First Baptist Is Blessed By 100 Year Celebration

A lot of sharing and caring took place in Bovina last weekend.

Bovina's First Baptist Church held their Centennial Celebration August 2-3. Many former members, pastors and music directors attended.

A hamburger supper Saturday, August 2, kicked off the activities prior to an evening worship service. Current pastor Aaron Reed welcomed everyone and worship leader Justin Brozek led the congregation in music. Former music leader Grady Sorley (1973-2001) and his son, Ken, sang two songs.

Former pastor Virgil Goodwin (1954-58) and his wife Dorothy and daughter Lou Ann Hebrun, shared memories of their time in Bovina. Long time members Don and Juanda Murphy gave their testimony and spoke of their many years as members of FBC. Stan Miller then sang "Praise His Name."

Former associate pastor Manny Longoria (1999-2001) read the scripture and former pastor Gary Morgan (1996-2001) gave the sermon.

On Sunday morning, a coffee and donut reception was held in the fellowship hall, followed by a 10:45 a.m. worship service.

Pastor Aaron Reed again welcomed all in attendance. J. L. Bass, former pastor (1981-84) shared about his time in Bovina. Vivian Grundy and Leona Garlitz sang. They are daughters of former music director Earl Hise (1958-63). Earl and his wife Lola were also in attendance at the service.

J.B. Barrett, a deacon since 1973, read scripture, followed by Gene Hawkins, former interim pastor (2001-02) who gave the morning sermon. Following the morning service, a catered meal was served in the fellowship hall by Ben's BBQ of Clovis.

An afternoon worship service convened at 1:30 p.m. with an opening prayer by Rafael Marin, pastor of Iglesia Bautista Hispana in Bovina with music by Grady and Dorothy Sorley.

Former pastor Larry Heard (1970-75) brought the sermon. Becky London and Suezy Smith shared about the history book they created for the celebration and read letters from people who were unable to attend.

Those sending greetings included former pastors John Ferguson (1959-64), Ken Moore (1967-70), Derrel Lewis (1975-78) and former interim pastor B. L. Davis (1995), whose wife Ellen passed away last week.

A letter and poem written by W.C. Bryant, music leader (1931) were read.

Richard Grisham, pastor (1985-95) shared with the congregation about his many years in Bovina and his wife Velma, a/k/a Clara Bell, entertained with a skit.

FBC member and orator Les McCain, presented patriotic renditions and Rafael Marin and his family provided special music in Spanish. The evening concluded with everyone visiting in the fellowship hall, enjoying chocolate cake courtesy of the pastor's wife, Vonda Reed.

Pastor Reed said, "We would like to thank everyone who contributed his or her time, talents and effort to make this celebration a reality. We would also like to thank everyone who traveled from out of town to be with us. We hope you were as blessed by the celebration as we were."

Living Christmas Tree Revival Meeting is Set

Parmer County residents interested in reviving the Living Christmas Tree presentation are asked to meet August 17 at 4 p.m. in the Friona High School auditorium.

Organizers would like to make this a community project and encourage anyone interested to attend the meeting.

Allison Johnston has agreed to direct the choir and others have expressed interest in the lights and sound. Besides voices, men and women with the strength to help with the construction of the tree are needed too, as well as help with decorations.

"If you have never worked on this county community project," said Sharon White, one of the meeting organizers, "we encourage you to make this a commitment. It is well worth the effort."

White said a main reason to participate is making new friends outside your usual circle. "If you are musical, there is nothing like singing in a living tree", White said.

"I don't think there is a better way to proclaim to all the birth of our Savior and celebrate the true meaning of Christmas."

Anyone interested but unable attend the meeting, call Kirk Frye, 265-3514; Danny Black, 250-3524; or Sharon White, 265-3874.

Noon Lions Selling Funnel Cake At Relay

The Friona Noon Lions Club will be selling funnel cakes at the Relay for Life Saturday, August 8th at the Friona High School track. They will begin cooking around 6 p.m.

"We will be cooking with 100% cottonseed oil this year because many people are allergic to peanut oil," said spokesman Danny Black.

Proceeds will benefit the American Cancer Society.

Y. Graves Deploys to Liberia

At the Pentagon, a Defense Department official said the first two of three ships in a US Amphibious Ready Group were on the way to Liberia. The three ships are carrying about 2,300 Marines and 2,000 sailors.

Corporal Yancy Graves of Bovina, is serving on the USS Carter Hall which is part of the Iwo Jima Battle Group. They are off the coast of Liberia.

"Even though the war is supposedly won, our military is still in harm's way. Please remember Yancy and all the armed services in your thoughts and prayers," said Yancy's mother, Kathy Graves of Bovina.

Don't Forget! The Relay for Life walk and luminaria ceremony. Activities and food start about 6:30 p.m. Friday, August 8, at the Friona High School football field. Funnel cakes by the Lions Club. Luminaria lighting ceremony at dusk. Support the American Cancer Society and the Relay for Life.

COOKBOOK COLLECTORS listen up! The First Baptist Church in Bovina has put together a 618 recipe cookbook gathered from church members and others, past and present. Vi Hutto, left, and Vonda Reed, have the colorful book for sale for $15. A 'precious memories' section has recipes from members that have passed away. For your copy, call the church at 251-1632 or pick one up at the JP's office in Bovina.

Museum Open On Saturdays

Efforts to establish a Parmer County heritage museum moved a step further as volunteers have begun keeping Saturday hours.

The Pioneer Heritage Museum is being organized at the site of the old Congregational Church on 6th Street in Friona. Fundraising and item collection have been ongoing for several years.

Bruce Fleming, president of the museum board, told members this week that the sign in front of the building depicting regular hours is up. The displays inside have been cleaned and straightened. The board anticipates a September grand opening.

