WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Last week's paper had one of those kinds of headlines on page one that newspaper people constantly guard against. But even with that constant guard such things sometimes slip through and don't become noticed until after the paper has long since been printed.

We didn't notice this one until it was pointed out to us and the same was true with everyone else here who works on the paper. It wasn't too bad, though, depending on how you look at it, it said:

Two Officers Attend School On Narcotics
The story told it like it was, though, even if the headline was misleading. It said that Marshal Ronald Mitchell and Deputy Henry Minter attended a narcotics school in Hereford.

The misuse of words can slip up on you pretty easily. Back in Dick Hapke's days as editor of The State Line Tribune over at Farwell some 10 years or so ago, he did an outstanding job of modernistic-type make-up. But he came up with a banner headline one week which proclaimed: School Needs To Be Aired Tonight

That paper was also long gone in the mists when some wise guy pointed out the potential double meaning in the headline.

We wrote a story a couple or three years ago concerning a forthcoming Aggie Muster. The original copy said something about Texas Aggies and their wives in Parmer County

Fortunately, we got that changed before it appeared in print.

Mention of The Tribune and Texas A&M brings to mind some astute comments which appeared in that fine old publication a couple of weeks ago. In his Purely Personal column, Publisher - Editor John Getz, who is our good Republican friend (or is it our good friend who is a Republican or a good Republican who is our friend) made these comments:

"TEXAS A&M LEADS THE SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE. Big headlines that we are proud to banner. This time we are not talking about sports but about campus sanity. At the recent Parent's Day activities held at College Station, Aggie student body president Gerald Geistweidt said, 'While other student bodies are clamoring for so-called 'peace' through riots, strikes and protests, we at Texas A&M are keeping the peace. Texas A&M and its student body is and will continue to be a staunch bastion of sanity, maturity and pride. While other campuses are plagued with discontent and violence, it is comforting to know that at least one university has kept its head above the mob and its sights centered on education. While other student bodies are fighting against their administration for doubtful ends, we at A&M are fighting along side our administration for mutual goals.'

"Certainly these solid words are a comfort to folks conditioned to hear nothing but balderdash and revolution coming from college campuses. We do not have the figures, but upon reflection it seems that good old A&M, while the recipient of many a joke, has turned out to be the educational and social rock of the conference. Hereafter, let's not tell AGGIE jokes, but instead, make fun of the 'Crazies' on the UT or other campuses. Instead of, 'did you hear about the Aggie who--', let's say, 'did you hear about the nutty UT professor who--' "Nothing destroys promiscuity like humor and/or ridicule."

Thank you, Colleague Getz, for those kind comments.

Now that school is out, there'll be a full slate of boys' baseball games unreel'd 'most every night at the local lighted diamond and across the street to the east where some of the Peewee games will be played.

This action is scheduled to continue for the next six weeks or so and will make for a lot of fun for the participants and spectators alike.

From the crowds we've noticed that have already been on hand for the few senior division games which have been played up to now, people here don't need invitations to go to ball-games. So, we'll let this serve just as a reminder that the games are being played--- five nights a week. They take off only on Wednesday and Sunday nights, according to the schedule we read. Admittedly, now, last week's schedule was a little light because of graduation exercises, but now the leagues, three of them, are operating on

HAPPY OCCASION?? --- Seniors of the Class of 1970 lined up for the last time Friday night to enter Bovina Schools auditorium for commencement exercises. Although glee had dominated class activities during the waning weeks of the spring semester, it was a solemn moment as seniors realized it was their last scheduled event.

Friday Night --

Thirty-Two Seniors Get BHS Diplomas

The Bovina High Senior Class of 1970, numbering 32, marched across the stage of Bovina Schools auditorium and received diplomas Friday night. Presenting the achievements of completing four years of high school were Lawrence Jamerison, president of the school board, and L. F. Jacobs, superintendent.

Steven Wiseman, valedictorian, in his address, said the most difficult part of graduation is saying good-bye. He bid farewell to the school in behalf of his fellow students.

