Chamber honors community leaders during banquet

by John Cordson

People who have helped shape Post and make it the community it is today were the recipients of this year's three big Post Chamber of Commerce awards handed out at the annual chamber banquet last Saturday at the community center. A pioneer who spent his boyhood days growing as Post grew, a business that spans two generations and a lifelong resident were honored at the Post Chamber of Commerce annual banquet held February 18.

Post pioneer, the late Roy Stevens, was inducted into the Garza County Cowboy Hall of Fame while life long resident Delores Redman was honored as the Post Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year for 1993. Business of the Year honor went to Hudman Furniture.

Stevens received his honor posthumously. The lifelong cowboy passed away November 10, 1992 at the age of 91. Born in Robert Lee, Texas on October 3, 1901 to Frank and Mollie Stevens, he moved to Post with his family in 1907 where his father had a job working for city founder C.W. Post.

Stevens had one of his first cowboys jobs working for the Matador Ranch in Motley County when he was 17. His resume included a number of Post ranches. Among these he could count as bosses Jay Slaughter and the U Lazy S, Giles Connell at the OS Ranch and J.E. Birdwell at the Double U. He also worked for Connell Chevrolet, Post Mill and he and his wife Ollie operated Two Draw Lake for several years.

Stevens paid the price for his choice of professions. Numerous broken bones, roped off fingers and the normal wear and tear that went along with cowboy life did not bring any regret from Stevens.

He loved to dance, liked new hats and boots. He also love knives. According to his family, Stevens had quite a collection of knives that during his later years in Twin Cedars Nursing home, he would often ask about the collection.

He married Ollie Hancock in Post on October 8, 1930. They couple had one daughter, LaRue Jones who currently lives in Levelland. Stevens heirs also include two grandchildren, Steve of Levelland and D'Les of Dallas and two great-grandchildren in Levelland, Tye and Caycee Jones.

Involvement is a big word for 1993 Citizen of the Year Delores Redman. The mother of four also has six grandchildren. She has not only been a citizen of Post for her entire life, she has also been one of the city's staunch supporters.

Among her activities she can include serving on the Main Street Committee, Founders' Day Committee and Scholarship Committee. She is also a member of the Post United Methodist Church where she has served on the Pastor Parish Relations Committee. Her church involvement does not stop there, she has participated in the choir for 20 years and is a member of the sweet sounding bell choir.

Redman worked for the First National Bank of Post for 11 years and has worked for the Post Housing Authority for the past 10 years. Through this association, she has been elected as the president of the Top of Texas Housing.

And, according to 1992 Citizen of the Year Paul Jones who introduced Redman, she is the Texas HUD state champion shuffleboard player.

Local photography group influences Tech exhibit

The Caprock Photographers presence was felt in more ways than one in Texas Tech's "Behind the Lens of West Texas" photography competition. Not only did a number of Caprock Photographers compete in the event, organizers of the Tech exhibit borrowed on the expertise of the Post group to help with the competition.

"It is nice to know that due to the CP's success with their Annual Fall Show, Tech consulted with the Caprock Photographers for guidelines and input for holding a photographic competition," said Bill Mueller, Caprock Photographers vice president. "And for this year's show, they adapted much of their format from the Caprock Photographers fall exhibit."

Gail Littleton and Jessica Smarti coordinated the competition for the University Activities Center. Littleton recently expressed her gratitude and pleasure at the support offered by the Caprock Photographers.

The Caprock Photographers participating in the second annual Tech exhibit were Glenn Johnson, Joanne McCrary Jr., (First Nature/B&W), First Open/B&W), Johanna McCrary, (Second Nature/C, Second Sunrise/Sunsets), Joe Miller, (First Nature/C), and Bill Mueller, (First Portraits/C, Third Sunrise/Sunset).

Noted wildlife photographer Wyman Mienzer jurored the exhibit.

There are also several Caprock Photographers with works on display at various places. Kim Brown has a couple of images printed in the book The Big Click which covered the Fourth of July weekend in 1993. Glenn and Joanne Johnson have quite a few pieces on display in the recently opened Godbold Cultural Center in Lubbock.

Locally, the Caprock Photographers currently have a new exhibit hanging in the office of the Caprock Cultural Association and one of Glenn Johnson's images in on display at the SPS office.

Lubbock group seeks to teach through music

"Rapunzel, Rapunzel, let down your golden hair!" The words are from a fairy tale written two hundred years ago, but Rapunzel is definitely a band for the '90's. Their incendiary live show is legendary among the 45,000 kids who have seen them in action.