Fleming also said it is impractical for the museum to accept all the items being offered for display. The museum volunteers will be reviewing all items prior to donation to make sure they don't already have similar items.

THE PIONEER Heritage Museum, at 6th & Cleveland in Friona, is now open to the public on Saturdays from 9-11 a.m.

"The goal," Fleming said, "is to upgrade our items on display to better quality items, not to acquire additional items of the same or lesser quality."

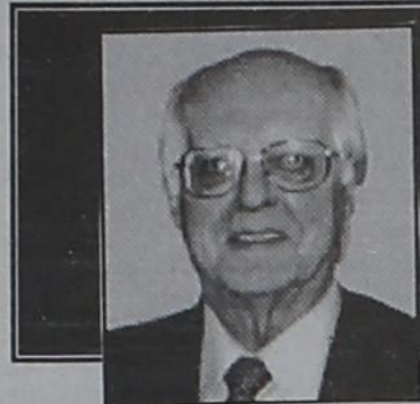

Any donated item needs the proper paperwork completed for verification of authenticity. Fleming discouraged people from dropping off items at the museum door. Call Bruce Fleming, Darla Bracken at the Friona Library, 250-3200, or Wendy Carthel before you donate.

LOCKS OF LOVE

WHY IS Dalinda Black worried? Because Peggy Danley, left, is measuring her hair before she cuts it off. Dalinda donated her hair, 12 inches of it, to Locks of Love. Below, her new hairdo as reflected in the mirror at A Touch of Class. See story for more. Thanks to Linda & Danny Black for the pictures.

Aggie Journalism Is On Death Row!

This week's column is about journalism.

Freedom of the press is basic in America. It is granted in the constitution. Without freedom of the press, whether you like the press or not, you might as well be living in Iraq or North Korea.

Or any other country that prohibits and restricts freedom of its citizens. Journalists write stories and report news. Sometimes good news, often bad news. Either way, Americans can be as informed as they want to be, a freedom denied to many around the world.

How important is a journalism department at a college? Not nearly as important as the football program. Or the medical department. Or engineering.

Journalists, i.e. newspaper people, provide a historical record for future generations. They keep public "journals" of current events. A weekly newspaper like ours is a journal of local events and history of people and places in the area.

Often, former residents or relatives come in and search through past issues of the paper. As people get older, their history gets more important to them. You will feel the same way someday.

We are making some changes here to report more local events to more county residents. Weekly and daily newspapers should change as the world changes. It is not difficult. It just takes dedication.

I bring this up because a major Texas educational institution, Texas A&M, has proposed doing away with its journalism department. Some enterprising pundits might be able to make up a few jokes about Aggie journalists.

A recent editorial in the Bryan-College Station Eagle addressed A&M's intentions to drop journalism from the university program. I'll paraphrase a few of the Eagle's points.

Charles Johnson, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, of which the A&M journalism department is a part, wants to kill the department after the students currently enrolled graduate. The decision still has to be ratified by the A&M Board of Regents, where the fight to keep journalism alive at A&M will be difficult.

The Eagle says that the journalism department for many years has suffered from institutional neglect. Insufficient funding from the university made it difficult to attract an outstanding department head.

Fighting among the few faculty who remain has not helped the situation. Nor has the university's efforts to enroll students in the program who have no business being there and have no real interest in journalism helped.

The Eagle editorial concludes: It is a shame that a school that is rightly proud of the government and business leaders it trains isn't equally proud of the journalists it trains to report on the doings of those leaders. Rather than kill the department of journalism, A&M should reinvest in the program, doing as much to recruit a qualified department head as it does to find a football coach or basketball coach or the heads of other departments and then giving that person the resources needed to turn the department around.

I don't know if A&M needs the journalism department. Aspiring journalism students could probably find another university with a good journalism program.

Journalism is not just writing something down. It is writing or reporting accurately and in correct detail about even the seemingly unimportant events. Every event is important to somebody.

Universities like A&M publish press guides for the football team, have lucrative contracts for TV and radio coverage, than hold press conferences after the games to brag about the win or explain away the loss.

I wonder if A&M regents and administrators realize that the media they play to are actually journalists of one kind or another. How would it be if the Aggies played a football game and no one ever heard about it?

Newspapers, reporters and journalists are here to stay. Our freedoms are here to stay we hope. The field of journalism doesn't pay much to start. And beginners probably get the worst assignments.

But those who do choose the field should have access to training and education just like veterinarians, scientists or engineers.

Somebody has to tell the world what is going on. We hope A&M will see the point.

KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

USS San Antonio

This summer I had the privilege of christening the Navy's newest ship, the USS San Antonio. It is the most high-tech, advanced amphibious ship ever built and appropriately named for the city of the battle of the Alamo.

Naming a ship is serious business. The name the ship carries will be recorded in the annals of our proud naval history. Names like the Constellation, Abraham Lincoln, Kitty Hawk or Enterprise ring with the valor of their crews who defend our freedom wherever it is threatened. Those ships fought with distinction in Operation Iraqi Freedom. In the next two years, the officers and crew of the USS San Antonio will be able to stake their claim to a place in naval history as well.

San Antonio boasts an undeniably strong military tradition. It is home to more major defense installations than any other metropolitan city in our country and more than 65,000 military retirees.

And while most Americans recognize San Antonio as a city of charm and grace, Texans know it as the site of the battle that became the rallying cry for our heroic struggle for independence from Mexico in 1836: Remember the Alamo. From the Alamo came the famous letter that Colonel William Travis wrote which embodies honor on the battlefield. An excerpt of that letter:

"To the people of Texas and all Americans in the world: I am besieged by a thousand or more of the Mexicans under Santa Anna. I have sustained a continual bombardment and cannonade for 24 hours and have not lost a man. The enemy has demanded surrender at discretion, otherwise the garrison will be put to the sword if the fort is taken. I have answered the demand with a cannon shot and our flag still waves proudly from our walls. I shall never surrender or retreat."

