Firefighters battle several grass fires

Kirkpatrick lease burns

by Bill Galusha

Post's Volunteer Fire Department has been working to full capacity. With the record breaking heat of the last two weeks an excessive amount of fires have been scorching the countryside.

June 27th started out as any normal day. It was hot and dry, with no relief in sight. When the shrill sound of the fire siren broke what little peace there was. The fire was near Justiceburg, on the John Ward Ranch.

The first of many fires that would take up to a total for some of the firefighters of up to 24 hours before they would know any real rest. As soon as they would finish fighting one fire another would begin. Finally after putting out the four or five fires (depending on who you asked) at approximately four am on their way home from Justiceburg, they spotted another fire.

This time it was south of Post on the Kirkpatrick oil lease. Though weary and exhausted from the many hours of battles, they turned onto the road that led them to the fire. Lightning was determined by the fire department to be the cause of the grass fire. With the lack of rain and the scorching temperatures the grazing land was a tinder box, just waiting for ignition.

Zoe Kirkpatrick received the call from her neighbors about 5:30 AM June 29th informing her there was a fire believed to be on their property. With the fire department already on the job, there was little she could do. "I fixed them (the firefighters) some sandwiches and iced tea," Kirkpatrick said.

Texas Department of Public Safety officers, John Ramsey and Kyle Edwards were there to do "what-ever we can to help, just standing by to bring in drinks or sandwiches or whatever," said officer Ramsey. All the vehicles that were not actually fighting the fires were centrally located around one of the wells and was referred to as the "Command Post".

The neighboring town of Fluvanna sent their fire truck and two firefighters to assist in the battle. James Aaron and Jimmy Stribling were the firemen who responded with the truck. "We were finished with the fires in Justiceburg and we spotted the fire, we thought it was closer than it was. We started heading for it and we kept driving and driving and here we are," said Stribling.

Stribling and Aaron had been busy fighting fires in the two areas since around Four or Five pm the previous day. "It sure will feel good to get some rest," said Aaron.

To help remedy the problem of no roads Jack Kirkpatrick had his road maintainer brought on to the scene. Though having to deal with ravines, dry washes and creeks, the slow process of cutting make-shift roads to the hot spots was accomplished.

As with any grass fire in grazing land the problem of re-ignition was evident. No sooner would one area be put out, another would start again. "The problem with cow chips is, they will set there

OS Museum opens summer exhibit

by Bill Galusha

The OS Museum has opened its summer collection with items ranging from authentic re-creations to the Swords of Antiquity, and Russian Lacquer boxes to Ivory and Cloisonné from Asia. These are just a few of the remarkable items that will be on display in the museum until October 15.

Located at 201 East Main St., Post, Texas. The museum hours are from 10am to 5pm daily, Monday through Saturday. The museum is located in the old (C.W. Post), office building upstairs. An elevator is available for those who wish to use it. There is no admission charge to see the exhibit.

"Will McCrary is a world wide traveler and has collected these items from all over the world," said Marie Neff, museum curator. The items have all been donated to the museum through McCrary's generosity as well as many other folks that have a desire to preserve history for future generations to come.

"We have school children come through from all over the area and they find it a learning experience as well as entertaining," said Neff. The old building that once housed C.W. Post's office's is a history lesson in itself.

A little history

Garza in the beginning

by Bill Galusha

The Garza Theatre first opened in Post in 1916 under the name of, "The Palace Theatre". Hollywood was virtually non-existent during those early years, but Vaudeville was in its heyday.

When the "Palace" Garza Theatre opened there were no movies or recorded music. The entertainment was provided by on stage actors and live music boomed from the orchestra pit. Air-conditioning was yet to be invented and the only cooling came from the windows on the East side of the building.

The "silent" movie era began in Post around the early 1920s. The only sound to be heard was from the orchestra pit or the piano accompaniment, though moans and groans from the audience as actors like Charley Chapman performed there hilarious stunts was not unusual.

As time went on and the motion picture industry progressed, the "Talky" or sound movie came into production, another mile stone in movie history had gone by the way-side.