Wiseman expressed appreciation to the school board for the time and effort they have given to make the seniors' education possible; to the administration and faculty for their guidance by handing the students a torch for growth; to fellow students left behind; and to the seniors who "will go our separate ways, but always joined in hearts and spirit."

He told the group, "Let us still find time to learn."

The valedictorian of the class is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Wiseman.

Salutatorian Joe Don Stevens expressed appreciation to those attending, saying "it gives us assurance of your good wishes --- for our success means much." He said the friendship of so many is an inspiration to the class.

Mrs. Freda Finley --

Third Street Crossing Claims Area Woman

A pickup-Santa Fe freight train collision at the Third Street crossing in Bovina Thursday morning claimed the life of Mrs. Freda Finley, 70, long-time resident of this area. She was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident, which occurred about 8:45 a.m. Mrs. Finley was the only occupant in the vehicle.

Funeral services were held in Texico First Baptist Church at 3 p.m. Friday with Rev. John Summers, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Bovina Cemetery under direction of Claborn Funeral Home in Friona.

Highway Patrolman Don Samuels of Hereford said Mrs. Finley was traveling south on Third Street when her pickup was hit by a west-bound Santa Fe freight train.

The conductor, R. G. Watkins of Amarillo, said Mrs. Finley apparently did not see the blinking signal lights or the approaching train. The engine hit her vehicle as she attempted to cross the tracks. Santa Fe agent in Bovina, Dean Hastings, noted that Mrs. Finley was facing the sun as she approached the track, which could have prevented her seeing the signal lights.

The freight train was moving within the 40-mile per hour speed limit set for trains moving through Bovina since no gates have been installed at either the Third Street or FM 1731 crossings.

The pickup was carried about 100 to 150 feet from point of impact. Eye-witnesses said Mrs. Finley was thrown into the air and landed on a corner of the pickup.

This is the first fatality on Santa Fe tracks in Bovina since two Lubbock men were killed at the FM 1731 crossing Dec. 21, 1966.

Following the 1966 accident, Santa Fe officials agreed to reduce speeds of non-stop trains moving through Bovina until gates were installed. Because installation of gates has not been accomplished, speed limit has remained the same.

Mrs. Finley was a native of St. Joseph, Mo. She came to this area in 1906, then moved to Kansas for a few years. She returned to Parmer County in 1926 and had resided here since

Thursday Night --

Eighth Grade Receives Diplomas At Ceremony

Diplomas were presented members of the eighth grade class in graduation ceremonies held Thursday night in Bovina Schools auditorium.

The presentations, made by Jim Noyes, junior high principal, and Mrs. Malsie Birkelbach, class sponsor, followed an address given by Roy Donaldson, physical education instructor.

Some Close Memorial Day

Bovina will observe Memorial Day this Saturday when several offices plan to be closed.

The City Hall, First State Bank of Bovina and U. S. Post Office will be closed that day. Several business institutions also plan to close.

However, grocery stores will be open for convenience of residents here and some farm-related businesses have not made a decision as yet. The latter depends on the need of area farmers.

Legion Post --

Auction Set Thursday Eve

Tomorrow (Thursday) night the American Legion Post in Bovina is sponsoring a consignment auction.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., auctioneers will sell items brought to the American Legion Hall. Serving as auctioneers will be Houston Bartlett and Larry Potts.

Anyone wishing to place items in the auction may bring them to the Legion Hall before it begins at 7:30 p.m. Those who prefer may have items picked up by calling Elton Venable, Tom Bonds, Pat Kunselman or Ed Isaac.

A 25 per cent commission will be charged on items sold in the auction.

Processional and recessional were played by Charles Turner, school counselor.

Rhonda Rhodes gave the valedictory address and Christie Trimble the salutatory address. The invocation was given by Terri Willard and the benediction by Heidi Corn.