Can you think of any words more in keeping with the motto "Semper Paratus"? Such stubborn courage is the heritage the USS San Antonio will take when it sets sail with U.S. Marines and sailors aboard.

I am honored to sponsor the ship that bears the proud name of San Antonio. Taller than the Tower of the Americas and able to carry up to 800 troops, the ship is the first of a projected 12 new amphibious assault ships in this new class. The succeeding 11 ships will be named for other cities, but they will all be known as part of the "San Antonio class." Its war fighting capabilities include a state-of-the-art command and control suite, substantially increased vehicle lift capacity, and a large flight deck.

The primary task of the USS San Antonio, which will be commissioned in 2005, is to ferry troops and weapons on short notice. It can carry five V-22 Ospreys on the upper deck and Landing Craft Air Cushion vessels carrying tanks and armored trucks on the lower deck.

Navy officials bill the San Antonio as a pioneer in force protection. Its cutting-edge Shipboard Wide Area Network, SWAN, identifies and analyzes threats, then orders a weapons system on the ship — or another U.S. vessel — to fire on the target. It is also the Navy's first stealth ship, using fewer angles from protruding pieces of steel and high-tech twin masts to reduce its radar signature.

The christening culminated when I shattered a bottle of Cap*Rock sparkling Texas wine across the new ship's bow, a time-honored Naval tradition. Whatever adventures lie ahead for the USS San Antonio and its crews, we know they will serve with the same distinction that their forebearers did in the city for which the ship is forever named. With the spirit of the Alamo and the name of a great Texas city, the USS San Antonio will be prepared to sail into harms way when it sets course to defend our freedoms.

Craig & Sorensen United In Church Ceremony

Lori Craig and Lankford Aaron Sorensen, both of Hereford, exchanged vows on Saturday, July 12, 2003 at 3:00 p.m. The ceremony was conducted at the Church of the Nazarene in Hereford by Ray Sanders.

The bride is the daughter of Robin Smith of Summerfield and Bryan Craig of Clovis.

The groom is the son of Keith and Karen Sorensen of Dumas and Kevin and Verna Patton of Friona.

Catherine Maeder of Shallowater was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Brandi Thomas of Hereford, cousin of the bride, Julie Wilson of Hereford, and Jennifer Craig of Clovis, sister of the bride.

Hayden Patton of Friona served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Derek Brinkman of Hereford, Jaylan Warren of Plainview, cousin of the bridegroom, and Marcus Banner of Dallas.

Chris Craig and Sonny Smith of Hereford, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

Brooklyn Gearn, daughter of Catherine Maeder, was the flower girl.

Candles were lit by the mothers of the bride and groom.

Kevin Ross, music pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, presented the wedding music.

As the bride was presented in marriage by her father, she wore a white satin gown with an empire waist, capped sleeves and a chapel length train. The bodice was a floral lace pattern adorned with pearls. Her veil was accented with pearls and she wore a rhinestone and pearl tiara. The bride also wore her late grandfather's wedding band on her garter and pearls given to her by her mother.

She carried a bouquet of sunflowers, blue babies breath, white roses, and blue magnolias accented with navy blue and yellow ribbon.

The bridal attendants wore floor length satin gowns with a sheer overlay opening in the front, an empire waist, and spaghetti straps with shaws, in navy. They carried smaller versions of the bride's bouquet.

The church was decorated with sunflower bouquets and blue and yellow ribbons.

The reception was held at the VFW in Hereford. Denise Brorman of Vega, aunt of the bride, and Jalynna Warren of Plainview, cousin of the groom, assisted with the reception. The table was decorated with yellow and blue pillar candles and beta fish center pieces.

The bride's cake was a white, three tier, accented with pearls and topped with the same flowers as the bride's bouquet.

The groom's cake was a square, chocolate basket weave with chocolate covered strawberries.

Following a cruise to the Bahamas and a trip to Florida, the couple will make their home in Hereford.

The bride is a 1999 graduate of Hereford High School and a Clovis Community College graduate. She is currently employed at Hereford Care Center as a registered nurse.

The groom is a 1996 graduate of Hereford High School and is also a Clovis Community College graduate. He is currently employed at Vasek Service as an HVAC service technician.

Out of town guests were from Dumas, Dallas, Amarillo, Plano, Grand Prairie and Plainview.

A new cookbook compiled by the ladies (and probably a few men) of the First Baptist Church of Bovina is for sale for $15. The cookbook contains 618 recipes. There is a 'precious memories' section with recipes from people who have passed on.

Vi Hutto or Vonda Reed can help you buy a book. Vonda is 'the preacher's wife' at First Baptist in Bovina. Call her at 251-1632.

Rachel (Turner) Herrera is a new dispatcher at the Friona Police Department. Rachel is a graduate of Bovina High School and is the widow of Sgt. Joe Herrera, the Friona police officer killed in a car chase accident last April.

Rachel has worked previously for the Hereford police department and for Excel security at Excel-Friona.

Templo Bautista in Friona has a new pastor. He is Mauricio Antonio Martinez.

Our production manager, Dana Jameson, and her husband Coy and sons Joshua and Tyler, visited Six Flags in Arlington last weekend. She said the temperature at the Six Flags Park was 109. Makes the log flume ride, with the water splash, very popular.

School is gearing up to start for the 2003-04 year. Each year the Friona State Bank furnishes calendars to the teachers at the start of the school year.

Marca Herring at the bank turned over the new calendar supply to Kenny Austin last week since teachers start showing up this week. Kenny is a former Friona coach and Friona High School principal who is now on the FISS administrative staff.

Good luck to all teachers, students and staff as a new year gets set to begin.