New projectors had to be bought and speakers had to be installed to provide the sound. Sound from a moving picture show made the theatre even more popular. More room was needed to accommodate the ever growing crowds that stormed in to see the latest new invention.

Along with the new addition to the building came indoor plumbing and the old wood and coal burning stoves were replaced. With the erection of the new buildings on either side of the theatre came the need for fresh air, since the windows were boarded up and the cool night breeze was no longer possible. This UN-doubtably was the beginning to the end for the Garza.

During the war years of the 1940s the Theatre added another novelty. Money was in short supply and attendance to the theatre was down.

In an attempt to bring back people to the theatre drawings were begun, cash prizes were offered to the lucky winner.

Tickets were handed out at the door and during intermission the tickets were placed into a drum of sorts and a member of the audience was asked to come on stage and pick the lucky winner. A cash prize of $25.00 was awarded the holder the winning ticket.

With the war still raging in Europe all available support was needed from the folks back home, both moral and financial. In conjunction with the rest of the nations 17,000 theaters, the Garza began a week long salute to the American Red Cross. Each movie was begun with a salute to the much needed and deserving organization.

The war finally ended in 1945 and the our men were coming home from

Youth program registers over 250

by Bill Galusha

With the end of a school year comes the question "what can we do to keep our children occupied." The answer to the question came from a joint effort between the city of Post, the School Board and Garza county.

A youth program is what we need, something to help the children keep occupied and in the same token, aid the working mothers who would need a baby-sitter. The idea was the brain child of County Judge, Giles Dalby.

To help coordinate the "Youth Program" Susan Radle was put in charge. The program was first begun three years ago. The first year started off with 100 children signing up for the program, the second year saw over 200. This year in the middle of the program there are 275 children signed up.

The children are dropped off at the school in the morning and remain in the supervised hands of school personnel until they are picked up by their parents around noon. They are given breakfast in the morning and lunch before they leave.

"The program has progressed beyond our expectations, it's a wonderful program. It aids the working mothers and cuts down on juvenile crime by keeping our youths off the streets," said Judge Giles.

All youth from the age of five years old and up and a resident of Garza County are eligible for the program. Activities are planned and supervised by Susan Radle and authorized school personnel.

Monday and Tuesday are "game and film day". Films are chosen by supervisors and shown to the children and games are played to maintain the proper amount of exercise. Wednesday is "out of town day". The youths are taken by bus to Lubbock and visit many interesting and fun places. So far this year they have gone to the Lubbock skating rink, Putt Putt Golf, the Science Spectrum and the Discovery Zone. Future trips will be to Joyland and the bowling alley. Thursdays are reserved for the swimming pool in Post. The "Youth Program is not open on Friday.

"It's not too late to sign up, just come down to the school and register, they (the children) don't have to go everyday if they don't want to," said Radle.

Local youths enjoy a day at the swimming pool during the summer youth program in Post. Over 250 youths registered to participate in the program this summer.

Jones and Chavez selected

Leadership training to be shared by other 4-H members

Labeth Jones of Post and Angela Chavez of Colorado City were two of the 50 participants in the T.O.T.A.L. program (Teens of Texas Acquiring Leadership) at the state 4-H Roundup in College Station. The participants were selected for this special two day leadership skill training program based upon their leadership abilities shown in their county.

Jones will be sharing what she learned with our local 4-H officers and members on July 6th from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. at the Garza County Courthouse. Officers from each 4-H club will then train members in their respective clubs this fall.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor,
We would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the Post Fire Department. They were very prompt and efficient in responding to our grass fires Monday night. They had to come back twice Tuesday night when one of the fires flared up again.
We would also like to thank the two H&M employees for their quick response to our request for a bulldozer each nite. They were very helpful.

All of these men worked late each night. Their efforts are greatly appreciated. Garza County is very fortunate to have these dedicated men.
Sincerely,
John and Nonnie Ward

battle. The times had begun to change, the battle weary soldiers did not want to travel to town, the peace and quiet of a home life was more to their liking. The invention of the television was occupying peoples time at home.