"Join the Crowd or Stand Alone" was the topic of Donaldson's speech. He cited a study on teenagers conducted at Purdue University when it was found teenagers want to be liked, want to be accepted, want to be loved and want to know what the future holds.

Using the first two for his speech, Donaldson said it is always easier to do things wrong than right -- to pass the buck than to admit one is wrong.

He challenged the young people to control their language. Donaldson said he always concludes that a person who uses strong language either wants to impress someone or has a limited vocabulary.

"The average teenager is afraid of being laughed at," Donaldson said, "so many times he joins the crowd." He pointed out that no one does something

At Open House --

Crowd Sees New Feedlot

Approximately 1,000 people attended open house festivities at Bovina Feeders, Inc. Sunday afternoon.

The day marked the official opening of the new Parmer

County cattle feeding business and the entire plant was inspected by the visitors.

Hostesses for the event were wives of the stockholders, who provided refreshments.

Bovina Feeders, Inc. is located four and one-half miles east of Oklahoma Lane crossroads on FM Road 145.

Those who were not acquainted with the new wet-grain feeding method were shown the process of storing the wet grain in pits and of mixing it in rations in the new mixing plant. Capacity for feeding 15,000 head of cattle has been completed. This is expected to be expanded to 20,000 this fall.

Redge Priest, manager of Bovina Feeders, Inc., said the turn-out of interested persons was gratifying, both to the staff and the stockholders.

FM Roads To Receive Repair Soon

Work will start about June 1 on a stretch of farm to market roads that begin at Friona and end at the southern border of Parmer County, says a member of Texas Highway Department in Bovina.

Roads will be sealed and graveled from a point at U. S. 60 in Friona, west to 10-mile road, then south through Bovina on FM 1731 and continuing on that road to the county line about a mile and one-half south of US 70-84.

Gravel has already been spotted along the roads to be repaired, says Alfred Mills. After other preliminary work, actual sealing and graveling should begin about June 1. It is not expected to take long to complete the job since it is begun, Mills says.

Purpose of the repair work is to seal the cracks and give the roads a good surface.

United Methodist --

Church School Begins June 1

Vacation Church School will be held at United Methodist Church from June 1-5, Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Leon Ware is director of the Church School this summer and has announced a list of teachers.

Mrs. Oakley Stevenson and Miss Nancy Fowler will teach the Kindergarten group; Mrs. Earl Whitten, Elementary I and II; Mrs. Dot Christian and Mrs. Darrell Read, Elementary III and IV; Mrs. J. B. Fowler and Mrs. Scott Gober, Elementary V and VI. Several girls will also assist the teachers. Refreshments will be furnished each morning by mem-

lems today is to 'quit' when the going gets tough. That's the reason for divorce, the reason for changing jobs, etc. Donaldson pointed out it takes more courage to try harder.

In conclusion he gave the class three questions to answer before making a decision: 1. Is it something you would want to keep secret from others? 2. Can you pray about it honestly? 3. Is it physically, mentally or spiritually harmful?

He told the class they should remember this test during their most glorious years --- "your teenage years."

Miss Rhodes, in her valedictory address, reminded the class they will soon be in their first year in high school. "We should remember some ideas to prepare for our future."

Among those ideas which she enlarged upon were to be pleasant, to be enthusiastic. "If you can't be a leader, be a good follower, but always be ready to do what needs to be done."

"Think positively and abide by the rules," she continued. "We'll always have rules to follow throughout our lives, the rules of our employers, the laws of our country, and the laws of God."

"Be respectful. Have a goal. Our goals are being met everyday. Our next goal will be our high school diplomas." Have faith. "Love people, love beauty, love God."

In the salutatory address, Miss Trimble said that to make high school and the class' future successful, "Know yourself, keep your horizons wide."

"We must always risk failure," she said. "If we try for something a little higher, we will risk failure." But she pointed out that nothing better can be obtained without taking a risk.

"Find your true beliefs," she said, "and cut away false things."

She said the students must have the courage to trust -- not only one another, but others about them.

"Remember these necessities of life" and she promised their high school years will be more rewarding.

