Concerning the mem, "My Grandmother," which appeared in this column last week, I have come up with some background information. The poem is about Mrs. Ethel Brown, grandmother of 18 grandchildren, two step grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren and 5 step great-grandchildren. She has been visiting in Merkel with her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Pack who is herself grandmother of 18. Mrs. Brown has returned to her home in Toler.

Newspapers and newspaper people live with deadlines. We have () meet them in order to get a paper to our readers weekly Of course, our paper is only as good as the news and advertising it it. In order that we may best serve you and produce the best possible newspaper, I am asking that you have news items and Edvertising into our office by 3 p.m. on Tuesdays. This wil' enable our staff to properly edit, layout, and compile news and advertising.

Seems like summer is officially here when school is out every year and school ended in Merkel May 23. For the next several weeks the children will be in the neighborhoods making kid-like noise and soaking up the sunshine that they missed while in the dissroom. Swimming, playing, daytime TV, and getting .to stay up later at night fills the time of the children; but by the end of summer Mom's nerves are frayed and that first of school looks like Eutopia. Good luck to all the kids and moms for the summer. I hope it is a safe and happy time for each of you.

I was recently invited to attend a luncheon honoring Mrs. 4-H Round Up at Texas A&M Lens Lou Dunagin who is retiring from the teaching profession. University June 2-4, Allfirst I would like to pass along a tribute to her that was read at the and second place winners in loway and Tonya Moore, dauluncheon. It was written by Mrs. Barnett.

I know it's end of school seventy-five, And you're busy as bees in a hive;

But listen, my friends, lend me an ear... I want to tell you why we're here.

We've stuffed ourselves with food so fine; We'll go to sleep if we recline.

So perk up new and give attention To the purpose of this here convention.

We've gathered here to pay tribute

Just in case you haven't guessed, It's Lena Lou... one of the best.

She'll surely be missed when the school bell rings, But time rushes by, as if on wings.

And next spring, when school lets out, She'll have no reason to sing and shout.

For you see, my dear, you're on permanent vacation ... With plenty of time for recreation.

You've given elevation to our dear school... But to recall the past you'd be a fool.

It's a rich endowment you leave behind,

For you've been training body, spirit, and mind.

Yes, dear Lou, it's been time well spent; By your efforts, the twig was bent.

Next year, when we herd kids down the hall, You'll be somewhere having a ball.

It's been such fun with you around: It's good to know that greener pastures you've found

As we come to the end of this tribute, It's Lena Lou we give a salute.

the open market between a buyer and a seller; however, since only a small percentage of land is placed on the market, it is necessary to estimate the value of the land for taxation. Location, productivity and underlying advantages are the factors that gauge the value of the land and property. For tax purposes, appraisers consider four general uses of land which are business, indistrial, residential and rural.

The appraisal of property throughout the Merkel Independent School District is still in progress.

The dissension among the board members was concerning difference in proposed valuation of oil property and farm lands and also the catagorization of farm land in similar categories when the productivity of the lands was not nearly the same.

Discussion of further action will be at the next meeting.