Bill Shelly, former band director at Bovina (and a good one) is in his second year of re-organizing the Farwell band program. Farwell dropped their band program a few years back, then hired Shelly away from Bovina to re-start the band program.

Record numbers of kids have joined the band activities in Farwell. They had a summer band camp and marched in the Border Town Days parade in Farwell.

We worked with Bill Shelly in Bovina during his tenure there and can attest to his ability to motivate the band kids. Bill is a bit of a maverick, but a good band director. Farwell is lucky to have him.

Okay, follow this. Last week we had a picture in the paper of a couple of kids feeding a calf from a milk bottle. We said the calf belonged to Jeremy Campbell. That's wrong. It belongs to Jeremy Hart, who is Holly Campbell's brother but his name of course is not Campbell.

As if that is not confusing enough, there is a Jeremy Campbell in Friona. He belongs to Randy and Deborah. But the calf wasn't his. It was Jeremy Hart's.

Hope that clears it up. Sorry for the mix-up.

We learned that Tina Nunley of Friona spent time in an Amarillo hospital with a heart problem. It was either a blood clot or cholesterol problem. In any event, she was transferred to Amarillo by helicopter over the weekend. Tina is an employee at Silver Screen Video in Friona.

Christina Rodriguez, a 1998 graduate of Friona High School, was in town visiting last week. Chris is serving in the U.S. Marines and was here to visit old friends and family. Her mother is Maria Garcia.

New 19th District Congressman Randy Neugebauer's phone numbers are: Lubbock, 806-763-1161 & in Washington, 202-225-4005. Thanks to Elton Wyly for furnishing the numbers for us. We have them on file here now in case you need them.

We heard that Friona's Lilah Gaye Gee celebrated her 92nd birthday this week. Family members were present Tuesday to help Mrs. Gee celebrate. We hope they might furnish us a picture which we will be happy to print. Happy birthday, Lilah Gaye.

As heard on KNNK Radio out of Hereford, George and Aundrea Frye celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary this week. George requested a song for Aundrea the day after their anniversary. Wonder if he forgot? Happy anniversary Fries.

And finally, we were picking up some pictures at the hospital and noted that Anne Spring was released to go home. She has had a long bout in Friona and Amarillo hospitals. We're glad she gets to go home again. Speedy recovery Anne.

PUBLIC NOTICE August 7, 2003

Crosstex Energy Services operates approximately 3.5 miles of natural gas pipeline near Friona, Texas. The pipeline safety program includes:

1. Daily surveillance by experienced operator in the field;
2. Cathodic protection against corrosion;
3. Periodic ground patrols for detailed inspection of the pipeline environment;
4. Continuous monitoring of the gas flowing through the pipeline.

This notice was prepared so that you can identify our pipeline and know how to recognize and respond to a pipeline emergency.

HOW DO YOU KNOW WHERE A PIPELINE IS LOCATED?

Since pipelines are buried underground, line markers are used to show their approximate location at numerous points along their routes. These markers list the commodity transported, the name of the operator, and a telephone number where the operator's representative can be reached.

Although helpful, markers are limited in the information which they provide. They are placed near the pipeline, but not necessarily on top of them, and a pipeline may not follow a straight route between two markers. Also, markers provide no information about the depth of the pipeline. Therefore, it is very important that you place a phone call to the number on the marker before digging in the area of the pipeline.

If you are planning to dig near our pipeline, please notify us in advance by calling toll free at (866)394-9839 or by calling collect at (361)299-4000. A company representative will meet with you and provide detailed marking to show the pipeline location, route and depth. You should also provide advance notice of any planned digging to the Texas Excavation Safety System at (800)344-8377 which will notify all pipeline operators in the area who have registered their pipelines with the service.

HOW CAN YOU RECOGNIZE A PIPELINE LEAK?

- Signs of a leak include:
1. A hissing or roaring sound;
 2. Any strange or unusual odor in the area of the pipeline;
 3. A dense white cloud or fog;
 4. Frost or ice on the ground;
 5. A spot of dead or discolored vegetation in an otherwise green area;
 6. Flames occurring if the leak has ignited.

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO IF YOU SUSPECT A LEAK?

If you know or suspect that a pipeline is leaking or damaged, leave the area immediately. Your personal safety should be your first concern. Also:

1. Avoid driving into vapor clouds;
2. Avoid creating sparks or sources of heat which might ignite the escaping gas;
3. Immediately notify the pipeline operator giving your name and a description of the leak and its location. If the pipeline operator is not known, call your local fire or police department. Advise them of the location and nature of the emergency.

Cotton Market Weekly

A Service Provided by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association

Technical factors drove the cotton market lower on the New York Cotton Exchange this week in volatile trading. Most market attention was focused on funds and other speculators as USDA's weekly export sales report and mill use data released by the U.S. Census Bureau failed to provide any surprises.

As expected, a tremendous amount of shipments were concluded in the week ended July 24 as mills rushed to take advantage of the high Step 2 payment rate before the current marketing year ends. According to Cotton Outlook, the total of 338,500 bales of U.S. upland cotton shipped during the week was the fifth largest of the 2002-03 season and marked an unprecedented seventh time that weekly exports of upland cotton have exceeded 300,000 bales in a single marketing year. More importantly, however, the week's turnover pushed total shipments beyond USDA's forecast for the season with one more week remaining.

Sales for the week were termed "mediocre" by the trade as only 58,700 bales were sold, 61 percent below the previous week and a 42 percent drop from the four-week average. Net sales of 104,600 bales were made for delivery in the 2003-04 marketing year that begins Aug. 1.

One trader said that sales of new crop

U.S. cotton could slow as the acceleration in shipping cotton abroad due to the high Step 2 payment may lead to a short-term glut of U.S. cotton overseas. In addition, observers noted that foreign buyers still have to get used to the transition to the new and higher cotton prices.

