carries, will provide water system improvements, more paved streets, and long-term financing for major city facilities and equipment.

The polls will be in American Legion Hall. They will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. L. M. Grissom will be election judge.

A majority of the bonds -- $60,000 -- will be of the water and sewer revenue type. This money will be used to provide additional water storage for the city and to improve the present water system in general. The bonds will be paid off with revenue from water and sewer services. Taxes will, in no way, be affected by this portion of the bond election.

The second portion of the three-part election will be for $20,000 in tax bonds to pay the city's portion of a proposed paving program. This money will be used only if and when it is needed, city officials point out, and the bonds won't be sold until the time when funds are to be used. Property owners will continue to pay most of the cost of paving, curbs and gutters around their property as has been the policy during previous paving programs.

The third question on the ballot will be for $20,000 in tax bonds, also. This money will be used to pay indebtedness on the new fire station, which was completed last year, the new fire truck and street sweeper. At present, these are financed with short-term loans which make for high monthly payments by the city -- approximately $700 per month. By voting the bond money for this purpose, the city will have a longer period of time to pay off the indebtedness and the monthly payments will be considerably less. This will put the city in a better condition financially, according to Mayor Boyd Gilreath.

The three issues will be voted on separately. There is no connection between the three. Any one or all may carry or be defeated without affect on the others.

Bob Estes, president of First State Bank of Bovina, is serving as bondsman for the city. He will handle the sale of the bonds if the election carries.

The city council expects no increase in taxes to be caused by issuing of the proposed bonds. The water improvement bonds will be paid back from water and sewer revenue and will in no way affect taxes, as previously pointed out.

Natural growth of the community is expected to be enough to retire the remaining $40,000 in bonds without a tax increase. The city's present tax rate is $1.15 per $100 valuation. The assessed tax value is 25 per cent of actual value. Compared to other cities in the area, this is considered low.

While all three questions on the ballot are considered important by the city council, the water improvement is considered the most pressing.

The town is in serious need of more water storage, Gilreath points out. The supply of water was dangerously low during a dry spell last summer, he says. The situation is expected to be worse this year unless additional storage is provided.

The proposed water system improvements are designed to provide an adequate water supply and distribution system until approximately 1970, according to Ralph Douglas of Muleshoe, city engineer. This is based on the "normal projected growth of the town and the minimum requirements necessary to which the citizens are entitled."

The city is presently being penalized by the state fire insurance commission because of deficiencies which exist in storage facilities and water main distribution system. The planned improvements could result in a lower fire insurance rate as well as providing a better water supply, Douglas points out.

In regard to the paving program, the city engineer explains, "Considerable interest has been evidenced by the citizens of Bovina for a paving program. This is particularly true in areas of recent development which did not exist when the last paving program was done in '62. Immediately after the last paving program and through the last few years, the council has had numerous requests from areas which were not included in the program of '62."

Plans call for residential streets to be paved to a width adequate for parking cars on each side with space remaining for two lanes of traffic.

Property owners within the areas of the street improvement program will share in the cost of the paving, curbs and gutters. Property owners may pay for their part of the paving in four installments -- 25 per cent when the program is completed and the remainder in three annual payments.

Absentee voting for the election continues through today (Wednesday). Absentee ballots may be obtained at the city hall.

Eligible to vote in the election are all taxpaying citizens of the city who are otherwise qualified voters. It is not necessary that taxpayers own real estate, but voters in the election must pay city taxes. A last year's poll tax is also necessary.

Begin Taking School Census

Annual census of school-age children in Bovina Independent School District begins Monday and will continue throughout this month, Superintendent Otis Spears announces.

Deadline to turn in census blanks is January 31.

All children in the school district who are six years old or older by September 1, 1966, and not more than 18 years of age by the same date must be included in the census report, Spears points out. He also states that the child should be counted even though he may not be in school and even though he or she may be married.

The total census is expected to reach more than 700 this year.

"We'll appreciate the help of all citizens of the district in seeing that we don't miss any school-age children," Spears says.

A census blank may be obtained at the superintendent's office at the school or at the school tax office.

The census is taken each year in January.

An advertisement in regard to the school census in this issue of The Blade explains it in more detail.

Q'back Club Meeting Set

Bovina Mustang Quarterback Club is to meet tomorrow (Thursday) night at 8, in high school studyhall. Purpose of the meeting is to plan the annual football banquet.

James Roach, Quarterback president, urges all members to be present at the planning session. He also states, "It will be much easier to work out all the banquet details if every member is at the meeting."

Vote 'For' 3 Times

The city bond election scheduled for Saturday needs a hearty endorsement from Bovina's citizenry.

City councilmen, with guidance from professional advisors, have presented to the people what they think are necessary steps for the growth of the town. We'd like to see not only the election carry, but for the vote to reflect a show of confidence by the people for their city government.

The first question on the ballot concerns $60,000 in water and sewer bonds for increased water storage and improvements to the present water system. The water system itself is in a position to repay these bonds. Taxes, as such, aren't involved here at all. All towns must have adequate water supplies as they continue to develop and grow and certainly Bovina is no exception.

It would be a shame for Bovina, in such a great irrigated area, to not have sufficient water just because the people didn't see fit to vote for the funds to make it available.

Vote "for."

