Between you and me

By SARAH ECKOLS

Let us stop and consider statistics for a moment. Do you want to be one? Colonel Wilson E. Spear, director of the Department of Public Safety estimates that traffic accidents in Texas will claim 54 lives over the July 4th holiday weekend. This reporter would find it a very sad duty next week to write your obituary for publication in this newspaper.

When the 55 mph speed limit was first instigated we all seemed to slow down and accidents declined. Last year during a 102-hour 4th of July holiday, 46 persons were killed in traffic mishaps in Texas. The expected number this year is 25 per cent over that total.

The DPS will have all available officers on duty and they will be especially watchful for drinking drivers, speeders and reckless drivers. The news media will cooperate with the DPS in informing the public and focusing public attention on where and why fatal accidents are occurring during the holiday.

I don't think we can say it any better than the Texas highway slogan, "Drive Friendly."

It is interesting to note that half of 1975 is over. How many New Year's resolutions did you make this year? How many of them did you keep? You still have half of the year in which to accomplish the things that you said you would. Six months is a long time and a great deal can be done when one is looking forward, but looking back six months passed so fast and it is easy to say, "I meant to do that, but just didn't."

I just learned that we will have some special Bicentennial circulating coins...the half dollar, quarter, and dollar are scheduled for release before the end of the year.

Beginning July 7, the Federal Reserve System will issue the first of the Bicentennial coins. The Mint sponsored a national competition to select the new designs for these historical coins. Soon you can flip a quarter and if it comes up tails, you'll see a colonial drummer. Independence Hall will greet you on the half dollar and the Liberty Bell and moon on the dollar.

According to Mary Brooks, director of the U. S. Mint, the date 1776-1976 will appear on the face of these new coins. The Kennedy-Independence Hall half dollar will be the first to arrive at the local banks. Before the end of the year, the Federal Reserve System will have had the time to supply the nation's commercial banks with the newly redesigned quarter and dollar.

Tye Principal Attends National Convention

Completes Training

Captain Jerry D. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cramer Reynolds, Route 1, Merkel, completed the advanced chaplain course at the Army Chaplain School at Ft. Wadsworth, N.Y., recently.

The course is designed to develop skills in pastoral activities, management and military operations.

Highlighting the convention will be a critical issues conference, a film festival dramatizing "Educational Neglect," strategy seminars on the economic crisis as it affects educators and a July 4 appearance of entertainer Danny Kaye.

President Ford has been invited to address the convention, but it is not known at this time whether the chief executive plans to do so.

On Honor Roll at TSTI

The following students have made the Vice-President's Honor Roll of Texas State Technical Institute, Rolling Plains Campus, Sweetwater.

Terry Reed of Merkel enrolled in the Auto Body Repairman Program and Sesario Acuna of Trent enrolled in the Automotive Mechanics Program.

In order for a student to make the Vice-President's Honor Roll, he must maintain a 3.5 grade point average. The Vice-President of Texas State Technical Institute is Dr. Jack Tompkins. The General Manager of the Rolling Plains Campus is Mr. D. A. Pevehouse.

Nguyen Minh Tan Family Asks Only Friendship

Judge and Mrs. Lewis Millet are sponsors for a Vietnamese family that is soon to arrive in Merkel. Nguyen (Win) Minh Tan (Tun) arrived at the Abilene Airport Wednesday evening and was greeted by dignitaries from Dyess AFB, Judge Millet and his family, Father Diab, and Father Richmond who is succeeding Father Diabas Priest of the Merkel Catholic Church.

Arriving Monday will be the remainder of the Nguyen Minh Tan family which includes his wife Mi, four daughters, ages 9, 11, 13, and 15, and two sons ages 4 and 6.

A community shower will be given for the family July 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the parish hall of the Catholic Church. According to Connie Harris, an organizer of the shower, the family is in need of just about everything in the way of clothing, food, money, household articles, etc. A bank account has been opened in the name of Nguyen Minh Tan at Farmers and Merchants Bank in Merkel and any donations to the fund will be greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Harris added, "The family will be coming to Merkel with nothing, since their escape from Viet Nam was at the last minute." She further stated, "I hope the generous people of Merkel will open their hearts to these people."