Activity improved on the spot cotton scene as online sales by Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas producers increased in the five trading days ending July 31. A healthy 8,297 bales were sold compared to the previous week when 1,520 bales changed hands. Prices received by producers selling their cotton online ranged from 48.37 to 54.06 cents per pound versus the previous week's 48.28 to 52.48 cents per pound range.

In other news, the National Cotton Council annualized U.S. textile mill cotton use at 6.56 million bales based on data gathered by the U.S. Census Bureau for the month of June. The figure was down sharply from the 7.94 million bales reported in June 2002 and lower than the 6.76 million bale estimate for May of this year. Although not friendly, the figures were not as bad as most analysts feared.

"The report simply confirms that U.S. mill use is weak and probably will get weaker," an analyst commented. "All interest has to be focused on exports for the consumption of the U.S. crop."

That export interest remains largely focused on China. The All-China Federation of Supply and Market Cooperation, on behalf of the government, said that China's cotton inventories are expected to shrink to 7.9 million bales in September, the lowest level in five years, because of declining output and increasing domestic demand. Therefore, China's cotton imports are expected to be much higher this year because of the anticipated rise in demand.

Meanwhile, The National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) reported the condition of the U.S. cotton crop was unchanged on balance during the week ended July 27 compared to one week earlier. NASS rated 55 percent of the crop "good to excellent" which also was equal to the rating one year ago. The Far West made a good advance, but with the exception of Tennessee, the Memphis Territory deteriorated. Texas also suffered a modest downturn.

Additionally, squaring rates reached 89 percent across the Cotton Belt, compared with 93 percent one year earlier and the five-year average of 94 percent. Boll setting was reported on 54 percent of the crop versus 70 percent a year ago and the five-year average of 72 percent.

Texas A&M Agriculture Field Day August 26

The Texas A&M University System Agriculture Program will present a Sorghum/Sudan Grazing and Forage & Sorghum Silage Field Day on Tuesday, August 26, 2003 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The field day will be held at Bush Farm which is part of the Texas A&M Agriculture Research Field Laboratory, near Bushland, located 1.5 miles north of Bushland, (turn east on Jim Line Rd. and go 0.5 miles).

Speakers will include Dr. Wayne Greene, Professor of Beef Cattle Nutrition, Texas Agriculture Experiment Station; Dr. Ted McCollum, Professor of Beef Cattle Nutrition, Texas Cooperative Extension; and Dr. Brent Bean, Professor of Agronomy, Texas Cooperative Extension and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Since 1999 research has been conducted on grazing various types of sorghum-sudangrass hybrids including new brown midrib and photoperiod sensitive hybrids. Stocker cattle gains have consistently been above 2.25 lb/day. Some of the topics discussed at the field day will include: stocking rate; number of head days per acre; gain per acre; brown midrib vs. conventional hybrids; rotational paddock grazing; mineral supplements; and avoiding nitrate and prussic acid.

Forage sorghum silage trials have been conducted since 2000. This year's trial includes over 90 hybrids. Most of these hybrids can be used for hay or silage. Many are high grain producers while others produce little grain. Field day participants will have the opportunity to view all of the hybrids. A few of the topics discussed will include: hybrids to grow for tonnage; hybrids to grow for quality; comparisons to corn; water use efficiency based on yield and quality; and managing for hay and silage.

PCG Participates in Washington Trip With Lubbock Chamber of Commerce

LUBBOCK, August 1, 2003 By Shawn Wade
Representatives from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, including PCG Executive Vice President Steve Verett, traveled to Washington, DC July 22-24.

The purpose of the trip was two-fold. First, the Lubbock contingent participated as co-sponsors with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce for a reception honoring newly elected 19th District Representative Randy Neugebauer. Secondly, the group made numerous legislative contacts, including a meeting with Texas Senatorial delegation to discuss issues critical to the area.

The West Texas contingent, which included business people and Chamber of Commerce representatives from Lubbock, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa and Seminole, received legislative updates on a wide ranging set of issues.

Briefings were held with staff members from the offices of Senators Kay Bailey Hutchison and John Cornyn. The group also met with Senate and House Agriculture Committee staff members and sat down with 17th District Representative Charles Stenholm of Stamford and newly elected 19th District Representative Randy Neugebauer of Lubbock.

Policy areas discussed by the group included the latest developments on trade, agriculture, and energy.

Verett noted that the Chamber trip proved to be a timely one and provided a perfect opportunity to discuss a number of important issues pertaining to agriculture that are expected to be taken up after the Congress returns from the August recess.

Verett reported that during the trip he had been able to discuss issues such as the need for a 2003 crop disaster program; the devastating effects recent U.S. trade pacts have had on cotton, especially the severe impact it has had on the U.S. textile industry; Agricultural Appropriations legislation and the importance of defending the mechanisms of the 2002 Farm Bill and allowing them to function as designed; and, implementation issues for conservation programs.

01/02 Crop Disaster Sign-up Moving Ahead

LUBBOCK, August 1, 2003 By Shawn Wade
Signing up for the 2001-2002 Crop Disaster Program has been a challenging process for many growers, but not for the reasons many might expect.

Yes, the program is complicated, but most information is already in the computer and accessible to the folks at the Farm Service Agency.

In fact, one of the more challenging aspects of the process has just been getting into the office to complete the application. Fortunately, the overlapping priorities have been juggled quite nicely by FSA employees and the process continues to move forward.

One aspect of the program that producers do not need to worry about right now is whether or not they will run out of time to sign-up for the program before they can get down to the FSA office. Officially, the 2001-2002 CDP sign-up window ends August 25, 2003 and leaves plenty of time for setting appointments and getting to the FSA office. Due to the number of applications that some counties must handle, some offices are already scheduling CDP appointments for after the August 25 date.

It is important to note that the regulations governing the program DO provide for an extension of the sign-up period. The rules allow the FSA Deputy Administrator the discretion to set a later date as necessary.