The second question, if approved, will provide the city's portion of the money for another paving program. The value of paving to property owners is much more than what it cost in dollars and cents and the residents who now have paving will agree unanimously, we feel sure. Another paving program will aid greatly in making Bovina a better town by developing some areas which are now handicapped by not having paving.

Vote "for."

The third question is a more or less technical one in regard to city finances. If approved, it will put the city in a position to pay off present indebtedness on major facilities and equipment over a longer period of time. Thus, the monthly payments will be reduced and the rate of interest will, in all probability, be less.

Vote "for."

Reflections From The Blade

10 YEARS AGO . . . January 11, 1956

Bovina's coffee-selling businesses will give the current March of Dimes campaign a boost Saturday when they give their gross income from coffee on that day to the drive. The Arnholz Coffee Company will furnish the coffee to the businesses free. Local businesses participating are Bovina Cafe, Hiway Cafe, Bovina Drug and City Cafe.

Erith Hawkins led the Bovina Mustangs past Lahlart, 86-53, Tuesday night as the Mustangs bounced back to their pre-Saturday night form in a non-conference basketball game in Willford Gym. The Mustang B team lost the opening game of the night to the Lahlart B team by a close 39-42 count.

Bovina Fillies brought home the first place trophy from Farwell's Invitational Tournament played last weekend by defeating three strong opponents, Lazbuddie, Vega and Farwell.

SIX YEARS AGO . . . January 13, 1960

The long wrangle over keeping livestock in Bovina city limits may be nearing an end. City commissioners voted Wednesday to send the controversial topic to the city attorney. An ordinance dealing with livestock, pets and litter in the city will be passed after the attorney's advice has been received.

Building permit records, starting July 31 and ending December 31, show a construction total for the five-month period of $54,020. Construction during that period included four business houses, Mary Marr Dress Shop, Tommy's Western Wear, Suddereth Oil Co., and Lester's Butane Co., one home, an addition to Baptist parsonage, and new Church of Christ preacher's home.

An effort may soon be made to stock Parmer County with quail. This comes as a result of a meeting of individuals interested in game birds. The meeting was called to discuss the possibility of stocking the area with pheasants.

The second such accident in six months shredded a bag of outgoing mail Wednesday afternoon under the wheels of an eastbound train. Bovina's outgoing mail is hung on a device beside the tracks between the crossings. A metal arm reaches from the mail car and catches the bag as the train rushes by. In Wednesday's mishap, the bag caught on the arm and was carried past the North Street crossing before slipping under the train's wheels. Part of the mail pouch and some of the mail has not been found.

Sale of bonds for construction of a new $100,000-plus First Baptist Church building jumped off to a flying start early this week. As of Monday night, $53,500 worth of bonds had been sold. J. D. Kirkpatrick and Roy Whisler, co-chairmen, announce $85,000 worth of bonds will be sold.

Bovina has a proud record of approving bond elections which has been made down through progressive years.

We hope, and feel sure, that Saturday's election will keep the record intact.

Whittlin'--

been--much talk about it, we'll admit.

This is interpreted by us to mean that the people favor the bond election, understand it, figure it won't cost much if anything in increased taxes and is essential to the continued growth and progress of a growing and progressive community.

Form here, it appears that the voting turnout will be light, but that those who do go to the polls will favor the election by a large majority.

In spite of their seeming lack of interest in politics above the local level, Bovina citizens have invariably strongly supported bond elections down through the years, both for their city and their school.

There is no reason why this outstanding record won't be continued come Saturday. Is there?

Safety Guy Griffis played only three games for Texas Tech before being injured, yet returned punts far enough to pace the Red Raiders for the entire season and finish third in the Southwest Conference. He scampered 162 yards on 15 kicks by Kansas, Texas, and Texas A&M, an average of 10.8 per try. Donny Anderson averaged 12.8 yards a runback, but had only five for 64.

SENATOR
Ralph Yarborough's
Ralph Yarborough--

Dear Fellow Texan:

On Monday, January 10th, the second session of the 89th Congress convened in Washington, D.C., and began its work on both new and unfinished legislation.

As Congress re-convenes, one of the major bills up for consideration will be the Cold War GI Bill. The need for educational opportunities for these five million veterans grows stronger every day, as we see more young men being drafted, and more of our potential college students sacrificing their educational future to defend our country in uniform.

As the need for this GI Bill increases, so does the support for the GI Bill. After fighting for this Bill for seven years, I have seen the support for the GI Bill grow both from the people of this Nation, and from those in Congress. Last year the Senate passed the Cold War GI Bill by more than four to one, but it was not reported out of the House Veterans Affairs Committee.

We are hopeful that the Bill will be reported to the floor of the House of Representatives early in this session of Congress as Congressmen will have a chance to vote on this just measure, to give our veterans the chance in life that they deserve for placing their lives at stake for the cause of freedom.

During this session of Congress, I will be working to pass major conservation bills of mine. First, I hope that we can pass the bill to make Guadalupe Mountain Area, west of the Pecos river, and the highest mountain in Texas, a National Park. This unique and beautiful area has been recommended by President Johnson as an addition to our National Park system and has been given the approval of the National Park Service.