Judge Millet explained to the Merkel people that he is responsible for these people as long as necessary to establish the family in a comfortable environment. He is providing food and shelter immediately for the family and asks only that the community accept them and treat them as neighbors and friends.

Judge Millet, a decorated soldier during the Viet Nam Conflict, implored the Merkelites at a recent gathering. "Just accept them as you did (me) a 'damned Yankee'."

Anyone wishing to donate any thing to this worthy cause may call Connie Harris at 928-4944, Lewis Millet at 928-5864, Iris Amerine at 928-4876 or Jocille Brady at 928-5705.

"The job of Area Director is one of the most important in our giant statewide association," said TADA president Hall Nall of Plainview. "and we are confident Murrell will serve with distinction."

HONORED AT FISH FRY-Mayor Lou David Allen presents Fred Starbuck with a plaque of appreciation from the City of Merkel for his dedication to the city at a dinner honoring him Monday evening. Starbuck returned June 30 as Civil Defense Leader.

"Nothing could have pleased me more."

Starbuck Honored By City As He Retires From Civil Defense Post

A well planned dinner and a well kept secret greeted Fred Starbuck Monday night as the city of Merkel and the Merkel Fire Department gathered to honor the retiring Civil Defense Leader.

"Nothing could have pleased me more than a fish fry," stated Starbuck after Mayor Lou David Allen presented the former mayor and former city councilman with a plaque of appreciation for his many years of service to the city of Merkel.

Starbuck resigned his post as head of the Merkel Civil Defense effective June 30. He cited health as the reason for his resignation.

Civil Defense was first established in Merkel with the appointment of Starbuck in the early part of 1952 by the late Mayor Henry C. West.

The name Civil Defense has been changed to Division of Disaster Emergency Services, but the goals of disaster planning and service remain the same. The program has a history of continuous activity, with intermittent intervals of interest and apathy on the part of the workers and the general public.

About 1959, a rural fire protection plan was established in connection with the program and this has served well, both the city and rural populace in many instances.

The purpose of the civil defense emergency operations plan is to provide for emergency operations in the City of Merkel, utilizing the existing form of government in cooperation with the State and Federal Governments. The Government of the City of Merkel is responsible to its citizens for saving lives, alleviating suffering, minimizing damage and helping to restore and rehabilitate property and society in the event of natural disaster or nuclear attack, or threat thereof.

When you cut your roses, it's best to cut just above the topmost spray of fine leaves. It's better to cut off too little than too much, though pruning usually stimulates growth and helps prolong the life of the roses.

Enticing cheesecake aroma tells you you're in for a special treat when you bake A Berry Cheesy Quick Bread. Just sample a warm square topped with plump strawberries and savor the cheesy filling nestled between light, lemony layers. You'll never let it be.

There's no need to fuss with grating rind or squeezing juice for that delicate flavor cheesecake craves. Instant lemon pudding mix does the trick. Another time saver, white frosting mix, is blended with cream cheese to create the fluffy, rich filling.

Serving A Berry Cheesy Quick Bread for dessert is one way to help your family meet its daily bread requirement. Prepare the coffee cake with "enriched" flour and everyone gets the benefit of three essential B-vitamins — niacin, thiamine and riboflavin — plus that important mineral, iron.

FARM FACTS

Off To An Early Start
Most of the food and feed crops now grown in the United States were established in colonial America by the end of the 17th century.

Fertilizers In Demand
It's estimated that four times the amount of fertilizer now being used would be required to double food production in the world's developed countries.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

When a person has been hurt by another, he can pout, pity himself, punish others, or pray.

If he pouts, he pollutes himself. Pouting is like pouring ink into a glass of water. It fills the glass full of blackness. It casts a cloud over the mind, and makes the man more occupied with his distress than his deliverance.

If he pities himself, he poisons himself. Self-pity distorts our thinking, disrupts our work, disturbs our body, and disfigures our face. It depresses our friends, demoralizes our life, debilitates our energy, and dishonors our Lord.