Escorts for the class were Joe Steelman and Sue Monk. Ushers included Jimmy Lance, Rush Looney, Bruce Mast and Tina Isaac.

Members of the eighth grade class walked across the stage to receive their diplomas from Noyes as Mrs. Birkelbach called their names.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS AS HEARD BY HEARD

Enough's Enough
It seems inevitable, that eventually the people of the United States will raise more of a clamor than they are presently voicing over the conduct of American foreign affairs.

In fact, it is quite possible that the people will demand an end to any foreign affairs, as the situation becomes more and more ridiculous.

Congressman H. R. Gross of Iowa, perhaps best stated the situation recently. He says "The United Nations never ceases to harp on the subject of minorities and in espousing the theory of "one-man, one-vote." Late last year the UN General Assembly's Trusteeship Committee voted independence for seven little territories, including Pitcairn Island with a population of 90, Antigua, population 61,664, Dominica, 66,501, Grenada 91,967, Nevis Anquilla 59,476, St. Lucia 110,142, and St. Vincent 88,451.

"Each of these" he continues, "including Pitcairn Island with its 90 persons, will have a vote in the UN equal to that of the United States with its more than 200,000,000 population. Through these votes and many others similar to them, U.S. taxpayers will be told how much they must cough up in support of the nefarious United Nations and its agencies, as well as when and how to dance to all its other tunes.

"If the connivers in the U.N." he continued, "really believed in 'one-man, one-vote' they would have long since taken action to either increase the one vote of the United States or decrease these small countries to a mere fraction of a vote. For far too many years has Uncle Sam been played for a sucker in the United Nations and the American people had better begin to realize it."

So far, the Senate has kept the U.S. from signing some of the treaties proposed by the UN, and thus have delayed the danger involved.

It is not generally known, but under the United States Constitution the provisions of a treaty over-ride any law in this land, Federal, state, or local, even the Core Constitution.

Thus, for example, if a UN Treaty provided for censorship of what news shall be printed, the American guarantee of the free press would go out the window. The Pitcairn Island delegation to the UN would probably vote for such a measure, as undoubtedly there is no newspaper to serve the 90 people on the island.

In addition, the UN can vote measures which would reach even further into the pocket of every American.

It is most interesting that Pitcairn Island figures in all this, as the island was prominent in the Mutiny on the Bounty. Apparently part of this heritage has a lasting impact. They still believe in the bounty part of it, if they can collect that bounty from the American taxpayers.

RADIATION EXPERIMENTS NOW POSSIBLE IN SCHOOL

It was two high school students who first discovered the possibility of creating "skin banks" for burn victims—and now their work has led to a full-scale investigation by top scientists.

The breakthrough happened because the students—like their professional counterparts who are studying radiation—had been fortunate enough to conduct practical experiments and not just read about radiation in science class.

Focal point of such experiments is the Gammator 50, a machine which demonstrates the effects of gamma rays (a type of electromagnetic radiation of great penetrating power) on cells, seeds, fruit flies, laboratory animals organic materials, plastics and other substances. With total safety, students using the machine have begun to understand the importance of the peaceful uses of radiation.

Gamma irradiation influences to some degree almost every living thing and most materials. Each object reacts differently to varying doses. Too much radiation (in the case of living tissues and organisms) has a lethal effect. Just the right amount can stimulate the growth of seeds, inhibit seed growth so they will store longer, pasteurize foods, preserve meats definitely, produce genetic change and accomplish many other important tasks.

installed in a number of high schools. It is useful in studying the life sciences, as well as chemistry, physics, art and even home economics, according to Milton Packin, president of the Radiation Machinery Corporation of Parsippany, New Jersey, makers of the machine. The firm provides information, free for the asking, to teachers about experiments which can be conducted with it.

The Gammator 50 has received license approval by the Atomic Energy Commission for unrestricted laboratory areas in high schools... the only unit to be approved for high schools in the world. Lead shielding covers the radioactive source and tests are conducted in a small chamber rotated to the rear of the unit. Moreover, nothing irradiated with gamma rays becomes radioactive itself.