The Tower Theatre was built and advertised air conditioning and later that year a new drive in theatre opened. The Garza theatre was no longer able to keep pace with the much larger and modern competition. The Garza closed its doors on its final show in January of 1952.

In 1986 Will McCrary came back to Post after a 35 year absence. McCrary had been in Hollywood, California making movies and acting in Broadway plays in New York. He carried with him his love for Broadway.

McCrary was fond of the theatre and wanted to see it (The Garza) reopened. The cost of such an endeavor was high and to raise such funds McCrary and the towns people of Post put on a telethon. The telethon was successful in raising the capital and through hard work and persistence the Garza would once again open its doors to entertain the public.

McCrary loved Broadway and Harley Sadler shows, he was determined to bring a little Broadway to Post. Keeping with as much of the original design as retained.

The Garza was once again the talk of the town. People came from miles around to see the unique shows. Then in 1991 tragedy struck. The much loved McCrary came down with pneumonia, he fought hard, but this was a battle he would not win, McCrary passed on in the fall of 1991. Once again the Garza was left alone.

The city of Post was devastated with the passing of their beloved Will McCrary. The question remained of what to do with the Garza.

Jane Prince, an actor with a "Masters" degree in theatre arts, a radio personality and Television Anchor had been in several plays that McCrary had put on. In the fall of 91 she stepped in as Managing Director and once again the Garza was in full operation. "McCrary had put so much love and time into the Garza that it would be shame to let it die," said Prince.

Staying with the original format that McCrary had started, The Harley Sadler show would remain. People soon came from all over the country to see the unique shows. "The Garza Players" as the actors and actresses soon became known were becoming even more popular than they could have imagined.

"People would see the show and tell a friend and the word soon got around. One couple on their vacation stopped to spend the night in Post. They saw the show at the Garza and loved it so much, they were put on our mailing list and now plan their vacation around the shows," said Prince.
Sell out crowds are not unusual for the ever popular shows. Reservations should be made well in advance.

"Senior Class" comes to Post

The "Senior Class" and "Doctor Finder" programs of St. Mary of the Plains Hospital will sponsor three programs during July 1994.

One trip will be to Post, Texas. The Senior Class will be to "Harley Sadler Show," Thursday, July 21. A $28 cost per person will include round-trip transportation via motorcoach, dinner at Chaparral Steak House, and a ticket to the "Trail Of The Lonesome Pine" show at the Garza Theatre in Post, Texas.

The other two programs are, "Humor As A Healing Force," July 12, in the City of Lubbock, Texas, and "Ilzarov" on Tuesday, July 26, in the sixth floor Arnett Room of St. Mary Hospital.

All programs are open to the public; however, reservations are requested.

"Humor As A Healing Force" and "Ilzarov" are free of charge. For more information or to make reservations, call (806) 741-7111.

Senior Class is a benefit program sponsored by St. Mary Hospital to assist senior citizens in meeting their hospital needs. Senior Class offers free health screenings, educational programs, social activities and insurance counseling throughout the year.

Senior Class membership costs at St. Mary Hospital are $20 per individual, or $30 per couple. For membership at affiliate hospitals, costs are $25 per individual and $40 per couple.

Affiliate hospitals include DM Cogdell, Snyder; Garza Memorial, Post; Medical Arts, Lamesa; Seminole Memorial, Seminole; and Yoakum County, Denver City.

Birth Announcements

Bradley Anthony Benham

Russel and Sandra Benham proudly announce the birth of their son, Bradley Anthony Benham, born June 24, 1994 at 3:43 a.m. at Methodist Hospital Levelland. Bradley weighed seven pounds, one ounce and was 19 inches in length at birth. He was welcomed home by his brother Quentin Ray Benham.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Benham; Janet S. Dean, all of Post; and Jimmy Matthies of Vernon.
Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Ray and Melvin and Rie Matthies of Rotan.

