Ledbetter earns state 4-H honors with record book

Garza County may not have a dairy farm, but it does have a 4-H Dairy Foods Record Book winner who finished fifth in the recent state competition.

Lorry Ledbetter has been in 4-H for eight years and has spent many hours preparing a record book each year.

All of her hard work and good record keeping has paid off as her record book won first at district advancing to the state level judging where it placed fifth. This is the second consecutive year that Ledbetter's book captured first place in district and placed in the top five at state. She is the daughter of Bruce and Debbie Ledbetter and a member of Graham 4-H.

County's budget adopted

by John Cordsen

The Garza County Commissioners heard final comments from citizens last Friday morning, September 17 prior to passing the 1993-94 county budget and setting the tax rate.

The commissioners adopted a .285 tax rate to fund the county's $1,197,558 budget. The new tax rate is an increase from the .21 rate set last year. Even with the higher rate, the county budget was nearly $260,000 less than last year's $1.4 million budget.

Before the budget and tax vote, the commissioners court heard from two county residents. Earl Chapman and Tom Powers both expressed concerns over the tax increase.

Chapman said government leaders needed to take the tax burden off of people who can't afford it and put it on those who can.

"Some people aren't as fortunate as some to have other sources of income," said Chapman.

He said he understood the difficulty the commissioners faced in preparing the county's budget.

"I know what a horrible job it is to raise somebody's taxes, people are going to grumble," said Chapman.

He added, speaking on the way the state and federal government keeps passing mandates down to the local governments, that "something is going to have to come into adjustment sometime, we can't keep going on the way we are going."

Garza County Judge Giles Dalby agreed.

"What's killing us more than anything else are the state and federal mandates and we haven't even addressed the courthouse and bringing it into compliance with ADA guidelines," said Judge Dalby.

Funding for the courthouse will be decided by county voters in the November election.

Powers asked if the people could vote on the courthouse, why not on everything else?

"I think it would be really neat if the public could vote on everything that calls for major spending," said Powers.

Judge Dalby said current laws forbid this.

On a three to two vote, the commissioners approved Deanna Lee as the new County Home Economist.

Commissioners Herb Walls and John Valdez voted against hiring Lee. Commissioners Lee Norman and Albert Stone voted in favor. Judge Dalby broke the tie in favor of hiring Lee.

Motivational speaker scheduled to address Post students Sept. 30

When many people are just acting concerned about America's youth, Pat Porter and former Post students and currently a motivational speaker from West Monroe, Louisiana, is showing concerned action. There is a difference.

Porter, who attended seventh grade in Post, is looking forward to bringing his message to Post students and faculty during his visit with them on September 30. He will speak to Post Elementary, Middle School and High School students and faculty throughout the day. Parents who wish to attend may contact any of the three schools for times and programs.

Porter's work as a speaker finds him on the platforms of churches, the auditoriums and gymnasiums of schools and conference settings. He is in constant demand as a speaker and youth consultant where ever he goes. It has gained him the right to be heard as someone wanting to make a positive difference in his generation.

Porter's supporters say he is creating an atmosphere of positive peer pressure in the teenage community of America. He believes in the value of teens.

Porter says teens are America's most valuable resource. His popularity as a motivational youth speaker is due to his ability to speak the language of young people in a humorous, yet informative manner. They hear the truth in an encouraging way as it relates directly to the issues they face daily.

Porter's B.E.R.E.A.L. and CHOICES school assembly programs - which addresses alcohol and drug use, suicide, education and negative peer pressure - are presented to thousands of middle school, high school and upper elementary students each school month. Topics YOU'RE SPECIAL STUFF and GETTING T.U.F. ON ALCOHOL are Porter's challenges to the elementary students.

Last year alone, Porter spoke to over 60,000 students in 10 states. He will speak to over 200 school assembly audiences this year. He presents his GETTING T.U.F. ON ALCOHOL message to many elementary schools in a most humorous way that educates these youth at a very important age.

Porter is also a popular speaker for school-related organizations such as FFA, 4-H, FHA and motivational seminars for teenagers, youth leaders and teachers.

Founders' Day just weeks away

Black Tie and Boots dance moved to historic building

by Laura Puma

With October rapidly approaching, the seventh annual Founders' Day committee members are busy finalizing plans for another extraordinary celebration. Many artistic, cultural and fun filled activities are planned - something for the whole family - for everyone.