Second, I hope progress can be made in having a portion of the Big Thicket area in Southeast Texas, permanently preserved as an area where all Americans visit and see the wonderful plant, animal, and bird life unique to this area. The big, wild peach trees, magnolias, bay trees, pine, palmettos, spanish moss, deer, turkey, raccoons, alligators, wild cats, water and wading birds, make this area of swamp, sloughs and pine land a unique area.

My third conservation proposal is to have a national recreation area established in connection with the Amistad Dam on the Rio Grande, near Del Rio, Texas. This recreation area will be a major attraction for tourism, water sports and scenic beauty in Southwest Texas.

These three park projects are needed additions to our park, recreation and conservation system in Texas. Last year we were successful in having the Alibates Flint Quarries near Amarillo declared a National Monument, a Bill which I have worked on since 1963. Earlier, in 1962, we were successful in having Padre Island declared a National Seashore Area, and Fort Davis in the Davis Mountain a National Historic Park area. All of these projects are important for the development of Texas, the preservation of its unique areas, and the enjoyment of all Americans.

Another of my major objectives in this session of Congress is to see that the Health, Education, and Welfare programs of the Great Society which we enacted last year will not wither on the vine because of lack of appropriations. These programs, such as the two great education bills, Medicare, and the War on Poverty, are programs which we have fought for over a quarter of a century. Now that they are enacted, we should not allow them to fall by the wayside because of lack of funds. I will exert my every effort to see them carried forward as effective, needed programs, for the education, growth, and strength of this great country.

As we begin the new session of Congress, I would like to thank you, the people of Texas for the support which you gave me last year during a most productive session of Congress. I am looking forward to another productive year for Congress and the people of Texas.

Top State Awards for '65 Claimed by 4-H Members

A Coleman County lad who's had a peek behind the Iron Curtain and a poised young woman from Edcouch in Hidalgo County have won state 4-H public speaking honors.

Joe Pat Hemphill, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Hemphill of Coleman, won the boy's award with a talk on "A World Without 4-H," which recounted his 1964 summer trip to East Berlin, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Hemphill will receive a wrist watch from The Pure Oil Company.

Lynda Bowers, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bowers, spoke on "Citizenship—Our Heritage and Our Responsibility" to win the state contest for girls. She will receive a chest of silverware from Pure Oil, the program sponsor.

Andy Scott, 17, of Childress, won the 4-H Dog Care and Training award. He'll get a watch from the sponsor, Ralston Purina Company.

Miss Lewis

Scott

The 4-H'er with the best project in dairy foods was 16-year-old Joanna Lewis of Murchison. Carnation Company will give her a wrist watch.

Hemphill, born and raised on a ranch of more than 9,000 acres, had ample material for his many speeches on conservation and cattle. However, he also has spoken on "Democracy in Action" and read a dress revue script while Coleman County 4-H lovelies paraded their home-stitched fashions. Hemphill has been before TV cameras and on many radio shows.

In his "World Without 4-H" speech Hemphill characterized life in Czechoslovakia as dull and uninspiring. "Our trip was very short," said Hemphill, "but it was enough to convince us that Communism is not progress." Miss Bowers has given 24 speeches and appeared on radio and television. As president of her senior high school class she delivered the welcome address at graduation.

Public speaking, she says, has helped her gain poise and self-confidence. Miss Bowers attends Pan American College.

A profit of more than $1,000 over six years tells how seriously Andy Scott has taken the Chihuahua-raising business.

Scott, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Scott, chose dog care as his main 4-H project, he says, because "it is one suited to a city boy." (Actually, 22 per cent of the 2.5 million 4-H'ers come from urban homes.) In all, Scott has sold 97 Chihuahua pups and has given away 10.

Scott gave four pups to a deaf mute woman because he felt dog raising would make life more enjoyable for her and help her financially. He says, he himself, would never have started his dog project without financial aid from his parents.

Dairy foods expert, Joanna Lewis, says she is "thoroughly familiar with milk" because she has lived all her life on a dairy farm.

Miss Lewis has been an asset to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Lewis, by helping out with every dairy operation. She feeds calves, flushes lines, washes out the 700-gallon tank, gets cows from the pastures, and milks them.

In addition, she churns her own butter and makes cottage cheese and sour milk.

The awards were announced by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Payments Down For School Tax

Collections of school district taxes this week showed a decrease of $2,178,10 from the same date last year, according to Mrs. Pearl Dodson, tax assessor-collector.

Comparison to $117,069,23 this time a year ago. Because cotton and beans were harvested earlier this year than last due to the nice weather, Mrs. Dodson states that tax payments were expected to be up slightly by this date.

Total tax roll for the district for 1965 is $178,698. This is an increase of $2,698 over the previous year. The increase of 1965 is somewhat smaller than in previous years. In 1964 the increase was $35,000 over the year preceding.

Mrs. Dodson reminds persons who have not as yet paid their school taxes that they have through January 31 for payment without penalty.

Beginning in February the penalty will be one and one-half per cent of what is owed.

Stolen Truck Found

A three-ton grain truck owned by Charlie Owen which was stolen here the night of Saturday, January 1, was found in Amarillo Wednesday afternoon of last week.

The abandoned truck was located by Amarillo police near a grain elevator in that city. The '64 Ford truck was taken from Bovina Wheat Growers here sometime during the night of January 1. Law enforcement officials suspect that a hitchhiker on Highway 60 drove the truck to Amarillo. The vehicle had the keys in it when it was stolen.