It also provides growers who did not qualify for benefits for the crop loss portion of the program, time to study whether they can qualify for assistance based on reduced crop quality.

The 2001-2002 Quality Loss program will be figured on a bale-by-bale basis comparing the average quality of each bale to an average quality for the county. A 20 percent decrease in the average loan value of a bale compared to the county average will trigger a payment under this section.

Texas Cooperative Extension Risk Management Specialist Jay Yates has prepared a short summary of the Quality loss program to help producers make this determination.

It is important to note that producers who only suffered quality losses will have to contact FSA in order to determine their eligibility.

A copy of the TCE publication is available on the PCG website at: www.plainscotton.org.

Football Practice Begins Under the Panhandle Sun

The first official day of football practice under UIL rules was Monday, August 4.

The Friona Chieftains and Bovina Mustangs both kicked off the season about 8 a.m. Monday and will continue for the next two weeks under the often grueling Panhandle sun.

Bovina Head Coach & Athletic Director Kent Torbert introduced three new coaches to his players. Torbert, who is in his second year at Bovina, was elevated to the head coach position this year. He is a Clovis native and former coach and administrator at River Road High School in Amarillo.

Joining Torbert's staff were two young coaches, John Kennedy and Eric Dominguez. Both men played at Angelo State last year. This is their first coaching assignment. Torbert coaxed veteran coach David Combs out of retirement to join the staff to coach defensive linemen.

Combs is a former coach at River Road who retired a couple of years ago. He was on the River Road staff during the 1996-97 era as the

Friona Chieftains made their playoff runs under coach James Morton. Friona was in 3A at the time and a River Road-Friona rivalry existed.

Rounding out the Bovina staff are returning coaches Hector Guevara and Tony Epps.

In Friona, Head Coach & Athletic Director Bob Ferguson

begins his second year at the Friona helm. Ferguson's staff remained mostly intact. One new coach, Greg Hazelwood, joins the staff this year.

Loss of key seniors give both coaches a bit of uncertainty about the 2003 squads. Friona competes in District 5-2A and Bovina is in District 3-1A.

Hispanics Seek Free Enterprise Opportunity

BY THE HONORABLE HECTOR V. BARRETO

A few weeks ago, the Census Bureau announced that Hispanics are now the largest minority group in America, totaling 13 percent of the population, 38.8 million strong.

A recent survey of Latinos in the U.S. by the Pew Hispanic Center of the Kaiser Family Foundation sought to help answer some of the difficult questions that have been on the minds of many Americans since the new Census numbers were released: Do Hispanics want to be part of the melting pot? Are they willing to learn English and assimilate to American culture? Or are they and their children happier to stay separate from the American mainstream, divided by culture, customs, and language?

The survey found that the answer is: "Both, to some extent." As the son of Mexican immigrants, this finding rings very true for me. To Hispanics, assimilation versus preservation of traditions and culture is not an either/or proposition. The Pew survey, for example, found that while most Hispanics speak Spanish or are bilingual, they feel very strongly that they must learn English in order to be successful in the United States.

The Pew survey also found that while Hispanics see the United States as offering more education and employment opportunities for their children than their family's native countries, they are also worried about the moral values and the strength of family ties here in this country. For people with a strong faith and love of family this is the less positive side of the U.S., but Hispanics are confident that they can maintain and pass on their cultural values even as they assimilate to this country.

This dual-desire to assimilate while also maintaining cultural identity, priorities and pride is not dissimilar from other groups who came here as immigrants. From the Scottish family whose 5th-generation-American men wear a kilt on their wedding day, to the Chinese-American family who celebrates Chinese New Year, maintaining cultural traditions while assimilating is what has made this country such an incredible, diverse place.

And like virtually all of the other groups who have come here, Hispanics come to the U.S.A. primarily seeking the opportunity that only comes with the kind of freedom, the kind of free market that we have here in this country.

The growth of Hispanic-owned small businesses is strong evidence of this thirst for opportunity, and an entrepreneurial spirit that has helped so many precious generations of immigrants to become major contributors to the U.S. economy.

Over 1.2 million of America's small businesses are owned by Hispanics...and the number of Hispanic-owned firms is growing at a rate of about 30 percent. That's twice the rate of all other firms. In an economy where small businesses create three-quarters of the net new jobs, this rate of increase is extremely significant.

As President George W. Bush has said, owning a small business is the "embodiment of the American dream." It is no coincidence that Hispanics and other immigrants seek the dream through self-employment. My own family did. The fact that this path also benefits our economy and creates jobs is much more than the icing on the cake - it's an essential part of our ongoing economic recovery, job creation and growth.

If we as a country want to help Hispanics assimilate and achieve the American dream, and ensure their ability to be entrepreneurial and create jobs, we've got to make sure we aren't weighing down that incredible entrepreneurial spirit with excessive taxation and government regulation at every level (local, state and federal). We've also got to take steps to make health insurance more affordable for the self-employed and the employees of small business. Our economy depends on making sure that the American dream can always be reached - for Hispanics, and, indeed, for all American entrepreneurs.

The Pew survey reminds us that Hispanics want the same things that those who came before them wanted: freedom and opportunity. Good jobs. Safe streets. Strong schools for their children. And many want to start, or grow, their own business. They share the values that made this country great, and that is why they are achieving what so many others have sought and achieved here: the American dream.

Hector Barreto is the Administrator of the U.S. Small Business Administration

The Power Of Our Inner World

By Rev. Alvin Petty
Calvary Baptist Church

You have heard it said, usually in a derogative descriptive way, "Oh, she lives in her own little world." But the truth is we all live in our own inner world.

The inner world is the abiding place of our thoughts, feelings and beliefs. These are what shape us and makes us what we are. They determine our behavior.