If he punishes others, he pains himself. Revenge is like a boomerang. Although for a while it flies in the direction in which it is thrown, it takes a sudden curve, and returning, it hits the one who threw it the heaviest blow.

If he prays, he protects himself. "In my distress," said the writer of Psalm 120, "I cried unto the Lord, and He heard me." Wonderful things happen when we pray faithfully, believe confidently and live expectantly.

History and the Bible are full of the fact and truth that the wicked will not go unpunished and the righteous unrewarded. In which group are you?

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of the Merkel Mail and all Merkel citizens who are concerned:

I am writing for my mother, Carrie Ashley (Carrie Bradshaw). She is in the Castle Manor Nursing Home, 1922 Castle Drive, Garland. She lived in Merkel for years; I would guess she and her husband, Lee Bradshaw, were one of the first settlers in Merkel. They adopted and raised two orphan children. I am one of them. I was four years old when my daddy, Lee Bradshaw, died. My mother raised me.

My mother has just about given up. She has always been so strong, I never thought I would see the day she would lose all interest in everything and give up. She told me she prays for God to take her home. I read the Merkel Mail to her. She doesn't show much interest and she has always loved the Merkel Mail. I started writing this request cards and letters for my mother. Maybe they will cheer her up. She doesn't get much mail. She isn't able to write much, but I will try to answer all cards and letters.

Thanks for listening, Deane (Bradshaw) Tennie, 11218 Limestone Balch Springs, Texas 75149

Who's Protecting Whom From What?

So many things are now being done in the name of the consumer that it seems reasonable to ask just who this consumer is we're hearing so much about these days. Does she really need all the protection that's being proposed for her and can she really afford it?

We always had the naive assumption that everybody in this country—rich or poor, male or female, black or white, Democrat or Republican, illiterate or erudite—is a consumer. If that's still the case then this time of economic crisis affords the best opportunity we can think of for the real consumer to stand up and speak on behalf of her pocketbook.

Consumerism has become commercial. In so doing, it deserves to be carefully scrutinized. One can be for consumerism—and who isn't? But commercial consumerism is something else. Government regulations in the name of consumer protectionism are spawned with rabbit-like prolificness. Virtually any piece of legislation with the word "consumer" attached to it seems assured of swift enactment.

And yet, many of the things being done under the guise of consumerism are strangulating both industry and agriculture at a time when increased productivity is vital to the economy. Costs of inputs for both industry and agriculture are spiraling ever without the additional burden of huge expenditure brought on by the necessity of complying with some new government regulation. And ultimately, in one way or another, these increased costs turn up in the form of increased prices for the consumer.

Some degree of consumer protection is well and good, of course. The Pure Food and Drug Act passed back in 1906, for example, is one that has provided the American consumer with an assurance of clear wholesome food unmatched anywhere else in the world. It was needed legislation because it provided the consumer with a protection she could not provide for herself.

Where do we draw the line? Does the real consumer have a voice in determining whether she wants to pay the additional cost of a protection she is not sure she needs?

It would appear that the protection consumer need most right now is protection from inflation. Of better still, protection from some consumer protectionists.

Boom, Boom, Boom... Good News For Livestock
How Long Will It Last? ... Milk Production Up and Down.

Although they will fizzle in some parts of the state, crop prospects this July 4 week-end should be booming. Cotton planting is finished on the High Plains and harvesting is underway in the Valley; grain sorghum harvest is well underway in South Texas as planting is finished and in the north; prospects for many crops are now the best they've been in years.

If you're going to celebrate July 4 week-end this year, plan to make it an all-Texas food affair. You can enjoy peaches produced in Texas; watermelon season is with us; cantaloups are being harvested; and there are plenty of fresh vegetables such as tomatoes, onions, cucumbers, sweet corn, squash, and many others. And be sure to include Texas-produced beef.

Wheat harvest is about half complete; oat harvest is nearing the final stages; peanut planting is nearing completion; and soybean seeding is about finalized.