The truck was not damaged, Owen reports.

THE WORLD OF PAPER

This year the world is expected to consume 105 million tons of paper and paperboard, more than three times the amount used prior to World War II, with demand expected to increase at about 5 per cent each year for many years.

Because of this potential growth in consumption, many developing and emerging nations of the world have established or are planning to install their own paper and paperboard facilities, reports the American Paper Institute. And American paper and paperboard companies have over the past few years joined with many foreign operations to build plants. In 1950, U.S. paper companies had $378,000,000 invested abroad in various manufacturing enterprises. Today, forty companies have invested about $1,100,000,000 in 39 countries.

As a matter of record, the U.S. paper industry was the first major industry to publicly support the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, which has as its objective the encouragement of freer trade among nations.

TIPS for the woman driver

Good Car Economy

As the member of the household most concerned with the daily budget, you'll be pleased to find out how you can save substantially on your car's upkeep. Good driving practices are essential in determining the life of your tires. Naturally you want them to last as long as possible and still be safe for driving. Tire treads wear out almost twice as fast at 70 mph as at 45 mph, so driving at reasonable speeds will give you more use out of your tires.

Always try to avoid striking sharp objects such as rocks, curbs, ridges in the pavement. Cuts or bruises on side-walls caused by this kind of abuse shorten your tire's life. Sudden starts and stops shave off its precious treads.

Never, never drive on a flat or a soft tire except to get the car off the roadway. To solve this unpredictable problem, you will do well to stock a Benzomatic Tire Inflator in your car trunk. By simply screwing the cylinder to a flat tire's valve you will inflate it and seal the puncture in 60 seconds. And then you can ride on it for 100 miles continuously in total confidence.

Did you know that the manner in which you drive affects fuel consumption? Well, it does. If you're a smooth, even driver you'll get the best mileage out of your car. Nervous stop-starters, low speed-high speed alternators, "fillets" are asking for fuel guzzling car habits. If you're going into the market, even for just a minute, turn off your engine. You might get delayed and at least you'll know that the car isn't wasting gasoline.

Learning to care for your car will allow you to reap a maximum return of your family's investment. And remember that car-wise as well as otherwise "A penny saved is a penny earned."

The How-To Corner

NEW HOME TOOL
Originally used by the logging industry for the rapid felling of trees, the chain saw has become one of the most useful tools for home owners. Today, there are over 2 million chain saw users with 1/2 million more being added each year. Here are tips from the Remington Chain Saw people on some practical uses.

The most popular home uses for the light, 12 pound model are: dead tree removal, tree pruning, fence post cutting, fire place wood cutting and splitting. The most practical chain saw for these jobs is the electric model.

Some home installations and building additions are made easier and faster with the new versatile chain saws. It should be used to cut through wall boards when installing heating ducts and also for cutting perfectly matched planks for beams and studs.

When the work is done and ice fishing is in order, use the gas operated chain saw to easily cut through thick pond ice. If the fish aren't biting a new hole can be cut in one minute.

SUPER MARKET Bovina

Methodists Hear Rev. Edwards

WSCS of Bovina Methodist Church heard Rev. W. LeCato Edwards at its general meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Refreshments of cookies, tea and coffee were served. Rev. Edwards also was guest speaker at a family night covered dish supper Tuesday. The supper was sponsored by Commission on Missions of which Mrs. Joe Fowler is chairman. Also at the Tuesday night meeting, Rev. Edwards furnished a film, "High in the Himalayans" for the small children to watch. During his visit in Bovina, Rev. Edwards also addressed those attending the Methodist Men's breakfast this morning (Wednesday).

His topics for the meetings were the timeless and mystic East speaking to our modern age and the Wesleys speaking to the Church of today. For the past seven years, Rev. and Mrs. Edwards have been in charge of the Old Rectory in Epworth, England. This is the original home of the Wesleys. Prior to their assignment in England the Edwards spent 34 years as missionaries in India. Edwards is a graduate of Birmingham University of England.

Why is it that all housewives have pet peeves? I guess I would have to say that mine is cleaning out the basement. Perhaps it's because I so thoroughly dislike doing it that it very seldom gets done. This makes it just that much worse, because the longer I let it go, the dirtier it gets, and the more of a mess it is to clean.

I suppose that one other reason I don't like this chore is because our house had been vacant for a year before our moving into it. One of the pipes had been removed to keep it from freezing. This left a three-inch hole in the basement wall at ground level. The first time I ever entered the basement I saw a snake. A mama had crawled through the hole and laid her eggs. Before the summer was over, we had killed six snakes in the basement. I guess this would make anyone have an aversion to entering such a place.

Even though the hole is now plugged up, there's still the problem of bugs. The water from my flower beds must draw these hard-shelled black creatures. Each time I sweep the basement I end up with a nice, crunchy black pile of these little devils.

I surely do wish there was some way of sealing a basement so that these hazards could be eliminated.

As if this weren't enough to make me dislike my semi-annual chore, the stairs are quite steep, and I have a horror of falling each time I descend them.

Oh, well, it's done now, if I can just persuade my husband to go down and carry out the trash which I left down there. So, there's not much that could draw me down there for the next six months.

That is, of course, unless we get to go on a vacation and I have to enter this dark domain to get our luggage. But, I assure you that I won't gripe about this. It will be well worth it just to go on vacation. I don't imagine I'd even complain about returning the luggage to its cubby hole.