Post students will have the opportunity to see and hear the band first hand as Rapunzel performs at Post Middle School on March 2 beginning at 3 p.m.

Rapunzel is no ordinary rock band. A group of talented and innovative musicians, the four members also care a great deal about their audience. "We see the pressures and problems kids face today and we want to be there for them," said Scott Fairs, the group's guitarist and founder. Since 1989, Rapunzel has toured public schools in this region imparting a crucial message: It's cool to be drug-free.

"This is something we believe in. We're not here to criticize someone who uses alcohol or drugs, but when someone wants help, we provide it," said Scott. The band maintains a hotline with the Lubbock Regional Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse for people seeking help (1-800-658-2013), corresponds with fans all over the state, and meets with students personally to get to know them. It's not uncommon for band members to drive 90 miles to meet with one student.

Shunning the stereotype associated with most bands, Rapunzel members and crew do not use drugs, alcohol, or even cigarettes. "We believe you can be a musician and still be clean and sober," says keyboardist Amy Faris.

Rapunzel's intense musical style can be heard on its self titled EP, available at record stores in Lubbock. From the driving "Something Higher" to the ballad "As the Fire Dies," Rapunzel delivers precise musicianship and haunting melodies.

Rapunzel members cite such musical influences as King's X, Eric Johnson, Dream Theater, and Living Colour. In concert, Rapunzel plays a variety of music, including compositions, an acoustic set, and current rock and heavy metal tunes.

Band members, along with manager Glenda Cameron, established a non-profit corporation in 1991 to support

Giles McCrary donation adds to scholarship search

POST businessman Giles McCrary added another tool to Post High School's growing scholarship search data base. McCrary presented the school with a video detailing scholarship sources and how to go about applying. Last year McCrary gave the school computer software that helps students with enrollment information.

Accepting the donation for the school was instructor James Easterling (left).

Dear Friends,

I'm writing this letter to our friends and people of this community. We've all seen the tragedies in our town recently. Elizabeth and I want everyone to know, from the bottom of our hearts, we thank you all for your prayers, flowers, love, food, cards, and the shoulders we cried on. We want this to have a positive effect in this community for years to come, because that's what our son would have wanted. I know everyone is talking about the relationship that my son and I had, but let us not lose sight that our son had another relationship that was even more precious and dear than ours, that was his relationship with our Father in Heaven. We would like for every child and parent to work for these relationships in their lives in our son's name.

There's so many people that did so many different things for us, we could never thank everyone. We want to say our hearts are very heavy and in deep sorrow, but the funeral was really a tribute to our beloved son. We know God welcomed our son to his army of angels and he's watching over us. We'll join our son again when God calls us. So, let us all be good Christians as he was.

We love you all. God bless you.

Larry, Elizabeth, Lisa, Cynthia, and Katrina

'Lopes close out hoop season with wins over Tahoka and Idalou

by John Cordson

This time there was no double overtime thriller as the Post Antelopes needed only the regulation 32 minutes to dispatch the visiting Tahoka Bulldogs 70-56 in basketball action Tuesday, February 15. The last time these two teams met January 21 in Tahoka they hooked up in a real nail biter that went into double overtime before Post came away with a one point, 69-68 win.

This time there was not the same drama as the continually improving 'Lopes out scored Tahoka in all but the third quarter. The 'Lopes led 19-10 after one period, 34-21 at the half and by 14 at the final gun.

Cody Bain led the Antelopes in scoring with 23 points. Bodie Simpson added 14 while Brody Moore and Russ Bird each scored 11 in the 'Lopes win.

The 'Lopes completed their successful 1993-94 run with a narrow 55-54 win over the Idalou Wildcats in Idalou. Post needed a fourth quarter rally to edge the home standing Wildcats. Falling behind 18-10 after the opening period, the 'Lopes slowly chipped away at the Idalou lead and trailed 43-38 heading into the final eight minutes of their season. They responded, outscoring Idalou 17-11 in the period to take the win.

Scoring for Post were: Russell Baldree, 4; Bain, 13; B Simpson, 15; Moore, 8; Bird, 4; Alvin Reed, 10; Clint Melton, 1.

The win raised the 'Lopes final record to 16-12 on the year and 9-3 in district play. The win also gave the 'Lopes outright possession of third place in the final district standings.