Chesley Cade Mason

Bart and Hayley Mason are the proud parents of a son, Chesley Cade Mason, born June 22, 1994 in Lubbock. He weighed eight pounds and measured 21 inches.
Proud grandparents are Lewis and Jane Mason of Post; Bill and Jeanie Bird of San Angelo; and Johnny Hughes of Midland.
Great grandparents are Quannah and Sue Maxey of Post; Cecile McDonald of Sterling City and Glenna Hughes of Big Spring.

Local Youth Makes Deans List

James Warren Mitchel IV, JR, of Post was recently named to the Deans List at Baylor University, Waco, Texas.

For the spring 1994 semester at Baylor University, 780 students were named to the Dean's Academic Honor List.

To be named to the Dean's list, a student must be an undergraduate with a minimum grade-point average of 3.7 and be enrolled in a minimum of 15 semester hours (including 14 semester hours of academic courses).

Fire

and smolder, then a little whirl wind will come along and there you go, another fire started up again," said Jack Kirkpatrick.

Randy Littrell was there with a "Strawn Transport and Acid" water tanker to re-fill the fire trucks as needed. "This is the second time we've had to re-fill them, but it looks as though they about got it whipped," Littrell said.

As 12 o'clock noon rolled around it looked as though it were finally over and the trucks and exhausted men slowly began to go home for some much needed and deserved rest. The few minor hot spots that remained were covered with dirt by the maintainer.

The final out-come as estimated by Jack Kirkpatrick was between one half and three quarter of a section burned. Thanks to the speed and tremendous effort put forth by the "Volunteer Fire Department" of Post and Fluvanna another potential disaster was extinguished before it reached catastrophic proportion.

Tax 'n Facts

by Terri S. Cash, CPA
MORE FOR THE FAMILY, LESS FOR UNCLE SAM

Even if you don't think you're rich, add up the value of your home, investments and other property, and you'll discover that estate planning to reduce taxes makes sense.

Easiest of all, if you can afford it, are outright gifts of up to $10,000 a person per year-- $20,000 from both spouses together-- to as many recipients as you wish. For children, consider setting up custodial accounts or special trusts. And there is no limit at all to how much educational or medical expenses for a relative you can pay, as long as the money goes directly to the institution or the caregiver.

There's also a $600,000 lifetime exemption on transfers made by gift or by will. It may make sense to take out of the estate large amounts of property that are expected to appreciate substantially. That way, the appreciation is the recipient's, whose capital gains tax is lower than estate taxes on the same amount. A grantor retained annuity trust can give the donor the right to income from property going to heirs.

There are many options available to trim estate taxes. Consult with the tax experts at

by Bill Galusha

The Texas Arts Council met for their Regional meeting June 29th at the Garza Hotel in Post. The regional meeting was sponsored by the Caprock Cultural Association, (CCA). The CCA Executive Director, JoAnn Mock coordinated the meeting.

Jim Bob McMillian, Texas Arts Council's Local Arts Agency Specialists for Urban and Rural areas, led the meeting. Topics included in the discussion were vital information about an IRS ruling on donations and the concerns of contributors on their tax returns.

Also on the agenda was information about the State Arts Plan that is being developed in the Texas Legislature on funding for the arts. Russel Hughes of the Lubbock Arts Alliance disclosed structural changes in Lubbock's art community.

Outgoing Museum Director, Dianna Cordsen was presented with a crystal plate in appreciation for her work at the Garza Museum. Cordsen was the museum's first official director since it's reopening on June 20th. Etching on the plate included a sketch of the historic museum and the words inscribed; "Thanks to Dianna Cordsen, from the Caprock Cultural Association Post, Texas." The etching on the plate was done by, Sallie Sinclair of Shallowater, Texas.

Another award went to Outgoing Post Community Cultural Plan Task Force Chairman, John Cordsen. Cordsen was awarded a, "Wagon Wheels History Book" for his outstanding chairmanship of the Post Community Cultural Plan

Task Force Committee.

The guest speaker at the meeting was State Representative David Counts. Counts, a strong supporter of the arts development around the state has been working with legislation for the past six years to secure more attention for his West Texas District.

Representative Counts spoke on issues concerning all citizens, especially those involved in the Arts. "I just love Post and their can do attitude. Get to know your Representative, go see them, if you can not see them write them a letter or at least give them a call, let them know you're out there and you're concerned with the arts," said Counts.