One of the highlights of Post's Founders' Day is always the dinner and dance. "It has been held on Thursday night in past years to accommodate the Post-Montgomery family and bull sale on Wednesday", says this year's Founders' Day chairman, Charles Wallace, owner of Wallace Lumber and Building Supplies. Historically the dinner dance has been hosted by one of the numerous ranches in the area and attended by folks from far and wide.

"The very first Founders' Day dinner and dance was held at the Macy Ranch and attended by some of the Post Cereal representatives", explains Patty Kirkpatrick, owner of Danish Imports, board member and avid supporter of the Main Street Project. Being quite taken by the dedication and enthusiasm of both the participants and the hard working committees, Post-General Foods offered support for Founders' Day and continues to help through donations and funding for advertising of this annual event honoring C.W. Post and the cities heritage.

1993 should top them all; a new location filled with nostalgia. History and memories ooze from the "Old Mill", as it is sometimes referred. That's right! The Postex Mill is going to open its vast doors and enormous floor space for the Grand Black Tie and Boots Dinner and Dance on Friday night, October 15.

How very appropriate that the old cotton mill, originally built by the Post founder as an economic base for his new city, should host this gala affair. Angela Hammond, Chairman of the Black Tie and Boots Dinner and Dance has big plans underway for a truly memorable evening at this famous landmark. The huge open warehouse, perfect for an old west display, will house an exhibit, with many old ranch wagons, early oil rigs and equipment, cotton bales and more; arranged for your enjoyment and leisurely viewing throughout the evening. As Patty Kirkpatrick stated with great compassion, "The purpose of Founders' Day is to commemorate the rich western and ranching heritage of the South Plains and Garza County area"

Sounds like the Black Tie and Boots party will be filled with a decor to remind everyone of its great ranching - western heritage. The festive decorations will carry over to the tables draped with silver cloths and centerpieces of black boot cutouts and lots of glitzy glitter all around.

Once inside this grand party your taste buds will come alive as the aroma of old west Bar-B-Q grabs you. The all you can eat buffet will include all the yummy trimmings to go with the delectable main course of brisket, chicken and sausage, with dessert, ice tea and coffee to top it all off. This grand culinary feast will be prepared and served by Shelby's Country Kitchen in Slaton; famous for just this kind of delicious spread.

Additionally two large beverage bars will be set up and tended by six able servers to aid in your purchase of added refreshments throughout the evenings entertainment.

Speaking of entertainment, the wild and zany bunch from KLLL-Lubbock's finest, John, Don and Jane will be the M.C.'s for the evening, introducing all the dignitaries and special guests and adding a bit of color to this special event, no doubt.

The festivities will be extremely enhanced by the mellow country western swing sounds of Jody Nix and the Texas Cowboys, truly a favorite in Post and all over west Texas. Jody will be singing and playing for your entertainment pleasure from 9 p.m. filling the "old mill" with the genuine sounds of the Texas swing; giving cause for lots of toe tappin', boot scootin' and good ole' country swingin', creating a little slice of music heaven just for you and yours.

During one of Jody and the band's well deserved breaks, the fun will continue. Yes, yes, it will be time for the spotlight to focus on the commemorative painting to be auctioned. This masterpiece was created especially for Post's seventh annual Founders' Day, by the local favorite and world renowned artist, Duward Campbell of Lubbock. Auctioneer for the evening will again be the verbose legal beagle, direct from Post, Rafe Foreman, trying, as he might, to increase the bids and find the lucky person who will indeed be taking home the original creation, as he yells, SOLD.

This year's painting, as yet untitled, is a scene of ranchers from the area discussing the newly found black gold with the oil field gents; old vintage derricks and pickups in the background. Surely to be another collectors item, prints of this historical scene will be reproduced and sold during Founders Day week. If you have collected some of the previous years prints by Mr. Campbell, you won't want to miss this addition. A few previous additions can still be purchased through the Post Chamber of Commerce, if you missed them during previous Founders Day celebrations.

Well, it's not over yet! The big raffle will also be part of this great night. A beautiful Model 94 Winchester Saddle Rifle, hand-engraved by the very talented craftsman Burt Sinclair will be given away on Friday night at the big dinner dance. Start buying those chances now! Available through the First National Bank of Post or the Post Chamber of Commerce at the very reasonable price of $5.00 each or six for $25.00. The rifle will be on display at the bank and various merchants over the next several weeks, so while banking or shopping look around for it, you won't be able to resist a chance at this beauty.