Nucleus for future atomic age experiments by students, the Gammator 50 weighs almost a ton and stands about five feet high. Cost—which has been often raised by civic groups as well as the schools themselves—is $3,875.

"Considerable work has been done in the past on the damaging effects of radiation, but too little has been done about the beneficial effects," relates Mr. Packin. "The Gammator 50 makes it easy for high school students to study the applications of the peaceful uses of radiation."

MRS. BILLY SMITH

Recipes that are short, but good, are the ones that appeal to Mrs. Billy Smith.

"It's not that I don't like to cook," she says. "I can't seem to find the time for complicated ones."

Most of her time is taken by her three children, twin daughters Arlene and Darlene, who will be seven in August, and son, Kevin, who is nearly three.

Born in Coleman, Mrs. Smith moved to Bovina with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Estes, in 1948. She attended school here all of her school life, graduating from high school in 1960.

Suezy attended Brentley-Draughton's Business School in Fort Worth after graduation and worked for American Life Insurance Company in that city.

She married Billy Smith, a Farwell graduate, in September, 1951. Billy entered the Air Force in March of 1962 and while waiting for him to be assigned a more-or-less permanent location, she worked in Friona for Associated Growers.

She later joined him in Wichita Falls where they lived four years. She was employed in the planning office of City of Wichita Falls.

They returned to Bovina in 1965 and Smith returned to Wilson Super Market as market manager. He has worked a total of eight years, including two years before entering the Air Force.

The family claims First Baptist Church as their church home and both are teachers in the Sunday School department.

Mrs. Smith teaches Intermediate girls class and Primary Sunbeams, while Billy teaches Intermediate boys.

This week's cook says her hobby is visiting, although working with children probably takes top preference. She also enjoys playing the piano. While in school here, she was a music student of Mrs. Margaret Caldwell. "Now that I'm older," Mrs. Smith says, "I really appreciate Mrs. Caldwell insisting I practice."

Mrs. Smith was pianist at the Baptist mission here for two and one-half years. She still enjoys playing during her spare time.

"I also sew a lot," she says, explaining that it is from necessity rather than pleasure. At the top of her list of recipes is one that she warns cannot be eaten, "but people who work with children or have them might enjoy it."

Scoopin' By Pat Jacobs

New York City's demonstration last week --- 150,000 strong---supporting the Administration's position in Vietnam and Cambodia --- was accomplished without bringing in a single outsider.

Wonder what the GI of World War II would have done with Jane Fonda? It's never been a secret what might have happened if the GI's had discovered the identity of Tokyo Rose.

Have been hearing about petitions in Clovis, Lubbock and other area towns being sent to Washington in support of Uncle Sam.

It seems some of the country is deciding, regardless of which party is in office, the USA is of uppermost concern. Somebody had better tell Congress before we're sold out for good.

Announcement was also made last week that the big Viet Cong headquarters has been found in Cambodia --- but is beyond the 21-mile limit for American troops.

Now ain't that something? For goodness sakes, the means of guaranteeing death to American boys, not to mention South Vietnamese, must be protected at all costs. Otherwise, certain Senators might squeal.

But the women have their own battle to fight, and in comparison, what an important one it is, too. That's the one to determine the length of skirts for next fall.

The newest fashion, the midi-skirt, is not taking the country by storm. Some retail merchants say they're buying the longer ones for next fall. Others will stick with the minis.

Unless the drastic change takes over the mounds of American women more than it has to date, we'll make our prediction that most adult females will wear them where they've been the past few years --- in the vicinity of the knees. And the younger women? There's not much telling.

Don't forget the American Legion Auction Thursday night. It's a worthy cause --- not to mention the opportunity of getting rid of excess baggage around the homesteads of Bovina. Besides, you might luck out -- and buy something.

"God gives man a free will, then sends you fellows along to take all the fun out of it!"