Health officials warn of skin cancer risks

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) warns that skin cancer is the most common type of cancer in the United States. And because of its climate, Texas is exposed to higher levels of cancer-causing radiation than are some other states.

In 1994, there will be about 32,000 new cases of malignant melanoma and about 700,000 cases of basal and squamous cell skin cancer in the U.S. Experts estimate that about 6,900 deaths from malignant melanoma and about 2,300 deaths from the other types of skin cancer will occur in the country this year.

However, according to Dr. Daniel A. Goldman, medical consultant for the TDH Bureau of Chronic Disease, "All types of skin cancer occur more frequently in fair-skinned individuals who have been repeatedly exposed to the sun, ultraviolet light or x-rays."

He explained that the danger from sunlight is increasing, according to scientists, since air pollution continues to deplete the protective ozone layer of the earth's atmosphere. The incidence rate for malignant melanoma, the most deadly form of skin cancer, has been increasing at a rate of four percent per year, and the death rate for all skin cancers has about doubled during the last 16 years, he said.

"However, skin cancer is mostly preventable, when precautions are taken. And virtually 100 percent of skin cancers are curable, if diagnosed and removed early," Dr. Goldman said.

Dr. Goldman said that people should conduct self-examinations of their skins and the skins of their children. Any changes in the size or color of moles or other features warrant a doctor's opinion.

Dr. Goldman said, "Anyone who must be in the sun should use a sunscreen (rated 15 or higher), applied at least half an hour before going out into the sun. Use a waterproof formula, or reapply after swimming or heavy perspiration. Commonly-used chemical sunscreens block ultraviolet B, but are virtually transparent to ultraviolet A, and may not be as effective in preventing skin cancer as previously thought."

A better way to prevent skin cancer is by avoiding the sun entirely, but persons should at least be sure to:

- Wear protective clothing - hats, long sleeves and gloves
- Avoid the sun's most intense rays between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.
- Never use sunlamps, tanning booths or tanning pills
- Avoid prolonged sunbathing

Local Doctor Retains AAFP Membership

Dr. Larry Leininger of Post, Texas has completed continuing medical education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), the national association of family doctors.

AAFP members are required to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The AAFP, which has more than 75,000 (AAFP), the national association of family doctors.

AAFP members are required to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The AAFP, which has more than 75,000 members, is one of the largest medical specialty organizations in the country. It was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical advancements through regular continuing medical education.

Dr. Leininger has been an active member of AAFP since 1978. As a family physician, Dr. Leininger is qualified to work in all major areas of health care and trained to treat patients of all ages for a vast majority of health problems.

Dr. Leininger is also board certified by the American Board of Family Practice. Along with the 50 hours per year of continuing education on new medical practices and medicines, the American Board of Family Practice requires that in order for the physician to remain certified he must pass an examination every seven years. Dr. Leininger will be taking his fourth, seven year examination in 1996.

Dr. Leininger has been practicing medicine in Post for the last two and one half years. He completed medical school at Temple University, Philadelphia, Penn., and his residency in Portland, Oregon.

After completing his residency he practiced medicine for 11 years in Longview, Washington, then three years in Lancaster County, Penn., before coming to Post.

Dr. Leininger's specialty is family practice. "I can do just about anything here. The only thing that we don't do is deliver babies, though I do treat them after they are born," said Dr. Leininger. Dr. Leininger is also on call to the Emergency room at the hospital and treats a wide variety of injuries and ailments as an emergency room physician.

1994 crop prospects bright

by Shawn Wade

Kater Hake, Cotton Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says this year's crop has the potential to be just as good as 1993, even though dryland cotton prospects have been essentially put on hold by a lack of rainfall this season.

According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) Hake's comments are based on initial data from a TAEX plant mapping study currently being conducted. Hake notes that the study is in its second year and participation has more than doubled in 1994.

Initial information indicates the 1995 crop is off to at least as good a start as last year's bumper crop. The comparison comes from the overall status of 50 irrigated and dryland fields that are participating in the 1994 project. Hake says that 1993 plant mapping information was gathered from only 20 fields.