This magnificent affair will truly be a night to long remember, one you will want to celebrate with all of your friends and family. Make your reservations early! Tickets are available through the Chamber of Commerce office at 495-3461. Gather a group together and reserve a whole table for eight or tickets can be purchased individually. Tickets are $25.00 per person for this grand ball. Invitations will be mailed or can be picked up at the chamber and will include a map with easy directions to the southwest corner of the Postex Mill. Dress up in your glitzy western or frontier finery and be prepared for lots of good eatin', laughin', boot scootin' and plenty of fun - an extravaganza you will not want to miss!

Tax 'n Facts

by Terri S. Cash, CPA

The New Budget Bill

There is a sense of Robin Hood in the new budget bill that Congress has passed. It does indeed take from the rich in the form of higher tax rates and give to the poor in expanded earned-income tax credits, but some people in the middle may find themselves paying more, too.

Couples earning more than $140,000 in taxable income ($115,000 for singles) will be taxed at a marginal rate of 36 percent; a surtax to 39.6 percent is added on earnings over $250,000. And Medicare tax is due on all earned income beginning in 1994. The new tax rates are retroactive to January.

For the poor, those earning less than $11,000 a year, a larger earned-income tax credit makes working more worthwhile. The bill will make food stamps easier to get, too.

Taxes on Social Security benefits won't be changed until January 1994. Under a complicated formula, up to 85 percent of benefits can be taxed if the total of adjusted gross income, tax-exempt interest and half of Social Security benefits top $44,000 for couples, $34,000 for singles.

There are many other provisions of this new tax bill that have not been widely reported by the press. How will the new budget bill affect you? Make your reservations today for the tax seminar presented by our firm on September 30, 1993 at first National Bank in Post.

Junior 'Lopes handle Buffaloes

Behind the three touchdown performance of fullback Saul Martinez and a stifling defense, the Post Bold Gold Junior Varsity returned to the win column with a 26-0 shutout of the Stanton JV in Stanton last Thursday, September 16. The win upped the junior 'Lopes record to 2-1.

The Bold Gold offense controlled the ball for well over half of the ball game with Antelope quarterbacks taking 57 snaps from center.

"Offensively, if a team has 57 snaps from center, you will control the football game which we did," said junior varsity coach Mitch Rasberry. "I felt real good about our kids rebounding back after the Slaton game (an 18-8 loss). This showed pride and character."

Martinez put the first Antelope points on the board in the first quarter as he took an option pitch from JV quarterback B.J. Hart and ran in from five yards out. The two point conversion attempt failed leaving Post with a 6-0 lead.

'Lopes tailback Raymond Garza upped the Bold Gold lead to 12-0 in the second quarter with a six yard run off tackle for the score. The try for the two point conversion failed again.

Post's third touchdown of the game went to the defense. It came in the second quarter when Martinez, from his linebacker position, recovered a Stanton fumble in the endzone for an 18-0 Post lead.

Martinez capped off the Post touchdown parade in the third quarter as he dashed 65 yard to push the score to 24-0 in favor of the 'Lopes. The 'Lopes finished their scoring in the game when Robbie Wilborn carried the two point conversion for the final score of 26-0.

Even with the big win, Rasberry said the 'Lopes needed to work on a few of the finer points.

"To be a real good football team, we must eliminate the little mental errors such as penalties," explained Rasberry.

IN WHAT is becoming a familiar sight to opposing teams, Post tailback Tim Bell finds plenty of running room to the outside of the defense. The speedy Bell finished the night with 178 yards rushing. 'Lopes tackle Clint Melton (70) helped clear the holes for Bell.

'Lopes stampede Stanton

by John Cordsen

Heading into last Friday night's game between the Post Bold Gold Antelopes and the Stanton Buffaloes most football prognosticators were expecting a close game. Why not? Based on the first two weeks of the season, these two teams seemed to be evenly matched. At least on paper they did.

Once play began though, it became apparent that the 'Lopes didn't care much about how the game should have gone as the Bold Gold stamped the Buffalo 44-7 on the Antelope's home field. The 'Lopes just systematically dismantled the highly touted Buffaloes on both sides of the ball.