The good news is that we can change our thoughts, feelings and beliefs, and if we choose to change them we can change our lives. The purpose of religion is to help us choose and incorporate the best thoughts, feelings and beliefs about God, ourselves, others, the world and life. To fill one's inner world with ruling thoughts, feelings, and beliefs of positive, creative, upbuilding value is to help make a better world for us to live in and create a better grasp or coping ability upon reality and life for ourselves.

John 1:12 teaches that all who receive Christ are given the power to become children of God. 2 Corinthians 5:17 states that to be in Christ is to be made a new creation. But how does this work? What is the practical method by which these spiritual claims come to pass?

In this way only. Receiving Christ is receiving his way of living and lovingly serving our fellow man. Doing this involves choosing Christ's type of thoughts, feelings and beliefs to rule our inner world. These give us a new viewpoint on life, our acceptance by the Eternal, others and ourselves. Living and working in this new point of view is the new creation. It opens up a new world for us.

Perhaps you have always thought of the outer world as the "real world" and that happiness depends upon changing things in the outer world. To be sure, there is an outer, physical world but one's inner world is the more potentially powerful world.

"Happiness is an inside job," said John Marks Templeton. A strong inner world helps us cope with and shape our outer world into a place of greater peace and happiness for us. Without inner strength the circumstances of the outer world shall tend to inhibit or destroy us instead of us creatively interacting with it.

No one can develop the positive strength of their inner world in a social, historical, intellectual vacuum. There must be causes and stimulators. Even Jesus had a role model that he looked at to shape his behavior and attitude in fulfilling his mission. He had to grow in wisdom (Luke 2:52) and he had to decide what kind of anointed servant of God he would be (Matthew 4:1-11).

He looked to the unknown prophet of the second portion of Isaiah (chapters 40-66) as his model of mission and service (Luke 4:17-18). He focused on the message and concepts of Second Isaiah and became our Servant Leader and Savior.

But what if he had built his internal reality by focusing on his Jewish culture's narrow, nationalistic, prejudiced, militant, political image of the Messiah? There would be no positive impact of Christianity.

But he built his inner world around the Suffering Servant image (Isaiah 53) of God's servant and his inner world created a new world that is still a burning.

In smaller ways we too can create new worlds for ourselves and those we love by building and improving our own inner world with a better viewpoint to live by.

AUGUST employee-of-the-month at Prairie Acres Nursing Home is Jennifer Baize. She is a nurse. The resident-of-the-month, Wanda Hart, was not available for a picture.

My Life by Gladys Eubank

Every month a resident of Prairie Acres Nursing Home submits a story about his/her life's history to be submitted in the home's newsletter, "The Prairie Times," and for printing in this issue. This month we feature Gladys Eubank.

I was born September 30, 1918 in Cooper, Texas to James Alvin and Margaret Dunn. I had three sisters, one has passed away.

Dad was a barber in Cooper. He always raised a garden. Mom was a housewife and did sewing and canning. We girls had our assigned chores at home.

We lived across the street from the school. I went all 12 years in Cooper. I went to college at East Texas State University at Commerce, Texas which was 16 miles from Cooper and I was able to ride the bus back and forth.

We had skates and bicycles for fun and played the usual kid games.

Dad had a model-T Ford when I was a small child. I remember it having fenders and curtains instead of windows.

I moved to North Dallas and went to work at Robert T. Hill Middle School for 30 years. I really did enjoy my job and working with the kids. I got an award for Secretary of the Year.

I met Harold Eubank in 1948. We married in 1952!

He was a farmer and rancher in Truschott, Texas. After marrying, I retired from the school and went to work at a grain elevator as a bookkeeper.

Harold always wanted to take a trip to Mexico but we never got to go. He passed away in 1962 at the age of 48 from a heart attack.

I worked until I was 72. Then I was active in the AARP. I was secretary of the association, was active in my Church until my health got bad. Some retired friends and I would meet one day a month for a Retired Person Luncheon. I really enjoyed these and attended them until a year ago. I lived a modest life with no excitement!

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

MEAT AND MILK NOT TO BE EATEN AT THE SAME MEAL!

THREE TIMES THE BIBLE SPECIFICALLY STATES "THOU SHALT NOT SEETH (BOIL) A KID IN HIS MOTHER'S MILK" (EXODUS 23:18; EXODUS 34:26; DEUT. 14:21). THIS WAS GOD'S LAW LAID DOWN TO ISRAEL BY MOSES AND TO THIS DAY, THE ORTHODOX HAVE NO MEAT AND MILK AT THE SAME MEAL. MANY PEOPLE THINK THIS WAS A DIETARY LAW—THAT MILK AND MEAT TOGETHER WOULD NOT DIGEST WELL, ESPECIALLY IN THE HOT DESERT CLIMATE—WHICH IS NONSENSE! MILK AND MEAT BOTH HIGH PROTEIN FOODS, DIGEST AS EASILY TOGETHER AS THEY DO APART—NOT WEATHER OR CLIMATE. BUT THERE WAS A GOOD REASON IN MOSES' EYES FOR THIS LAW—VERY UNDERSTANDABLE WHEN WE EXAMINE A CUSTOM OF THE IDOL WORSHIPPERS WITH WHOM THE ISRAELITES CAME INTO CONTACT IN THEIR DAILY LIVING....