The 1994 data indicates the crop is doing well, setting 96 percent of its squares and maintaining a height to node ratio of .74 inches. The height to node ratio is the average distance between fruiting branches based on the overall height of the plant.

Hake adds that in 1993 the project estimated a 95 percent square set and a height to node ratio of .75 inches.

Hake is quick to note, however, that while overall prospects for the crop are still bright the bulk of the area's dryland crop is beginning to be severely stressed by the lack of moisture. Without timely rainfall many dryland cotton acres could be permanently damaged in the next few weeks.

Irrigated producers are in the process of applying water to their fields in order to take full advantage of the potential indicated by the TAEX plant mapping project.

Hake notes that with timely rainfall the outlook for the dryland crop could be much improved. He adds that despite the moisture stress being exerted on the area's dryland acreage the majority of the 1994 crop could be established in July and early August, increasing the chances for an early harvest season.

WTC begins enrollment for cosmetology course

Students interested in enrolling in the Western Texas College cosmetology course starting September 1 are urged to complete the application process now, instructor Judy Border said.

Persons planning to enroll should pick up the required forms at the Admissions Office. These forms should be completed by July 14 when prospective students will interview and take a pre-entrance exam. The exam is scheduled at 8 a.m.

Financial aid is available to those who qualify. Forms to apply for financial aid can be picked up at the Financial Aid office. These forms require up to four weeks processing and need to be filled out as quickly as possible for the September quarter.

Cosmetology students receive 1,500 hours of training in a 12 month period and are then eligible to take state Board of Cosmetology tests for licensing. Western Texas College graduates have a 100% passage rate.

For more information contact Mrs. Border at (915) 573-8511, ext. 267.

Nurses association schedules meeting

Theta Eta members attend convention

The Texas State Organization of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International held its 65th annual convention June 23-25 at the Amarillo Civic Center. The honor society for women educators promotes excellence in education and personal and professional growth of women educators, leading in the field of graduate scholarships given to members and emphasizing leadership development for its more than 160,000 members in the United States and 13 other countries.

Outstanding, key women educators are invited into the Society in recognition of their contributions to education. members who attended the convention from the Theta Eta Chapter were Connie Flores, Chapter President; Franci Rains, incoming chapter president; Carmen Camp, Adene Dixon, Madolyn Noble and Lavonne Sharp.

A pre-convention seminar dealt with vital issues for educational leaders and featured a dramatic presentation on Delta Kappa Gamma members as educational leaders; information on communications; a current state issues update given by State Board of Education member Mary Knotts Perkins; pointers on projecting a professional image; and a challenge to make room for humor, imagination and creativity.

In addition to intensive leadership development sessions for Texas more than 300 incoming chapter presidents, there were educational and special interests sessions for all members attending the convention.

The official international representative to the Texas convention was Berneil Drake, international second vice-president and accomplished flautist, who provided musical entertainment and informative speeches.

The closing event of the convention was a reception honoring Arizona's aforementioned international leader Berneil Drake and Texas' own renowned storyteller Ruth Holladay.

Post Chamber of Commerce would like to thank these merchants and individuals for helping make the July 4th Celebration possible.

Lions get elected

The Post Lions club met Thursday night, June 23rd at Chaparral Steak House and Ba-BQ for their annual election of officers and presentation of awards. The newly elected officers for the Lions club were: President, Glenn Brown, Vice President, Lanny Fluitt, and Secretary of Treasury Paul Jones.

Other awards at the meeting were given to Lanny Fluitt, Lion of the year, and Sara Hodges was awarded the Lions scholarship. Hodges a recent Post High School graduate will be attending college in the fall semester, and majoring in Psychology.

Two perfect attendance awards were also given to the two members who had not missed a meeting in the last year, Jim Jackson and Lanny Fluitt.

City to buy patrol car

by Bill Galusha

The joint City Council/Commissioners Court met June 27th at City Hall. Among topics discussed was the increases in local crime. "I have over 100 cases on the docket right now," said County Judge Giles Dalby. He added, "I believe the Sheriff Dept. is doing a great job but there is only so much they can do."