The 'Lopes finished the season strong, winning 10 of the 14 games they played in January and February. Before the Christmas break, the 'Lopes record stood at 6-8. After the break, the 'Lopes dropped their first two games against Crosbyton and Lubbock Christian. A win against Sundown was followed by a blowout loss to eventual district champion Seagraves. The 'Lopes would lose only once more the remainder of the season.

Coach Mitch Rasberry's squad ripped off six straight wins before falling for the second time to Seagraves. They closed out the season with a three game winning streak.

Before their final two games, coach Rasberry thought he knew the reason behind the 'Lopes surge over the last 14 games.

"Why have we turned it around? We started playing defense," said Rasberry. "We had a string where we held our opponents to 44-42 and 53 points. We're just doing something right on defense."

BRODY MOORE drives the baseline against the Tahoka Bulldogs.

Freshmen boys complete 10-3 season with win over Wildcats

A second quarter surge lifted the Post Bold Gold freshmen boys to a season ending 61-52 win over the Idalou Wildcats. The victory left the 'Lopes with a 10-3 record and the unofficial district champions.

After a tight first quarter that left the 'Lopes up by only three, 12-9, Post blew the game open in the second period, outscoring the Wildcats 17-3.

"We were sluggish at the first of the game, but we recovered and played real well at times," said freshmen coach Lane Tannehill.

As they have all season, Jerry Crawford and Josh Grisham were the big offensive guns for the 'Lopes, pouring in 22 and 20 points.

Freddy Pena added eight points to the 'Lopes winning effort while Todd Terry had five, Jeremy Josey four and Roy Perez, two. Playing but not scoring were Jay Childers and Nathan Webb.

"I have been real proud of the improvement of this team," said Tannehill. "We are the unofficial freshmen boys district champions. We have had success against teams that have beaten us in the past. It is a real tribute to these kids for their dedication and efforts."

Little Dribbler signup March 1

Sign up time for the Little Dribbler girls basketball program will be March 1 from 6 to 7 p.m. in the community room of the First National Bank of Post. The program is open to girls in the third through sixth grades. Cost will be $5 per girl. They also need a parent or guardian's signature.

The fifth and sixth grade girls will meet for their first practice Thursday, March 3 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym. The third and fourth grade girls will meet for their first practice Tuesday, March 8 from 6 to 7:30 p.m., also in the high school gym.

Little league baseball season fast approaching

Directors of the summer little league program here in Post are preparing for another busy season. A number of changes are on tap for this year's little league offering including the formation of a girls softball league.

Due to the large demand from the community and little league requirements, the little league directors decided to create the league for girls ages 7-12.

Along with this added responsibility comes additional costs that the board must consider.

To help offset these costs, board members have visited with a number of area baseball programs on how they met the financial responsibilities of providing the summer activities. Out of these visits, the board has decided to set the sign up fees for participants at $25 per year or $20 per player when a family has three or more players.

The board said that last season it cost approximately $60 per child to participate in the program.

Sign up period for both boys and girls begins March 1 and continues through March 4. Sign up will be at the Norman Insurance Agency at 204 E. Main from 7 until 9 p.m. nightly. For more information contact any board member.

innovative solutions to the problems kids face today. R.A.D.A.R. TOWER INC. (The Rock Alliance for Drug Awareness and Resistance) was born. Since that time, the corporation has received five grants from local and state agencies to provide anti-drug programs across the South Plains.

Rapunzel recently received grants from the Terry County Juvenile Probation Department and the Texas Juvenile Probation Commission to serve students in twenty schools across the South Plains. The program will kick off Wednesday, March 2 with a musical assembly at 3 p.m.

Who is this band?

Scott Faris - Founder and Guitarist Born in Denver, CO, Scott began playing guitar at age 11. "My dad was in the Air Force, so we moved a lot when I was young. I began playing on Guam.

"When I was eight, I told my parents I wanted to be in a rock band. They thought it was a phase that would pass. I kept bothering them until I got a guitar for my birthday. My folks are cool about it now, especially since I've earned my living from guitar since 1987."

Scott, a graduate of Texas Tech, teaches guitar with David Brandon, a world-renowned classical guitarist, at Brandon Guitar Studio in Lubbock.

Amy Goode Faris - Keyboardist Amy, a Lubbock native, has played piano since age 6. "I've been making up songs forever. My parents even have a tape of me 'improvising' words an music when I was two-and-a-half."

A graduate of Texas Tech, Amy has just completed a degree in music composition and is a church pianist. "I love writing and performing all kinds of music...everything from heavy metal to gospel to classical."