All in all this July 4 week-end, crops are looking good over most sections of the state.

GOOD NEWS, a thing which has been hard to find in agriculture in the past couple of years, is making inroads in the livestock industry.

Cattle on feed in Texas, as well as the major cattle feeding states, is showing an upward trend. Cattle feeding in the state is up six per cent from a month ago.

Even though the June 1 estimate is 42 per cent below a year ago, cattle feeding has shown a turn-around.

Cattle on feed in Texas as of June 1 totaled 1,128,000 head. Texas cattle feeders placed 288,000 head into their lots during May.

Cattle and calves on feed June 1 in the seven major feeding states totaled 5,841,000 head. Although this is down from a year ago, it is an increase over a month ago. May placements of cattle and calves on feed is up 20 per cent compared to a year ago.

Cattle feeders are showing some profit now. How long will this last? Economists note that more cattle will be coming to market in the months ahead, and this will tend to lower prices to producers later this year.

But for the time being, cattlemen are seeing some signs of improvement in their price situation.

MILK PRODUCTION is having its ups and downs in Texas. During May, milk production in the state was five per cent above last month, but one per cent below a year ago.

Production per cow is the same as last year but is above a month ago. Milk cows on farms are down one per cent from a year ago. Milk cow numbers declined 26,000 from April, the largest month-to-month drop nationwide since the month of January, 1974.

HAVE YOU DONE IT YET? Have you returned your census of agriculture form? About 99,000 Texas farmers have failed to do this, so the Census Bureau is urging you to get the census form completed and returned as soon as possible.

And they emphasize the figures you send in will not be used by an other government agency. Individual reports will be combined into county, state, and national totals.

How To Enjoy Historic America

Celebration of the U.S. Bicentennial in 1975/76 will open many new travel vistas for Americans who want to see their country in its historical and cultural best. And a great way to do this is to sight-see via motorcoach—in the relaxing surroundings of a comfortable, spacious bus with full-vision and an expert guide.

And there are so many "historical America" sights to see. Take America's birthplace, Philadelphia. One popular Gray Line tour, costing under $7 shows you: Independence Hall, Shrine of the Liberty Bell where the Declaration of Independence was signed; Betsy Ross House, home of the Stars and Stripes and Elfreth's Alley, the oldest continuously occupied street in the United States, dating back to 1690. It's an inspiring tour, full of living history.

Boston has it all for sight-seers, too. The city itself will be the chief focus of Bicentennial observances. Tour 1 of the "Freedom Trail" shows all the uniquely important Revolutionary landmarks, and stops at two of the most celebrated—the "Old North" Church and the USS Constitution. Costs start at $6.50.

For additional information about any of these exciting sight-seeing tours (or those in 144 other cities), write to: Travel Literature Dept.-SG, Gray Line Sight-Seeing Companies, Associated, Inc., 7 West 51st Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Strange Visitor

By JENNYE MARTIN

Many strange things happen in the lives of newspaper people, but about the strangest of all happened to me last Thursday. While sitting at my desk, very earnestly working, I had a visitor. This "visitor" weighed about 120 lbs., yet looked like a monster coming at me. He came to me and started kissing me, rather wetly, on the cheek. Then he decided he wanted to take a tour of our newspaper and also of our printing shop, and I might add, unescorted. After things met with his satisfaction, he came back and really made himself at home by lying down next to my desk, full length. Then my strange "visitor" decided he needed a back rub. As long as I rubbed his back, he was contented, but the moment I would stop, he would seem to get very riled up. He soon became very tired of that. He just couldn't be pleased, so he finally gave up and left, hunting for someone that could entertain him properly.

Now I know that my story seems very far fetched, but it's true. You see, my "visitor" was a German Shepherd. He left just as fast as he entered. Oh well, that's the way it goes when you are a newspaper woman.

'National Awareness' Week, June 30 - July 6

The Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, which provides a year-round program of services for physically disabled, announced "National Awareness" Week, June 30 through July 6, 1975, to focus attention on barriers faced with limited mobility. Co-sponsors are Chapters of the National Paraplegia Foundation.