WHO IS A PRACTICAL MAN

A man said to me yesterday, "I don't take much interest in the church or in religion. It's all too intangible and indefinite. I want something solid that I can see and feel. These are the things that interest me. You see, I am a practical man and haven't much use for religion."

Before the scientists exploded the first atom bomb, they made exhaustive experiments to make sure that they did not touch off a chain reaction that would end the existence of everything. The pollution problem at the present time is almost suffocating the whole human race. Sin is fast ruining our nation and way of life.

It appears that tangible, material things are not so permanent and indestructible after all. Man can destroy his world at any time. What then would be the practical value of cars, homes, and investments?

The really permanent things in this universe are the spiritual values of beauty, goodness, truthfulness, kindness, generosity and love. When man builds his world around drink, sex, luxurious living, power and pomp, these will perish with the using and when one's physical powers decline, they leave nothing but ashes and regrets. A man without spiritual values soon begins to realize that those who sow to the flesh, reap nothing but extinction. Who then is the practical man? One who gives his life to fleeting material things or spiritual values that last forever.

Works On Air Pollution

Finding One Part In A Million

At Home In Parmer County

By Janice Miller
County HD Agent

Today's senior citizens have seen many innovations in appliances, food, and fabrics to simplify every household task in the home today. Yet, recent research has shown that homemakers spend as much time at all homemaking tasks as did the "modern homemaker of 1920." Minnie Bell, Extension specialist for aging at Texas A&M University, reports that in 1920 full-time homemakers averaged about 47 hours each week for all homemaking tasks. These include food preparation and dishwashing; shopping; care of the family, house and clothing; and management responsibilities.

PLANT-RIPENED PINEAPPLE

For very good reason you generally feel confident your family has the best when you bring home freshly gathered and locally grown produce displayed at nearby roadstands. Tropical fruits, however, are sometimes best when served from cans.

Pineapple, for instance, as a juice or sliced dessert, is of comparatively high quality when it has been allowed to fully ripen on the plant. As the result, 90 percent of total production is canned.

With only two other ingredients, canned pineapple juice makes a refreshing tropical drink to serve.

Neighborhood Center Seeks Coordinator

A coordinator will be employed in the near future for Bovina Neighborhood Center, to replace Lorenzo Granado, who is moving to Hereford.

Applications are now being accepted for the position, according to Mrs. Pearl Cervantez, Neighborhood Center aide in Bovina.

A committee appointed by the advisory board will screen the applications.

An advertisement appears in this issue of The Blade, which gives full details on requirements.

Mrs. James Ball of that city. Bishop Lawrence M. DeFalco will be there for the occasion. Mass will be held at 10:30 a.m. and the dedication will follow. No confirmation will be during Mass on that day.

Open house will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. when the public is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

At a recent meeting of members of St. Ann's and St. Teresa's Alter Society, reports were made on both church councils, according to Mrs. Ben Rejino.

Mrs. Leo Ruzicka and Mrs. Ben Mesman will offer the gifts on June 14 at St. Ann's Church.

Decision was made that no meetings will be held during June, July and August, but a called meeting will be held if necessary.

Oakley and Stephen Stevenson and Edwin Lide were also on the two-day trip that netted the group 115 crappie in addition to the "big one."

FIRST CONTEST --- Boys entering Bovina's first Pitch, Hit and Throw Contest and men helping with the event converged on the baseball park here Saturday. First and second place winners, with their plaques and jackets, are kneeling.

Pitch, Hit, Throw --

4 Winners Advance To District Contest

Four Bovina baseball players, ranging from age nine through 12, won the right to participate in the District Pitch, Hit and Throw contest at 1 p.m. June 6 in Amarillo Memorial Park.

The event, sponsored by Phillips 66 Dealers of America, was held here for the first time Saturday. Local sponsor was Charles Oil Co.

"We're pleased with the group of youngsters that participated in our first baseball contest here," said Harry J. Charles, Bovina Phillips 66 dealer. He expects that each year the contest will become a bigger event.