Mike Hogan - Drummer/Vocalist Mike was born in Lubbock and began playing drums in church at age 11. "Drums are just a part of me. When I was 7, I got a Muppets 'Animal' drumset and drove my parents crazy playing along with an 8-track of Charlie Pride."

Mike now teaches at Ziegler Music Company and is pursuing a substance abuse counseling degree at Tech. "I feel like God has given me a gift and I want to use it to help other people. In the band, faith is a very important part of our lives."

Tax 'n Facts
by Terri S. Cash, CPA
WHO MAKES THE 401 (K) DECISIONS
Today's workers are far less likely to get a company pension when they retire than those of a generation—or even a decade ago. More common is a tax-deferred, salary reduction plan such as the 401 (K).
When companies funded pensions themselves, they decided how the money should be invested. Today, though, each participant in a 401 (K) has the right to allocate his or her money amongst the investment options offered in the company's plan. Most often, it makes available between two and six different types of funds, ranging from very conservative to those seeking aggressive growth.
What's right for you? Because most participants are amateurs in investing, they tend to choose overly conservative options that typically earn a few points less than professionally managed pension plans. A guaranteed investment contract sounds safest --which is why so many people choose it—but many plans do well with a balanced fund offering both stocks for growth and bonds for current income.

'It's good to get away, but it's so hard to make up a week out of the office. The piles of paper seem to multiply like rabbits when I'm gone. Anyhow, I'm home again, and it's business as usual.

The Girl Scouts did a wonderful job at the recycling trailer last Wednesday. They gave curbside service in addition to removing labels.

The leader, Jacquita Blevins, said there were about 10 girls there and they had a good time. Thank you Girl Scouts and your leader! Performing community service gives you a good feeling doesn't it! If you are interested in becoming an Adult Master Volunteer, call me and we can go to "Trash Camp" in Brownwood in November. It is an "in-depth" program about solid waste management, and involves some pay back hours for this training. I just found out about the camp, and it would be especially helpful when we start expanding our recycling efforts. If you are interested, I'll get more information.

The week spent in College Station at the Family Institute was very beneficial. We had opportunities for workshops in Gerontology, Consumer Protection Issues - Insurance, Achieving Financial Fitness in the 90's, Public Policy Issues impacting Children, Youth and Families, plus many more. We heard speakers from Texas A & M Graduate School talk about the Age of Information as opposed to the Technological Age. The speaker confirmed what we already know about the economic effect this has on any community. Rather than dwell on the negatives though, we need to be reminded of the benefits of the Information Age and make our own niche! Some of the benefits, of course, are customized manufacturing and overhead shrinkage which results in lower prices. Seventy-five percent of our economy is in the service industry, there is less manufacturing, and even less agriculture. I will say that again our young people will ALL have to be computer literate. It is no longer a choice, all of our children will use computers in their daily lives, whether they like it or not. This is the Age of Information, and more than ever our young people need to be self-motivated, self-directed, and disciplined.

Juniors and Seniors interested in the 4-H Clothing Project, don't forget to come to the Reddy Room at 3:30 Thursday, February 24 to hear about silkworms. We'll also discuss the other programs tentatively planned for the Project. Debbie Ledbetter and Nora Ratke have agreed to be the Project leaders...thank you both.

Letters to the Editor

Dear City of Post,
We've often heard it said that Jesus' love is intangible. We can honestly say that we've had the opportunity to see Jesus' love in action through all of YOU - your prayers, visits, gifts and time given from your busy schedules.

There are not words to express our heartfelt gratitude to those involved in the initial reporting of the accident, those who comforted the boys until the ambulance arrived, the EMT's, the staff at the hospital, those involved in the transportation, and now the staff of the ICU at UMC.

We would like all of the youth to know that we truly admire all of you. YOU are special! You've had a traumatic experience and yet you're reaching out to others.

No amount of money or words of praise would be enough to compensate all of you. So instead, we pray that Jesus will bless each of you as you have so richly blessed us.

Unfortunately, we need to address the problem of rumors. We know that people who know us personally would not be taken in. However, we've heard several disturbing things. When our names are mentioned, please feel free to call us and get the facts.

She is the wife of Garza County businessman Jimmy Redman.

The end of World War II brought about many changes in Post. Servicemen were returning from the war to pick up their lives. Many started new ventures, among them were Victor and Marvin Hudman. Opening its doors for business for the first time in late December of 1945, Hudman Furniture has been a mainstay of the Post business community from its original location at 301 E Main for better than 49 years.