With the joint effort in Law Enforcement between the two factors the subject of a new patrol car was raised by Mayor Jim Jackson. "I understand that it is our turn (the City's) to purchase a new patrol car this year for the Sheriff Dept.," asked Mayor Jackson.

With the great loss of revenue to the city this fiscal year the purchase of a new car was a great concern. The Garza county Sheriff, Kenneth Ratke stated, "The new car will be going to the officers that will be needing the car the most, such as patrolmen who may need the vehicle in hot pursuit or to get to a crime scene in a hurry."

He continued, "The Highway patrol in this area are not like other areas, they help out all that they can, they back us up 100%, but they are not always available, we need good equipment."

The Landfill was next on the docket. The landfill is under the City control but is financed through the efforts of both the City and the County. The purchase of a scraper was raised by Mayor Jackson as an effort to make the landfill last as long as possible.

"We should be putting money aside now in an effort to eliminate a problem that may arise in the future," said Mayor Jackson. With the trash compactor we have now and with use of a scraper to cover the trash it would lengthen the use of the land fill. A figure of the cost was requested by the Commissioners Court before a decision could be made.

Mayor Jackson asked the county for their assistance in hauling off refuse from the current on going street projects in the city. "We're intending to fix 12 streets and we need the help of the County in hauling off the dirt, we (the city) have only a two yard dump truck and would like the use of your (the county) big truck," said Mayor Jackson.

As in any joint effort it was at least partly decided that if the city could help the county in some other ways, such as mowing or grading, the county would help the city. "If you could take this into consideration and let us know, we would appreciate it," said Mayor Jackson.

Heat related illnesses increase as summer temperatures rise

As the summer season approaches, the annual hazard of heat-related illnesses becomes a health concern throughout the U.S.

Health officials warn that elevated temperatures, particularly when combined with high humidity, cause about 200 deaths from heatstroke and thousands of cases of heat cramps or heat exhaustion in the U.S. each year.

Dr. Richard A Beauchamp, medical consultant for the Bureau of Epidemiology at the Texas Department of Health (TDH), said "High temperatures are physically tolerated by most people for short periods of time." However, some form of heat-related illness may occur when high temperatures accompany exertion or high humidity.

"In humid heat," he said, "the body's principal cooling mechanism (evaporation of perspiration from the skin) may be overworked, resulting in fluid losses of up to 1 liter per hour. If fluids and salts lost through perspiration are not soon replaced, dehydration and electrolyte imbalances can occur."

Dr. Beauchamp explained that dehydration slows perspiration, allowing an increase in body core temperature to occur. The condition is called hyperthermia, or heat stress. Depending on the degree and duration of heat stress, heat exhaustion or even heatstroke may occur.

"Although prolonged heat stress can be fatal to anyone, persons older than 60 appear to have the highest risk for death from classic heatstroke. To a lesser extent, young children, persons with a history of alcoholism and persons using certain medication also are at increased risk of heatstroke," he said.

Persons at risk of heatstroke from exertion also include athletes, military personnel, obese persons and manual laborers. "Indeed, any unacclimated person involved in unusual exertion in a combination of high temperature and humidity risks exertional heatstroke." He added that males between ages 10- and 45 are three to eight times as likely to suffer exertional heatstroke as females in the same age range.

Obituaries

Marvin McDaniel

Services for Marvin A. McDaniel, 87, of Greenville were held Monday at the Peniel Church of the Nazarene. Rev. W.M. "Bill" Dorough and Dr. W.M. Lynch officiated.

Burial was under the direction of Peters Funeral Home.

McDaniel died Friday at his residence.