There is one of my household duties which I really enjoy. I can for the most part take it or leave it, so far as cleaning, cooking, ironing, etc. But, I really enjoy sewing. Perhaps it's because it's not one of those "must do" things.

It's nothing unusual to find me sewing into the wee hours of the morning. We do have a house rule, however, that the sewing machine goes off at 10:30 p.m. Anything after that is strictly handwork.

Haven't had much time lately with Christmas, but hope to get at my sewing before many days pass.

Of Interest To THE WOMEN

Clothing Classes Planned In County

"Alteration of Patterns", is the subject to be taught in a series of Clothing classes, in February, according to Cricket B. Taylor, Extension Home Economist for Farmer County.

All homemakers throughout the County who are interested in sewing are eligible to attend. The classes will be held in Bovina, Rhea, Friona, and Lazbuddie.

Registration for these classes will be taken until January 25. Time of classes will be worked out depending on needs of groups.

Mrs. Bradshaw Hosts Quilters

Stitch and Chatter Quilting Club met in the home of Mrs. H. D. Bradshaw Thursday. The women quilted for Mrs. Bradshaw and had a covered dish luncheon. They also drew names for new secret pals during 1966.

Members present were Mrs. Oma Gunn, Mrs. Levi Johnson, Mrs. Amos Steelman, Mrs. Travis Lloyd, Mrs. Reagan Looney, Mrs. Jim Owens, Mrs. John Sikes, Mrs. Bob McMeans, Mrs. Caldwell and the hostess. Also, one guest was in attendance, Mrs. Betty Adams.

Parmerton HD Meets Friday

Proceeds will be used to redecorate the clubhouse.

German Club In Gober Home

Bovina High German Club met in the home of Lane Gober Monday night.

The group discussed plans for the Texas Association of German Students convention in Lubbock April 1 and 2. They will have an exhibit of culture and life in Germany.

Mrs. Lloyd Gober served refreshments of German dinner bread and hot spiced tea.

Present for the meeting were Connie Vaughn, Carolyn Wilkerson, Karen Beauchamp, Barbara Wilkerson, Karen Estes, Trudy Skjerve, Pam Webb, Patsy Cumpton, Beverly Pinner, Rex Cumpton, Randy Jones, Mike Grissom, Richard Carson, Larry Dendy and the host.

Please Guests with Turkey Tetrazzini

Broiled tomatoes and dill pickles would taste good with this satisfying main dish. And a pumpkin custard -- just the usual pumpkin pie filling baked in a large baking pan, and without a crust -- would be a fine dessert. This menu would cost only about 35¢ per serving, with coffee. It's a good meal for serving buffet-style at home or for a fund-raising supper at your church or club.

TURKEY TETRAZZINI

(Makes 24 servings)

- 1/3 cup salt
- 12 to 18 quarts (3 to 4 1/2 gallons) boiling water
- 3 pounds medium egg noodles
- 7 cups water
- 4 envelopes (1 1/2 ounces each) cream style chicken soup mix
- 2 cups milk
- 2 pounds sliced mushrooms or 2 cans (6 ounces each) sliced mushrooms*
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 12 cups (about 7 1/2 pounds) cooked turkey strips
- 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese

1. Add 1/3 cup salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. (You may cook noodles in one or more pots, according to sizes available. Use proportion of 4 to 6 quarts rapidly boiling water and about 2 tablespoons salt to each pound of noodles.)
2. Meanwhile, gradually stir 7 cups of water into soup mix in saucepan. Cook and stir until sauce comes to a boil. Simmer 2 minutes. Stir in milk; heat.
3. Cook mushrooms in 1/2 cup of the butter until tender; mix into sauce with turkey; heat.
4. Arrange noodles in 4 shallow 3-quart baking pans. Pour turkey sauce over noodles and mix together lightly; sprinkle with cheese; dot with remaining butter. Brown under broiler.

* Use mushroom liquid from canned mushrooms in place of part of the water.

C of C Workshop Termed Successful

"We had such a good turnout for our teacher workshop," states Don Stone, Bovina Church of Christ minister, "that we are already planning another one."

The recent workshop, for Bible teachers of classes for all ages, was attended by 150 people the first night and 120 the second.

Leaders of the workshop demonstrated handwork and special materials they use in their classes.

The workshop was a joint effort of Churches of Christ in Bovina, Lariat, Farwell and Lazbuddie.

Class leaders were chosen from these towns. From Bovina, Robert Read and Mrs. Levi

Johnson each taught a class. Other teachers included Mrs. Pete Mimms and Willie Hamblen from Lazbuddie, Kenneth Dye, Mrs. Kenneth Dye and Mrs. Carl White from Lariat; Paul Wilkinson and Gene Tomlinson from Farwell.

The next workshop is tentatively set at Farwell the later part of March.

Bible class teachers from seven towns, including Clovis, Farwell, Lariat, Bovina, Lazbuddie, Dimmitt and Muleshoe, were in attendance at the workshop.

SC Meets Thursday

NOTICE TO PARENTS Of School Age Children

The school census is being taken during the month of January this year. All children who are six years old on or before Sept. 1, 1966 but will not be 18 or older on or before that same date should be counted in this census. It is very important that all children six to 18 years be counted in this census. The child should be counted even though he may not be in school and even though he or she may be married.