"This was really a payback time," said Bold Gold head coach Dwayne Osborne. "They really got after us last year (a 28-0 Post loss) and our kids kind of remember that -- I hope they did, I hope that was part of it, I hope we have that much character and integrity that we wanted to get back and I think we did."

Prior to their confrontation with the 'Lopes, the Stanton offense had literally run over its first two opponents. Led by all-state tailback candidate Ricky Lucas, the Buffaloes offense was galloping along at better than 452 yards a contest, including 775 yards on the ground in just two games and was ranked number one offensively for area 2A teams.

Post defenders weren't impressed. Led by linebackers Lemuel McDonald and Russ Bird, along with interior linemen Manuel Zubia and Alvin Reed and cornerback Oscar Acevedo, the Antelopes more than cut the Buffalo output in half, holding the Stanton attack in check with 204 yards. The Stanton rushing attack took the biggest hit on the night, as the Buffaloes could only muster 159 yards on the ground against Post. A noteworthy achievement considering the Post

Post opens district play in Ralls

Kickoff 7:30 p.m. this Friday

The Post Bold Gold Antelopes take their 2-1 record to Ralls this coming Friday, September 24 where they will take on the Jackrabbits in the district opener for both clubs.

Ralls, the defending District 4-2A champion from 1992 is winless so far this season. This is a sharp contrast to the 1992 edition of the Jackrabbits that went 10-0 during the regular season. They have been shutout in two of their first three games. It was not until last week against Roosevelt that the Jackrabbits broke into the scoring column with 13 points.

The Post Middle School and Junior Varsity teams start the Bold Gold football weekend against Ralls this coming Thursday. The J.V. hosts Ralls while the Middle School teams travel to the Jackrabbits home field.

defense wasn't even listed in the top ten area 2A schools heading into the game.

"Our kids just did a good job," said Osborne. "Our front folks (down linemen) allowed our linebackers to get where they needed to be."

The 'Lope linebackers did more than just get there, they got there with zeal. Just ask Stanton's Lucas. Early in the second quarter, McDonald introduced himself to the Buffalo tailback with a hit in front of the Post stands that brought ooh's and aah's from the crowd. Lucas had taken a pitch from Buffalo quarterback J.J. Ortiz and headed around right end. McDonald, slicing down the line from his linebacker position hit the 185 pound back, stopping him dead in his tracks. The force of McDonald's hit knocked his own helmet off and left the Antelope outside linebacker standing over his fallen foe with his helmet dangling from his mouthpiece.

"I'll tell you what, I haven't seen that in Post in quite a while," said Osborne of McDonald's reckless abandon he exhibited on defense.

McDonald and Zubia tied for the team lead with tackles with 11 apiece. Middle linebacker Bird was in on nine tackles and Reed, the big sophomore defensive tackle made his presence felt in just one quarter of action. While he was in there, Reed owned the line of scrimmage, making big hit after big hit. Reed twisted an ankle on kickoff coverage late in the first quarter while making a tackle after the 'Lopes second touchdown.

Along with the impressive yardage rung up by the Buffalo attack, Stanton was no stranger to the endzone, scoring 89 points in just two games. Again, the Antelope defenders weren't impressed. The 'Lopes didn't let Stanton cross the goal line until late in the third quarter.

Jerele Lee, filling in at the tailback slot for an injured Lucas (he went out not long after McDonald's eye popping hit) scooted around the left side of the Post defense for five yards and a score. Lee's score was not only the first and only Stanton points of the game, it was also the first time the 'Lopes had given up any points on their home field this season. The extra point made the score Post 34, Stanton 7.

Offensively, the Bold Gold continued to roll, denting the third best 2A defense in the area for 403 yards. Not bad

Eighth grade rally falls short

The 57 snaps equaled 341 yards offense for the Bold Gold. The 'Lopes' rushing attack netted 302 on 50 carries with the other 39 yards coming through the air on three of seven passing.

On the other side of the ball, the Post defense limited the Buffaloes to less than half of the Bold Gold yardage with 154 total yards in the game. Post defenders limited Stanton to 111 yards on the ground in 31 carries. The Buffalo passing attack added another 43 yards of four of seven passing.

"Defensively we did a super job," said Rasberry. "We played every kid and each of them did a heck of a job. We had our first shutout of the year and we really dominated the line of scrimmage the entire ball game."