Thomas N. Jenness, Jr., of Fort Worth, Texas Easter Seal Society President, in announcing the event, stressed the need to increase public awareness of citizens faced with mobility problems, including the wheelchair bound, the aged, and temporarily disabled.

Such citizens face largely thoughtless and unnecessary barriers, such as a steep flight of stairs, narrow doorways, revolving doors, unuseable restrooms, out-of-reach drinking fountains and public telephones, and inaccessible elevators and parking facilities. These can be eliminated, Jenness stressed, with farsighted planning and citizen cooperation. Obstacles that make it difficult for any citizen to move about freely, Jenness said, "...are the concern of all of us." He cited the role of Easter Seals since early 1960's in the removal of such barriers through formation of community Barrier Removal Committees. Jenness urged all citizens who are interested in the problems created by such barriers to contact Easter Seals locally, which can be done in every county in Texas, or to write: The Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas, 4429 N. Central Expressway, Dallas, Texas 75205.

Counseling against hate, the Bible has this to say: "If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" 1 John 4:20.

The Light Touch

BY PAT CASTILLE

Some of the new movies are so violent, they should be rated by blood type.

If you believe some ads, the new motorcycles and small cars are getting more miles to the gallon than our lawnmower.

Isn't it sneaky how they call it a tax return? As though your money were going to make a round trip?

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Director

Add this to the list of things you should try to avoid this summer - ticks.

Ticks, chiggers, mosquitoes, flies, ants, snakes and poison ivy are among the many hazards encountered in the outdoors. One of the pests, or a combination, can help spoil a picnic or camping trip, says the Texas Department of Health Resources, formerly known as the Texas State Department of Health.

But aside from being pests which attach themselves to the skin of their victims, often producing infections, ticks can be the carriers of Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

Spotted fever is known by many names, such as "mountain fever," "hull fever," "black fever" or "blue disease".

But however designated, the only known natural transmission of this endemic, potentially severe, febrile disease is through the infective tick. This may be accomplished by contamination with crushed tissues or feces of the tick or, perhaps more commonly, by the actual biting attachment of this disease-carrying pest.

At least two deaths in Texas this year have been credited to Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

One victim was a 41-year-old Tyler man, who apparently picked up ticks in Van Zandt County while working with cattle.

A case was clinically diagnosed in a 17-year-old woman, who lived in a rural Cass County setting. Other suspected cases have been investigated.

Rocky Mountain spotted fever got its name because of early experiments with ticks in the Rocky Mountain area at the turn of the century. This has led to the misconception that it is found only in this region, but most cases have been reported from the eastern United States.

Virginia and North Carolina had almost one-third of reported cases in 1974, according to the U.S. Public Health Service.

Most Texas cases reported to the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services have been from the northeastern and southeastern areas of the state.

A number of different tick species are found in these areas, according to Paul V. Fournier of the Department's Medical Entomology Division. However, wrote Fournier, nier in a Texas Health Bulletin article, only a few are thought to be involved in the direct transmission of this disease to man.

Investigations have shown that the three main culprits in Texas are the American dog tick (Dermacentor variabilis), the lone star tick (Amblyomma americanum) and the brown dog tick (Rhipicephalus sanguineus). Although the brown dog tick seldom attaches to man, it is thought that this tick may transmit the disease to canines, and then on to man by other ticks.

Ticks must pass through several stages of development. The basic life cycle includes: eggs, larvae, nymphs and adults. They feed only on blood, and most species must find new hosts (or reattach to the same host) several times during their life cycle. The tick is well-adapted to survival, and some species may survive for more than a year without feeding, says Fournier.

It has long been known that the rickettsial pathogens of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever may be passed along from one generation to another through infected eggs. Therefore, any stage of an infected tick can transfer the disease to man.

Completely avoiding ticks would appear to be the ideal way to ward off infestation, but this is too impractical. Farmers, ranchers, foresters, nature lovers - virtually anyone who ventures into the out-of-doors - can expect to run into ticks at one time or another.