First and second place winners in each of the four age groups include David Merrell, first, and Don Cox, second, nine-year-olds; Bruce Fillpot, first, and Broox Mast, second, 10-year-olds; Greg Corbin, first, George Isaac, second (in a playoff with Elezor Robledo), 11-year-olds; Dennis Willard, first, Duane Mitchell, second, 12-year-olds.

First place winners in each group received a plaque with names engraved, a warm-up jacket and a winner's patch. Second place winners received a warm-up jacket.

The first place winners will compete in the district event at Amarillo June 6 with other area boys who won their town's contest.

Winners at district will progress to the division level and finally to the national level to be held at the Major League All-Star game July 14.

Charles said about 20 boys participated in the contest here. Also sponsoring the contest with Charles Oil Co. was Northside Phillips 66.

Participants were given points in each of three events, pitching, hitting and throwing. The ones with the most total points were declared winners.

Class of 1970 --

Seniors Reveal Future Plans

Most members of the Senior Class of 1970 are making plans to attend college, says Charles Turner, Bovina school counselor.

At least 27 of them have asked for transcripts to be sent to colleges and universities. Five of the seniors are undecided concerning their future.

South Plains Junior College in Levelland is claiming the largest number of Bovina seniors for next year. Nine have expressed intention to attend that school with one other planning to enroll the following year.

Seven expect to attend Texas Tech, four West Texas State, two the University of Texas and four, various others.

Making plans to attend PJC are Royce Grissom, Kelly Jamerson, Jan Gromowsky, Candy Wilson, Wilton Cox, Stephen Sherrill, Donald Pesch, Robert Fowler and Gary Sides. Carrol Foster expects to enroll the following year. Turner says most of these students chose that school because of a smaller campus.

Designated to go to Texas Tech are Pamela Grissom, Stuart McMeans, Denise Clements, Bruce Caldwell, Doris Corn, Phil Sorley and Nancy Mitchell. One of those said South Plains is his second choice.

At West Texas State University will be Betty Kesler, Jackie Hall, Joe Don Stevens and Suzanne Wilson.

Mike Gee and Randy Barrett are making plans to attend University of Texas.

Steve Wiseman expresses desire to attend Texas A&M; Karen Bell, Eastern New Mexico University; Jo Plerson, Clarendon Junior College of Texas Women's University; and Sherry Haney, TWU.

Five are undecided as to what they will do next year, Turner says, Richard Holloway, Paulina Sierra, Billy Kesler, Cindy Crump and Vickie Kunselman.

NO FIRE --- Lights flashed and horns honked, but it was no fire Friday morning as the fire truck and other vehicles traveled through downtown Bovina. It was a parade, announcing Vacation Bible School at First Baptist Church, which began this week.

THINK BIG

Why not start the new fishing season by deciding that this is the year to catch a fish big enough to make the record books?

Almost all state conservation departments record large fish taken from a state's waters. Eligible species include almost every fish in the United States, and how you catch the fish isn't important as long as it was by a legal sport fishing method.

How do you go about finding and catching a trophy fish? Well, the angling authorities at Mercury outboards suggest that there are proven techniques for locating big fish, methods followed by expert anglers.

An important first step is to decide which record you want to break. Study information about your state's present record catches, and decide which fish you intend to pursue. Then concentrate all your efforts toward catching that kind of fish. Read all available material about your quarry. Visit state fishery biologists and learn what they know about your fish, and where the best angling might be found.

Next, narrow the number of places you intend to fish to several promising bodies of water. Limit all fishing to those places which are the most likely spots for big fish. Study each lake or stream keeping in mind the things you've learned from prior reading and discussion.

As for fishing methods, try everything! Record-breaking fish from one mid-west state last year were taken by a number of techniques including lures, live bait, fly rods and bait casting equipment.

Of course, be familiar with your state's requirements for having a fish checked for possible entry in the record book. One precaution for the boys at Mercury: don't clean the fish until its weight has been verified.