NEVER A DAY WENT BY THAT SOME HEATHEN FAMILY DIDN'T TURN UP AT THE TEMPLE WITH THIS DELECTABLE DISH, CONVINCED THEIR GODS WOULD ENJOY IT AND SO SMILE DOWN ON THEM WITH FAVOR! IS IT ANY WONDER, THEN, THAT MOSES ORDERED HIS PEOPLE TO HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH THIS DISH AT ANY TIME—EVEN! THE IDEA THAT SOME ISRAELITE MIGHT OFFER TO GOD THE SAME THING THAT WAS GIVEN TO A STONE IDOL WAS UNTHINKABLE! WE SHALL NOT DO AS THE HEATHEN DO! WAS THE ORDER OF THE DAY SO THAT ISRAEL MIGHT CONTINUE— "A PECULIAR (SPECIAL) PEOPLE" ABOVE ALL THE NATIONS THAT ARE UPON THE EARTH." (DEUT. 14:2)

MOSES CONSTANTLY ADMONISHED HIS PEOPLE TO STAY PURE IN GOD'S EYES—TO HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH HEATHEN IDOLATERS. THE YOUNG MEN WERE FORBIDDEN TO GO WITH THE DAUGHTERS OF BAAL, WHICH MANY OF THEM DID! AGES! COULD FORSEE THE DANGER OF HIS YOUNG NATION DISAPPEARING FROM EARTH, NOT BY WAR, BUT BY THE SILENT PROCESS OF INTED MARRIAGE—SO HE ORDERED ISRAEL TO AVOID ALL CUSTOMS OF HIS HEATHEN NEIGHBORS, TO FORESTAL ANY OF THE IDOL WAYS CREEPING INTO THE LIVES OF HIS PEOPLE. JUST AS SOME LATER BROUGHT SACRIFICES TO GODS ALTHO, SO DID THE HEATHEN TO THEIR IDOLS—A POPULAS OFFERING WAS A TASTY DISH OF BOILED YOUNG KID OR LAMB IN ITS MOTHER'S MILK (OR ANY MILK FOR THAT MATTER). THE MEAT SAUCE AND THE MILK BOILED INTO A SAVORY SAUCE, SO DELICIOUS THAT THE PRIESTS AND TEMPLE PROSTITUTES COULD HARDLY WAIT TO GOAB AND EAT IT BEFORE THE DONOR, WHO HAD BROUGHT IT, LEFT THE TEMPLE!

NEVER A DAY WENT BY THAT SOME HEATHEN FAMILY DIDN'T TURN UP AT THE TEMPLE WITH THIS DELECTABLE DISH, CONVINCED THEIR GODS WOULD ENJOY IT AND SO SMILE DOWN ON THEM WITH FAVOR! IS IT ANY WONDER, THEN, THAT MOSES ORDERED HIS PEOPLE TO HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH THIS DISH AT ANY TIME—EVEN! Keeping an Eye on Texas

Don't Mess With Texas
"Don't Mess with Texas" is the Texas Department of Transportation's litter prevention slogan developed in 1986. Today, according to <http://www.dontmesswithtexas.org>, more than 96% of Texans know the slogan, which has become world famous.
It costs approximately $37 million to clean up roadside litter in Texas each year. Ninety percent of this cost is paid for with tax dollars.

Amendment election set
The election to determine whether 22 proposed Constitutional Amendments become law in Texas is scheduled for September 13. Among the proposed amendments is a provision that would allow Texas homeowners to utilize Home Equity Lines of Credit (HELOC).
A HELOC is essentially a credit account based on a homeowner's equity. The Comptroller's Office estimates that homeowners could save as much as $741 million annually on interest charges and federal income tax deductions if HELOCs are authorized by Texas voters.

The seventh annual Amarillo Summer Arts and Crafts Festival will be held August 9th and 10th in the Amarillo Civic Center. More than 100 artists and crafters from throughout the Southwest will fill the south exhibit hall with original art, limited edition prints and hand-crafted items. Hours for the festival are Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. There is no admission charge to the craft show.

Mel Prather, organizer for the two-day event, said the upcoming show would feature a number of newcomers. "First-time exhibitors to this show will offer items such as planters, squirrel and bird feeders, lawn ornaments, picket fence furniture, scroll saw art, pottery, handmade silver jewelry, scented rocks, horseshoe art and star metal art," Prather said.

Bovina Artist Swafford Featured In Magazine

JIM BOB SWAFFORD

He also has done several paintings on the subjects of Texas history. He was commissioned to paint a scene of the drawing of the black bean titled, "On the Plain of Salado" for the Daughters of the Republic of Texas Museum in Austin. Another recently completed commission is for the old Fort Mason renovation project in Mason, Texas. The painting is titled, "Soldier of Peace" of a buffalo soldier and will be presented during the Old Fort Mason Days this summer.

Jim Bob's art career took a big jump when his entry in the national juried Arts for the Parks competition in Jackson Hole, Wyoming was accepted in the top 100 paintings. It was there that Mr. Ed Trumble, owner of Leanin' Tree greeting cards in Boulder, Colorado, saw Jim Bob's art and offered him a contract to publish his work. Jim Bob has just celebrated his eleventh year with Leanin' Tree.

West Texas native and Bovina resident Jim Bob Swafford is the featured artist on the June cover of the Rocky Mountain Rider Magazine published out of Hamilton, Montana. The Rocky Mountain Rider Magazine has been serving the Northern Rockies' communities since 1993 with a distribution in 500 locations in 11 states, specially selected for the convenience of horse people.

Jim Bob works out of his home studio in Bovina. His focus has been to develop a painting style of color and images that matches the beauty seen in the southwest landscapes, history and western lifestyle. Jim Bob also is noted for his portrait painting. Just recently he completed a commissioned painting of three young sisters related to the royal family of Thailand.

Jim Bob was also the featured artist in the March 2002 issue of the Western Horseman Magazine. He has exhibited in such prestigious invitational shows as the "Artist of the West Invitational" in Colorado Springs, Colorado; the "Art West of the Concho Invitational" in San Angelo, Texas; the "Art for the Parks" in Jackson Hole, Wyoming and the "National Cowboy Symposium".

Jim Bob works part time at Bovina Community Computer Network Center servicing the city of Bovina and surrounding area with free access to computers and computer classes.