There are some precautions which can be taken, says Fournier. One of the easiest is to use commercial repellents, which also are effective against chiggers and mosquitoes. Since there is a connection between the length of tick attachment and severity of the disease, it would be well to remove all ticks just as soon as possible. A thorough inspection of the body should be made as soon as possible after returning from the outdoors. While there is no one recommended manner in removing ticks, use of tweezers is preferred over the fingers. The reason is that the disease can be transferred by crushing the tick while removing it. This is especially true when removing engorged ticks from a pet.

The infectious agent in Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is the Rickettsia rickettsii - named after the man who pioneered some of the research into the disease.

Because of the rise of the disease in Texas, a tick surveillance program has been established through the Department of Health Resources. The program is in response to the need for determination of the species present in infested areas, and the testing of tick samples for rickettsial pathogens.

CANCER Answerline

A young woman writes: "I am confused by the different names for breast cancer surgery. What does 'radical' or 'simple' mean?"

ANSWERline: The operation which removes breast tissue, a mastectomy, can be considered "simple" when just the breast is removed and "radical" when the breast and underlying muscles and nearby lymph nodes that drain the breast are removed. There are other variations of the operation which your physician can describe.

A reader insists: "Something happens to a woman's arm after a mastectomy, doesn't it? Losing a breast is bad enough, but who needs that as well?"

ANSWERline: It's true that "something" (difficulty in arm movement) does happen to some women's arms because of tissue removed during some types of mastectomy. But, the happy news is that proper rehabilitative exercises can restore the affected arm to mobility and comfort. The right exercise pays off!

A young homemaker explains: "My grandmother had a mastectomy many years ago. Today, it seems to me they are still doing the same type of operation. Hasn't anything else but surgery been discovered in all this time?"

ANSWERline: Surgery remains the main form of breast cancer treatment because it is still the best. But, it is not the only means of treating breast cancer. Today's physician uses a "team" approach in evaluating each patient and the medical profession can call upon radiation, hormones, drugs, and surgery to control this disease.

Question: "Isn't there a program to help women look all right after breast surgery?"

ANSWERline: Yes. It is the Reach to Recovery program of the American Cancer

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. Dolph Briscoe's veto of 136 college building projects (which he estimated would cost more than $1 billion) may be the subject of a court case.

University of Texas Board of Regents Chairman Allan Shivers said UT regents will defy the veto and go ahead with at least two of the rejected projects.

Shivers claims the veto is unconstitutional. He said the attorney general long ago held the governor cannot veto appropriations bill riders which do no call for specific expenditures.

The chairman further contends that UT projects will be financed with constitutional funds which cannot be controlled by an act of the legislature.

Briscoe maintains that UT, like other schools, must get College Coordinating Board approval of its construction projects under a new law—or specific legislative approval. He voted the projects, in the first place, because he interpreted them as an effort to bypass the new statute by a subterfuge prior legislative approval through the appropriations riders.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has indicated he will approve none of the UT building project vouchers in controversy without an attorney general's opinion. It has been hinted regents may seek a declaratory judgment in court to uphold their position.

sed until July 9 to allow its staff time to catalogue evidence.

Chairman Rep. De Witt Hale of Corpus Christi said he is hopeful the committee will complete its work and vote on its recommendations by August.

If the committee recommends impeachment, the House will convene three weeks later to hear the case. Should the House vote articles of impeachment, the Senate then must "try" the case. A two-thirds majority would be necessary to impeach.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court upheld an intermediate court judgment dissolving an injunction by Judge O. P. Carrillo against oil operations on the Clinton Manges Duval County ranch.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed a life sentence given a Laredo rancher in the 1972 shooting of five Mexican aliens on his ranch.

A $535,866 judgment for a truck driver who was disabled when he ran into a train on a foggy night was upheld by the Supreme Court.

Truckers' $363,646 breach of contract suit verdict against the Houston Chronicle was affirmed by the Supreme Court. At issue was an agreement to transport newspapers.