If you, as a parent, have not received and filled out a school census blank on or before January 31 you are being overlooked and should do one of the following:

1. Phone the school office and ask for a census blank.
2. Call in person at the School Tax Office and get a census blank and fill it out. Remember, if your child will be six years old next September 1, he should be counted in the census now, even though he is not in school now. If he is six but not 18 or older next September 1 he should be counted now. All children from six to 18 should be counted. The six year olds who start next September to school are the ones most overlooked in the census. Failure to count them costs the school and taxpayers extra money. Please help us not to overlook anyone.

Don't Wait 'Till Feb. 1st. To Turn Your Blanks In - As That Will Be Too Late

Wanted A Demonstration Of Christianity

A great need that has always been evident in the relationship of Christians to the rest of the world around them, is a demonstration of what the Christian professes to believe. It is not enough that you agree with what your pastor has to say from the pulpit on Sunday morning for the non-Christian is not likely to hear him. What must be done if the Gospel is to penetrate the area where the non-Christian lives, must be done by the christian in the every day procession in public. The pulpit proclamation is good but those that we choose to call the public do not hear what the preacher says. It is strange that the Gospel which the early christian was so eager to share with everyone, is a subject little talked about and rarely demonstrated by the christian of today.

This is certainly what Jesus was talking about when he said, "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house, Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Matt. 5:14-16. My Christian friend, how well do you demonstrate the teachings of Christ? When you sit around the table for a cup of coffee with others do they know by the words you use and the actions you take that there is something to christianity after all? When you do business, do your business dealings reflect the christian attitude?

James says, "But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves." So you are a church member and you attend the services Sunday morning and HEAR but what do you DO from Monday to Saturday to demonstrate your profession?

At Home In Parmer County

By CRICKETER B. TAYLOR
County HD Agent

Do you know that all of Parmer County is rural? All towns with population of not more than 5,500 are in the category of a rural area. There is no better life than the rural life and perhaps that's why everyone around about us are always so happy.

CLOTHING NEWS
On the market is truly permanent press - no iron finish for ready-made clothing and fabrics. As a wise consumer, you should understand this new concept in wash and wear. Of course the care instruction must be followed if you expect them to come out of the dryer ready to put on. How does this differ from other Easy Care Finishes? It's sort of like our brown-and-serve rolls. Garments are oven cured, the permanent press finish locks in style details as well as flat fabric appearance, because it's set after garment is made.

There are always some things that we must give up in order to enjoy some desirable qualities. For instance alterations are not easily made in hems and other areas.

* Fiber content of permanent press finish include blends of cotton, rayon or acetate with polyester or nylon. Reason for this is that the curing process weakens cotton and rayon or acetate when used alone and do not wear well. Mixing with polyester fibers replaces this lost strength.

* There is more to be learned on use of these fabrics. That's why a program will be held for Parmer County homemakers for the month of April on "New Fabrics, Their Selection and Care". This will be for all women in the County. Specialist in this field and other resource people will be on the program, so watch for further announcement in papers.

ALTERATION OF PATTERNS - A workshop series will be held in the County for those who want help in the alteration of patterns. This is scheduled for the month of February. Workshops will be planned for two-day workshops of three to four hours each. Tentative plans are for Friona, Lazbuddie, Bovina and Rhea communities. Other communities may be planned, depending on interest in this workshop. Every homemaker interested in this program should register for the course. Call or write my office in the County Courthouse in Farwell, Box 608, Extension Service.

WEIGHT CONTROL - Another six week's workshop is planned for February. Some are already sending in registration for this program. Details of both the above programs will be announced later.

CHILDREN AND MONEY MANAGEMENT
Children are not born with ability to handle money--they learn from example and experience. Whether we realize it or not, our children absorb our basic attitudes and values toward money. We cannot expect wiser handling of money or sounder values than we ourselves are able to achieve.

Principles we want children to learn about money include:

HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL

NEW ATTENDANCE MARK SET AT SIX FLAGS OVER TEXAS

Six Flags Over Texas, nationally acclaimed historical theme amusement park located in Arlington midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, recorded 1,625,743 admissions through Sunday, October 10, topping the 1964 season attendance record of 1,622,566 visitors.

Another month and one-half remains on the Six Flags 1965 season with the Park operating on Saturdays and Sundays only until closing on November 28.

In announcing the new attendance record, Six Flags' founder Angus G. Wynne, Jr., president of Great Southwest Corporation, owner/operators of the popular tourist attraction, said "the success of Six Flags which has now shattered the previous season's attendance mark for the fourth consecutive year is a never ending source of gratification. It also is a challenging thing and one which we delight in accepting, for in order to maintain and increase Six Flags' popularity, we must put our best brains and talents to work each season for new ideas, rides, shows and attractions."

Six Flags, which opened in 1961, has now been visited by more than 6,500,000 people from every state in the Nation, and countless foreign countries.

Rouel Barron was re-elected president of the group. This will be Barron's third term to head the organization.

C. E. Trimble was named vice president, Dolph Moten was elected secretary-treasurer. James Roach was selected as ring steward for horse shows and Vernon Estes was put in charge of the concession stand at the arena.