He was born in Milam County on December 8, 1906, the son of Oliver S. and Myrtle M. Barnett. He married Lou Ellen Newton on April 9, 1927 in Buckholts. He was the retired owner of Service Welding and Construction Company of Post and was a member of the Peniel Church of the Nazarene.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Rev. Marvin McDaniel and Charlie McDaniel of Greenville and Lydell L. McDaniel of Blossom; one daughter, Lois Margie Foust of Sweetwater; four brothers, Roy McDaniel, Elton McDaniel and Everett McDaniel of Baytown and Garlon McDaniel of Dayton; two sisters, Lois Hill of Houston and Myrtle Chiles of Dayton; 13 grandchildren; 14 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one sister and one brother.

Ed Neff

Services for Ed Neff, 72, were held Monday, July 4, 1994 in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Robert Griffin, pastor of the Brookwood Baptist Church in Oklahoma City, officiating. He was assisted by Jodie Boren, minister of the Tuscola Church of Christ.

Military graveside rites were in the Terrace Cemetery and burial was under the direction of Justice-Mason Funeral Home.

Neff died Friday, July 1, 1994 at his residence. He was born June 27, 1922 in Justiceburg to James Morris and Evelyn (Nance) Neff. He attended school in Justiceburg and graduated from Post High School in 1940. After attending Baylor University and Texas Tech he volunteered for the United States Army Air Corps and was stationed at Reese Air Force Base, in Bryan and in Mobile, Alabama. He served two years in France, England and Belgium. He returned home October 1945.

Neff married Marie Taylor on June 24, 1946 in Loving, New Mexico.

They farmed and ranched as well as owned and operated Neff Equipment Company and Western Auto. In October 1987 he retired to the ranch. He was the photographer for the OS Ranch Steer Roping and Art Exhibit and was on the committee for the Texas Historical Commission. He reproduced the photographs for the Wagon Wheels Historical Book. He served on the County Board for Garza County Development around Lake Alan Henry, and served on the Satellite Board for the State School. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Marie; two sons, Jim Neff of Post and Charles Neff of Lubbock; two grandchildren, Jenny Lynn Neff and Joshua Neff.

Pallbearers were Stanley Butler, Sid Conner, Scott Carroll, Joe Mason, Kelly Mason and Riley Miller.

The family suggests memorials to a favorite charity.

From the Pulpit
When is a value good?

Calling something a "value" doesn't make it good. Communism has values—they're godless values, but values nonetheless. A value is whatever you prize or hold onto as most important. A value is more powerful than an attitude. An attitude is a "leaning" towards something; a value is already there—rock solid. Even so, a value has no "goodness" in itself.

Communists value that state (government) as the supreme value. It does not recognize the "wrong" part of "my country right or wrong." They simply call it "right" and put the country above all else. Here in the U.S., we would say: "If our country's right on something, let's support it. If it's wrong, let's fix it." And yes, it's still our country, right or wrong.

We can say the same thing about our families. Support what's right and fix what's wrong, but it's still our family. We like that sort of loyalty: loving, persistent, determined to make it work. Jesus seemed to recognize those values in the story of the prodigal son (Luke 15:11-32). The old rancher was determined to love his children and make it work, not only with the wayward son, but with the jealous pious one at home.

We don't give up what we value without a fight, but sometimes if we're not careful, a value can take the place of God. After all, a value is just something we treasure, and we can treasure the wrong thing. Take a look at the story of Jesus' friends and family in Mark 3:21-

35. His friends and family cared about what might be happening to Jesus. What Jesus was saying and doing troubled them. They heard people in the crowd saying "Jesus has gone out of his mind," so his family went to restrain him. Some people in the crowd said, "Your mother and your brothers and sisters are outside, asking for you." A caring family with sincere family values? You bet! So how did Jesus honor these values? He turned to the crowd and blew them away with this reply, "Who are my mother and my brothers?...Whoever does the will of God is my brother and sister and mother."

Even sincere "family values" can miss the point when they put the cart before the horse. What drives good family values is "doing the will of God." Otherwise family values becomes a selfish thing, such as in the foolish prayer of "God bless me, my wife, my daughter, my son—us four, no more." The most important family value is one that prepares children for the larger family of God.

A value has no power of its own. What we treasure has to come from God or it becomes a treasure that decays. When we look at "good old American family values," we might remember the ways of Jesus that the real test of family and national values is "whoever does the will of God."