The business has spanned the careers of two generations as Curtis Hudman joined the family business a number of years ago.

The business has been a loyal supporter through the years of the Post schools, booster club, Retail Merchants' Association, the chamber of commerce, the Garza County Junior Livestock Association as well as helping out with donations to numerous organizations and fund-raisers within the community.

Hudman Furniture was also a charter member of the Main Street Program.

Open six days a week, Hudman's Furniture continues to stock just about everything to serve the home.

The chamber also honored outgoing chamber directors Rafe Foreman and Curtis Hudman. Incoming directors include Marvin Butler and Greg Williams. Becky Warren began her year as chamber president, taking over for Foreman who served in that capacity last year.

During the Casino night activities. Guests were given Post City Bucks with their tickets. They then "gambled" with this funny money. Winnings could be used to purchase chances for a number of door prizes that were donated by local businesses. The big prize of the night was a ski trip to New Mexico. Ora Beth White was the lucky one to have her name drawn for the trip.

The chamber offered its thanks to the following for making the banquet/casino night a huge success:

First National Bank of Post, Citizens Bank of Post, KPDS, Post Dispatch, Danish Imports, Jan's, Handy Hardware and Gifts, Frame Shoppe and Lillie Dale's. The chamber would also like to thank the citizens of Post for their support.

Scholarship deadline March 1

As spring approaches the time for graduation draws nearer. Many generous local organizations and individuals provide scholarship funds to help students attend college or vocational school.

Applications for these scholarships are available in the counselor's office at the high school. The deadline for returning a completed form is March 1.

Awards will be announced at the annual assembly in May.

From the Pulpit
Why do bad things happen to good people?

This must be a question that has been asked more than one by each of us. Why is it that good God fearing people are so often faced with heartache and pain? Why must the good be called upon to suffer?

Paul put it this way in 1 Cor. 4 (8-9).

"We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed."

This scripture tells us that trouble will come to us all. Things will happen that may cause us to ask, Why? There may be times when we may feel cast down. There may be times when the hurt will be so strong that we may feel too weak to bear the load.

But this scripture also teaches us that we have a God to turn to. A God who will lift the distress. A God who will break the Despair. A God who will not forsake us. A God who will not allow us to be destroyed. These are His promises to us, if we only trust in Him.

Why do bad things happen to good people? Maybe it is because that only through suffering the bad that we can fully comprehend the goodness of God. It is always after the storm that the air feels so fresh. It is only after the storm that God can feel so near.

Being a person who has seen his share of suffering and pain.. A person who has felt cast down. A person who has felt that the burden was too heavy. I would like to share with you some things that God has taught me.

First, remember that Jesus loves you. He is not your enemy, he is your friend. He has promised to never leave or forsake you. He never promised us a life without pain, but he did promise to be there to lift the burden and carry us through the storm. 1 Peter 5 (7) says, "Casting all your care upon Him, for He careth for you."

Next, do not blame God for the Devils work. It is the Devil who is your enemy. John 10 (10) says, "The thief cometh not, But for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy, I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly."

Do not turn away from God in the midst of the storm, because when you do you turn to your enemy, the Devil.

And lastly, remember Romans 8(28) "we know that all things work together for good to them that love God..."

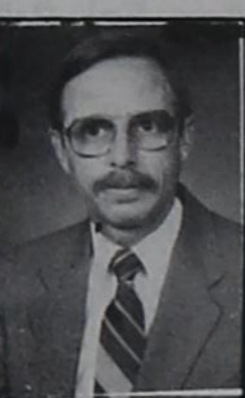

That means that all things that happen in our lives, will produce some good purpose. God can bring some good out of the worst of storms.

Our community has recently faced a terrible storm. Two of our families are hurting. Good people are suffering. It may seem more than they can bear. But through Gods love, even the worse can produce goodness. Let us bind together as a community of believers and slow our love and support to our friends. Let us offer up prayers of support and comfort. Let us each share the hurt by taking it to Jesus and laying it in His hands.

May God bless each life that bears the scar of such pain. May God lift the hurt and give each life strength to carry on. May each friend, each student, each teacher, find the goodness of God as the storm clouds clear.

May this community be brought together in Gods love and may we each feel the fresh blessings of God in our lives as He heals the broken hearts.

God Bless you all, Don Blacklock