Serving on the horse show trophy committee for '66 will be Robert Calaway, Al Kerby, Jesse Walling, and Owen Patton.

Delbert Garner and Moten were appointed horse show announcers.

Barron pointed out that dues of $10 per member are payable for '66 now. Statements for dues will be mailed to former members in the next few days.

Next regular meeting of the club has been scheduled for the second Monday night in March.

A new toy, devised by Play-School Research, teaches eye-hand coordination by rewarding the child with a ring of the bell each time she scores a direct hit on the wooden key below.

In The Car

A long automobile trip or a short shopping excursion can bring some problems to dog owners. Naturally there are many dogs that find the excitement of riding in a car a pleasure. But other dogs just don't like it and others get car sick.

Both conditions may be caused by static electricity and a static belt hung from the axle and touching the pavement has cured many dogs of car sickness.

If your dog suffers from motion sickness, consult your veterinarian. There are now new drugs that can calm excitable dogs and prevent motion sickness for as much as eight hours.

The dog experts at the Purina Pet Care Center in St. Louis emphasize that you should not permit your dog to hang his head out of the window. Bits of grit may be driven into his eyes. In any case, the dog may get nasal and eye passage inflammation just from the wind. Make Rover keep his place in the car or else just close the window most of the way.

Soil Service Gets Letter From Secretary

FOOTNOTES to fashion

The trend in home furnishings is towards the deepening shades of early fall. These are the colors that in nature are sharply defined during the spring and summer months, but seem to take on tones of surrounding colors in the lengthening shadows of autumn.

The result is a gold with traces of green or brown; a rust mottled with yellow; and the brilliance of spring green tempered with a fall bronze.

Indoors as well as out, these are the colors that are the easiest to live with all year long. Thanks to modern chemistry these shades can be brought inside the home in carpeting that is as practical as it is pleasing to the eye.

Technical advances in such man-made fibers as Herculon olefin now make it possible to duplicate the new mottled fall shades as well as the still popular sharper spring tones in easy to care for carpeting.

When these fibers were introduced in carpeting a few years ago color choices were limited to the standard blues, greens, golds and beiges. Because olefin fibers are inherently moisture- and dirt-resistant, pastel shades of these colors were added and gained quickly in popularity.

Pale greens, beiges and even white carpets were installed in such unlikely areas as school corridors, hospitals, busy restaurants and apartment building hallways to prove the indestructibility of these Herculon carpet fibers.

Today ingenious homemakers are expressing their delight in the unlimited color choice as well as the durability of these new was a letter from the Secretary of Agriculture to Leon L. Grissom, chairman of the board, commending the board for its progressive action in up dating the district program and plan of work, together with a photograph showing Freeman signing the memorandum of understanding with D. A. Williams, administrator for the soil conservation service, looking on.

Cunningham delivered to the board the following message from Williams. "I should like to convey my compliments to the members of the district governing body for their foresight and vision in broadening the concepts of conservation and rural areas development in their districts. Commend them for me for recognizing the new challenges and opportunities which lie ahead in this field. I pledge to them the full cooperation of the Soil Conservation Service in meeting these new challenges."

Patterns range from loop pile to high and low pile combinations, shock and harmonizing tweeds to lush cut pile that simulates more expensive velvet weaving techniques.

In addition to the perfectly blended fall colorings, today's homemaker can choose carpeting that duplicates nature's year 'round palette with bright reds, pale pinks and lavenders, midnight blues and even the grays and blacks of winter.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By JOE VANZANDT
County Agent

We are sure needing some moisture now for the wheat. Also, many farmers are finding their land extremely dry and hard as they try to begin land preparation for this year. This is especially true on cotton ground.

Watering does usually help make wheat more resistant to freeze damage. However, wheat can lose its cold resistance when we have some warm weather in the winter with adequate moisture in the ground. With warm weather the wheat plant starts to grow out of its dormant stage. Then if we get a real cold spell while it is growing some, we may get some freeze damage due to the sudden shock of adverse conditions.

VITAMIN A FOR CATTLE

Vitamin A plays a vital role in reproductive performance of mother cows and in growth of young animals. Research indicates vitamin A is more critical for heifers than older cows.

In a recent Culberson County test, 70 yearling heifers were bred to calve as two-year-olds. Thirty-five heifers were used as the control group and were given no supplemental vitamin A.

The other half were injected with two million units of vitamin A one month before the breeding season began and again two months later. Three weeks before calving they were given another two million units, for a total of six million units of supplemental vitamin A.

The vitamin A was injected so both groups of cattle could graze on the same pasture and to ensure accurate measurements of the dosage. However, cattle can be fed supplemental vitamin A in concentrates if desirable -- and it may be more economical.

Results of the test at calving time are as follows:
From the 35 heifers injected with vitamin A, one calf was lost at calving time and 23 heifers needed help having their calves.

In the group which got no supplemental vitamin A, seven calves died at calving. Two of the heifers also died at calving time and 28 heifers needed help calving.

Researchers are reluctant to draw definite conclusions from the limited information -- but indications are that the supplemental vitamin A played an important role in the better performance of the treated group.

The cattle in the test were on grass pasture, but it was dried out considerably from a prolonged drought period. This is when supplementary vitamin A usually pays off for cattlemen--during dry years.