Cody Nelson got the Post eighth grade Antelopes off to a good start in their September 16 game in Post with a 58 yard run for a touchdown on the game's first play from scrimmage. After the two point conversion attempt failed, Post led 6-0 before the fans had time to settle into their seats.

Stanton roared back as the visiting Buffaloes scored two times in the opening period to take a 16-6 lead. The Buffaloes increased their lead to 24-6, returning an interception for a touchdown.

The 'Lopes climbed right back into the game scoring 12 unanswered points before the two teams went into the locker room for half time. The first came on a three play drive that was culminated by a 29 yard pass from Jamie Hernandez to Steve Gonzales. Hernandez and Anthony Gomez combined a little later on for another touchdown pass. The catch and run covered 29 yards and concluded a five play drive.

After Stanton had scored the only points in the third quarter to take a 32-18 lead into the final period, the 'Lopes mounted a comeback that ended with Post holding the ball on the Stanton 20 yard line as time expired. Prior to that, Hernandez had brought Post back to within striking distance when he tossed his third touchdown pass of the contest. This time he teamed with Anthony

The Post Antelope's collected 333 total yards offensively in a 28-0 victory at Ralls for their second win of the season. The 'Lopes limited the Jackrabbits to 145 yards on offense.

The 'Lopes rushed for 229 yards and went to the air for another 138 yards on 28 carries and one touchdown pass reception for 40 yards.

Giles Dalby Jr. rushed for 19 yards on four tries, Daniel Gonzales pickup up 13 on three and Tracy Price got 67 yards on two carries and one touchdown.

L.D. Harper caught three passes for 27 yards and two touchdowns, Charles Johnson got one for 11 yards and Daniel Gonzales caught two for 26 yards, as quarterback Joel Kirkpatrick completed seven of 13 passes.

James Brown was the leading tackler as the defense contained the 'Rabbits behind efforts by J.R. Greathouse, David Shults, Keith Osborne, Giles Dalby Jr. and Curt Greer.

Two of the best 3A football teams in the state of Texas battled to a near standoff here Friday night as the number one ranked Littlefield Wildcats disrupted the Post Antelope homecoming in a 14-7 defensive struggle.

A jam-packed, fence-row, standing-room-only crowd witnessed two powerhouse teams slam up against equally strong defenses.

In the end, Littlefield's experience and overall team size made the difference as the 'Lopes were unable to take advantage of crucial turnovers and third down situations.

To our wonderful EMTs, to all our "family" of golfers who helped at the golf course, to our special friends that stood by our side through the critical and really scary times, to all our friends that came to the hospital both in Post and in Lubbock, to those that called and sent cards, to our wonderful pastor Bob Green, to all those who said a special prayer for Jimmie and to our loving family--we say, "THANK YOU AND GOD BLESS".

From the Pulpit Let the children lead

It was a sort of "David and Goliath" moment! And Danae, the four-year old "David" flung pebbles that punctuated like delightful skyrocket star-showers. The point I started to make? That I don't believe the continuous grouching of Dennis the Menace's grumpy neighbor, Mr. Wilson.

"Grown-ups need you," I started telling the children.

"Do you like frogs?" she interrupted.

It took a few moments for the congregation to settle themselves, restless natives that they are.

I began again: "Children have a responsibility to carry joy to older people."

"Do you like crocodiles?" she demanded.

By now the congregation was convulsing with laughter.

"I love crocodiles," said I. "They smile a lot."

"Children are a blessing from the Lord," I tried to say.

"Do you like windows?" I assure you, not one of our sanctuary's marvelous stained-glass windows was as bright as that moment!

"A little child..."

"Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven," said my Lord... "See that you do not despise one of these little ones; for I tell you that in Heaven their angels always behold the face of my Father who is in Heaven."

Despise?... Oh, Dear God, do it again! Let a child banish my tears and my fears and my years! Oh, Dear Father, make me a child again!

And you, my friends? What were you thinking about during that episode? Your pain?... I doubt it. Your remorse?... I doubt it. Your sorrow?... I doubt it. Your failure?... I doubt it. Your enemy?... I doubt it.

In "Casablanca," Bogey says, "Play it again, Sam..."

Oh, to recapture such a moment! But we can't possess a rainbow. It blesses us; then it's gone. But we own the memory! And the joy goes on...

"There's a Sweet, Sweet Spirit in This Place..."

"...And a little child shall lead them." (Isaiah 11:6)