An Austin district judge stopped Austin and Dallas commercial colleges from enrolling new students until they refund $230,000 in tuitions to former students. The judge also restrained an Indiana truck driving school from violations of the propriety school act.

Campaign Begins

Campaign for adoption of the proposed new state constitution November 4 already is shaping up.

Former Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert will lead the drive for voter support.

Top officials who are supporting the new charter include Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, House Speaker Bill Clayton, Atty. Gen. John Hill and Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe Greenhill.

Governor Briscoe did not attend the initial meeting to kick off campaign plans. He made clear later that he has not made up his mind whether or not to support the revision. He has never been a supporter of annual legislative sessions, Briscoe reminded. The new constitution would provide for annual legislative sessions. It also would broaden powers of the governor considerably.

Committee Recedes

A House committee studying possible impeachment proceedings against 229th District Judge O. P. Carrillo recessed.

Cisco Wrangler Belles To Appear On NBC-TV Special July 3

The Cisco Wrangler Belles of Cisco Junior College will be one of the featured attractions of "THE STARS AND STRIPES SHOW," a television patriotic spectacular to be seen on NBC-TV on the eve of Independence Day, July 3, in prime time at 7 p.m. CDT. The Belles will join a host of show business celebrities in the TV special, including Bob Hope, John Davidson, Anita Bryant, Charlie Pride and Juliet Prowse.

The pretty coeds from Cisco, Texas, will perform a feature dance routine in the show, and they will participate in the opening and finale of the telecast.

The Wrangler Belles have become nationally-known since making two appearances in New York's Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade—in conjunction with the CJC Band.

Director of the Belles is Mrs. Pat Owens. Mrs. Patty Harper is choreographer, and Mr. Eris Ritchie, CJC Public Relations Director, is the group's coordinator.

The "Stars and Stripes Special" will be taped on June 29 before a live audience of approximately 12,000 in Oklahoma City at the huge Myriad Arena. The Wrangler Belles will arrive in Oklahoma City on Wednesday, July 25, to begin rehearsals.

In addition to Hope, Davidson, Pride and Misses Bryant and Prowse, the show will feature the Mike Curb Congregation, Les Brown and his Band of Renown, the Strategic Air Command Band, which will provide music for the Belles' routines, the Stars and Stripes Chorale, and sports stars Mickey Mantle, Craig Morton, "Mean Joe Green," Terry Bradshaw, Johnny Unitas, Steve Owens, Chuck Knox and Barry Switzer.

Producer of the show is Dick Schneider of New York, who is also producer of the Macy's Parade in New York and the Tournament of Roses Parade in California. Executive Producer is Lee Allen Smith, an Oklahoma City broadcasting executive who several years ago originated the idea for the televised patriotic extravaganza.

Avoid a Fatal Fourth

AUSTIN — "Of all sad words of tongue and pen, the saddest are these: it might have been." The Texas Safety Association, in cooperation with the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety and the Department of Public Safety, reminds Texas motorists that there is no remedy in remorse following an accident—remorse for one's own carelessness or for having failed to guard against the other fellow's.

Alertness is the key to traffic safety, and the length of this year's July 4 three-day weekend emphasizes this fact. Motorists will utilize the extra time to make longer trips. Many will travel on unfamiliar highways, and may become confused or hesitant. Couple this with increased local traffic and the regular mid-summer influx of vacation drivers, and July Fourth traffic will be of rush hour volume. So stay on top of traffic and road conditions follow at safe distances, and above all, watch out for the other guy!

Use your seat belts and shoulder harnesses, and don't forget to protect the children. They can be thrown violently in an accident, and need the protection offered by these safety restraints. While on the subject of juvenile travelers, don't let the children distract the driver. Youngsters get bored easily on long trips, and need books, games or small toys—something that can be safely enjoyed in the back seat—to keep them occupied. Give them a chance to apprentice this holiday and many more to come.

Without your concern, the Fourth can be fatal—either to you, your loved ones, or your fellow motorist. Next year's Bicentennial Fourth of July promises to be spectacular. Texas's safety organizations hope you'll all be around for it.