In an earlier A&M test, on the Joe T. Lane ranch near Alpine, heifers given vitamin A calved an average of five days earlier than the heifers which got no supplemental vitamin A. The average adjusted weaning weights from the group given vitamin A was 23 pounds more than calves from untreated heifers. Again, researchers believe supplemental vitamin A could have been responsible for the higher weaning weights and earlier calving dates.

Although vitamin A deficiency is noticed more frequently in western counties where there is often a lack of green vegetation, it may occur in areas of higher rainfall when excessive nitrogen is applied as fertilizer. The excessive nitrogen may accumulate in plants and block the conversion of carotene to vitamin A in an animal. The result--vitamin A deficiency.

The dietary source of vitamin A is carotene, which comes from green vegetation. In dry years, or in dry regions, mother cows may be deprived of green vegetation for several months before the calf is born. This causes two conditions:

1. The vitamin A supply of the mother cow may be depleted, thus limiting her reproductive performance.
2. A limited supply of vitamin A in the newly born calf. This is made worse by the fact that there will be little vitamin A in the milk since the cow's supply is low. Doses of supplemental vitamin A seem to solve both these problems under normal circumstances, say A&M researchers.

Get better wheat crops and earn bigger profits. Topdress your wheat with Nipak 45 right now -- for greater yield and higher protein. Nipak 45 -- 45% nitrogen fertilizer from Urea--gives you one-third more nitrogen per pound than any other form of solid nitrogen fertilizer -- which enables you to handle less fertilizer and cover more ground in less time. Nipak 45 is uniformly prilled, too. It flows easily, won't cake, clog--or corrode your equipment. Nipak 45 dissolves in the soil moisture and moves quickly to the root zone where it stays put until your crops need it. So for more grow power, ask your local Nipak dealer about Nipak 45. THE FIRST PAPER MACHINE

A piece of machinery that revolutionized the papermaking industry was invented by Nicholas - Louis Robert, a Frenchman, the American Paper Institute observes. His idea? To form paper on an endless screen.

Robert's first efforts were unsuccessful but finally he secured a patent for a machine on September 9, 1798. It consisted of a movable wire screen (mounted over a vat) upon which was thrown liquid pulp. The fibers forming on the screen travelled through rollers and were then cut into lengths and hung out to dry.

Later, Henry and Sealy Fourdrinier, London stationers, spent 60,000 pounds ($168,000) on the construction of a machine similar to that designed by Robert. Strangely enough, neither Robert or the Fourdrinier Brothers made much money on the development or manufacture of the first papermaking machine.

Today, one type of modern paper machine, costing from $10 to $50 million, incorporates many of the basic principles conceived in the 18th Century. It is called a Fourdrinier.

SKI TIPS

FOR SKIERS—Skiing can be a lot of fun, but like other lively sports, it has its ups and downs and spills. On snowy slopes, skiers use muscles rarely used in other activities. To ease these muscular aches and pains, pack along new Ben-Gay lotion, the first painkiller in lotion form. Apply it like a hand lotion for quick penetrating relief. Pack the lotion with other beauty aids in the new travel bag that attaches to ski boots.

City's Tax Collections $12,000 +

City taxes for 1965 paid to date are $12,045.48.

This figure is down from the same period last year when $12,623.02 had been paid, according to Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, city secretary.

Collections of city taxes were a little less than 50 per cent complete at the first of this week.

Total tax roll for the city is up slightly over last year. Tax roll for 1965 is $24,139.61, as compared with $22,797.98 in 1964.

Mrs. Martin says that people seem to be a little slower this year in paying their taxes than they were last year.

She also reminded residents that they have through January 31 to make payment without penalty. Penalty of one and one half per cent per month will begin February 1.

EATING IN RESTAURANTS

"I never know what I want in a restaurant!"

"I always get too much or too little in a cafeteria."

"There isn't enough choice on the menu."

"Everybody else eats a meal while I play with a salad."

"Restaurant meals are all the same!"

Is that the way you feel about eating in a restaurant? I don't mean going out to a good restaurant for a nice dinner with friends or family. That's a party. I mean trying to eat all or most of your meals in a restaurant because you have no time to cook at home, or have no home to cook in?

Nutrition At A Price

How can you be sure of getting a nutritious diet at a price you can afford to pay? It may take a little doing, but it can be done.

To begin with, learn to distinguish between good restaurants and poor ones. The good ones are clean, attractive, with varied menus and friendly service. It's a pleasure to eat there, especially as you become acquainted with the personnel. If you can find a pleasant person, or a number of persons, to eat with you some time, it helps to break the monotony, and tends toward better and more leisurely eating.

Same principles apply

The main difference between home and restaurant eating is that when you eat out you select your food ready cooked in the restaurant. The same principles apply. You can, and should, get your quota of each of the four food groups, just as you do at home — meats, fish and poultry or cheese, or eggs; the dairy group of milk and its products; the vegetable and fruit groups; and the enriched-flour-cereal-and bakery-goods group.

More Variety Than Home

The restaurant gives you a wider variety than you can have at home, and also allows every member of the party to have his own preferred foods, which he can't do at home. And there are no dishes to wash.

If you eat regularly in restaurants, try different ones from time to time, since restaurant chefs are just like home cooks — they tend to cook along the same lines more or less.

If you're a homemaker, cooking three meals a day, you should welcome the invitation when somebody says, "Let's eat out."
